Canadians Battling Last Remnants Boulogne Garrison

Only Small Pockets Of Germans Remain In Main Part Of Town
Nazis Are Clinging To Hill Positions

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 20—(CP Cable).—Canadian infantry which has worked through Boulogne and cross the port and the Liane River in strength now is engaged in heavy fighting with remnants of the German garrison clinging to hill positions south of the town. Boulogne itself is almost entirely in Canadian hands.

Small pockets in the town remain in be cleaned out, and at positions to the north and south of the town the Germans still are resisting.

The remainder of the garrison might be overcome within a few hours or it might fight on for another day or so.

The enemy still is fighting at his strongpoint around the coastal batteries on Cap Gris Nez.

Polish units of the 1st Canadian Army across the Netherlands frontier have captured both Hulst and Axel, while some elements push to within five miles of Terneuzen on the banks of the Schelde.

Canadian infantry and armor captured Assenede on the Netherlands frontier.

The Germans still have a number of strong positions in the Boulogne area although the town and port are dominated by Canadian infantry forces who have bridged docks in two places and built up their crossings in strength.

Press Into Southern Section

Ontario troops are pressing into the southern section of the broken defence perimeter but the Germans have a number of concrete pillboxes, machine-gun nests and mortar emplacements there and have been shelling the eastern part of the town.

Maritime infantrymen who took the important Mont Lambert defence positions now have pushed right into Boulogne and to-day were crossing the river behind Ontario troops.

Other Ontario troops with Maritimers and French-speaking Canadians were neutralizing remaining perimeter defences to the north. Although Wimereux was reported captured that coastal suburb two miles north of Boulogne stil contains strong German pockets.

Prisoners in the battle of Boulogne have been taken at the rate of better than 100 a day, and possibly there are some 3,000 Germans still fighting.

Thus far the Canadian attack has been extremely successful. Concrete defence works overcome by the Canadians have been more formidable and much stronger than anything they previously tackled.

In the Brugge area where Canadian armored forces are in control German attempts to infiltrate from the north have been turned back.

German withdrawals from the west bank of the River Schelde have helped the Polish advance in the direction of Terneuzen, but the Poles still are up against the same sort of flooded ground that is hampering the Canadians around Assenede.

Nazi Generals Urged To Save Officers

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 — (AP). — The German high command is urging Nazi-minded generals to save themselves and their subordinates down to the rank of company commanders as a nucleus for an army to launch a third war aimed at winning world leadership, a copyrighted front dispatch to the New York Herald Tribune declared today.

War correspondent Joseph Driscoll, with American forces in Germany, said "proof of this plot to reconstruct the German army" was found in a secret document bearing the imprimatur of the supreme command of the armed forces of the Reich. It was prepared for distribution to Nazi-sympathizing officers down to division leaders, he said.

Driscoll quoted the document as saying:

"Every member of the armed force must know that it is absolutely necessary to save the officers corps for the reconstruction of the fatherland. The German officer is too valuable to be sacrificed, especially in hopeless situations. The officer's salvation through retreat is in the interest of the country.

Promoted Wars

"It was the German officers corps which most promoted Germany to be the world power in the first attempt in 1914-18. It was this same officers corps which reconstructed Germany for the second attempt to lead the world. It has been foreseen that this second attempt could fail. The present turn of the war forces us to be extremely conservative with expending our officer material.

"Our final and complete victory

Allies Blockade Crete Garrison

ROME, Sept. 20 (AP)—A strong Allied blockade has been thrown around Crete to prevent the escape of the German garrison and enemy forces there are being subjected to a succession of sea and air attacks, an official announcement said today.

Carrier-based planes from an Allied naval task force operating in the Aegean destroyed 11 German motor vehicles, damaged many more, and wrecked a JU-52 on the ground in an attack on Crete three days ago. The next day naval planes knocked out at least 25 more vehicles.

The British warship Aurora bombarded Melos, tiny Aegean island midway between Crete and the Greek mainland, Sept. 17. A German wireless station on Melos was the target for both the Aurora and the British destroyer Terpischore the next day.

A joint Allied communique announcing these blows also said the islands of Mljet, Korcula and Brac off the Dalmatian coast were freed from the Germans by combined operations of Yugoslav Partisans, the Royal Navy, the Balkan Air Force and Allied "land forces of the Adriatic."

Considerable losses were inflicted upon the enemy garrisons and operations are continuing in the Dalmatian area, the announcement said.

18 Canadian Civilians Return On Gripsholm

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP).—New advice from Britain to-day disclosed there were 18 civilians claiming Canadian nationality in the recent exchange in Sweden of Allied and enemy nationals.

Previously, it was announced there was only one Canadian civilian in the party — Rev. Edmond Chambers of Regina.

The names of 41 Canadian naval, army and air force prisoners of war, also in the exchange, were announced Monday.

The repatriation ship Gripsholm now is en route to New York with service personnel and civilians, but external affairs officials said few of the persons claiming Canadian nationality were returning to Canada. Most of them told interrogaters at a British port they wanted to return to their homes in France and Belgium.

Canadian Mines For Russia

Big Nickel And Copper Holding Held In Finland

SUDBURY, Sept. 20.— (CP). — R. L. Beattie, vice-president and general manager of International Nickel Co. of Canada, Ltd., which has large nickel-copper holdings in the Petsamo region of Finland, said last night he has no idea whether those holdings will be affected by terms of the Russo-Finnish peace treaty.

The treaty is reported to cede the Petsamo region to Russia.

"There is no indication in the treaty announcement as to whether the transfer of Petsamo will include our holdings," said Mr. Beattie. "Our Finnish workings are at Salmijaervi, about 20 miles south-west of Petsamo, so they may not be included in the deal.

But company officials expressed general agreement that any demands by Russia for Petsamo territory would be with the objective of obtaining the rich nickel deposits of that region rather than an Arctic port in Finland.

The Mond Nickel Co., an International Nickel subsidiary, in 1943 obtained a concession to prospect and explore for nickel in the Petsamo fjord region, about 600 miles north of Helsinki.

The company's mine was within three months of the production stage when Russo-Soviet hostilities broke out in November, 1940.

CANADIAN SHIP FLAGSHIP U.S. ADMIRAL—Historically unique for the Royal Canadian Navy was the occasion on which Rear-Admiral T. E. Chandler, U.S.N., made a Canadian warship, H.M.C.S. "Prince Henry," his flagship when he commanded the task assault group on the islands of Levant and Port Cres during the invasion of southern France. It was the first time a Canadian, or a British warship had acted as flagship for an American admiral. Flanked by Lieut. W. L. Edgington, Left, and Lieut.-Cmdr. G. M. Fretag, Rear-Admiral Chandler looks out from the bridge of the "Prince Henry."

Nazi Demanded 80 Hostages Following S.S. Bombing

ROME, Sept. 20 — (AP). — Former Police Chief Pietro Caruso testified at the trial for his life today that Field Marshal Kesselring, Nazi commander in Italy, had ordered him, to furnish 80 Italian hostages for execution in reprisal for the bombing of an S.S. column. The trial, delayed Monday by the lynching of the chief state witness, started today while Allied police stood watchfully by.

Caruso was Rome's police chief during the last four months of German occupation. He said Kesselring's order was transmitted through the former German S.S. commander in Rome, one Kappler. The 80 were to be executed with hundreds of others, he said. Testifying that he was aware of the gravity of the request, Caruso asserted that he sought guidance from former Fascist Minister of the Interior Buffarini-Guidi.

"You had better turn them over, otherwise who knows what will happen to us," he quoted the official as saying. Caruso said he complied with the order after cutting down the number to 50.

The witness also blamed the Ger-

Stubborn Battle For Rimini

ROME, Sept. 20.—(CP).—Against continued, stubborn resistance, Canadian and Greek troops of the British 8th Army are approaching the defences of Rimini on the Adriatic and assaulting the village of Fortunato, to-day's Allied communique said.

On their left British and Indian troops have advanced to the outskirts of San Marino and captured the village of Serranvalle to the north.

American units of the Allied 5th Army have breached the Gothic Line on a six mile front north of Florence, and now are within three miles of the important road centre of Firenzuola. The break-through came after a week of intensive fighting.

British, Indian, Brazilian and other American units of the 5th Army, fighting on the flanks of the breach, continued to make progress against stiff opposition.

Storming steep mountain slopes, American troops won the heights of Castel Guerrino and Lacroce and penetrated wel into Gothic defences 2 miles north-east of Florence.

Front dispatches to the U.S. Army newspaper Stars and Stripes said the gains through the rugged mountains "cost us an uncomfortable number of losses."

The official announcement said, "although no large-scale break-through is apparent, the 5th Army penetrated against defences which are stronger than any yet encountered in Italy."

"The capture of most important hill features within the past 48 hours threatens the whole enemy position," it was commented officially at 5th Army Headquarters.

Liquor Rations To Be Increased

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP). — An increase in the monthly liquor ration in Ontario and a decrease in the ration in Quebec may be announced "very soon" by authorities in the two provinces, it was learned reliably today by The Canadian Press.

It was under stood that the Ontario ration would be increased from 26 ounces every two months to 26 ounces a month and that the Quebec ration would be reduced to 40 ounces a month from its present 80-ounce level. It was considered likely the two provinces will take action independently and that any announcements would not necessarily come simultaneously.

There have been recurrent reports that Ontario's ration would be doubled soon, some placing the effective date at Oct. 1 and others Dec. 1.

Baltic Drive Rolls Huns Back

Furious Push Starts To Clear Baltic Before Winter Comes

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press War Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 20 (AP)—A massive Baltic drive, first phase of a supreme Russian autumn offensive, rolled the Germans back steadily today over the Latvian front, imminently menacing Riga and threatening to bring its fall at any moment.

Front dispatches said advance tank and motorized infantry units had pushed deep into the city's defences. The official communique announced an approach to within six miles as the Red Army edged in from three sides and brought artillery to bear.

In four days the Russian Baltic armies have captured nearly 3,000 communities in their smashing attack, which promises to clear all the Germans shortly from Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania and pave the way for the remaining steps of the autumn offensive, expected to be bigger than anything to date. Developments may be expected from the Gulf of Finland to Yugoslavia.

The fury with which the Red Army is attacking on the Baltic front seems indicative of the way Marshal Stalin's forces finally will tear into the Nazis on every sector. The present northern campaign appears aimed at driving out, killing or capturing the last German in the Baltic region before the first snows of winter.

The heaviest Russian attack in Latvia took place southeast of Riga, with Gen. Ivan Bagramian's forces smashing forward 25 miles on a 75-mile front, sending the Germans reeling back into the Latvian capital. More than 2,000 places fell in that area within four days.

Close on Riga

The closest approach to Riga officially disclosed came with capture of Kekava, on the west bank of the Daugava (Dvina) river six miles south of the city. A Soviet communique said the Germans there had orders "not to retreat a single step" but they lost more than 3,000 men. In five days on the whole front the Germans have lost 570 tanks and 390 planes.

Amount of Relief For Enemy Big Issue At UNRRA Meeting

By CLYDE R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 (CP)—Differences of opinion over the extent to which relief may be given peoples of enemy countries dominates the second meeting of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration council meeting which continues here today.

Otherwise the council is proceeding with its planning for the world's most comprehensive relief effort with the feeling that the problem of caring for war ravaged people is as big to-day as it was when UNRRA was organized last November.

Yesterday the council heard reports from military officers assigned to survey the situation which will govern the decisions in liberated countries as to when the military relief will end and civilian relief, UNNRA or local organizations, take over.

It also heard exhaustive reports from the combined production boards in Washington their ability to supply, the commodities UNNRA will need when it takes over in any area.

William L. Batt, for the combined production and resources board, Sir Charles Hambro for the combined raw material board, and George Patterson, of Ottawa, for the combined food board, reported for those organizations and told what they had been doing for the military organizations and what they might be expected to do for UNNRA.

From all the reports received it was made apparent that this vast relief organization, which already has 1,500 employees in a budget of about $2,000,000,000 will be called upon to function immediately the military authorities feel a country has been suffficiently cleared and reorganized to hand over to civilian authorities and that it will have full support of existing war production agencies.

The present meeting, held in accordance with the constitution which requires a council meeting twice a year, offers an opportunity for member governments to make any complaints or suggestions that may occur to them regarding the future operations of the organization.

From now until the meeting ends it is expected there will be few open meetings but the work will be carried on in committees sitting in camera.

A move is afoot to bring forward a definite resolution to spend $50,000,000 on Italian relief, and to amend the constitution regarding enemy countries to take care, at least, of the transfer of displaced people back to their homes in an orderly and healthy way.

Hitler In Command

London, Sept. 20 (CP)

FIELD Marshal L. Montgomery indicated in a speech to troops in Belgium yesterday that Hitler might be taking closer control of fighting in the west.

"The Allies have a lot to be thankful for in that Hitler has taken charge of the operations, as it means the enemy is being commanded by a lunatic," Montgomery said. "In that respect I am glad that the German generals failed in their bomb attempt against the fuehrer."

Montgomery did not go into detail.

Douglas Is Told To Carry Out Own Promises

OTTAWA, Sept. 20.—(CP).—Finance Minister Ilsley to-day made public the text of a letter to Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan reviewing proposals made by that province for settlement of $17,700,000 in 198 seed grain notes falling due Oct. 31.

Turning down the suggestions made by Mr. Douglas, Mr. Ilsley said:

"The acceptance of your proposal would throw upon the Dominion government the cost of carrying out your election promises."

In his letter and in a statement issued to The Canadian Press last night, Mr. Ilsley said the plan outlined by the Saskatchewan C.C.F. government would mean the province would bear no burden of the debt and the Dominion would assume the entire balance left unpaid by farmers.

(In a statement in Saskatoon last night Dr. Douglas said under his government's plan the cost to the province would be $7,000,000 and the Federal government's cost $10,000,000. He said Mr. Ilsley's statement that the province would not pay anything was not correct. Some $4,000,000 had already been paid and $3,000,000 would have to be refunded to farmers who had paid in full if settlement was made at 50 per cent. of the principal.)

Douglas Threat.

Mr. Ilsley, referring to a letter from Mr. Douglas dated Sept. 11, said the Saskatchewan premier had threatened to advise farmers not to make any further payments on the loans unless the province's plan was accepted by the Dominion. There had also been a threat to have municipalities return money already collected.

Mr. Ilsley said this was "a proposal which, in the light of your publicly-announced attitude to the treasury bill obligations of your province, would involve loss to the Dominion treasury of $10,600,000."

Mr. Ilsley said that such an attitude was a contradiction of the solemn undertaking of the province in the agreement and with a sense of responsibility to Canadian taxpayers it would be wrong in principle to submit to such a threat.

"It may be that your government is in a position to cause some loss to the Dominion if we do not respond to the whip which you are proposing to apply, but I think if this is the case it will be the lesser of two evils," said the Minister.

"If you advise the farmers not to pay anything more on these notes, even though they have the money in their hands with which to do so, your action cannot be regarded as otherwise than unwarranted and

Air Raids Start On Philippines

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sept. 20—(AP).—The first big raid on the Philippines since the twin invasions of Morotai and the Palaus indicated today the "battle of the approaches" has roared into a new phase on the south.

To the east, one of two invaded islands in the Palaus virtually was conquered and unofficial reports from the invasion scene placed the other on the point of falling.

At Morotai, within 300 miles of the Southern Philippines, today's report implied that newly-acquired base already is being used to launch air blows at the Philippines.

In a communique last night at Pearl Harbor, it was announced that American troops now hold two-thirds of Angaur, southernmost of the Palaus, and have pocketed remnants of the small Japanese garrison.

On heavily - defended Peleliu Island, marine captors of the prized airdrome were credited in official reports with controlling most of the east coast.

Allied Sky Troops and Armor Storm Through Holland To Encircle Siegfried Line

Path Opening For Wheeling Operation Across Flatlands Of Germany
Nazis Remaining In Holland Encircled

By JAMES M. LONG—Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 20—(AP).—Massive forces of British army and airborne troops straddled the lower Rhine in the Netherlands five miles from Germany today, in position for a great invasion around the upper end of the Siegfried Line. British 2nd Army armor threw a 50-mile-long cut-off wall across eastern Holland in 48 hours. It merged solidly with parachute-glider soldiers dropped near Nijmegen on the wall Rhine. British units apparently were battling on a link with still other sky troops 10 miles farther north on the upper branch of the river near Arnhem.

The Siegfried Line was being outflanked. The path was opening for a wheeling offensive across the flatlands of northern Germany. Germans in southwestern Holland were menaced with entrapment.

Americans struck fierce German resistance in the invasion of Germany, and in their offensives from the Nancy-Metz line and toward the Belfort gap farther south. But two infantry columns had thrust 20 miles or more beyond Nancy toward Strasbourg.

Battle Into Boulogne.

With the big supply port of Brest on Brittany peninsula in U.S. hands, 1st Canadian Army infantry battled into the Channel port of Boulogne. An unconfirmed Algiers broadcast said Boulogne's garrison already had surrendered.

Front reports last night said Canadian units were attacking German forts north and south of the port. Seventeen German officers and 2,900 men have been captured by the Canadians so far in the siege. The garrison originally was believed to total 4,000.

At Nijmegen British forces were 12 miles west and slightly north of the German city of Kleve, which has been authoritatively described as the northern terminus of the Siegfried Line. Essen in the heart of Germany's industrial Ruhr Valley 43 miles south-east of Kleve.

Rheydt Railways Hit By Bombs

LONDON, Sept. 20 — (CP). — Continuing their campaign to smash the principal railway centres feeding German forces defending the western frontier of Germany, R.A.F. heavy bombers last night hammered the twin towns of Munchen-Gladbach and Rheydt just behind the Siegfried Line north of the Aachen battlefield.

Two important railway lines, one coming from Aachen and the other from Cologne, meet at Rheydt.

The air ministry described the raids as concentrated and said large fires were started. Five planes were lost.

The overnight activity also included numerous Mosquito attacks upon enemy rail and road movements deeper in Germany and Berlin reported an assault upon Budapest by Mediterranean-based planes.

There were indications the offensive was being continued in daylight today, the German radio warning service reporting shortly after 11 a.m. (6 a.m. E.D.T.) that Allied raiders were over Bavaria.

Seven German key communications centres were pounded yesterday by almost 2,000 Allied planes, including 700 heavy bombers. Ten heavy bombers and nine fighters were lost in these forays.

One formation of Mosquitos participating in last night's operations caught a convoy of enemy barges carrying fresh German troops across the Rhine between Emmerich and Dinslaken. The raiders riddled the boats with cannon and machine-gun fire and left several ablaze.

Tito's Partisans Suffer First Major Reverse

BARI, Italy, Sept. 20—(AP)—Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Partisan forces suffered one of their first major reverses in the current border-to-border offensive with the loss of Valjevo to German counter-attacks, reports reaching here said today.

Valjevo, southwest of Belgrade, was taken late last week by the Partisans' 1st and 12th Corps in a drive on the capital which also netted Lajkovac, 15 miles beyond. Sunday a German tank column, moving down the highway from Belgrade, succeeded in clearing it of celebrating Partisans.

On the other hand, latest reports reaching here contained news of additional Partisan victories, particularly in Albania, where the important town of Berat, 45 miles south of Tiraa, fell to the national liberation forces. Reports said the Germans set fire to the town before fleeing.

Legend Of Cursed Farm

Long List Of Strange Circumstances Noticed

LONGUEUIL, Que., Sept. 20 (CP)—A lot of folks in this Montreal suburb don't think much of the legend of Longueuil's "cursed farm," but those who do have rounded up a long list of strange circumstances in support of their case.

The 40-year legend has it that when a stone barn was being built on the farm along the Chambly road a short distance outside of Longueuil proper, a parish priest warned blaspheming workmen that unless they ended their blasphemy the place would be accursed. The legend says also the men did not change their language.

Last month the stone barn was razed by fire of unknown origin, with the flames spreading to five houses and 12 other barns. Here is the fatal history of the farm before that time:

In 1922, Joseph Delage died when he fell onto a wagon tongue;

In 1923, his brother Basil caught pneumonia during a flood and died;

In 1935, Paul Emile Brousseau was struck by a truck outside the barn and killed:

In 1936, Edouard Brosseau died of what was said to be natural causes, but neighbors mentioned "poison chocolates";

In 1937, Mrs. Henri Brosseau was strangled in her bed, and Gaetan Choquette later was hanged for the murder;

In 1940, Georges Guertin was killed by a truck after stepping from the farm-house.

Chinese Army Lacks Good Leaders

Officialdom Becoming More Frank Tells Of Troubles

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie, Associated Press War Analyst.

Two recent developments in official frankness may, in the long run, prove as important as the fighting which overshadowed them.

We are beginning to get some light on the situation in China through partial relaxation of what has been one of the world's tightest censorships, and on Anglo-American relations with Russia.

Clyde Farnsworth of the Associated Press tells us from Kunming that all the fine stories we have heard of the Chinese fighting qualities have been meaningless because of inadequate military leaders. Brooks Atkinson of the New York Times, in reporting at least partial revival of free speech at Chungking, indirectly confirms what has been widely feared—that government practices in China have embodied many of the very things we are fighting against in Europe.

Almost simultaneously John Hightower in Washington tells how Britain and the United States 'tip-toe in dealings with Stalin, indicating that liaison is still very insecure and that much remains to be done to assure post-war co-operation; and how the Allies are putting pressure on China for a reorganization of her poorly-handled war effort.

Both of these situations, hidden as well as they could be under diplomatic top hats, have been worrying observers for months. Not only because of what was inherent in them, but because of the explosion they might cause in public opinion the more they were suppressed.

Trouble in Italy

We have just had in Italy an example of too much hush-hush. The Allies are in trouble with Italian public opinion because of a speech by Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia with which they originally had nothing to do. Tito demanded territory Italy has held since Versailles. The psychological warfare branch eliminated that passage from the version to be published in Italy. The Italians picked it up from other broadcasts, and now everybody's in a stew.

The revelations about Russia and China, perhaps "clarifications" would be the better word, since the situations have been at least felt, if not generally known—should not be taken as adding to the gloom. The mere fact that the conditions now are out in the open could mean that we will be better informed on relations, and that such progress as is made will not be merely a false front erected by diplomats. It could mean that relationships themselves are better than they were—that there is a friendlier, more realistic meeting ground—or else the more open discussion would not have been permitted.

Perhaps it only means that the whispering and tip-toeing no longer could be maintained. But the more hopeful view is that the international negotiators are beginning to realize that any lasting peace must be made not by diplomats, but by whole peoples, fully informed, so that they will not turn away in revulsion from anything they have condoned in ignorance.

KING GEORGE

"The Health Program for School Children" was the topic for discussion chosen by Dr. Leonard E. Mylks, school doctor, when he addressed the first meeting of the new term of the King George Home and School Association, Tuesday evening. Dr. Mylks stressed the importance of toxoid, and said that pre-school children would be able to receive the toxoid at the schools at the same time school children were being treated.

Miss Mary Ross, superintendent of the Victoria Order of Nurses, briefly addressed the meeting, and spoke of the responsibility of public health nurses in welfare work and industry, and of the work of the V.O.N. She also gave an outline of the establishment and organization of the V.O.N. Mrs. A. Spencely was guest soloist, singing "Love's Old Sweet Song", and "My Task".

A list of the work done at the Red Cross rooms by members of the Association was read by Mrs. H. Laing, who asked for more volunteers for this vitally needed work. A request from R. L. Dobbin, for a donation toward the Memorial Community Centre, was read, and members decided to sponsor an afternoon tea, to raise funds for a donation. Letters of appreciation from families of former King George boys who had been reported dead, missing or wounded, who received letters of sympathy, were read. Members were asked to attend the regional conference of Home and School Associations, planned for October 17.

Regular business conducted included the secretary's report, given by Mrs. F. Watson and the treasurer's report, read by Mrs. M. Gedge. The attendance book was awarded to Mr. Kerr's class. During the evening, Mr. R. Telford, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. DeNure, led in an enjoyable community singsong, and following the adjourning of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. A. R. Scriver and her assistance.

L.-Cpl. Mart Gahagan Wounded Third Time

For the third time in as many months, L.-Cpl. Martin J. Gahagan, son of Mrs. G. Gahagan, 494 Sherbrooke street, has been reported wounded in action, September 3, while fighting with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders in France, according to a telegram received Tuesday morning from his family. While the nature of his wound was not revealed, the telegram disclosed he is now in a hospital.

At the end of August, the 29-year-old soldier was wounded in the hand by a bullet, and remained behind the lines for several weeks. Apparently, he had only been out of hospital a few days when the third wound was received.

Previously L.-Cpl. Gahagan received shrapnel wounds in his leg in July.

He enlisted in July of 1940, and went overseas in December, 1942. Before enlisting, he was employed with a construction company, working at the Canadian General Electric Company.

A brother is serving in Italy: Sgt. Michael Gahagan, with the H. and P. E. Regiment. Another brother, Pat Gahagan, has just been invalided home, after serving in Italy.

Douglas Is Told

reprehensible. It will be an affirmation of the principle of repudiation which should no more apply in relations between provincial governments and this government than in other relations."

Mr. Ilsley said press statements of Mr. Douglas indicated he regarded treasury notes as little more than scraps of paper.

"Your offer means that so far as the discharge of the obligation to pay the banks $17,000,000 is concerned, the province will assume none or practically none of this obligation, whereas you expect the Dominion Government to assume $10,600,000 of it and the farmers to discharge $7,100,000," Mr. Ilsley said at another point in his 2,400-word letter.

"For your own purposes, as a matter of Saskatchewan Government policy, you intend to return some money to farmers who have already paid the whole or at least more than 50 per cent of the principal. This proposed rebate has nothing to do with the discharge of the previous obligation under the contract—the obligation to pay the banks $17,700,000."

Mr. Ilsley said the settlement plans were based on the government's election promises to increase assistance being given by the Patterson (Liberal) Government. The previous government had set aside funds for this purpose and presumably they were still in the provincial treasury.

"You will forgive me for saying that I cannot believe you and your party did not then (during the election) intend that the province should bear the remainder of the cost just as the Patterson Government was paying for the cost of voluntary adjustments it was making," Mr. Ilsley contined.

"Any other interpretation would mean that you were making an election promise which you must obviously have known was completely beyond your capacity to carry out—because it lay wholly within the power of another government.

"Certainly if you intended as a government not to bear the cost of the adjustment you were promising you did not make that clear in your pre-election advertisement. I therefore prefer to believe that your present proposal to throw on the Dominion the whole cost or practically the whole cost of carrying out the promises that you made was a post-election development.

"Whether or not this is so, there was, needless to say, no consultation with the Dominion Government before these promises were made and I do not feel that in fairness to your predecessors, who were faithfully carrying out the terms of their agreement with the Dominion Government without any suggestion of repudiation of this agreement, we can, as a matter of principle, comply with your request that we bear the full cash burden of making good your promises to the electorate."

mans for the raid on St. Paul's Church last February, when Caruso's police broke into the sanctuary and seized Italian officers and civilians. He said he did not know that the action violated the Vatican's extraterritorial rights.

A co-defendant, Robert Occhietto, secretary to Caruso, testified he played both sides of the street during the German occupation, obtaining information from the Nazis which he asserted he turned over to the Allied 5th Army.

The hearing began quietly in contrast to the violence which marked the original effort to begin the trial Monday when Donato Carretta, former vice-director of the Regina Coeli jail of Rome, was beaten to death by a mob.

The new choice of a court-room was kept secret until the trial started.

Caruso was on crutches as a result of injuries received in an auto wreck when he attempted to flee north ahead of the Allied armies.

Caught In Bath

CHICAGO, Sept. 19—(AP). —When Mrs. Ann Wissotzky, 38, asked that her former husband, Harry, 45, be arrested for being $1,087 in arrears in alimony she didn't know where he lived but recalled that he usually took a bath every second Sunday at a certain Russian bathhouse. He was arrested in the bath Sunday, September 17. "You'll have to sweat it out in the county jail now," Judge John A. Sbarbaro told Wissotzky yesterday when he sentenced him to six months for non-payment.

Finland Has Lost Industrial Area

LONDON, Sept. 20 (CP)—Stripped of her richest industrial territory and burdened with heavy cash reparations as the price of peace, Finland was dedicated today by Acting Prime Minister Ernst Von Born to building up a new national existence with "the opportunties left to us."

Of immediate concern was the probably blood task of removing German troops remaining in the country—one of the conditions imposed in the 23-point armistice agreement reached in Moscow yesterday with British and Russian representatives.

"It is a serious matter that we have to disarm German troops in Finland and hand them over to the Allies," said Von Born in broadcasting details of the armistice to the Finnish people. "And this, although we have to prepare hastily for the (Finnish) army to return to a peace-time footing."

An appendix to the agreement published today said withdrawal of the Finnish troops behind the new state frontier and advance of the Russians up to it would begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

The Times of London, declaring the Finns "have obtained conditions much less onerous than those offered in March of this year," said that through Moscow's successive arrangements with Romania, Bulgaria and Finland any "suspicion....of a dark plot designed to bring the whole of eastern Europe under Russian sway is exposed as lacking foundation."

Stockholm reports which lacked immediate official confirmation yesterday said Finnish troops had moved against Nazi forces in northern Finland. Von Born said the south as far as Oulu already was clear. The Germans, if they desire, can withdraw into northern Norway.

Leese's force on the storming of the Coriano Ridge and the crossing of the Marano River, Nazi strong points southwest of the Adriatic port of Rimini.

Grand Feat of Arms.

"I can see that this has been a grand feat of arms on the part of the troops involved," Mr. Churchill said. Lt.-Gen. Leese immediately forwarded the congratulations to Lt.-Gen. Burns, Canadian Corps Commander, so that it should reach the Canadians who had earned it.

The town of Coriano, itself was taken by the Irish Regiment of Canada, a Toronto formation, on Sept. 13, while the ridge positions were assaulted by a Western Ontario Regiment (perhaps the Perth Regiment of Stratford, Ont.) and a Nova Scotia Highland Battalion (probably the Cape Breton Highlanders, Sydney, N. S.,) in operations by Gen. Hoffmeister's formation.

Crossed The Marano.

First to cross the Marano river on Sept. 14 were two companies of a French-speaking unit (possibly the Royal 22nd Regiment, from Quebec) under Maj. G. H. Comble Simard, of Quebec, P. Q., and Maj. Fremont Trubeau of Rimouski, P.Q.

The French-speaking Canadians were quickly followed by a Nova Scotia Regiment (perhaps the West Nova Scotia Regminet, Bridgewater, N.S.) which advanced so speedily to the river bank that the leading company, commanded by Maj. Bill Thexton of Dartmouth, N. S., secured a bridge before the Germans had time to carry out prepared demolitions.

The French-Canadians and the two other units are all of Gen. Vokes' division.

To-day's Allied Armies in Italy official handout said: "It may now be revealed that the Irish Regimetn of Canada on Sept. 13 took the village of Coriano. Two other Canadian battalions made night attacks on the 7,000-yard ridge where it is situated. The Irish passed through them in the morning and fought a house-to-house battle for the village itself.

"The Coriano feature had held up the advance of the 8th on the Adriatic sector for one week and a half. German panzer Grenadiers were solidly positioned in tunnels, cellars and stone buildings. The night attack was followed by intensive bombing and shelling.

"Canadian infantry and tanks made the assault and captured a 2,000-yard sector of the ridge. The Irish alone took 70 panzer Grenadiers in their bag of 130 prisoners. Montecchio, a key point in the Gothic Line, and the important height of Tomba Di Pesaro fell to the same regiment in the early stages of the campaign."

Canvass Stands At $70,000 End Of 2nd Day

The chart of progress in the financial campaign of the Memorial Community Centre, on display in Zeller's window on George street, stood today at noon at $70,000. The figure represents results of the first two days of canvassing manufacturers, plant employees, retail merchants and householders not included in the other categories.

Ian McRae, directing the manufacturers' canvass, reported this morning that he had received firm pledges amounting to $60,000 from various plants maintaining offices here. He added that indications were promising that when all reports were in his division would reach the objective of $100,000.

It may be several days before the remaining industries will be able to announce their pledges to the Community Centre campaign, Mr. McRae said. In some cases directors of the plants concerned are not all in the city; in others, it is a question of awaiting the decision of boards of directors of companies whose head offices are located in the States.

The $70,000 total does not include any subscriptions in the field of the special names canvass. Ross Dobbin, heading this committee, reported that his division is making good progress, and that a definite figure will be available at the beginning of next week.

Two reports from team captains of the retail merchants canvass are now in. Bob Everitt has received already 13 subscriptions, including employees of stores, which total $395; and Vic Gallon, who has had 29 pledges filled out, has gotten subscriptions amounting to $336.

Plant employees appear to be donating approximately $10 apiece, according to the very early summation which is all that is available as yet. When and as canvassers are completed in the various industries, the record of their showing will be made public, it was stated by Larry Maguire of the Outboard Marine, who is tabulating results in connection with the employees canvass.

OBITUARIES

MRS. WILLIAM J. HOWDEN.

EAST EMILY, Sept. 20—(ENS)—Funeral services for the late Mrs. William J. Howden, whose death occurred in Peterborough recently, took place here under the direction of Rev. R. M. Patterson, with a private service for the immediate friends of the family at the residence, followed by a general service at Bethel United Church. Interment was made in Emily Cemetery.

Mrs. Howden passed away in hospital two days after suffering a stroke while in the city. The former Elizabeth Morrow of Peterborough, she was the daughter of the late James Morrow and Mrs. Morrow, and moved to Emily township after her marriage to William J. Howden on April 7, 1920. Surviving are her husband and two brothers, Sherman and Lauren of Peterborough.

Mrs. Howden was a faithful member of Bethel United Church, was active in its organizations and served for a period of years as organist, secretary of the W.A. Society and teacher in the Sunday School.

Pall-bearers were six neighbors: Evans Storey, Roy Cullis, Harry McCarrell, Roy Howden, Samuel Carew and Elwood Faulkner.

HARRY EDWARD CLEARY

Well known throughout the community where he was born and raised, Harry Edward Cleary, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cleary and the late Daniel Cleary, passed away Tuesday afternoon at the family residence, lot 9, concession 10, Percy Township, R. R. No. 1, Hastings, after an illness of five months. He was in his 39th year.

Educated in the Hastings district the late Mr. Cleary farmed there for several years. He was a member of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church and belonged to the Holy Name Society.

He leaves to mourn his passing his mother, two brothers—John and Leo, both at home—and a sister, Mrs. Vincent Keogan, Percy Township.

The funeral will be Friday from the family residence on the Cobourg road at 8:30 a.m., to Mount Carmel Church, Hastings, for a requiem mass at 9 o'clock.

Declaring that "no human power can stop the utter and complete defeat of the remnants of the German army," Montgomery added:

"I would say there is no point in rushing straightaway to Berlin today or this week. If you first defeat the Germans or collect them in as prisoners you will make the job easy."

Trap For Enemy

The whole Netherlands front was developing into a potential trap for the enemy. The lower Rhine defences had been turned by the assault from the sky and the ground power-drive of the British. Allied planes battered at a German rush of reinforcements into the Netherlands and other points along the front.

The British drive enveloped Eindhoven, and stabbed 45 miles farther north, joining men of the Allied 1st Airborne Army at or near Nijmegen. They perhaps were already linked up with the pocket of Allied soldiers at Arnhem.

German resistance tightened considerably. Heinrich Himmler was reported to have visited German units in Holland urging "stiffest resistance." But the two Allied armies were steadily enlarging their stand, blocking most of the roads to Rotterdam and Amsterdam. The Paris radio said even the Utrecht line of retreat had been cut by Allied airborne landings from planes.

Berlin broadcasts acknowledged a retreat across the western Schelde.

Americans in the southeastern corner of Holland crossed into Germany east of Sittard and Amstenrade 20 miles north of Aachen, and east of Simelveld seven miles north of that ruined city.

Greatest Resistance

Perhaps the greatest steeling of Nazi resistance was along the west wall defences from well north of Aachen to Trier. The U.S. 1st Army was on or across the German frontier almost everywhere along an 80-mile front.

Americans and Germans fought in the streets of Aachen. Some enemy troops held out in the factory district of by-passed Stolberg, six miles farther inside Germany. Americans were shelling Duren, 15 miles beyond Aachen and 20 from Cologne. Prum, eight miles inside Germany and 45 from Cologne, also was being softened by U.S. shells.

Defying Hitler

German civilians were defying Hitlerian orders to evacuate the Rhineland.

On the 3rd Army front, Americans threw back German armored blows and advanced to the area of Dieuze and Baccarat, respectively 25 miles northeast and 29 southeast of Nancy.

Gerbeviller, midway between Baccarat and Charmes, was freed. Germans were being mopped up six miles northeast of Pont a Mousson. Further gains were made south of the fiercely-defended fortress of Metz, but these were not detailed by Allied Supreme Headquarters.

There was no further official news of the Franco-American 7th Army, fighting west and south of the Belfort gap.

The fanatical enemy stand at Brest, fourth harbor of France, collapsed amid shell and bomb-torn ruins after a siege of more than a month and a half—the longest of any enemy holdout in the west. All "organized resistance" had ceased, said headquarters.

There was no immediate disclosure of the number of prisoners taken in this port 500 miles behind the present battle line. Recently the German strength there was estimated at 12,000 to 15,000 was so certain even a short while ago that we can prepare ourselves with fresh courage for a new later fight. In order to prepare for this unavoidable third contest for leadership of the world expertly, we need our officers. At all times we have found troops in sufficient quantities.

"Therefore, care has to be taken continuously so that the officers corps be maintained at the present strength. At the same time, certain company commanders are to be selected to remain with the troops and even to sacrifice themselves, if necessary. Such examples are necessary for maintaining the morale of the troops. Division commanders will select junior officers who are to die a hero's death."

Two Experts Report Market Still Useful

The visit of two marketing experts of the Ontario and Dominion Departments of Agriculture confirmed Mayor Hamilton's opinion that the farm produce market was an old institution that had not outlived its usefulness but continued to provide a medium of business between producer and consumer that should be retained.

Dr. W. C. Hopper of Ottawa and Frank Perkins of Toronto completed their enquiry Tuesday afternoon, after spending the most of two days looking over the Peterborough farm areas and otherwise scanning the market population and opportunity. They will both return to the city Saturday, October 7 to see the market in actual operation, and it is expected that they will also be available for the meeting the city council has been proposing by inviting farmers to present their opinions of the market, its service and possibilities, generally with the intention of improving its usefulness on both sides of the counter.

Bancroft To Get New Red Cross $40,000 Hospital

BANCROFT, Sept. 20 (ENS) — Plans are being completed by the Architect, Mr. Dolphin, of the Red Cross Society, Toronto, for the erection of a new $40,000.00 Red Cross Hosptal at Bancroft.

The local executive have known for some time that the present building was inadequate to cope with the present day demands, and with this thought in mind contacted Headquarters in Toronto, which approved the idea. One slight drawback was the procuring of a suitable site on which to erect such an institution and the local purchasing committee after viewing three or four sites in the village decided to take the Agricultural Grounds at the North-West edge of Bancroft Village which was offered at a nominal figure. This purchase was made a few days ago.

The present Red Cross Hospital was erected in Bancroft in 1926, and at that time served its purpose, which was solely to handle any emergencies which arose, but now that the roads have improved so much in the past ten years, the little building is proving much too small for for the demand. The plans of the new hospital are such that additions can be added as required without impairing the structural view. It is the intention that when the new hospital is completed the present Red Cross hospitals at Apsley, Coe Hill, Wilberforce and Whitney will be closed and ambulances with headquarters at Bancroft will be pressed into service to serve the outlying townships adjacent to Bancroft. It is understood that the Toronto Executive met this week to determine whether or not work on the building would be started this Fall or left until Spring.

Ask To Proclaim Newspaper Boy Day

H. B. Cowan, Jr., circulation manager of The Examiner and chairman of the national newspaperboy committee of the Canadian Circulation Managers' Association, today made public the text of a letter he has sent to premiers of all nine provinces of Canada asking them to proclaim Saturday, Oct. 7, as provincial newspaperboy day.

The day has been set aside as national newspaperboy day, said the letter, which related with pride the job that the more than 35,000 newspaperboys in the Dominion are doing.

They have aided the war effort through selling war savings stamps, canvassing for blood donors, investing in Victory Bonds and in delivering the news to homes throughout Canada every day, and "they and other youth like them engaged in useful pursuits will build the better world of tomorrow"

Plans Discussed To Repair Rink

COBOURG, Sept. 20 — (ENS). — Plans to get the rink into shape so that it will be safe from structural collapse, were made at the meeting of the town council on Monday night. Some weeks ago the committee which has been operating the rink as a community venture, threatened to resign if the building was not repaired as they didn't want to be responsible in the event of it collapsing and injuring people.

Councillor Reuben Jackson and James Burtt of the rink were appointed a special committee to inspect the building and arrive at an estimate of the repairs which would be necessary to put it into a safe condition again. This decision was the outcome of a discussion of the matter with Ed. Campbell and James Burtt of the rink committee.

Councillor Reuben Jackson estimated roughly that $250 would put it into shape again. He expressed doubt that the Municipal Board would permit the council to spend money on someone else's building. Reeve Robert Love pointed out that the place would be up at the next tax sale unless the $1,700 tax arrears were paid.

Suggests Granting Funds

Mayor Jack Burnet sugggested that the way to handle it would be to grant to the rink committee sufficient funds to cover the repairs. Following the inspection of the building by the appointed committee, the rink will be repaired.

Rev. S. D. France, president of Cobourg Ministerial Association, addressed council on a special service which would be held on "V" Day. The Association had drawn up a tentative program which would start at 7.30 on that day, Rev. France said. He suggested that a meeting be called by the mayor to arrange for the special observance of Victory Day. Mayor Burnet agreed and replied that he would call a special meeting to draft plans for the occasion.

Ontario Picks McIntosh Crop

Here's a spot of news from the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Northumberland county has an excellent crop of McIntosh apples and picking has been begun. The orchard farmers and the jobbers are concerned about the supply of labor for this important seasonal work.

Durham farmers are also harvesting the crop of "canning corn," a reminder that the tomato pack must be past the peak of its flurry of industry. Prince Edward reports the tomato pack is still continuing, with factories operating at capacity.

The opposite ends of the agricultural year meet in the activities of picking apples and sowing fall wheat.

Hastings also notes that school children "are doing good work in the collection of milkweed pods."

The harvestng of apples, potatoes and corn for the canneries are three of the rural activities as the season advances into the weeks of the fall fairs. Glengarry comments that there was a record showing of cattle at two of the recent fairs in that county.

Some fall wheat has been sown in Grenville; the McIntosh apple crop is being picked—"and the picking of milkweed pods by school children is a common sight."

Renfrew says: "There is more than the usual interest in exhibiting of livestock at fall fairs,—so far they have been exceptionally well attended."

In western Ontario Norfolk tobacco is about 80 per cent harvested, and the picking of McIntosh apples has begun. Most of the silos are filled here and there across the province.

Some Middlesex farmers are heading off to the prairie provinces to buy feeder cattle.

Legion Ships Weekly 1,800 Cigarettes

Branch 52, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., held their first monthly meeting Monday night after a recess of two months, July and August.

Committee chairmen made their reports with Harold Yelland stating that no ailing members had been reported for August and also stressed the point that if any members knows or hears of a member being ill to report it to his committee and that member will be looked after.

Peter Wallace announced that an open night of entertainment will be held on Tuesday, October 3 with all members and their wives, including the single men and their friends, invited, to turn out and make it an enjoyable evening.

Robert Hotrum reported that the bingo games on Wednesday and Friday had been very well attended during the summer months, with the Friday night overseas bingo still shipping 10,800 cigarettes to the boys weekly. Seven new members' applications have been received this month, bringing the total for the summer campaign to well over forty, with twelve being initiated at Monday night's meeting.

The highlight of the evening were addresses by J. A. Jebson, publicity chairman of the Peterborough Memorial Community Centre and Comrade Dr. H. M. Yelland of the Nicholls Hospital Board. Mr. Jebson was accompanied by J. E. Keyes, and Dr. Yelland by John Hornell, superintendent of the Nicholls Hospital.

To show that Branch 52 is behind the Memorial Community Centre project the meeting voted $500 to be their donation to the fund.

Northumberland Girls Hold Achievement Day

COBOURG, Sept. 20 — (ENS). — Girls from various communities in the county who were contestants in the West Northumberland Garden Brigade, gathered at Grafton recently for their annual achievement day. The 23 exihibits of vegetables, flowers and canning made a splendid display and Agricultural Representative Ralph C. Banbury had a difficult time placing contestants.

The high third-year contestants were Ruth Wilson, Muriel Rutherford and Shirley Harnden. In the second-year group, the standing was Patricia Harnden, Mildred Welton and Shirley Kellogg. Among the 13 first-year contestants the high standing went to Dorothy Calder, Helen Kernaghan and Bertha Pattison. Miss Jean Scott, Home Economics Coach, presented certificates for work done and outlined something of future club work for Northumberland County girls.

A feature of the program was a short talk on gardening by each of the third-year girls with first prize going to Shirley Harnden. The following girls were presented with county honor certificates and pins by Miss Scott for having completed six homemaking club projects — Mae Telford, Ruth Haynes, Ruth Mann, Kathleen McIntosh, Mildred Welton, Muriel Jean Rutherford and Ruth Wilson.

Firemen Fail To Save Dominion Oil Plant

BANCROFT, Sept. 20 (ENS) — The Bancroft plant of the Dominion Essential Oils Limited of Lakefield was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday afternoon.

Fire of unknown origin swept through the structure of the buildings and even though the local fire equipment was on the scene a few minutes later their efforts were fruitless to save the plant. The plant employed ten men and had three trucks on the road gathering the brush which was used for the manufacturing of an oil for refining. It is understood that there was no insurance coverage. The men on Monday were busily engaged reconstructing the plant so as to cause as little delay to the working as possible. The plant was under the management of John Brown.

Unpopular Ontario

Canada is such a large country that very few people can claim to estimate its national feeling with any degree of accuracy; when most of us talk about 'Canada' we are really talking about our own province within Canada; sometimes we speak only for part of a province. We who live in Ontario are particularly given to high-sounding generalizations about Canadian opinion, which we equate with Ontario opinion. It often comes as a surprise to us to discover that our opinions and desires are not representative of Canada, and that our province is, upon the whole, unpopular with the rest of the country.

This unpopularity was discussed recently in the Fergus News-Record; the editor of that paper had been to a meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Winnipeg. This is what he wrote as a result of that journey:

"Our own politicians, some preachers and some newspapers have even been trying to prove that Quebec is the one unpopular province at present. That is definitely not true: it is Ontario which is unpopular. If Quebec comes next in the list, it is not because the people of the rest of Canada don't like Quebec's attitude or language, conscription or religion, but because Montreal is considered next worst to Toronto as the seat of money-grabbing barons who are sucking the life-blood out of the West and the Maritimes—and don't imagine we are exaggerating the case. It used to be that Toronto was the target for all this abuse—and the rest of us in Ontario were content to have it that way—but now all Ontario seems to be lumped together in the eyes of the rest of Canada".

A large part of the blame for this condition of affairs must rest upon Premier Hepburn, who frequently described Ontario as a Milch Cow, nourishing the eight greedy starvelings which were the other provinces. The West resented this aspersion, and was not slow in saying that the Ontario Milch Cow was devouring a lot of the best western grain, and giving a poor stream of blue milk in return. Premier Drew, also, has made Ontario disliked in the West by his attack on the Baby Bonus, which he thinks will be of primary benefit to Quebec. But a look at the relevant figures shows that the West and the Maritimes will get far more out of the Baby Bonus than Quebec. Premier Garson of Manitoba told the weekly newspaper editors a few truths which may have surprised them, when he said:

"Even a casual perusal of the records shows that this 50 per cent. for Ontario and 33 per cent. for Quebec includes customs duties, excise taxes and sales taxes paid by importers and manufacturers in Ontario and Quebec which taxes are written into the costs of the goods and services which these Ontario and Quebec concerns sell in Western Canada and in the Maritimes. A large part of this Ontario figure, therefore, represents taxes which ultimately come to rest upon taxpayers in Western Canada and in the Maritimes".

Ontario is unpopular in the rest of Canada because it is rich and, like many rich people who have poor relatives, it adopts an attitude toward the other provinces which is half-patronizing and half-victimized. Undoubtedly Ontario is of great importance to the Dominion, but it might be well for some of our citizens, particularly in Toronto, to realize that in the eyes of the rest of Canada Ontario is at least as much of a menace to Canadian unity as Quebec is.

Youthful Radio Tastes

That well-known entertainment magazine The Billboard recently employed a Mr. J. Kenneth Richards to take a poll of the radio tastes of a group of college students. Mr. Richards questioned 325 students, the majority of whom were girls, and when he asked about their 'favourites' 108 cast their votes for popular dance bands, 33 for radio drama, 30 for that curious hybrid, 'semi-classical music', 29 for variety and 18 for symphony broadcasts. The most popular singer was Bing Crosby. No votes at all were registered for religious programs, opera broadcasts or discussion groups.

Some of our more active viewers-with-alarm have affected to see hideous implications in these results. We cannot join them. Much the same voting might have been given by any chance group of adults. It does not seem to have occurred to some people that 'popular' music is so called because it is more popular than any other kind; it is novel, and lively, and it is not hard to appreciate. Bing Crosby is more popular than the stars of the Metropolitan Opera because he deliberately sets himself to massage the heart-strings of his listeners with cooing and warbling noises which sometimes have little relation to the art of singing but which are pleasing in themselves. There is nothing alarming in the fact that a majority of people like popular art.

Those who cannot bear Mr. Richards' revelations should look at other comforting statistics. The broadcasts of the great symphony orchestras are estimated to have listening audiences of millions; when the Metropolitan Opera broadcasts its Saturday afternoon performances during the winter there are millions of people on this continent and in South America who listen. Nobody expects these broadcasts to compete with dance bands and crooners; they are harder to appreciate and they appeal to a relatively cultivated taste.

At no time in history have so many people appreciated the finest in music as at present: never has so much first-rate music been available to such a large public. The popular music has a larger audience, and always will have, but fine music is known to millions now, as compared with the thousands who enjoyed it during the last century. As for the ideas that college-bred folk have better taste than others—that disappeared years ago, when our college became continuations of our high schools.

The Germans Face Defeat

The Germans face certain defeat now, and they know it. We still cannot say how they will meet the situation. They might suddenly throw in the sponge, or they might determine to fight as long as they have any power of resistance left. But it must be obvious to every German fighting man that the Reich lacks the equipment and the numbers to put up an effective fight; faced with their obvious inferiority in these respects, will they lose their spirit as well?

Since the Allied invasion of Normandy the war has moved with bewildering speed for the Germans, and they have sought to comfort themselves with ill-considered military theories. They were able, for instance, to tell themselves that they still had a defense along the Rhine, and that a sea-borne invasion of the Low Countries was impossible, because of the obstacles presented by the Leopold, Albert and Meuse canals, and the Meuse and Rhine rivers. Thus, they argued, the Rhine line could not be outflanked.

But this week the Allies dropped an army from the air in Holland, which has already crossed the Rhine and can begin rolling up the Nazi flank whenever it seems advisable to do so. It looks as though the Allies meant to use the same tactics in Western Germany that Lieut.-General Patton used in Normandy: there he cut the German forces into small segments with his tanks, and mopped up the segments. The forces which have flanked the Rhine and Siegfried lines can, and probably will, do this as soon as the Germans begin to retreat from those strongholds. And once that begins the Germans will not be able to hold out for long.

Will the Germans give in, or will they choose to go down in a slaughter? The national intelligence has been so debauched by Nazism that it is quite impossible to say what they will do; they may even continue resistance in remote sections for months after the main body of the nation has surrendered.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Nothing will wilt your laurels quicker than resting on them.

It is said that tons of honey remain unsold in Ontario, because people who want to buy it lack the coupons to do so. A sweet mess, that one.

As a sign of progress the Kingston Whig-Standard offers the fact that it has not seen a burnt-wood necktie-holder for ages. To this we would add the fact that the once-smart custom of wearing a single bicycle-clip from dawn to dusk has now passed into limbo.

As a measure of Allied progress during this war, we are reminded that not a single piece of equipment now being used by the American forces was in production at the beginning of this war, with the exception of the Garand rifle. Democracy may be a slow process, but it can hurry when it has to.

The Best Escape Literature

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

WITHOUT escape literature the world would be an impossible place, and the suicide rate would be many times greater than it is. There are lucky people who find very little in the world to perturb them, and their desire for escape is slight; but most of us have enough worry and responsibility of one kind and another to make us appreciative of the escape which is offered by reading, or the movies, or the radio, or the gramophone. Since the beginning of the war the half-hours which we have been able to snatch from our duties have become more and more infrequent, but there are few people who have abandoned their particular form of escape entirely. There are writers and critics, of course, who insist that in these troubled days it is nothing less than dereliction of duty if we stop thinking about world problems for an instant. We may suspect, however, that for these people world problems themselves form an escape from reality, and have become a sort of game. It is noticeable, too, that the less actual responsibility a writer bears in world affairs, the more eager he appears to be to harp on them, in and out of season.

WHAT is the best escape literature? Every reader must find his own. Personally, I find that the literature which takes me most completely out of my ordinary paths of thought is that which is designed exclusively for women. Before the war my favourite reading on a train journey was the current issue of The Girl's Own Paper. When I was a boy I read The Boy's Own Paper and Chums; when I became a man I switched to The Girl's Own; it is funnier. Perhaps you are not familiar with the G.O.P.? It is a paper published for schoolgirls, and each issue contains a choice selection of stories in which schoolgirls are the heroines, and villainesses, and comedians. These stories follow a number of stock patterns, but the one which I always liked best was the one about the stolen scholarship paper. It cropped up in many slightly altered forms.

THE bare bones of the plot were as follows: a scholarship examination is to be held, and a few days beforehand the headmistresses discovers that a paper containing the questions to be asked has been stolen from her study. The cruel Latin mistress attempts to fix the blame on the heroine, whom she dislikes. This is calamitous, because it causes the young and beautiful gym mistress to hate the heroine, whom she had formerly made her favourite. The situation is desperate, but it is suddenly resolved when it is discovered that the mean rich girl—whom everybody hates but a few toadies, who suck up to her because of her money—stole the paper; the heroine is vindicated, the mean rich girl is expelled, the cruel Latin mistress is put in her place, the beautiful gym mistress smiles again and everybody sings the school song, and rejoices with jam tarts and ginger-beer. A great story this, and a plot fit to rank with 'Oedipus' and 'Tom Jones.' I have read it again and again, with undulled pleasure, in a dozen different forms.

ACCORDING to the G.O.P., girls' boarding schools are filled with eccentric and exciting characters. Latin mistresses are usually represented as mean creatures; French mistresses are usually native Frenchwomen who speak terrible English, and cause great mirth with their foolish mistakes; the headmistress is usually a deeply understanding, almost psychic, woman; all rich girls are horrid; all girls with fair hair are sweet-natured and popular; fat girls are always jolly, and are quite likely to possess unusual skill as ventriloquists or conjurers. On a few occasions I have had to visit girls' schools, and the girls always looked dull and heavy to me. But in the G.O.P. a girls' school is an Alladin's cave of wonders. The G.O.P. is real escape literature.

BUT in wartime the G.O.P. is not available, and so I have had to fall back on The Family Journal for my light reading. Perhaps you have never read it, but undoubtedly you have seen it on news-stands. It is bound in an unmistakeable shade of heliotrope, and it bears a picture which cannot have been changed for at least seventy years. It shows a young woman of apparent delicacy and charm, wearing a tight bodice and a look of distress, leaning across an ornate writing-desk toward a gentleman who wears side-whiskers, a Prince Albert coat and carpet slippers. The significance of this picture, if it ever had any, has been lost in the abyss of the past. Is the girl a beautiful governess resisting the advances of her employer? Is she an orphan in conference with the family lawyer? Probably I shall never know. My cherished guess is that she is a wronged maiden asking her family doctor for a tumblerful of poison, but I may be mistaken.

I HAVE the current issue of this invaluable journal at hand, and it is full of good things. The table of contents makes the mouth water: Love's Touchstone, A Man's Love, Through Valleys Dim, Guilty Love, 'Loved I Not Honour More,' Stolen Kisses, Roses or Rue?, and Love Is Like That; what more could the most avid lover of escape literature ask? Love, as you see, is the chief stock-in-trade of the Family Journal. (It was not so in the Girls' Own Paper; there the girls always spoke of love as 'awful rot,' but they were very young and knew no better; they were all obviously designed to grow up into Family Journal characters.) And not just any kind of love, but tortured, mistaken love, is the chief theme of this excellent collection. Consider 'A Man's Love' for instance: in it a girl is innocently drawn into a love affair with a married man, only to find out that his wife is in Scotland, about to have a baby! She realizes her position just in time, and is able to refer to him as 'treacherous snake,' 'treacherous reptile,' and 'vainglorious weakling' as she falls into the arms of her true adorer. This is escape in the true tradition; a great rest from life as it really is.

A REAL JOKE

A class of college students entered their classroom one morning to find only a hat on the front desk as mute evidence of the possible presence of a mentor. After overstaying the customary 10 minutes, the group agreed that even the hat might have been left the evening before; so they departed—only to meet the remonstrating instructor coming up the stairs.

"When my hat is on my desk, I want you to consider me present," he said.

The following morning when the professor arrived to take the roll, he found a hat on every seat—but not a student there.

THE QUAINT, NAZI SENSE OF HUMOUR

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

VATICAN NEUTRALITY

Sir,—My attention has been called to a letter which appeared in last Thursday's issue of the Examiner, entitled "The Vatican Attitude". It is too bad that the writer had not given the information, which he imagined that he possesses, to Mr. Churchill. If he had the latter would not have made the diplomatic blunder of seeking a three-quarter hour interview with the Holy Father.

I think that it was Mark Twain who stated that a certain man knew a lot of things that were not so. The writer is certainly in this category. He states that the Vatican was in favour of the conquest of Ethiopia. The truth is that, though urged to do so by Mussolini, the Holy Father refused to crown King Victor Emmanuel as Emperor of Abyssinia, and when the Duce ordered all bells in Italy to be rung and Rome to be illuminated in celebration of the victory, the Vatican bells were silent, and the Papal State was the only dark spot in Rome. Could the Holy Father have shown his disapproval in a more striking manner?

As to the Vatican not restraining Mussolini from interference in the Spanish crisis, what would the writer have thought and said if the Holy Father had tried to persuade Canada and the United States not to allow the Papineau and MacKenzie Battalion and the Lincoln Brigade to go to Spain to fight for the Reds? Both countries would like now to forget this incident, but if papal influence had been brought to bear upon them at the time, it would have been very much resented.

It must be remembered that the Vatican is an independent state, just as much as the little District of Columbia in which Washington is situated. As head of the Christian Church the Holy Father can lay down laws outlining the Christian constitution of states and the rules that should govern their relations with one another, but as a civil ruler he has no more right to interfere in the government of another state than the King of England has to intervene in the domestic affairs of Brazil. The Pope has Catholic subjects in all the warring nations, and he must of necessity be neutral. How well he has maintained that neutrality has evoked the admiration of statesmen in every land.

JUSTICE.

DON'T FORGET THE PROVINCIAL PARK

Sir,—There is so much talk at the moment of post-war plans for making Canada a better country for which to have fought and in which to live, that it seems opportune to say a word or two to keep alive the question of a Provincial Park for Peterborough county. A few months ago you printed a number of letters on the subject and reported a public meeting at which a committee was appointed to make further investigation of the project.

Up to the moment, no report to the public has been forthcoming from this committee, and no doubt those few but exceedingly articulate people with selfish interests, who violently opposed the formation of a Park, are hoping nothing further will be heard. The Examiner has done much to foster worthwhile projects in this community and it will be performing a further service if it does not allow this particular question to drop.

The writer had the privilege of spending a short vacation in Algonquin Provincial Park this summer and can recommend such a visit to any who would wish to see for themselves what benefits would accrue to Peterborough county from the formation of a similar Park here. The forests are competently managed; portages are cut and marked between lakes for the benefit of canoeists; the cottagers have all the privileges of cottage land-owners elsewhere, except for the prohibition of indiscriminate tree-cutting; and people come from long distances to see typical Canadian wild animals who have lost much of their fear of humans under Government protection. This year, a further attraction was added to the many hitherto found in Algonquin Park in the form of regular expeditions under the direction of a competent naturalist, to help vacationists to identify common trees, plants and birds with a view to adding to the average Canadian's appreciation of his natural surroundings. These expeditions proved to be very popular.

The citizens of Peterborough and the surrounding district are at present greatly interested in the campaign to raise funds for the proposed Community Recreation Centre, certainly a most laudable idea. Are not these same citizens also interested in setting aside a portion of county land to be preserved from uncontrolled exploitation and to serve as an unspoiled vacation spot for themselves and for posterity?

During a recent visit to Britain, the writer talked to many Canadians in the services and all are anxious to come back to an even better Canada than the one they left. Here is on opportuniyt for helping to fulfil their desire.

The power to request the Provincial Government to set up a Park in Peterborough County lies largely in the hands of the County Council, if backed up by the Peterborough City Council. These bodies will earn approbation from the majority of the public if they will but act.

Yours truly,
J. L. McKEEVER.

Food and Education

(LONDON TIMES)

UNDER the new Education Act the Minister is to issue regulations imposing upon local education authorities "the duty of providing milk, meals, and other refreshment for pupils." Whether parents are to be charged for these services or are to receive them free is a matter also to be settled by the Minister's regulations.

This procedure has been adopted because, as the financial memorandum accompanying the Education Bill explained, school meal policy had to await consideration "in connection with the scheme for children's allowances" which the Government have now promised to announce before the end of September.

In England and Wales meals are at present being provided for one-third of all school children, and more than three-quarters are drinking milk at school. Nine in every ten of these children have to make some payment for what they receive. Milk is supplied at a special reduced price under the Milk in Schools Scheme. The price charged for meals in elementary schools is the cost of the raw food, usually three or four pence; and secondary and technical schools are being encouraged to reduce their charges to a similar level. These charges are waived for parents who pass an income test, but each local authority applies its own standards and there is a wide variation in the scales in force in diferent areas. In contrast, the National Milk Scheme for expectant mothers and children below school age applies a single income scale for the granting of free milk in all parts of the country.

Neither the Government's plans for a peacetime nutrition policy nor their plans for children's allowances are yet fully known; but the case for free provision of meals and milk in schools seems to be overwhelming. The Education Act, read in conjunction with the White Paper on medical services makes it clear that "comprehensive facilities for free medical treatment," like the schools themselves, are to be made available to all children whose parents choose to use them; and local education authorities now have the duty of "encouraging and assisting pupils to take advantage of such facilities."

The school meal can hardly be regarded in a different light. A correspondent has today pointed out that the school meal has ceased to be looked on chiefly as a means of relieving the malnutrition of "necessitous" children and is increasingly coming to be seen as "part of the educational process of the child's life," just as hospitals are coming to look upon the food supplied ot patients not as an "extra" which ought to be paid for, but as part of the process of restoring them to good health.

The Act imposes no obligation on teachers in respect of meals "other than the supervision of pupils" on ordinary school days, but ultimately some elementary knowledge of food values and dietary problems, which at present is even more neglected in most schools than knowledge of the human body, should become a normal part of all school teaching. Eating and learning about food at school are both valuable methods of helping the children of today to grow into adults who will choose their food more wisely than did their parents or their grandparents.

Back To Pirate Days

A Honolulu merchant carries this message in his ad for men: 'World War I put wrist watches on the gentlemen of America. This war seems to be putting rings in their ears.

"According to men in the service returning from the South Pacific, gold earrings worn through holes punched in the ear lobes are a growing fad among American sailors who have served in the combat areas.

"The style, though, rigidly observed, is to wear only one ring—in the left ear. Shapes are—gold crescents with a star or a heart or a ball suspended inside or just the crescent alone."—Minneapolis Star Journal.

A Bible Message

Rejoice in the Lord, O ye righteousness: for praise is comely for the upright.... For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth.

He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. (Ps. 33: 1, 4, 5.)

I will extoll thee, my God, O king; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.... One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.... They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness....

The Lord is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works. All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power. (Ps. 145: 1, 4, 7, 9-11.)

Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and avoid them. ....For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil. (Rom. 16: 17, 19.)

CONFERENCE TOWN

The idea of Quebec City as an American Geneva is intriguing and many Canadians would be pleased if such distinction should come to the banks of the St. Lawrence. Quebec's history dates back more than 300 years. It has been likened to the city of Rouen in France. Ancient buildings and an old-world atmosphere have many attractive qualities.—St. John Telegraph Journal.

WEALTH PRODUCERS

In recent years a special type of economists and theorists of a particular species have been born. Their great dream is to divide up wealth. They never never think of the creation of wealth. For wealth is created. What would our gold mines, our asbestos mines, what would our waterfalls be worth if we had not had courageous and enterprising men to exploit them?—Montreal Le Jour.

CONTROLS TO CONTINUE

Economic as distinct from political controls were lifted too quickly after the last war, and the older generation has bitter memories of the rise in prices which ensued from the scramble for comodities—an evil which was only checked by the action of the much-maligned banks late in 1920, when large profits had been made at the expense of the public. If there is one lesson of the present war which is understood by every man, woman, and child it is that consumers' stocks in short supply must be rationed; controls can only be lifted as and when markets return to normal, and not in obedience to some general principle whose practical effect would be to starve the poor in order to feed the rich. It is essential that justice is done, but the question of economic controls and subsidies is too complicated to be dealt with by an inclusive formula. —Glasgow Herald.

Unconsidered Trifles

He was quarrelling with his wife, and not doing any too well.

"You didn't have a rag on your back when I married you," he said acidly.

"Anyway," she retorted, "I've plenty now."

A commercial traveller called at a village to do business. Needing a shave, he went to the local barber.

The barber, noticing that his customer seemed fairly well-to-do, charged him two shillings which he paid reluctantly. Then, not to be outdone, the traveller commented on the enormous number of flies which were buzzing round, and the barber said he had tried every possible means to get rid of the pests.

"Give me half a crown," said the traveller, "and I guarantee to tell you a remedy that will clear your shop in no time."

The barber argued about the price for a minute or two, but eventually he paid.

"Now," said the customer, opening the door, "catch one of those flies, shave him, charge him two shillings, and you'll never see another fly or anything else in your shop again."

He closed the door behind him as the barber collapsed.

Britain's Home Army Was 2 Millions

By JAMES R. CHAMBERS
Reuter Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 20 — (CP-Reuter).—Britain gradually is lifting the ban on some of her wartime restrictions, the latest being the unveiling of the secrets of the home guard, that army of veterans of the First Great War, war workers and boys who in 1940 volunteered to fight invading Germans "on the beaches, in the streets, in the hills."

Disclosure of the secrets of Britain's home guard may be accepted as an indication that the guard, already changed back to a voluntary basis, never will be needed to repel invaders.

While Britain was threatened with invasion it was vital that the numerical strength of the home guard in any district, and facts regarding its equipment, be kept a military secret.

It now is possible to tell of these men who, training as hard as serving soldiers, from the days when they were armed with "pikes" to the present, have become efficient soldiers fully competent to handle the latest Allied weapons of war.

Regiments Everywhere.

The Houses of Parliament had its own battalion which guarded the palace of Westminster, the post office had battalions, as did main line railway companies and London's transport combine.

There were factory battalions and Fleet street and its environs were watched by the Press battalion of the city of London regiment. Other units were London's taxi drivers, the American unit and the Royal Parks unit.

Britain's military chiefs first of all decide not to arm volunteers in Central London. In an emergency they were to patrol the streets in parties of 50 or 60.

The force became the home guard at the end of July, 1940.

It was not until February, 1942, that conscription was applied to the force which was by then well armed and trained.

The strength varied from time to time.

When the government a week ago gave the "stand easy" Britain's home guard was 1,500,000 strong. The maximum strength may never be revealed but it may have been in the region of 2,000,000.

The home guards played a great part in smashing air raids on Britain and in making them too expensive for the German air force for they manned all types of anti-aircraft guns, rockets and searchlights.

Canon L. A. Dixon of Toronto Reports Church of England Missionary Collections High

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE, Que., Sept. 20— (CP) — Missionary collections of the Church of England in Canada reached the highest point in their history last year, missionary secretary Canon L. A. Dixon of Toronto reported last night in his annual report to the board of management of the church.

Reading his report to the executive council, meeting here in connection with the sessions of the general council and committees of the church, Canon Dixon said missionary collection's had increased 65 per cent in the last 10 years.

The financial report of treasurer R. W. Alin of Toronto showed receipts of $301,709 as against $292,-264 for 1942. Disbursements increased to $296,523 from $291,571.

Canon Dixon said that 68 per cent of the money spent by the missionary society was for home missions, adding that "it must be remembered, of course, that the overseas percentage would be considerably higher but for the interruption which war conditions had made in Japan and China."

W.A. Not Neglected

The report noted that the minimum stipend to clergy in the missionary dioceses had been raised from $1,000 yearly in 1942 to $1,100 in 1943 and $1,200 in 1944.

Work of the women's auxiliary has not been neglected in wartime, Mrs. C. F. L. Gilbert, corresponding secretary, said in a report presented to the council.

"The girls' and junior departments and the church boys' league have suffered heaviest losses in the matter of membership owing to the fact that many of their leaders now are in the services or else engaged in war work," the report said.

A resolution was introduced by Rt. Rev. G. F. Kingston, Bishop of Nova Scotia, that "the board of missions place on record our sincere appreciation of the significant work which has been done by the women of the Church of Canada on behalf of the war effort; and also of the most significant fact that during the war years they have increased rather than diminished their work on behalf of the church."

Rev. Canon P. S. C. Powles in presenting the report of Jewish missions said he regretted that Christians could not meet the Jews on a more cultural level rather than on the competitive system.

Most Rev. D. T. Owen, Primate of all Canada, said that the Hebrews "should be the object of our friendship."

What can Life Insurance Do for Me?

If you decide to set aside a few dollars each month to purchase life insurance, here are some of the things a Great-West Life policy can do for you:

at 25
A Great-West Life policy will set up an estate for you. It creates funds for later years, which, for example, may help you start a business of your own.

at 30
If you marry, a Great-West Life policy sets your mind at ease. Come what may, your loved ones will never be left penniless.

at 35
Perhaps you will want to buy a home. A Great-West Life policy can cover the mortgage. If you should die, your wife will receive clear title to the property.

at 45
The Great-West Life policy, which you bought for the purpose, will provide a college education for your boy or girl.

at 55
Your family should now be self-supporting. But your insurance, if kept in force, still provides protection for your wife or other dependents.

at 65
You can arrange to have your insurance pay you a monthly income as long as you live, and you can arrange provision, as well, for your dependents.

No other form of investment offers such a variety of benefits. A Great-West Life man will be glad to explain how life insurance can help you financially.

CONN SMYTHE HOME—Serious spinal injuries and a plaster cast didn't prevent a smile and cheery greeting from Major Conn Smythe, M.C., of Toronto, who arrived home recently on the hospital ship, Lady Nelson. Major Smythe, known to thousands of Canadian sports followers, was wounded by mortar fire during the heavy fighting around Caen.

Smythe May Be Disciplined

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 —(CP)— Defence Minister Ralston was understood to-day to be pondering whether to reply to last night's statement by Maj. Connie Smythe of Toronto that Canadian army reinforcements arrived overseas are poorly trained.

It was also understood Col. Ralston had sent a copy of the Smythe statement to high staff officers overseas and asked for their views not only of the statement, but on the matter of discipline involved in one case where a subordinate officer publicly offers such criticism.

Defence Headquarters officials and public relations officers would not comment.

Brother Jarlath Dies At Age 77

TORONTO, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Supervisor of schools for the Toronto Separate School Board for 15 years until his retirement six years ago, Brother Jarlath, F.S.C., 77, died late yesterday of a heart attack. For the last six years Brother Jarlath, formerly Thomas Rafferty, was a resident of St. John's Training School here where he had been in ill-health for some time.

Born and educated in Ireland, he came to Canada in 1889 and taught for a time in Ottawa and Kingston, Ont. He came to Toronto in 1894 and served as principal of St. Helen's and St. Paul's Schools before his appointment as supervisor. Burial will take place at De La Salle College, Aurora, Ontario, on Tuesday.

TAMBLYN
TALKS ABOUT SERVICE

"Courtesy and Service" have ever been the "counter-sign" of the Tamblyn Stores. Throughout the many years since the inception of the Company, it has been the aim and the ambition of all members of the Tamblyn Staff to satisfy your every wish and accord you, "our patrons," the utmost in courtesy. We admit that it has been more difficult to maintain this standard in recent years, due to Wartime conditions, and there have been certain times when we were forced to say "No" to your expressed desire for certain items of merchandise or some type of service. We keenly regret these occasions and sincerely trust that you have understood the circumstances, and that our actions at these times have not caused too great an inconvenience. So may we take the liberty to suggest that a visit to your nearest Tamblyn Store will, in addition to the economies which may be effected in the acquisition of your many needs, prove to you that today, as ever, "Service and Courtesy" are still "un-rationed" and synonymous with all Tamblyn Stores.

The Welland Atlas Steels moved into a 3-2 lead over Hamilton last night by winning the fifth game of the Niagara district senior baseball playoffs by a score of 3-0. The shout went to the credit of Sal Maglie, although he yielded eight hits, two more than the Steels garnered.

Featherweight Champion Willie Pep at Hartford, Conn., last night celebrated his 22nd birthday by stopping Charley Lewis of New York in 1:52 of the eighth round of a scheduled non-title 10-rounder. Lewis at 128 had a one pound advantage. Lewis was down twice in the eighth and the bout ended with him hanging helpless on the ropes.

A world's record for two-year-old harness racers on a half-mile track was set at the Grand Circuit meeting at Delaware, O., yesterday when Titan Hanover won the $5,000 stake. Titan Hanover won in straight heats, taking the second for the fastest mile on a half-mile track by a two-year-old in either gait trotting or pacing.

American Turf Needs One Topnotch Horse

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP) — There's nothing wrong with racing that a good, solid horse couldn't cure.

The good, solid cash has been there all year but every time the monied gentry got to the point that it was able to pronounce the favorite's name something happened to it.

Pukka Gin, Col. C. V. Whitney's 3-year-old, started off the hospital parade. He was the winter book favorite for the Kentucky Derby, but went wrong in the Wood Memorial, and never even made the trip to the Kentucky affair. Pukka Gin returned to the races only yesterday.

Whitney's Burk-el-Arab was another. For a time the youngster was the East's nomination as the year's outstanding 2-year-old, but no more.

Older Horses Suffer, Too

Even among the older horses the ones with the jaw-breaker names suffered misfortune. The Havahome Stable's Princequillo broke down in a New York stake race after a 1943 campaign that brought him the year's marathon title and $68,990.

As the summer drew to a close the flood of maladies also engulfed horses with more common names. Warren Wright's Pensive, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, was retired yesterdaw after losing eight in a row. Earlier, Sun Again from the same stable was withdrawn.

Other top-flight horses, of whom great things were expected last spring, that have been retired or sent to their stables for repairs include Alsab, By Jimminy, Platter, First Fiddle, Count Fleet, Slide Rule and Mar-Kell.

By Jimminy owned by Alfred P. Parker and currently the foremost 3-year-old, likely will make his next start in the $20,000 Lawrence Realization a week from today, but a meeting with Twilight Year, ace of Wright's shrunken string, is not probable.

Ben Jones, Calumet trainer, said today that Twilight Year, regarded as the horse of the year in some circles and universally as the queen of the 3-year-olds, lost weight when shipped to New York from Chicago and was not at her best. He gave no indication when she might return to form.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The extra series games are drawing to a close. Last night Harold Freeman's rink captured the primary event from Nels Routley by a small margin. The Consolation and Hard Luck competitions have reached the finals.

Thursday night's schedule includes groups No. 3 and 4 playing postponed games.

Chairman R. Hendry has announced that it will be men's rinks on Friday night.

A number of our bowlers are in Port Hope today, playing in the annual mixed rink tournament for the "Dr. Daly Trophy".

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

No girls' game in years has attracted so much attention as the battle between Stratford Kroehlers and the Westclox at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon in the first game of the Ontario finals seems to be doing. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that the Big Bens have been playing pleasing ball all season and particularly to the clean out manner in which they disposed of Toronto York Brass, the Queen City intermediate champs. The Peterborough team took both ends of that series by giving two of their best exhibitions of the season and Peterborough fans are hoping that they will come back with another similar exhibition Saturday when they tie into the Western Ontario winners. The Big Bens were knocked out by the same Stratford club a year ago by 4 to 2 and 5 to 3 but might just as easily on the run of the play grabbed off a couple of wins. Now the rivals meet again in another championship series and it should be packed full of interest. Greta Harmer, who was the second-string pitcher for Kroehlers last year, is now carrying the whole twirling burden and will undoubtedly be on the rubber for the Western Ontario winners when they meet the Big Bens in the first game of the series Saturday. And just as certainly Isobel Bullock will be called upon by the Westclockers with Beryl Dobbin behind the bat.

* * * * * *

Incidentally the same Greta Harmer appears to be pitching good ball for Kroehlers for Chick Appel in his Stratford Beacon-Herald sport column tells about her work in the last game with Brantford as follows: "Greta Harmer has twirled some great ball games for Stratford Kroehlers, but Saturday's was her masterpiece. Truly the "iron man" of girls' softball, since she has pitched and won all six of Kroehlers' victories in the P.W.S.U. playdowns, Greta never dished up a better mound chore than she did Saturday, and but for her own error in the fifth would have won the game in Brantford by a shutout. In fact, the entire Stratford Kroehler team was good Saturday. They had to be, because Brantford Plowettes miscued but once and battled to the bitter end. The homesters proved their sportsmanship by running over to the Stratford bench after the game and congratulating the winners on their victory. When Eileen Hutchison booted the first ball hit by Brantford things did not look so good, but Eileen Heinbuch snuffed out that chance when she nailed the batter attempting to steal second on her good peg to Evelyn Easson. Once more Eileen Heinbuch proved why she ranks among the best girl catchers, by holding up the slants of her battery mate, Greta Harmer, in perfect fashion, having no errors or passed balls and whipping the ball accurately and true to all bases."

It's Going Over

Preliminary reports of the drive for funds for Peterborough's Memorial Health Centre are heartening in the evidence that has already been afforded of the fact that the far-reaching scheme has sold itself to all classes in the community. This column looked for nothing less. We were satisfied that the good sense of the citizens of Peterborough could be depended upon to see in this history-making campaign the best opportunity of a lifetime for the average citizen to make an investment that could not possibly fail to bring rich returns in the form of entertainment, recreation and health. Never has such a chance been offered the people of any Canadian community for the Memorial Health Centre plan proposes to take care of all the city's athletic requirements in one big drive and at the same time to look after other community needs by providing an auditorium for large-scale gatherings that is at present sadly lacking. It has something for every one and therefore should have and is apparently getting the support of every one. We are satisfied that in the years to come the citizens of Peterborough will thank the promoters of this great enterprise for the vision they showed in making possible the manifold advantages involved in the Memorial Centre scheme.

Says the Belleville Ontario-Intelligencer: "Max Peoples' SACO Intermediates are just one game out of the provincial softball finals today as the result of their staging a strong late inning finish in their game against the Toronto champions on Saturday to come home on the long end of a close 4-3 score. Trailing 2-0 going into the ninth the locals applied the pressure to tie the score with the game going eleven innings before the winner was decided. The second game of the best in three series between the two clubs will be played at the local fair grounds on Saturday evening with a win for the locals putting a Belleville team into the provincial softabll finals for the first time in a decade. First of all it was not the St. Denis Kodaks which the locals stacked up against in Toronto on the week-end. Contrary to reports reaching Belleville before the team left for Toronto on Saturday morning, the Queen City championship had not yet been decided. When the locals arrived in Toronto, Kodaks and Amalgamated Electric were replaying a protested game which Kodaks had previously won. Kodaks lost the protest and the replay so the locals stacked up against the Amalgamated Electric."

Wings Look Strong

"With the exception of Adam Brown, now in the Canadian Army, the Wings will have all of their players back from the 1943-44 squad," writes Doug Vaughan in the Windsor Star in sizing up the prospects of the Detroit Red Wings, "Those whom Manager Adams figures on having available for tryouts are goal tenders Connie Dion, Normie Smith and Jimmy Franks, as well as Harry Lumley, Pat Abbott and Stewart Pirie. Lumley was in the nets for Indianapolis last season, Pirie is an amateur, and Abbott, who served as practice goalie for the Toronto Maple Leafs, is an ordained minister now serving in Detroit. Defence candidates include William "Flash" Hollett, Bill Quackenbush, Harold Jackson and Cully Simon, holdovers from last year; Gordon Sherritt and Hymie Buller, from Indianapolis; John Forbes, who turned pro with Caps at the close of last season; James Skinner, a recruit from Western Canada, and Byron "Butch" McDonald, recently discharged from the Canadian Army. McDonald was a member of the Red Wings in 1939-40 as a left wing. He is a husky, blond youngster with a strong shot. Among the forward prospects, the leading candidates are veterans. This group includes Syd Howe, Carl Liscombe, Mud Bruneteau, Joe Carveth, Murray Armstrong, Don Grosso and Bill Jennings. In addition five members of last year's Indianapolis club are expected to put in a strong bid for major league positions. Returning from the Capitols will be Bill Thomson, Francis "Red" Kane, Dick Kowcinak, Roy Glover and George DeFelice."

Hal Newhouser and the Detroit Tigers delivered a hammer blow at the championship hopes of the New York Yanks yesterday when they turned back the McCarthyites 4 to 1 in the first game of the "croocial" three-game series. Opposed to Hank Borowy, ace of the Yanks, Newhouser spread out eight New York hits so effectively that the invaders were held to one run and it did not come until the ninth by which time the Bengals were four to the good. Nearly 20,000 Detroit fans, biggest weekday crowd of the season, saw Newhouser weave a spell around the Yank bats as he beat them for the sixth straight time in the campaign and ran his win total up to 26, highest in either league. The victory increased the Tiger margin over New York to three full games and Joe McCarthy's athletes will have to take the next two in Detroit or practically fade out of the picture because time is running against them.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Tommy Bullock worked out four innings against Aircraft last night in preparation for Saturday's game with Stratford and the Westclox ace blanked her opposition, allowing only one hit, during her tenure on the mound....Aircraft finally took the decision at the expense of Joyce Withers and incidentally the Big Bens had a lot of trouble hitting the delivery of Norma Strickland....Westclockers are quite frank in saying that they are glad they have to face Greta Harmer Saturday instead of the Aircraft tosser....There will be rugby practices

Davis Grabs Win In Third Fall From Rasputin

Plenty of action was promised in last night's Tunney wrestling card at Brock Street Arena and the advance notices were on the beam for the bill produced three of the toughest arguments of the season, with mat villains in the majority.

Karl Krippler Davis took the main bout from Ivan Rasputin, the Mad Russian, by winning the last two falls after the bewhiskered grappler had grabbed the first with his celebrated bear hug.

Vernon Baxter and Don Evans, the Californian mat artist battled thirty torrid minutes to a draw and in the semi-final which incidentally followed the main bout on this occasion, Irish Jack Kennedy, the new star on the wrestling firmament, showed so much speed and cleverness that Referee Bert Maxwell followed the unusual procedure of awarding the decision to him over John Katan, despite the fact that neither battler was able to take a fall in the 30 minutes.

Although Karl Davis, the tough hombre from Texas, absorbed a lot of punishment at the hands of Ivan Rasputin especially in the first round, he eventually had the satisfaction, aided by some help from Referee Maxwell, of grabbing off the last two falls and winning the bout.

It was no light task for the powerful Texan. The Mad Russian fought every foot of the way and in the early stages he had Davis in constant difficulty. Inside the first minute Rasputin got a chance to slap a bear hug on the Krippler and when he finally broke loose the Texan was momentarily a wreck. Then the Russian staged a series of hammerlocks that Davis didn't like either. Rasputin was on the catching end of a series of Davis headlocks and rabbit punches in the next few minutes but got through that storm in fairly good shape and once more began to carry the battle. He slowed Davis up with a barrage of punches, tossed him around two or three times with rolling headlocks and then climaxed his attack by imprisoning the Texan in a bear hug that did the trick. All the Russian had to do after putting on the pressure was to drop Davis on his back on the mat.

Davis is Peeved

The big battler from south of the border came back in an angry mood and Rasputin had a tough time in the second round. Davis was using head locks and working on the Russian's eyes and the beard was going around in circles at times. Finally, however, he rallied and made the going so hot that Davis took refuge outside the ring. Then Rasputin made a mistake. He clapped a headlock on the Texan and started to pull him over the ropes back into the ring. By sheer strength he managed to haul the ponderous Davis over the top strand but the Texan's feet were on the ropes.

Referee Maxwell, out of the kindness of his heart, went to the assistance of the Russian, by kicking Davis' feet off the ropes.

The gesture may have been well meant but it was fatal for Rasputin for as Maxwell kicked the Krippler's feet off the top strand and Davis was pulled clear his weight caused the Russian to fall backwards with the Texan on top of him in position to take the fall by merely pressing Rasputin's shoulders to the mat.

Maxwell was a help to Davis in the third round too, for he failed to notice the fact that Karl was using the ropes to get leverage for his VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 — (CP). —You can place bets on horses here without worrying about John Law appearing suddenly. Possibly the only legal off-track wagering in Canada, the Vancouver system has been operating for two years and there has been nothing to indicate it won't be going again next season.

A city "messenger service" licence is the paper that makes the set-up legal and bets can be placed on any Vancouver or Victoria track. The licence holders advertise that they use a direct wire to Victoria. A receipt is given when the wager is made and if the punter is lucky enough to pick a winner, he gets paid off at track prices.

The charge is 10 cents for each ticket that has to be purchased, so it costs the same whether one makes a $2 or $10 flier. A person who bets the winning double or quinella pays another charge "for bringing the money back from the track."

The Vancouver Licence Department said so far "roughly 15" messenger service licences have been issued and the majority of these are spotted in the downtown district, several of them operating in hole-in-the-wall cigar stands.

One man who wrote a letter to a newspaper wasn't enthusiastic about the scheme. Saying it was the first time he ever wagered, the man wrote that he was intrigued by race information and placed a $2 show bet. This cost him $2.10. The horse was in the money and paid $2.10 to show. He claimed he was charged an additional 10 cents on the payoff—he made a winning bet and ended up a 10-cent loser.

Prairie prodigy:

Pacific Coast racing officials are high on Bobby McKenzie, 17-year-old apprentice from Edmonton. Two top officials said they think he is top flight material. Wallace (Vancouver News-Herald) Kelk wrote that "in our book he rates one of the best jockey prospects to show here since the days of Hank Mills and Jimmy Hunter." Rex Ireland of Edmonton has McKenzie under contract.

Who are the champs?

Tommy Clark's Vancouver Neons didn't get into the Western Canada senior women's fastball playoffs, but the B.C. champions played an exhibition series against Saskatoon Pats, official titleholders, while en route to the world championship series at Cleveland. When Neons smothered Saskatoon 12-1 in the first game, Clark claimed the unofficial crown for his Neons. Then Pats beat Neons two straight. Since then there has been a great silence from the Clark press bureau.

Vancouver Eliminated

CLEVELAND — (CP). — Cleveland Erin Brews eliminated Vancouver (B.C.) Neons 3-2 here last night in a fourth-round game of the women's division of the world's amateur softball championships. Earlier, Toronto Tip Tops eliminated Rochester (N.Y.) Kodak Park 2-0 in a men's division encounter.

Tigers Boost Lead In American Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer.

Boston was practically eliminated, New York was tottering on the brink, and St. Louis was a faltering second to the league-leading Detroit Tigers to-day after the most important 24 hours of the American League season.

Steve O'Neill's Tigers, who had never been on top until Sunday, had opened up a 1½-game gap on the Brownies by knocking off the Yanks in the opener of a crucial series while St. Louis and Boston lost.

Detroit's 4-1 victory yesterday over New York's ace, Hank Borowy, took most of the wind out of the champ's sails. The Brownies were shut out 6-0 in 11 innings by the dungeon-bound Washingtons. Disaster struck Boston at Cleveland where the Red Sox bowed 8-2 to Steve Gromek's efficient nine-hit lossing.

Dizzy Trout was primed to-day to match Hal Newhouser's feat of beating the New Yorkers six times in the same season. Trout held five victories over the Yanks and Newhouser made it six yesterday by shutting out the McCarthy men until Johnny Lindell homered in the ninth.

World Series fever began to hit Detroit with 28,290, the year's largest weekday turnout at Briggs Stadium.

St. Louis took a heart-breaking loss when Washington scored six in the 11th after blowing a chance in the last of the 10th when Denny Galehouse's single with the bases loaded hit base runner George McQuinn to retire the side.

With Hal Trosky hitting three doubles, Chicago kayoed Jess Flores with a pair of three-run innings to down Philadelphia 6-3.

Cardinal Camp Offer

GUELPH — (CP). — Jack Hough, 16-year-old Guelph pitcher, has received an offer to attend the 1945 spring training camp of the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Baseball League in Virginia, it was announced last night. Hough, who has been a standout in bantam and midget baseball ranks here for four years, received his offer as a result of his showing at the baseball school Cardinals conducted last week in Hamilton. He is a son of Jack Hough who played baseball with Guelph teams 20 years ago.

Newark Bears Eliminate Toronto Leafs

(By The Associated Press)

Newark Bears swept their way into the final series of the International League's Governors' Cup playoffs as they eliminated Toronto last night 3-2 on a four-hit pitching job by 17-year-old Don Johnson.

Taking each of the first four games, the Bears now must wait to meet the winner of the Buffalo-Baltimore semi-final series. The Bisons and Orioles have completed only one game of their best-of-seven set. They meet tonight at Buffalo in the second game.

Johnson was in control all the way, allowing the Leafs their two runs when he walked Vern Thoele and muffed opposing pitcher Luther Knerr's ground ball to set the stage for two successive singles in the fifth. Johnson then set the Leafs down in order with the exception of a walk to Harry Davis in the ninth.

The Bears put on a well co-ordinated attack, starting with their first score in the second. Joe Buzas and Mike Portner singled, Buzas stole third and scored on an infield out. Newark put over the winning runs in the third on successive hits by Roy Zimmerman and Bill Rabe, an error and two walks.

John Zontini, who drove in the Leafs' second run, was the only Toronto batter to make two hits, while Nick Rhabe paced the Bears with three, Bill Rabe and Mike Portner each getting two.

Brintons Win Semi-Final Tilt

A fast and close Industrial semi-final was played at the Brinton Field on Monday evening. This series is best two out of three between Westclox and Brintons. A good crowd gave support to both teams. Brintons took the first game by the score of 7-5. Second game to be played on Wednesday night at the Brinton Field.

Philip for the Brintons went the full game, pitching steady ball. Also receiving good support from his teammates. Four singles by Rose and two triples by C. Corbett, along with good field plays by Jones and Craig were features of the game.

Hopcroft pitched good ball for the losers and also received good support. Millen with three hits was best for the Westclox.

Umpires — P Hillier at plate; D. Drummond on bases.

The teams:

Brinton — Corbett 1b, Rose lf, Jones cf, Byers c, Weese ss, Craig rf, McGarrity, G. Corbett 3b, Dorrell 2b, Philips p.

Westclox — Watson ss, Rowatt 2b, Hopcroft p, Blewett cf, Millen lf, Jacquith c, Whatman rf, Spencer 1b, Nicholl 3b.

Cancel East-West Tilt

WINNIPEG — (CP). — Plans for an east-west football final between St. Paul's College, Winnipeg, and a team from St. Michael's College, Toronto, have been cancelled, A. U. Chipman, vice-president of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, announced yesterday.

WORLD SOFTBALL TOURNEY ON — Among the many feminine stars who competed in the world softball championship at Lakewood, O., are these, two Vancouver, B.C., girls. Outfielder Mary Stannard and Pitcher Wynne Myers. Thirty-two teams, 16 men and 16 girls, are taking part in the tourney, which is sponsored by the Amateur Softball Association. Defending champions are the New Orleans Jax girls and the Hammer Air Field men's team of Fresno, Cal. They were eliminated Tuesday.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(AP).—Any pro football league that can get control of the Yankee Stadium and the Los Angeles Coliseum will have the upper hand in the furious post-war competition that is likely to take place.....So far three leagues are projected—the All American Conference, the United States League and the Trans-America League—besides the established National League....They're all planning to invade New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles, which also figures in the National's post-war plans besides having three or four clubs in existing coast circuits... In the key cities only those two fields would fill the major league bill. The All-America Conference, through Mrs. Lou Gehrig, figures to have an "in" at Yankee Stadium, but so does the Trans-America loop, which awarded a New York franchise to J. Basil Maguire, whose wife is one of the Ruppert heiresses. The Los Angeles Coliseum is city-owned, but is controlled by the colleges that play their big games there, and so far they've turned a chilly shoulder toward all pro propositions.

Success Story:

Herman Lewin, boss of the box office dept. for Mike Jacobs, had just finished reading "How to Win Friends and Influence People" when the author, Dale Carnegie, walked in to buy seven $10 tickets to Friday's Joe Baksi-Mauriello fight. A few minutes later Carnegie walked out with seven top-price $12 tickets.

Has anybody noticed that one reason why Baltimore won the International League pennant was that the park, not the club, caught fire? ...Two of the games postponed when the Baltimore ball park burned couldn't be played off and thus the Orioles, having played fewer games, finished .007 ahead of Newark.

Villeneuve Winner

BANGOR, Me. — (AP). — Larry Villeneuve, 145½, Berlin, N.H., last night won a split decision over Ralph Walton, 140, Montreal, in the feature eight-round boxing bout at the Chateau.

Rugby Season Underway Next Saturday

By The Canadian Press.

Youth will vie with age both on the playing field and in administration in Ontario's sixth wartime football season which opens this Saturday with games scheduled in the Dominion's oldest and youngest football leagues.

The Ontario Rugby Football Union which came into being in 1883 opens its 62nd senior season with the Dominion Hamilton Wildcats hosts to Toronto Indians in Hamilton. The other two O.R.F.U. teams—Toronto Balmy Beach and Ottawa Trojans—swing into action the following week. The junior and intermediate series have been dropped for the duration.

All four teams will participate in the opening games in the Ontario Armed Services Football League which is launching its first season. Camp Borden R.C.A.F. plays Toronto Navy Buildogs in Toronto, and Hagersville R.C.A.F. plays St. Thomas R.C.A.F. in the University of Western Ontario Stadium at London.

Ends November 4.

The 12-game O.R.F.U. regular schedule ends November 4, with Union play-offs to follow. There may be an Eastern Canada final between the O.R.F.U. and the Quebec Rugby Football Union which rivals the Ontario Union in point of age, but there will be no East-West game at the end of the trail this season. Western Canada football officials have announced they will not enter a team this year. Ontario Union teams have won the Dominion title in the last two years —Toronto R.C.A.F. Hurricanes in 1942 and Wildcats in 1943.

The Armed Services League's 12-game schedule is correlated with that of the O.R.F.U. and on two days, October 7 and 9, they share double-header dates at Toronto's Varsity Stadium. There may be an East-West Services game at the end of the season and the four Ontario teams are pointing at this.

The football will be strictly wartime variety, all eight clubs fielding a mixture of football veterans and promising youngsters.

Winning Streak Over

PHILADELPHIA — (AP). — Ike Williams, Trenton, N.J., ended Freddy Dawson's ring winning streak at 27 fights last night, when he knocked out the Chicagoan in 1:43 of the fourth round in their scheduled 10-round windup at the arena. Ike, who ran his own consecutive winning streak to 13, weighed 135, a half-pound heavier than Dawson.

Two Canadan Fighters Take Brooklyn Bouts

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (CP) — Two Canadian fighters won victories at the Broadway Arena in Brooklyn last night before a crowd of 3,500. A third ran into a tartar and was knocked out.

Montreal's Johnny Price, conceding 3¼ pounds to 148-pound Danny Martin of Newark, N.J., won the decision in a fast eight-round bout, semi-final to Danny Bartfield-Joe Amico go in which Bartfield, a New York boxer, outpointed the Philadelphian. Bartfield weighed 139, Amico 141.

In a scheduled four-rounder, Phil Palmer, 143½, Vancouver, B.C., knocked out Leo Black, 148 New York in 1.22 of the second round.

Patsy Zoccane of Toronto found he had taken on a handful in Frank Gromada of New York and was knocked out at 2.50 of the first round of the scheduled four-round bout. Zoccano weighed 138½, Gromada 139½.

Hold Soldiers In Services Until V.D. Cured

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP)—Members of Canada's armed forces will not be discharged in future until it has been proved that they are not suffering from any communicable venereal diseases, a routine army order disclosed to-day.

The order said that all men must undergo a blood test before discharge. If it is found that they are suffering from a venereal disease their discharge will be delayed until treatment has made them non-infectious.

Military officals said the order applied to three services and was passed for the benefit of personnel and the wives and families to whom they will be returning.

The officials said that Canada was the first country to adopt the procedure of testing the personnel for venereal diseases before discharge. It was another move to help control and prevent spread of the diseases.

Those entering the services are tested for the diseases and only those suffering from syphilis of the heart or of the nervous system are discharged. Others are given treatment until they are cured. Most of the treatment is given while the men remain on duty, but hospitalization is necessary in some cases.

7,205 Employees Show No Sign Of Tuberculosis

Of the 7,504 employees of twenty Peterborough industries who were X-rayed by technicians of the Ontario Department of Health during June and July, 7,205, or 98 per cent, showed no evidence of disease or abnormality.

The findings of that industrial clinic which was engaged in a survey directed chiefly against pulmonary tuberculosis were recently received by Dr. R. A. Kelly, M.O.H., and reported to the Board of Health, disclosing conditions of general well being that were highly satisfactory to the city's health department.

"Those showing pulmonary tuberculosis numbered 62, or 0.8 per cent," the statement from the provincial Department of Health continues. Of those 62 cases only 8 were active. One of them was far advanced, five moderately advanced and two were classed as 'minimal,' signifying of small consequence.

"The five moderately advanced and the one far advanced cases are already receiving treatment in sanatorium, and the two with minimal classification are under the care of their family physicians," Dr. Kelly commented in his monthly report to the Board.

"The eight active cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, or 0.1 per cent of the total number X-rayed, is, I believe, about one-half of the number usually found in such surveys in other centres.

"In the remaining 54 cases, those classified as 'activity questionable and inactive, approximately 61 per cent are newly discovered, and the task of placing those persons in our files, taking out histories for re-examination and examination of contacts, is enormous. With our present depleted nursing staff, when or how this will be accomplished I do not know."

Chest Clinic

Dr. Kelly also refers to the visit of the Travelling Chest Clinic in July. "As many persons ordinarily visiting this clinic were X-rayed in the industrial survey, the attendance was not so large as usual. However, 135 X-rays were taken. One case was suspected of becoming re-activated, and this person it as present resting at home for further investigation."

"Through the industrial survey and the Travelling Chest Clinic, approximately 27 per cent or better than one-quarter of the citizens of Peterborough have had chest X-rays this year. It is to be hoped that further work might be done in this field in the near future, and thus reduce the incidence of tuberculosis. Whether or not anything more will be accomplished will depend on the possibility of bringing our nursing staff up to strength."

Provincial Report

The report of the industrial survey is quoted, in part, as follows:—

Total number of employees X-rayed—7,504.

Those with no evidence of disease or abnormality—7,205; 96 per cent.

Number with pulmonary tuberculosis—62, or 0.8 per cent.

Number classified as pulmonary tuberculosis suspects—11 or 0.2 per cent.

Number with evidence of previously healed pleurisy—98; or 1.3 per cent.

Number with other abnormal conditions—128; or 1.7 per cent.

Of the 128 cases of other abnormal conditions some of them are listed as follows:— healed primary infection 65; new growth 1; abnormal hearts 4; bronchiectasis 4; atypcial pneumonia 1; pulmonary fibrosis 6; non-tuberculesis scarring 6; diaphragmatic hernia 2; accentuated lung markings 26; previously injured ribs 1; and so on.

Dr. Kelly said today that he is already engaged in acquainting the persons listed as these cases of the disclosures of the X-ray examinations. It remains with them probably to consult their pyshicians. At any rate the entire survey was voluntary, and continues on that basis through the subsequent or concluding stage.

Of chief concern to the Board of Health and Dr. Kelly have been the eight persons classified as active cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, which were mentioned in the foregoing figures.

Those listed as "activity questionable" are classified still further, as follows:— minimal 5; moderately advanced 5; total 10.

Inactive:— minimal 33; moderately advanced 10; far advanced 1; total 44.

Totals of the three classifications: minimal 40; moderately advance 20; far advanced 2. Total 62.

Preventive Measure

The report from the Ontario Department of Health rounds out the industrial survey, and its findings must be a source of satisfaction to the great majority of the employees who did not hesitate to take advantage of this physical examination, with emphasis on chest area.

The survey was discussed a year or so ago by the Board of Health. It convinced the members as an undertaking in the interest of all employees in the city, and was finally obtained from the Department as a preventive action in the unceasing battle against tuberculosis.

IN NAVY BAND—Bandsman E. E. (Bud) McDonald, whose wife lives on Weller street, is stationed at H.M.C.S. York, Toronto, where he plays in the Navy Band. He left the Card and Paper Company to enlist 1½ years ago, and is the son of Archie McDonald of the Fire Hall. The official R.C.N.V.R. artist recently did a sketch of Bandsman McDonald which is being exhibited in an Ottawa collection.

Canadian Losses Total 51,038

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Casualties for Canada's 3 armed services at July 31 had increased 4,644 to 51,038 over the previously announced total of 46,394, which included figures for all theatres up to June 30 and the Normandy campaign up to July 20, according to official figures released last night by Wartime Information Board.

The Navy showed an increase of 124 and the Air Force 752. It was announced previously that the Army increase was 3,768.

The latest Air Force figure of 15,961 showed an increase of 373 dead, 341 missing, prisoners and interned, and 38 wounded; the Navy figure of 1,838 an increase of 25 dead, 8 missing, prisoners and interned, and 91 wounded.

The Army figure of 33,239 showed an increase of 1,061 dead, a decrease of 349 of missing, prisoners and interned as the result of reclassification, and an increase of 2,516 wounded.

The three-service total of 51,038 was made up of 20,820 dead, 10,676 missing, prisoners and interned, and 19,542 wounded.

In the 4½ years of the First Great War, 628,462 Canadians served and casualties totalled 190,092, including 62,817 dead.

After five years of war the present strength of Canada's armed forces is officially estimated at 769,000 and the 51,038 casualties for the war period up to July 31 do not take into consideration Merchant Navy casualties, which were 1,200 up to February 22.

Latest table for the three armed forces:

	RCN	Army	RCAF	Tl.
Dead	1184	9788	9848	20820
Missing-prisoner-interned..	351	5108	5217	10676
Wounded ...	303	18343	896	19542
Total	1838	33239	15961	51038

MOTHERS EXEMPT

LONDON — (CP). — The Ministry of Labor is exempting from war work mothers whose children were evacuated because of flying bombs.

MUTUAL AID

Less than 24 per cent of Canada's war production goes to her own armed services. The remaining 76 per cent is received by other United Nations.

ABOUT THE THINGS YOU BUY IN WARTIME...

The sugar situation is NOT sweet

FOUR-FIFTHS OF THE SUGAR CANADA CONSUMES HAS TO BE IMPORTED

This map shows where Canada, Great Britain and the United States got their sugar in the good old days of peace. Our three countries take practically all the exportable sugar from these major sugar-exporting areas.

But supplies have either been cut off by enemy occupation of the country—as in the case of Java and the Philippines, or their production radically reduced by shortage of workers, as in the case of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Australia, Trinidad, Fiji.

Even the production of beet sugar in Canada and the United States has been drastically cut by labour shortage. In both countries the '43 sugar beet crop was forty per cent less than in '41. The only country to show an important increase is Cuba, where output had for years been deliberately restricted. But its increase has not been sufficient to offset the losses elsewhere—let alone meet the increased demand.

ROLLING ON SUGAR

The war has brought some unusual demands on the United Nations' sugar pool. Vast quantities have been taken for making industrial alcohol used in the manufacture of synthetic rubber (tires, etc.) as well as T.N.T. and smokeless powder. For instance, the explosive to fill five 16-inch shells requires as much sugar as is produced on an acre of the finest sugar land. This year Cuban sugar alone used for making industrial alcohol will equal Canada's normal sugar imports for more than two years.

THE SUPPLY IS SHARED

All sugar supplies are pooled and under the control of the Combined Food Board of the United Nations, which allots supplies to Canada, United States and Great Britain on a uniform basis.

DO WE NEED MORE SUGAR?

A century ago the whole world didn't consume as much sugar as Canada does today. Our sweet tooth has been acquired in quite recent times. Sugar rates high for its energy value, but starchy food is a good substitute.

WE'RE LIVING ON OUR SUGAR CAPITAL

At the time of "Pearl Harbour" the United Nations had a reserve stock-pile of about 3 million tons, but for the last 3 years we've been using more than has been produced—and dipping heavily into "reserve." Liberated nations will have to dip in too. Extra good crops could improve the situation, but greatly increased supplies are not in sight. If current consumption keeps up, we could be very short of sugar next year. We must do the utmost to conserve our supplies.

PAPER DRIVE

Thursday is the day of the big paper drive in Peterborough and district, and city residents are reminded that all waste paper should be tied in bundles, and be put on the streets before 6 o'clock in the evening.

HELP SITUATION

According to some of the city's fuel companies, the help situation might interfere with supplying everybody with coal and wood before the cold weather sets in. While there has been no spectacular rush to order coal during the past couple of weeks, it is reported people were slower getting in their orders this year, although several received their supply during the summer.

AT BELLEVILLE FAIR

Peterborough district exhibitors at the Belleville Fair this week include: Allan B. Mann, Bridgenorth; Arthur Raycraft of Warkworth and W. H. Lindsay, Campbellcroft, in the light horse classes; M. H. Pimmett & Sons, sole exhibitors of Shorthorn cattle; John Stuart, Jr., Peterborough, Herefords; Garnet Kerr of Campbellford with Jerseys. Malcolm Bailey of Uxbridge is the only exhibitor of Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

NO RUSH

No great rush for tea and coffee has been noticed in restaurants, wholesale houses, or retail stores, it was reported today. One restaurant said that while it was expected many people would take the second and third cup of coffee, no one did.

BOLT FROM BLUE

Like a bolt from the blue, a parcel of newspapers thrown from a news truck frightened a young woman out of her wits while she was walking down George street Tuesday afternoon, and the bundle landed with a bang right in front of her.

REUNION

Two school chums, Gnr. Ralph Rogow and Cpl. Lou Cherney, met in Peterborough, England, recently, when both procured special leave so they could visit. Gnr. Rogow with the R.C.A. will be remembered as Ralph "Mike" Rogow water boy of the Collegiate football squad, and a well known basketball player. He was formedy employed at the Westclox. Cpl. Cherney of the R.C.A.F has been overseas three years and made a trip down from the north to meet his pal.

IN ITALY—Fighting in the front lines in Italy, where he has been for over five months, is Pte. W. J. (Bill) Holman, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Holman, 176 Lock street. Enlisting in 1942, he went over to England in January of this year. Before joining up, Pte. Holman was employed at Adamson and Dobbin. A sister, Pte. Marie Holman, C.W.A.C., is an ambulance and truck driver stationed at Kingston.

Soldier Driver Bailed For Trial

Pte. Maurice Lafave, a Peterborough soldier in training at St. John's, N.B., was bailed for trial at the next General Sessions of the Peace in police court this morning after a preliminary inquiry before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., on a charge of reckless driving.

Bail was fixed at $3,000.

The charge arose out of a fatal accident at Braidwood avenue and Park street, North Monaghan, on the night of September 10 when Thomas E. Ritchie, 21, rider of a motor cycle was hurt so badly in a collision with an automobile that he died in hospital several hours later.

Lafave who was defended by W. J. Arthur Fair today, elected trial by a higher court and pleaded not guilty.

Constable Testifies

Constable W. A. Clarke of the Peterborough police department who investigated the accident said that on his arrival he had found a motor cycle lying on Park street six feet from the west curb and three feet north of the intersection of Braidwood avenue and a motor car which Lafave admitted he had been driving on the south side of Braidwood 15 feet from the intersection. There was a skid mark, the officer said, from the motor cycle to a point 43 feet south.

The witness produced a piece of broken wire which he said he had found in the motor cycle lamp and said that in his opinion the light on the motor cycle could not have been burning.

The motor cycle had been travelling north on Park street and the automobile south on the same street and turning into Braidwood.

Officer Clarke said that from his experience as a motor cycle rider the rider of the motor cycle had been leaning toward the right instead of toward the left before the collision, as he should have been if he saw the automobile coming south and making the turn.

Doubt Respondsibility

As a result of your investigation have you some doubt as to whether the accused was responsible in any way for this accident?" asked Mr. Fair.

"I have very grave doubt," replied the witness.

Magistrate Langley called the attention of Officer Clarke to the section requiring drivers of automobiles proposing to make a left turn to be sure that the move could be made in safety and the witness said that he was assuming that the light on the motor cycle was not burning and the motorist therefore did not see the cycle coming.

Majorie Miles, 18, who was a pillion passenger on the motor cycle at the time of the accident and was badly hurt told the court that she could remember very little about the accident. She said she remembered riding up Park street and that the light on the motor cycle was on but said she could not recall seeing the automobile coming or the crash. The first thing she remembered was lying on the road and hearing some people talk.

Heard Crash

Melville Byers, Rose avenue said that he heard brakes squealling and a crash and had rushed across a field to the scene of the accident. He said that Lafave drove his car from the intersection and stopped on the south side of Braidwood avenue just as he got there.

Provincial Constable Price Morris identified photographs of the soene.

Lafave said that he had no statement to make and the defence announced it would call no evidence.

Magistrate Langley said that in view of the section requiring drivers to be sure that the move could be made in safety before making a left turn there should either be a committal or bailment for trial.

The latter course was followed when Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., said that he would agree to the accused being bailed.

Agnes Macphail To Visit Riding

Agnes Macphail, M.P.P., Member for York E., scheduled to address the public over CHEX on Thursday, Sept. 21, 7.15 to 7.30 p.m. She will also address public meeting at Lakehurst, Thursday, Sept. 21, 8.30 p.m., and at Keene Town Hall, Friday, Sept. 22, 8.15 p.m.

Miss Macphail has 19 years of legislative experience. She has been a member of the United Farmers of Ontario for 25 years and is still a director of the U.F.O. German 88's Killed Paratrooper K. Nice Shrapnel from German 88's at Roquan Court seriously wounded Paratrooper Kenneth Nice, who died shortly after, Lieut. J. D. Kidd, platoon officer, wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Nice, 581 Douglas avenue.

The letter written from France, September 5, reads:

"I am sorry to write to you about your recent bereavement. Ken was in my platoon in England and remained in it till he met his death.

"Your son was killed as we passed over the high ground at Roquan Court. Mitchell was also injured at the same time. You have probably heard him refer to "Mitch" in his letters. The Germans opened up on us with 88's and shrapnel hit both boys. Your son was hit in a more vital spot and died shortly after. The other boy is still in England."

Paratrooper Nice was attached to the Toronto Scottish Regiment and Lt.-Col. E. G. Johnson, officer commanding, wrote September ', expressing his regret at this soldier's untimely death.

"Your son was seriously wounded in action August 8, and we have since been advised of his death. He was popular with his comrades and was always a willing and cheerful soldier. He will be sadly missed by us all. I know I express the feelings of all of us, officers and men alike, when I say, we all feel very deeply for you in your great loss."

20-Pound Muskie Gives Heavy Battle

An element of mystery is wrapped around a beautiful 20-pound muskie caught by Roy Hutchinson, 305 Rubidge street, while trolling on Lake Chemong, over the week-end. The fisherman, who claims he has spent many months looking for a good place to catch the big ones, laughingly refuses to divulge the location, and Dr. H. J. Long, 561 Reid street, who chanced to be fishing at the same time, in another boat, also amusedly remains silent as to the whereabouts.

Between the two fishing parties, five lunge were lured to bite, two got away, and three were hauled to shore for the admiring spectators to sigh over.

"Just a stroke of pure luck," is the way Mr. Hutchinson, whose brother, Bruce, was with him at the time, talks, when quizzed about it. Reliable sources say it's the biggest fish ever caught by him, and according to the same sources, it will be mounted in the near future, so that the coming generations of Hutchinsons can look at it, and boast, "Roy actually caught that one!

"But you should have seen the one that got away," Mr. Hutchinson told this reporter enthusiastically. As usual, the one that got away was a big bounder, that managed to completely straighten the hook before making its "get-away."

Got One Too

Dr. Long, not to be left out entirely, then volunteers with the story of how he hooked a muskie, too,.—not quite as large as the Hutchinson effort, but nine pounds of fish in any man's language! However, the well-known dentist doesn't proceed with the tale very far, before referring the interested reported to Mr. Hutchinson again, who it appears, also snagged a nine-pounder,...and right on the heels of the larger fish!

Ernie Payne, who has been fishing with Hutchinson for many years, during which span nothing larger than 15 pounds has been caught, said it was a mere coincidence that he wasn't at the scene for the fishing party!

"Now as I understand it," he told us, "there is a story behind the story of that big lunge. After getting it firmly gaffed, Roy stood up in the boat, and held the fish until it's head reached up to his neck. Then, without any warning, of course, the fish gave a lurch, giving Roy no mean bump, that started Doc Long, in the other boat, to shouting instructions what to do when a boat overturns. The fish was bleeding quite profusely, and by the time everything was over, Roy looked like he had come through some gory battle, rather than a fishing bout. Then, to top things off, his pleasure at snaring the big fish must have been dulled considerably when he tried to club it, and the oar blade came smacko, ...right down on his ankle and shin. So he jumped around again, and Dr. Long started his shouting about what to do if the boat capsizes, again. The way I heard it,...it was some fun. I sure wish I had been there!"

Meanwhile, rumor has it that Roy is making the rounds, showing friends the huge result of the battle at Chemong. When he caught it, he was using spoon bait.

All in all, it looks like a very successful afternoon, but if you should ask either man where they went to catch 'em,...you'll just get a blank look, and a negative answer.

GRAND BANKS FISHERMEN

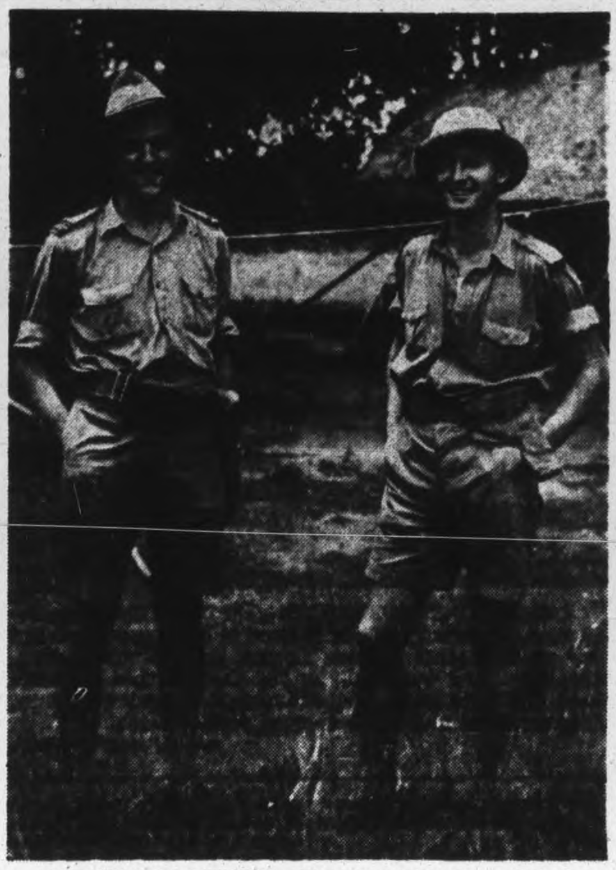
War—4 Years Ago

By The Canadian Press

Sept. 20, 1940—Announced six U.S. destroyers to be commissioned as Canadian ships and manned by 800 Canadians. British Admiralty announced sinking of a 10,000-ton German destroyer. British Mediterranean Fleet bombarded Italian points along Libyan and Egyptian coasts.

WOUNDED SECOND TIME — For the second time in two months, Gnr. Johnnie Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Taylor, Curve Lake, has been reported wounded while serving with the R.C.A. in France. His latest wound was from a bomb fragment in his left side, and his August 14 injury was in his left shoulder. He has been overseas for more than two years, and a brother is in Scotland with the Forestry.



SERVING TOGETHER—They are both from Peterborough, and were at Collegiate together. They went to the same wireless school, No. 4 at Guelph, were at No. 7 Bombing and Gunnery School together at Paulson, Man., and were staff wireless operators at No. GRS Summerside, P.E.I. After O.T.U. at Debert, N.S., they went overseas in January of this year. Starving Mothers And Babies Are Saved By Miss Clark And Staff

By BARBARA WILFORD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 20—(CP).—Miss Greta Clark, Church of England missionary to China, is back in Toronto five months after she received warning from British authorities to leave an unnamed Chinese city because of danger of a Japanese attack. Born on a farm in Peterborough county, Miss Clark was last in Canada six years ago.

In China since 1919 with the exception of furloughs, she carried on her work in Honan Province despite the "worst famine in history" and frequent bombings. For four years she was only 10 miles from the actual firing lines.

"I was reported missing and my friends believed I had been shot," Miss Clark said in an interview here today as she told of her escape from behind Japanese lines. With the help of two Chinese boys, and despite constant disappointments Miss Clark succeeded in reaching Chungking, went from there to India where, after two months' wait, she boarded an American troop ship. She arrived in Toronto Monday.

Ate Elm Bark.

She told of conditions during the fall and winter of 1942, when the starving Chinese had to resort to powdered elm bark and peanut shells for sustenance.

"It wasn't till newspapermen saw the conditions for themselves and wrote about them in the papers at home that we were able to get enough money to start constructive work on a large scale," she said.

Assisted by five Chinese women, Miss Clark attacked the problem of rescuing children dying in the streets where starving mothers had abandoned them. Soup kitchens were established to which mothers with nursing babies could bring all their children. Meals were served to 150 mothers and children daily. Babies horribly misshapen because of improper diet responded miraculously to proper foods, and within even two or three days were scarcely recognizable.

In an attempt to hold families together, each mother was given 400 Chinese dollars a month—about $15 in Canadian money, which was enough to feed her baby and herself.

Formed Child Centre.

Miss Clark formed a child centre to which were brought babies whose relatives could not be traced. Of the 57 children cared for at the centre, homes were found for 26. A staff of 20 did all the work and made the centre self-sufficient. They ground their own flour, spun and wove their own cloth.

In order to combat ignorance among mothers some of whom actually mal-treated their children, Miss Clark conducted a class in child psychology.

They augmented the meagre supply of goat's milk with soya-bean milk, which Miss Clark says has the same food value as cow's milk.

"During my last six months there were no cases of serious illness—not even a cold," Miss Clark said proudly.

Pte. Wm. Trick Is Wounded

In France since the first hours of D-Day, Pte. William J. Trick, whose wife lives at 344 Aylmer street, has been wounded in action while serving with the Highland Light Infantry Regiment, September 6, and is now in a hospital, according to information reaching his wife Tuesday.

A letter received by Mrs. Trick, formerly Edith V. Drain, and at present a member of The Examiner mailing department, told of the young soldier passing through villages and towns utterly undamaged by war.

Pte. Trick is from Millbrook, and before enlisting in November, 1942, worked in a bakery shop there. He went overseas in May, 1943, and remained in England until June 6, this year, when he landed in France. Pte. Trick, who is 22 years of age, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Trick, of Millbrook.

Four days ago a brother, Pte. Mervin Trick, was reported slightly wounded in France where he was on duty as a stretcher-bearer. Another brother, Gordon, is in Italy. The father of the boys, Herb. Trick, is a veteran of the First World War.

100 Sea Cadets Enjoy Evening at YMCA Pool

The biggest crowd of boys and young men in the history of the "Y" Swimming Pool packed the pool Tuesday night when the Sea Cadets paraded to the Y.M.C.A. to enjoy an evening as guests of the Association. One hundred cadets were on hand with their officers who directed the program under the direction of Lieutenant J. T. Wolstenholme.

The following races were run off and were keenly contested 15 years and under, 16 years and under, 60 yards, open, back stroke and toe race.

Restore Lights On Main Street

The lighting of main street store signs and display windows is likely to be restored to full candle power on a permissive order from Hydro-Electric Commission, according to the expectation of Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the Utilities Commission.

London has been emerging from its wartime darkness of blackouts, and Peterborough's slightly dimmed lights will be raised again all over the city as the emergent demand on Hydro power for war industries, especially in their night-working overtime, gradually diminishes.

All the street lights, which were reduced in candle power when the Utilities Commission complied with the electricity saving order, will be changed to their former glow with resubstitution of the lamps that were removed.

"We are advising merchants that power will soon be available, that they will be able to turn on their signs again, and that they should have them examined and, if necessary, repaired," Mr. Dobbin said.

This means, too, that verandah and porch lights will return to the neighborhood nights. Even the chairman of the Utilities Commission may use his porch light again at the Matthews' residence.

$345 Required To Complete Next Donation

When a task is well under way and nearing the completion stage, all people most interested in the project at hand, no matter what its form or shape may be, begin to look forward to the time of its consummation, and when the project is one from which a great deal of good can emanate for a large number of people, this looking forward should have the effect of spurring all so interested to increased effort where possible.

For the 31st time, the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund, representative of all the residents in this city and district is nearing the completion of another objective to assist the victims of robot bomb attacks over Britain, for which purpose a further $345.00 is needed in order to cable this over to the Lord Mayor of London, which with the assistance of all who have the welfare of this humanitarian project at heart, it is hoped to be able to complete in as short a time as possible.

After operating for over three and a half years, it is quite possible that many may have lost sight of the fact that every cent contributed goes for the purpose that it is given, made possible to a large extent because day after day one individual has given freely of his time, the extent of which very few are really aware of, in order to assist the worthy cause for which the fund operates.

Up to the minute reports tell of robot ombs again making attacks on London and South-eastern Counties of England for the past four nights in a row, emphasing that this day by day effort must continue, and, coupled with the manner in which this fund has been and is conducted, should serve as further inspiration to a further sacrifice until the need no longer exists.

When this next donation is completed, the fund will have sent the splendid sum of £18,000, something that was totally undreamed of when it first began operations, which might possibly yet extend itself to an amount of £20,000 by the time it has fulfilled its mission of mercy and closed the books.

Penny Boxes at Keene

Two penny boxes at Keene have from time to time been reported as giving assistance to the fund, these being located at the Bank of Toronto, and the G. S. Taylor General Store, which once again have added $1.32 and $3.26 respectively through D. D. Brown, who represents the fund in that district. The box in the Examiner office also adds another $1. to its previous record.

An aftermath of an effort near the close of the summer recess from school duties by Jessie Forsythe and Joan Parnell is to be found with a further $3.00 to their credit, winding up a small draw for a prize donated for that purpose, which went to Peter Vallee of 48 Lansdowne St. when the secretary of the fund drew ticket No. 778 with his name inscribed thereon.

Bible Society Canvass Begins In September

The annual canvass in the interests of the Bible Society has been planned for the last part of the month and the early part of October. The women of the churches of the city are undertaking this important work as they have done in the past. All canvassers will carry the official canvasser's book and friends of this work are asked to receive them sympathetically.

The work of all the missionary societies would be almost impossible without the assistance given by the providing of the Scriptures in the native tongues in the different countries in which they serve.

REPORTED MISSING — Flt.-Sgt. Morley ("Mike") Nelson, who is reported missing after twenty-two flights over enemy territory. He is the eldest son of Mrs. A. J. Nelson and the late Mr. A. J. Nelson of Hastings.

PARATROOPER WOUNDED — Sgt. Anthony Schiarizza, who is serving with paratroopers in Italy, has been wounded a second time, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Schiarizza, have been potified.

A. Schiarizza Wounded In Eye

Sgt. Anthony Schiarizza, who has been wounded a second time in Italy, received an eye injury, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Schiarizza, 562 Bethune street.

In a letter written August 26, Sgt. Schiarizza's nurse said that he was in hospital with an eye wound, and his family are waiting for further information. He was serving with the First Special Service Force with the 5th Army, and he was first wounded while fighting at the Anzio Beachhead.

The paratrooper was one of fifteen men to volunteer for paratroop work and he won his wings at Helena, Montana. He was educated at St. Peter's School and the Collegiate and Vocational School, and worked at the De Laval prior to enlisting with the Prince of Wales Rangers in March, 1942.

Drunken Driver Given 10 Days

Michael Fitzgerald, 36, Combermere, Renfrew county, was sentenced to ten days in jail when he pleaded guilty in police court this morning to a charge of drunken driving.

His car was ordered impounded for three months.

On a second charge of having liquor in a place other than a residence, Fitzgerald was fined $25 and $4 costs.

The charges were laid by Chief Garnet Samis of Lakefield, who arrested the Combermere man in Lakefield Tuesday night.

The court was informed that there had been no accident but that Fitzgerald was very drunk. "He thought he was in Belleville," Chief Samis stated.

At Tuesday afternoon's session George Sharpe, who is at present under sentence at Belleville, and was brought here to stand trial, was convicted on a charge of attempted abortion and was sentenced by Magistrate Langley to four months definite and two months indeterminate in the Ontario Reformatory to run at the expiration of the six months Belleville sentence. It was stated that Sharpe, who was in the army for a couple of years, but is now discharged, hailed originally from the Hastings district, although he had been living at Trenton and elsewhere.

On charges of assaulting Rodney McNaughton, a beverage room waiter at South Beach, Royal Clark, Peterborough, and Donald A. Pearson, Toronto, were fined $25 and $3.25 costs each, and on a second count of having liquor in a place other than a residence, were each assessed an additional $15 and $12.50 costs.

McNaughton swore than he was assaulted without any provocation. Pearson told the court that the affair would not have happened if they had not been drinking.

No Holiday Feeling

Canberra, Australia, Sept. 20 (CP)

PREPARATIONS for a celebration of victory day in the war in Europe drew from Prime Minister Curtin today the comment: "I'll feel a sense of relief when Germany surrenders, but no holiday feeling, for each day lost will mean a day's gain to Japan."

"It is utterly wrong to believe the war will cease when Germany finally surrenders. Greater Allied strength in the Pacific will impose greater stresses on Australia."

Youth Rally To Promote Memorial Centre

The children of Peterborough, whose health and recreation were foremost factors in the development of the idea of a Memorial Community Centre, will hold a youth rally of their own Friday night in support of the project whose future will be decided by the end of the month.

It will take the form of a masquerade torchlight with four marching columns converging on Riverside Bowl for children between the ages of 10 and 18, spearheaded by the city's finest bands. It is hoped that thousands of children will participate, dressed in any funny kind of costume their imanginations may suggest."

The chant of the marching columns, sung to the tune of "The Farmer In The Dell," will be as follows: "We want a memorial hall, we want a community hall; Help roll the dollars in, and we'll get a community hall." By the time the youngsters have had their march and had their fun, it is hoped that every single soul in Peterborough will be aware of the campaign and sharply impressed by the intimate connection between the idea of a community centre and the youth of that community which it will serve.

Present Prizes.

Prizes are to be awarded the best costumes, the best decorated bicycles and wagons, and for the most ingenious and spirited placards with slogans promoting erection of the centre. The three best girls' costumes, the three best boy's costumes, the three best decorated vehicles and the three most eye-catching placards will all receive awards.

To publicize the event, teachers in the schools have been requested to take the matter up with their pupils, and announcements over the radio will supplement the coming rally's getting around by word of mouth.

Assembly hour for the paraders is at 7:30 p.m. Friday; and the four armies of kiddies will start off to Riverside Bowl promptly at eight o'clock. Though parents may accompany the parade, they must stay on the sidelines and not themselves take part in the march. Martialled by the police, spearheaded by the bands and watched over and encouraged on their way by city service clubs, the children will be urged to enjoy themselves to the utmost.

Four Parades.

The Sea Cadets and the Kiwanis Club will head one of the parades, that leaving from in front of the Canada Packers; the Air Cadets and Rotary will form at the Armouries; the Girl Guides and Lions Club will march east from Charlotte and Downie streets; and the Boy Scouts and Kinsmen, united with the Bugle Band of the Prince of Wales Rangers will come down from Armour Hill to the Bowl. Children are asked to go to the nearest martialling centre in order that the parades may be of approximately equal size.

Added features will include floats and banners and such vehicles as may be got ready in time, and fire trucks will take their place in the parade. There will also be a gigantic bonfire set on Armour Hill by members of the Fire Department.

A continuous program of music will be provided at the Bowl, with the Salvation Army Band there at the beginning to start this program. As each marching column nears the field, its band will take over, to give over in turn to the next parade that arrives. There will be motion pictures and lots of entertainment for the kiddies when they get to the spot.

Mayor Hamilton and J. A. Jebson will speak from the platform, with Andy Rutter serving as master of ceremonies. Joe Gaskell has been appointed parade marshall.

The boys and girls can dress their pets up and bring them along; come as cowboys, blacken their faces and wear any crazy costume that appeals to them; make all the noise they can, have all the fun they know how.

457,000 NAZI PRISONERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Since D-Day, Allied armies in Western Europe have taken more than 457,000 German prisoners, the BBC reported to-day in a broadcast recorded by CBS.

SMITH TOWNSHIP

Junior League Begins Fall Activities

The first Fall meeting of the Catholic Junior League was held Monday evening in the K. of C. rooms. Miss G. Costello, president, was in the chair. Reports were presented by the treasurer, Mrs. J. Brady, and membershp convener, Miss L. Hickey.

A complete report on Junior's Day at the 24th National Convention of the Catholic Women's League, held in London last June, was submitted by Miss C. Corkery and read by Miss V. Scollard. The activities of Junior's Day commenced with the celebration of Mass for all men and women in the Armed Forces. Papers were read by Junior members, including one on "Privileges and Duties of the Canadian Catholic Women of Today" by Miss G. Costello. The National convener of Juniors made special mention of the successful inaugural year of the Peterborough Division. Emphasis was stressed on the Juniors continuing their Study Clubs, Knitting for the Armed Forces, Red Cross work and assistance to the Merchant Marine, which cause the C.W.L. adopted at the outbreak of the War.

At luncheon, Most Rev. P. Pocock spoke on "Home and Sex Education" while John Hearne, High Commissioner from Ireland, addressed the dinner assembly. Paul Martin, K.C., Parliamentary Assistant to Labor Minister Mitchell, brought greetings from Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Bishop Ryan, Hamilton, was appointed District National Chaplain, and a cheque for $1,000 was sent to His Holiness Pope Pius XII for his relief fund for refugees.

Miss H. Sullivan, Education convener, reported that places would be kept in classes offered at night school at the Collegiate, for any boys or girls the Junior League wished to send them. Miss Sullivan also gave a short instructive talk on "Regulations for Juniors." This is the first in a series of instructions on Constitutional Laws of the C.W.L.

Plan Rummage Sale

It was decided to hold a Rummage Sale on October 21, proceeds to go to the Social Service Committee. Miss H. Burke was appointed convener for the Telephone Bridge which will take place on November 14. A donation of $10 was voted for the Recreation and Health Centre. Miss L. Hickey was appointed delegate to the Diocesan Convention of the C.W.L. in Lindsay on September 27, and Misses G. Costello, H. Sullivan and M. Hurtubise were named to form a Resolution to be sent to the convention.

The president, on behalf of Rev. Dr. Grant, chaplain at the Training Centre, thanked all members, and in particular Misses G. Perdue, A. Donoghue and Mrs. J. White, for their interest and work in connection with the Catholic Auxiliary Service Club.

Miss D. Strickland introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss L. Hurley, president of St. Peter's Division of the Catholic Women's League, who gave an inspiring talk on the constitution and work of the C.W.L. Miss Hurley paid tribute to the success of the Junior League under the leadership of the president, Miss Costello.

The following new members were installed: Misses Eleanor Collins, Bernadette Meagher, Vivian Sullivan, Alice Krom, Eleanor Sheehy and Catherine McTeague.

Home and School Plans Conference

Plans for the proposed regional conference of Home and School Associations to be held in Peterborough on Tuesday, October 17, were discussed at a special meeting of the executive of the Home and School Council, and presidents of the Home and School Associations, Monday evening in the Y. W. C. A. Speakers at the conference, to be held in Murray Street Baptist Church beginning at 2 p.m. will include members of the Ontario Federation of Home and Schools, and Miss W. Ashplant, Health Counsellor of London's secondary schools.

The Association's annual church service will be held Sunday, November 5, in Trinity United Church, as the week beginning Monday, November 6, is Education Week. Members were informed that bus service to and from the Church had been arranged. It was decided to hold a rummage sale on Tuesday morning, September 26. The store will be open Monday afternoon to receive donations. Discussion following the readig of a letter from the Peterborough Memorial Cmmunity Centre brought the meeting to a close.

Kinette Officer Honored By Club

Mrs. J. A. Nornabell, Charles street, was hostess for the regular meeting of the Peterborough Kinettes Tuesday evening, when the resignation of Mrs. J. A. MacDonald, the secretary, who is leaving to make her home in Nova Scotia, was regretfully accepted. Mrs. M. Holt, president, thanked Mrs. MacDonald for her service to the Kinettes as secretary for the past two years, and presented her with a parting gift, on behalf of the members of the club. Mrs. J. M. King was asked to fill this vacancy for the remainder of the term.

Attention of the members was brought to the fact that five Milk for Britain Bottles were stolen during the summer months, three from Mason's, one from Deyell's and one from Lynch's. Mrs. W. Gordon, the Milk for Britain convener, urged members to make their collections more frequently. Successful results of the recent fashion show sponsored by the Kinettes were announced, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. J. V. Elliott and Mrs. N. Elliott and committee for their work.

Mrs. A. Sollitt, Mrs. N. Elliott and Mrs. V. Selkirk were named as a committee to supervise plans for a rummage sale, planned for Friday, September 29, in the vacant store opposite Hood and Cummings Motors, on George street. Two new members, Mrs. B. Baker and Mrs. A. Bourne, were welcomed into the Club. Mrs. R. Latimer, 681 Reid street, will be hostess for the next meeting. Mrs. M. Holt presided.

Gun-Toting Soviet Gals Like Frills

By ADELAIDE KERR,
Associated Press Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20. — (CP). — A woman's life in Russia would give you some surprises.

Rowena Meyer, back home in American after nine years' teaching and broadcasting in the Soviet, notes these, for instance:

"People are always asking me whether Russian women soldiers who have served with men at the front have not lost their femininity," she says. "In Russia we never thought of such a thing. In the beauty parlor where I went I often used to see rifles stacked in the corner and I knew that the soldiers

Mission Circle Discusses Jesus Mininstry

Miss Gladys Langton, Simcoe street, was hostess Monday night to the Jean Wagar Mission Circle.

"The Great Physician" was the theme of the opening worship service. The call to worship was a poem "The Glory of the Lord" read by Miss Langton, who led the service. Mrs. D. Sedgwick read the Scripture from the 5th chapter of St. Mark's Gospel, on the healing ministry of Jesus. Silent prayer was offered for the medical missionaries and those who serve in hospitals. The women were led in a brief period of meditation by Miss Langton. This was followed by a solo by Miss Geneva Sedgwick, "I'll Go Anywhere." Miss Jessie Martin received the offering, which was dedicated by Miss Langton.

Miss Constance Wagar outlined the story "As a sharpened tool," telling of the conversion of an African boy. She concluded the study for the year with a poem, "Master Speak."

The business included a report on Christian Stewardship by Miss Martin. Miss Helen Moncrief was appointed Assistant Community Friendship secretary, the department which is being stressed in the Circle this year. Plans were made for the October meeting, with Mrs. Cyril Davis convener, and detailed arrangements were completed for the Circle's share in the Fall Rally, to be held in St. Andrew's church, September 25.

"An evening at the W.M.S. School for Leaders, Whitby," was the interesting story told by Mrs. George Martin, one of the group of six members who visited the school. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee, Miss Langton, Mrs. Sedgwick and Miss Sedgwick.

Mrs. G. Adams Band Speaker

Mrs. Gordon Adams was guest speaker at the first meeting for the fall season of George Street Baby Band Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. D. Tucker, Aberdeen avenue. Mrs. Adams, a delegate to the School for Leaders held at the Ontario Ladies' College at Whitby during the last week of August, outlined the program followed during the four-day session, and touched on the addresses given by various leaders. She said that it was heartening to learn that there were 7,822 W.M.S. organizations throughout Canada, and praised the work of the School for Leaders, as an inspiration to all.

Mrs. L. D. Gilmour read a short article entitled "Our Duty To Our Neighbors." The devotional period was taken by Mrs. F. J. Rowe, who read the Scripture, and Mrs. W. H. Frise, who led in prayer. Mrs. W. H. Morton introduced the speaker, and the vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Frise. Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee.

Queen Alex. Defeats Queen Mary 2-1

The opening game of the local Public School soccer took place Tuesday afternoon at Riverside Park when Queen Mary was defeated two goals to one by Queen Alexandra in a league fixture. Dracup scored the winners' two goals, while Grafstein tallied for the losers.

First Half

Queen Mary won the toss and selected the east goal with the sun in their eyes. Early stages proved interesting as both elevens endeavored to get an opening. Bradley and Grafstein of Queen Mary tested the Queen Alexandra from all angles. After ten minutes of play the Northenders carried a series of attacks that resulted in Dracup scoring two smart goals in quick succession. Before the interval the losers bombarded the winners' goal, but found the defence conceding no privileges. Half time: Queen Alexandra 2, Queen Mary 0.

Second Half

On resuming exchanges continued even with the half-backs confining the play to mid-field that resulted in an occasional breakaway. Both goals were visited in rotation, but finally Queen Alexandra eleven reverted to defensive tactics to hold their small lead, but had to concede a smart goal by Grafstein when he tallied from a poor clearance by opposition goalie. Thereafter it was a battle of keen tactics by Queen Mary in an endeavor to get the equalizer that compelled the winners to kick to touch to save their goal from downfall. Queen Alexandra 2, Queen Mary 1.

The teams:

Queen Mary—A. Archibald, goal; D Gray and R. Butcher, full-backs; L. Payne, S. Murphy and K. Goodfellow, halves; H. Grafstein, H. Bradley, J. Nichols, P. Russel and T. Taylor, forwards; subs, K. Gordon and R. Barnsley.

Queen Alexandra—M. Courneya, goal; C. Nolan and B. Zahurk, full-backs; H. Anderson, V. Rogers and G. Woods, half-backs; B. Simmonds, J. Nicholls, G. Dracup, L. Gaskill, H. Johnston, forwards.

Referee—Stroyan Leith.

Aircraft Beats Westclox In Exhibition

Behind smooth hurling by Norma Strickland, Aircraft defeated Westclox 3 to 2 in an exhibition game at Riverside Park Tuesday evening, designed to put the Westclox crew in shape for their battle with Stratford Saturday afternoon.

In order to tune up for the big game, Tommy Bullock pitched four innings for the Westclockers, allowing only one hit, and no runs. Five were struck-out by the ace Westclox pitcher, and three were walked. Then in the fifth, Joyce Withers took her turn at warming up, and in the two innings she pitched, three of the four Aircraft hits were smacked, and three runs crossed the plate.

Aircraft relied on Norma Strickland to win the game, fanning 8, allowing only 3 hits, and walking 2.

Of the three Westclox hits Marjorie Hawthorne's three-base smackeroo in the fourth frame was the highlight. Tommy Bullock and Nona Whetung completed the other two blows. For the Aircrafters, Norma Strickland, Marg. Selkirk, Pat Wilson, and Marg. Barrie made the four hits.

Westclox started the scoring in the fourth inning, when one run was chased in. Then, in the sixth, Nona Whetung completed a run on a hit and two errors. Aircraft scored first in the fifth, when Audrey Patterson sacrificed to score Evelyn Rehill. Two more runs came in for the Aircrafters in the sixth frame, made on three hits and one error.

The teams:

Aircraft—Irma Perdue ss, Audrey Patterson 2b, Norma Strickland p, Eleanor Craig c, Marg. Selkirk 3b, Pat Wilson 1b, Marg. Barrie cf, Evelyn Rehill lf, Olive Hanwell rf.

Westclox: Aggie Anderson cf, Viola McLean ss, Nona Whetung 1b, Marjorie Hawthorne 3b, Tommy Bullock rf, c, Beryl Dobbin c, 2b, Barbara Rome lf, Jean Castle rf, c, Verna Patterson 2b, Joyce Withers 6.

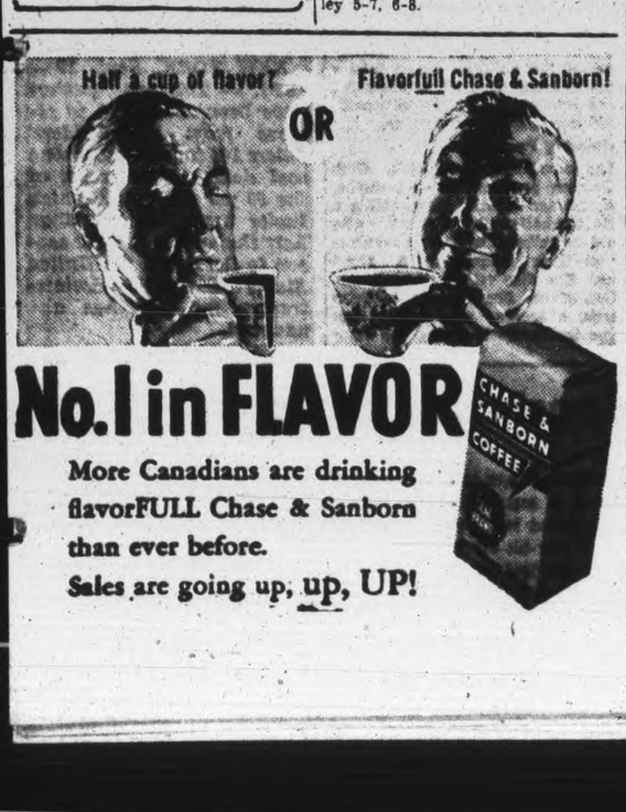
Dorothy Clysdale and Peggy Lawless defeated Olive Burnsley and Helen Williams 6-4, 2-6, 6-4.

George Scott and Andy Rutter defeated Henry Lowe and Al. Brown 6-1, 6-8, 6-4.

Roy Johnston and Walker Jones defeated Murray Heals and Al. Brown 6-1, 6-3.

Howie Macdonald and Bertha Wasson lost to Fred Punnett and Helen Williams 4-6, 2-6.

Jack Patte and Mary McPherson lost to Henry Lowe and Olive Burnsley 5-7, 6-8.



School Boys Need Tips To Play Soccer

At the request of the local Public School teachers the following instructions in the soccer code by the Rev. K. R. G. Hunt is well explained in his book on soccer, and will be of advantage to the local school players if they study the suggestions submitted herewith.

The Defence

Never allow your backs and halves to enter upon a game without a full understanding as to the plan of campaign.

Backs must never play "on a line" with one another—always one behind the other.

Big kicking is generally unnecessary, and frequently the only result is to give an opposing back an easy chance to return the ball.

A halfback is like a terrier; he must worry, worry, worry the opposing forwards from start to finish. But he must also nurse and feed his own forwards.

A back must never dribble; a halfback but seldom.

One back must always play close up to his halfback.

"Clear to the wings," outside right or outside left, is an excellent motto for every member of the defence.

The Attack

Dribble straight.

Never pass (a) for the mere sake of passing; (b) merely shift the responsibility of making a shot on to someone else.

Always pass well ahead, and, if possible, on the ground.

Always try and draw your man before passing.

Go straight; and remember that goals are your object.

Always follow up a long kick; even the most remote chances sometimes lead to goals.

When you get a good opportunity of a shot, use it, do not wait for a certainty.

Short Cuts To Success

Ivan Sharpe, in his "Short Cuts to Success," penned with a view to assisting young players to master the finer arts of soccer, says:

"Confident use of both feet is possibly the greatest accomplishment of all. It is of tremendous value in every position on the field; it gives an immense advantage over the boy who can use only the left or the right. There is less fun in kicking with the foot that needs breaking in, but for the hours spent in youth the future will abundantly repay. The natural right-foot player should take up a place on the left wing, forget all about the right foot, take a pass, dribble, and shoot with the left. Ignore the impulse to use the better foot. Concentrate on the other. If necessary, practice in one football boot—on the foot needing cultivation—and an everyday boot. Presevere until one foot is as easily used, on the day of the match, as the other. The result will be a revelation, whether the boy plays fullback, halfback, inside or outside forward. It is of value, even, to the goalkeeper at the moment when a clearance must be quick and true; it is an essential to a centre-forward. Every centre should be able to shoot without a pause of any kind, and this means that he must be ready instantaneously to fire at goal with either foot."

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, September 21

PARTICULARLY encouraging and promising are the astral prospects for this day, with all affairs, business and personal, reaching to happy and gratifying peak of achievement and ambition. In public affairs, employment, finance and investments there is assurance of safety and security. The latter may be most confidently sought with opportunity to put all the affairs upon a sound, enduring and safe foundation for future reaping. Elders may assist and should be generous in rewarding worthy efforts, industry and dependability.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which all their affairs and interests may be placed on a safe and sound foundation for future rewards and results in which elders, superiors and relatives may be found not only cooperative but generous with recognition and tangible support. Take care to consider these, and be wise and far-seeing in finances, investments even sound speculative enterprises. In business, professions and social or sentimental affilations work for future security progress and worthwhile enjoyments. Sign all writings and agreements with consideration.

A child born on this day should have many sound and sterling qualities fitting in for enduring and safe future gratifications and happiness. Those in places and power may be attracted by it shrewd and dependable character.

MANY GIRLS MARRYING CRAZY

Epidemic of Boy Nuptials Bound to End in Misery; Parents Powerless to Act.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Here is what my 18-year-old son writes me: "Dolly and I have kept company three months and she has asked me to marry her and take her back to Michigan with me. So don't be surprised if you see us driving up in my bright red Ford V-8."

When my son marries, I expect to help him, not hinder him, but I can see nothing but unhappiness for him if he marries while he is still just a kid, and I am writing him today begging him to wait a few years before taking on a family. If the girl wants to come to Michigan I would gladly give her the trip, provided she will wait for the boy to grow up. Is there anything I can do about the matter?

ANXIOUS MOTHER.

Nothing Masculine Safe Now

ANSWER—I am afraid not, because the girl is on the spot and you are far away, and it its hard enough to influence adolescents when you can throw in the personal appeal and a few tears, but it is almost impossible to do anything with them by remote control.

Maybe it is the man shortage that has the girls panicked. Maybe it is the dire prophecies that we hear on every hand that there won't be enough husbands to go around after the war that has made so many women marrying crazy. But, however it is, nothing masculine between the cradle and the grave is safe from the predatory females, seeking whom they may inveigle to the parson.

And so we are having this epidemic of boy marriages that are bound to end in misery for all concerned. And there is nothing that their parents can do to stop them. They have to stand helplessly by and see their little kids being sacrificed on the matrimonial altar.

Sometimes, as in this case, the girl is as young and ignorant as the boy. She is only marrying because all the other girls are doing it, and because she wants to take a bridal tour. Under such conditions the boy's mother is wise if she buys the girl a round trip ticket to New York or Hollywood or Florida or same other place she has been pining to go to, providing she goes alone.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl of 15, deeply in love with a boy of 16. My problem is this: My boy friend doesn't want me to go out with any other boys. If I do I will lose him to some other girl. But my mother doesn't think I should go out steady with him because we are both so young. What shall I do?

LYNN.

Too Young for Marriage

ANSWER—I think your mother is right. A girl of your age is silly to tie herself down to any one boy and get branded as Joe's girl or Tom's girl. You should keep yourself free to look them all over and find out what you really want in a boy friend.

You see, at your age your taste is always changing, just as your taste changes in clothes and hats and amusements. So the boy you were crazy about one year, you wouldn't have on a bet the next year. And, anyway, the boy is just as liable to get tired of you as you are of him, and when he walks off he leaves you flat. So the wise thing is to keep yourself in circulation. If you will notice, the boys always flock about the girl who has many dates. The one with no dates has no takers.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am in love with a married man and he is in love with me and wants to marry me, but his wife refuses him a divorce unless he will turn over to her half of everything he has, plus his business, and give her the custody of their child. She treats him terribly in every way, but he is afraid to make any move because he doesn't want to lose the child. What can we do?

ANSWER — Consult a good divorce lawyer. But if you wait a little while, the chances are that the woman will want to marry herself and will moderate her terms.

IN MEMORIAM

LOGAN—In loving memory of my dear husband, James Logan, who passed away ten years ago today.
Until the day breaks and shadows fall,
Love and remembrance outlasts all.
Mary Logan.

EVANS—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, who died at sea Sept. 20, 1943.
Somewhere in the North Atlantic
In a sailor's grave,
Lies our dear son among the brave.
He never shunned his country's call,
But gladly gave his life, his all,
He died the helpless to defend,
A faithful sailor's noble end.
—Ever remembered by father, brothers and sisters.

TODD—In loving memory of Bessie Todd, who passed away Sept. 20, 1943.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one laid to rest,
In memory's frame we will keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
—Sadly missed by her daughter Evalena and family.

favorite stepover toehold. He did catch him at it once and made him break the hold but a little later when Davis dropped the Russian with a rabbit punch and then swiftly applied the toehold the referee missed his use of the ropes and proceeded to count Rasputin out. The crowd objected vehemently but Davis took the fall and the match in spite of the uproar.

Kennedy Shows Class

John Katan substituted for Bob Wagner in the bout with Irish Jack Kennedy and the Panther probably wished before the half hour was over that the Strangler had been able to fill his engagement. Kennedy proved to be quite a wrestler, with a repertoire of smart holds and quick releases. He withstood the worst that Katan could fire at him in the early moments and that was plenty for Honest John treats them all alike. Then after weathering a series of hammerlocks and headlocks with the usual Katan punching tossed in Kennedy proceeded to move in and take over the bout. He used a sequence of scissor holds that had Katan looking like a pretzel and he kept on the attack with so much speed and cleverness that when the timer's bell signified the end of the half hour Referee Maxwell hoisted Irish Jack's arm as an indication that he had been awarded the decision despite the fact that there had been no fall scored.

Verne Baxter and Don Evans got the show away to a stormy start by staging a lively brawl to a draw after 30 minutes of give-and-take. Baxter started the fireworks with a series of roughhouse attacks on Evans that finally back-fired when he went to bang Evans' hand on the ring post and only succeeded in hurting his own. Evans immediately took advantage of that opportunity by going after the injured Baxter paw and the crowd got a great kick out of that. The Californian proved just as tough as Baxter and just as ready to mix and the result was the boys waded into each other at top speed, bringing them up from the floor, and firing all their guns. It was hard going and the honors were about even.

were in, having their facials and manicures, while they were on leave. I knew I would not get my manicure that day, because soldiers always get preference in any appointment.

"There were all kinds of women among those soldiers, from grandmothers to young bleached blonds, who came in to have their eyelashes and eyebrows touched up. I used to talk to them in the shop— They just regarded their jobs as something that must be done— and done as quickly as possible.

"They wore the regular uniform— blue skirt and khaki blouse. But they loved pretty clothes and all the little accessories. All Russian women do. They are starved for those things because everything has had to go to the war effort. Everything I wore from America was always noticed and commented on—even by the men.

Parasol Stopped Traffic.

"Once in Batumi I was carrying a bright figured parasol and bag from America. I was just ready to cross the street when the policeman blew a sharp blast at me and I couldn't understand, so I called—in fear and trembling— out to ask him what I had done wrong.

"I just wanted to tell you I like your umbrella," he yelled. Then he blew his whistle and traffic moved on."

Miss Meyer, a Brooklyn-born commercial artist, went to Russia in 1934, after the depression swept away her job. She gave private English lessons in Moscow for a time, later broadcast in English in Khabarovsk and finally taught at the First Moscow State Pedagogical Institute of Foreign Languages. Miss Meyer was in Moscow during the siege of 1941. She returned to this country several months ago and has made a series of lectures under the auspices of the Russian War Relief.

Russian women have really achieved equality," she said in conclusion. "They do equal work for equal pay and you never hear their brain capacity questioned. Moreover there are no burlesque and no cheese-cake pictures exploiting women in Russia.

"Very few women are servants. Women are encouraged to do better work. So most women have to do their own housework. Of course apartments in Moscow are small, due to the housing shortage— two rooms to a family of four. So there is not so much work to do. Because the wife works, the husband often helps with the housework and the marketing. You will often see men arguing with the butcher. Children are often kept at nurseries while their mothers work, but many come home at night. There is a warm close-knit family feeling."

1,167 Visits In Summer Made By Children's Aid

One hundred and seventy-three cases reported to the office, with 1,1667 visits, 407 office interviews, showed a full summer's work, in the superintendent's report for June, July, and August, submitted at the regular meeting of the Children's Aid Society Tuesday afternoon by Miss Rachael Young.

Nine children were placed in foster homes for the first time, and seven placed from one foster home to another, with one child returned to the Shelter. Miss Young said that the work of securing the right foster home took many hours of time, but the effort was worth while, since only one placement made during the summer had not worked out well.

The problem of juvenile delinquency was again discussed by Miss Young, who told of two interesting experiments described in a recent publication. The first, at Victoria, B. C., was begun when a younger teenage group asked for evening recreation, which was arranged with the co-operation of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s, School Board, Parents' and Teachers' Associations, Churches, Parks Committee and interested citizens, proving to be overwhelmingly popular.

The other experiment was in a school at Winnipeg, where Friday afternoon was devoted to interest groups, in which 500 pupils from 12 to 16 years of age took part, with the program being carried on during the summer months as well. Miss Young said that this plan, aimed to combat juvenile delinquency such as school discipline and truancy, seemed to be a constructive idea. She felt that one of the most interesting factors was that the purpose of forming the group was not expressed as a project to "combat juvenile delinquency," but was formed between teachers and pupils simply as something of value and interest. More and more, she continued, it was felt that with the emphasis being put on "juvenile delinquency" some of the children would take a pride in being "J. D's", whereas definite constructive action to provide recreation was of more value.

Swimming Pool Helps.

She mentioned the Lion's Club swimming pool and its help during the summer months in providing a little recreation for mothers who could be relieved of the responsibility of their children for a short time. She also voiced the appreciation of the Society to Miss Betty Curtis, a teacher who was at her home in Havelock during the summer and who volunteered her services during the holidays.

Mrs. J. R. Marshall, in her report for the sewing committee, listed several donations from interested women and women's groups, and expressed the Society's thanks for the much-needed articles. Donations were received from the following: Miss O. Haskill, Mrs. F. Hills, Mrs. R. Thompson, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. J. Comstock, Mrs. M. T. Breckenridge, Mrs. J. McIntyre, Mrs. J. J. Craig, Mrs. James, Mrs. P. L. Smith, Mrs. J. H. Hawkins, Mrs. E. Mesley, Mrs. Percy Gerow, Mrs. Jack Sinclair, Mrs. J. McKerchar, and St. Paul's Sunshine Group, the North End Group, per Mrs. G. G. Kingdon, and the Living Link Mission Circle of Trinity Church. Sewers, Mrs. M. T. Breckenridge and Mrs. J. R. Marshall mended 85 articles, and 11 pairs of hosiery, one new sweater and two new scarves were received.

Make Donations.

Donations were also acknowledged in the Shelter report, from Mrs. J. R. Marshall, Mrs. M. T. Breckenridge, Mrs. Chesler, the Navy, Army and Air Force Auxiliaries, Dinty's Inn and St. Paul's Church. Eight children were reported in the Shelter on September 1. Thirty-three different children were in the Shelter during the summer, and 25 had gone out during the summer. Two children attended Y camp and all Shelter children were entertained at the Johnson Motors picnic.

A letter received from the Red Cross was read, advising that Miss Ann Jamieson had been appointed Home Welfare Advisor, and that requests for her services would be received by Mrs. Fred Hooper.

With The Armed Forces

The editor of this column will welcome extracts from letters from boys serving or any other information concerning them.

By JEAN STENTON

LIEUT. REG. DIXON

Whatever the French may have done in the past, they are giving Canadian troops an enthusiastic welcome, writes Lieut. Reg. R. Dixon of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders to his wife at 657 Aylmer street.

"We are moving so fast that it is impossible to write letters or even mail them often. We have stopped now for a few hours and I am making use of the time to catch up on my writing and also to do some cleaning up.

"The French are giving us a terrific welcome as we roll through the towns and villages, and it is an unforgettable experience to be welcomed by people with tears of joy and thankfulness in their eyes, saying 'merci, merci' (thank you) for coming.

"Our trucks and guns are covered with flowers, but I am very tired. We move night and day and snatch what sleep we can in the trucks as we move."

Lieut. Dixon was formerly employed at the Canadian Department Stores and enlisted in March 1941. Before going overseas in September 1942, he served as Intelligence Officer with the Canadian Fusiliers and at the present time is Intelligence Officer for the Highlanders.

Adopts Amy

A little Italian boy, who was separated from his parents in Sicily adopted a Canadian unit and stayed with them at the front during most of their Italian campaign, writes Gnr. A. J. Wilson, who was formerly stationed at the Training Centre here.

"We have a little Italian lad here whose mother was killed in Sicily and his dad is in prison in the United States. He stayed with a Canadian unit from the middle of the Sicilian campaign until a few weeks ago, then he was brought down from the front to us. He wears an all-Army uniform with the 1st Divisional patch and one stripe. You would laugh to see him chasing the other Italian children away from the camp.

"They treat him just like an ordinary soldier, for parades and all. This morning he came in the kitchen with a KP band on his arm and started throwing his weight around to get breakfast. One of our boys is trying to get permission to send him to Canada."

Praises Jeep

The mechanized equipment in use in Italy is wonderful, Gnr. Wilson declares. He has been in action in the latest push in Northern Italy and found his jeep a pretty good friend to be travelling with.

"We have been on the move pretty steadily for the past two weeks, and part of it was night driving. What a job in these hills. At times you just hope for the best. I have been hauling all the water for two days in the jeep. The first day I tried to follow the roads and get to a well, but each time, someone would turn me back. So at last I made my own road, just hoping there would be no mines. They are a great vehicle and will go up hills, that at one time, I would have said were impossible. One thing I have learned up here, is when and how to hit the ground in an awful hurry.

PTE. JOHN RICHARDS

Although the crops in France, in the sections through which Canadians are passing, have ripened beautifully, the French are afraid to try and harvest them because the Germans have covered the farm acres with mines, writes Pte. John Richards, of Douro, to Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hayes, Indian River, with whom he lived until he enlisted. He is serving with the Black Watch.

"The farm folk here tell us that the Huns roamed through the land after the crops were sown and planted mines indiscriminately throughout the grain fields. The farmers are in a bad fix now. The grain is ready to harvest and they don't like the idea of being blown vested all on account of perhaps half a dozen mines in each field. We have all been warned about crossing fields and it surely looks funny to see the fellows going all the way around just to get to the other side. Only yesterday there was a farm lad killed, not 50 yards from his home by one of these mines. He was leading a horse out to one of the fields to do some work, when he stepped on it. He must have passed the place dozens of times before, so you see how it goes.

"Our trip across the Channel was uneventful. We had a grand view of the "Doodle Bugs" while waiting in the harbor. The Spitfires were after them as usual shooting them up. So it is hard to say what will happen.

"It is really a shame to see such wonderful crops being left unhar-down, and the scene was well lit up by neighboring search lights.

"After we set sail, the sight which met our eyes is one I will never forget. The convoy was huge and all the latest sea-going craft were represented. As our boat hove-to, I could not help thinking about the power wielded by the Allied nations. Even though the sky was overcast, there was no sign of the Luftwaffe, and we were easy meat. They are not equal to the task of preventing these movements,

Wonderful Pier

"After about an hour of waiting, landing barges came alongside and we were soon tossing away on the final lap of our journey. The fellows who thought we were going to be leaping into the combers on a sandy beach were gladly disappointed. The pier we landed at, is one of our miracles of achievement. The pier-head is about half a mile long and two pontoon bridges connect it to the shore, approximately one mile distant. The whole project, or rather the pier and one bridge, was completed in about four days, and from what I could gather, the Engineers who built it, worked under fire for most of that period.

"The first little village we passed through was practically deserted except for a few soldiers. Some of the houses were shot up and hardly a window was left intact. I will not weary you with particulars of the nightmare march we made with the heavy packs dragging on our backs. We would go as far as we could, sit down till we recovered our wind and then struggle on again. That night the rolling thunder of artillery fire lulled us to sleep."

The soldier explained that he found the land very fertile and although some of the crops were slightly trampled, most of it was undamaged. The French people told him that three or four weeks before D-Day, some Nazi soldiers were sent to the district and more or less started pushing people around, forcing them to build slight fortifications and to erect poles throughout their fields. At the same time they told them that the English would never reach there.

Plenty of Holes

"There are a few craters hereabouts and I am glad I was not here when they were made. Some of them would make good cellars if they were squared up a bit. They are only about 15 feet deep. One of our sergeants came across an unexploded 500-pounder, where he was digging his trench, but he kept his find to himself until after we moved out a couple of days later. I imagine that it is just as well he did."

Farming methods in use in Normandy appeared very old fashioned to Pte. Richards. He said that seven or eight head is about the size of the average herd of milk cows, and each cow is picketed to an iron stake with a chain about 12 feet long. When milking time comes around, he wrote, the milkmaids drive out to where the cows are, in a two-wheeled cart, to do the milking. About twice a day a young lad, passes by with a little water-wagon on his way to water the cows and move them to a fresh area each time.

"Last night the noise from the artillery was terrific and I don't think anyone slept till morning. We are all well dug in, so there is not much chance of being hit by any of the shrapnel which we hear rattling through the tree tops."

At Calgary

Flying Officer J. W. Marchen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marchen, 108 Stewart street, is stationed at No. 4 Training Command, Calgary, where he is a trade test officer. Formerly employed with Imperial Oil, he graduated from an engineering school in Montreal and got his commission of Pilot Officer, September 2, 1943. He received his present rank March 1, 1944.

Air Raids Common

Air raids, though not of the usual variety, are common at Gander Bay R.C.A.F. station in Newfoundland, writes AW 1 Molly Brown, wireless operator. Mosquitos and black flies are constantly staging raids and so far, she writes, no one on the staff has discovered a way of completely quelling them.

"The black flies specialize in the meat from the neck and the ankles, possible because these are the parts it most often finds exposed. The only defence is a hide of rhinoscerous, which no one seems to have. You don't often see this pest. He prefers the hit and run type of raid and the Commandos could learn lessons in the art of attacking without being seen.

"In spite of these inconveniences, it is pleasant out of doors. The Newfoundland sun is not so lavish with his heat as in Ontario, but when it shines it's lovely. There is usually a breeze blowing on sunny days and you don't realize till it's too late, how hot it is. The lake and ponds are wonderful for swimming, if you don't mind the water being a little cold. They're wonderfully clean, clear and invigorating. It is fatal to be deceived by the fact that a large number of them are called ponds, and so marked on maps. Anything Newfoundland calls a pond would be called a good sized lake anywhere else except in a country that is about two-thirds water."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"WELL, IT'S YOUR GUESS"

THAT IS a remark you hear frequently at friendly games among able players. They realize there is plenty of thinking connected with the most important single play of a hand, the opening lead, but also that it is an effort to act efficiently in the dark. Often the soundest logic will go awry on a carefully chosen lead, whereas the worst lead in the hand would produce profitable results.

That bidding varied considerably at various duplicate tables, but all wound up with South in a spade game. It was startling, though, to note the consequences of different leads made by the West players.

One of the ablest in the game led the K of his partner's diamonds. The A won, a heart was led to the J and A and a club returned to the A. Two club discards were obtained quickly on the hearts and two diamonds got ruffed, so that the only tricks lost were one each in the two red suits.

The same result came where a weak sister made the worst of all leads, on the bidding, a heart, enabling the declarer to get two club discards and ruff out the hearts.

Where a player made almost as bad, if not quite as bad, a lead, the spade 8, the declarer was held to four-odd because a repeat of the trump lead later kept South from ruffing more than one diamond, so he lost two tricks in that suit and one in hearts.

The only lead which beat the contract was made by the least experienced player in the duplicate. He opened the K from the unthinkable club holding. This, however, caused his side to score two tricks in clubs, plus one each in the red suits. Of course, if his partner had not held the Q—but he did.

Civic Bodies Continue Quest To Make Dreams Peace Reality

Of municipal window shopping these days there seems to be no end. The spinning of dreams for the future out of bright and iridescent hopes, gradually developing needs, opportunity and possibility, and of the basic ingredient "the wherewithal," euphemism for that harsh and realistic word "money"!

For example, today's engagements in the delightful if necessarily tentative peering into possibilities:

A committee of the County Council took off Tuesday morning to the northern areas of Peterborough county to tramp about the townships which have been mentioned on various occasions as ideal locations for natural parks.

The word "natural" is used with some thought of discretion as substitute for provincial or federal; a concession to the deep-dyed politics that has been stirred into this proposal of a northern park that has been steadily retreating into the mist of doubt since last winter.

It has long been a dream of Fred Marshall, but he has admitted now and again during the summer that apparently the elements of objection are being steadily blown up against the park project to the extent that its present advantages and its provisions for the enjoyment of future generations have been largely disregarded and obscured. Presumably Mr. Marshall went along today with the special committee of the County Council.

That's the "natural park" feature in the window-shopping adventures.

Market Experts.

Again, there is the farm produce market. Experts from the Federal and Ontario Departments of Agriculture are here today and Monday, at the invitation of the County Council, obtaining facts and impressions related to the project of shifting the market to some premises other than Charlotte and Water streets.

The city council is planning a public meeting or two of farmers who wish to continue the use of marketing facilities in Peterborough, and of consumers who regard it as a benefit to them. One or both these department officials will likely be present at these meetings.

Then, Monday night the township council of North Monaghan held a special meeting attended by twelve farmers who are likely to be affected by the city's proposed airport. Several of these men pointed out that their properties had come into the possession of their families with Crown deeds and had been continuously their homes and means of livelihood. Their immediate attitude was to object to parting with the paternal acres, and, as reported, they contended that if they had to move off they should be adequately compensated.

The council passed a resolution agreeing to the closing of the Peterborough-Port Hope highway from the vicinity of the Ira Robson farm, westerly, on condition that a highway be built on the west side of the proposed airport site and also that owners of properties on the north side of that highway be indemnified for the depreciation of their property by any diversion of the present established lanes of traffic.

And this summary of one day's engagement in trying to shape the future better than the past, ever knew might be closed with the biblical warning to the effect that a people without vision is on the way to perishing.

Flying Glass Big Danger Of Buzz Bombs

Wilfred Chalmers, an electrical engineer from London, England, who recently arrived in Peterborough, gives a vivid story of the robot bombings in the London suburb where he lives.

Born in Russia, he spent his early days there, and went to school in England. Later, his work took him to India, where he spent nine years with the Calcutta Electrical Supply Corporation.

He left England in August of this year, leaving his wife and two children at home. The initial robot bomb raids began in June. An alert was sounded when the robots first made their appearance, but everybody in London that day expected only an ordinary bombing attack.

These alerts were repeated, and on the next day and during the next night, the first real robomb raid on this London district was made.

Mr. Chalmers saw two robots flying over, heavily attacked by anti-aircraft guns. The bombing continued all day and night. During the 1940 blitz from planes, he had erected an Anderson shelter, and after this new form of warfare, it was used day and night. These shelters are set in concrete with two feet of earth on top. Inside are four berths for himself and family, and electric lights.

Heavy Damage

No bombs fell very close for a week, but soon, a bomb landed three-quarters of a mile away, and demolished a shopping centre. Later, a flying bomb landed in a church about a half-mile away, and destroyed eight houses, and damaged two hundred dwelling places. Mr. Chalmer's own residence, although half a mile away, had the doors and windows broken by the blast. The next day another bomb destroyed more houses, and did serious property damage.

One Sunday, in the middle of July, a bomb fell on a railway embankment, and a street adjacent to Mr. Chalmer's house was demolished. The blast was felt severely in the shelter. His mother's house was completely destroyed, and the 63-year-old woman was evacuated by the Women's Voluntary Service.

Flying bombs make only a small crater, and explode on impact. Sometimes they dive with the engine running, and others, after the motor stops, glide for considerable distances before plumetting to earth. Once in a while, a robot will run in circles at right angles, before falling.

The devastation caused by the robomb is very great, but human casualties have, in considering the damage to buildings, been light. Tarpaulins are used for roofing, and gangs of repairers, sailors and RAF men are always busy repairing roofs. It is believed that 90 per cent of the damaged houses can be repaired.

Flying Glass Dangerous

Many of the casualties have been caused by flying glass, sometimes wounding and blinding people who are struck. Mr. Chalmers knows of a man killed, and his wife blinded, by this menace.

The visitor to Canada who has had so much experience with buzz bombs pointed out that when flying bombs begin to drop, it is safer to get under a table, or stand in stairway than run for a shelter. A great and definite danger is flying glass, and in the above two positions, it is more unlikely that glass will hit you, than if you are dashing about into a shelter.

Typical of Englishmen the world over, flying bombs or not, business had to go on as usual. Crowds jammed busses and trains, and the populace of the great metropolis, outwardly at least, remained quite calm.

The day of his departure, Mr. Chalmers said, two flying bombs landed in the vicinity of two great London railway stations.

Curiously enough, London people seem to like to see the bombs, and see where they are going. If there is a long stream of exhaust from the bomb, people know they are still clipping along at a good speed; but if their trail of flame is short,.... then "look out!" Bombs that make the loudest noise are considered less dangerous, and the greatest menace is from the silent raiders. An interesting point is that small children act as spotters for the bombs, then warn the neighborhood when they approach. The children performed this duty out of a wholesome curiosity more than anything else, and it was difficult to persuade them to take shelter, rather than wait for them. Perhaps, they did not realize the danger from the skies.

Impressed by Lights

About his arrival in Canada, Mr. Chalmers said he had been impressed at first, and since, at the lights all lit up on this side, and the bountiful supply of goods displayed in the store windows. The fact that the store windows were complete with glass in place, and not all boarded up, was another nice sight, he said.

Mr. Chalmers disclosed he has not tasted a banana in four years, and that all the oranges that arrived in England, were reserved for children, an his account of rationing has been often told. The system of coupon rationing for clothes, is irksome, he said.

The number of automobiles on the roads is something else that impressed Mr. Chalmers very much. Especially so, when in England, the car is used only for the war effort, with pleasure and other driving, strictly prohibited.

Want Addresses Of Men In Army

This is the time of the year that Christmas boxes for boys and girls serving in the Canadian Active army overseas should be mailed, and in order that no city soldier or CWAC, either at home or abroad, goes without a special Christmas parcel from home, the Active Army Auxiliary has requested the names and addresses of all Peterborough Active army personnel.

The deadline for these names to be submitted is October 1. Between now and that date, every name must be either sent to the Auxiliary members, or phoned into any of these numbers: 8185, 5184, 8853. This is the only way every boy and girl will get an Auxiliary box, and so relatives and friends of the soldiers or CWACs are especially asked to give the Auxiliary the details.

Boxes will also be sent to Peterborough boys and girls who left the city to enlist elsewhere, and have no next-of-kind here. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of these people, are also requested to submit their names and addresses.

An interesting point in connection with the mailing of boxes, is that a soldier who has left for Canada from an overseas point will not receive his box, if it is addressed for overseas, and sent in the same carton with others addressed to the same place. Therefore, in order that other arrangments can be made kindly inform the Auxiliary immediately it becomes known a serviceman or woman is expected home from overseas.

Canadians Enter Netherlands West Of Antwerp

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY, Sept. 21—(CP Cable).—Canadian infantry and armored forces have skirted the eastern end of the Leopold Canal and crossed the Netherlands frontier while infantry engaged in the battle of Boulogne is cleaning out the last German positions north and south of the town.

The Canadian entry into the Netherlands followed advance elements of Lt.-Gen. Crerar's Polish troops across the Hulst Canal between Hulst and Axel, to Terneuzen on the Schelde estuary. Hulst and Axel are respectively 15 and 22 miles west of Antwerp.

Canadians operating to the west of the Poles passed through the town of Phillipine about two miles from the estuary.

At Boulogne, Ontario, Maritime and French-speaking troops fighting their way through remaining concrete positions, have taken 6,000 prisoners, but are meeting strong resistance from Germans still holding out.

On Last Legs.

The weather yesterday permitted tactical air force planes supporting the Canadians to fly more than 300 sorties against German positions at Boulogne, Calais and Dunkerque, while heavy bombers struck at concrete works protecting the approaches to Calais.

The battle of Boulogne is in its final stages and Canadian infantry are so deep into remaining chains of German concrete positions that attack by air is rendered difficult.

Maritime infantry now well south of Boulogne were rooting Germans out of their defences around Mount Etienne while Ontario infantry who have swept across the Liane River and Boulogne's port now are fighting around Outreau, just south of the town, and Le Pogtel which overlooks the sea and dominates the port entrance.

The BBC broadcast, quoting a Wilhelmstrasse statement, was monitored by NBC.

Canadian Troops Register Important Gains

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Sept. 21 (CP Cable)—Strong forces of Canadians today were steadily pushing the Germans from strategic Fortunato Hill, southwest of the Adriatic port of Rimini, back to the Marecchia River, their final defence barrier before the Lombardy Plains.

Leaving remaining Germans defence pockets just southwest of Rimini to be cleaned up by other Allied forces, the Canadians were hammering a wedge west of Rimini which threatened to outflank the bitterly-contested port and open up the way to the battle of the Po Valley.

Many Bottled Up

Battered remnants of seven German battalions, plus several Tiger tanks were bottled up by the Canadians yesterday and though the fighting raged as fiercely as ever hundreds of Germans in this sector were quitting.

From one ridge-top pocket sprinkled with the bodies of German dead a steady stream of prisoners poured all day. More than 300 came out in a few hours, in groups varying from a handful to complete companies.

R.A.F. fighter-bombers blasted a path for the Canadian assault on Rimini's flank despite dense clouds, smashing particularly at enemy artillery on the north bank of the Marecchia River, almost five miles west of Rimini.

Spitfires and Mustangs blew holes in highway bridges across the Reno River, across which the Nazi must send supplies to the Adriatic front.

Russians Aim Twin Drive At Tallinn

Army Gains 40 Miles Near Lake Peipus And Finnish Gulf

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press War Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 21.— (AP). — Red army veterans of Leningrad, having destroyed the northern anchorage of the German Baltic line in a massive sweep across Estonia, raced forward to-day in a double-barreled drive for the enemy's escape port of Tallinn.

One wing of Marshal Govorov's forces thrusting west from Narva has captured Rahika, less than 65 miles east of Tallinn, a Russian war bulletin disclosed last night. Govorov's second wing was spearing north from Tartu.

Moscow's guns thundered a salute to Govorov for his four days' gains ranging from 37 to 44 miles, wiping out formidable German defences between Lake Peipus and the Finnish gulf.

Seeking to trap or annihilate any German troops from Finland who may reach Estonia, Govorov turned the enemy's flank and sent his troops rushing through the centre of the little northern country like a tidal wave.

Nearer Riga

Northern troops, following the Narva-Tallinn Railway, were within artillery range of the key rail town of Rakvere, and closing in on Tapa, important rail junction 45 miles southeast of Tallinn.

Meanwhile on the approaches to the Latvian port of Riga Gen. Bagramian's columns captured an additional 100 settlements and again hurled back tank and infantry attacks aimed at his communications base of Jelgava.

Between Bagramian's and Govorov's forces the two armies of Gen. Yeremenko and Gen. Maslennikov surged forward in an attempt to slice the German front in half in the vicinity of the common border of Estonia and Latvia.

In the past two days Russian communiques have announced German loss of 4,750 populated places in the Soviet Baltic drive.

The Red Army was officially silent on the battle for Warsaw and the drive from Transylvania toward the plains of Hungary.

6,000 Deserters

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 — (AP). — About 6,000 alien merchant seamen have deserted their ships in United States ports since the beginning of the war and now are being rounded up by the immigration and naturalization service. Those apprehended, the war shipping administration said, will be given the choice of returning to ships of their nationality or face deportation. Most of those who deserted their ships have found employment in private industry.

Air Training Curtailed Across Canada

By JACK BRAYLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 — (CP). — The R.C.A.F. announced to-day a further contraction of the Commonwealth Air Training Plan by the amalgamation of four training commands— at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, and Calgary — and a reduction in the staff of the 11-man Air Council.

First step in the program will be amalgamation December 1 of No. 2 Training Command, with headquarters at Winnipeg and comprising all Manitoba and part of Saskatchewan; No. 4 Training Command, with headquarters at Calgary and comprising Alberta dnd part of Saskatchewan. The new command wil be designated as No. 2 with headquarters at Moose Jaw, Sask.

Next step will be amalgamation of No. 1 Training Command, with headquarters at Toronto and roughly covering Ontario, and No. 3 Training Command, with headquarters at Montreal and roughly covering Quebec and the Maritimes.

Eventually, this new amalgamated command will be further fused to become a part of Eastern Air Command. No dates were given for this fusion and the new headquarters was not mentioned, although a fair guess might be Dartmouth, N. S.—present E.A.S. headquarters.

The curtailment program also includes reduction in the size of the air council from 11 to seven members by amalgamation of work of several divisions which, by reason of the fusion of commands, will have lessened responsibility.

New Air Council.

The new Air Council will comprise: The Air Minister, the Deputy Minister, the Chief of Air Staff, air member for air staff, Air member for personnel, air member for training and air member for supply and organization, who takes over responsibilities formerly discharged by the air member for organization, the air member of supply, the air member for construction and engineering, and the air member for aeronautical engineering.

Curtailment in the Air Council results in retirement of four members:

Terrence Sheard, the air member for supply, going back to his peacetime post with the National Trust Company of Toronto;

Air Vice-Marshal Alan Ferrier of Ottawa, the air member for aeronautical engineering, recently appointed member of the newly-organized air transport board, controlling Canada's commercial aviation;

Air Vice-Marshal K. G. Nairn, air member for accounts and finance, resuming his peacetime position with his own chartered accounting firm in Vancouver;

Air Vice-Marshal R. R. Collard of Winnipeg, air member for construction and engineering, going back to his executive position with a firm of contractors.

Path Opened To Isolated Paratroopers

100,000 Germans In Holland Now Surrounded

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—British 2nd Army tank troops and Allied sky soldiers have captured intact the mile-and-a-half-long Nijmegen bridge in a raging 24-hour battle in Holland. They thus broke open a path to the relief of a pocket of airborne troops locked today in a grim fight for life near Arnhem, eight miles north.

The Germans counter-attacked by land and bombing from the air in a desperate attempt to save their historic river defence line, but some of the western front's hottest fighting virtually set the seal of doom on perhaps 100,000 enemy troops caught in western Holland.

The whole fate of the Germans' Ruhr valley and the safety of their entire northern flank was turning on the outcome of this first victory and the unfolding of a second battle about to take place for control of the crossings of the northern branch of the Dutch Rhine at Arnhem.

Tanks Over River

As Lt.-Gen. Dempsey's armor raced across the Waal, largest branch of the Dutch Rhine, toward the north, units of Lt.-Gen. Brereton's Allied 1st Airborne Army—believed to be Americans — apparently were hanging on grimly to positions astride the doorstep of the Ruhr.

The Germans declared the entire 1st British Airborne Division was "largely wiped out" in the Arnhem area, but it was believed Americans were holding firmly to positions on both sides of the northern branch, and were possibly holding at least one crossing.

The Nijmengen bridge was taken last night, a BBC correspondent reported, and "early this mornin elements of our armor were north of the river, across it, and our troops are now in a position to speed up their drive on Arnhem."

The Germans were reported attacking the airborne island of troops

By BARBARA WACE
Associated Press War Correspondent

BREST, Sept. 21.—(AP).—A few French civilians trudged back into captured Brest Monday, pushing wheel barrows piled with mattresses or riding in carts. But there was nothing to come back to in this great port city, a picture of desolation and ruin with a majority of its buildings demolished by terrific aerial and naval bombardment during the 46-day Allied siege.

(A dispatch from Supreme Allied Headquarters last night said headquarters sources refused to speculate on whether Allied salvage crews would be put to work on the port at once. Censored dispatches from Brest contained no information on damage to port facilities.)

Port of Calais Ripped by Bombs

LONDON, Sept. 21. — (CP).—Waves of Allied planes crossed the channel to-day and the German radio said bombers were again over western Germany.

Smoke still rolled up from Calais, German-held port opposite Dover, where R.A.F. heavy bombers late yesterday struck with up to 4,500 tons of bombs in a 2½ hour attack. Then rocket-firing Typhoons roared above the streets, blasting gun positions and concrete fortifications.

While these blows were in progress the France-based U.S. 9th Air Force sent Marauders against German railways feeding the Siegfried Line. They concentrated on the Trier freight yards, which were packed with enemy troops and supplies.

Six formations of American medium bombers participated in the attack without loss. The crews said many hits were observed among cars, tracks and buildings of the junction which serves the gateway to the Moselle corridor.

Typhoons slugged 64 deadly rockets into Fort Merxem, last German stronghold in Antwerp. The target was two long buildings inside centuries-old fortress walls sheltering an estimated 2,000 German troops. Since the capture of Antwerp this pocketed enemy force has stubbornly resisted all attempts to dislodge it and has been shelling the city nightly.

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP) —Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow yesterday ordered the Dominion Construction Corporation, Limited, and the Grenville Crushed Rock Company of which Harry F. Therrien that McLean illegally disbursed large sums of the companies' money.

Danish Police Battling Nazis

LONDON, Sept. 21—(CP-Reuter). —Fighting between Danish and German police was going on in Copenhagen today as the Nazis attempted to round up more Danes today following dissolution of the country's police force, a Reuters dispatch from Stockholm reported.

Clashes, some of them lasting several hours, took place around most police stations and many Danish police managed to escape the German dragnet.

All Copenhagen police stations are now manned by Gestapo agents, S.S. men and Shalburg men (Danish Nazis), the Free Danish press service reported.

The German-controlled Copenhagen radio today denied that King Christian was under arrest. The King was in his palace under the protection of the usual Danish guard, it was asserted.

Allied Armies Month Ahead of Schedule

NEW YORK, Sept. 21— Reporting from Paris after his return from Gen. Eisenhower's advanced headquarters, CBS Correspondent Merrill Mueller said to-day the "general has been driving himself to a point where though his brilliant and tremendous mind could stand the pace, his exceedingly tough physique could not."

"His health deteriorated so much that he was literally instructed not to leave his camp for several days," said Mueller. "He is in tip top form again to-day however, and the sparks are flying about getting this thing over with."

CBS said Mueller also reported that Allied armies "are well over a month ahead of schedule, which is wonderful for the tactical operations but a first class headache for the strategic planning."

UNRRA Moving At Fast Pace To Bring Relief

MONTREAL, Sept. 21 (CP) — Spurred on by declarations from more than a dozen of the 44 delegation leaders urging speed in preparing for the task of relieving the needy liberated peoples of the war areas, the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Council today was deep in the business of its second general meeting.

British, American and many other delegations heads addressed the council yesterday in the discussion of Director-General Herbert Lehman's report. All emphasize the necessity of being ready to meet tremendous problems of relief and sanitation which may come suddenly with collapse of German resistance.

Just what has been accomplished so far this week in the way of actual planning has not been made clear but it is known the majority here favor an extension of UNRRA's scope to include needy Italians and possibly to extend health and sanitation services into Germany when that country is defeated.

Uncertainty about Russia's attitude toward UNRRA continued today. That delegation, headed by Vasili Sergeev, was not one of those represented in yesterday's discussion on the Director General's report and so far as is known publicly the Soviet plans for UNRRA's opera-

Boulogne Battle Almost Over

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press War Correspondent

BOULOGNE, Sept. 21—(CP Cable) —The battle of Boulogne is nearly over. The town itself and the docks are in the hands of Canadian troops although the city is far from a healthy place.

Given the right conditions the attacking Canadians could clean up the remnants of the German garrison in a matter of hours. On the other hand, the Germans in strong fortifications in strategic places to the north and south of the Channel port could hold out in a last-ditch struggle—if they have the heart to stand more of the pounding they got today.

In the centre of Boulogne around the Citadel and the high-domed cathedral things are comparatively quiet. A few Allied tanks halted momentarily while German shells whistled overhead to the area of Canadian positions.

In the street by a police station which was functioning again a few German weapons were scattered about where they were turned in by French forces of the interior. The cathedral apparently is not heavily damaged. There is one large hole in the east side of the main dome which dominates the city, a smaller dome to the west has been hit twice and the cross on top has been smashed.

In the battered streets army bulldozers are clearing away debris of all kinds, including the remains of diminutive, shell-shattered street cars.

In one street, near where a mortar battery fired round after round, Ontario troops have set up a field kitchen and were having mid-day dinner from mess tins, oblivious of the noise of their own mortars and the woof of an occasional German shell-burst.

Final Battle For Germany May Be Fought In Holland

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
Associated Press War Analyst

The battle for Germany, which for a time appeared likely to take place at the Rhine, has actually begun in the Netherlands and will be decided there.

That the Germans can take another terrible beating and yet retire once more in sufficient strength for any real further stand appears unlikely.

Reports from Arnhem sound grim. Allied troops are reported surrounded by a bitterly determined enemy. But they were trained for just such fighting. The Allied commanders have yet to blunder in Western Europe. This morning's news that all airborne units south of Arnhem have linked up with the British 2nd Army is a strong indication that the battle to turn the northern end of the Siegfried Line is still going, as the generals love to put it, "according to plan."

The Germans are fighting to save themselves in the very territory where they began the total war in May, 1940.

Two plans of action, which may merge, seem to be open to the Allies. Holding tremendous German forces by strong attacks south of Holland, everything else can be thrown into an invasion of Northwestern Germany, across the coastal plains to envelop the great German ports as those of France and the low country coasts have been enveloped. That would be the Russian system, with truly decisive blows farther south held in reserve.

3 Separate Wars.

On the other hand, the Allied campaign has developed almost like three separate wars and may continue that way.

The 7th Army on the extreme right flank has conducted its own private invasion, has cleaned up Southern France and stands before Belfort, ready to invade southwestern Germany, probably the weakest area of Germany where there has been talk of forming provincial governments for separate truces.

The American 1st and 3rd armies have operated all along separately from, although in complete co-ordination with, Field Marshal Montgomery's British - Canadian forces nearer the coast, and are pointed along the Cologne-Coblenz area.

Arnhem is the first job. It is the key to the border and the great north German highway system. A gap there would permit the Allies to flow both east and south behind the Siegfried and Rhine defences, providing an anvil on which the three U.S. armies could pound the life out of Germany's entire western defences.

Flying Bombs Bring Deaths

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—Flying bombs zoomed over London and the Southern Counties last night for the fourth successive night as the Germans continued sporadic attacks apparently aimed at keeping Britain's lights from coming on again.

Casualties included several children recently returned from the safety of country districts.

"This is a grim and unhappy lesson," said one man whose house was badly damaged. "My house was empty except for myself, but several of my neighbors had brought back their children and were at home when a bomb fell."

In one section at least two people were killed and four others were seriously injured when a row of houses was destroyed.

While the newest raids carried neither the intensity nor terror of the earlier assaults, the rush of evacuees back to the capital was noticeably slowing down.

The government stood by its assertion that the "Battle of London was won, but not entirely over, and reiterated warnings that those evacuated at the height of the blitz should remain away a little longer.

Renewal of robot attacks after a two-week lull coincided with the lifting of blackout restrictions. Under new dimout regulations householders are required to black out all lights when an alert sounds, and the robot assaults thus have had the effect of keeping London in continued darkness.

Inasmuch as most of the Germans' coastal launching sites have been cleared, it is generally believed the flying bombs are being launched from planes.

Armored Battle In Full Swing

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALSACE-LORRAINE, Sept. 21 — (AP). — Adolf Hitler has thrown in a large portion of his armored forces against the U.S. 3rd Army and for three days this armored force has been engaged in the greatest single tank battle since the landings in France.

The battle has seen the destruction of 105 Nazi tanks.

This is being written near Bures, 18 miles northeast of Nancy.

From there an irregular battle line is active in a wide arc north to points near Chateau-Salins.

But there is no regular line of tanks. Both forces range many miles on both sides of these lines in sorties.

Much of the mobile forces at the disposal of the German Army has been thrown recklessly into battle. Many of the destroyed Mark VI Tiger tanks dotting the battle area had just had their number painted on them in the factory.

It is the first time the Germans

Germans Populate Prague

Millions Fled From Allied Raids

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 21 — (CP)—An estimted 2,500,000 German civilians have fled their home cities as a result of Allied bombings and will present a major problem in repatriation after victory, it was learned from United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration sources to-day.

The main care of the UNRAA committee on displaced persons is represented by the millions of Allied Nationals who have been taken to Germany or elsewhere for forced labor under the Nazi control of Europe. But UNRRA officials said that the magnitude of the problem of caring for German evacuees has not been generally recognized. Whether it will be an UNRAA responsibility has not beeen decided.

"All our information indicates that the Allied bombing of German cities was much more destructive than anything experienced by the United Kingdom and the flight of civilians has involved more people," one authority said.

"There are reports that Prague has become almost a German city so great is the number of Germans who have taken refuge there."

Claim Finns Aided Huns

Russians Angry At Reported Deception

MOSCOW, Sept. 21.—(AP).—Izvestia and Pravda, leading Soviet newspapers, charged flatly to-day that Finnish authorities broke their pre-armistice promise to disarm all German forces in Finland Sept 15 and turn them over to the Red Army High Command.

The Soviet press, accusing the Finnish government of helping German troops to escape Finland, carried angry editorials quoting Nazi boats that [illegible] aided German soldi[illegible]uation.

A dispatch from Helsinki said the Allied Armistice Control Commission headed by Col.-Gen. Sjdanov had arrived in the Finnish capital, and taken up headquarters in the Hotel Klaus Kurkil.

The Helsinki dispatch said that informed persons predicted a new Finnish government would be formed to-day, with Erhu Castren, president of the Finnish Supreme Court, the leading candidate to replace the stricken Hantti Hackzell as premier.

China's Future Worries Allied Leaders

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—China's future role in the war against Japan is a subject of increasing concern for military and diplomatic officials here.

The big question is whether the American drive across the central Pacific—even though it is months ahead of old schedules—can open a supply route to Free China while it is still organized for effective resistance to Japan.

For this reason Pacific strategists are paying closest attention to the speed of the Allied drive into Germany. A long-delayed victory in Europe, which would set back the day of full concentration against Japan, could jeopardize China's continued existence as one of the "big four" United Nations.

Military leaders want from China:

1. Manpower resources to crush the Japanese armies in Asia—especially if Russia does not enter the war

2. A government capable of preventing Japanese war mongers and agitators from going underground in China to spring up during the years of peace.

3. A nation that in the immediate post-war years will become a dominant power in east Asia.

At present realization of these aims is threatened by the most complicated set of military and political considerations in any war theatre. As outlined by high-ranking government advisers on China policy the situation shapes up like this:

All a Muddle

China has been at war constantly for seven years. For almost five years she has been blockaded. During this period the Chungking government has lost close relationship with the people and their local and regional leaders.

These leaders have grown increasingly dissident. The Communist groups in north China, long opposed by the government of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, have grown more powerful. Other opposition groups have come to the fore, particularly in Kwangsi province.

Economic difficulties, inflation and shortages have made the lot of the people increasingly miserable. The armies fight without even a minimum of necessary arms. They are in many instances poorly led, and they feel they have less and less to fight for.

The Allied command set-up is regarded by some as hopelessly complicated. Gen. Stilwell serves two masters as chief of staff to Chiang and an officer of the Allied commander in southeast Asia and Burma, Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten. Lord Louis, in turn, is subject to decisions of Gen. Auchinleck, India commander, for troops. Auchinleck's primary concern is to preserve order in India.

groups which crossed the Vistula at Warsaw were smashed in a counter-attack and that 69 landing boats were destroyed or captured.)

A sustained aerial assault blasted against Hungarian rail centres and military installations as Marshal Malinovsky pushed his Russian-Romanian columns beyond Timiskoara to less than 30 miles from Hungary proper. Should he turn south, he would imperil the German garrison 70 miles away at Belgrade. If he moved north, he would strike at the vulnerable rear of a large enemy group in northern Transylvania.

Marshal Rokossovsky was known to be mounting a series of fierce attacks against the west bank of the Vistula close to the southern limits of Warsaw, but officially the Kremlin was silent.

with reinforced assault forces and were reported rushing reserves into the recesses of the Reichswald, a great forest just south of the Siegfried anchor of Cleve, in a desperare effort to block the Emmerich gap route into Germany's northern plains.

Speedy Attack.

Emmerich, 15 miles east of Nijmegen and 19 miles southeast of Arnhem, guards the eight-mile passage between the Rhine— the Germans' historic line of defence which was now turned— and the Ijssel, the large Dutch waterway turning northward at Arnhem.

Piercing of the wateway would open the path to Essen, 55 miles southeast of Nijmegen, and the industrial Ruhr which Hitler sorely needs to wage war.

The British and airborne troops attacked the Nijmegen bridge from front and rear so quickly the Germans had no opportunity to blow up the huge concrete crossing. The desperate German attempt to avert disaster on the lower Rhine took the form of co-ordinated heavy bombings of Eindhoven to the south and a fierce counter-attack from the west of the town.

This failed. The western base held firm and the wedge was widened with slight gains to the east. In addition more reinforcements and supplies were poured into the airborne army.

The frustrated effort of the Germans to chisel their way through from the west was almost their last hope of a break-through from what rapidly was becoming a death-trap in western Holland.

It was believed no usable bridges existed across the Rhine south of Nijmegen for their escape, and such ferries as were in operation were subject to bombing. If they succeeded in crossing the Rhine, the Allies at Arnhem, once a junction is made there, would have to advance only 24 miles to the Zuider Zee to close the trap.

The Nazis' defence flooding of western Holland was now kicking back, blocking many paths of escape.

The Germans caught in the trap were mostly scraped-together divisions without adequate battle skill.

A Long Bridge.

The concrete span, 1¼ miles long, which a BBC broadcaster said had finally been seized, was the centre of a swirling battle for 24 hours. The Germans counter-attacked, even hurling their air force into a desperate attempt to prevent a turning of their Rhine River flank.

The BBC correspondent, Stewart MacPherson, said capture of the bridge last night was the result of a combined attack by British 2nd Army troops and American airborne forces, the U.S. unit crossing the river and cutting in behind the German defenders.

"Early this morning elements of our armor were north of the river, across it, and our troops are now in a position to speed up their drive on Arnhem," the correspondent reported.

Salvage Begins Day Paper Drive

Today a determined effort will be made in Peterborough and outlying districts, to supply a large amount of waste paper for Canada's war effort, through a one day emergency drive, designed to collect from the city alone, more than 150 tons of waste and scrap paper.

All kinds of waste paper are wanted; except that which is gummed or waxed. There are a multitude of uses for this paper, ranging from blood plasma containers, to parachutes, for dropping supplies to troops on the ground. Throughout Canada, 20,000 tons of this material are needed urgently every month, and the only way it can be obtained, is by the collection of scrap in cities, towns and communities, such as will be carried out here today.

In the city proper, trucks and men will begin to pick up the paper at 6 o'clock tonight. So to make this job easier, and to get it finished sooner, people are asked to tie the paper into bundles, and have it on the streets in time for the collectors.

Every scrap of paper lingering in hundreds of cellars and attics is destined for a vital war job. By giving every bit that can be found to the waste paper drive, it is the same as sending your paper off to war, to help soldiers receive necessary supplies on the battlefield, promptly.

It is a known fact that waste paper is Canada's No. 1 war material shortage. In order to build up a stock of this material, and to help the country's war effort to finish Hitler, Peterborough citizens are being asked today, to put their waste paper on active service, by contributing every possible scrap to the Emergency One Day Paper Drive.

There still is stubborn resistance around Wimereux, two miles north of Boulogne, where Maritimers also are operating.

Two Pockets.

North of Boulogne two pocketed garrisons in positions guarding Cap Gris Nez continue to hold out with a total of about 700 men.

The Canadian forces which fought their way around the eastern branch of the Leopold Canal and through Phillipine have by-passed enemy positions defended by fanatical paratroops.

Some of these parachutists operating, as ground troops are fighting on the north bank of the canal where it runs approximately parallel to the Belgo-Netherlands frontier and they sneak down to the south canal bank to obtain food.

The Poles in their advance have taken about 600 prisoners during the past few days.

Leader Flees.

German prisoners interviewed as they walked through the streets said Ramcke had not been seen for several days. There were reports he had fled either by submarine or plane.

Brest fell at 3 p.m. Sept. 18, after a final 24 hours of terrible artillery bombardment. Swarms of Germans — naval personnel, paratroopers, and merchant navy men — began emerging from the famed submarine pens.

We moved into one pen, past rooms filled with scattered German belongings. The narrow pen opened into the bay (30 words censored). Like the others, this pen had a 15-foot reinforced concrete roof. There was a gaping hole, however, in the roof, with steel girders hanging down.

One German said the damage had been caused by a British raid in June.

On the way out we entered one of the underground hospitals. The patients looked desperately ill, and one blond German nurse told me the siege had been terrible.

Prisoners continued to be escorted out of the pens several hours after the city fell.

Late in the day the prisoner bag was estimated at 8,500, bringing to 35,000 the number of Germans captured during the battle for Brest.

and reached the outskirts of San Marino, city in the little republic.

Prisoners taken by the 8th Army, total of which exceeds 6,700 for the past four weeks, rose sharply as British toops whittled down the Nazi 162nd Turcoman division.

Headquarters described fighting on both ends of the front as intense and declared the Germans were "clinging desperately" to their defensive positions.

The enemy's hold on Rimini and the gateway to the Po valley was jeopardized by the Canadians, who broke through German defences southwest of the port and advanced to San Lorenzo, less than two miles southwest of Rimini.

An Important Gain.

As a result of this break-through, the Canadians were in position to outflank Rimini on the west and isolate its defenders. They were within a mile of the Marecchia River which flows into the Adriatic at Rimini and only three miles from the coast northwest of the city.

A mile behind the farthest point of the Canadian advance a large enemy force still was waging a desperate battle on San Marino ridge.

Tactical air operations were hampered yesterday by poor weather, although some close-support targets were hit in the battle area. Heavy bombers raided objectives in Hungary and Czechoslovakia. The M.A.A.F. flew about 1,400 sorties, losing seven planes.

H.M.S. Aurora during the night of September 18-19 gave Candia hargor on German-held Crete another bombardment, it was announced.

2 Miles to Go

American troops of the 5th Army, meanwhile, beginning their drive down the northern slopes of the last mountain barrier guarding the plains of northern Italy, drove the Germans off the heights of Monte Montale, Monte Acuto, Monte Frena and Barco. They were 25 miles northeast of Florence and only two miles southeast of Fiernzuola, which is a junction of roads extending northward through the remaining German defences.

They also fought their way toward the key town of Santa Lucia, part of the Futa Pass defences of the Gothic Line.

In the Ligurian coastal sector 5th Army troops approached the outskirts of Pietrasantan 10 miles north northwest of Pisa, in a steady advance which reached the foothills at the western extremity of the northern Apennines.

The 5th Armys British forces took Valdicrioto and other hill masses on the right of the American line of advance.

To meet the threatened breakthrough toward Bologna the enemy continued to shift troops into the centre of the Gothic Line from the west coast sector.

American losses in yesterday's fighting were among the highest the unit has suffered in a single day since it came to France. But they nowhere approached the German losses.

This column alone has knocked out 83 tanks, destroyed 454 other vehicles, destroyed 28 guns larger than 88s and taken more than 2,000 prisoners since it dashed across the Moselle under fire north of Nancy just a week. It also overran an armored division headquarters and captured 110 vehicles.

7,645 Japs Killed on Palau

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 21—(AP).—American invasion of the Palaus has cost the Japanese the small island of Angaur, most of Peleliu and 7,645 lives, but Admiral Nimitz reported last night that "the enemy resistance is bitter" on rocky and rugged Peleliu.

The announcement came after a communique told of the virtual conquest of Angaur, where only mopping-up action remained.

A new airfield was reported started on Angaur. The invasions of Peleliu and Morotai, in the Molucca Islands west of New Guinea, provided ready-made airstrips for the Allied forces. Small planes were reported already using the Peleliu field, and the Motorai field, 300 miles south of the Philippines, presumably has been put into shape.

Lake Dufault, San Antonio and Upper Canada were other stronger golds while moderate declines came through for Giant Yellowknife, Frobisher, Bear, Beattie, Aunor, Little Long Lac, Cochenour Willans and O'Brien.

Noranda, Steep Rock and Pend Oreille were weaker base metal issues. And Hudson Bay and Labrador were higher.

Food issues ruled higher and miscellaneous industrials were dow. Other groups showed steadiness. Home, Anglo-Canadian, East Crest and British Dominion were stronger western oils.

Build Up Your System With Syntona Compound

Be Able to Eat Heartily; To Sleep Soundly; End Dizzy Spells, Nervousness, Headaches, Poor Digestion and Tired, Rundown Feeling.

If you feel tired, wornout, and nervous, if bowels are constipated and you suffer with indigestion, gas, headaches and rheumatic pain; if you have dizzy spells and nerves are on edge so that you cannot get sound, restful sleep—take a short treatment of Syntona Herbal Compound and the chances are that you, too, may find this medicine to be just what you need to put you on the road to better health again.

Here, for example, is the recent experience of Mr. Thomas Bronson, 122 Stroud Road, Hamilton, Ontario, who said:

"For a long time I suffered with stomach disorders and my entire system became rundown. My appetite was poor and what little I did eat gave me heartburn and distress in my stomach afterward. Constipation was a daily worry to me. I couldn't seem to get my proper sleep at night, so I always felt tired out and fatigued.

"I have only been taking Syntona one week, but I can already say that I feel a lot better. My appetite has improved and I am eating heartier

18-Months-Old Baby Milk Wagon Injures

COBOURG, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — Run over by a milk wagon while playing on the street, Harold Quigley, eighteen-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Quigley, was badly bruised and shaken up. He was taken to Cobourg Hospital and is under observation to determine if he has sustained internal injuries as the wagon wheels passed over his chest. The little fellow had climbed through the gate and out on the street where the milk wagon passed over him without the driver noticing him.

Allies Borrowed German Power While In Sicily

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 21. — (ENS) —Enlisting in October, 1940, with the R.C.A.F., Flight Lieut. Wallace E. Rutherford who was born and educated in Campbellford, proceeded overseas in August, 1941, in time to join the R.A.F. in operations against the Germans in Egypt under Rommel in the first great desert drive.

He participated in the defence of Egypt and followed the enemy's retreat across the African desert, which concluded in the Allied victories at El Alamein and Tunisia. He was on convoy duty in the Mediterranean area at the difficult time when all supplies which were not routed through the long difficult passage in the Atlantic and Indian oceans and the Suez, around the South African Cape of Good Hope had to have special convoys of planes and warships. After the African campaign, his squadron was posted at Malta, the most heavily bombed place on earth.

There are several large airdromes there and the fortifications were excellent and were able to withstand the heaviest assaults that the Germans could make, he declared. Proceeding from there to Sicily and Italy with the covering umbrella of planes that accompanied the invading forces, he said that two days after the landing the troops were enjoying a newspaper printed with the power generated by a German power station without knowing that they were supplying the juice. He was with the squadron until the battle of Foggia, when he was recalled to take over instructional duty.

He experienced the robot bombing of London which, he claimed, was planned as much to keep the bombing planes from operating over Germany as it was to destroy London. He spoke of a British fighter plane with such remarkable speed that they could catch the robots in the air.

Flt. Lt. Rutherford is home for a month's leave to visit his wife and two children and is indefinite about his future duties at present. He wishes to thank the I.O.D.E. asd all the other organizations for the welcome parcels and letters and mentioned particularly the local branch of the Canadian Legion for cigarettes and news.

Residents Protest Heavy Truck Traffic

COBOURG, Sept. 21 —(ENS). — Protesting against transports using the street for a short cut to King street, residents on Ball street have presented a largely-signed petition to the town council.

Mrs. Jack Toms, one of the petitioners, stated that 28 square feet of plaster had shaken loose from the ceiling of her house due to the vibration from the trucks going by. As the street is not adapted to heavy traffic, the paved road has started to show signs of wear and tear from the trucks. The petition was referred to the town solicitor for a ruling as to whether or not the council has the authority to stop heavy traffic on the street in question.

Gnr. C. Bolderstone Reported Improving

COBOURG, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — Mrs. Ruth Bolderstone, whose husband, Gunner Charles Bolderstone, was seriously wounded in July, has received word from Ottawa that his condition is somewhat better. Her brother, Gunner Douglas Cane, recently visited him in hospital in Italy, and wrote her to the effect that while still in very serious condition, he is better than he was. Gunner Bolderstone was wounded in the head and received a fractured skull.

Mayor Calls Meeting To Discuss Hospital

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 21 — (ENS).—An important meeting has been called by Mayor Long to discuss ways and means to aid the Campbellford hospital, which is reported to be ready to close. This will be held in the Masonic Temple on Friday at 8 p.m., when it is hoped a solution will be found for this difficult problem.

Victory Loan Leaders

COBOURG, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — Organizers for the Seventh Victory Loan, Northumberland County will arrive early next week to start the organization into action in readiness for the opening of the campaign in October. Carl Slipp, formerly organizer in North Wellington, with L. E. Barlow, will be in charge of the campaign here. Mr. Barlow is a veteran of three Victory Loan drives in this county but it will be Mr. Slipp's first appearance here.

School Has Field Day

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — The field day sponsored by the Home and School Association, of which Mrs. Jack Clark is president, was greatly enjoyed by the children. Bicycle, peanut, potato sack races were closely contested by the boys and girls, as well as relay races and broad jumps and 50, 75 and 100 yard dashes. Mrs. Linton's, Mrs. Gunter's, Miss Woods' and Miss Coles' classes, consisting of the younger pupils, enjoyed a quieter program at another section of the grounds. Principal Haig started field days many years ago and everyone has expressed approval of their revival.

Wounded In France

COBOURG, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — Sergeant Irwin Newton has been wounded in France, according to word received here by his wife. Sergeant Newton was wounded in the left elbow and left leg. He enlisted at Cobourg on September 10, 1939 and went overseas in August of the following year. Prior to going overseas he trained at Petawawa.

Quota Set At $2,250

COBOURG, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — An increase of 15 per cent over last year, the Red Shield quota for Cobourg and district has been set at $2,250, it was announced this week by Roy Dodge, chairman of the drive. Rehabilitation work is responsible for increased expenditures by the Salvation Army, Mr. Dodge pointed out in an appeal for funds.

Anniversary Speaker

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 21 — (ENS).—Rt. Rev. Norman A. MacLeod, D.D., of Brockville, will be the special preacher at the anniversary service in St. Andrew's Church in Burnbrae on Sunday, October 8.

Revising Our Voting System

In the recent election in New Brunswick there were two interesting cases in which the candidates elected were supported by a minority of the voters in their constituencies: in York riding, which elects four members, four Liberals were elected, although the Pro-Con and C.C.F. members had a majority of the votes cast; and in St. John City four Pro-Con members were elected, although the majority of votes went to the Liberals and the C.C.F. It is clear that the men elected do not represent majority opinion in their districts. They were elected by a minority vote.

The present government in Quebec was elected by a minority vote. The Union Nationale party elected 10 more members than the Liberals, but they polled 33,000 fewer votes. And in Ontario Premier Drew formed a Pro-Con government, though he received only a third of the total vote at the election. Canadian history contains many such instances; in 1925 Mr. Mackenzie King formed a government after an election in which his party received a minority vote. In these instances the principal of rule by the will of the majority suffers.

This situation can be corrected by adopting the system of proportional representation, with the single transferable vote in constituencies where there is more than one member. Proportional representation is designed to ensure that the elected body reflects as exactly as possible the voting strength among the electorate. That is to say, it aims at genuinely representative government. It is clear that every shade of political opinion should be represented in the legislative bodies in its correct mathematical proportion. The case for revising our Canadian system along these lines is a strong one, and there is little doubt that sooner or later it will supplant our present rough-and-ready system. The sooner this reform is introduced, of course, the more truly representative our legislative bodies will be.

Why Deer But Not Foxes?

Recently we published on this page some observations which the Ottawa Journal made about fox-hunting; it thought that the expense of time and effort and money was ridiculous when "a bullet or a trap would do the job so much more quickly and cheaply". Nor is the Journal alone in these views; several Canadian papers have been popping off about fox-hunting recently.

Of course fox-hunting is expensive and rather silly; but expensiveness and silliness are characteristics of every popular sport. To put the matter less baldly, every sport which is enthusiastically followed is bounded by rigid conventions. To talk about shooting a fox is logical, but it is repugnant to a fox-hunter. It is also logical to poison a deer if you want to put its horns over your front door, but we have never heard of a deer-hunter in good standing who did so. The essence of a sport is that it requires some set task to be accomplished according to arbitrary and illogical rules.

To hunt the fox a man must have a special riding outfit, a good horse, and a knowledge of the rules of the game; thus equipped, he follows the hounds until they kill the fox, and then he rides home, well content.

Several of our contemporaries think this silly, but let us consider this typically Canadian picture: a middle-aged business or professional man equips himself with a special suit of clothes and a costly gun, and goes into the forest; he crouches behind the bushes, and lies on his belly for hours on end, until at last a deer passes by; then he (1) fires at it and kills or maims it, (2) fires at it and misses it, (3) looks into its beautiful eyes, thinks of Home and Mother, and pretends he never saw it. He calls this 'hunting'; but if he really wanted venison a butcher would get it for him without any trouble at all.

The fox-hunter is silly; the deer-hunter is silly. But they are both having a good time and, upon the whole, they are harmlessly and healthfully employed. We wish them both good luck and good sport for we enjoy several silly games ourself. But we do not like to see a nation of deer-hunters mocking a nation of fox-hunters. It is simply pot calling kettle black.

The Attack On Venereal Disease

Ottawa has acted wisely in decreeing that no man shall be discharged from the Canadian armed services if he is suffering from communicable venereal disease. In war such diseases spread rapidly, and there is always danger that a man returning from war will infect his wife, or perhaps his bride and any children who may subsequently be born to him. Canada is the first nation to take steps to prevent the spread of venereal infection in this way.

The suggestion was made recently by a church group that couples who intend to marry should submit certificates of health to the officiating parson, as well as a marriage license. There is great merit in this idea and if it were to become the common procedure many tragic marriages could be avoided. The position of the churches in this matter would be a delicate one; no conscientious clergyman would unite two people whose offspring were likely to be seriously handicapped by venereal infection. But it would not be altogether easy for a clergyman to refuse to marry a couple for that reason if he thought that some less scrupulous agent would be willing to do so. The onus of refusal ought not to be put on the clergy. It would be a simple matter to make the presentation of a certificate of health by both parties a condition of receiving a marriage license.

This should cause no insuperable inconvenience. Venereal disease, in its early phases, can be cured with a little time and patience. The delay and restraint which was necessary in some cases would be a trifling price to pay for better national health and a decreased number of wrecked marriages. The fight against venereal disease is of first importance in any campaign for better national health, and it is certain that it can be checked and reduced to a minimum if we are courageous in our measures of control.

The Vengeance of The Oppressed

Dramatic, lurid and unsavoury incidents are being reported from those parts of Europe in which Fascism has recently been put to rout. Consider the case in Rome in which the former jail director of that city, Donata Caretta, was dragged from the court-room where he was a witness, was held in a river until he was drowned, and was then posthumously hanged.

There is no doubt about it, Caretta was a despicable creature. While the Fascists were in power he used his position to extort money from the relatives of those who were held as hostages or political prisoners. Upon payment of a large sum, he would promise to procure a prisoner's escape. But he betrayed those from whom he extorted money, for he never made any attempt to save any of his prisoners. He was hated by the Roman populace as only such a cold-blooded double-crosser can be.

Justice in Italy must be administered in a very odd way. The President of the court actually issued tickets to the wives and mothers of men whom Caretta had betrayed, in order that they might see him meet his fate. But when Caretta appeared they took the law into their own hands, and killed him in a riot which was estimated to have included 7,000 angry people.

Some of us here in Canada may be inclined to shake our heads over the violence of the Italian mob which slew Caretta. We have no right to judge them. Canada has never seen such dark days as Europe, and we have no way of knowing how we should behave under similar circumstances. We may be sure that the spetcacle of a tyrant on trial is a provocation to riot, and such provocations cannot always be resisted.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A couple in Toronto recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary. That is quite a stretch of wedded blitz.

A wrestler died the other day at the age of 44. That's what these sedentary occupations do to a man.

A sweater worn by a Kitchener man burst unaccountably into flames twice in two days. Perhaps it concealed a glowing heart or a burning faith.

"The bride looked lively in a floor-length gown of white chiffon" says a social note in a weekly paper. This sounds like a great improvement on the Found Drowned look which so many brides consider appropriate to the nuptial day.

"A Sensible War"

By B. T. RICHARDSON

QUEBEC: The words of the single brief communique issued by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, at a press conference Saturday afternoon marking completion of the second Allied war planning conference at Quebec, showed the most serious difficulty for the planners has been to find room and opportunity for marshalling against Japan the massive forces which each and all are ardent to engage against the enemy.

The shape of the Pacific war became clearer as the two leaders spoke in turn of the conference they had just concluded. Mr. Roosevelt used that favourite word of the American strategist, "logistics," problem of distance. Men and guns and supplies must travel 6,000 miles to confront the Japanese, not merely 2,000 miles to Europe. These were his figures, actually on the conservative side, for the front against Japan is around the world, 9,000 or 10,000 miles from the training camps and munitions plants of America. Mr. Roosevelt cleared up one point—the Pacific war is not going to be entirely a naval war. There will be land operations on a great scale, he indicated, but to understand the scale of land forces required it is important to remember that, against Japan, the Allies have "so much sea space, so little land space."

This means that employment for a large proportion of the Allied land forces in Europe, including Canadians, cannot be found in the Pacific.

THE sole difficulty in the second Quebec conference had been, as Mr. Churchill put it, that the British felt the United States were keeping far too much of the Pacific war to themselves. "We must have a fair share of the good things of life," he said, amid laughter from 150 correspondents. An "amicable agreement" had been reached in dividing the honours of defeating Japan. Britain would have massive forces in the Pacific war, all that could be transported and maintained there. But to make matters more complicated, other volunteers wanted to be in at the finish. Canada and other dominions had insisted and obtained a share in the war against Japan. "We have all asserted our rights to be in at the death," said Mr. Churchill, raising another laugh. "So what? So that can be given full publicity." The laughter spread around, enveloped reporters and photographers, and staid McGill University officers in academic robes. These strange additions to the press conference had lingered behind after conferring honorary degrees on Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill.

The terrace of the Citadel, 250 feet above the glassy surface of the St. Lawrence, basked in warm September sunshine. The black cannon, shining in new paint for the occasion, pointed across at Levis and down river to the isle of Orleans, recalling the day when British General Wolfe embarked on the first modern amphibious operation. "This is where they could not keep the Wolfe from the door," quipped Christopher Morley, the bearded American author, who gets paid handsomely for writing comments like that.

MR. ROOSEVELT sat in the middle, Mr. Churchill on his right, Mr. King on his left. Correspondents squatted a few feet way, dozens more pressing behind to hear. Mr. Roosevelt was thinner than those who were here last year remembered him. His cigarette-holder had an even jauntier angle of elevation. He was healthily tanned, wearing a blue-grey suit, a sporty bow tie. As Mr. Churchill was speaking, Mr. King happened to whisper something to Mr. Roosevelt, who leaned towards him and cupped his ear to catch the Canadian Prime Minister's words. Mr. King's impeccable grey suit, speckled tie, and thin black ribbon running to his glasses tucked in his vest pocket, revealed a man little changed from the year before. Mr. King is 69 years old; Mr. Churchill 70, and Mr. Roosevelt 62. But Mr. King seems the youngest of the three. Mr. Churchill wore morning clothes, a black jacket, striped trousers, a correct but defiant tie, and he smoked a big cigar. His eyes sparkle and his face colours slightly as he gets into his speaking stride, and the old Churchillian phrases begin to roll. He lit his cigar after he finished talking, a grin on his round features. His eye lit on Mrs. Churchill seated near, and he leaned over and gave her an affectionate pat. The brief statement they issued revealed, more than the men themselves, how much history has run down the eaves of times in a short year since they sat in almost the same place and told about the same number of newspapermen that plans had been devised for waging war to its climax. They had not been able to say much about them then, but the enemy and everyone knew them today. Again Mr. Churchill was saying that the enemy shall know soon enough what was decided at Quebec, and the very phrase struck a chord of memory so that he and others laughed.

"That is what I said last year," he admitted. "What then was secret is now apparent; what was then concealed is now known; what was then an egg, is now afoot; what was then a sprout is now a giant forest tree; what was then a design is now a mortal blow against our enemy."

OF the conference, the joint statement said: "They reached decisions on all points both with regard to the completion of the war in Europe, now approaching its final stages, and the destruction of the barbarians of the Pacific." One judges Mr. Churchill wrote that phrase, for he used the word "barbarians" in his free-wheeling remarks to the press later. Regarding Europe, Mr. Roosevelt said they were not yet willing to forecast a specific date for the surrender of Germany.

Mr. Roosevelt, speaking of Canada as a comrade-in-arms, disclosed that Canadians will be integrated with American forces against Japan. We of the United States, he said, have fought alongside the Canadians, and we will keep on fighting alongside each other all the way across the Pacific. Such a statement will occasion speculation on Canada's future role in the war against Japan, for it opened the prospect that, as well as sending forces to the Mountbatten command, Canada will also contribute to American naval command areas.

The sheer power of phrase-making displayed by Churchill cannot fail to astonish. He far excels Mr. Roosevelt at this. He could not pretend to speak with humility today, said Mr. Churchill. He summed up the Allied war effort simply: "We have conducted a sensible war." To refer to the gigantic Allied organization of a global war, now paying double dividends of victory, as "a sensible war," must take its place among the classic examples of under-statement in English language.

Charlemagne's Capital

(NEW YORK TIMES)

AACHEN, better known to most of us as Aix-la-Chapelle, Charlemagne made the northern capital of his empire. His father, Pippin, built a palace there before him. The town owes its splendor to the son. He loved the place. In his time it was the centre of a learned and cultivated society. There, in the course of more than five hundred years, thirty-two kings or emperors were crowned. In the sixteenth century the feeling that Aachen was too near the French and too far from central Germany was at last turned into action; and from 1562 emperors were elected and crowned at Frankfort-on-Main. But Aachen, a free imperial city, must long have been good to live in, for the citizens of such a city were not subject to feudal customs, to tolls and taxes, or to attachment of their goods or persons.

The core of Aachen is old. A new and handsome town lies around it. The fourteenth century Town Hall, built on the ruins of Charlemagne's palace, encloses the great hall of coronation. Of the Minister, the coronation church, since 1930 a cathedral, the most ancient part is the domed octagon, built about 800 as Charlemagne's palace chapel. Hence part of the name of the city. It is the tradition that the tomb of Charlemagne was underneath the dome. According to legend, the Emperor Otto III in 1000 found him still wearing his coronation robes and sitting in his marble chair. So in the Untersberg in Bavaria he is still sitting. When his white beard has grown three times around the stone table before him, the world will end. His bones are now in a shrine in the Hungarian chapel. In 1906 William II, doubtless for the purpose of showing his disrespect for a person who had dared to be so much mightier and greater than himself, had the coffin opened, ostensibly for the purpose of having the robes moved to Berlin and reproduced.

For in the twentieth century, as through the Middle Ages, Aachen did a great business in cloth and needles. Thus the venerable Carolingian city is something like what Birmingham would be if Westminster Abbey were in it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

POLLUTION OF LITTLE LAKE

Sir,—It is with much appreciation that I have noticed from time to time, references in your paper regarding the pollution of Little Lake, and the subsequent overflow of this condition into the Otonabee River.

I have operated my present cruiser on the Trent Waterway for sixteen years, and previous to that had a smaller launch.

I have never noticed such a filthy, polluted condition as we have had to endure this past season.

I have only docked at the George Street Wharf twice this season, and the visible suspended filth in the water has been most embarrassing to owner and guests.

I have talked with several yachtsmen from the U.S.A. and they marvel at the beauty and possibilities of our waterway. Our fish have become sickly; livestock drink the river water, swimming is prohibited, and even canoeing is not as pleasant as it could be, due to this condition.

In the interests of the general health of this city, and post-war tourist attraction, cannot this condition be improved, or even corrected?

Thanking you for valued space.

H. N. SELLON.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE ARENA

Sir,—Now that the drive for the Community Health Centre is finally underway it might be an excellent time to answer several questions which seem to be in everyone's mind. I honestly believe that far greater success will be obtained in the drive if the answers to these questions are fully explained.

The questions as I find them are as follows:

1. Will this Centre be operated completely as a business proposition with a manager who is competent in both business and sport or will it be left at the mercy of a committee who, in my opinion, have no place in the operation of a business proposition?

2. What are the prices to be for hockey, lacrosse etc.? This is one of the main questions asked and in fairness to the subscribers should be definitely decided now.

3. Why is the sport centre not to be equipped with bowling alleys? This should be one of the main attractions as it is almost impossible for the general public to obtain an alley elsewhere when the shop leagues are operating. Cost should not be the answer to this question as other business people have definitely found them to be a paying proposition.

4. Will the centre be open to the public at all times for skating, etc., or just at certain hours and certain days?

5. Has provision been made for training young players in all sports? Will the youngsters have certain hours to play free from all contact with older players?

6. As the general public are asked to subscribe a certain portion of the cost, will they have the right to use the centre in proportion or will they be at the mercy of the different shop leagues at all times?

7. Why not eliminate completely the standing room? Not all people are able to afford reserve seats, but, as it is a Community undertaking they at least have a right to a seat.

These questions might have been taken up at the meetings but a published statement of proposals would, I am sure be appreciated.

Yours very truly,
H. R. LONG.

THE POPE' POSITION

Sir,—A letter of insult to His Holiness Pope Pius XII appeared in the issue of September 14 which cannot go unchallenged. Most Protestants will view this attempt to belittle the head of the Catholic Church here upon earth, with hard-favoured contempt.

Irrespective of race, creed or denomination it is an established fact that the spiritual leaders of all Christendom today are men of peace, and certainly the Holy Father is not the least of these, even though Mr. A. G. Warren of Peterborough might like to have readers of the Examiner believe such to be the case.

His Holiness would like nothing better right now than to see lasting peace with justice for all. But he cannot guarantee it; neither can the Archbishop of Canterbury. The political leaders of this or any other day have little if any respect for the views of ecclesiastical authorities on political matters.

The fact that a certain army of troops is given a blessing before going into battle does not necessarily mean that the Pope or priest favours that side in battle. He can turn around five minutes later and give a similar benediction to the enemy, proving that his love and God's love embraces friend and foe alike. His office definitely requires impartiality in spirtual matters.

We are all God's children and the fact that some of us turn against our Creator and commit many grievous sins (speaking from both a personal and a national standpoint) at various times, this does not change our fundamental status in the sight of the Church insofar as our possibilities for salvation are concerned. Each individual has a soul and he must have an opportunity for salvation.

Furthermore, there is no limit to the number of times a man may be given an opportunity to repent his sins and attain salvation.

The Holy Father is interested therefore only in the salvation of as many of God's children as possible. When he gives a blessing to an army of troops it is given for the souls of the men or women taking part in the expedition and not as some may think, for the success of the enterprise itself. The Holy Father is interested not in the temporal but in the spiritual success of his children.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, it is my opinion that such letters as the one to which I have reference are not in the best interests of unity in this country at the present time, and should be discouraged by all men, regardless of creed. We do not want any of our Church leaders to be unjustly attacked by members of the laity or by any lesser clergymen of any denomination.

There are many different denominations professing Christ at the present time, and there is every indication that the number will increase greatly with the passage of time. We can't all think alike. But let us not be bitter toward one another. Let us not attack the leaders of these various groups and let us not quarrel among ourselves.—Yours respectfully,

FREDERICK W. M. MAYBEE.

A Bible Message

And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them. (Deut. 5: 1.)

When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee, thou shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations...

Thou shalt be perfect with the Lord thy God. (Deut. 18: 9, 13.)

As for God, his way is perfect; the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him. For who is God, save the Lord? and who is a rock, save our God?

God is my strength and power: and he maketh my way perfect. (II Sam. 22: 31-33.)

Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. (Matt. 5: 48.)

DESTRUCTIVE MANIA

Before the war the Rostov Region had nine drama theatres and many cinemas attended annually by 145,000 workers, collective farmers, students and others.

The magnificent theatre in Rostov dedicated to Maxim Gorky had a seating capacity of 2,000 and the largest stage in the Soviet Union.

With pedantic consistency and bestial brutality the Germans attempted to destroy every institution of Russian culture and science. After the Nazis were routed it was found that of the nine theatres in the Rostov Region, only one remained intact; the others were reduced to heaps of rubble.—USSR Bulletin.

MUCH-MARRIED GIRLS

Social workers are having to find answer to a new wartime problem—the case of the much-married girl.

I am told that it is not uncommon for a girl in her early twenties to be widowed and married, and widowed again.

Dr. David R. Mace tells me that one of the cases dealt with by the Marriage Guidance Clinic was that of a girl of 21 who had been married and widowed twice in a year. Both her husbands had been operational airmen.

She came to the Clinic to ask for advice as she was contemplating marriage to a parachutist. "She was a highly emotional girl," Dr. Mace said, "but she was serious-minded, and had not entered into her marriages lightly.

"It is most difficult to know how to deal with such problems."—Sunderland Echo.

FOOD RESERVES

Invasion might have brought a food emergency at home, and big stocks were built up to meet it. They have not yet been touched. This good news comes from Colonel Llewellin, Minister of Food, who, having taken over a going concern seven months ago, is now able to report that the situation is highly satisfactory. The prospect, indeed, is that our rations, with the exception of milk, which always fluctuates seasonally, will be maintained for the rest of the year. Here is a record of quiet, painstaking achievement for which we can all be thankful. Let us not forget those who made it so—the brave men of the Royal Navy and the Merchant Service, and the farmers, whose whole-hearted industry helped to fill the nation's wartime larder.—London Sunday Chronicle.

Unconsidered Trifles

Jackson missed his train the other evening, so he went to have his hair cut to while away the time till the next train left. When he entered the barber's shop he was in no amiable frame of mind.

"Cut it without conversation," he growled, as he took his place in the chair. "Don't want any hair restorer, scalp invigorator, dandruff eradicator, face lotion, or anything else. I don't interest myself in boxing, racing or football. As regards the weather...."

Here a customer nudged Jackson's elbow.

"You'll have to write it down on his slate," he said. "He's deaf and dumb."

No Men Are Indispensable

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21—(AP)—Apparently unruffled by two escapes from serious injury, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York prepared to board a refurnished campaign train Wednesday for San Francisco and a speech there Thursday night.

Without referring to a train wreck which had delayed his arrival for several hours or to a narrow escape when the auto bringing him here swerved to avoid a truck, Gov. Dewey told a cheering crowd of about 7,000 persons here last night that in the making of "a people's peace" there could be no 'indispensable man."

He declared:

"Let's have no more pretence about indispensable men. There are no indispensable men. If our republic after 150 years of self-government is dependent upon the endless continuance of one man in office, then the hopes which animated the men who fought for the declaration of independence and the constitution have indeed come to nothing."

"The peace we seek," he declared, "must not hang by the slender thread of personal acquaintance of any two or three men. The pages of history are littered with treaties proclaiming permanent peace made privately by rulers of nations and quickly broken.

"This cause is too important to be trusted to discredited methods or to be dependent upon the life span and continued friendship of two or three individuals."

The New York Governor's reference to the "two or three men'" apparently was to President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

BREW BEER

LONDON — (CP). — Last year harvest workers in Suffolk complained of suffering from thirst while they worked, so this year, farmers, anxious to please their hard-to-get help, have arranged with brewers to supply beer to the harvest fields.

Peace River Work Described

BETHANY, Sept. 21 — (ENS) — The September meeting of the women's institute was held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Fallis Monday night. Nineteen members answered the roll call by telling of some article, which could be made from rope.

Mrs. Armstrong, treasurer, reported, that the proceeds from the Labor Day concert were $76, and after bills were paid there was a balance in the bank of $92. Two interesting letters from boys overseas were read by Mrs. Price from Gordon Jarvis and Mrs. Jackson from James Lemon. After discussion, it was decided, to begin at once to prepare for overseas Christmas boxes. Mrs. Jackson was appointed convener with Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Veale and Miss Staples as assistants.

Mrs. Price reporting for the war work said, yarn for 25 more pairs of socks had been received. The home nursing class will resume its activities, commencing today at 8 p.m. in the town hall. Mrs. Thorndyke reporting for the quilt committee said four more quilts were ready for quilting and these would be done on the regular work day.

Mrs. W. L. Rowan, convener of group 1 and in charge of the evening's program, introduced Rev. Mr. Henderson, newly appointed pastor of the United Church, who had come to tell of his work in the Peace River District, where he is a missionary. He spoke of where the Alaska Highway now is, and in view of the fact, that the Kyle family, recent of Bethany are employed there, it was of interest to their friends.

Mrs. Rowan gave a paper of educational value, the cultivation and manufacturing of fiber as the most necessary article to farmers as binder twine, she described how sisal is grown at Yucaton, and how Manila rope fiber is cultivated and how it is manufactured into rope in Hamilton.

A lunch of coffee, sandwiches and cake was served by the hostess and members of group 1.

More Bears Sighted

WARSAW, Sept. 21 — (ENS) — Bears are becoming plentiful around here this fall. A week ago one was caught and destroyed on the farm of John Clysdale and on Saturday Allen Douglas and his brother Oliver were picking cranberries around Maloney's Lake and were started to see a huge bear eating berries from the opposite side of the same bush. Two others were heard and it is presumed it was a mother and two cubs.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 — (AP):—Major Conny Smythe not only made this corner's prediction look good when he turned down the National Hockey League presidency, but he totted the whistle on a situation that seriously handicaps one of the biggest winter sports.....Listen to these remarks from Conny, who never hesitated to throw his weight around for the benefit of his Toronto club: "The league needs a leader with the power of a Judge Landis, full authority to direct affairs, and not a social secretary. To-day the president makes a ruling and it can be wiped out by an appeal to the Board of Governors. All wrong. Let the Governors make rulings, but let the president have final authority. It's time we had a real hockey boss."

By FRED D. CRAIG

With good weather Saturday one of the biggest softball crowds in years will jam into Riverside Park for the battle between Stratford Kroehlers and Peterborough Westclox in the final series for the P.W.S.U. championship. Westclox have been hammering on the door of a provincial title for the past two seasons and Peterborough fans are confident this is the year and that the Big Bens have the class to bring this city an Ontario pennant. The Peterborough girls, well seasoned with experienced players and having in addition the drive and enthusiasm of several promising rookies, have been playing fine softball all season and rose to their best form in their recent series against York Brass, the Toronto intermediate winners. If the Big Bens can play back to that standard in their series with Stratford they should put Kroehlers away. In fact the brand of ball dished out by the Westclockers against the Queen City team, especially in the game at Sunnyside, would have brushed aside last year's Stratford team and from all accounts the 1944 Kroehlers are not as formidable as the 1943 champs. However the Peterborough girls are prepared for a hard series and they expect Stratford to prove real opposition in the opening game which will be staged at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Riverside Park.

When the Westclox Seconds defeated Quakers the other night and cleaned up the junior final series in two straight games they became the first team to win the Quaker Cup, donated to the league this season for competition among the junior clubs. Brintons who won the intermediate title by disposing of the Johnson Motors girls captured the Ron Knox Trophy while Westclox Seniors who won the senior division carried off the Cotton Trophy for the second year in succession. The Cotton Trophy, presented by Ald. R. S. Cotton cannot be won outright but is held merely year by year. In that respect it differed from the Bond Cup, donated to the girls' loop by the late J. Percy Bond. The conditions pertaining ot the Bond Cup were that the handsome trophy became the property of the club winning it three years in succession. Westclox by taking the senior championship in 1940, 1941 and 1942, carried off the Bond Cup for good. Ald. Cotton then arose to the occasion and presented his fine trophy to the league with the stipulation that it could not be won outright. The Big Bens became the first winner of the Cotton Trophy in 1943 and have repeated the trick this season. In other words the Westclockers have won the senior title five years in succession, surely a consistent record, especially in view of the fact that the Big Bens have lost such players as Norma Strickland, Eleanor Craig, Marg Selkirk and Audrey Patterson to other teams and have still gone on winning.

P.C.V.S. back in Cossa football this fall with teams in both the senior and junior divisions is the good news for Peterborough sport fans in an announcement from Collegiate. For the past ten days a big squad of eager young players has been working out under the direction of G. B. Goulding, new athletic instructor at P.C.V.S. and the school expects to field two strong teams." The material is there. The boys are big and rangy and they have a lot of enthusiasm," Coach Goulding remarked last night in discussing the outlook. In the senior division Collegiate will be grouped with Oshawa, Lindsay and possibly Port Hope. That school will enter only one team and if its decision should be to play senior there will be a five-club junior group consisting of Trinity College School, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Whitby and Peterborough C.V.S. However if Port Hope elects to enter a junior team, making six clubs available, the junior teams will be divided into two three-club groups with Peterborough Collegiate juniors likely lining up with Port Hope High School and Cobourg. The Collegiate seniors will invade Lindsay for the opening game on Saturday, October 7.

The return of the Peterborough school to Cossa football circles will be applauded by local rugby fans. For many years the local Collegiate squads provided thrilling colorful football and the absence of school teams from interscholastic competition in recent years has left a big gap. Collegiate won the Cossa title three seasons ago but nearly every member of that clever squad is in the armed services and there has been no Cossa rugby for Peterborough since. Two seasons ago the game was not played at all and although there was a revival last season and several teams organized at the school and practiced throughout the season P.C.V.S. was not represented in the Cossa competition and one exhibition game in which by the way the squad made a fine showing represented their schedule. The decision to get back into school sport and to operate both junior and senior squads will surely have the approval of the Peterborough football fans who will start looking forward to some of those thrill-filled Saturday afternoons Collegiate squads of the past have contributed. The debut of this year's teams will be awaited with keen interest and Collegiate is already assured of a big following.

"Is that three game setback from the Athletics the tipoff that this season's Yanks do not possess the stuff to go through to a pennant?" asks Bill Gaynon in the Niagara Falls Gazette. "The defending champs have been able to remain consistent winner in past races by coming through with victories in the games that they had to win. With a stiff two week road jaunt confronting them and three other clubs serious contenders, no set of games carried more importance than the recent three with Connie Mack's lowly A's. The Mackmen had been pretty much of the cousin variety in earlier meetings with Marse Joe's boys, so the experts figured the Stadium occupants to close out their home league season with three triumphs. Such an outcome would have kept the Gotham boys in first place, but a trio of losses and two wins for both the Tigers and Browns, dropped the defending titleholders to third place. Possibly, they will recoup the lost ground by cleaning the boards against the rival contenders on this present trip west, but both the Brownies and Tigers are rushing for that pot of gold, and downing such opposition is by no means a soft assignment. So it's just possible that the failure to gain a win against the second division Mack charges will bear a greater significance as the squads come within sight of the finishing gate."

New York Yanks and the Boston Red Sox can be counted out of the American League race. The McCarthyites were shelled out of the second game of the Detroit series yesterday, losing 8 to 2 and that about finishes the once-devastating Yankees. Dizzy Trout held the losers to seven hits while the rampaging Bengals hammered Queen and Bevens for a dozen solid blows and won going away. At the same time Cleveland Indians managed to win a picnic brand game from the Boston Red Sox 11 to 10 in 13 innings and any faint hope the Cronin club may have had of getting up there before the finish floated out on the September breeze. St. Louis Browns, on the contrary, are refusing to fold. They knocked off the Washington Senators 5 to 2 on good pitching by Jack Kramer and are only a game and a half behind the leaders, representating the only menace remaining in the path of the Tigers.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: All the St. Louis Cards need to cinch the National League pennant is a win for themselves or a loss for the Pittsburg Pirates....However neither of these developments seems to be in a hurry....The Cards did not play yesterday so they couldn't win and the Pirates who did play refused to lose, defeating Brooklyn 2 to 1....So the champs had to postpone the nailing of the 1944 title....Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout, great pitching team of the Detroit Tigers threaten to set a new two-man record....So far Newhouser has copped 26 wins and Trout grabbed off his 25th yesterday so that the duo already have a total of 51 triumphs....The marks set by Lefty Grove and George Earnshaw and also by the Dean brothers are both threatened....Toronto Sunday Morning Class have been eliminated from the Cleveland tourney, suffering their second loss yesterday....By beating the Phillies last night Bucky Walters, grand old man of the Cincinnati Reds' staff hung up his 22nd victory.

Offer Smythe Old Job Again

TORONTO, Sept. 21.— (CP).—Directors of Maple Leaf Gardens at a meeting yesterday invited Major Conny Smythe to return to his position as managing director of the Gardens as soon as he recovers from wounds he received in Normandy. In the meantime they invited him to serve as a member of the executive committee of the board of directors.

Major Smythe, now convalescing in Chorley Park Military Hospital, announced Tuesday he would not accept the presidency of the National Hockey League offered to him by the N.H.L. board of governors.

Toronto Girls Eliminated In U.S. Softball

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21 (AP)—Both Toronto softball teams were eliminated Wednesday as the World Amateur Softball Tournament narrowed its field of both men's and women's teams for semi-final play today.

Phoenix (Ariz.) Ramblers won a women's division game from Toronto Sunday Morning Class, 2 to 1, dropping the Canadians from the tournament despite a 15-strikeout performance by Toronto pitcher Alma Wilson.

The Ferguson Auditors of Columbus, O., bumped Toronto's Tip Tops from the men's division with a 4-to-2 victory as Warren Gerber pitched a no-hit game. Tom Kitso homered in the 12th inning with a mate on base, after Tip Tops knotted the count with a pair of unearned runs.

Four teams in each division will meet in the semi-finals Thursday afternoon, the winners meeting in finals tonight.

The Salt Lake City (Utah) Market Inn Men eliminated the Monowatt Electric team of Cranston, R.I., 5 to 2.

Marge Wood, Cleveland Erin Brews' hurler, pitched her 53rd inning in winning her fifth game with a 7-to-0 victory over the Omaha (Neb.) Jeep Bars. The defeat sent the Omaha team home.

Selkirk Back With Beaches Team Is Strong

TORONTO, Sept. 21—For more than an hour last night Navy Bulldogs and Balmy Beach-Tip Tops playfully cuffed each other around the practice field in a healthy scrimmage test designed to fit both teams for impending league games.

Navy inaugurates the Ontario Service Football League season at Varsity Stadium against Camp Borden Fliers this week. Beaches don't get going until a week Saturday in the O.R.F.U.

In the gathering dusk Coaches Ted Morris and Alex Ponton shifted from offense to defense and back again and it was a beneficial work-out for both clubs. Onlookers enthused at the open running and quick breaking plays of both teams. This was tempered with the excited cries of the rival coaches as they reprimanded or complimented their men on carrying out their assignments.

Size to Spare!

Two of the largest first-string winglines in the country faced each other, but the less experienced Navy kids didn't concede a thing to the Balmies. Fellows like Len Staughton, Bill Zock, Gord Downard, with years of gridiron doings behind 'em, had trouble combing willing characters like Steve Pruski, Al French, Hank McMahon, Art Niero and Al Upper from their thinning hair.

Earl Selkirk's hard-running and smooth ball-handling kept Morris' Tars well spread, and the veteran Earl proved a hard man to stop.

"Who's that guy?" asked one young sailor as the fleet-footed Earl scampered away for a large gain.

"That's Earl Selkirk," a bystander told him.

"The guy that used to play with Argos?"

"The same."

"Oh, that's different, I don't feel so badly now," confided the navy youngster. "Gee, I used to pay to see him play!"

Ponton's going to have a nifty backfield this season. He has the pick of Toronto high school stars, boys such as Billy Meyers, Bert Hamm, Boris Tipoff, to blend with Selkirk, Frankie Stukus, Sammy Sward, Hardy Awrey and Red Gilbert. It may be a potent concoction.

Waldon Shows Form

Navy's ace was stocky Tommy Waldon, whose driving, running and sound defensive tackling should help Morris' team quite a bit. Waldon, with one year of senior ball behind him, looks like he's going to come into his own this year. Last season he was overshadowed, to some extent, by the brilliant Royal Copeland Annis Stukus, who is on leave, didn't practice with Navy, but Coach Morris had Jim O'Brien, Bob Canning, Pat White and Byron Karrys on his backfield. There's speed in that thar back division, men.

Navy's crying need this year, as Coach Morris sees it, is men of experience. He hopes to offset the lack of this fine football commodity with speed and deception on his backfield and a charging wingline.

The sailors of HMCS York are fairly well advanced in training, something which drew praise from Beaches' Alex Ponton. When they tackle Camp Borden in the Service League opener Tedder expects to find the answer to a lot of things.

Gaudaur With Borden

FO. Jim Mathews, press agent of the Borden Fliers, announced yesterday that the Fliers had acquired big Jake Gaudaur, former centre for RCAF Hurricanes and Argonauts. The ex-sculling star will certainly help their cause. Mike Ozarko, another experienced lineman par excellence, is with the Bordens.

Freddie Kijek and Doug Pyzer, former ace backfielders with RCAF Hurricanes, and Ken Jamieson, a semi-pro gridder from the United States, are on the Borden backfield. Jamieson does the passing, is said to be quite a ball of fire. Kijek's kicking ability and Pyzer's speed are well-known assets.

Saturday's gala opener starts at 2:45 p.m. and will be preceded by a parade of Navy and Air Force bands and units.

"RED" DUTTON—The National Hockey League is indirectly represented on the H.M.C.S. "Assiniboine," a Canadian river class destroyer, by Able Seaman Norman Dutton, son of Mervyn (Red) Dutton, president of National Hockey League, and former famous hockey player. By coincidence young Dutton is also called Red by his shipmates.

Trout Scores 25th Win Downs Yanks 8-2

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

"Hold that Tiger!" was the American League's theme song today, but it was beginning to look as though something more desperate was in order if Detroit's Bengals were to be kept out of the 1944 World Series.

Steve O'Neill's ferocious cats had clawed the opposition at a 13-to-17 pace since Sept. 1 to scramble past both St. Louis and New York.

With only 12 games to go and a lead of 1½ games on the Brownies, the Tigers dominated the picture today. Two straight over the Yankees had practically eliminated the defending champs.

Over the harvest month stretch, O'Neill's batting order, paced by Dick Wakefield, Rudy York and Roger (Doc) Cramer, had slugged out a .302 average, while the pitching corps had tamed the enemy with an anaemic .242 figure.

Twelve Detroit hits off rookies Mel Queen and Floyd Bevens helped Paul (Dizzy) Trout to his 25th victory yesterday with an 8-2 edge over New York. Wakefield belted an inside-the-park homer and two singles to make it easier for Trout, who was in trouble only once, when Frank Crosetti hit a two-run homer in the seventh.

Reliefer Jim Bagby stopped Boston in a wild-hitting contest won by Cleveland with two in the 13th, 11-10. Chicago broke loose with six runs in the seventh to give Orval Grove a 6-1 verdict over Philadelphia's Russ Christopher.

Bucky Walters grabbed his 22nd win by beating the Phils in the nightcap, 6-4, after Charley Schanz had stopped the Reds in the opener, 3-2. Pittsburgh downed Brooklyn 2-1 to keep the idle Cardinals from mathematically clinching the flag. Other games were rained out.

Bisons Two Up On Baltimore

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 21.—(AP).—Buffalo Bisons today hold a 2-0 lead over Baltimore Orioles in the International League's best-of-seven semi-final playoff series.

A three-hit pitching performance by Walter Wilson, alert base running by league batting champion Mayo Smith, and rain, which limited the game to seven innings, combined last night to give the Bisons a 1-0 decision over Baltimore, 1944 pennant winners.

Red Embree, Baltimore ace who made an unsuccessful start against the Bisons in the series opener Sunday, allowed six hits but didn't let a runner get beyond first base until the sixth when Smith scored the only run of the game.

Smith singled to centre and raced to second when Felix Mackiewicz juggled the ball. He reached third on a passed ball and scored on Bobby Maier's long fly to right field.

The Orioles now face the task of winning four of the remaining five games, if they are to qualify for the final series against Newark.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By PHILIP BLOOMBERG
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP). — A year ago there was some talk of the organization of a full-fledged professional or semi-pro baseball league embracing several large cities in Ontario. However, due to the manpower and transportation situation at the beginning of the summer, the plans entertained—if there were any — were seemingly abandoned.

Besides the possibility of being a paying proposition, baseball men said the idea would help to revive the game after it had been at a low ebb for several years. However, even without the proposed league, the diamond game enjoyed a great year in the province and throughout the country.

Now it appears, n the light of recent events, that if baseball is to retain favor and be prevented from returning to its somewhat stagnant state of the late 30's, a professional league in some form is essential in the province. Similar conditions may exist in other sections of the country.

The boom:

This season's boom actually gained its birth several years ago, when it became apparent that the armed services would drain the leagues in Canada and the United States of many first-class players. Seeing the usual required standard of ability lowered, many aspirants flooded the game.

But now the warriors will soon return. Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League, summed up the situation when he said that if the war ended this winter 75 per cent of the players in his loop likely would not be playing there next season. In general, that implies that very few Canadians will measure up to professional calibre in the next few years. Although many of the better-than-average players developed in Western Ontario, the Niagara district and the Pacific Coast may continue to play for the love of the game and its slight financial returns, baseball would hold little promise for the youngsters. And, after all, it's the kids who mould the future.

A professional loop in Ontario, and even in other parts of the country, could preserve and definitely improve the standard of play. Whether it could become a paying proposition would depend on the fans. Perhaps within 10 years they would be witnessing a Canadian World Series.

Bob Hope Wins Teamed With Watrous

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — Bob Hope and Al Watrous outlasted Stan Horne and Bob Gray in a driving rain at Royal York Golf Club yesterday afternoon to win a United Welfare Chest exhibition links contest. The screen-radio comedian and his Maple Leaf Open championship partner locked up the honors at the 16th hole where Watrous dropped a putt for a birdie two.

Approximately $2,000 was raised for the Chest by Public Relations Director Charley Watson and his colleagues from the Royal York outing.

Everybody Water-Logged

It was an endurance test, both for Hope and the gallery that formed the biggest single caddying group attached to a newspaper headliner here in years. It started to rain as the foursome headed for the second tee and by the time a couple more holes had been played a good percentage of the crowd had become water-logged casualties.

Hope was given a six-stroke premium by Horne and Gray in a pre-game handicap arrangement and used one of the strokes at the ninth hole to put his side one up. The party was all square going to the 16th where Watrous dropped his deuce. Both Gray, the Scarboro pro and Watrous birdied the 17th and 18th.

Watrous finished with a par 72 to top the exhibitionists, one stroke less than Scarboro Gray's 73. Horne, the popular Montreal professional and low Canadian in the recent Tam O'Shanter Open in Chicago, had 75. Hope's card was 82.

"My biggest mistake," said Hope afterward, "was in talking about the weather. I should have known it was the open season for ducks in Ontario. When that water started pouring down I expected any minute to hear a shotgun explode and find myself scattered over the fairways."

Introduced at a pre-match luncheon at the Royal York Club, Hope had congratulated Charles Watson and his aides on providing what he called, "transplanted California weather." There wasn't a suspicion of rain until the foursome and gallery had swung away from the first tee.

Surrounded by an admiring crowd, most of them scrambling for autographs, Hope lost his way while hunting the practice fairway before the start. He wound up doing a merry-go-round in the parking lot. After canning a long putt on the practice green, Hope called out, "Bring on the other pros, the customers are waiting."

Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw Leads at Seigniory

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., Sept. 21 — (CP). — Mrs. J. C. Whitelaw of Montreal today held a 10-stroke lead over Mrs. H. Soper of Kaniwaki, Que., at the end of the first 18 holes of the Seigniory Club's annual invitation tournament.

Mrs. Whitelaw went out in 38 yesterday and came back in 43 for 81 strokes against a par for the course of 77. The final round will be played today.

Mrs. Soper posted 42-49 for 91 and Mrs. G. Begin of Montreal had 43-49 for 92 in a tie with Mrs. B. E. Dolan of Ottawa who was carded at 44-48.

Mrs. Whitelaw, who has won the annual tournament three times, paraded six holes and scored two birdies on the out-going trip and scored six par holes on the return.

Carmel Church Has Anniversary

MILLBROOK, Sept. 21 — (ENS) —Carmel church anniversary was observed on Sunday at 3 o'clock, with Rev. W. E. Honey, of Cavan, as guest speaker, and music provided by the male quartette of St. Andrew's United church, Millbrook, Messrs. Might, Coombes, McDowell and Ingham.

The theme of the service was the task of re-building the world, based on the lessons learned from the great patriot, Nehemiah, who put earnestness, integrity and vigilance into the work. The supreme need is for a regenerated leadership conveying the spirit of christ to the world, so that Christian principles may so permeate public opinion, and no government can act against it, Mr. Honey declared.

W.I. Holds Talk On War, Peace

WARSAW, Sept. 21 — Mrs. Hilliard Rav, vice-president, presided for the Women's Institute meeting which was held in the Institute rooms. Owing to the many corn cuttings being done the attendance was small.

The treasurer reported another $2 donation to the jam for Britain Fund and a balance on hand of $154.29. Mrs. Trevor Watts was appointed leader of the girls' project club, and was asked to choose her own assistant. A general invitation was given, to all members who could get away, to attend the annual Convention in Toronto, November 14, 15, and 16, the theme of which will be "Greater Cooperation for Service in Rural Life".

It was decided that the expense would be too great to prepare the rooms for rental so the offer for rent was tuned down. Mrs. George Weller gave the paper on "Cause of wars, how to make the peace and be a good citizen." The October meeting will be "visitors day" and will be at the home of Mrs. Luther Payne.

Personals

A large crowd attended the shower in the town hall Friday night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ferguson (Florence Payne). Many beautful gifts were presented the young couple.

Pte. Earl Digweed, Barriefield, spent the week-end with Mrs. Digweed and Kenneth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Baker, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Graham, Mount Albert, were week-end guests of M. and Mrs. Geo. Weller.

FEMALES PAINTED

WARWICK, England — (CP). — Rev. L. G. Coats, Anglican vicar, has protested against "females who present themselves at the altar rails with made-up lips which leave a deposit on the chalice," and threatened that they "may eventually render it necessary to deny them the Cup."

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XC, No. 225 — THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1944 — PAGE NINE

TWO SONS OVERSEAS — Mrs. W. Emery, 288 Westcott street, has two boys overseas, one a prisoner of war. Pte. Sidney Hadlow (Left) was captured at Crete in 1941 while serving with the Australian Army. He went to Australia at the age of 7 with the Barnardo Home, and enlisted when war broke out. His brother, Sgmn. William Hadlow (Right), who is serving in Italy, has also seen a lot of country. He went to New Zealand from England when he was 16 years old, with a Boy Scout group. He remained there 10 years and came to Canada seven years ago. Prior to enlisting he worked for the DeHaviland plant in Toronto.

Main Street Topics

GETTING READY.

Along some of the city's residential streets this morning, many piles of waste paper were seen on porches and verandahs, indicating that Peterboroughites were starting early, to get ready for the big drive this evening.

HONOR PAST PRESIDENT

Kiwanis will honor a past president of the club, J. L. Pettit, for many years head of the History Department at the Collegiate, at its dinner Friday. Mr. Pettit, who is to be guest speaker at the meeting, will be leaving Peterborough in the near future.

GOOD NEWS.

Mrs. Edward O'Connor, 591 Payne Avenue, who was notified a week ago that her husband had been wounded in France on August 27, while serving with the Toronto Scottish, has now heard from Ottawa that this was an error. Pte. O'Connor was not wounded and is still in action.

SKUNKS MOVE IN

Residents of Oxford street have appealed to the council to order the razing of a house at 627½ as a menace to public health. A petition signed by fifteen of the householders on that street mentioned in their letter that a nest of skunks have taken malodorous possession. "The only thing we can do," said Mayor Hamilton, "is to have the place inspected by Chief Gimblett. Maybe he would condemn it; then we could take action."

BLOOD DONORS.

Eighty-eight donations of blood were made at the Clinic Wednesday. There were 28 contributors from the C.G.E. - Genelco, and the Quaker Oats, Peterborough Lock Co. and De Laval were also represented. Donors from out-of-town came from Lakefield, Lakehurst, Burleigh Falls, Warsaw, Windsor, Bethany, Ida and Marmora. A 19th donation was made by Allan G. Gribble, of Bethany, while 10th donations were given by Harold Collins and Wilf Christmas.

RECRUITS TO RANGERS

Two young men from Omemee and two others from the city have joined the ranks of the 2nd (R) Battalion, Prince of Wales Rangers, this past week. They are Llewellyn Murphy, 267 King George street; Leslie J. Scott and William A. Shaw, Omemee; and Daniel O'Neil of 28 New Romaine street. Eight men, the Rangers' office at the Armouries reports, have left the unit for active service since the beginning of August. They are about equally divided between the Army, Navy and the Merchant Marine.

BANK CLEARINGS.

Bank clearings for the past week amounted to $1,161,835.

CHALLENGE CUP

Mrs. T. N. D. Kelly of Peterborough won the Callaghan Challenge Cup for the best carriage or hackney horse at the Lindsay Fair.

WON $25 DRAW

W. A. Davidson, manager of Peterborough Co-Operative Services, won the CHEX prize of $25 in a draw at Lindsay Fair.

NO DAMAGE

Almost three-quarters of an inch of rain, accompanied by heavy winds, thunder and lightning, that struck Peterborough and other sections of the province Wednesday evening, caused no damage to the city, as far as can be learned.

STILL IN HOSPITAL.

Sgt. Reginald Quirt, who was reported wounded August 13, is still in hospital suffering from wounds in the back and leg. He was hit by shrapnel from German 88's, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Quirt, 425 Sheridan street, have been informed.

COLLECTION DEFINITE

The waste paper collection this evening will be carried out "rain or shine," Mrs. R. Whalen, Peterborough chairman, said today. Citizens are advised that if it is raining at the time of collection, to leave the paper on the verandahs or porches, so that it will not get wet.

RIGHT SPIRIT

The idea of backing the salvage drive for waste paper has really taken hold here. One woman came to the Examiner Wednesday, and paid for a bundle of papers, because she had none at her house to make a bundle, and she was determined the war effort would not be minus her ten-pound quota.

HOLD SUNDAY CAMP

Many members of the 2nd (R) Battalion, Prince of Wales Rangers, will be on hand for an all-day firing practice expedition to the Rifle Ranges this Sunday. The truck convoy will leave the Armouries at 9:30 a.m. and the men are bringing their own haversack lunches. The training will include firing of all infantry weapons with the exception of the mortar.

"HOME TOWNERS"

The two Ashburnham members, Aldermen Curtis and Swanston, swung in behind a request from Lisburn street residents for improvement of pedestrian accommodation. They added Clifton street to the proposal which Alderman Dutton wrote into his memorandum book for the Board of Works. There are no sidewalks on Lisburn, it was said, and the road is not fit for walking in wet weather.

THE SECOND CUP

"About five cups more per day, that's what it comes to," they say at one of Peterborough's favorite haunts of coffee drinkers and headquarters of several regular coffee clubs. Few people, it seems, ask for second cups except those who used to wander out and come back in within a few minutes to keep within a strict interpretation of the rules before rationing was lifted. Therefore, the restaurant attendants say, "No difference to speak of."

VISITS FRIGATE—Rt. Hon. A. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, who recently visited one of Canada's new escort ships, H.M.C.S. "Loch Achanalt." He presented the ship with a phonograph and records from Mrs. Alexander who had christened the ship.

Lots of Applicants

BEDFORD, Ind., Sept. 21—(AP)—Mrs. Zella Clark, 69, advertised for a "good, clean husband who doesn't drink and gets a pension." This week she married William Joacobs, 71, selected, she said, from a long list of applicants.

WANTED
ACTIVE ARMY ADDRESSES

By October 1st for Christmas boxes for every Peterborough man and woman serving in the active army. Phone 5184, 8185, 7152, 8853.

PETERBOROUGH ACTIVE ARMY AUXILIARY

Collect $80,000 Towards Memorial Centre

An estimate of progress in the campaign of the Community Centre indicates that total assured subscriptions now amount to $80,000. The figure for the manufacturers' canvass of $60,000 announced Wednesday, remains unchanged; while it was stated that accumulative total for employees canvas, covering just 13 plants whose reports are still incomplete, has reached the sum of $15,334.00.

Frank Weart, canvassing McDonnel street, paid a call Wednesday on Miss Mary Nicholls, grand old lady of Peterborough who celebrated her 101st birthday this year, and obtained from her a subscription of $5. "That's a great thing for the kiddies," Miss Nicholls told her caller, who had not known just who Miss Nicholls was before he came in. Her advanced years have not dimmed her interest a bit in the welfare of the young folk. Moreover, Mr. Weart was given another donation by Miss Nicholls' housekeeper, whom he had not approached to make a subscription at all.

Meanwhile, plans are going forward to make the giant Youth Rally the success that everyone hopes it will be. Though started on short notice, those members of the Publicity committee responsible for its organization have been working at all hours prefecting arrangements. Time is being devoted to publicizing the event on the air; and the part the youngsters are to take and the fun they can get out of it is being explained to them to-day by speakers in school classrooms.

Adequate care of the children in the marching columns and freedom from worry for every parent whose boys and girls take part is assured by the scheme of surveillance and marshalling of the parade which has been devised in addition to the work of the service clubs accompanying the children on the march. The following, all former soldiers, have volunteered their assistance as parade marshals: Jim Broadhurst, marching with the Girl Guides; Harold White, directing the Boy Scouts; Andy Jackson, with the Air Cadet group; and Bill Rankin, accompanying the Sea Cadets. At Riverside Bowl, on which the four marching columns converge, Joe Gaskill will be in charge, assisted by H. Botnick.

Peterboro Soldier Suffers Eye Wound

Gnr. George Willis Manley, 28, who has been in the thick of the fighting in France since D-Day, was wounded in the eye September 9 by a phosphorus bomb, according to word from Ottawa received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Manley of Otonabee, Wednesday.

In the Army over four years, Gnr. Manley, member of an anti-tank regiment, was wounded at an undisclosed place and is now in hospital. He enlisted June, 1940, and went overseas in October, 1941, remaining in England until the invasion. Letters received by his family here indicate that he has seen a great deal of heavily contested action. The soldier's wife and three sons, aged 6, 4 and 3, are living on a farm in Otonabee.

For a number of years before his enlistment in 1940, Gnr. Manley drove a truck for the Canada Bread Co.

Amateur Garden Brings $31.50

Appreciation and thankfulness of heart for all the benefits received from the Author and Giver of all good things, has from time immemorial found expression in the giving of a part of these bounties back to His service in some form or other, King Solomon the wise in his Proverbs exhorting all men to "Honor the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of thine increase."

At this season of the year, a great many Harvest Thanksgiving Services will be held, all of them with the one great object of giving thanks and praise to the Maker of all good things, part of which will take the form of the participants giving of the material benefits with which they have been blessed, recognized as an outward symbol of the true thankfulness of heart which should direct and govern their accordingly.

Imprinted on the pages of the Good Book are the assertions of the Great Master Himself. That a cup of cold water given in His Name to the needy and thirsty, is given as unto Him; so it would seem that no finer way of giving unto the King of Kings from the bounty wherewith one has been himself blessed, may be found than that of giving to relieve the distress of those who have suffered so much in the zone of hostilities in Britain through air raid attacks by the enemy, and latterly the robot or flying bombs, which only as recently as two days ago killed a number of innocent civilians and again destroyed much property.

Planned deliberately as a means of expressing thanks for the bountiful returns received from his efforts in the horticultural field specifically, and many other things in a general way, one local resident with a fair sized garden quite close to the business district in the city, has all along the line since garden produce and flowers began to come into use towards the end of June, disposed of various products from his own back garden in various ways, in order that these war torn sufferers in Britain may have some help through the local and district fund operating for that purpose.

By this means a total of $31.50 is recorded in this day's receipts for the fund, duplicating at least a similar total that was raised by the same source and individual in the early spring through the sale of seeds and plants.

Coffee Club Assists

In this connection two items have as their source the morning Coffee Club, who participated to the extent of $5.25, of which $3.00 was made from a draw on some early potatoes, peas and flowers, the balance comes from a draw on a mixed basket of fruits such as watermelon, canteloupe, cucumbers, etc., etc., in addition to which some members were represented by individual purchases.

The Examiner staff also participated with a draw on a six quart basket of peas which netted $2.00, and the management also materially assisted through the purchase of some bouquets of flowers for the adornment of the office itself.

The Peterborough Horticultural Society in an indirect way comes into the picture, because the sum of $2.50 awarded in two first and four second prize awards to the grower at their show held in August, are also included in the list of money thus made and turned in to help the fund along.

The balance of $21.75 represents the sale of broad beans, cucumbers, carrots, green beans, onions, sweet tomatoes, beets, and quite a variety of flowers too numerous to mention.

Previously acknowledged	$80247.33
Proceeds of draw on early potatoes, peas and flowers per Coffee Club	3.00

Battery Gets New Equipment

Pursuing a policy of equipping Reserve Army units with the latest in training and technical equipment, National Defence Headquarters have issued a Sperry Predictor and a Telescope Indentification to the 4th (R) H.A.A. Battery, R.C.A.

The addition of the above pieces of equipment now makes the local Battery one of the best equipped units in the Reserve Army, and will add greatly to the efficiency of training during the coming Fall and Winter months.

The Sperry Predictor, which well might be termed a "mechanical brain" is a highly developed and costly technical device, which calculates angles, bearings, and fuze settings, with an almost uncanny mathematical precision. Used in conjunction with the 3.7" H.A.A. gun, this instrument controls the fire of the weapon in such an accurate manner, that it spells almost certain doom for enemy aircraft.

Training Program

Under the capable leadership of Major J. F. C. Maunder, M.C., of Ottawa, who is the Battery Training Officer, a complete and comprehensive program of training for Battery personnel has been mapped out, utilizing to the fullest the wealth of equiment, that is now available. Details of instruction are in the hands of Staff Assistant Instructors, Battery Sergeant-Majors C. W. Crain and G. E. Randall, both fully qualified in all details of anti-aircraft artillery work.

Plans are under way to train specialist detachments in the use of the Predictor, Telescope Identification, and Height and Range Finder. It is anticipated that the latter instrument will be received by the 4th Battery in the immediate future.

In order to fill vacancies in the Unit, caused by enlistments into the Active Army, the Battery extends an invitation to prospective recruits, who are of a scientific turn of mind, to come up to Armouries any Monday or Wednesday evening, and have a look at the latest in anti-aircraft artillery instruments. Particularly, are they seeking recruits among teen-age youths, who have the alertness of mentality, that is so necessary in grasping the details of this highly technical training.

Naval Auxiliary Needs Addresses

The Peterborough and District Women's Auxiliary to the Navy wants to get the name and address as soon as possible of every boy and girl from this city and immediate district serving in the Navy and Merchant Marine.

"We want these names whether the boys and girls are serving in Canada, on the high seas or overseas," said one of the officers of the organization to-day, "and we do not want a single Peterborough or district sailor or Wren to be overlooked when we send out our Christmas parcels. But we are absolutely dependent upon the friends and relatives to send in the names and latest addresses. Without them we can do nothing and so we urge quick action. It may be that there are some boys who enlisted here who have no relatives in Peterborough. We are asking that in such cases some friend send in the information. We would rather have some one reported half a dozen times than miss any one."

Names may be sent, preferably by mail, to any one of the three following: Mrs. Fred Board, 778 Water street, phone 5592, Mrs. Walter Wheeler, 29 Brown street, phone 4778, or Mrs. Fred D. Craig, 544 Water street, phone 5591.

The Auxiliary is also anxious to get as many copies as possible of pocket novels, and the various "Digest" magazines to be enclosed in the Christmas parcels. Citizens who have back copies of these magazines or pocket-sized novels they have finished with are asked to notify one of the three listed above.

Citizens Asked To Obey Garbage Rules

The pickling season bears heavily on the incinerator, Garfield Torrance, superintendent of the plant, remarked to the Examiner today.

"All the pulp and seeds that are strained out of ketchup and sauces arrive at the incinerator, and all that material is wet, and it plops in on the fires almost with the effect of water pouring in," Mr. Torrance said.

"Then you have a lot of rain like last night. Garbage cans and boxes are set out in the evening, and by morning they are saturated; just as if we had dragged them out of Spaulding's Bay, or what's left of it.

The incinerator is a public service and it can be greatly helped by the thoughtful co-operation of the people. It would have been a lot better if householders had kept their garbage off the curb last night and put it out first thing this morning. Or even better than that would be the use of metal containers with covers."

Need Dry Garbage

Mr. Torrance said this comment returned to the first condition for efficiency at the incinerator,—dry garbage,— drained and wrapped; covered against rain; or kept under cover until the morning of collection.

Please don't mix ashes and garbage. The ashes are not sent through the incinerator; and if garbage is mixed with them the combination attracts rats to the dump where it is unloaded.

Here is another seasonal appeal.—grass and garden greens should be set out on the same day as ashes; and must not be mixed with garbage. Collection of ashes is left to the last collection day in each week, in east district, except where collections are on Wednesdays and Saturdays. In that case, grass and ashes are collected on Wednesday.

Here is a last detail, repellent but it has to be mentioned in this business of keeping the city household clean and tidy.

Not Pleasant

"Some garbage cans are actually crawling with maggots.

They are never cleaned, and it just comes down to this question,—how would you like to be handling cans of that nauseating appearance? Surely then you ought to think of the men who are doing this collecting job."

The incinerator department of the city's service to the ratepayers is trying to be considerate of its employees. Supervision considers that these men are entitled to the same kind of treatment that exists in factories and other places of employment. Some of these offending cans are going to be left on the street line, on an order of the Sanitary Inspector, and the people who put such cans out on the street will have to empty them and clean them before they are again collected.

Garbage containers don't have to be cleaned out every day or every week, but they can be kept presentable.

Youth Said Defiant About Regulations

William McIlmoyle, Young's Point youth who pleaded guilty last week to a charge of having failed to obey a Selective Service employment order was described in police court this morning by W. L. Huycke, K.C., prosecuting for Selective Service, as showing a "defiant attitude".

"He seems to think that these regulations mean nothing", said Mr. Huycke, who added that he did not think the magistrate's suggestion of a small fine would do any good. It was stated that McIlmoyle had returned to his work at the Canadian Raybestos plant.

The case was adjourned for another week.

Gilbert Jones who pleaded guilty to a drunk charge was fined $10 and $2.50 costs while Ray McIlmoyle who pleaded not guilty to a similar charge was given the benefit of the doubt when he told the court that he had only had three glasses of beer.

Pte. Harold Little Is Wounded In Italy

Mrs. Mabel Little, 164 Dublin street, has received word that her husband, Pte. Harold William Little, was slightly wounded September 7, while fighting with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in Italy.

Enlisting four years ago in July, Pte. Little had formerly been employed at Apsley and for a short time in Peterborough. Mrs. Little has four brothers overseas, two in Italy, one in England and one in Normandy. A cousin of Pte. Little, Pte. Norman Dwyer, was killed in Italy a year ago.

Mervin Trick has a shrapnel wound in the lower right jaw, received while on duty as a stretcher-bearer in Italy. A brother Gordon is also in Italy.

Gnr. J. V. Bianco Killed In Italy

Twice in six months the war has robbed Mr. and Mrs. N. Bianco, 284 Park Hill road, of a son serving overseas. Word was received Wednesday that their son, Gnr. James Vincent Bianco was killed in action September 12. AB Anthony Bianco was reported missing when the Athabaskan sank off the coast of France.

Gnr. Bianco who went overseas five years ago with the 1st. Division enlisted in the permanent army when he was 15 years old and has been serving for 15 years. He was with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in Italy.

Repair Man Held On Conversion Count

Lawrence E. Wilfong, former refrigeration repair man with the Johnston Furniture and Electric Sales and Services, was bailed for trial in police court this morning after a preliminary inquiry into a charge of having converted to his own use $16.65 paid to him by Clarence Weymark, Havelock, to be turned over to the Johnston firm.

On a second count of having stolen merchandise to the value of over $25 from F. H. Johnston, Wilfong, who was defended by W. J. Arthur Fair, was remanded until Tuesday.

On the conversion charge Wilfong elected trial by a higher court.

Clarence Weymark, Havelock railway worker, testified that he had asked the Johnston firm to send a repair man to Havelock to repair his electric refrigerator, and that Wilfong had come down, made the repairs and collected $16.65 from him. Witness said that Wilfong had refused to give him a receipt for the money. A week later when Weymark was in Peterborough he called at the Johnston store for a receipt, and was shown a piece of paper with his name and address on it, marked cancelled.

F. H. Johnston said that Wilfong had worked for him for three years. He testified that Weymark had asked for a repair man on September 5 and witness had asked Wilfong to look after him. On September 12 when Weymark came back to his store the books were examined and a cancelled work order found. It was entered as an exhibit after Johnston had stated that it was in Wilfong's writing.

Wilfong said that he had no statement to make and the defence called no evidence whereupon bailment for trial was ordered with the consent of Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.

Argyle Highlander Wounded In France

Mrs. Annie Smith, 468 Reid street, has received word that her son, Sgt. Alec Smith of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, was wounded in action, September 9. His wife who lives at 38 Melbourne street, Lindsay, has received no further details.

In his wife's last letter, Sgt. Smith said that his unit was being relieved by that of his brother, Lieut. Stewart Smith. The latter is serving with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders. The brothers had no opportunity of meeting before Sgt. Smith became a casualty.

Smith Ratepapers Endorse VON Service

A ratepayers' meeting held in Queen Elizabeth school Wednesday evening to measure public opinion on the question of obtaining the services of the Peterborough Victorian Order of Nurses for S.S. 13, Smith, met with almost unanimous approval for the medical service, from many interested people who came to the meeting regardless of a heavy rain.

This morning, Township Clerk A. Edmison said a petition would probably be circulated, in order to get the names of at least 75 per cent of the ratepayers, before any definite action on the proposition is taken. However, almost everyone who attended the meeting was wholeheartedly in sympathy with the scheme, is was reported.

Charles Elliott, a member of the Board of the V.O.N. in Peterborough, said it is expected a proposition will be made to the V.O.N. after the next township council meeting.

Miss Mary Ross, Superintendent of the Peterborough V.O.N. nurses, spoke to the gathering about the work of the nursing organization, and among those who attended were Reeve G. McIlmoyl chairman, Deputy Reeve E. Pearson, Councillors R. Tully and R. Harrison, and Township Clerk A. Edmison.

Wednesday evening's meeting, however, was held for the express purpose to find out what the ratepayers think about the idea, and includes only School Section No. 13, Smith.

Attacker Remanded Till Witnesses Come

With B. J. Ronhanyi, Dobbin avenue, acting as interpreter, Joseph Nazezon, 61, of Gatineau Mills, Que., appeared in police court this morning to answer a charge of assaulting Pte. Chas. Richer on a C.P.R. train and was remanded for another week when the crown announced that a number of outside witnesses would have to be brought here. Nazezon who speaks Hungarian, is accused of having slashed the soldier with a razor. He is being defended by W. J. Arthur Fair.

Denis Plumpton, brought back from St. Catharines to face a non-support charge, was allowed to go after W. J. Arthur Fair, appearing for the accused had suggested an arrangement by which Plumpton agreed to pay his wife half his wages. The case was accordingly withdrawn.

930 Prisoners Lost In Pacific

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — A Japanese Domei agency broadcast says that 930 war prisoners, including 750 identified as Americans, perished in the torpedoing of two Japanese transports in the Southwest Pacific.

The broadcast, beamed to Europe and recorded Sunday by the Federal Communications Commission, quoted front-line dispatches received in Tokyo as saying that the American prisoners and the Japanese crew were lost when a transport was sunk by an enemy submarine off Mindanao in the Philippines Sept. 7.

The agency said it had been revealed, without identifying the source, that 180 war prisoners were killed in the sinking of a transport off Sumatra June 26. Five hundred and forty other prisoners aboard, the broadcast said, were rescued.

There was no confirmation of the report from Allied sources.

Dancing and refreshments concluded the evening's activities.

The guests of honor received many beautiful gifts which were presented on behalf of the gathering by Mrs. George Hartin, president of the Belmont Women's Institute.

Ballyduff Church Reopens For Fall

BALLYDUFF, Sept. 21 — (ENS) —Large congregations attended reopening services in Ballyduff Sunday afternoon and evening. For some weeks past the members and friends of the Presbyterian church have been re-decorating their church. Orville Robertson, a students of Knox College, Toronto, who has been in charge of services on the Janetville, Nestleton and Ballyduff circuit was in charge of the re-decoration and devoted many hours of his time in this capacity. Mrs. Robertson also assisted during July and August when her teaching duties left her free to do so.

For the special services the interior of the church was decorated with baskets of summer flowers. Mr. Robertson, who returns to college in the near future, concluding his work in Ballyduff, was the speaker for the day. In the afternoon the local choir sang special numbers and in the evening the same choir provided music for the occasion. A special offering was received to help defray expenses.

Secret Weapon 50 Feet Long

LONDON, Sept. 21 — (CP). — Citizens of neutral countries who claim to have seen the Nazi "V-2" secret weapon, believed to be a rocket bomb, say it looks "like a flying telegraph pole with a trail of flame," London newspapers declared today.

The neutrals say the projectile is about five feet in diameter and 50 feet long, carrying a ton of explosive and nine tons of secret fuel for motive power.

They describe it as a long range weapon useful against targets hundreds of miles away and say it has an extremely high trajectory.

Propaganda Minister Goebbels has announced that the new terror weapon is ready for use, the newspapers said.

$60 Raised At Tea For Soldier Parcels

WARSAW, Sept. 21 — (ENS) — An afternoon tea held recently at McCracken's Landing and sponsored by Halls Glen W. I. proved a splendid success. Proceeds netted over $60 and are in aid of ditty bags and Christmas Cheer Fund for boys in services. Much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Cherry also Mrs. Norm Bell and staff for assistance given in making the tea a success.

A donation of $13.65 from staff at Wantasa Inn was also given to W. I. in aid of the fund. This is third year they have helped out.

Personals.

Many friends of Mr. Ernest Butler are pleased to know he is recoverying from a recent illness and while still confined to hospital, his condition is much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Crowe of Saskatoon, Miss Weir and Mr. Adams of Toronto, and sister and brother-in-law of Mrs. Crowe are guests at the home of Mrs. Cyda Bray.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bell, McCracken's Landing were guests at the Morrison-Webster wedding which took place in Peterborough recently.

Many friends of Mr. Trevor Little will be sorry to learn he is in Nicholls Hospital.

Bethel anniversary was held on Sunday and Robert Kitchen of Wesley Circuit conducted both services. Subject for the morning service was "Church Triumphant" and evening "All Lamp and No Light." Henry Batten was guest soloist.

Mrs. Howard Hamilton opened her home for the September meeting of Willing Workers, Zion Church, and arrangements were made for the anniversary to be held October 8.

Many Clothes Are Remodelled

Even though the family budget is slim, there's no reason why your back-to-school wardrobe for 1944 can't win summa cum laude on the double score of fashion and economy. One thrifty way to increase the style rating of your school-bound trunk is to start now and canvass the family closets for wardrobe slackers that can be salvaged for make-over projects with a minimum use of new yardage, then stitch-up new "fill-ins" where you find gaps in your collection.

A well-worn plaid woolen bathrobe of father's, for instance, can be transformed into a handsome suit jacket or a toasty warm shirtwaist even by a beginner sewer, just by taking a few lessons in the thrifty wartime art of make-overs at your local sewing centers. Special courses for teen-age groups are featured at local sewing centers. And, after a few hours of instruction, any young beginner can learn to stitch a good looking skirt and companion plaid jacket.

Remodeling Is Easy

If you plan on doing a professional remodeling job, be sure the fabric is cleaned and pressed. Then rip open every seam and take a good look at the wrong side. Even after hard wear, most good woolens look practically new on the wrong side. The sewing center instructors will show you how to lay the fabric on the cutting table with the grain and design going in one direction. This technique avoids amateurish mistakes that result in the wrong hang in the finished garment.

The wonder worker of a school wardrobe is a three-piece costume—jacket, vest and skirt—that can be worn together or equally well with other things. Plaid wool rayon is suggested for the rib-hugging vest and kick-pleated skirt and lightweight flannel for the cardigan jacket that is finished off with heavily rolled binding of the plaid material. Another attractive trimming detail for the jacket is looped fringe edging that can be made in a jiffy of colorful wool yarn with the aid of the handicraft guide attachment, available for sewing machine kits.

To give fabric-saving wartime wardrobes a maximum fashion rating, it's winning strategy to practice stretching magic. A jacket that co-stars with a jumper, or a skirt that doubles up smartly with a plaid blouse, are good examples of "teaming" that give the effect of extra costumes with a minimum use of fabric.

HOME DRESSMAKING—The popularity of home dressmaking continues. Easy to sew "mix-match" ensembles are fun to wear as well as make.

Classics and "High Style" Shoes Stress Fine Leathers, Good Fit

Men may like comfort and casual ease in their clothes from the ankles up, but when it comes to shoes, these days, they realize full well that expending the precious shoe coupon is an event and an ocasion, and they are not likely to take it lightly, as it were.

Naturally, a man's a man for a' that......and he still goes in for comfort (and how) come evenings and week-ends. Scuffs, alpargatas, huaraches and what-have-yous are fine for these precious moments when time is his own....and more than anon. For the majority of his pavement-pounding, however, he is out for the best-looking, longest-wearing shoes he can find. And this fall he'll find a good selection of both classic and more dressy shoes at his favorite department store or shoe shop.

Lasting Leathers.

Many of the military models (except for the regular GI boot, of course) are available in the civilian civilian adaptations that look neat and stand up exceptionally well. Leathers are of the best, and styles reflect the custom influence that is making itself felt these days in shoes of even average price range. The fact that leather craftsmanship has had to measure up to the finest quality for both military and civilian needs is reflected in a variety of super-styles that even Mr. Hard-to-Please will have to break down and cheer about.

Plain and beaded toes, wing tips, wall and regulation lasts are available for the new season in leathers of all shades varying from the classic tans to the deep-toned antiqued shades. Hand-butted foreparts, soft pile linings and other fine detailed touches are characteristic of the masculine shoe story for both business and formal wear.

Reverse calf, genuine pigskin and even ostrich leathers have been employed to creat distinguished effects and supply really outstanding comfort and wear. Special "optical illusion" treatments, whereby short feet can be made to look long, and vice-versa, are also frequent in the new collections, and in this respect perhaps the men have actually taken a leaf from milady's book of tricks. For it's an old story now that short vamps and modified toes have long been a shoe secret that has enabled her to look as if she wore size 5 when actually she is closer to a 10.

There are many men's shoe shops to-day specializing in extra-narrow styles for men with longer-than average feet and specially narrow heels. In addition, there is one well-known shoe name who has developed a special platform sole to make Mr. Five by Five measure up in the literal as well as the figurative to Mrs. Five-foot-eight. In other words, the soles have been built up to give the gentleman the added height his manly vanity says is all important. After all, Napoleon may have been shorter than Josephine, but this year of grace 1944 seems to bow to the convention of wanting the masculine escort to "top" his partner on the street or dance floor, at least from the standpoint of size.

The men's shoe situation for fall looks extremely optimistic from the angles of both quality and variety. To-morrow's shoes? They will be wing-tipped to make flying more practicable possibility.....certainly they will be streamlined for style, comfort and wear for modern Mercuries who get around faster than do men in any other nation.

TEACH HAPPINESS TO CHILD.

Greatest Joys in Life Free to All—Love, Friendship, Beauties of Nature.

A woman says: "I want my children to be happy. Is there any way I can teach them how to be happy?"

Well, happiness is more or less a gift of Nature and depends more upon our livers than it does upon our will-power or our circumstances. Some of us are born with an optimistic temperament and a cheery outlook on life that no amount of ill-luck ever dispels, while others are grouches in their cradles and spend their entire existence in borrowing trouble.

Nevertheless, in spite of the fact that the secret of happiness has never been reduced to a formula, there is much that children can be taught about how to acquire it, and like all education, it should begin while they are very young and before their dispositions have set in a permanent gloom. If, for instance, you teach a child to laugh when it bumps its nose instead of howling to Heaven and nursing its wounds, you have given it its first and unforgettable lesson in how to be happy.

The next lesson is to teach children to take a cheerful outlook on life instead of a pessimistic one. It is a lesser crime to bring a child up in a house whose walls are saturated with tuberculosis germs than to bring him up in a home that reeks with melancholy, for the one only kills the child's body, while the other slays hope and courage.

Teach Joy of Work to Children.

You can teach a child how to find joy in work and struggle, and that it is a great and thrilling game in this country of boundless opportunities to hustle out and get what he wants. You can point out to him that almost all of the men and women who have done great things and sit in the seats of the mighty, were poor boys and girls who have worked their way up, and who had lots more fun in making their money than they have in spending it. They had the real time of their lives when they were climbing the ladder.

You can teach children to find happiness in simple things. It is not what we have, but what we sense that gives us pleasure. The greatest joys of life are free to us all, love, friendship, companionship, the beauties of Nature, the glamor of crowds, a good dinner and a good story. Every child can be taught to find a perpetual source of happiness in these.

Every child can be given the key that unlocks the innermost door of happiness in being taught to love to read. No one can ever be bored or lonely who has been made free of the great company that marches through the pages of literature. No one can ever lack for diversion who even likes to read well enough to enjoy the daily papers and magazines.

Children can be taught that the surest way to keep happy is to keep busy, for an idle mind and idle hands are the devil's workshop in which he brews his blackest draughts of despair. You cannot think of two things at the same time, so the surest cure for the blues is to have something so vitally important to do that you have to concentrate your mind on it to the exclusion of brooding on your troubles.

Finally, the young can be taught that the only never-failing way to be happy is to make other people happy.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, September 22

The testimonies of the sidereal configuration ruling this day are clothed with intriguing, subtle and undercover aspects and predictions, which may result in achieving unusual or irregular objectives, not only with the assistance and practical support of those in place and power, but through novel, unique or other "vague and intangible" factors. Perhaps undercover deals or agreements might succeed where direct efforts might be doubtful. The intuitions or talents for intrigue or strategy might be most successfully employed.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by a year of rather peculiar openings or alliances in which intrigue, stratagem, and subtlety are highly stimulated for outstanding results. These tactics may have appeal for those in high places, with whom undercover agreements—tacit rather than written—may be most successful and decisive. The element of intuition, hunches or other subtle approaches may bring most surprising returns, with finesse, tact, and a quality of glamor most efficient for business, social and romantic aspirations.

A child born on this day should have prosperity and happiness.

SUITS RANK FIRST—Again suits are ranking first for ladies' fall wear and this topcoat and suit are most suitable for travel or town wear. The vestee and coat lining shown above is of fur-like fabric in yarn.

Military Inspired Fashions Seen Influence On Peacetime Designs

There's plenty of strategy going on at "piece tables" right here at home. Our top men's wear designers are hard at work on styles to give our home-coming servicemen and industrious civilians the kind of common-sense, free-and-easy comfort they deserve, but somehow never seem to get.

Of course, any man that has served any time in uniform says he can't wait to get out it. But actually, the military has developed some pretty keen fashion patterns of its own. For example, the officers' trenchcoat and the streamlined field jacket have already been earmarked for postwar adaptation, and even the most hard-bitten sergeant will have to admit that they can have their moments, even in civilian life.

Advances in Fabric.

There's no question about it, styles for men are marching on .... there will be new advances in cut, fit and finish. But perhaps the greatest strides have been made in processing and treating of fabrics to resist all kinds of atmospheric conditions, from extreme heat to sub-zero eold. Experiments that thus far have been secret will furnish a fascinating story come peacetime, and then we shall learn new ways and means to transfer to civilian clothing use.

Special "Freedom" Clothes.

An up-and -coming young designer of men's apparel, Frank Murphy, has some interesting new ideas in pajamas and sports wear. His "four freedoms" pyjamas are slit in exactly the right places for sleeping comfort, and are made in fabrics that even insure "perfect" sleeping temperature!

Mr. Murphy also claims that light, easy to pack clothes are coming in for postwar popularity. Shirt-and-shorts outfits he sees as especially promising, for sports and beachwear and prophesies that trousers will be worn over these, much as women's playsuits are designed with extra skirts to be laid aside for active wear.

The fact that men in service and men in war-production have grown used to casual dress in so many instances will probably occasion a trend toward the less formal and conventional town or business suit. But military lines and formality will be gone with the war .... and when Johnny comes marching home, just watch him streak in for a new hat (not cap!) bright tie and slacks as he likes 'em!

FOUR FREEDOMS—These are the newly designed men's pyjamas especially suited for men today.

Navy Hospitals Need Scrapbooks

In the last few months more thought has been given to the lighter said of life confronting sailors, soldiers and airmen, who through action or accidents have become patients in Canadian hospitals. With this in mind, the Navy League of Canada recently issued an appeal for volunteers to make scrap books for Nvay hospitals, and they will supply the covers.

The scrap books have been care-

Gibb-Burgess Vows Pledged In Lakefield

Beachwood Lodge, Lakefield, the summer home of Mrs. H. Morgan, sister of the bride, was the setting for a pretty wedding of interest recently, when Margaret Lillian Burgess, Reg. N., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Burgess of Norwood, became the bride of David Franklin Gibb, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gibb, of London. Rev. Dr. J. Davey, pastor of Norwood Presbyterian Church, officiated. The ceremony took place on the lawn, before a bank of greens and autumn flowers. Miss Mae Renwick played the wedding music, and Mrs. R. K. Tedford sang "Because", during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dr. O. C. Howson of Kalamazoo, Mich., the bride was gowned in white taffeta, with bouffant skirt, tight bodice and puffed sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of white silk net fell from a matching Sweetheart halo, and she carried a shower bouquet of Talisman roses.

Mrs. K. Erwin, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, in white organza, figured in pastel shades, and carrying a nosegay of autumn flowers. Little Freddie Morgan, nephew of the bride, dressed in white, scattered petals before the bride as she took her place for the ceremony. Mr. L. E. Nelson of Dundas was best man.

Receiving at the reception were sisters of the bride, Mrs. H. Morgan, dressed in green, with matching hat, and Miss Burgess, dressed in gold, with matching hat. The groom's mother, also receiving, wore a gown of blue crepe with sequin trim, and a corsage of pink gladioli.

After the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Toronto and Kincardine, the bride travelling in a gown of Terra Cotta hue, with black accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Gibb will make their home at 22 Park Place, St. Catharines.

The bride presented her bouquet to her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Kidd of Lakefield, who was the eldest guest present. Other guests were from London, St. Mary's, Toronto, New Westminster, Edmonton, Kalamazoo, Mich., Peterborough, Dundas, Lakefield, Bobcaygeon, Norwood, and Sydney, Australia.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Gibb, who is a graduate of Nicholls Hospital, and the University of Toronto School of Nursing, was entertained at several showers given in her honor by a number of her friends from Peterborough and Norwood. Mr. Gibb was an accountant at the Royal Bank in Norwood for several years, before being transferred to St. Catharines two years ago, to take a similar position.

Calnan-Quinn Vows Pledged

MARMORA, Sept. 21 — (ENS). — Gladioli and asters formed the setting at Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, for the marriage Tuesday morning of Margaret Mary Quinn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Quinn, Mamora township, and Daniel Joseph Calnan, son of Mrs. D. Calnon, Campbellford, and the late Dennis Calnan.

The ceremony was performed and the Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Rev. H. J. Farnell. Miss Rita Deacon played the wedding music and the Children's Choir sang.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a street-length dress of Alice Blue shadow lace, and navy accessories, and she carried a colonial bouquet of Briarcliffe roses.

Her sister, Miss Frances Quinn, as bridesmaid, wore a dress of tea rose sheer, navy accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of Briarcliffe roses and corn flowers.

Francis Calnan of Vernonville, was groomsman and Peter and John Quinn, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the decorations being white and pink streamers and white bells. The bride's mother received the guests, wearing a navy sheer ensemble, assisted by the groom's mother, also wearing navy.

The couple left on a trip to St. Catharines and Niagara Falls, the bride wearing a gold wool dress, brown topcoat and brown accessories. On their return, they will reside at Campbellford.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Drumm and son John, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Calnan, and Mr. Michael Calnan, Grafton; Mr. T. P. O'Rourke and daughter Mary, Campbellford and Mr. and Mrs. W. Stewart, Madoc.

Rain Interrupts Program At Lakefield Fair

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 21 — (ENS). —Over 3,000, the largest crowd in the fair's history, turned out on Wednesday afternoon for the village's annual fall exhibition. Balmy autumn sun shone fitfully until about 4.30, when a thunderstorm cut the program short, cancelling the rolling pin contest, bicycle race and children's races.

There were fewer entries in most classes, but the quality was good, and one of the most noticeable things was the scarcity of the usual fair attractions in sideshows. Probably the most missed from the children's standpoint was shortage of soft drinks and ice cream.

Johnston Entertainers of Blackwater staged the grand stand show with comic songs and imitations and the Trenton Air Force Band provided lively music.

Nancy Graham edged Marlene Crowe of Lakefield in the girls' tap dancing contest and Morley Brown of the village topped the men's class.

Belleville and Orono Fairs both on the same day played havoc with the horse racing, only two horses showing up for each of the classes. Charlie Quinlan of Peterborough, with Beth Harvester, won the two first heats in the 2:18 class, nosing out Dave Dowson of Port Perry, Dowson taking the third heat. In the 2:28, Sutherland of Peterborough trimmed Orville Fallis in the two first heats, but Fallis took the final quite handily.

Harry McIntyre Leads.

The Clyde show was large and drew many fine horses, with Harry McIntyre proving almost unbeatable in every class.

If entries are any indication the black and white exhibit stated very plainly that the Holsteins are not losing any of their favor throughout this district, and the judging was still going on late in the afternoon, some of it through the rain.

The downpour at night failed to dampen the crowd's ardor and many were turned away from the Town Hall for the concert and dance, the latter to Leahy's Orchestra.

The prize-list follows:

Willing Workers Meet

NORWOOD, Sept. 21 — (ENS). —The September meeting of the Willing Workers was held at the home of Mrs. G. A. Hamblin with the president Janet Giffen in charge. The meeting opened with a humorous reading, "Hitler's Grave" by Marion Cuthbertson. The work handed in consisted of a pair of pyjamas, a child's dress, several quilt blocks, and a quilt finished by the leaders.

After the cutting of quilt blocks, the president invited the group to her home for the next meeting.

Games were played and a lunch was served. Lois Stackhouse moved a vote to thanks to Mrs. Hamblin for her kindness.

Adams—Howie

MILLBROOK, Sept 21—(ENS)—Mildred Isobel Howie, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Medd, was united in marriage to Stanley Adams, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. Adams of Birmingham, England, at a pretty ceremony this evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Talbert Kellett, Pontypool.

Rev. A. E. Chevis, Millbrook, ofifciated.

Settings of gladioli and dahlias formed an effective background for the bridal party. Given in marriage by her cousin Lewis Pudsey, Cavan, the bride wore a street length dress of heavenly blue wool with tobacco brown accessories and carried a bouquet of pastel gladioli.

Mrs. Talbert Kellett, her sister was her only attendant, in a navy blue figured crepe suit with matching accessories, carrying a bouquet of red gladioli. Talbert Kellett, brother-in-law of the bride, was the best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony and Mrs. Wesley Saunders of Millbrook, sister of the bride, and Miss Winnie Hall of Mimico, received the guests.

The couple will reside in Mimico, Ontario.

Hawkins—Stabler

Rev. F. W. Craik officiated at the quiet ceremony in the manse of St. James' United Church recently, when Merle Isabel Stabler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Stabler, became the bride of Ernest John Hawkins, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hawkins, Yorkshire, England.

For the ceremony, the bride chose a brown tailored suit, with brown and beige accessories, and a corsage of Bettertime roses. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Galvin Stabler, who also wore a tailored suit, and a corsage of yellow carnations and sweet peas. Galvin Stabler, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Galvin, of Lakefield, the couple left for a wedding trip to Eastern Canada, the bride travelling in a beige wool dress and brown Chesterfield coat, with matching accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkins will live in Toronto.

Bride-to-Be Has Crystal Shower

MILLBROOK, Sept. 21—(ENS).—A shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lavergne Fallis, Anne street, this week, in honor of Miss Velma Thornton, whose marriage to Lavergne Gibson, Millbrook R.R., takes place on Saturday. About forty guests attended.

The guest of honor was seated in a prettily-decorated chair, under a pipe-hole, from which confetti was showered upon her. Miss Jean Burnham expressed the good wishes of the guests, and the gifts of lovely crystal in cornflower pattern were arranged on a table, the greeting cards of guests interwoven with white satin ribbon, making a table runner.

Mrs. Major Bannister conducted contests and games, and a sing-song. Miss Bea Fallis, Mrs. Walter Challice, Mrs. Gordon Muspratt, Mrs. Allen Earle and Mrs. Reg. Edmunds assisted in the serving of lunch.

Otonabee Chapter Has Autumn Tea

The home of Mrs. A. Leach, 140 Stanley avenue, was tastefully arranged with large bouquets of gladioli, at an afternoon tea on Wednesday, for the Otonabee Chapter, I.O.D.E. Mrs. Leach, regent of the Chapter, received, and a large number of guests were welcomed, in spite of the downpour in the middle of the afternoon.

Pouring tea were Mrs. F. L. Robinson, Mrs. F. D. Kerr and Mrs. D. J. Hall, and Mrs. A. E. Edmonds, Mrs. S. Archibald, Mrs. Fred Mowry, Mrs. G. E. Keele and Mrs. G. A. Borland served. Mrs. A. E. Tivey was in charge of the kitchen, and Mrs. Leach supervised the general arrangements for the tea. Mrs. B. W. Harvey was in charge of the sale of tickets on a table lamp, the draw to be made at the coming bridge party sponsored by the Chapter, on October 18 at the Y.W.C.A.

Gremlins Visit Bride On Wedding Day

By CONNIE NICHOLSON

Gremlins have not confined themselves to airmen alone, as a great many people have found out—much to their sorrow. A harrassed bride-to-be discovered this recently on her wedding day, when a whole family of the troublesome fellows apparently took it upon themselves to devote an afternoon to her.

To begin with, as is usually the case, everyone was late starting to dress for the important event. One of the bridesmaids, hurriedly slipping into her dress, snagged the zipper in the side opening and couldn't get it to budge. The maid of honor stopping to lend a hand, in the midst of donning her ensemble, tried to pull the zipper down to start it again—and succeeded, the only trouble being that the zipper didn't stop, and came right off. Thus, with everyone crowding around and offering advice, a few flustered minutes were spent until the recalcitrant zipper decided to behave, and ran smoothly.

That matter safely out of the way, the gremlins, looking for more fields to conquer, settled upon the maid of honor, and managed to break the strap and buckle off her shoe as she was doing it up. Not content with this mishap, they evidently relegated one of their number to follow up the case, since the neighbor who obligingly hopped on his bicycle to take the shoe to a shoemaker for a quick repair job, collided, in his hurry, with another cyclist. Neither was injured, but nerves were considerably shaken. To top it off, an argument ensued with the shoemaker, since he doubted that he could do the hurry-up repair job. However, the neighbor used all his persuasive power, and the repair was finally effected—with black thread, since the shoemaker had no white, which was the color of the shoes.

Ushers Disappear

As an interlude, a report of the workings of distant relatives of the "mean little fellows" at work in the bride's home, who were on duty at the church, was received. They had managed to waylay the ushers, so that 20 minutes before the ceremony was scheduled to take place, neither usher had made an appearance to guide the guests, who were already arriving, to their seats. Consternation increased when this news was received, and the bride's brother, already nervous because he was to take his father's place and give his sister in marriage, was given the task of rounding up the ushers.

Turning their full energies again to the bridal party, the little men decided to give the bride a sample of their work, and stiffened the buttonholes in her dress, so that the frantically rushing maid of honor couldn't get the buttons through the holes. The gremlins, however, soon tiring of this sport, gave in and loosened up, so that the bride could finish dressing.

At last! With everyone dressed, and only slightly the worse for wear, the relieved party descended to enter the waiting car to drive to the church, when—you guessed it—there was no white ribbon bedecking the auto, to mark it as the bride's car. So, there followed an anxious period of waiting, while another car raced uptown to procure the required streamers.

Takes a Tumble

"Surely nothing else can happen," everyone thought, and it was almost true, the gremlins had just about used up their bag of tricks. But wait; As a parting shot, they tripped the other bridesmaid, who had so far remained unscathed, as she was running up the steps to the church, and ripped the hem of her dress. In order to keep it from showing, or tripping her as she walked down the aisle, she had to rip the piece of material from the hem, muttering all the while at the pesky little tricksters, who, no doubt, were chuckling over a good day's work, and busily thinking up something new to try another day.

Dorothy Smith Married At George St.

George Street United Church, decorated with mixed baskets of gladioli, and asters, banked with ferns, was the setting for a pretty wedding of interest Wednesday afternoon, when Dorothy Jean Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, 602 Charlotte street, Peterborough, became the bride of Lloyd Poole Bick, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bick of Bobcaygeon. Mrs. Charles Renaud was at the organ, and during the signing of the register, Miss Loretta McDougall sang "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a floor-length gown of white brocaded satin, buttoned down the back to a scalloped hipline. The fitted bodice was made with a Sweetheart neckline, and leg-o'-mutton sleeves, coming to a point over the wrist. Her veil of white embroidered tulle was caught to a matching halo with orange blosoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of Bettertime roses.

Mrs. Alexander Scott, only sister of the bride, was her matron of honor, in floor-length blue flowered organza on torso lines, with a Sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She wore a matching cap and veil, and carried a ring bouquet of pink gladioli. Ross Bick, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Stoker I Robert Quirt, R.C.N.V.R., and James Anderson, Bobcaygeon.

At the reception, at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, the bride's mother received about 50 guests, in a two-piece Dubonnet wine crepe ensemble, trimmed with dusty rose, black hat and accessories, and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. The groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Ross Bick, also receiving, wore a two-piece hunter's green Thumb's Up crepe dress ... brown hat and accessories ... and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

For a wedding trip to points east, the bride donned a turquoise wool dress, with black accessories, and a corsage of red roses. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Bick will live on the groom's farm at Bobcaygeon.

THE ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: I wrote the cooking column about 10 days ago asking how to make "Tartar Sauce," but have not had any answer.... Thanking you for any information.—Winifred A.

ANSWER: The only letter that reached us was dated September 5. However, we are sorry if you have been inconvenienced by the delay.

Tartar Sauce.

One cup mayonnaise (see below), 1 tablespoon minced sweet pickles well drained, 1 tablespoon well-packed finely chopped parsley, 1 tablespoon minced capers, 1 tablespoon grated onion—grated rind half lemon is nice when the tartar sauce is to be served with fish. Mix ingredients well, chill and serve cold.

Mayonnaise: 1 egg yolk, 2 tablespoons vinegar, ¼ teaspoon mustard, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup cold salad oil. Beat egg yolk and add 1 tablespoon vinegar. Add mustard, salt and pepper and mix well. Drop oil, a teaspoonful at a time, into the egg mixture, beating constantly until ¼ cup oil is added. Then add it in larger quantities, beating thoroughly after each addition. As the mixture thickens, add the remaining vinegar a little at a time. Lemon juice may be used in place of vinegar. Keep cool and covered.

QUESTION: I do a lot of home canning and have often wondered if you could give me a recipe for the home canning of pork and beans with tomato sauce similar to—or—pork and beans. I have all my own vegetables which I could use. I have tried several times to make a hot dish similar but it does not taste quite like the canned product. If you have not a recipe I wondered if I could procure one from any other address you might have.—S.E.B.

ANSWER: You doubtless are aware that the formulas to which you refer are trade secrets. There are as many formulas for pork and beans as there are packers, but I am giving you the commercial method of packing pork and beans.

Home Canned Pork and Beans.

Sort beans well, wash and soak for 12 hours, changing the water 3 times in warm weather to prevent souring. Parboil the beans 20 minutes in water to cover, and discard water. Have ready

Tomato Sauce (for 12 imperial quart jars of beans you will need 6 quarts sauce). One gallon tomato juice (160 oz.), 2 lbs. sugar or 1 lb. sugar and 1 pint molasses, 1 cup salt, 1 lb. ground onions, 1 cup cornstarch—spices: Cinnamon, cloves, allspice and mace are usually used, but garlic is sometimes added. Mix the sugar, salt, cornstarch and spices and make into a paste with 1 quart of the tomato juice. Bring to boiling point the remaining tomato juice, sugar (or sugar and molasses) and onions. Stir in starch and spice paste, stirring until thick.

Put hot prepared beans in sterile cans or jars, fill to overflowing with boiling hot sauce, stirring beans from bottom with long sterile fork to allow sauce to completely fill all crevices. Seal with sterile rubbers, tops and rings. If tin cans are used seam on hand seamer. Process in hot water bath for 3½ hours, or in oven at 275 deg. Fahr. for 4 hours. Jars should not touch.

CLASSED WITH SPIRITS

The use of coffee was forbidden shortly after its introduction in Cairo about 1500 because it was considered intoxicating.

Making Sure Of Pastry

By MARY MOORE.

A reader aks "How do I obtain a crisp piecrust?" Then she goes on to say she can make good tender pastry, but wants some that is crisper, and yet plenty rich too.

Now I change my method of making pastry almost every time I make a pie, which might be once in two weeks.

This crispness might be achieved simply by glazing top of pie when it is three-quarters baked, with a mixture of one tablespoon sugar and two tablespoons cream or milk, and standing pie rather near top of oven to brown glaze quickly.

General Directions.

To each cup of sifted flour one-third cup shortening is required. One-half teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon baking powder are good additions. Just enough ice water to bind is used. A two-crust pie requires exactly 1¾ cups flour.

Now if you want flaky pastry the amounts of shortening and flour are the same, but the shortening is added differently. Let's make a

Two-Crust Peach Pie with Flaky Pastry.

Pastry: One and ¾ cups pastry flour, 1 teaspoon salt 2-3 cup shortening less 1 tablespoon. Mix and sift flour and salt. Cut in 2 tablespoons of the shortening with knives. Add enough water to make a stiff dough Roll out in oblong piece on lightly floured board and dot with bits of shortening, using 1-3 of the remaining quantity. Fold over ends to centre and fold again to make 4 layers Press edges together and roll out Dot again with shortening, fold and roll. Repeat this process third time. Chill thoroughly. Bottom crust may be chilled after fitting to pie plate. Top crust may be gashed in shape of leaves to allow escape of steam and folded and chilled on lightly floured plate. When pastry is cold, shake over bottom crust 3 tablespoons from a mixture of ¾ cup sugar and 4 tablespoons flour or 2 tablespoons minute tapioca. Put in 3 or 4 cups well packed sliced peaches, sprinkle remainder of sugar and flour mixture over and a little mace or nutmeg if desired, moisten edge with a little water, put on top crust being sure it laps over edge of bottom crust, pinching edges together carefully, to prevent pie leaking. Start baking at 500 deg. Fahr., reducing heat to 350 deg. Fahr. for another ½ hour. Brush top of pie with glaze (as described above) of 1 tablespoon sugar mixed with two tablespoons milk or cream after it has baked 25 minutes.

Pie is at its best if served about 1 hour after taking from oven as it still retains a little of its heat

Our reader wanted to know the relative merits of pastry and all-purpose flour for pie and tea biscuits Theoretically pastry flour makes a yields a flaky one. Flaky biscuits result from using bread flour crumbly crust, while bread flour with buttermilk as a moistener. All-Purpose flour is a compromise between the two.

The following recipe I am giving you because I used it for the first time this summer and found it delicious; it is not new but not well-known:

Chocolate Custard Pie.

Flaky pastry (made with 1 cup bread flour), 4 tablespoons good quality cocoa, 3 well-beaten eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons soft bread crumbs, 1½ cups milk, ½ cup chop-

W.I. Studies Storing Of Winter Vegetables

WESTWOOD, Sept. 21—(ENS).—"Agriculture" featured the program for the Women's Institute regular meeting in the Town Hall Tuesday. Mrs. Fred Faux, 1st vice-president, presided in the absence of the president.

The roll call was answered by an exchange of roots and bulbs. Donations for the overseas Christmas parcels were handed in and these parcels will be packed on September 28. Gifts may be left at the home of Mrs. J. Thompson, up to that time. To swell the Institute funds and also "ditty bags" fund, a bingo party will be held on Friday evening, September 29.

The life history of a great Canadian woman, "Pauline Johnston," was given by Mrs. Faux, and three prizes were awarded the winners of a vegetable exhibit, namely, Mrs. T. Cardwell, Mrs. W. Morris and Miss J. Davidson.

A paper on agriculture dealing with "Milkweed" and "Methods of Storing Winter Vegetables" was read by Mrs. W. Renwick. An advertisement contest sponsored by Mrs. A. V.O.N. Attends 317 Patients During Summer

Little change in the variety of service given by the Victorian Order of Nurses, but a continuance of the large number of cases under care, was reported by Miss Mary Ross in the superintendent's report to the first meeting of the season of the Board of the V.O.N., Wednesday afternoon.

A total of 317 patients were under care during the three summer months, 129 of these being new cases. Included in this total were 47 medical, eight surgical (three operations), and 14 prenatal cases. In addition to these, 18 mothers and 42 babies were admitted, with three of these babies being home births, where the confinements were attended by V.O.N. nurses.

The educational phase of V.O.N. work is also being continued, as Miss Ross reported several cases admitted for instruction only, and others given instruction and care. She mentioned that the number of residents births for the three months her report covered, was 170, with 42 of these coming under care or supervision of the V.O.N. She felt that the services of the V.O.N. should be used more in this connection. Total visits for the three months were 1,274.

Miss Ross also dealt briefly with the problem of securing domestic help for homes where the patient is confined to bed. She said that in a great many cases families were not able to pay the average price, putting an extra burden on other members of the family, especially if the mother is ill.

Taking Students

In connection with the letter from Col. E. Smellie, of the V.O.N., asking the Board to approve the accepting of nurses taking post-graduate work in Public Health Nursing for part of their field work, Miss Ross spoke of the assistance received from two students who had been in Peterborough in the spring. Two other nurses were helping during the vacation months, and Miss B. Jackson is to be in Peterborough for the month of September. As has been the case for the past two years, the Board again approved the plan of taking nurses for part of their field training.

Miss Ross reported that no further correspondence about the fourth nurse for Peterborough had been received, but that the last letter received had assured her that V.O.N. headquarters was keeping the request in mind and would make the appointment as quickly as possible. The superintendent also mentioned the appointment of Miss An[illegible] Janieson, a graduate in Home Economics, as a Home Welfare Adviser for the Red Cross Society. She felt that a worker in this capacity would be most helpful. The appreciation of the V.O.N. for the financial assistance received from the Kiwanis Club, was also expressed by Miss Ross.

Alderman R. M. Glover presided in the absence of the chairman, Alderman James Dutton.

Masonic Lodge Hears Rev. C. A. Mullin

WARKWORTH, Sept. 21 —(ENS) —The members of the Masonic Lodge No 161, A.F. and A.M., attended divine service at St Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday morning. Rev. C. A. Mullin preached from the text "Ye are the temples of God and the temples are holy." He pointed out that Freemasonry developed from ancient operative guilds of masons, and just as King Solomon put the best of everything into the building of the temple, so should each individual put the best into their lives for God and fellowmen. If the example set by Jesus Christ the great Master Builder were followed all true Masons would be Christians, he declared.

During the service Mrs. Gordon McCubbin, Miss Isabelle Beatty, Miss Helen Potter and Mrs. J. H. Black sang as a quartette "The Light of Lights is Jesus" and "How Excellent is Thy Name" was sung as an anthem.

Mrs. James Smooker of Sidney, N.S., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Smooker.

Ralph Bangey, Brighton, spent the week-end with his friend Jack Allen.

Dr. George Boyce has returned to Iron Mountain, Mich., after spending a few days with his brother C. J. Boyce, and sisters Miss Emma Boyce and Mrs. Bruce Hopkins.

Navy Hospitals

fully planned. They are small to make easy handling for men whose strength is not up to par, and they contain a variety of material. This is stressed so that a man who is weary, mentally and physically, can pick up a book, get a little entertainment and not have to concentrate, or make any effort to tax his feeble strength.

It is suggested that a bright attractive picture be put on the cover and that jokes, comic strips from newspapers, cartoons, a few short news and sport items, crossword puzzles with answers on another page, and a short, short story which may be folded in, to fit, should be used. These should be arranged as artistically as possible and placed so that material contrasts. The Navy League also requests that every person making a book sign their name and address in each book.

Not only the men in hospitals but some of the men on ships benefit from these gifts. An officer who came across one on his boat wrote that the men had not much time for heavy reading, but with the scrap books they could snatch a few moments of enjoyment and have a few hearty laughs, which aren't too frequent at sea.

The objective set by the Navy League is 10,000 books, and those interested can contact the league at 1118 Bay street, Toronto 5. It has been suggested by Mrs. G. Dart, 768 Water street, who has made ... that organizations might like to make it a project.

Pauline Betz, United States women's tennis champion the last 3 years, defeated Dorothy Head of San Francisco, 6-0, 6-1, there yesterday to win her way into the semi-final round of the Pacific South-west championships. Frankie Parker won an easy victory over George Pero 6-2, 6-1. Pero was formerly Southern tennis champion from Florida.

Dick Culler, shortstop, and Tom Nelson, second baseman on the pennant-winning Milwaukee team in the American Association, will report to Boston Braves on Saturday. The crack infield combination was purchased August 26 in a $50,000 deal and are expected to be in the Boston lineup on Saturday.

Fourth game of the best-of-five Ontario Lacrosse Association senior semi-final series between Brampton Excelsiors and St. Catharines Athletics at St. Kitts was called off last night at the end of the second quarter because of rain. It will be played here to-night.

Bobby Doerr, star second baseman of Boston Red Sox, was inducted into the United States Army at Portland, Ore., to-day.

New Westminster Captures B.C. Title

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 — (CP). — New Westminster, B.C., Salmonbellies, defending Canadian champions, last night defeated Vancouver Burrards 13-5 to win the inter-city lacrosse league playoffs and the British Columbia championship.

Salmonbellies had won four straight games in the best-of-seven series. The visitors will play the eastern champions in Toronto Oct. 7 for the Mann Cup, emblematic of Canadian lacrosse championship.

Norm Dutton 19 Serves On Destroyer

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 — (CP). — Seaman Norman Dutton, 19, son of Red Dutton, managing director of the National Hockey League, is at sea on the Canadian destroyer Assiniboine after 16 months of irksome training, hoping to even the score a bit for his family.

His brothers — Joe and Alex — flight sergeants in the R.C.A.F., have been reported missing over Germany.

Young Dutton's action station on board the Assiniboine puts him behind the business end of an Oerlikon gun. When he's had a good crack at Jerry, he hopes to take up a hockey career, cut short when he was playing left wing for River Cale in the Eastern United States Amateur League. He was only 17 at the time.

Does he expect to make good in professional hockey?

For the first time this season the notice board up at our clubhouse bare, absolutely bare, not a notice of any kind on it, that is a record.

Next Wednesday, Sept. 27th, the annual meeting of Provincial District No. 14 will be held here. The program calls for a friendly game at 2 o'clock and then later a banquet. The business meeting will follow the banquet. As many of our local bowlers who can, are invited to come. R. F. Downey is the chairman, E. L. Sackville, secretary.

Yesterday was the Wednesday half holiday and it rained. And that was the seventh Wednesday this summer that it has rained. It all began on June 14th when the men's open doubles tournament was cancelled and it has rained six Wednesday's since then.

ABILITY TO recognize a nice gift when it is offered, and the willingness to accept it instead of trying to multiply its size, should be part of the equipment of all astute bridge players. So at 3-Spades it wound up. South was furious at his partner after he took ten tricks, with the loss of only one in hearts and two in clubs, though he should have been held to nine if West had opened clubs and repeated the suit twice for a ruff, instead of opening his heart 2 in answer to East's bid of the suit.

The main point of South's excitement, however, was North's lack of wisdom in redoubling after West had doubled South's 2-Spades. If he had been content to pass that, realizing it was a game contract, his side would have marked up a game and an extra trick or two.

North was just too happy to keep his mouth shut, however, after West doubled the spade bid, especially since his A-Q quite likely sat over a guarded K held by the opponent. But he cancelled his own happiness by getting hoggy.

Jackson Park Community Centre Deserving City's Attention Shows Convincing Experiment

The Jackson Park "project," as it is called, of Wartime Housing Limited, with its 225 families, affords to its numerous group of people a variety of services that is not duplicated in any other section of Peterborough.

This is a partial list of them:

A new two-room Public School.

A public library, virtually a branch of the city's public library.

A small area equipped as a playground for the youngest children.

A large field suitable for athletic games and sports.

A fairly commodious building equipped as a social centre.

A community counsellor, Mrs. C. S. Thompson.

Accommodation for a Well Babies' Clinic conducted by Dr. R. A. Kelly, M.O.H., and assistant nurses who are engaged in this work elsewhere in the city.

A Red Cross Society.

Boy Scouts and Cubs with a memoership of eighty.

A group of contributors to the Blood Donors Clinic.

Probably that is a fairly complete list of the services and activities which have developed in the Jackson Park housing area, cultivating a manifest community spirit that is not found in the other sections of the city. And apparently these affairs and group interests are an outgrowth of the provision by Wartime Housing Limited of the community centre that is nothing more than the old Dixon home renovated and suitably equipped for social gatherings, and a common meeting place for the local associations, library, Well Babies' Clinic and so on, under the part-time supervision of Mrs. Thompson in the unique capacity for this city as community counsellor.

Neighborhood Experiment

An Examiner reporter visited the Jackson Park housing area a short time ago, and came away with an impression that by design or casual enlargement of interests and activities, gradually extending through that community, an idea and an example are afforded to the whole city that might profitably be studied for application in other sections.

That afternoon about four o'clock, Dr. Kelly and his helping nurses were completing their ministrations in the Well Babies' Clinic. Dr. Kelly told the Examiner that the largest number of babies brought by their mothers to the clinic in one afternoon was thirty-two. And the accommodation is only the spacious old kitchen of the Dixon residence of many years ago, with stove and other necessary, simple and adequate furnishings for the purposes of the Clinic,—clean, bright, airy and warm, for that was a rather cool afternoon for September. The work was just about finished, and the number of babies examined that afternoon was not so large as usual,—but the total of thirty-two was all the evidence required to indicate the usefulness of that Community Centre, particularly for the well being of the infants of the locality in getting a healthy start in life.

Incidentally it is one of the services which has been expanded by the Peterborough Board of Health under the enterprising and enthusiastic chairmanship of Alderman James Dutton, with the unanimous support of Mayor Hamilton and the other members of the Board. And, it should be added, that this work was extended to the Jackson Park area in spite of a lack of Public Nursing help, accentuated by wartime conditions.

The Public Library

Mrs. Thompson, as community counsellor, is also librarian. This branch library has borrowed up to 500 and 600 books from the city's Public Library in arrangement by which returns are made at regular intervals and other books obtained. There is also a special section of the library for children. Six or seven girls and boys arrived from the nearby school about four o'clock, evidently to obtain books, while the Examiner was there.

The library is open for adults on Tuesday afternoons and evenings, from 2.30 to 4.30 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. Half the books obtained and the rest are a broad selection of from the Public Library are fiction, other classes of books, biographies, history and so on. Mrs. Thompson said that this service is extensively used by the people of the community, including the children.

A visitor to the Community Centre at Jackson Park is bound to be impressed with its usefulness, and with its sharp intimation that similar provision in other sections of the city, Ashburnham, for example, or the south and southwest areas of the city, would be an advantage to their residents which Wartime Housing has discovered for its tenants at Jackson Park.

The contrast is between one central, or fairly central Public Library, for instance, to which the people themselves must go, or the distribution of this service into several areas on the policy and practice of taking this accommodation to the citizens in their own neighborhoods. It is an example and effect of decentralization.

Nothing Expensive

And, there is nothing elaborate about that Community Centre, nothing suggesting expense, but it quite obviously is furnishing a service which this city, in its growth, has too long overlooked. Probably it might be properly suggested in this reference to the Jackson Park Centre that even the members of the Council might drop around there some afternoon; and the Local Council of Women, and other groups of citizens who are concerned about the development of community spirit and social sense, and the present day services, including the potential benefits of branch libraries; simply their facilitation to the citizens on an inexpensive basis.

Briefly, and in common language, Wartime Housing apparently have something out there that is worth noting.

The Red Cross

The women of that community raised their own funds by euchres, and such aids, to buy two sewing machines for their Red Cross work. The area has a Park Hill Youth Fund, also, and held their own carnival last week for the purpose of augmenting that fund.

Imagine, eighty Boy Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies; a large corps of youth catching the spirit of co-operation and the patriotic and character building effects of the Scout movement.

Even Blood Donors

The recruiting of blood donors seems to have been inspired by Mrs. A. A. Cummings, with a brother in one of the armed services who wrote home that at one time the men actually gave of their own blood for the expected needs of their comrades in arms, possibly even themselves. It was said that Mrs. Cummings arranged for automobiles to transport donors from the area to the city's Clinic at Brock and Water streets, and that the total number, many of them women, reached seventy.

It was also said that Mrs. O. L. Dalgleish offered the big field on Park Hill Road for athletics, games and recreation generally, especially for the young people.

Then, there were the lawn and gardening competitions for all the Wartime Housing areas, with outstanding improvement of homes in the Jackson Park section and substantial crops of vegetables for both summer and winter addition to the home table.

A Social Centre

The social aspect of the advantage of the Community Centre is another phase of its uses, which probably deserves more extended reference. When so much can be accomplished through the medium of a renovated old house, that had the special attraction of being spacious, the experiment by Wartime Housing apparently has produced excellent results that commend the idea to the city at large.

The Examiner was accompanied by John L. Gillespie, administrator of Wartime Housing's projects in Peterborough in the visit to the four groups of homes, a total of 562, at the time the awards were announced in the lawn and garden competition. He almost insisted on calling at the Community Centre, and it happened to be a rather active afternoon, presenting some of its actual affairs without any prearrangement.

That housing "project" has developed and is contributing a practical idea to the community of Peterborough that should not be lightly ignored.

Gore's Landing News

The first autumn meeting of the W.A. of St. George's-on-the-Hill was held at the home of Mrs. Melville Harris with eight members present. Plans were discussed for holding a euchre in the Public Library on Friday evening, September 21, to raise funds for the overseas Christmas boxes for members of the church.

A large congregation assembled in St. George's-on-the-Hill on Sunday evening for the Harvest Thanksgiving service. Rev. Allan Johnson of Brampton, a former rector, was in charge of the service. The church was decorated with brilliant autumn flowers and fruit.

Muskies have been brought in from Rice Lake, with Milton Ames catching two one afternoon and a 10-pounder the following day.

Rev. Allan and Mrs. Johnson of Brampton spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Clare Harris. They left for Perrytown immediately after the service on Sunday night.

FO. Osborne Leach and Mrs. Leach spent the past week at Pinecrest Camp, while renewing old friendships around the village.

Mr. A. R. Latter left for Toronto on Sunday after spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. M. J. MacDonald.

Mrs. Greer, Sr., closed her cottage on Thursday and returned to Peterborough with Mrs. Edgar Sorby and Mrs. Howard Ferguson.

Mrs. Ed. MacFarland has returned home after spending a week in the Niagara district.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thackeray and family of Roseneath were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thackeray.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Westheuser of Toronto spent the week-end at The Maples.

Greek Troops Spearhead Rimini Attack

By BILL BOSS,
Canadian Press War Correspondent.

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS IN THE ADRIATIC SECTOR, Sept. 22—(CP Cable) — Rimini— goal of the British 8th Army since the present offensive opened August 25 — has finally fallen to Greek troops under Canadian command.

The Greeks cleared the town yesterday morning as far as the Porto Canal, one of the mouths of the Marecchia river.

They raised their flag from the municipal theatre and from the Arch of Augustus— built in 27 B. C. —then asked Canadian military officials for a Canadian flag and the privilege of placing it beside their own.

Rimini is a ruined, ghost town. Ridges of rubble line the streets, sounds of broken doors slamming in the upper storeys fill the air, and now and then a cornice or a piece of masonry falls on the heaps below.

This is the town where St. Francis of Assisi preached to the fishes, where the romance of Francesca Da Rimini was based on fact, it's not particularly romantic to-day.

Sacked By Germans.

The buildings which have not been destroyed by air bombing, naval bombardment or artillery fire are at least damaged, and certainly thoroughly sacked by retreating Germans.

C.P. News Chief Safe In London

LONDON, Sept. 22—(CP Cable).—Charles Bruce, Canadian Press London superintendent, who was reported last night as overdue on a plane last seen over Holland, has returned safely to London.

Mr. Bruce arrived in his office today with no idea that he was thought missing and apologizing "for all the flap." He explained that he was "mixed up in operations" and began writing a story of his experiences.

Anxiety for his safety arose yesterday when it became known that the plane on which he was travelling, one of hundreds carrying supplies and reinforcements to airborne troops in Holland, was last seen as it dropped from formation after losing its glider tow. It should have returned to base in England by 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Restoring Italy Conference Topic

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP).—President Roosevelt disclosed today that his Quebec conference with Prime Minister Churchill devoted a lot of study to plans for gradually restoring full authority to the people of Italy to handle their own rehabilitation problems.

The President expressed satisfaction with the progress of the Dumbarton Oaks security talks, saying the meetings have put together a good batting average in agreement on post-war problems.

Reminding his news conference that you don't go into a meeting to work out a world free from war at 11.00 a.m. and come out with a solution at 4 p.m., Mr. Roosevelt said that on the whole the progress at Dumbarton Oaks has been very, very good.

Discussing the Italian situation, the President said the Quebec conferees talked a good deal about two subjects:

Gradually planning ways to place the responsibility for Italian reconversion on the Italian people so that they will have the authority and the responsibility.

Seeing to it that the Italian people do not starve this winter.

Mr. Roosevelt said he may have something pretty soon concerning further steps to prevent starvation and want in Italy.

The conferees talked a great deal about Germany, too, he said, but added that he could not go into that now.

LONDON — American heavy bombers, 1,200 strong and flying from England and Italy, bombed Kassel behind the Siegfried Line and Munich behind the threatened Belfort Gap today.

NEW YORK — The United States 1st Army has occupied Stolberg in Germany, a Blue Network correspondent reported today. This industrial city of 22,000 is four miles east of Aachen and 32 miles from Cologne on the Rhine.

Bombers Harass Germans Behind Siegfried Line

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP) —Strong forces of American heavy bombers numbering at least 700 attacked industrial objectives in Kassel behind the Siegfried Line to-day.

Kassel, a Prussian rail centre of 217,000, lies 160 miles southeast at Arnhem in Holland where a definitive battle to outflank this Siegfried Line progressed.

German fighters ventured out in great strength yesterday in defence of Germany itself and 30 were shot from cloudy skies by United States airmen.

Four American planes were listed as lost.

Medium bombers attacked German rail centres at Ehrang, Gerolstein and Pronsfeld, running to 16 the number of supply feeder points bombed since Tuesday. Fighters and fighter-bombers supported the vertical invasion of Holland for the fifth successive day.

Medium and light bombers attacked the Creche Forest on the outskirts of Boulogne, to which the German garrison of the port apparently had retreated.

Weather Is Bad.

Weather hampered air offensive from both the west and south, although planes in the Mediterranean theatre set fires at Salonika, the Greek port, which were visible for 100 miles. A profusion of railroads and bridges in Hungary, Yugoslovia, Albania and Greece were hit. Of the 850 planes which flew through Italian rains, 10 were lost. A single German craft was destroyed.

About 2,000 sorites were flown from the west in muggy weather.

The Germans made four challenges, although their planes were outnumbered 20 to 1. In the greatest of the dogfights yesterday, 20 Messerschmitts and Focke Wulfs were destroyed of 60 planes which attacked.

The enemy used clouds for protection in their strongest attempt yet to prevent glider reinforcements

Fierce Battle Rages For Port

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY, Sept. 22 — (CP Cable). — Polish forces of the Canadian Army have cleared some 40 square miles of Netherlands territory south of the River Schelde and east of Terneuzen, while today Canadian troops were reducing the remaining Nazi strongpoints around the great Channel port of Boulogne.

The Poles have mopped up nearly all the Netherlands area east of Terneuzen over to the Belgian border northwest of Antwerp, seizing 1,700 prisoners, and yesterday killing 600 Germans in one pocket alone.

Canadian infantry and armor meanwhile is continuing a mop-up of German pockets in the Hoek area, just south of the Schelde estuary.

The count of prisoners taken by Canadian infantrymen assaulting Boulogne today rose to 7,500 as Maritime and Ontario troops closed in on the surrounding stronghold of Le Portel, a suburb two miles southwest of Boulogne, where the Nazi garrison is faced with nothing but to surrender or die.

In the Wimereux area of Boulogne, 2½ miles north of the port, other Canadian infantry were battling fiercely-resisting Germans in pillboxes with flame-throwers, mortars and machine-gun fire.

Execute Rome Police Chief

Pietro Caruso Convicted Of War Crimes

ROME, Sept. 22.—(AP).—Pietro Caruso, last Fascist police chief of Rome, was strapped in a chair and shot to death in the back to-day by a firing squad in expiation for crimes committed during German occupation.

"Viva l' Italia," the doomed man cried just before a squad of Metropolitan police fired. No coup de grace was necessary.

Caruso was convicted by an Italian court of rounding up 50 Italian hostages for execution by the Germans in the Ardeatina cave near Rome. He also was accused of arresting Italian refugees in St. Paul's church, violating the Vatican's extra-territoriality. His young secretary, Roberto Occhetto, a co-defendant, got off with 30 years. The trial was delayed Monday when an angry Italian mob lynched the chief state witness.

Caruso died in the bright sunlight this afternoon in the century old Fort Bravetta near the capital. The manner of his execution was the same meted to the Italians who were slaughtered in the cave, and was specified by the court. Prince Humbert, lieutenant-general of the realm, denied clemency.

A priest administered Extreme Unction while the condemned man stared intently. As the robed figure drew back, Caruso shouted "Viva l'Italia" and the firing squad acted. The body slumped over in the unpainted chair.

Italian and Allied officials and Allied newspaper men were the only witnesses.

Russian Armies Brush Aside German Resistance In Estonia

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press War Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 22. — (AP).—Russian armies brushed aside German resistance to-day in swift sweeps to within 40 miles of the Estonian capital of Tallinn and less than 15 from the Hungarian frontier at opposite ends of the long, undulating eastern front.

(Gen. Bor issued a communique from inside besieged Warsaw declaring the Russians had crossed the Vistula and established contact inside the Polish capital with his embattled Partisan force. He said Russian planes had successfully dropped more supplies. The Germans asserted that river crossings had been broken up and tha "disengagement movements" in Estonia were proceeding according to plan.)

The key town of Arad, on the immediate approach to Hungary, and Tapa, on the route to the Estonian capital were under attack.

Riga Is Besieged.

In Latvia, the great seaport of Riga, whose 3939,000 persons make it the largest city in the Baltic States, was besieged. Red army troops were only six miles away.

Still other Russian army groups hammered at the Carpathian mountain gates of Czechoslovakia after capturing the eastern end of Dukla Pass.

At midnight, the Kremlin announced seizure of the rail town of Rakvere and 300 other settlements along the gulf of Finland and said the 30-mile isthmus between the gulf and Lake Peipus had been captured. Russians then were reported on the outskirts of Tapa on railroads fanning out to Leningrad, Tallinn and Riga.

(A Helsinki dispatch said fires set in Tallinn by the retiring Germans were visible from the north shore of the Finnish gulf, and violent explosions were heard incessantly.)

Far to the south of the eastern edge of the Hungarian plain other Russian forces began a vast enveloping manoeuvre 138 miles from bomb-shattered Budapest designed at trapping from the rear all German and Hungarian forces pinned down in northern Transylvania.

Crerar Likely To Become Full General

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 22—(CP Cable).—Lt.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar may be appointed a full General—the first officer in the Canadian Army to hold this rank — in recognition of his able direction of the 1st Canadian Army during the French and Belgian campaigns, it was learned to-day.

All Army and Corps commanders normally are lieutenant-generals, but it has been the practice to promote Army commanders to full General's rank after a particularly successful campaign. Montgomery is a case in point He took over the 8th Army as a Lieutenant-General, but after his desert victories was elevated to full General.

With Montgomery now a Field-Marshal it is possible that Lt.-Gen. Crerar as well as Lt.-Gen. Dempsey commander of the British 2nd Army will be rewarded for their astute and skilful handling of their forces from the battlefields of Caen to the low countries and Germany.

Lt.-Gen. Crerar at 56 is the oldest of Canada's field generals. He was born in Hamilton, Ont., in 1888 and attended the schools of Hamilton, Upper Canada College at Toronto, and the Royal Military College at Kingston.

During the last war he was an artillery officer and succeeded Gen. McNaughton as counter battery staff officer, Canadian Corps.

Since 1918, when he decided to devote himself to a military career he has successively been Commandant of the R.M.C., Chief of the Canadian General Staff, a Diivsional Commander and inally G.O. C. in C. of the 1st Canadian Army.

Break-through At Arnhem Would Crumble Nazi Line

By J. M. ROBERTS
Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie, Associated Press War Analyst.

Developments of the next few days may give us a pretty good idea when V-Day will come in Europe.

Official reports from Quebec and the front say the Allied c[illegible]e is still ahead of schedule. The last official word said five days. The latest report is a month, which can be considered from two angles.

It is hardly likely that we have gained any on the actual ground-taking schedule in the last few weeks of increasing German resistance. We could be in better position for the final battle, both as to organization of supplies and reserves, than was expected a month ago

The conservative appraisal is that France was reconquered somewhat earlier and at smaller cost than expected, so that now we enter the Battle of Germany in better shape generally. From here on out there are many imponder bles.

A break-through at Arnhem in the next few days, which is not too much to expect, could result in the crumbling of the whole German line. Allied officers express doubt as to the value of German defences along the Dutch border, believing the Nazis rely strongly on the flooded lowlands. But it is too much to hope that the Germans are entirely dependent on water defences which proved no real barrier to them in 1940. They undoubtedly have done everything possible to prepare defences in depth deep into Germany.

So the big factor is the German army—whether it is now offering, with its last strength, a tough but thin crust backed with little filling, or whether the Allies must penetrate miles and miles of defences as strongly defended as we have found the outposts.

Bad weather already has come to the Channel across which reserves and supplies must move. Tanks have run into heavy rains, which, together with fog in Holland, have interfered with the air arm. Another fortnight will see increasingly bad weather as a regular thing. October would be the month in which to win the war. November 15 would be the outside limit unless the Allies were willing to risk some very serious delays.

All of which gives the idea that the fall of Arnhem will see Eisenhower turn loose his Sunday punch.

Rimini Port Captured By 8th Army

4 Weeks' Offensive Turns Flank Of Nazi Defences

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent

ROME, Sept. 22 — (AP). — Greek troops of the British 8th Army fighting under Canadian command swept well into the rich industrial Po Valley today after capturing the stubbornly defended seaport of Rimini in a thundering climax to a four-weeks' offensive on the Adriatic sector of the Italian front.

Simultaneously American troops of the applied 5th Army captured Firenzuola, an important road junction in the heart of the Gothic Line from which highways extend north and northeast into the Po Valley.

The twin victories held the threat of imminent disaster for Field Marshal Kesselring's troops, whose vaunted Gothic Line was crumbling before the terrible might of Allied armored power, aerial assault and naval bombardment.

Strongest Yet

The desperately resisting enemy, entrenched in some of the strongest positions ever encountered in the entire Italian campaign, had waged prolonged and bitter battles both at Rimini and Firenzuola, the latter approximately 29 airline miles south of Bologna, a city of 269,687 population and one of the gateways into the Po Valley.

Capture of Rimini turned the east side of the Gothic Line and allowed Allied troops to spill into Emilian and Lombard Plains on which they can swiftly cut German communications to all the Gothic Line — centred around mile-high mountains which canalize traffic.

Greek troops entered Rimini Wednesday night and by Thursday morning had cleared the greater part of the town and reached the Marecchia River.

Canadian infantry on the left mopped San Fortunato and the ridge of the same name, capturing 500 prisoners and surged to the Marecchia River, well west of Rimini.

Once-beautiful Rimini was mostly in ruins, for the Germans had turned the port city into a fortress target for Allied power.

American units of the 5th Army widened and deepened their penetration of Gothic defences against reduced enemy opposition, finding large numbers of enemy dead littering the slopes on which a wither- the hills overlooking the sea. had been laid in order to clear the path of advance.

Brazilians Gain

Near Italy's west coast, Brazilian troops have been beating steadily northward, keeping pace with Allied forces farther inland. The important town of Pietrasanta was captured, 19 miles north-north-west of Pisa. The Brazilians were also reported well up 4,000-foot Mount Prano, six miles east of Pietra-

Huns Abandon Greek Area

CAIRO, Sept. 22 — (CP).— Reliable reports said to-day the Germans have abandoned the greater part of Peloponnesus, southernmost sector of Greece proper.

The 8,356-square-mile area, about a sixth of Greece, is virtually an island, linked to the mainland by a narrow land bridge west of Athens—the Isthmus of Corinth.

Peloponnesus includes the towns of Sparta, Patrai, Pyrgos and Kalami. Its defence has become increasingly untenable since the Russians overran Romania and Bulgaria and Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia started an offensive to cut all rail communications

The reports said German movements from Southern and Northern Greece still continued as Baron Maximilian Von Weichs, field-marshal commanding German armies in the Balkans strove to extricate his forces.

Simultaneously, the Germans were reported moving garrisons in Crete from the east to the west in hopes of evacuation. Allied Mediterranean forces had thrown a sea and air blockade around the big

Ontario Men Battle For Boulogne Port

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press War Correspondent

INSIDE BOULOGNE, Sept. 22 — (CP Cable). — The remnants of the German garrison of Boulogne driven into the relatively small suburb of Le Portel, two miles southwest, were left last night with two choices: they must surrender or die.

On three sides they are surrounded by troops from the Maritimes and Ontario. On the fourth side in the sea and from the Canadian commander of the Boulogne operation down to the last man the Canadians have had enough of Boulogne. They want to finish it off quickly.

At a later date, when it is possible to release more information, it will be apparent why this operation by the Canadians is a tremendous one from the operational point of view, quiet apart from the importance it has in the whole Allied scheme.

The battle of Boulogne has been an absolute success and the commander is highly pleased.

One group of 500 who marched in yesterday tried vainly to surrender. The Canadians were almost on top of them and the prisoners said every time they showed their uniforms above the ground the artillery was so hot they ducked back into their slit trenches. Finally they got a representative out who arranged the surrender.

Men of Canadian support companies lounge around the streets awaiting the next call to arms. Most Canadian sport two or more pistols taken from German prisoners. Enemy pistols are the most saleable of souvenirs and there's always a rush to get them.

At one time Pte. Romeo Carriere of Cornwall, Ont., had seven pistols. He and Sgt. Tom Plumridge of Kingston, Ont., and Cpl. Don Pisquin of Haliburton, Ont., collected them when they caught seven Germans at lunch.

"We got the guns, then got the Jerries," said Carriere.

Free Hospital Care Old Age Pensioners

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan said in an interview last night that free hospital and medical services for old age and blind pensioners is one of the items of legislation scheduled for the emergency session of the provincial legislature opening in Regina Oct. 19. It will be the first session of a C.C.F. government in the Dominion.

The C.C.F. premier said general principles of the health plan have been approved and details will be worked out with committees representing the Saskatchewan Medical Association.

Other legislation proposed includes protection for farm debtors and labor regulations to improve the position of workers.

Paratroopers Hold Bridge Open On Rhine River

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 22 —(AP)—Airborne British and Polish troops, fiercely beset by a German counter-attack from all sides, fought a desperate battle for preservation to-night in an effort to hold open the strategic crossing of the Rhine's upper branch in Holland so the Allies could sweep into northern Germany.

The position of the airborne soldiers, who leaped into the middle of the Germans' northern river defences 50 miles ahead of Allied lines last Sunday, was officially described as critical at Gen. Eisenhower's Supreme Headquarters.

A determined rush of German guns and troops had brought to a standstill the relieving advance of Lt Gen. Dempsey's British 2nd Army tanks two miles north of Nijmegen and six miles short of a junction with the beleaguered force.

The British parachute troops, identified by the Germans as the 1st Airborne Division, had been reinforced by a Polish unit ferried by air, but bad weather made further reinforcement and supply difficult. The Germans were throwing strong anti-aircraft fire and many of their available planes into attempts to turn back further aerial carriers.

Huns Claim Gains

The Germans declared 4,000 of the original landing force—perhaps half its strength — had been wiped out, but Supreme Headquarters gave this statement no confirmation.

It was not known whether the isolated force had managed to keep its hold on the Arnhem bridge—gateway to the Ruhr and potential jumping off place for an end run around the Siegfried Line.

But latest reports said it was maintaining its positions north of the northern arm of the Rhine, and the Germans said invasion units had entered Arnhem itself.

Japanese Army Takes Wuchow

CHUNGKING, Sept. 22 — (AP).—A Chinese Army spokesman announced to-day that the Japanese forces have captured Wuchow, important port on the Signa River in Eastern Kwangsi Province.

Wuchow is about 180 miles west of Canton and about 170 south-east of Kweilin, where American fliers formerly had their principal Eastern China bases. Advices last night from the front said the Japanese were within 9½ miles of Wuchow.

The Japanese took the city from the north and by a sweep along the river which carried them across the Kwangsi frontier.

Meanwhile another column of invaders slashing north-eastward from Luichow Peninsula captured Jungyun, 60 miles south-west of Wuchow. Once the gap between these two points is closed, informed sources said, the Japanese will have a line curving from Hainan to Hong Kong and a large slice of Kwangtung Province will be converted into an "offensive-defensive" area against an Allied landing in this part of the China coast.

Rides Around France On Borrowed Bicycle

LONDON, Sept. 22 — (CP-Reuter).— Flt. Lt. J. A. De La Paulle, 23-year-old R.C.A.F. pilot from Washington, D.C., when handed a 10-days' pass:

Crossed the Channel to the Normandy beaches;

Hitchhiked to Caen;

Borrowed a bicycle and rode to his family hunting lodge 60 miles outside Paris and found it undamaged;

Pedalling alone down a French road captured four armed Germans and turned them over to the F.F.I.;

Joined the American Army of Liberation and entered Paris;

Was ordered to leave a hotel because the roof was occupied by German snipers and slept for the night in armored car in a Paris side street.

De La Paulle left the French capital the day Gen. De Gaulle entered the city—and arrived back in Britain in time to receive the D.F.C. at an investiture.

He gained the award on completing an anti-U-boat tour as captain of a Sunderland flying boat.

At the outbreak of war De La Paulle was a medical student at the Sorbonne in Paris and won the Croix de Guerre driving an ambulance in France before Dunkerque.

Carrier Planes Bag Ships In Manila Bay

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 22 — (AP) — Striking back at the Japanese in the Manila Bay area — for the first time since the fall of Corregidor in May, 1942 — hundreds of American carrier planes shot down 110 enemy aircraft, wiped out 95 on the ground and sank or probably sank 37 ships, including two destroyers, while a great U.S. fleet stood unchallenged off the Philippines Thursday (Manila time).

The blow wrought destruction at Clark Field, Nichols Field, the Cavite naval base, Subic and Manila Bay. The jittery enemy put all the Philippines under martial law.

The cost of the raid to the United States was 15 planes, but several of their airmen were saved. Not one of the aircraft carriers and escorting warships was damaged in the operation executed by Admiral Halsey and Admiral Marc A. Mitscher.

In a special communique, Admiral Nimitz announced "this superlatively successful attack . . . apparently caught the enemy completely by surprise."

11 Ships Sink

Eleven enemy ships were sunk — a large destroyer leader, four large oil tankers, a whale tanker, two large cargo ships, a medium cargo ship and two small cargo ships.

Twenty-six probably were sunk — a destroyer, two large whale tankers, a large transport, 10 large cargo ships, and 12 medium cargo ships.

A floating drydock also probably was sunk.

The Mitscher-Halsey Armada, which since Aug. 30 has accounted for 258 Japanese ships and 908 planes, the bulk of them in the Philippines area, struck ahead of invasion forces gathering in advanced bases south and east of Mindanao.

The dispatch of such a great fleet toward the Philippines reflected confidence in the outcome of the invasion of the Palaus, 515 miles east of Mindanao, where Marines are locked with ridge-entrenched Japanese in one of the most savage engagements of the Pacific war.

Nimitz, in a communique preceding the special one, said Marines on Peleliu on the southern Palaus have won all the east shore and two small islands nearby, and have killed more than 6,000 of the enemy. But 3,000 more Japanese, taking advantage of the most difficult terrain encountered by the Americans anywhere in the Pacific, are putting up a bitter, bloody stand on the west coast.

Lightning Kills Two Farm Horses

DOURO, Sept. 22 — (ENS). — Lightning which killed two of his horses, narrowly missed killing Clarence Coughlin, son of ex-Reeve Martin Coughlin, Thursday afternoon in a bad storm.

Mr. Coughlin saw the storm approaching while he was working in the fields, and taking his team of three horses, he started for the farm buildings, riding one of the animals. Lightning struck, killing two of the horses and knocking him off the third. Neither he nor the animal were injured, but Mr. Coughlin was stunned for a few minutes.

Disorder in the Fascist headquarters indicated a hasty withdrawal of the party chiefs. Keys were left in drawer-locks; files were strewn on the floor.

In the public square stood a gallows used within the past week. Here three partisans were hanged by the Germans for helping the Allies. Their bodies were cut down three days ago.

Used Car Sales Require Triplicate Form

TORONTO, Sept. 22—Buyers of used cars were warned last night to make sure they obtain a copy of sales forms required by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Gordon Murphy, used car officer of the board, pointed out all persons, whether dealers or individuals, who sell a used car, must obtain forms from the board office in their locality. These forms are designed to record details of the transaction in triplicate. One copy is returned to the board office, one given to the purchaser and one retained by the seller.

"Not only is this record useful to us in protecting the car buyer against black market operators, but the purchaser will find it necessary when he applies to the Oil Controller's office for his new ration book," he said.

Mr. Murphy also pointed out that car owners who have purchased a used car since Dec. 31, 1943, will not be eligible for another car until January, 1945, unless their present car is destroyed or stolen.

Thousands of inquiries are being received by his office from persons interested in buying or selling used cars, with dealers wanting to know whether or not car sales require a trade-in or buyers asking if the dealer can make them give him trade-ins.

"If the prospective buyer of a used car is eligible in Class A, B, or C, in the Rubber Controller's Order No. 4 for priority for used or new tires, the used car dealer cannot insist on a trade-in," he said. "The dealer may, however, demand a cash payment. Those who have no priority rating for tires may be required to give a trade-in. Individuals selling a used car cannot demand a trade-in."

Individuals advertising cars for sale are required to indicate the year, make, model, serial number, accessories, as well as the owner's name and address, with the price asked. This figure must not be above the ceiling price, and the regulations point out the car must be "fit for the purpose it was manufactured." In otherwords, Mr. Murphy said, "the car must be in good running order before it can demand legal maximum ceiling price."

sible bit of armor across the brilliantly-won Nijmegen bridge over the Lower Rhine branch, the Waal. British guns were giving some relief to the parachutists, picking off surrounding German targets.

The desperation-born stiffening of the German stand was reflected along the whole 500-mile Allied front as well.

Lt.-Gen. Patton's U.S. 3rd Army power drive 19 miles beyond Nancy plowed into fresh enemy armored forces in the Arrancourt area. Americans and Germans fought through the fourth day of the greatest tank battles since Normandy.

American tankmen in this area ran into 45 more German tanks as the morning mists lifted, after destroying 105 in three days there.

Fall of Terneuzen on the Schedlde estuary to Polish troops of the 1st Canadian Army was announced today, and the communique said mopping-up on the estuary's southern bank of the Leopold Canal was continuing.

The enemy had been confined by Canadian infantry to high ground southwest of Boulogne, as the last stages of the siege of that Channel port were reached, it was reported.

An enemy strongpoint in the Forest de la Creche, on Boulogne's outskirts, was hit by medium and light bombers.

Contradictory.

The German communique said the Allied push from Nijmegen had been halted, and that an all-out attack had been launched with the aim of annihilating the isolated remnants at Arnhem, identified by Berlin as the British 1st Airborne Division. The Germans said yesterday the division had largely been wiped out.

Another German broadcast said the push from the south already had lined up with the Arnhem force. A third said the Arnhem force already had been liquidated. Again it was declared that the fierce fight was continuing and that German forces everywhere in Holland had gone over to the counter-attack.

Allied dispatches saying the airborne force still held the Arnhem bridge were inconclusive, they were dated two days ago.

(Against this the BBC quoted a front reporter today as saying the Germans still held the bridge, but British troops had established a bridgehead on the north side and had the span itself under fire. The Germans were attempting to flee north over the bridge, said this broadcast recorded by CBS.)

The Germans announced that American troops had broken into the fortress town of Remiremont, 50 miles southeast of Nancy and 28 miles northwest of Belfort, but were dislodged after a hard fight. This is in a sector linking the 3rd and 7th armies.

Allies Lost Ground

The 7th Army also was forced back a mile or two from Vermondans, 17 miles southwest of Belfort in the Pont de Ronde area, to Grand Bois.

But these were the only sectors where the Allies yielded a foot in the face of fanatical resistance.

Other forces of the 7th Army pounded forward into stiff artillery fire east of Epinal, on the Moselle 35 miles south of Nancy, and reached Mabouhans and Palante, two villages three miles apart 13 miles east of Lure and the same distance west of Belfort.

The 1st Army was blocked temporarily from exploiting its penetration of the Siegfried Line, but was slowly widening its wedge in the German defence system north and south of Aachen.

These veterans drove within three miles of Geilenkirchen, five miles inside Germany at a point 12 miles north of Aachen, mopped up in the forests at the base of their wedge south of Aachen and were blasting out the last Nazi-held houses in industrial Stolberg east of Aachen.

Other forces which had by-passed Stolberg were four miles farther east and about 28 miles from Cologne on the Rhine, but apparently had been pinned down there, in heavy engagements.

Col. Hicks-Lyne Lauds Courage Of London Folk

The morale of the men of the S.D. and G. Highlanders with whom he came into contact is of the highest, and in a visit of many hospitals in England, never once was there a grouse of any kind heard, is the heartening message brought by Colonel R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, original officer commanding the Stormont Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders, who returned home from overseas recently after more than four years absence from this city.

Col. Hicks-Lyne outlined to the Examiner the phases of life in wartime London which would probably impress a visitor to the capital.

He said that after the 1940-41 blitz from bombers, the English seemed to relax slightly from the tense atmosphere apparent in blitz days, but when the newer menace came,—robots, without hesitation, the Londoner and Englishman reorganized his life, to meet the demands of the terror from the skies, and once again lifted himself up to the high standard of courage, under fire, of which the entire world marvelled during previous dark days.

Robot bombs have caused a difference, but minutely. Outwardly, the Londoner is the same man as before the war, and any emotions of various types are hidden securely under a veil of apparent calmness, he said.

Take Things Calmly

"They know they must meet this menace," he said, "and they will meet it in the most philosophic manner possible. They have in mind, when under fire, that they, too are making some little contribution to the war, and generally, take the attitude of 'If those soldiers can take it, then we can, too'," Col. Hicks-Lyne said.

The visitor to wartime London, he observed, would for one, be impressed with the almost amazing way in which the public service carry on. Of course, there are minor slip-ups here, but what reaction there was when the bombs first made an appearance, has long since vanished.

The visitor would see London people sitting in a park that had been completely bombed the day before. Organizations to repair damaged buildings, roads, and property is most efficient, and smoothly-working, he said.

The entertainment of the populace of the great metropolis is still, regardless of wartime conditions, the finest to be found. Theatres, under the strain of shortages of every kind, carry on throughout the bombings, and London can still be proud of its theatrical attractions. When an American show opens, it is well received, and a feeling of mutual cooperation between American and British showmen is one of the reasons for the many theatre successes in London's wartime career.

"All in all," he said, "London is carrying on. The English would impress anyone to visit the country with the cool, steadfast manner in which they take these hardships of war."

Drew Supports Smythe On Statements

TORONTO, Sept. 22 —(CP)—The Ontario cabinet today discussed with Premier Drew his one-month overseas trip from which he returned yesterday with hospital facilities in the province for wounded servicemen one of the subjects slated for consideration.

The premier said at a press conference yesterday that any decisions resulting from his trip would follow consideration by the cabinet and he mentioned specifically that hospital facilities would be under discussion, adding that "this government plans to do everything in its power to see that Ontario members of the armed forces receive adequate hospital treatment."

He told a questioner that "there is no doubt about the accuracy" of a statement by Major Conn Smythe that some Canadian troops have gone into action without training in the use of grenades or Piat and Bren guns explaining that "I know that to be correct from my own knowledge and contacts with the troops in France."

However, he declined to comment on Major Smythe's statement in its entirety and made his remark when a reporter said the former managing director of Maple Leaf Gardens had said that some troops in action were not trained in the use of the three weapons.

Education Plan

Main purpose of his trip was to arrange a more effective system of providing men overseas with information about rehabilitation and hospitalization facilities available to them in their home province.

The Ontario Department of Education found in August that returning servicemen were not familiar with facilities and training available to them under the educational program which is administered by the province. An advisory centre in connection with this work had been opened in part of the old Toronto Normal School and others would be opened later in key cities in the province.

On the overseas visit arrangements were made for informing the men of rehabilitation plans through the co-operation of military authorities, Ontario House in London and the Ontario Government.

"I am completely satisfied with the discussions and the arrangements," said Premier Drew. "I had the heartiest co-operation from army, navy and air force officials."

Front dispatches pictured the Germans as fleeing in wild rout toward Tallinn, a possible escape port, as Govorov's offensive thundered into its sixth day.

His forces, made up of Estonian and Russian troops cleared Estonia's two main railways to within artillery range of the Tapa Junction, and fanned out around whatever Germans failed to escape from Tapa.

May Defend Port.

It appeared likely the Germans would be unable to make even a temporary stand short of Tallinn, but might attempt defence of the port itself.

Dispatches from the vital bulge in the centre of the Baltic Line west of Valga on the Estonia-Latvia frontier declared Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's 3rd Baltic army, hammering against stiffer Nazi resistance, had deepened its salient designed to cut off the Estonia wing of the German army group.

The Germans still hold a narrow land corridor connecting Riga with western Latvia, Lithuania and East Prussia.

In a drive that may doom the rest of the divisions of the Hungarian army and crack the Magyar peoples' will to resist, Malinovsky turned his columns north from the mouth of the Mures Valley, where it meets the Daunbian Plain.

Pushing close to the railway centre of Arad from two ways, the Red army troops were within 17 miles of the Hungarian-Romanian frontier and were advancing steadily in two directions of Oradea, rail junction 60 miles away. There the Russians could sever communications of the German and Hungarian defenders of northern Transylvania.

Fuel Dealers Face Serious Labor Shortage

Right out of the coal scuttle comes the tip that some folks may have to do their own shouldering of coal, with the first dip into chilly weather, unless somebody manages to persuade enough strong men to hire their muscles to the dealers.

Twenty-five men, at least, could be used right now by the city's fuel retailers, according to H. T. Rehill's estimate at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the City Hall at which W. H. L. Mellis of Selective Service said there was nothing he could do at present. ("We could place up to 540 men in Peterborough industry right now.") Mayor Hamilton doubtfully suggested that there might be a few men available from the city's service for a short time.

Got 11 Men

Mr. Mellis reported that since his meeting with the dealers a month ago he had referred eleven men to the fuel trade, and nine of them were placed.

"Twenty-five would put us through the winter," Mr. Rehill remarked.

One man who took a job delivering coal was satisfying everybody but the woman with whom he boarded. The job of keeping things clean, bed sheets and so on forced that young man to get other work.

Then there are incidental obstacles to satisfaction. Two men took three tons of coal to a certain house. They had to carry it about fifty feet to the cellar window; then one of the men had to crawl into the cellar and as bag after bag was passed through to him he had to carry them across the floor to the bin. A bit of agreeable "conveniences" for the trade, such as that, all add to the pleasantness of the dealing trade as another winter comes.

Mr. Mellis and Mayor Hamilton promised some enquiries and effort about increasing the local labor pool, even to suggesting that men of experience in the fuel business be returned to civilian life for the winter work.

Damage Heavy In Brief Storm

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP) — Farmers of the rural Renfrew district 50 miles north of here to-day took stock of heavy damage caused late yesterday when a brief but violent storm raced through the district, demolishing buildings and tearing up trees and telegraph poles.

Thousands of dollars of damage was caused and a number of livestock were killed as the storm, of cyclone proportions, ripped across the countryside and cut a path of destruction a quarter-mile wide. There were no reports of injury.

Perhaps the heaviest damage was at the Village of Shawville, across the Ottawa River in Quebec Province, where nearly all the windows in the Pontiac County Hospital were shattered and part of the hospital roof and that of the nurses' home were swept away.

Power and telegraph lines were torn down and the village, along with the nearby town of Quoyn, was without lights last night. The roof of the J. M. Argue saw mill was swept away and motor cars were damaged in the streets of Shawville, when great trees were uprooted and the pavement torn up.

A Pembroke "local" train was delayed for nearly an hour near Haleys Station in Ontario when the "twister" toppled trees and telegraph poles on the Canadian Pacific Railway tracks.

Scores of barns from Renfrew through to Shawville were blown away and scattered and the fields were litteredwith torn planking and parts of fences. Big gaps were torn through the bushland, where trees were down in a well-defined line.

125 Tons Of Paper Collected In Few Hours In Big Drive

By DON McGIBBON

Thousands of Peterborough and district citizens, heading the urgent call for waste paper in the country's war effort, contributed more than 125 tons of the vital material Thursday evening in the most successful waste paper drive in the history of the city.

Officials of the drive said the cooperation received from everyone concerned was of the finest, and is by all means the foremost reason the effort was such a success. People who placed their paper on the streets, or on porches and verandahs, in every case, tied the paper firmly in bundles and each, it is estimated, gave a large enough a share to set up Peterborough as an example equalled by no other Ontario city of similar size.

20 Trucks Used

Throughout the evening, beginning at 6 o'clock, more than 60 men from industrial firms, and 20 trucks, from the same firms, combed the city from one end to the other. Each truck was assigned four men generally, and as the city area was divided into 14 sections, each was assigned a section of the city to cover. A map of all sections was in the weighing room in the market square, and individual maps of each section were given to the truck drivers. Often, drivers went through their particular part of the city five and six times, everytime, bringing back a large load to be weighed, and sent to the CNR station, where many more helpers packed the paper into railway cars. Other trucks made sporadic trips into sections where it became evident the paper crop was extra heavy.

One of the highlights of the evening came when it was found more helpers were needed at the railway station to load the box-cars. A hurried call went out to the 9th Park Hill Scout and Cub group, who were holding a meeting at the Dixon Community Centre. Reg. Perks, scoutmaster, rounded the boys up, and a large consignment went immediately to the station, where they remained for several hours, doing exceedingly valuable work.

Although many places in the city showed signs of no collection, trucks went through each part many times, and each time, paper would make an appearance whereas formerly there had been none. Much of this late paper will be collected to-day by several trucks and men offering even more of their time and services.

R. Connolly, on behalf of the Department of War Services, told the Examiner that the success of the drive was due in every way to the fine general response from residents of both urban Peterborough, and the various district centres from which paper was also collected.

"We would also like to thank the press and radio for their splendid help, and the theatres, that showed pictures of the purpose for the drive," he said. He added, "The men who helped here tonight deserve extra special mention. They have done a magnificent job, and worked untiringly."

Five Cars Loaded.

An Examiner reporter who visited the CNR station where the paper was being loaded into box cars for shipment to the mills, found that six cars had already been loaded. Trucks drove into the grounds regularly with huge stacks of neatly bundled paper, and men worked hour after hour unloading them. The entire job of collecting and preparing waste paper was shown to be a hard one, demanding tough, manual labor, but with the excellent organization noted in "Thursday's One Day" drive, the process followed a very definite pattern, and the night's business worked out on schedule.

"Those boy scouts certainly did a marvellous job," complimented Alex Kelly, 284 King George street, who had been working on the trucks from 6 o'clock until nearly midnight. "There's been lots of paper seen here, and we're still not finished." Other interviews with workers confirmed this!

"We just brought in 61,000 pounds in our truck .... which isn't bad going," beamed A. Hendren, of the De Laval Company. Working since the beginning, he said everybody had taken the trouble to tie their paper in bundles and also gave plenty in each bundle. Wally Harrison, also of the DeLaval, worked on the same truck.

One man said, "You know, this would be hard work if we didn't know that every scrap of this paper is going on active service to help win the war. Ordinarily, I'd be dog-tired by now, but this is just as important as any job."

R. Williamson, of the C. G. E., took a humorous outlook on the work. "I've seen every type of paper imaginable go into this truck," he sighed, leaning up against the truck, still filled with paper. "Yep, everything from Reader's Digest to Esquire, ... and even pictures of pin-up girls." A. Erickson, also of the C. G. E. testified that parcels had been tied with everything, from thin thread, to thick cable.

Back in the weighing room in the Market Square, headquarters for the night operations, Mrs. R. Whalon, Peterborough, chairman for the drive, and a group of helpers, were awaiting the driver of trucks "Number 1." Out since the start, it had not been heard of since, and officials, in the little room, were beginning to wonder.

"Maybe they forgot to come here, and went direct to the station yard" offered Mrs. Whalon.

The door opened, and the crew of truck Number 1 entered, surprised at the sighs of relief greeting them.

"Whew," moaned one driver, collapsing on a chair, and pushing the hair out of his eyes. "I'll bet you've wondered where we've been. Well, I have never been up in that wartime housing district before, but now I think the streets go in circles. It's been a nightmare," he said. (They got a large load of paper thoungh ....one of the largest).

The little room in Market Square played host to a large number of hard-workers in the interests of our nation's war effort Thursday night. Dressed in work clothes, they reported to the officials as soon as they would bring in a load, and the work they did indicates something more than mere patriotism .... it was active service for a war cause!

Through it all, Mrs. Whalon and Mr. Connolly, pouring over the detailed map of the city, planned the operations, and figured out the problems that popped up now and then.

"This paper that we've collected to-night," Mr. Connolly revealed, will be in the form of containers for food and cedical supplies for overseas service .... within a week!"

Mrs. Whalon, recalling four years ago when a group of women banded together for collecting waste paper, expressed her deepest thanks for the cooperation received, and added, the paper would never have all been picked up, were it not for the men who helped.

"The drive has been a great success, and when it is considered how vastly important waste paper is to Canada's war effort, I feel that all who took part in it, know they have done a vital job, and done it well."

The Girl Guide organization came into focus of the Campaign leaders, for their excellent work in distributing posters for the drive.

Among the industrial firms who donated trucks, and signed up men for the duties, were: DeLaval, Canadian General Electric, Outboard Marine, Brinton Carpet Company, B. F. Ackerman Co., Canada Packers, Quaker Oats and National Grocers, The Board of Works, and Parks Department also lent trucks.

Youth 20, Flees From Police

Arrested on a charge of breaking and entering the Genelco canteen, Lorne Gibson, St. Mary's street, 20 years old, bolted out of the front door of the police station as he was being placed in the cells Thursday night and made a clean getaway.

Police were looking for Gibson and another youth similarly charged when Officer C. J. McGillen riding his motor cycle, spotted the pair at the corner of Charlotte and George streets. The two youths separated and ran and the officer after firing a shot into the air in an attempt to make them stop caught Gibson near the Jackson Park creek at the rear of Charlotte street stores and placed him under arrest.

At the police station Gibson was searched and was being taken to the cell by Officer McGillen when he suddenly turned and bolted down the corridor and out the front door. Then he want west on Simcoe street to George and disappeared before police could locate him.

Toronto Mayor Irked By Peterboro Views

TORONTO, Sept. 22—Old man Toronto shook his white hair, peered benevolently over his nose-perched spectacles, laid down his old briar pipe an reprovingly said "Tut, tut" to that young upstart, Peterborough, yesterday. "I've heard that 'Hogtown' charge a thousand times in the past, and here's another one," said Old Man T. "What are these little towns coming to?"

His concern arose from a report of a council meeting at Peterborough, when the council discussed several resolutions from Windsor. One of them wanted the Ontario Government to make some definite announcement of the assistance it was going to provide municipalities in their housing and slum-clearance campaigns.

Ald. Glover of Peterborough dragged Toronto into it with: "It used to be I never paid any attention to the designation of Toronto as 'Hogtown,' but I am beginning to think there is something to it." (The resolution came from Windsor, Mr. Glover.)

Peterborough Charges

Mayor Hamilton of the town that made the liftlock famous, or vice versa, booted the ball around some more. Both Toronto and Windsor, quoth he, "get into controversies with each other. They spend money on campaigns to get new industries, and they get them, too. With the new industries they naturally get a demand for housing, and immediately they turn to the Dominion and Ontario Governments demanding they do something about these Toronto and Windsor housing problems."

With deep sorrow and not the faintest twinge of anger, F. D. Tolchard, general manager of Toronto's Board of Trade, replied yesterday: "Naturally, we don't think Toronto is a 'Hogtown.' As one who had a lot to do with the Industrial Commission which brings industries here, I can say it has always been the policy of the commission to locate industries where their interests are best served. If Toronto can show an industry advantages better than it can obtain elsewhere, naturally we want it here.

"Both the commission and the Board of Trade have advised industries to go elsewhere, but any organization which is on its toes can get new industries."

Recently, he said, the Associated Boards of Trade had proposed to establish an inustrial commissioner in the United Kingdom and had asked participating municipalities to help finance the move. Toronto had offered to do more than her share toward helping municipalities which were particularly interested, but the "result wasn't very encouraging."

Mr. Tolchard went so far as to intimate that many municipalities were enthusiastic about the proposal until the time came to "put up the money." He didn't say Peterborough was one of the backer-outers.

Assist Small Centres

"We've never felt the least bit bitter toward any small municipalities and, in fact, we've done all we could to assist them. I think there's some resentment because of the fact Toronto is the centre and capital of Ontario, but we can't help that."

Mayor Conboy took rather a dim view of Mayor Hamilton's assertions, too. "I'm greatly surprised the mayor of Peterborough has suggested Toronto is endeavoring to obtain more than its fair share of public works and other assistance which comes from the senior Governments," he declared. "I do not have to labor the point that Toronto contributes both directly and indirectly to a greater extent than any other city in Canada."

He continued: "We've always provided for ourselves and have seldom asked for Federal or Provincial assistance. We recognize that we are a metropolitan municipality and have not complained when problems which should have belonged to municipalities in our area have been foisted upon us. Toronto made no request for housing till it was apparent an impossible situation was upon us, it was our duty to make sure that sufficient houses were erected in Toronto to ensure the accommodation of the families of our fighting men."

Holds Toxoid Clinic

COBOURG, Sept. 22—(ENS). — Dr. W. E. Wilkins, local M.O.H., is holding a toxoid clinic which will be in operation from September 27 to December 13 at the hours of 1.30 to 3 on Wednesday afternoons. Dr. Wilkins states that all children under the age of six may receive preventative treatment at his office during the period in which the clinic is operating.

Havelock Salvage Gets 5,800 Lbs. Paper

HAVELOCK, Sept. 22 (ENS) — Another curb collection of waste paper was carried out Thursday, just five weeks after the first one, and the results proved very satisfactory to the salvage committee, as a total of 5,800 pounds was received. It was suggested by the collector that it would be advisable to hold another curb collection on October 17, just before the bad weather sets in, and to allow a longer period to elapse between that and the next one.

Cities, Towns Planning To Mark V-Day

By The Canadian Press

With the final defeat of Germany becoming more certain, cities and towns throughout Canada are preparing for the day when Allied forces win final victory over Hitler's armies — V-Day.

Though many agree with General Eisenhower's prediction that there will be no V-Day, but that the war in Europe will just naturally peter out with the elimination of the enemy, nonetheless civic administrations everywhere are giving much thought to appropriate celebration.

In the Dominion's capital, Prime Minister Mackenzie King has announced appointment of a representative to work along with city authorities on celebration plans. Mayor Stanley Lewis has organized a committee to co-ordinate such celebration on the day and hour that Nazi Germany is conquered.

As are those of all Canada's larger cities, Ottawa authorities believe a majority of the rejoicing will be spontaneous. But they feel that the city's organizations must back the celebration with planned observance.

Civic Holiday

To date three municipalities have declared a civic holiday on the day Hitler and Co. go out of business. Calgary and London, Ont., plans hinge on the holiday and Saint John, N.B., has arranged for half-day holiday celebration if V-Day is announced in the morning or a full holiday the following day should the announcement come later in the day.

Most serious bone of contention is the problem of whether liquor stores shall be kept open. Three governments — British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario — are considering the problem, while Saskatchewan has decided that liquor stores will close on V-Day.

Vancouver's plans include keeping children in their classrooms — if a week day — to prevent accidents. All city churches will be open and theatres, with trained staffs to cope with crowds, will also remain open. Cabarets, restaurants and stores will close and most merchants will empty their windows to prevent smash-and-grab burglary.

Mayor Adhemar Raynault said plans for Montreal depend "upon how and when victory comes," and Quebec City has no plans for V-Day. In Quebec's Eastern Townships, the municipalities are preparing for a combined celebration.

Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island municipalities have not made definite plans; while New Brunswick generally seems to be following the lead set by Saint John in preparing wholehearted, but dignified celebration.

Church Services

In the Dominion's churches services have been arranged to follow the announcement of Germany's surrender in every city in Canada.

Many civic centres such as Saskatoon, Winnipeg and Toronto are making plans for celebrations. Guelph, Niagara Falls, Stratford, Kitchener and Cornwall preparations are tentative, while Edmonton and London propose to stop all public transportation to prevent congestion in the centre of the city. In Hamilton $2,000 has been set aside for fireworks and other forms of celebration.

Sault Ste. Marie will drape city buildings in gay bunting, close schools and stores and make a "big day" of it. A victory parade and civil service are highlights of V-Day preparations in North Bay.

Annual League Meeting

COBOURG, Sept. 22 — (ENS). — Cobourg Girls' Alley Bowling League are holding their annual meeting next Tuesday night to prepare for the fall and winter bowling season. It is hoped to get started early this year as a heavy schedule is expected. A number of new sponsors are said to be contemplating putting in teams.

Cfn. J. Sage Goes To Film Unit

Craftsman John W. W. Sage of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, overseas, has been transferred to the Canadian Film and Photo Unit, as mentioned in a recent letter from him to B. K. Scarlett, 458 Rubidge street.

This letter was written on August 12, the second anniversary of Cfn. Sage's induction into the Army. "I am told our work is to be generally practical such as scheme shooting, etc. It is an English film studio and photo school, quite near G.-B. (Gaumont-British) and others. Just now I am staying at the K. of C. hostel, near Hyde Park, quite nice. It used to be a hotel. I get my meals here, too, if I am in."

Cfn. Sage mentions the fact of his long interest in photography in boyhood, and of his expectations of acquiring greater knowledge and practical experience from the new work to which he has been assigned.

"The buzz bombs are messy. A chap I used to work with got married a month ago. Several weeks previous his girl friend's house got a glancing hit in their block. She and her dad were out Wednesday before last, looking for another place, and while they were out their house got a direct hit. Another chap I heard of from where I used to be was on his honeymoon in London. Both he and his wife were killed. The place where I am going is about seventeen miles northwest of London. I was out there yesterday looking for diggings."

Cfn. Sage is a son of Mrs. Elizabeth Sage, 515 Albert street.

C.C.F. Opposes Seizing Of Farms Agnes Macphail Says In Broadcast

The C.C.F. will not take the farmer's farm away, but rather will do everything possible to help him get it paid for quickly, and raise his standard of living, was one of the major points stressed by Agnes Macphail, M.P.P., in an address broadcast over CHEX Thursday evening, in the interests of William Johnson, C.C.F. candidate for Peterborough W.

"The most persistent misrepresentation of C.C.F. policy," Miss Macphail told the air audience, "is the charge that the C.C.F. will take the farmers' farms. It is a false charge, and I am getting tired of saying it isn't true," she stated.

"Over and over again the C.C.F. has said, both nationally and provincially, by convention resolution, 'The C.C.F. believes in the family farm as the basis of Canadian agriculture.' The provincial convention held in 1944 put it this way, 'The whole policy of the C.C.F. is directed to provide the farmer with the means of clearing his indebtedness and to give him full security in his ownership, as well as the full right to will his property. It believes that Canadian farms should be owned by the farmers themselves'," asserted Miss Macphail.

She continued, "If it were true that all the farm in Ontario were owned by a very few farmers...as is true in the case of the manufacturing of farm implements, then such limited ownership would not be allowed to continue, but such is not the case. The land is owned by thousands and thousands of farmers, not completely due to mortgages, but the ambition of the C.C.F. is to make it possible for the farmers to pay off all their mortgages, and in a reasonable time, own the land they till, outright."

30 in Government

Miss Macphail asked if it could be supposed that thirty farmers in Saskatchewan, farmers of good standing, would have become members of the legislature for the C.C.F. in that province, if they thought there was the slightest danger of their party interfering with the ownership of their land and farms. "The answer is no," she stated, "and again no."

"Then take my own course," she said, "do you think I would have anything to do with a political organization which coveted the farmers' land? I have worked to improve the position of the farm family all the time I was in the House of Commons," the C.C.F. member pointed out, adding that she had worked for this purpose even before entering, and since being in the Ontario Legislature. "It would be most illogical if I now wanted to work against the farmers' interests," she said.

"No, the fact is the C.C.F. offers the farmer more hope than any other party, thus I have a clear conscience in supporting it. The next time you hear anyone say, 'The C.C.F. is going to take the farms away from the farmers,' Miss Macphail advised, "tell him to think a new method of deception, that that one is outworn."

The well-known member of the Ontario provincial legislature said the C.C.F. believes that much can be done to improve the farmers' economic and social life, and that a definite program has been prepared. That the prices for farm products should be based on production costs, and that these production costs should include pay for the farmer and members of his family who work in the production, is a firm belief of the Federation, she said. Listeners were advised that prices are affected by the volume of production, and that in the future, farmers will need to plan production democratically to meet a known demand.

"We wish to raise the nutrition standard of all Canadians; to find markets in which the farm products we can spare will be exchanged for other required things. Then, the adding of these two together will give us roughly the amount it is

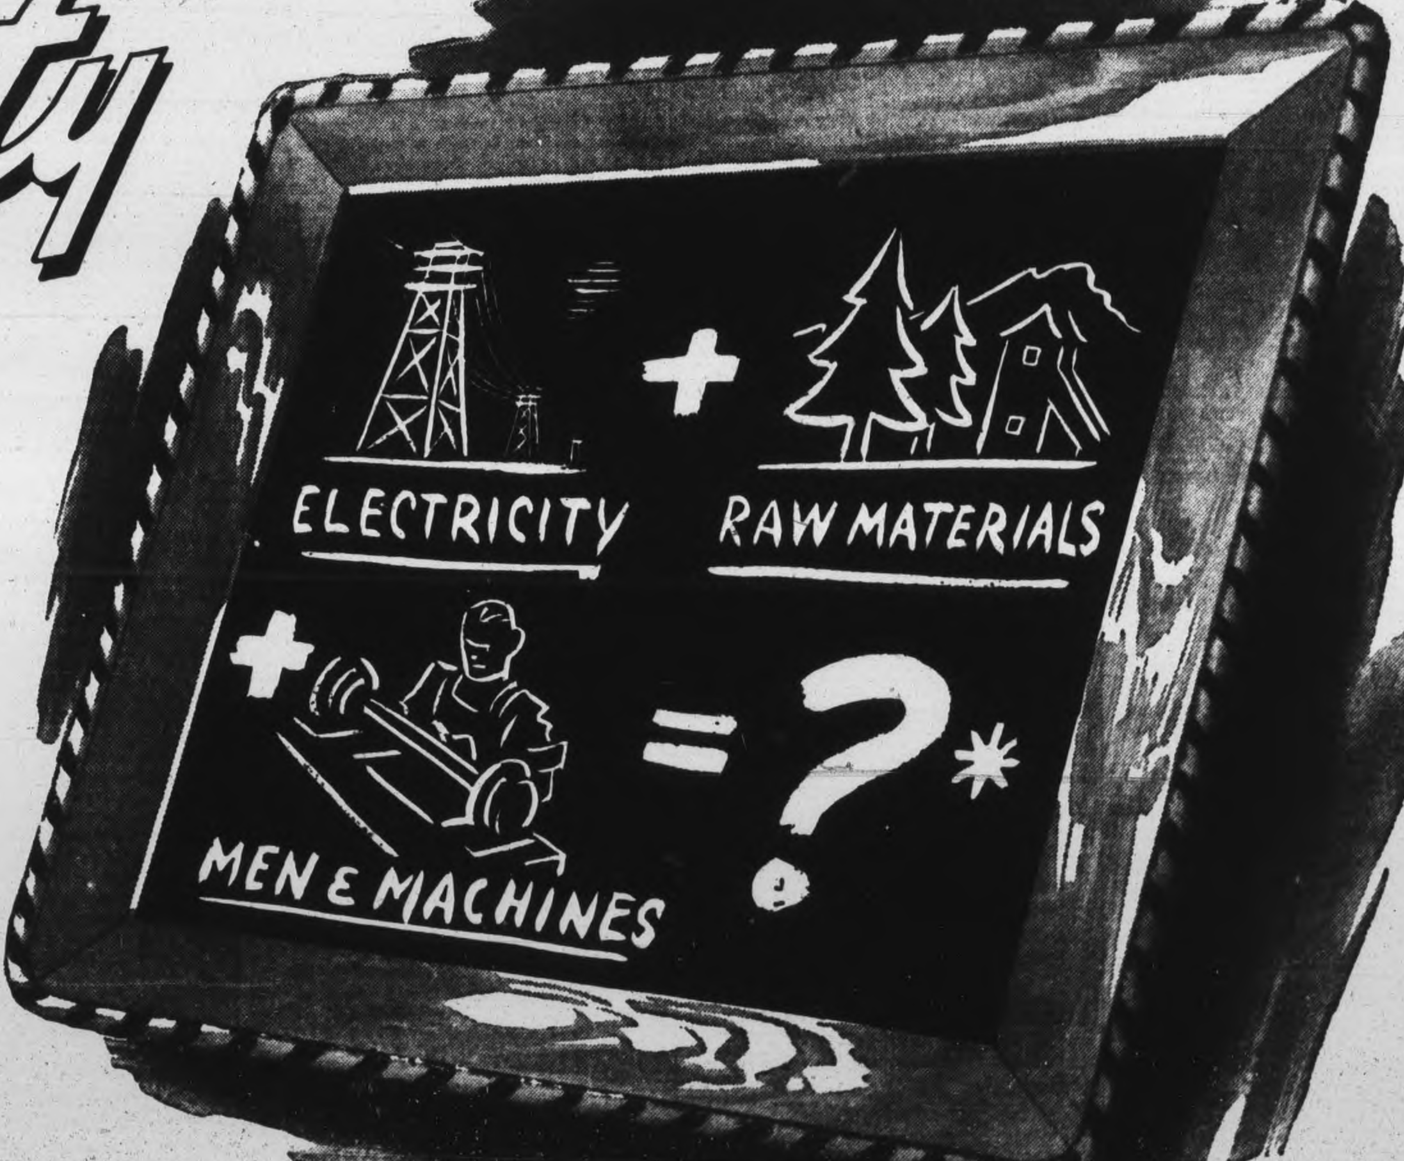
Electricity

PLUS

*CAN HELP PROVIDE MAXIMUM EMPLOYMENT IN POSTWAR CANADA



Harnessed to Canada's vast material resources—by Canadian workers and Canadian machines—there is almost no limit to the benefits which this country's mighty reserves of electric power can bestow upon us all.

Although only one-fifth of our available water power is yet being used, electricity already has played a big part in developing industry and agriculture throughout the Dominion. It has helped raise Canada to fourth place among the arms producers of the United Nations.

Tomorrow, when Victory permits a return to peacetime enterprise, our abundant electric power, coupled to our great raw material resources can help create maximum employment and a higher standard of living for everyone.

But PLANNING is needed for such achievement! While not forgetting war demands today, we must blue-print the needs of tomorrow. We must plan NOW to be able to swing into postwar action—action which will promote the forward development of a sound and prosperous "After-Victory" Canada.

For 52 years Canadian General Electric has played an important part in Canada's expansion as an electrified nation. Now engaged almost entirely in vital war production, the Company's 7 great plants and 10,000 skilled workers are eagerly awaiting the opportunity to concentrate their energies and enthusiasm on putting electricity to work again for Canada at Peace.

Going Home

Already the exodus of governments-in-exile has begun from London. At one time the much-bombed British capital was the headquarters for the governments of Belgium, Holland, Norway, Luxembourg, Yugoslavia, Greece, Poland and Czechoslovakia; already sections of the Czechoslovak government, the Belgian government and many officials of the French Committee have left London for their homelands; the Greeks and Yugoslavs have moved to Cairo, and many of the French to Algiers. The British people, who gave them sanctuary when they needed it, are glad to see them go, for their departure is another sign that the Nazi forces are being driven in upon themselves, and that the long struggle toward normality and peace has already begun in Europe.

The arrangements for the exiled governments to return to their homelands were made several months ago; as soon as General Eisenhower considers that an area is ready to come under civil administration, its government is invited to take over. First the civilian missions go, to act as liaison officials between the military authorities and the civil populace, and to organize local patriotic governing bodies. Then, when it is possible to do so, the governments themselves return, with their plans for relief and rehabilitation. The Belgian government is now engaged in this work; the government of Norway has its plans ready, and waits eagerly for the time when it, too, can make the homeward journey; the Czechoslovak government has sent a skeleton ministry home by way of Moscow, and they will supervise the restoration of civil rule in the areas liberated by the Russians.

In the cases of Greece, Poland and Yugoslavia, political differences will complicate the return of the existing governments. In Poland, a compromise is hoped for between the exile government and the liberation group within the country: the King of Greece will not return until a referendum has been taken among the Greeks on the subject of the monarchy: King Peter of Yugoslavia is going home, but his government may not stand for long.

But the return to Europe of exiled governments has begun, and whatever complications may arise we cannot fail to recognize this as enormously significant in the history of the war.

A Cry For Protection

Two pieces of news come to us from British Columbia which, taken together, point to a problem which must be solved before Canada can hope to progress in the postwar world. The first piece of news said that B.C. expected to sell one million pre-fabricated houses to Great Britain after the war: the second piece of news said that the B.C. ship-building industry was demanding protection against the British ship-building industry, subsidies, and the confinement of Canadian coastal trade to Canadian ships.

Now here we see that British Columbia wants to sell goods to Britain, but she does not want Britain to sell goods to her. Pre-fabricated houses can be made cheaply in B.C.; ships can be built cheaply in Britain. Trade between the two is obviously indicated, but the shipbuilders of the west coast do not want it that way. They cannot build ships as cheaply as Britain; they cannot even build them as cheaply as the shipbuilders of our own Maritime Provinces. Doubtless they want to be protected not only from the builders of Britain, but from eastern Canadian builders, by means of subsidies.

The point which must be borne in mind is this: every dollar which it costs to build ships in British Columbia over the cost of building them in Britain, and every dollar which is spent in subsidies, comes out of the pockets of Canadian taxpayers and consumers.

The British Columbia ship-building trade may argue that theirs is a special case. But every industry which wants protection has a special case to offer. The fact remains that if Canada wants to sell, she must also buy, and restrictive tariffs put hobbles on our trade. And as we found out a decade or so ago, high tariffs help in creating depressions.

Mr. Coldwell Changes His Mind

Mr. M. J. Coldwell, the national leader of the C.C.F. party, recently delivered himself of some noble sentiments about the British Commonwealth in London, where he is attending an Empire conference of labour leaders. The strength of the Commonwealth, said Mr. Coldwell, lies not in a rigid form of organization, but in a strong attachment to a common way of life. This is an unexceptionable statement, closely modelled upon previous statements by Winston Churchill, Jan Smuts and Mackenzie King.

But, as the Montreal Gazette points out, Mr. Coldwell's attachment to the way of life which is common to the British peoples was not very strong in September, 1939, when Mr. Coldwell said: "Canada should be prepared to defend her own shores, but her assistance overseas should be limited to economic aid and must not include conscription of manpower or the sending of any expeditionary force".

Men change their minds with the passing of time; they would be poor creatures if they did not. But we cannot forget that Mr. Coldwell urged Canada to look out for her own skin, and let the British Commonwealth go hang, at a time when real courage and leadership were needed. The recollection weakens his present professions.

Cynicism About Education

Recently we commented on the number of reports from our forces abroad which indicated that few of our soldiers could speak French. We were surprised that this should be so, because French is taught in Canadian high schools, and few boys and girls leave school without at least three years of exposure to it. Commenting on what we said, the Brantford Expositor writes thus:

"Perhaps the writer of the Peterborough editorial never 'took' French in a Canadian high school. Or perhaps he had more expert teachers or was more diligent than most students. Unless matters have altered considerably, French is still regarded as a 'subject', as something to be learned for the purpose of passing examinations, rather than for any practical reason. That, of course, is contrary to the educational ideals, but there it is.

"Even assuming that courses in French gave every student a working conversational knowledge of the language (which, unfortunately, is not the case), it stands to reason that the average student would soon become 'rusty' on the subject, unless he kept on 'practising' it. And what opportunity or necessity is there for most Ontario youngsters to 'keep up' their French—or Latin or Greek? Some of them, indeed, seem to have difficulty in 'keeping up' their English, always assuming that they ever learned it!"

This comment is cynical in tone, but like much cynicism it may conceal a good deal of practical wisdom. If the Brantford editor is right, are we not to conclude that much of our education today is farcical—a waste of time both for teachers and pupils?

Does the fault lie in the democratic notion of education—the unwarrantable assumption that everybody wants to learn everything which can be taught, and that everybody is capable of doing so? Perhaps our ideas about education need revising, and to anyone who is interested in the subject we heartily commend van Doren's Liberal Education, which discusses this problem with clarity and good sense.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A science note tells us that the world weighs 36,000,000 sextillion tons. This is cheery news for the people who like to carry it around on their shoulders.

It took our troops four years to hang out their washing on the Siegfried Line. But that doesn't really establish a record for laundry delay these days.

A Nazi education officer has formally denied that Hitler pulls down the drapes and chews the carpet when he is angry. Are they trying to drain all the colour out of the Fuehrer's personality?

A cable from London says that Nazis have received strict orders not to kill themselves. Perhaps Hitler intends to lead them into Limbo personally. Or is he afraid that hell will be so full that there will be no place for him?

The notorious Donato Caretta, who met a nasty death at the hands of a Roman mob, was deputy director of the Regina Coeli prison. Unless our Latin is even worse than we suspect, the name means 'Queen of Heaven', which seems to be an extraordinary name for a jail, but the Italians are incorrigibly flowery in their nomenclature — a characteristic which is sometimes charming and sometimes the exact reverse.

Senate And League

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

THE first United States Senate debate on the new league of nations reveals superficially the re-emergence of the same sentiments which wrecked the last peace treaty. Senator Bushfield, Republican, of South Dakota, spoke like the faithful understudy of Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, alleging that the new league plan would make the President of the United States a dictator who could send American soldiers all over the world to die in foreign wars.

But far more signficant than this isolationist outburst was the reply which it drew from Senator Vandenberg, one of the most influential Republicans and a former isolationist himself. He came out strongly for a new league and, with a crushing rebuke to his South Dakota colleague, prevented the league from becoming the subject of a partisan debate. The first appearance of the embryonic league in the Senate happily failed to reproduce the bitter partisan quarrel which surrounded the old league as soon as it reached the Senate and, indeed, while it was still being built in Paris. In the political sense, therefore, the great debate got off to an encouraging start. The only senator who so far has sought to make the league a political issue found no support in any section of the chamber.

However, a careful reading of the Congressional Record reveals possible lines of future cleavage in the Senate on the actual structure of the league. It may be a non-partisan cleavage and it may be a cleavage which can be overcome by compromise, but the men who are now trying to frame the league system cannot afford to overlook the warnings uttered in the Senate, lest they present a league covenant which the Senate will not accept.

SENATOR Vandenberg's speech, apparently expressing the opinion of many Republicans, is a document of first-rate importance. He announced, in brief, that he was prepared to allow the President of the United States, in pursuance of league policy, to use on his own discretion the "preliminary" armed forces in minor wars affecting American interests and in "whatever emergencies are of a nature such as we have always heretofore permitted him to use these forces in and which have always been considered constitutional."

In addition, Senator Vandenberg was ready to establish the rule that these forces could be so used anywhere in the western hemisphere, thus enforcing the Monroe Doctrine. In other words, on this regional basis, he was ready to allow the United States government automatically carry out, in association with the league, any necessary measures to crush aggression.

But at this point he drew a line, and this line undoubtedly will run through the whole future Senate debate when the league covenant is submitted for ratification. Senator Vandenberg's considered statement was that, when the United States delegate in the league council proposed the use of force "....outside our normal zone and at a level which is tantamount to a declaration of war, I cannot agree that this be done, and I do not believe the American people will agree that this be done, without the joint action of Congress as required by the constitution of the United States."

From this it appears that the Republican party, which is already strong enough in the Senate to prevent the passage of any peace treaty, will stand upon the proposition that the United States Congress, by specific vote, alone can declare war. The nation cannot be committed to it automatically through its representative in the league.

Nevertheless, Senator Vandenberg is not opposed to the use of American force in co-operation with league members to crush aggression. He urges that all the rules of reason and arbitration be exhausted in settling an international dispute and then, if these fail, the future aggressor will be "so clearly criminal and so clearly outlawed that there will be no hesitation on any nation's part, our own included, to join voluntarily in military suppression....There will be no doubt about the necessity of crushing him by force, or about the attitude of the American Congress in respect of participation."

SENATOR Connally, the Democratic chairman of the powerful foreign relations committee, likewise refused, as he said, to let Senator Bushfield trick him into a partisan debate. He pleaded for the co-operation of the Republicans, and was pleased with Senator Vandenberg's non-partisan approach. At the same time he sought to remove the fear of men like Senator Bushfield that some secret commitment was being made by the government at the Dumbarton Oaks conference, and explained that any league plan must be approved by two-thirds of the Senate before the United States accepted it.

More than that, under the American league plan, force could not be invoked except by the unanimous approval of the Big Four nations, so that the United States delegate could always veto such a move. This fact is well known to the public, but Senator Connally revealed another fact not generally understood: After the league itself has been formed with the approval of the Senate, the Big Four nations will negotiate a separate agreement, stating what forces they will use and under what conditions jointly against any aggressor. This agreement must be submitted to the Senate as a separate treaty and receive the constitutional two-thirds approval.

Senator Connaly did not reveal, however, the attitude of the Democratic party and the government on the key issue raised by Senator Vandenberg—namely, the right of the whole Congress to declare general war before the United States can participate in any league military action outside the western hemisphere. If Senator Vandenberg represents the views of his party, it seems likely that this restriction on American participation must be written into the covenant if it is to be acepted in the Senate, for the Republicans can muster well over the necessary one-third vote to reject any treaty.

According to the New York Times' account of the American plan submitted to the Dumbarton Oaks conference, but never publicly announced, the Vandenberg formula runs counter to the government's hopes. The American plan is reported to provide that when the American delegate to the league council agrees, the nation goes to war on behalf of the league. No vote in Congress is required. If this is a true account of the government's plan and the government insists on it, a clearcut issue in the Senate is now in the making.

RECONVERSION TIME IN GERMANY

Does Episcopacy Block Union ?

(TORONTO TELEGRAM)

THE General Council of the United Church, meeting in London, Ont., has approved "conversations" looking to union with the Church of England in Canada. Most Rev. Charles A. Seager, Archbishop of Huron, addressing the Council, used the word "reunion," which he said meant adoption of a ministry by each uniting factor, acceptable to both while each retained its own ways.

He referred to "erroneous ideas" about the Anglican episcopacy and added that "if by any wide stretch of the imagination the United Church ever considered adopting episcopacy in any of its forms, we hope it would do so with alterations and adjustments to make for a more effective institution".

Archbishop Seager has always been a proponent of church co-operation and of steps toward union as they appear feasible and become acceptable to all concerned, and no doubt the same broadminded view is widely held in the Anglican communion. For a long time there has been a movement in the United Church to free its Moderator from congregational duties in order that he might devote himself to general administration, as do the bishops of episcopal denominations; in fact, that has been discussed at times in relation to Conference presidents.

However, upon various occasions in recent months and years spokesmen for the United Church have gone on record as emphatically opposed to adoption of the episcopacy in any form.

Purely as a matter of historical interest, it is appropriate to recall that the Methodist body in Ontario was Episcopal for many years. From 1820 the Methodist Episcopal Church, a branch of the M.E. Church in the United States, was assigned Upper Canada while the Wesleyan body, united with the British Conference, occupied Lower Canada. Union took place in 1833 under the name of the Wesleyan Methodist Church in Canada but a considerable body of dissentients contended that the Methodist Episcopal Church had no right to make such a change in its government as dispensing with the episcopacy and substitution of presidency. This body maintained separate existence until 1884 when, with several others, it united with "The Methodist Church"....

In the United States, the Methodist Episcopal Church, largest Protestant denomination, has retained the episcopal form of government since 1784 and at last report had 43 bishops. Evidently there is no disposition to change, for when the Methodist Protestant Church was absorbed in 1939 the episcopacy being no part of its policy, two of its members were consecrated as bishops at the uniting conference. Thus, while in Canada the British Wesleyan system ultimately prevailed, the Church founded by John Wesley in the United States has remained more closely attached to the Anglican form of administration.

Punishment Of Juveniles

(WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

THE Canadian Bar Association has rendered a service in calling attention to the antiquated criminal laws of this country which still, in many cases, allow children under sixteen to be sent to the common jail or to other prisons for adults where their association is all with older criminals. It is even possible, in many parts of the country, under the law as it stands, for a child of eight or nine years to be tried for murder like an adult, by a superior court judge and jury and, if found guilty, to be hanged, unless the sentence is commuted.

For 45 per cent of the population of Canada, the Juvenile Delinquent Act does not apply and there are no juvenile courts, no detention homes for children. The right spirit was shown in that Act which said that a child who had broken the law should not be treated as a criminal or offender, "but as one in a condition of delinquency and therefore requiring help and guidance and proper supervision." But each province is left to decide in how much of its area this federal law shall be in force, and it is not in force for nearly half the population of this country.

A juvenile court judge can send a child over fourteen, who is charged with an indictable offence, to be tried in the ordinary courts if he believes that the good of the child and the interests of the community demand it. In such cases, the procedure against the juvenile is the same as against an adult and the law assumes that the child is as fully responsible for his acts as an adult.

Where the Juvenile Delinquent Act is not in force, there is a very slight protection for juveniles under Part 17 of the Criminal Code. This has to do only with charges of theft. A child who has been convicted "shall be committed to the common gaol or other place of confinement" —for adults, since this will be district where there is no industrial school—or the judge can impose a fine up to $20.

Under the Prisons and Reformatories Act, a judge or magistrate can send a boy convicted of a criminal offence to a reformatory prison (for adults) and the sentence must be for not less than two years and not more than five years. A child can be sent to a penitentiary for a crime for which the term of imprisonment is fixed by law at more than five years.

A child not over sixteen cannot be tried and hanged for murder in some parts of Canada, but in other parts the law allows it.

These facts are contained in a report of a committee of the Bar Association headed by J. C. McRuer, K.C., who was a member of the Archambault Commission on penal reform. Dealing with offenders between sixteen and twenty years, it says that the statute law of Canada "is devoid of provision for anything that remotely approaches the Borstal system which has been in operation in England in developing form since 1908."

To correct all this, sweeping measures of reform were recommended by the committee and endorsed by the Bar Association—that the law should be amended so that juvenile offenders under sixteen shall be specially treated as juveniles and not as criminals; that no such juvenile should be committed for punishment to any place where adult offenders are held; that the law should not allow the hanging of any person under sixteen; that immediate steps should be taken for the adoption of the Borstal system for those over sixteen.

The Bar Association also renewed its previous recommendation for the adoption of an adult probation system throughout Canada. This is a main feature of penal reform in Britain, and it has gone far toward emptying the prisons of that country.

Roger Babson Predicts

Roger Babson, described as the man who "accurately forecast" the 1929 stock market crash (probably 5,000,000 other people made the same prediction), comes out with a great blare of publicity to predict another major depression "about 1949 or 1950." He sees the future thus:

1. Germany will collapse sometime between November 7 of this year and March 7, 1945.

2. Time element of the victory over Japan depends entirely on Russia.

3. Temporary slumps in prices and employment will follow the collapse of Germany and Japan.

4. These slumps will be followed immediately by a two or three-year period of "excellent business."

5. Anyone willing to work for a market wage at what he or she is fitted for will be employed during the post-war period of prosperity.

6. Stock market prices will soar only to collapse about 1949 or 1950, due to a satisfied consumer demand and "fear of communism"..... There will be a "nightmare of unemployment and failures and trouble of that sort."

What of all this? The answer, undoubtedly, is that all of it or some of it or none of it may happen, but whether all of it or some of it happens or doesn't happen, it won't be because of anything said by Mr. Roger Babson. This man, with a talent for publicity, has for years been the darling of the luncheon clubs, plus those who remember one prediction that comes true and forget one hundred that don't. Actually, Mr. Babson's predictions on the post-war world are not important—not any more valuable than, let us say, the predictions of Mr. Joe Louis. — Ottawa Journal.

A Bible Message

Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise. (Jer. 17: 14.)

And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out? How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; and it was restored whole, like as the other. Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all. (Matt. 12: 10-15.)

POST-WAR SURPLUSES

The end of the war—even of the war in Eu ope—will loosen the moral restraints which ha helped the Government to keep inflation with manageable bounds. There will be a vast pe up demand for consumable goods, and partic larly for household replacements, backed by flood of cashed savings. But stocks of civil products will be low, and the Government be obliged, in the interests of full employment the long-term period, to divert some product resources to capital construction and manuf ture for export. Yet it is on the most sensible of all military rulings; meant to save lives. A shocking instance o truth of this occurred recently in New Yor

Prince of Wales King Edward Tie In Soccer

After battling hard in a seventy-minute contest in the Public School Soccer League, on King Edward Park, Prince of Wales and King Edward divided the points with one goal each. Beggs for the southenders and Killingbeck for the west-enders.

First Half

King Edward were first to settle down to constructive play which compelled the Prince of Wales defence to concentrate on defensive tactics that held their opponents in check. Exchanges continued even for a while until Byers, at centre half, made an opening for Beggs who registered quickly. The West-enders replied with nice combination but was ineffective around the goal. King Edward 1, Prince of Wales 0.

Second Half

On resuming, Prince of Wales rattled on the equaliser before the King Edward boys were settled in their positions, within a minute. Thereafter, King Edward halves forced the issue to find their attack erratic while in possession of the ball. Break-aways were frequent throughout which brought out excellent defensive methods to safeguard their citadel. Prince of Wales 1, King Edward 1.

King Edward — Grant, goal; Breadman and Downer full backs; Riches, Byers and Self, halves; Chambers, Ferguson, Lawson, Buchan and Beggs forwards.

Prince of Wales — Kay, goal; Grainger and Milheron full backs; Moncreif, Kidd, McMullen, half backs; Storey, Killingbeck, Hughes, Lasenby and Kimberley, forwards.

Referee—Stan McLeod.

Soccer Games Cancelled

Both games in the local Public School Soccer League were cancelled on Thursday afternoon through the inclemency of the weather. Central and King George boys were present to play their game on Riverside Park but Referee Stan McLeod declared the ground unplayable; while the Queen Mary and Prince of Wales game was cancelled because of slippery grounds.

Through the generosity of the Quaker Oats Company the local schools have been presented with a new set of goal posts which will enable the School Athletic Association to inaugurate their junior section of the league thereby giving them three playing grounds in the city; also giving an early tuition in the scientific code before entering the senior circles.

By FRED D. CRAIG

Stratford Kroehlers and Peterborough Westclox battle at Riverside Park at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the first game of the provincial intermediate finals and the clash promises to draw the biggest crowd of the year for Peterborough fans are solidly behind the Big Bens in their fight for the Ontario championship. They have come close two years in succession and both the players and their army of supporters feel that this is the time for the Westclockers to come through and take it all. The final series is a best-of-three affair with the second game scheduled for Stratford a week from tomorrow, and the third fixture, it needed, to be also played on the home diamond of the Kroehlers later on the same day. Both teams will have their strongest battle array in line tomorrow in the hope of getting the jump on the opposition and the result should be one of the tightest and most exciting softball tilts of the entire season. The Stratford girls will arrive in town on Friday night in order to have a good rest before the crucial test that faces them at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon.

* * * * * *

It looms up as a most interesting struggle between two strong and well-balanced clubs, both of which have had plenty of experience in provincial competition. The Stratford batting order will be as follows: Gladys Heinbuch rf, Evelyn Easson 2b, Greta Harmer p, Ruby Huras cf, Helen Doubrough 1b, Eileen Heinbuch c, Eileen Hutchison ss, Kay Johnston 3b and Doris Harloff lf. Most of these girls were with the Kroehlers last season but Eileen Hutchison is taking the place of Betty Appel at shortstop while Eileen Heinbuch had to take over the catching duties when Jean Aiken accompanied her battery mate Hazel Baynton to Montreal. For Westclox Manager Ab Delahaye will probably send the following battle array into action against the invaders: Aggie Anderson cf, Viola McLean ss, Nona Whetung 1b, Marg Hawthorne 3b, Isobel Bullock p, Beryl Dobbin c, Barbara Rome lf, Jean Castle or Joyce Withers rf, Verna Patterson 2b. Nona Whetung and Joyce Withers are the only players in this list who did not face Kroehlers a year ago. Page of Stratford will do the umpiring behind the bat while the decision on the bases will be called by Herb Payne, Peterborough.

A Great Finish

Twenty years ago today the late Lew LeBarr's Lakeviews, destined to go on later and win the Ontario junior championship for the second year in succession came very close to having their hopes extinguished for the season. On September 22, 1924, the Lakeviews met the Kingston Circle Six team in the third game of a semi-final series at Belleville. Each club had won its home game, forcing a sudden-death third battle on neutral ground. The Kingston team, in the lineup of which appeared the names of Hewitt Smith, Buck, Joyce and Tetro, later to play often against Peterborough in the Central Ontario League, almost turned the trick. With Hewitt Smith handcuffing the Lakeview attack for eight frames the Circle Six club had picked up a run in the first and another in the sixth off the delivery of Frank Whitehouse, the Petes' left-handed star and that two-run lead was getting bigger and bigger as the innings rapidly passed and Lakeviews were doing nothing at the bat when blows meant runs.

* * * * * *

Kingston still had the 2 to 0 spread when the Peterborough kids came to bat in the final frame. Hank Whitlow, gangling centre fielder for Lakeviews was the first batter and with the count 3 and 2 on him he suddenly brought Peterborough back into the ball game with a mighty wallop past the centre field score board for a clean homer. That Ruthian blow seemed to unnerve Smith completely. Whitehouse, next batter, helped his own cause by singling to left and Ash doubled to the same field. With the tying and winning runs on the bases and nobody out Smith was derricked in favor of Clark. The fireman struck out Marchen and Halliday and Lakeviews were apparently sunk for the season when Don McIntyre, now in the Navy, saved the day with a single, sending Whitehouse home with the run that tied up the game. Then Jimmy Johnston dumped a slow roller down the third base line and when C. Smith, Kingston third sacker tossed badly to first Ash carried the winning marker over. It was a close call for Lakeviews, who afterward took the Ontario title.

Teepees' Warning

Comes a warning from Sport Commentator Clayton Browne of St. Catharines that the Teepees of that city will be the team to beat in the 1945 provincial campaign. Says the St. Kitts' writer: "If it is any satisfaction to Teepees girl softballers, Stratford kayoed Brantford in two straight in the intermediate "A" P.S.W.U. semi-finals and qualify to meet Peterborough in the Ontario finals, the same as last year. First game is in the Liftlock City on Saturday and next two, if needed, in the Classic one the following Saturday. Chick Appel's proteges are pinning all their hopes on Greta Harmer, who won 4-1 over Brants, to shove them into title retention of their 1943 laurels. Mgr. Grace Richer of Teeps is planning to build her gold-black sluggers into a real Ontario challenger for 1945 and offer a real threat to the Stratford-Peterborough clubs." Meanwhile Chick Appel, Stratford scribe tells us that Hazel Baynton, former Stratford Kroehler pitcher won a double-victory for Paramounts against Mansfields in the Montreal playoffs Saturday. The former Stratford star pitched a 6 to 0 shutout in the first game of a double-header and went to the rescue in the second battle which the Paramounts eventually won but only after 20 innings so the ex-Kroehler had to pitch something like 25 innings in the one afternoon. Jean Aiken, also former Stratfordite caught every frame of both games, 29 innings in all.

The American League battle for first place tightened appreciably as a result of Thursday's card and today the St. Louis Browns are half a game behind the leading Detroit Tigers. Beaten twice in a row the Yanks turned on the Bengals yesterday and nosed them out 5 to 4 in 10 innings. Detroit fought to the last ditch to avoid defeat, even calling upon Hal Newhouser for three innings of relief work but the ace southpaw got nothing out of his labor but another loss. The defeat cut the Tiger lead over the Brownies to a full game and St. Louis sliced that in two last night when they bumped off the Washington Senators 9 to 4, with Nels Potter getting his 17th victory. Detroit still reign favorites for the pennant but the Brownies cannot be counted out yet. Incidentally their fellow townsmen the Cards finally cinched the National League honors by grabbing off a double-header from Boston 5 to 4 and 6 to 5. The first win of the twin bill, of course, did the trick and the Cards were in for their third win as many years.

DETROIT TIGERS AND ST. LOUIS BROWNS LEADING RACE—The Detroit Tigers and St. Louis Browns are running neck and neck in the race for the American League pennant, with the Browns slightly trailing the Tigers. The Browns have been getting effective pitching or else they wouldn't be up where they are but the Tiger mound staff is much superior on the record. Manager O'Neill makes good use of his two aces and, since both are "strong arm" boys, he can throw them in there for relief chores when the going gets hot for his other flingers. Both Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers and Manager Luke Sewell of the Browns were Cleveland catchers who began their careers many years ago and, after retiring from actual playing, turned to managing.

A special meeting of the Ontario Baseball Association at Hamilton last night ordered London and Windsor to replay their series and barred Hank Biasetti of the London club from further play. The O.B.A. found Biasetti had been playing Sunday baseball in Detroit in defiance of the O.B.A.'s previous ruling.

Galt and Windsor Juniors were ordered to play a third and deciding game in the semi-final round, at London, Saturday.

Welland scored a 3-0 shut-out over Hamilton last night to win the Niagara district baseball championship. A crowd of 2,565 watched Bill Buntrock limit Hamilton to five scattered hits.

In the softball play-offs Hamilton Farrars eliminated Brantford Coach and Body in the senior "B" third round series, winning 6-2 in the third game, but Brantford's protest of the first game remains to be heard.

The fourth game of the Senior Ontario Lacrosse semi-final between Brampton Excelsiors and St. Catharines Athletics was postponed again last night by weather conditions. An effort will be made to stage the game at St. Catharines tonight.

Starting a campaign to develop United States hockey talent, President T. F. Lockhart of the U.S.A.H.A. announced at New York yesterday that at least six hockey schools will be operated by his league this fall. They will be conducted at Boston, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Washington, Los Angeles and Seattle.

Sports Spice

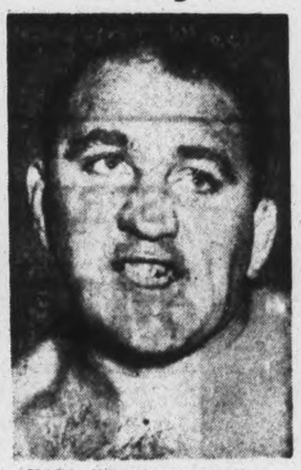
NEW YORK, Sept. 22 — (AP)— There's no reason to attribute fistic greatness to Lee Oma, in view of the times "Ko By" appears in his record, but the mere fact that he's going in as a last-minute substitute for Joe Baksi against Tami Maurielo at the Garden to-night leads the old-timers to recall a number of fighters who started on the road to fame as substitutes....Lou Nova, for instance, got his big chance when he flew east to sub for Bob Pastor, who inadvertently chopped his leg instead of a log while training to meet Gunnar Barlund.... Lew Jenkins got his New York start as a sub, and Chalky Wright, who came east as Henry Armstrong's chauffeur, went on as a replacement and knocked out a bright prospect named Al Reid.... Then there's the classic case of Willie Ritchie, who substituted for Freddy Welsh against Ad Wolgast in 1912 and won the lightweight title.

One-a-minute sports page:

Sign of times: Scribes who gathered for Columbia's first football luncheon yesterday spent more time talking about numerous proposed pro football leagues than about the Lions' prospects....Eight of the 11 players who helped to clinch the Cardinals' third straight National League pennant yesterday played for the Cards in the 1942 World Series.

This note was penned by an unidentified baseball expert in 1903: "American League critics are sprinkling ice water under Connie Mack. With his team hardly having a chance to finish in the First Division, he'd better watch out that he doesn't slip."

The Two Winners To Stage Battle



KARL KRIPPLER DAVIS.

The showing made by Irish Jack Kennedy and Karl Krippler Davis in the last show here has caused Promoter Tunney to match the two winners in the feature battle on next Tuesday night's card at the Brock t. Arena. Kennedy went so well that Referee Maxwell awarded him a decision over John Katan without taking a fall and the Krippler knocked off the tough Russian Ivan Rasputin in a wild bout. There will be two other good bouts on the bill.

Cardinals Win Pennant 3rd Year In Row

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sport Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22— (AP) — The 1944 National League pennant flew over St. Louis Cardinals' dugout to-day—the first time in 20 years it has adorned the same National League flagpole three straight seasons.

After losing 11 of their last 14 games, Bill Southworth's lads clinched the title yesterday by taking a twin-bill from Boston Braves. Despite the late-season wobbling, the Cards boast a 13-game edge, with 11 games to play.

They won the pennant by 18 games last year. At one stage of the current race they led by 20, a bigger margin than the first-place team in the American League ever boasted over the last.

The last club to win three or more pennants in a row was John McGraw's Giants who copped four from 1921 to '24. Only three other clubs, the Pirates of 1901-'03, the Cubs of 1906-'08 and the Giants of 1911-'13 won three straight since 1900.

Southworth, first Card manager to win three pennants, should become the first in the National League to win more than 100 games for three successive years. The Cards won 106 in 1942, 105 in '43, and have already won 98 games this season.

Except at the start when the Giants won six of the first seven games, the Cards dominated the league. They took the lead April 29 and never relinquished it. Their biggest winning streak was nine, from August 6 to August 20. Of the 41 series to date, the Cards won 29, lost seven and tied five. From July 1 until August 6, they captured 10 straight sets.

Southworth, for a time, had his club bordering on greatness, threatening the Cubs' 116 victory record of 1906. At that, the Cards tied the 1907 Cubs in winning 73 of their first 100 games.

New Syndicate Buys Ball Club

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—(CP). — President Peter Campbell of the Toronto Baseball Club announced yesterday that a new syndicate headed by himself has purchased the club and that Burleigh Grimes' contract as manager has been terminated. The new syndicate is assuming the bank indebtedness of the club whose Maple Leafs play in the International Baseball League.

"It is not through lack of ability that Grimes will not be coming back," said a statement issued by Campbell. "Rather it is just that we couldn't see eye to eye in all matters and it was finally decided the best way was to part. I still regard Grimes as one of the shrewdest and best managers in baseball."

Action in the world's softball tourney being played at Lakewood, O., is pictured as two girls' teams, the Arizona Ramblers and the Toronto Sunday Morning Class, collide with the Toronto lassies the winners. First Sacker Kelley Parkhouse of Toronto goes up for a high one as an Arizona runner reaches the bag. New Orleans Jax Club, defending champions, were ousted. The Canadians were later eliminated from their fifth world softball tournament, Cleveland, O., when they were edged out by Arizona Ramblers, 2-1.

Favor Wildcats To Win Over Indians

By The Canadian Press

Six of Ontario's eight senior football teams will open the province's sixth wartime football season tomorrow with two games scheduled for the new Ontario Armed Services Football League and one in the Ontario Rugby Football Union series, now s'‹rting its 62nd season.

Much of the interest is centred on Hamilton where the Dominion champion Wildcats entertain the Toronto Indians in the single O.R.F.U. game. Led by the redoubtable Joe Krol, who is backed by 14 other members of the 1943 team, the Wildcats are favored to win the Union title for the second year in succession.

Besides the triple-threat Krol, Coach Eddie McLean has in his lineup such veteran stars as Paul Miovinovich, Abe Zvonkin, Jimmy Simpson, Jimmy Fumio, Paul Peterson, Mel Lawson and Eddie Remegis.

The Indians, who have had a scrappy team season after season, have several players from last year's squad, but all their stars are still in the making. Jack Harris, who played with the University of Saskatchewan, will call the signals and some of the other players with senior experience are Tom Thornton, Ted Courtney, Jim Cummings and Elmer Cassidy.

In the Services League the team with most veterans in its lineup is the Hagersville R. C. A. F. squad which makes its bow tomorrow at London against the St. Thomas R. C. A. F. Hornets. The two coaches FO. Bobby Coulter and FO. Bob Kelly—have in readiness such veterans as Coulter himself; FO. Jimmy Smith, Sgt. Dick Groom, LAC. Reg. Bouviard, Cpl. Walter Gibb and FO. Al Langford of the 1943 Wildcats; and Sgt. Joe Richman who played with the Dominion champion Toronto R. C. A. F. Hurricanes two years ago and with Lachine R. C. A. F. last season.

Chantler Coach.

Flt.-Lt. P. D. (Pee Wee) Chantler, former Queen's University and Toronto Argonaut star, coaches the St. Thomas team with the assistance of AC2. Ches McCance, who gained his fame with the Winnipeg Bombers. McCance may see some action later in the season when he fully recovers from a fractured arm he received earlier i nthe year. In the meantime, Chantler will depend on a squad of fast, young players with a sprinkling of such veterans as LAC. Tiny Thompson from Winnipeg and Moon Mullens, Babe Burkhart and Ed Morin, formerly of Toronto Balmy Beach.

Chief scoring threat of coach Ted Morris' navy team is LS. Annis Stukus, 1943 O. R. F. U. scoring leader, who will lead his young teammates against Camp Borden R. C. A. F. Hurricanes in Toronto's first football game of the season. LS. Tom Waldon, smart young quarterback who played well for Navy last year, is back in harness and there are several other promising prospects.

The Camp Borden club has Sgt. Fred Kijek, who played for the Toronto Hurricanes in the last two seasons, to do their booting, and hard-plunging Doug Pyzer, Flt. Sgt. Con Conroy, Cpl. Jimmy Hooper and Flt. Lt. Mike Ozarko among their backfielders. Ozarko who has played with Winnipeg, Hamilton and Toronto Hurricanes, is coach.

The two idle teams are Ottawa Trojans and Toronto Balmy Beach of the O. R. F. U. Trojans have an exhibition game billed with Verdun Grads.

Orioles Defeat Bisons 5 to 3

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 22—(AP).—Hopes the Buffalo Bisons may have had of sweeping the International League semi-finals on home grounds were dashed last night as the Baltimore Orioles scored their first playoff triumph over the Bisons, 5-3.

After the fourth game tonight, the teams move back to Baltimore. The Orioles, League pennant winners, now trail 2-1 in the best-of-seven series, winner of which will enter the finals against Newark.

Baltimore got off to a good start by scoring three runs in the opening frame on a scratch hit, a walk and Felix Mackiewicz' homer. They scored again in the fifth on Howie Moss' 28th homer of the season, and in the seventh on a walk to Mackiewicz and a long double by Skaff.

The Bisons racked up two runs in the first on a pair of walks and a double by Eddie Kobesky. Their final run was scored in the third on singles by Denning and Seminick.

The crowd of 4,049 got an extra show for their money in the ninth when Mackiewicz, out by 10 feet, made a flying tackle, grounding Bison catcher Al Unser. The entire squad of both teams became embroiled and it was five minutes before the umpires restored order and put the two principals out of the game.

Stan West came through with a seven-hit job for the Orioles.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALIFAX, Sept. 22 — (CP). — It's a toss-up whether this yarn comes under the heading of sport at all. Anyhow, we're reminded of it by Jim Coleman's column in the Toronto Globe and Mail, which reports that Charlie Lynch, the former Canadian Press man who is covering the war in Europe for Reuters, found the Frenchmen of Rouen deeply interested in the career of wrestling's Yvon Robert. Well, here's the lowdown on Charlie's Rouen visit, and, so help me, it's all true.

It seems Charlie and a group of Army officers hit Rouen in the middle of a convention of butchers. The meatmen had been celebrating the Allies' advance diligently and were pretty well tanked up by then.

Crowding around the Canadians, the butchers demanded to know if they knew Robert, who had wrestled in Rouen some years ago. Did they know Robert, echoed one of the Army officers. They certainly did. In fact, this fellow here was the champion himself. And he pointed to Lynch.

Right there the convention adjourned sine die as the carcass-connoisseurs milled about blond, bespectacled Charlie, feeling his biceps in awe and asking about his latest bouts. Luckily, Charlie is a pretty hefty citizen as newsmen go, and as for his hair, a little thing like the fact Yvon is equipped with a glossy black thatch wasn't bothering the chopper-wielders at this stage of the celebration.

Charlie was getting along fine until someone dragged out a wrestling champion of the Butchers' Union, a 300-pounder, who wanted a crack at the world's champ. Charlie was prevailed on to accommodate him in a match—strictly non-title, as he wasn't in training—and the whole gang whooped along to the town audtorium, gathering a huge crowd as they went.

A somewhat anxious typewriter-slugger climbed into the ring with the big hunk of beef. At that the butcher was probably more scared. Fortunately, the celebration had left him about as lively as one of his sides of meat, and Charlie was able to hold his own for a half-hour or so of some of the strangest grunt-and-groan doings ever seen inside a ring. The bout was called a draw, leaving everybody happy, especially Charlie.

The delighted burghers then insisted on showing their appreciation by taking the champ on a tour of every abattoir in town, someone thoughtfully stuffing Charlie's tin hat with hunks of raw meat en route.

By this time supplies were running low. So to keep the party going the butchers descended on the shop of a collaborationist wine merchant who had taken to the timber, and cleaned out his stock.

Discovering to their disgust that the remaining bottles held nothing but syrup, they finally adjourned the celebration, and the temporary champ went back to war reporting.

Browns May Upset Detroit Hopes

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

Don't give up on St. Louis Browns. Luke Sewell's "hungry" cast-offs, stumbling since mid-August and berated by friend and foe for blowing a comfortable lead, are only a half game behind the leading Detroit Tigers today on another comeback surge.

Thanks to the Yanks, the Browns had a chance to make a new challenge for their first flag.

When the New Yorkers woke up to snap a five-game losing streak by dumping Detroit, 5-4, in a 10-inning series finale yesterday, their motive was strictly selfish. By taking their only game of the set from the Tigers, the defending champs stuck in the race three lengths back.

The A's Again.

Connie Mack was again in the spotlight as he led his A's into St. Louis for a week-end series. The Philadelphia club belted New York out of first place last week on three straight defeats and Mr. Baseball never plays favorites.

The fierce inter-club feud between St. Louis and Washington reacted to the Browns' advantage, raising them to a fighting pitch climaxed by the battle between Tom Turner of St. Louis and Roberto Ortiz of Washington before last night's game. Ortiz went to a hospital for hand X-rays but Turner was unhurt and the "inspired" Sewellmen slugged out 15 hits for a 9-4 edge.

Frank Crosetti's 10th-inning double gave reliefer Bill Zuber of the Yanks the nod over Hal Newhouser, doing a turn as a Tiger fireman. Cleveland trimmed Boston 5-2 despite 11 Sox hits.

St. Louis clinched the National League flag by trimming Boston, 5-4 and 6-5, with both wins going to reliefer Harry Brecheen. Pittsburgh tightened its grip on second place by walloping Brooklyn twice, 10-4 and 14-6. Cincinnati kept pace by downing the Phils, 5-4 and 8-4, and Chicago blasted New York's fourth-place aspirations with a double dose of trouble, 11-8 and 6-4.

WMS Groups Hold Meeting

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 22 — (ENS) — The September meeting of the W.M.S. was held Tuesday afternoon, when the society had as guests, the members of the Fairmount Society, who provided the program.

Mrs. Bernard Preston, president of the Springville W.M.S. welcome the visiting society and Mrs. C. Hanbridge of Fairmount took charge of the meeting.

Mrs. J. Seymour had charge of the worship period, reading the scripture lesson from John 15. Following prayer by Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Hanbridge read a poem entitled, "prayer".

The theme chosen for the meeting was, "Life", with Mrs. H. McArthur in charge. Two poems, "Life" and "Compensation" were read by Mrs. J. F. Everson. A paper was given by Mrs. E. Downs, who spoke of the different phases of life, pointing out that the one aim should be to possess God.

"In estimating the success of our life, we so often make the mistake of not making a spiritual estimate", said Mrs. Downs.

Mrs. Arthur's paper was entitled, "A Purpose in Life" and stressed that the greatest inheritance one can possess is to have a purpose in life, Mrs. Arthur, also pointed out that adversity may help people to attain this purpose.

During the program two solos were sung by Mrs. J. F. Everson and Mrs. Russel Earle, "Jesus Saviour Pilot Me" and "If Your Heart Keeps Right". Prayer by Mrs. Hanbidge closed the meeting.

Carrier Force Raids Sumatra

By CHARLES GRUMICH
Associated Press War Correspondent

ABOARD A BRITISH AIRCRAFT CARRIER OFF SUMATRA, Sept. 18.—(Delayed).—(CP).—A fast carrier task force under Rear Admiral Clement Moody, R.N., smashed the vital railway repair and maintenance centre at Sigli in Northwestern Sumatra to-day in a surprise attack that met little or no opposition.

It was the British Far Eastern fleet's sixth such offensive thrust since April.

Carrier-borne bombers, escorted by fighters, crossed the northern Sumatra mountains to reach the target and unload their bombs upon Sigli, which is situated inside the approaches to Malacca strait.

The attack left great clouds of smoke rising from the target area. One plane failed to return, but the Japanese made no attempt to intercept the Allied surface forces.

The lack of opposition led to the conclusion the Japanese are shrinking inside their "co-prosperity sphere," risking little in the defence of its outer perimeter.

This raised the possibility of more extended operations by the Far Eastern fleet, embracing such alternatives as:

1. Support of any combined operations by the Southeast Asia Command extending from Arakan in western Burma to Sunda strait.

2. Storming down Malacca strait toward Singapore, neutralizing or seizing such enemy-held naval bases as Sabang and Penang on the Malay side.

3. Responding to any call to join American forces in the Pacific for a sea-air showdown with Japan.

The National Situation As Regards Milk

IT HAS been a good thing for Canada's war effort, including aid to Britain and her Allies, that this country has a huge output of MILK.

Canada's dairy farmers are to be congratulated upon the quantity and quality of their production.

Milk — humanity's most nearly perfect food — contains more of the needed proteins, vitamins and minerals perfectly combined than any other food item. It is an important factor in the well-being of warriors and civilians alike and doubly important in wartime.

If we are to keep pace with the needs of both fighters and workers, there must be no waste of milk!

We urge our fellow-Canadians to help by making use of every drop.

Enlist yourself and your family NOW in a patriotic and sincere endeavor to see that not a drop of MILK is wasted.

All proceeds from Thursday's Waste Paper Drive will be equally divided between the Army, Navy, Air Force Auxiliaries, and the Merchant Marine, Mrs. R. Whalon, director, told the Examiner today.

LIGHTS AGAIN

Although few downtown stores managed to get their sign-lights blazing Thursday, residential sections blossomed out with lights on verandahs and porches. Murray and Brock streets were among the noticeable.

ONE OUTHOUSE DESTROYED

A small wooden building blazing furiously brought three phone calls and a box alarm to the firehall this morning, and resulted in two fire-fighting units and the chief's car speeding to the fire. The outhouse was a total loss, and a shed attached to it had one wall burned out. Actual loss was not high, and the fire took place at 181 River Road north, at the rear of Vern Lillow's residence.

LEFT PAPER

All the paper not collected by the trucks Thursday evening, will be collected, if possible, sometime today or this evening. Drivers said that many people left paper on verandahs, and owing to the darkness, some of it was undoubtedly missed. However, Board of Works trucks were out on the streets early this morning, finishing the job.

LIVING-ROOM DAMAGED

Fire and smoke thought to be the result of a dropped cigarette caused damage estimated at between $200 and $300 in the living-room of the James Foster residence, 589 Reid street, early Thursday night. The call to the Fire Department was received at 5.30 p.m. A chesterfield chair was burnt, and the curtains and the side of the wall were scorched by flame and smoke. A second alarm, at 7.50 a.m. this morning, was for a chimney fire at 674 Reid street, home of Mrs. E. Ferguson.

TRAIN CHANGE

T. G. M. Jamieson, ticket agent at the C.P.R. reported today that the night train out of Peterborough on Sundays will change time next Sunday September 24. This train has been operating on a summer schedule at 7 in the evening. Now it will leave at 5:30 in the afternoon.

ARMY CASUALTIES

Today's casualty list carries the name of L-Sgt. Ian Wallace Johnston, son of Mrs. Gertrude Johnston, 77 Bond street, Lindsay, who was killed in action fighting with the Royal Canadian Artillery. Also from Lindsay is Pte. George Owen Baber, who has been severely wounded with an Eastern Ontario regiment. His wife, Mrs. Jessie C. Baber, lives at 72 Albert street south, Lindsay.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

An Examiner employee who left the Lindsay Fair late Saturday night reports having found 20 flags, British, Canadian and four R.C.A.F. emblems, in the back of his car this week. It is his supposition that the person dismantling one of the booths at the fair which was decorated with flags, deposited them in his car on the mistaken assumption that it was another automobile altogether.

STOCK INDIAN RIVER.

The first batch of brown trout to be planted in neighborhood waters this year passed through the city today on their way from the Codrington hatcheries of the Department of Game and Fisheries out to Indian River, where they will be placed in the stream near the bridge.

The consignment, which came by truck, consists of nearly 2,000 yearlings, healthy and fat and averaging about four inches in length.

VOL. XC. No. 226 FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1944 PAGE NINE

Lieut. D. Rogers Veteran Of Five Invasions

One of the gallant young Canadians, who made naval history off the coasts of France on D-Day, working with the Royal Canadian Navy's newest branch.... landing craft.... Lieutenant Dave Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rogers, 11 Fleming Place, has arrived home for a two-months leave, after spending two months transporting troops across the English Channel, and landing them on the beaches of France.

During the initial assaults on the section of the French coast to which his craft had been assigned, Canadian troops were carried across, Lieut. Rogers recalled. Most of them, at first, were members of the Stormont, Dundas, and Glengarry Highlanders, who have since made fighting reputations in some of the toughest corners of Nazi resistance in Normandy.

"It was our job to take the troops over, land them on the beaches, then go back to England for more," he said. Explaining that there were more than a thousand landing craft in operation during the first hours of the blitz on France, he said they first were gathered together in what are termed "sailing areas," then convoyed across. Often, it would take no less than eight hours to sail the channel each way, he said, adding that some of the landing craft carried more than 200 men, complete with battle equipment. Each man, he said, had his berth in the lower part of the vessel.

Little Resistance.

"No, there was not much active resistance to the landings, ... at least, not at the section where we took our troops at first," the young sailor said. "There were plenty of mines scattered on the beaches, and some machine guns. No resistance came from German surface craft though, and planes were never allowed to bother us during the day."

Sometimes, he pointed out, planes would bomb and strafe during the night, but not at all in force.

"The men that were carried over on our boat acted marvellously under the strain and tension of those early hours before the dawn. There were no break-downs, or hysterics, and they were particularly well-behaved in view of the fact many of them were going into actual combat for the first time. Some however, were veterans of Dieppe, and expected much worse things than came."

Part of Lieut. Rogers' duties, as an executive officer on these landing craft, are to navigate, to do watch-keeping duty, and signalling. His position is on the deck of the big craft, while down below, there is another crew to take care of the engine work.

Seen Most Action

The young sailor, who has been in the Navy for three years, estimates he has travelled more than 60,000 miles in that time. Undoubtedly, he has seen more action than any other seaman from this city and part of his experiences include Dieppe, the invasions of North Africa, Oran, Italy and Sicily. The only reason he missed the invasion of South France, was that he was still hard at work pouring men into Northern France, at that time. Of all the action he has seen, he thinks the landings on Italy near Reggio were the easiest, from a military point of view. It was totally unexpected by the enemy, and many of the Germans had left the area beforehand.

He had been stationed in the southern part of England four months before the France invasion, and took part in many landing exercises during that time. "Of course, those practices were mainly for the soldiers," he said.

Smashed Barriers.

One of the highlights of the big invasion, was smashing through the barriers the Nazis had erected in the water, to keep landing craft from the beaches. There were many rails, criss-crossed in the water, and in order to land the men, the barges had to crash through them. It wasn't very difficult though, Lieut. Rogers, said, explaining that some of the landing craft were so huge it was an easy thing to do.

Lieut. Rogers liked England, and would like to visit there after the war. While there he saw many robots, and he told of seeing fighter planes, flying alongside the bombs, then sliding under them and rising up to tilt the robots' wings, so that they would drop harmlessly into the water before getting to England. Many, also, were shot down by gunfire.

In all the time he has spent overseas, he has never been wounded, he told the Examiner, after touching wood.

"Yes, the invasion of France was a thrilling spectacle," he said. "In those landing craft, everyone, I think, was a little nervous, but when those Canadians disembarked from the barges, they went right into the fighting, with no hesitation at all."

During the leave, he expects to visit his father, Claude Rogers, who is in Arizona.

MULETEERS AID ALLIES

NICOSIA, Cyprus — (CP).—Cypriot muleteers have played an important part in bringing up supplies for Allied forces during mountain battles in Italy. They won praise after the capture of Monastery Hill at Cassino.

ARRIVES HOME—After seeing action while serving with the landing craft division of the Royal Canadian Navy, Lieut. Dave Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Rogers, 11 Fleming Place, arrived home recently for a two-month leave.

Stealing Case Delayed Again

The machinery of the law, for a number of reasons, is having difficulty in disposing of the cases of three young French-Canadians arrested last month on two charges of car theft and a third count of stealing a quantity of clothing from Isadore Black.

Two of the trio, Albert Marcoux, Gaspe, Que., and George Houde, St. Prosper, Que., pleaded guilty to all three counts and Houde has already been sentenced to the Ontario Reformatory. Marcoux, who has not completed his evidence in the hearing of similar charges against Leopold Gingras, Montreal, who pleaded not guilty, is still awaiting sentence while the Gingras trial commenced some weeks ago, has not yet been completed.

This morning he was again remanded for a week because his lawyer could not be here and it was intimated that there would probably be another remand next week because of the absence on vacation of one of the provincial officers connected with the case.

Richard Moher, who entered written pleas of guilty to both charges, was fined $5 and $2.50 costs for speeding in Lakefield, and $3 and $2.50 costs for not stopping before entering a through highway.

Fish and Game Group Votes Memorial $25

A contribution of $25 to the Memorial Centre drive for funds was made by the Peterborough Fish and Game Association at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce building Thursday evening.

The association decided also, that its next meeting would be a public one, sometime around October 25, and that motion pictures of fishing and other appropriate subjects would be displayed.

The following accounts were approved and payment made forthcoming: salt, $2.40; flowers, $2; telephones, $4.55.

Among those attending were C. Kingan, president, Fred Marshal, acting secretary, W. B. Harvey and W. Addyman.

War—4 Years Ago

(By The Canadian Press)

Sept. 22, 1940—R.A.F. attacked nine French and Belgian ports, also military objectives in Holland and Germany. British naval forces bombarded enemy positions at Sidi Barrani. Vichy granted Japan "special facilities" in Indo-China.

SUFFERS EYE WOUND — Gnr. George Willis Manley, 28, has received an eye wound while fighting in France, his wife, on Otonabee street, has been notified. The injury was caused by a phosphorous bomb. When he enlisted June, 1940, he was employed at the Canada Bread, and has been serving with an anti-tank unit.

Robot Victims Get More Personal Help

In a democratic country, good citizenship is bound to be reflected to a large degree by how any individual measures up to his or her responsibilities as a citizen, in which the personal element must needs play a very leading part.

No better illustration how this sense of personal responsibility was felt by large numbers of people in Britain, is simply told in the story of how they opened their homes in the early days of the enemy air attacks on Britain, to the almost countless numbers who for safety sake had to leave their own homes, either from fear of what might happen or because they no longer existed at all.

Before very long, a large amount of this available accommodation was exhausted, so resort was made to housing people in vacant property that would afford a roof over their heads, and large numbers of people supplied furniture that could be spared from their own homes to give them a helping hand, demonstrating above all the sense of personal responsibility they felt in the matter, besides a genuine sympathy for those things so essential in their everyday life.

Looking at this scene from a distance of over 3,000 miles away, it is hardly possible to visualize to the full extent what it has all meant, but if signs mean anything at all, it is best told with what eagerness large numbers of these evacuees started to trek back to their former homes when they thought the danger was passed, in spite of repeated warnings not to do so, proving of course how deep an affliction it had been to leave them in the first place.

12th List of Personals

From this distance numbers of people living hereabouts have felt this same personal responsibility in helping their fellow Empire citizens, which naturally is linked also with a genuine sympathy for those in distress, best evidence of which is seen in the appearance today of the 12th list of purely personal contributions to appear since July 11, when a special appeal for such was made supported by His Worship Mayor Hamilton.

One of the outstanding features of these personal lists that should be quite apparent, lies particularly in the one noted today, from the fact that each and every one has given on former occasions, not once but many times, showing that their convictions of both the need and their responsibility as good citizens of the Empire, are such that they must play their part in this personal way to help the war effort through the humanitarian work that the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund carries on for that purpose.

A further instance of just how one contributor today responded is related through the secretary of the fund receiving a call, when a reader of this column a few days ago learned that $345 was needed to complete the next donation. His request to be included for the sum of $5 was just one of those exhilarating moments which makes this management job very worth while, and certainly prompts a continuance of these personal lists, another of which will be commenced at once.

KNOWS THE ANSWER

Mr. R. Whalen, director of the Peterborough Waste Paper drive, tells this one: After posting one of those waste paper campaign posters on a tree in front of her house, a boy and girl, both of pre-kindergarten age, ambled by, and the girl asked the little boy what the poster said. After some consideration, deep concentration and other mannerisms designed to impress his little companion with his knowledge, the youngster blurted out, "It says, 'Keep off the Grass'".

KILLED IN FRANCE—Sgt. E. C. (Bud) White, B.E.M., son of Mr. and Mrs. David White, 319 Burnham street, is reported to have died of wounds, which he received in France August 22.

Sgt. Bud White Dies Of Wounds

Sgt. E. C. (Bud) White, B.E.M., who was previously reported wounded August 22, is now reported to have died of wounds, received while fighting with the Black Watch unit in France, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David White, 319 Burnham street, have been notified. The date of his death was listed as September 14.

Enlisting in the Prince of Wales Rangers in March, 1942, Sgt. White won the British Empire Medal while serving in Canada. He went overseas in the early part of this year, and since then has been attached to the Montreal Black Watch Regiment.

Prior to enlisting, Sgt. White was employed in the Wire Department of the C.G.E. He was well known in athletic circles and took part in baseball and other sports.

Surviving are his parents, two sisters, Mrs. Basil Williams and Mrs. Earlewood White of Peterborough; two brothers, Gerald of Peterborough and Robert, serving with the RCNVR on a frigate.

Lt. A. Carlisle Returns Home

"Very glad to be home," is Lieut. Alex Carlisle, R.C.N.V.R., the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Douglas Carlisle, Weller west, who arrived in Peterborough Wednesday night after participating in invasion landing operations since D-Day.

Lt. Carlisle was the recipient of much publicity—"much, too much," he says, as the result of a lucky escape on his first crossing of the Channel. He was thrown from the forward end of his ship—a landing craft, infantry, light—when a mine exploded, was forced under the keel of the vessel, but managed to come up with only a few bruises on the other side.

Since that time, he said today, he has been in almost continuous action delivering men and supplies safely to the shore of France, but without any of the mishaps that characterized his first trip over. He has even sailed on the same ship, which was crash-landed on the beach after the explosion and later nursed back to the safety of a dry-dock for repairs.

Home on a 30-day furlough, Lt. Carlisle has been overseas since November of last year. He enlisted in the Navy back in October, 1941, and before going to England was stationed in British Columbia, sailing out of West Coast ports on convoy duty.

Outsiders Send Donations To Centre Fund

Col. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, Peterborough Army officer just returned from overseas, will speak to-night at 6:15 p.m. over CHEX on the subject of the proposed Memorial Community Centre. Commanding officer of the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders when they left for overseas, he has recently been in charge of Canadian Records in England.

Col. Hicks-Lyne will devote his address to a discussion of the features of the Centre as they appeal to servicemen, stressing in particular the advantage of having a living memorial to Canadian dead rather than a stone monument.

Total contributions now tabulated at the office of the Community Centre have reached $90,000, with a figure of $20,000 recorded in the employees canvass.

To-day brought word of three contributions from outside the city. They are all from former Peterborough boys, whose interest in their old hometown appears to have suffered no diminuation even though they are no longer members of the community. Both Lt.-Col. Wilfred W. Stratton and J. Reginald Stratton of Toronto have sent $100 gifts; and a third donation for the same good round figure of $100 was received from a Peterboroughite who is now in business in London, Ont.

This man, writing to a friend in the city, has the following to say: "Here's hoping the campaign will be most successful and that all plans well and truly laid, effectively matured and carried through to completion, will make Peterborough a sound, model sporting centre, in the interest of its splendid background, its present citizenship, both young and old, and its generations to come."

"Peterborough," he concludes, "is to be congratulated on this effort towards better Health, Culture and Recreation. Here's hoping again."

Arrest Motorist After Car Crash

Selbourne R. Woods, 18, of 723 New Romaine street, was remanded until tomorrow morning for sentence in police court today after he had entered a plea of guilty to a charge of failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Woods was arrested by Constable Leo Murphy last night as a consequence of a report by William James that his parked car had been struck and damaged by a hit-and-run automobile in front of George Street Church on Wednesday night. Eye-witnesses of the affair reported that after the crash the lights of the hit-and-run car had been extinguished and the machine had continued north on George street and into London street.

Woods told the court this morning that so far he had done nothing to recompense the owner of the other car for the damage done in the crash.

Dennis Gallager, Arnprior, Ont., who entered a plea of guilty to a drunk charge, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

David Robertson, Gravenhurst, who pleaded guilty as a second offender, was fined $50 and costs.

REPORTED KILLED IN ACTION—Gnr. James Vincent Bianco, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Bianco, 284 Park Hill road, has been killed while serving in Italy. The soldier was a member of the permanent Army.

F.O. Clare Brooks Reported Killed

YOUNG'S POINT, Sept. 22 (ENS) —Flying Officer Clare Brooks, R.C.A.F., who was previously reported missing, is now officially reported killed in action, according to word received by his parents here. Authorities stated that his body had been recovered and the funeral took place September 19 at Dunbarton cemetery, Scotland.

Before enlisting two years ago, F.O. Brooks was employed at the DeHaviland plant, Toronto. He graduated as a pilot and since going overseas, had made many operational flights.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Frances McDermid, Toronto; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brooks, Young's Point three brothers, Staff Sgt. Oswald Brooks, R.C.O.C., France; Adrian of Peterborough, and Russell of Toronto; and two sisters, Mrs. E. Johnston, Young's Point, and Helen of Peterborough.

BLOOD DONORS — URGENTLY NEEDED IMMEDIATELY

Never was the need for blood serum so great.

At no time have Canadians had a greater opportunity to serve their country.

Our men are fighting on all fronts, and robot bombs are causing thousands of casualties in England.

Some will die, but many will come safely through to health and happiness again, if you but do your part to help them.

An early victory is assured, but happiness in victory means to each home the safe return of its loved ones.

The future of Canadian Servicemen and Women depends on YOU!

So little is this pint of blood to give,
That, far away, a dying man might live;
Take this, my blood, and know a part of me
Has gone ... to keep my homeland free.

Scott, sister of the bride, was at the door, and the bride received the guests with her mother. Pouring tea at a tea table, set with a lace cloth and centred with a mixed bouquet of asters, were Miss Bernice Hall, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ross Bick, sister-in-law of the bride. Those assisting in serving were Misses Adeline Johnston, Vera Miller, Loretta McDougall, Ila Kimble and Mrs. Scott Wildman. Misses Jean Fowler, Elsie Johnston, Vera Davidson and Mary Alexander assisted in the showing of the gifts and the trousseau.

Murray St. W.A. Holds Afternoon Tea

An attractive tea table was the centre of interest at a fall tea sponsored by the Women's Association of Murray Street Baptist church, Thursday afternoon, at the home of the president, Miss A. Morgan, on the corner of George and Murray streets. The table, set with a lace cloth, was centred with a striking bouquet of salvia and white cosmos in a large silver bowl on a reflector, and was flanked by white tapers in silver holders. A silver tea service was set at either end.

Vieing with the tea room in popularity, was the home cooking table, filled with delicious home baking, which did a brisk business. Supervising the sales were Mrs. D. Hunter, Mrs. W. Hardwicke and Mrs. D. Loomis.

Receiving with Miss Morgan were Mrs. J. H. Sutcliffe and Mrs. M. Pringle, Mrs. G. W. Fitzgerald welcomed the guests at the door, and Mrs. J. S. Graham welcomed them in the living room. Pouring tea were Miss M. Ellis, Mrs. A. Campbell, Mrs. L. J. Pettit and Mrs. H. H. Graham. Assisting in the tea room and with refreshments were Miss N. Stenton, Mrs. J. Thompson, Mrs. J. Brown, Mrs. A. Frize, Mrs. G. M. Stenton and Mrs. R. Gavine. Mrs. Stenton and Mrs. Gavine were general conveners for the event.

Gall.

Plans for the Club's share in the coming rally at the Y.W.C.A., on September 27, 28 and 29, were discussed. All "Y" senior clubs will be hostesses for a banquet on Thursday evening, and girls of the city are invited. Members were asked to contact girls who had expressed a desire to come, and see that they made their reservations at the Y.W. by noon on Tuesday. A grand program of stunts and songs was outlined as the Club's part in the rally.

LCW Tea Funds To Be Donated To New Centre

An account of the annual meeting of the National Council of Women, showing that this organization was awake to war and post-war problems, and vitally interested in the general welfare, was given by Mrs. W. H. Morton, president, to the regular meeting of the Local Council of Women, Thursday afternoon in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Morton dealt in some detail with addresses given by several of the National executive.

Mrs. Hardy, president of the National Council, in her opening address, said that women controlled one-half the vote for government representative; were beneficiaries of over 95 per cent of all insurance; were 85 per cent of the consumer class and owned one-half the bonds which financed Canada's government and industries. Women had the chief interest in education, and actually operate most of the charities. She then concluded that women had not only the power but the justification for making contribution to the plans for peace, and said that they were entitled to their rightful place in the council of government and even in discussions of deliberations at the peace table.

Another vital topic discussed in some detail during the sessions, Mrs. Morton reported, was the health problem, and she mentioned that Major J. Eisenhardt, who spoke in Peterborough recently under the auspices of the Local Council, was also there. Women in the post-war world was another topic discussed, and several resolution were passed.

The feeling that Peterborough women should have representatives on committees planning improvements for the city, was again expressed, and the president announced that Mrs. J. K. Hughes had been asked to join the city planning committee. In connection with the recent address of Major Eisenhardt, Mrs. Morton asked that letters of thanks be sent to G. Wilson Craw, J. A. Jebson, Dr. R. A. Kelly and G. H. Roper, for their efforts towards making Major Eisenhardt's stay in the city pleasant and interesting, and the publicity given for the address.

Mrs. Morton was named to represent the Council on the committee for plans for the day of victory. The Memorial Community Centre was mentioned, and it was announced that 19 members of the Council had volunteered their time and effort to canvasses for funds. A new affiliated society, the United Electrical Women's Auxiliary was welcomed and announcements of coming events included the fall tea of the Council, to be held October 14. It was decided that proceeds would be given toward the Memorial Community Centre. A rummage sale, to be held October 12 was also announced. The resignation because of illness, of the first vice-president, Mrs. J. C. Larmer, was regretfully accepted.

New Look In Furs For Winter 1945

Furs really steal the fashion spotlight for Winter, 1945! Everything about them is new and news. News in silhouette, in dressmaker detailing, in collarless necklines, in deep turn-back "muff" cuffs, in fuller back swing that adds so much beauty, grace and line. Really headline news is the short fur coat, most popular in 36" length. Noted in a few collections last year and considered rather high style, the short fur coat really makes its fashion debut this winter and is slated for tremendous success. Fashionable as it is practical, it is really a wise investment for wartime wardrobes because it is young, wonderfully versatile, marvelously flattering. Fingertip length, it affords all the warmth of a full length fur coat and twice the drama and wearability because it is strikingly smart over the slim silhouette — perfect for even those very few times when you dress for dinner!

Budget or Luxury Toppers

Positive proof of its tremendous popularity is that the fur topper is noted in both luxury and budget furs. No need to add that it will be a smash hit with college and career girls whose first requisite for almost anything they buy (most definitely their fur coat!) is all-around smartness and wearability. They'll like their fur toppers in opossum, raccoon, Canadian wolf and of course their beloved mink blended muskrat. Then, of course, there are fur toppers in civet cat, black broadtail, mink, beaver, black or grey Persian lamb. Speaking of grey furs, they're definitely in the fashion spotlight! Underscored for modest budgets is smart South American grey dyed lamb. Beautifully worked and cleverly shaded to resemble rich grey Persian, it is definitely a sound fashion budget buy. Here's more fashion news for you! Many of the short fur coats may be worn trench coat style too because they come complete with matching or suede fabric belt. Of course the full length fur coat is still a tremendous favorite and the local matching or suede fabric belt. Of course the full length fur coat is still a tremendous favorite and the local stores have an excellent selection of them. Again one of the biggest favorites is the tuxedo box coat with deep turn-back cuffs. Featured in fashionable rich mink blended muskrat, Persian lamb, beaver, squirrel, skunk, as well as other furs, it is a wise wartime investment. The fitted silhouette assumes added importance this season, particularly in black Persian lamb. Deeper armholes, collarless back necklines combined with miniature revers of roll collars distinguish these new fitted Persians and add to their elegance. As for the box coats, here again fuller back swing is noted to achieve an air of luxury. Of course, they all feature deeper armholes to accommodate suits, and the convertible turn-back cuffs that are still so fashionable. Silver dyed raccoon makes fashion news and it is so skillfully handled that it affords the beauty of real silver fox plus the sturdiness of raccoon.

Fur Capes Fashion News

Little fur capes are big fashion news! So very feminine they are really high style, but here again American ingenuity comes to the fore and makes them practical! Here's the secret. Many of these fur capes have convertible sleeves. To clarify, they unhook on the inner sides so that they can be worn cape or jacket style. Completely glamorous in silver fox, we noted fur capes in rich sable dyed squirrel as well as blue fox, Persian lamb. Fur jackets, forever fashionable and popular because of their all-season wearability, are in great demand. Budget and luxury furs are spotlighted and include guanoco, silver fox, sable dyed squirrel, Canadian wolf. Slightly longer in length, they are smart, practical investments.

Buy Furs Carefully

Regardless of the price you pay, buy your fur coat carefully with an eye to quality, durability, beauty and all-around wearability. And because your fur coat is a many season investment, buy the best fur coat you can afford. It will repay you sound dividends in warmth, smartness and wear for many winters. The local stores have a wide selection of furs for every taste, every need, every purse. If you know you'll be giving your fur coat day in and day out wear, do choose a sturdy fur that can take it. And should you plan to have your old fur coat remodeled, many of the local stores are doing expert re-styling to give your coat a new lease on life.

FASHION HEADLINES—Fur coats for the 1945 winter in the fashion headlines are short with fuller backs and deeper cuffs. This fingertip jacket is of fluffy red fox.

Scout Auxiliary Has Chins Up Tea

Mrs. W. A. Brown, 47 Benson avenue, was hostess for the first fall meeting and Chins Up tea of the St. John's Scout Group Mother's Auxiliary. Members decided to send Christmas boxes to all former members of the Scouts again this year, and Mrs. L. Crocker was named convener of this project. To raise funds for the boxes, the Auxiliary is sponsoring a fall tea and sale of novelties on Wednesday, October 4, at the home of the president, Mrs. G. Groombridge, 296 Roger street.

With The Girl Guides

By this time I expect you will have all read of the mammoth parade to be held this evening to boost the campaign for funds for our Memorial Centre. We think the parade is a splendid idea for our boys and girls, and hope that all the Guides will turn out to help make it a success.

The parade will be divided into four sections, and we have been asked to lead the section which will start from the corner of Charlotte and Downie Streets. Music for our marching will be provided by the band of the Women's Service Corps; and as the other three sections will be led by boys' groups, we hope that we can prove that the girls can do just as well as the boys.

As the parade is to start at 7:30 we think it would be a good idea if the Guides met at 7:15. This is for Guides of all companies, and we would once again urge that all the Guides make a special effort to attend in full uniform. You can leave the costumes to the other children. As the children will carry posters, the Guides will not carry their flags. Don't forget, though, to bring along your flashlights. Any further details about this parade can be obtained from your own captains.

Fraserville

The many friends of Mrs. James Combes of Fraserville will be sorry to learn that she is in Nicholls Hospital, having had two operations.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lang and baby son, Ralph, of Fraserville, motored to Blackwater recently to visit with the latter's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Williamson and family, and also with Mrs. Lang's mother, Mrs. E. Moore.

Word has been received that Mrs. Hilliard Lang of Fraserville has arrived in Shaunavon, Sask., where she will visit with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McMahon.

CLASSICAL CHARM — The tricorne, whether simply styled or lavishly trimmed, is an enduring mode, a classic that always appeals to the woman of taste. A designer, who does tailored hats so exquisitely and in the fine American tradition, comes through with this lovely tricorne made of fine felt and expertly blocked so that it is head-fitting. It has a daintily embroidered veil.—By Alice Alden.

JUST FOR WOMEN

By CONNIE NICHOLSON (Society Editor of The Examiner)

Annoying stains, the results of several canning sprees that the housewife has indulged in, are apt to crop up frequently in the family wash, not only on aprons and house-dresses, but also on tablelinen, after everyone has sampled the latest jar of preserves. Here are a few simple methods for removing these stains.

For fresh peach, pear, plum and cherry stains, sponge the spot well with cool water, and then work in a little glycerine, rubbing the material lightly between the hands. Let stand for several hours, then apply a few drops of vinegar. Leave the vinegar on the material for a minute or two, and then rinse thoroughly in water. Glycerine, which can be bought at any drugstore, should be used for all fruit stains, on colored as well as white materials, and on wool or silk.

Other fruit stains can be removed from cotton and linen by the boiling water method. Stretch the stained spot over a bowl, and fasten with string. Then, pour boiling water on it from a height of three or four feet, so the water strikes the stain with force. (Try placing the bowl in the sink, to avoid a shower bath on the kitchen floor, and standing on a firm kitchen chair). If a stain remains after this treatment, squeeze a little lemon juice on it and place it in the sun to dry. Or, if you prefer, use a chemical bleach, such as javel water, taking care to test the material first, to see that the bleach does not fade it.

Will Wash Out

Stains of citrus fruits, such as grapefruit and lemon, usually wash out in warm water and rich suds. However if the acid in the fruit has changed the color of the cloth, it can be restored by dampening the stain, and holding it over an open bottle of strong ammonia water.

Preserving also brings other material problems in its wake, since the family ironing often is neglected because baskets of fruit must be bottled before they spoil. Garments that are damp often mildew even after a short time, and present another cleaning job. Fresh mildew stains generally can be removed by moistening them with lemon juice and salt, and then exposing to sunlight. Older stains on cotton, linen, or rayon, which are more stubborn, usually need a bleaching agent, such a sodium perborate, to dislodge them. Soak the stain for one or two minutes in a solution of sodium perborate, using four tablespoons of the bleach to a pint of lukewarm water. Then rinse in clear water and launder as usual in rich soapy suds.

Another good bleach, for white articles, is javel water. Simply dip the stain in the bleach, taking care not to leave it immersed for more than a minute. Rinse the article at once in clear water to which a tablespoon or two of vinegar has been added, and then rinse again in clear water. Often this treatment will have to be repeated two or three times, for particularly stubborn cases, and it is not recommended for use on colored things, or silk or wool.

Tea Making Hints

The lifting of the ration restrictions on tea and coffee has brought delight to a great many confirmed "tea grannys" who were forced to dole out their ration carefully in order to make it stretch. Such sufferers can now relax over a cup of tea whenever the fancy strikes them, and even offer a second cup to visitors!

There remains, however, the problem of making a really "good" cup of tea. Many claim that there is a knack to making truly "nice" tea, but anyone can extract the best flavor and aroma from the leaves if a little care is taken. Try these hints.

First, see that the teapot is clean, and don't hesitate to wash it frequently in sudsy water, taking care, of course, to rinse it thoroughly. For best results, don't use a brass, copper to iron teapot, since these materials are apt to produce a metallic taste. Heat the pot with hot water, since the warmer the pot, the hotter the brew, and the longer it will remain hot.

Measure tea and water carefully, sticking closely to the familiar proportions of three teaspoons of tea to one pint of water. However, every housewife knows her family's particular taste, and can vary the quantity. Remember, the water must be boiling, since only boiling water extracts the true flavor from the leaves.

Enamel for Protection

Fall weather means rainy, damp days and nights, and it's very likely that the clothesline will develop a dose of nasty rust, which will lose no time in marking sheets, towels and clothing, not to mention tablelinen. To eliminate this potential nuisance, give the line a coat of white enamel or aluminum paint. The painted line is easy to keep clean with frequent rubbings with a cloth wrung out in warm soapy water. If the line is already rusted, wipe off as much rust as possible with a cloth dipped in coal oil, and then give it a coat of the enamel. This can be repeated in a week or two if necessary.

This Week's Best Wartime Recipe

Contributed By Mary Moore Readers

DEAR MARY MOORE: In spite of all the talk of free money I still have to make my meat stretch as far as I can. I make an upside down cake using meat instead of peaches or prunes, and no sugar in the dough. You must have left over gravy though. So when I make the gravy from the roast on Sunday I make too much, and pour 1½ cups of it into a pitcher and put it away for Monday.

Meat Upside Down Cake

(Contributed by Mrs. Ethel Fuller)

Melt 5 tablespoons dripping and 2-3 cups chopped onion and cook until transparent. Add 2 cups chopped meat, 1 teaspoon of mustard, moisten with ½ cup gravy and ½ hot. Cover with biscuit dough made by sifting into bowl 2 cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt; cut 4 tablespoons cold shortening into, then moisten with 2-3 cup milk. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. about 40 minutes. Turn out on hot platter and pass hot gravy with it at table. Hot chili sauce also makes a nice accompaniment.

I hope you like it well enough to print. E. F.

We did. Thanks.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, September 23.

THE ASTRAL configurations for this day must be read as most conflicting and contradictory. There may be all sorts of sudden, peculiar and intriguing adventures and experiences, with certain contacts of a public, community, or fraternal relationship assuming major importance and giving a cherished opportunity for bewildering place and power. However, the way may be beset with danger, difficulty and treachery, unless particular caution, shrewdness, and attention to word, speech and legal matters be managed with prudence, reflection and sound judgment. Shun extravagance of funds and energies.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves deep in a year of unusual intriguing or strange situations, in which much is to be gained or lost according to the astuteness, soundness, saneness and self restraint mustered in making decisions, or coming to conclusions. Under a bewildering state of mind and emotions there is room for failure through confusions and because of sinister snares, illusions, intrigues or duplicity. Excesses, extravagances and careless involvements through words, writings, agreements or emotions should be submitted to sound and sensible judgment. This also in personal affairs.

A child born on this day may be blessed with unusual talents, of an intuitive or subjective quality, making it an easy prey to sharpers or schemers. It may suffer financial loss through careless speech, or litigation.

DOROTHY DIX . . . . .

NO GIRL A PUBLIC COMFORTER
To Talk Love, Man Must Put Himself In a Position to Offer Decent Wedlock.

DEAR MISS DIX—About a year ago I went on a picnic with some friends and in the party were a young married couple. The man fell in love with me immediately and told me of his unhappy home life, and how jealous his wife was, how she didn't understand him, and that when he saw me he knew I was the only woman in the world for him.

Since that time we have been living together, but he can't take me among his friends, so we spend most of our time in the movies or walking in the park. Sometimes he takes me to dinner, but I always observe he is looking about to see if anyone he knows is there. I can't give him up, yet I realize I am making myself a cheap person, and I wonder what the outcome of the situation will be.

UNHAPPY.

Girl Faces Ostracism and Scandal

ANSWER—You do not need occult powers to tell what the outcome of the situation will be. If you persist in your affair with this married man, you will find yourself ostracized by your old friends, your name covered with scandal, and in the end he will leave you for some fresher an younger woman, and you will spend the balance of your life wondering why you were ever such a fool and paying the price of your wrongdoing.

I have come to the conclusion that what girls need more than anything else is a talisman that will make them immune to a matrimonial hard luck story from a good-looking man. As it is, they seem to fall for it every time, and every married rake, according to his story, made a mistake in marriage and has a wife who doesn't appreciate him.

Just stop and reflect for a moment that it is none of your funeral whether this man is happily married or not and that, at any rate, you don't hold the office of public comforter. And tell him that if he wants to talk love to you to put himself in a position where he can offer you decent wedlock, instead of a hole-and-corner romance.

DEAR MISS DIX—Do you think that if a man and woman have ceased to love each other that to live together is any less sin because of their children? Don't you think that in such a case it is better for the parents to part, and that the children are better off with the mother, even though she has to leave them during the day to make a living for them, than for them to be reared in a cold home where the father and mother do not love each other? Would there be any happiness for the woman in another marriage?

DESPERATE.

Parents' Duty to Children Very Plain

ANSWER—I do not think that a couple have a right to break up a marriage and half-orphan their children merely because they have ceased to be sentimentally in love with each other. Theirs is not a case of how they feel, but of their duty. We cannot control our emotions, but we can control our actions.

The life of the woman who has two little children dependent on her for support is hard enough, but for her to remarry does not guarantee happiness. For there are even fewer men who are good stepfathers than there are women who are good stepmothers, and the mother who is torn between her husband and her children, and who sees them mistreated by a man who resents them is of all people the most miserable.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a woman 35 years old and have a mother who is a real Hitler and who tyrannizes over me so that she makes my life a burden to me. I work and support her, but she arrogates the right to treat me as if I were a slave. She bosses my every move and claims that it is my duty as a child to obey her. Reason and persuasion have no weight with her.

PUZZLED.

ANSWER—Don't argue with her any more. Don't discuss any subject concerning your mode of life or your actions. You are silly and weak to let yourself be dominated by a despotic and unreasonable old woman.

Any woman who is 35 years old and who has intelligence enough to hold down a good job has the right to be her own mistress and to give no account of her conduct to anyone.

Teresa Coveney Given Shower

Misses Eva Clark and Grace Stewart were joint hostesses for a white and red enamelware kitchen shower recently, at the home of Mrs. Charles Stewart, Park street, in honor of Miss Teresa Coveney, whose marriage to Clement Garvey takes place September 26 in Hastings. During an evening spent in games, a basket decorated in pink and white and filled with gifts, was presented to the bride-elect, and refreshments were served.

Her fellow employees of the Porcelain and Plastics department of the C.G.E. presented Miss Coveney with an occasional chair and a green leather hassock as wedding presents.

Brinton Wins Series Try For Fraser Cup

In an exciting Industrial League semi-final, the Brinton boys nosed out the Westclox by the score of 12-11. Brintons now meet the Quakers for the league championship and the Gordon K. Fraser Cup.

Rose started for the winners and was relieved by Phillips in the sixth inning. C. Corbett with 4 hits in 4 times up and E. Jones with 2 triples, were the highlights for the winners of this close game, which the carpet makers won in the seventh inning by scoring 5 runs.

Currie started for the Westclox and was relieved by Hopcroft in the seventh with 2 out and 2 runners on bases. Rose singled and two wild pitches by the losers accounted for the tying and winning runs.

Pearson, Millen and Blewett had three hits apiece, one of Blewett's being a homer with no one on bases.

Owen Sound Wins

ORANGEVILLE, Sept. 22—(CP)—Owen Sound, 1943 Juvenile Ontario Lacrosse Association champions, won its way into the 1944 finals last night by defeating Caledon-Inglewood Combines 6-4 to win the round in the two-game goals-to-count series by a 19-11 margin. Owen Sound won the first game of the series 13-7. Owen Sound now meets the winner of the series between Hamilton and Mimico.

A Million Books

TOPEKA, Kas., Sept. 22—(AP).—Several years of litigation over possession of a business building ended like this: The district court gave the owner a writ of possession, ordering Sheriff Elb Beal to clear the building of the occupant and his wares—more than 1,000,000 books. The county had no suitable place to store the books, finally trucked them to some county-owned vacant lots. Thieves carried away six of the first seven truckloads.

Sixty Russian Delegates At Conference

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 — (CP). — For the second consecutive week the international spotlight has been turned on Canadian cities — last week Quebec for the Churchill-Roosevelt conference and this week in Montreal for the second council meeting of the 44-member nations of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Both gatherings are of the highest international significance, the first symbolizing the ability of nations to organize for war and the latter representing the hope of the world that the same kind of co-operation can be effective in peace time.

It was significant too that both conferences were influenced by uncertainty about the attitude of Russia.

There was no Russian representative at Quebec and Marshal Stalin sent a message declining an invitation to come, explaining that he was too busily engaged directing his armies.

That was an explanation with which neither Prime Minister Churchill nor President Roosevelt quarreled and they publicly said they appreciated that Stalin was properly absent.

Here, at Montreal, Russia is represented by a delegation of nearly sixty, headed by the 41-year-old robust, Ebullient Vasili Sergeev, but it is a well-known fact about the conference halls that little is known by the council of the Russian plans for using and co-operating with UNRRA.

All Are Friendly.

The Russian delegates are friendly, obviously appreciative of everything that is being done for them, but remain silent on what is in their own minds.

Under the chairmanship of Canada's L. B. (Mike) Pearson, Canadian Minister in Washington, this meeting is more productive of press conferences than the first at Atlantic City but as usual, the most interesting tid-bits of news come from button-holing delegates who are willing to talk or have axes to grind.

Montreal with its numerous well-stocked and reasonably priced places to eat and drink are heaven alike to the people who have come from war restricted areas and the overcharged and often steakless Washingtonians.

The real work of the international conference of this type is done in hotel room and delegation headquarters where differences are talked away and compromises made so that conduct of business on the conference floor may be harmonious and fast. This method is expected to iron out the difficulties standing in the way of making UNRRA a truly humanitarian agency by extending its aid to peoples of conquered countries, regardless of how much they may deserve to suffer in the eyes of those upon whom they inflicted war and cruelties.

One of the wisest and most significant statements of these crowded days was made by Chairman Pearson when asked how long the conference would last. "These days," he said, "the duration of international conferences is decided by hotel managements." The reservation on the Windsor Hotel, conference headquarters, expires early next week.

Pryde Hits 969 Sets Record Opening Night

Phil Pryde stole the show at the opening of the City Five League at the Duffus Alleys Thursday night, when he toppled the pins for a total of 969, his string running 353, 298, 318. The high-three for last season was 961 hung up by Bud Weese so Pryde shattered the best mark of the last campaign on the first night. He was bowling for Ken Graham's Empress team and his big score was the main factor in that team's smothering of Riley's Big Five.

The Empress team, with a 1,257 score in the third game hit a total of 3,599.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

For to-night, it's men's rinks—and let us hope it arms up a bit.

On Monday night at 7 o'clock one round of singles will be played, and at 8 o'clock.

Schedule groups 3 and 4 will play postponed games—the same games that were to have been played last night.

The Greens Committee has announced that late next week they intend to close off one green and prepare it for the long winter

We have been asked to make the announcement regarding the ladies' club singles, that the second round must be played by Tuesday, September 26.

At a meeting of the Games Committee on Thursday night it was decided to play schedule Groups 3 and 4 every night, starting Monday until all postponed games have been played.

wise to produce," she said.

"The farmers' own organization, the Federation of Agriculture, is the instrument which will be used by the farmers to regulate the amount of production to meet a known demand. The prices, too, can be regudated, keeping them in line with production costs," said Miss Macphail. Observing that planning production to meet a known demand was what saved Denmark from collapsing after the loss of her bacon market by the Ottawa Agreement of 1932, Miss Macphail told her listeners there is nothing frightening about such a suggestion, and that the F.O.A. and Dominion Government have been meeting to determine the amount of foodstuffs that should be produced during the war years.

Low Interest Rate

"Another way of making farmers happier," Miss Macphail said, "is the re-financing of farm mortgages at a low rate of interest, and as rapidly as it can be done, the C.C.F. will do it. Especially will the C.C.F. make loans to young experienced farmers who want to farm. We require a recommendation by such an organization as the F.O.A. as to the ability and the character of the youth wanting the loan, or, where more accessible, the recommendation of the Agricultural representative. The rate of interest for young farmers will not exceed $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent."

"It has always been a puzzle to me why our governments could spend large sums of money enticing people of other countries to come here to farm, but not a penny for our own sons of farmers, and others with experience to get started farming. There are many abandoned farms in Southern Ontario. It seems to me all farms in Southern Ontario ought to be used before land settlement is pushed north. I am sure our own experienced farmers should be given the chance to become farmers on land which will become their own."

She said, "In Ontario, one way of raising the standard of living on farms is by extending Hydro to all rural areas and steadily level out Hydro rates at the same time. When electric energy is available it will be possible to put a bathroom in every farm house, not overnight, but when a government turns all its resources and the energy of its Aggricultural department to that end; send a demonstration through the countryside an make the equipment and installation possible at moderate rates. Bathrooms in farm houses will not be the rarity they are today. These things, the C.C.F. will do."

To get the farmer higher income to install central heating, bathrooms, electric lighting and other amenities, she said, the C.C.F. proposes to bring canning, packing and processing plants under public or cooperative ownership and control. It was pointed out that probably this cannot be done until the C.C.F. are in power at Ottawa, or until farmers' co-ops have become larger and more powerful than they are today.

Check Farm Machinery

Because machinery costs farmers tremendous amounts when totalled, Miss Macphail revealed the C.C.F. intends, when in power, to bring the farm machinery industry under social control through public or co-operative ownership. "There is something close to monopoly in the farm machine manufacturing field," she said.

Outlining that the cost of farm machinery and the cost of processing farm products are two major reasons for the low net income of the farmer, she said it was the C.C.F.'s desire to get farmers to do for themselves through cooperation, everything they can to weld economic control of their own business. C.C.F. government will give every encouragement by having a sound Cooperative Act on the statute books, by eliminating income tax from cooperative business, and by making loans at low rates to established, sound cooperative businesses, Miss Macphail stated.

Miss Macphail, turning her attention to educational problems, said that education for rural living has been sadly neglected.

"There should be agricultural vocational schools scattered all over the province, where boys and girls attracted to rural life can prepare themselves to live it more fully, where the tasks of rural citizenship would be stressed, and where the philosophy and principles of co-operation would be thoroughly taught."

Graduates of these schools, she said, could enter any college or university if they wished. "The C.C.F. believes in such schools, and would establish them," she said. Miss Macphail outlined, as an example, an ordinary farm, in connection with one of these schools, where students would be taught to make the best of conditions met with on the average farm. From such schools, she said, could radiate into the surrounding areas, adult education, sending leaders out and bringing farm groups into the school for evening sessions.

In conclusion, Miss Macphail again emphasized the major point of the add. "Let us say once more, the C.C.F will not take the farmer's farm away, but will increase his income and raise his standard of living. Don't let our enemies kid you!"

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

PUT ON THE BLINDFOLD

LISTENING CAREFULLY to the bidding may convince you that ordinary procedure will not make a dent in the declarer's armor. Your job then is to figure out the extraordinary. Perhaps your only chance lies in befuddling your foe and making him fear some danger which doesn't exist. Imagination is quite an asset in such a situation

North: ♠ A Q 9 7 6 5 ♥ J 10 9 ♦ 6 ♣ K Q 9

West: ♠ K 10 2 ♥ K 4 ♦ 9 8 7 4 ♣ 7 4 3 2

West could see a good chance of taking a trick with his heart K, but none whatever of scoring his spade K, when North had bid the suit over him. Thought about the bidding convinced him that East had a virtually blank hand and would not even threaten to take a trick. It turned out that East had a good deal more than you might suspect, with that diamond sequence, but it was worthless in view of North's shortage.

Pondering on what he could figure out, however, West saw a chance of misleading the declarer into thinking East had the spade K and that he himself had a singleton. If he could fool South into believing this, he might cause the spade A to get played at the start, establishing the K.

So he led the spade 2. Now South studied plenty, and decided West would not have opened the dummy's suit unless he held a singleton. If that was the case, and he played low from dummy, finessing the lead up to his own J, East probably would win with the K and return the suit for a ruff. South therefore decided to stake his chance of success on the heart finesse, and get rid of trumps before trying to set up the rest of the spades.

Up he came with the spade A on the first trick. As we can all see, looking at the diagram of the deal, this caused him to lose tricks to both major kings.

Roseneath WA Observes 10th Anniversary

ROSENEATH, Sept. 22— (ENS)—The 10th anniversary of the organization of the Women's Association of Roseneath United Church was observed Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting with sister society members as guests was held in the town hall.

It was in October 1934 that Rev. L. W. Scott, then pastor on the Roseneath charge, organized the society. There were seven members, Mrs. Lily Turner was president, Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite, financial secretary, and Mrs.L . W. Scott and Mrs. M Davey were a program committee. Remaining members were Mrs. E. Braithwaite, Mrs. M. D. Brown and Mrs. B. Hogg. Two charter members remain, Mrs. Braithwaite and Mrs. Davey.

Other Officers

During the years, in addition to Mrs. Turner there have been three presidents, Mrs. A. Nill 1935-40; Mrs. Charles Sandercock 1940-42, and Mrs. G. L. Tucker 1942-44. Secretaries included Mrs. E. Blodgett, Mrs. C. Grigg, Miss Irene Brown and the present secretary, Mrs. E. Braithwaite. The latter also served as treasurer for some years. Additional treasurers included Mrs. E. Blodgett, Mrs. Clark Sandercock, and Mrs. C. Grigg present treasurer.

Seated with the president were Mrs. M. Davey, Mrs. B. Thackeray, Mrs. Fannie Blodgett, Mrs. A. Nill, Mrs. C. Sandercock, Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. E. Braithwaite and Mrs. C. Grigg.

Mrs. Davey conducted the devotional period and gave an address on "Peace." Mrs. Tucker conducted a candle lighting ceremony carried out by the members seated with her, and welcomed the guests. Mrs. A. Nill and Mrs. C. Sandercock gave brief resumes of their terms of office.

Mrs. E. Braithwaite read a story of the 6th anniversary party followed by a condensed report of the activities since that date.

Make Presentation

The presentation of a silver relish dish to Mrs. Stewart Thackeray who is taking up residence in Hamilton was made. Mrs. H. Taylor read the address and Mrs. Frank Adams made the presentation. Mrs. B. Thackeray was program convener, Miss Betty Atkinson played a piano solo "Caprice Etude"; Miss Hildred Taylor gave a reading "The Ladies' Aid"; Mrs. C. Sandercock read "Canadian Tapestry"; Mrs. I. Skuce sang "God Remembers"; Misses Mary Halstead and Carol McMillan sang "The White Cliffs of Dover"; Mrs. L. Sherwin read Edgar Guests poem, "Things Work Out"; Misses Clarice and Betty Atkinson sang a duet "One Thing I Of The Lord Desire," and Mrs. R. C. White sang "The End of a Perfect Day." The accompanists were Mrs. Ella Brown, Mrs. C. W. Varcoe, Mrs. Flex McMillan and Miss Irene Brown.

Greetings from sister societies were brought by Mrs. T. Coyle, St. James Anglican Church W.A.; Mrs. D. Timlin, Centenary United Church W.A.; Mrs. W. I. Montgomery, Fenella W.M.S.; Mrs. A. Halstead, Roseneath W.M.S., and Mrs. Frank Brown, Roseneath W.I.

Serve Supper

Supper was served by the host society. Mrs. L. Brisbin and Mrs. A. Nill poured tea from a table centered with a birthday cake and silver vases of flowers.

Conveners of committees included: tea, Mrs. E. Sandercock; refreshments, Mrs. E. Waldie; program, Mrs. B. Thackeray. Assisting at the tea table were Mesdames W. Halstead and Harold Mouncey and Misses Helen Weir, Clarice and Betty Atkinson, Keitha and Lois Brown, Adelaine Mouncey, Velma Down and Olive Sherwin.

The birthday cake was made by Mrs. F. Norris and Mrs. H. Hugh.

Cavan News

Cavan horse owners were again prominent prize-winners this year at Lindsay Exhibition, Roy Ferren winning Grand Champion on his brood mare "Wayburn's Bell," Grand Champion on his Percheron stallion "Jerry Egotist," and Junior Champion on his year-old stallion "Buddy Prince." He also won thirteen first prizes on various other entries. Messrs. D. White and Charles Smith were also Percheron exhibitors who were successful in winning red ribbons.

Personals

Mrs. Emory Smith and two children have gone to Balmoral, Man., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Preston.

Miss Bernice Hibbard of the Docon Telephone Co. staff and Miss Elaine Argue of the Bank of Toronto staff are spending this week in Toronto and Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Kiddie have returned to Toronto after spending a week with Mrs. Kiddie's sister, Mrs. L. S. McNeil and Mr. McNeil. Miss Bertha McNeil was home over the week-end.

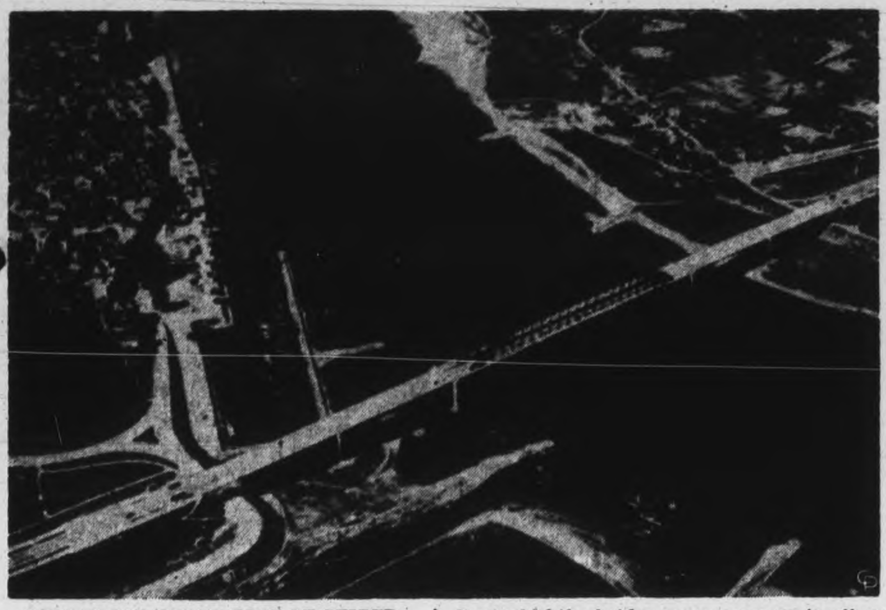
British Tanks Gain Six Miles
Air Army Rescue Imminent



STRATEGIC RHINE BRIDGE SEIZED—View of the mile and a half long concrete bridge across the Waal Rhine at Nijmegen, Holland, which was captured intact by British Second Army forces after a fierce battle against the stubborn Nazi defenders. Control of the bridge was necessary to allow British troops to cross the swift-flowing river in their race to rescue a huge pocket of Allied airborne forces isolated in the Arnhem sector and under a slashing German attack.

Germany Given Battering By 1,500 Planes

LONDON, Sept. 23 — (CP). — The weather improved over the Straits of Dover to-day, giving promise of another aerial battering on Germany such as that delivered by 1,500 Allied planes yesterday.

The German radio already was telling the people of the Upper Danube Valley that Allied bombers and fighters were on their way.

Air fleets from Mediterranean fields droned toward Germany's southern approaches.

Planes from Britain and Italy yesterday struck the industrial city of Kassel, the Munich area, and Allied fighters assaulted targets along the blazing battlefront despite heavy cloud conditions. The 650 Flying Fortresses hitting Kassel were unchallenged from the air, but anti-aircraft fire was heavy and nine bombers and a fighter were missing.

Shuttle planes from an Italy-Russian-Britain mission returned to British bases, dropping supplies to Polish Patriots and bombing the enemy targets en route.

Nine Downed Over Warsaw.

One Flying Fortress and two Mustangs are missing from this unit, which knocked down nine German planes in a fight over Warsaw.

In some 11,600 sorties, during which 500 Italian-based heavy bombers attacked an airdrome near Munich, railway yards at Larissa, and targets in the Central Po Valley, a total of 17 aircraft failed to return, a communique announced.

Pilots recognized some jet-propelled craft among German fighters sent aloft, but most of them kept their distance.

Despite poor visibility, R.A.F. Mosquitos of the 2nd Tactical Air Force went after railway yards and barges along the Scheide River last night and struck as far south as Emmerich, 15 miles south-east of Arnhem, on a gap through which the Germans might try to reinforce their armies on the lower Rhine.

Soviet Planes Supply Poles

LONDON, Sept. 23—(CP.)—Russians are again crossing the Vistula at Warsaw and "heavy fighting is going on in sectors of the western bank where the Soviet units are landing," a broadcast communique from Gen. Bor's Polish Partisan headquarters announced today.

The communique, made public by the Polish government in London, said Bor's forces were attacking the Germans from the rear. Russian authorities have remained silent on the operation, perhaps waiting until a bridgehead within the Polish capital is secured.

Bor acknowledged receipt of food dropped in Warsaw by Soviet planes last night. He said, however, that the food situation remained critical.

Capt. Sam Ridge Leads Attack

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Sept. 23.—(CP).—For six hours the German paratroopers counter-attacked the Perth regiment and the western tanks dug in on Point 204. Tankmen shot them off their Shermans. Infantrymen fought with rifles, grenades and machine guns.

The Perths were ordered to make a slight withdrawal to allow an artillery concentration to be brought down on the enemy beating at this force which had broken through his Gothic Line and now was mounting the slope behind it.

A Sound Sleeper.

After dawn they took the position and found Pte. H. E. Detler of Niagara Falls, Ont. Cpl. Roy Martin of Kitchener, Ont., had to shake him to get him awake. A mortar bomb had caved in part of his slit trench. Paratroopers had dug within a few feet of him. The fight raged with intensity for hours, and Detler slept through it all.

L. Cpl Abraham Rochlin, Montreal, guided a company under Capt. W. J. (Sammy) Ridge, Millbrook, Ont., in its capture of the feature Point 111, pointed out machine-gun and sniper positions and mine locations.

Pte. C. J. Mills, Gilbert Plains, Man., and Pte. Lorne Malcho, Stratford, Ont., did excellent work in evacuating wounded. One man was killed by a shell while accompanying Capt. Ridge on an inspection of platoon positions on the Point 204 Feature.

When his platoon was having difficulties getting forward, Lieut. Bill Hider, Stratford, jumped up, shouted encouragement and beckoned them on. Their advance con-

Germans Claim Paratroops Finished

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 — (AP). — The Berlin radio declared today that an entire Polish airborne division had been landed southwest of Arnhem in the battle for Holland, and claimed it had been "largely annihilated."

By German account, this would make two airborne divisions fighting in the Arnhem sector, one British and one Polish. An airborne division usually numbers 8,000 to 9,000 men.

The Polish division landed Thursday, a Berlin broadcast said. The Germans first had estimated the number of Poles in the battle at 1,000.

Canadian Units Fight In Antwerp City

By MAURICE DESJARDINS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ANTWERP, Sept. 23 — (CP-Cable). — Canadian formations are fighting mortar and artillery duels with German troops across the Albert Canal in the vital dock area of this second largest city in Belgium.

(This dispatch was the first indication that Canadian units are in action in Antwerp, although Canadian forces of Lt.-Gen. Crerar's 1st Canadian Army are hammering toward the estuary of the Schelde River, 30 miles west and slightly north).

A Strange War

It is a strange war in this beautiful city. Five minutes away from the port district the city teems with civilian activity. There are cinemas and luxurious hotels where you can get rich food and hot baths.

Although the prisoner count now is about 9,000, it is expected to exceed that figure. The strength of the garrison, originally estimated at 5,000, was 11,200.

After his capture Heim said, "there comes an evening in every campaign — this is the twilight." He was chief of staff of a panzer corps in the 1940 battle of France.

There were few changes on the Canadian Army front today following the fall of Boulogne Friday afternoon.

Canadian infantry and armored force who have advanced to the Schelde west of Terneuzen have pressed the Germans south of the Schelde into an "island" pocket bounded by the loop of the Leopold Canal and the river. Only German rear-guards remained inside the loop.

Despite German radio claims, there have been no major Canadian operations yet against the Channel ports of Calais and Dunkerque where the Germans have been making attempts to supply their pocketed garrisons by air.

Vanilla Flood

UNRRA Expects Russ Proposals

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—(CP). — Russian proposals for a declaration promising priority of relief for those peoples who have suffered most, endured longest and resisted most determinedly the Axis aggressors, are expected to occupy to-day's meetings of the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration Council.

L. B. Pearson, chairman of the council meeting, said at a press conference yesterday that this was a proposal that could not be opposed by any delegate but might be most difficult to carry out.

No concrete resolution to this effect has been submitted to the council yesterday but it was expected to be brought forward at one of to-day's committee meetings.

Meanwhile, the council to-day faced the possibility of completing all committee work before nightfall with the hope that plenary meetings Monday and Tuesday could wind up the conference.

War Crime Trials To Start

Russians Will Not Be Lenient

MOSCOW, Sept. 23. — (AP).—Punishment for war crimes will be one of the Soviet High Command's main pre-occupations in southeastern Europe regardless of whether the Allies adopt a more lenient attitude in the west, it is becoming apparent.

A vast amount of evidence for use in prosecuting Balkan collaborationists for persecution of Russian and Allied peoples has been collected and the Soviet-supervised purges of state and military machines in Romania and Bulgaria will, it is believed, net hundreds of Axis henchmen.

A fat bag of Axis diplomats and militarists already has been seized with 31 arrests announced and presumably many more being made or imminent.

The Soviets now hold in custody former Romanian Premier Ion Antonescu, Bogdan Philov and Prince Cyril, former Bulgarian regents; eight Italian Fascist diplomats; two Hungarian diplomats and more than a dozen German former Balkan overlords.

Soviet Units Storming City Of Riga

Baltic Fleet Fliers Riddle Boats Evacuating Germans

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press War Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 23 (AP)—Capture of Tallinn, Estonian naval base and capital, opened the Gulf of Finland to the Soviet Baltic fleet, and strongly imperilled all the remaining Nazi strongholds in the Baltic States.

Front dispatches said Russian troops to the south already were battling in the outer defences of Riga, Latvia's capital, seizure of which would cut off land escape routes for the Germans caught between there and Tallinn.

At the same time other dispatches from Western Transylvania said Red Army tanks were lunging close to the Romanian-Hungarian froniter after seizing Arad important road and rail junction 10 miles from the border. The campaign for the capture of the Hungarian capital of Budapest, lying directly in the path of Soviet forces rolling across the flat country, was said to have begun.

The Russian war bulletin said Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad army, in addition to taking Tallinn, captured 800 more towns yesterday, including the strategic rail junction of Tapa, 43 miles southeast of the Estonian capital.

Airmen from the Baltic fleet blasted Nazi evacuation ships in the Tallinn harbor, sinking three loaded troop transports and damaging other vessels.

Extend Front

Gen. Ivan Maslennikov's 3rd Baltic Army captured 60 localities along the Estonian-Latvian frontier northwest and west of Valga, the war bulletin added.

Other gains in Romania were registered by the taking of Semlac, on the Mures River west of Arad, which put one Soviet column 38 miles from Szeged, Hungary's second city, and 122 miles southeast of Budapest. Another town to fall was Simandul, 18 miles north of Arad and six miles from the Magyar frontier.

In southern Poland the Russians captured 30 villages southeast of Sanok near the Czechoslovakia border, extending the Red Army front opposite Slovakia and Northern Hungary.

Moscow remained silent on progress in the fighting for Warsaw. A Polish communique from the capital asserted Polish patriots had made contact with Red Army forces in the northern and southern districts of the city after the Russians had crossed the Vistula.

Airborne Thrust Difficult Paratroops Fight A Week

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.,
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie).
Associated Press War Analyst.

It is hardly proper to refer to the impending "rescue" of the British airborne troops at Arnhem. You don't rescue men who, deliberately assigned to a difficult post, stand and slug, regardless of odds. You don't rescue men who laugh and curse the enemy's surrender suggestions.

Nor, strictly speaking, is the advancing British 2nd Army a "relief" column. It may have that effect on the encircled airborne troops. But technically the whole operation is part of an offensive, deliberately planned so that Gen. Brereton's air army could help clear the way for the main ground armies in their advance across the Holland water barriers. The 2nd Army is heading for the capture of Arnhem and the invasion of the German Huhr. It's not a "relief" job.

There is a difference between the Air Army which deliberately put itself in the German circle and an army which has walked into a trap.

There has been a week, every day longer than the last, in which every man has been a target for German field pieces which can be countered only with comparatively light equipment which could be flown in.

A correspondent with them writes of the German surrender broadcast: "It was a silly thing to do. It made these chaps hopping mad."

Another writes: "And though our men, some of them, are hard put to it not to fall asleep over their guns, they go on fighting and go on attacking and one day perhaps the world will learn the full story of what they have done here."

Men fighting unflaggingly for their objective, fulfilling their orders. Men the world will cheer when their support arrives. But not men to be "rescued."

German Giant Surrenders; Happy About It

By BILL BOSS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Sept. 23 — (CP). — The door opened and into the dimly-lighted room stepped a giant of a man in field-grey uniform, a Red Cross patch on his arm and a pack slung across his back!

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment's Colonel looked up from the mapboard on which he was studying the ground for the next day's advances in the approach to the Foglia River, southern boundary of the Gothic Line.

"Well?" he asked. "What do you want? It rather looks as though you're in the wrong place. Perhaps you'd better get a move on."

The Nazi gasped. He was a stretcher-bearer, he explained in perfect English. He'd lost his way and couldn't find his company. He looked at Lieut. Jim. Hornby, Cornwall, Ont., and the padre, Capt. Fred Goforth, Toronto, both also in the room, as though to ask their help.

The Colonel, who comes from Cornwall, pointed to a spot on the map. "Here's where you are", he explained, "and here's what you have to do to get back to your people. Now, what do you want to do?"

"I know my rights under the Geneva convention . . ." began the German, somewhat dsubiously.

"Don't worry about that," retorted the colonel. "If you want to leave, all you've got to do is turn left as you get out of the house, go straight over the hill, and keep on till you reach your company."

A Little Mixed Up.

"But," fumbled the uninvited guest, "that's not possible." He wasn't sure in his own mind whether or not he wanted to be taken prisoner.

"Oh, it's possible enough," said the colonel. "And anyway, we'll be calling on your company tomorrow. We're going to give them a hell of a beating. They probably will be needing you."

Just then a batman brought in a snack and some hot tea so the col-

Allies Widen Breach In Gothic Line

8th Army Driving North Toward City Of Bologna

ROME, Sept. 23.—(CP).—British 8th Army troops on the Adriatic flank of the Italian front have opened a drive northwest from captured Rimini on the coast to Bologna roughly 70 miles away, while other units of the 8th plunged north toward Ravenna, 35 miles up the coast and 45 miles east of Bologna.

Rimini fell Thursday to Greek forces under Canadian command.

American infantry of the Allied 5th Army widened their breach in the centre of the Gothic Line with the seizure of Monte Citerna and Monte Tronale, both west of captured Firenzuola. High ground north of Firenzuola was occupied.

These advances placed the 5th Army on the threshhold of the strategic Futa Pass.

Columns spearing northward along the mountain roads were meeting an enemy which Allied Headquarters declared was becoming disorganized "to a limited extent."

Futa Pass is approximately 29 airline miles south of Bologna.

British and Brazilian forces with the 5th Army continued to make gains "against varied resistance," said an Allied Headquarters report.

The Brazilians, operating on the left flank of the 5th Army near the Ligurian coast, were last reported smashing forward from Pietrasanta in the direction of La Spezia, 23 airline miles distant.

To-day's communique said the 8th Army had mopped up all resistance south of the Marecchia river which empties into the Adriatic at Rimini, and that the bridgehead across the river, over which the thrusts toward Ravenna and Bologna have been launched was "considerably enlarged."

The bridgehead was reported three miles wide and two miles deep. Advancing 8th Army troops were taking an increasing toll of prisoners.

Advance elements were astride highway 9— the ancient Via Aemilia —which extends northwest on the southern edge of the Po. valley through Forli, Bologna and Modena toward Milan. They were also astride parallel rail lines and began pounding northward up highway 16 toward Ravenna and the Po estuary.

The Allied command paid special tribute to the 1st Canadian infantry division for its leading role in the offensive which carried it from the Metauro river through the Gothic Line to the new bridgehead over the Marecchia and the gateway to the Lombard plain.

Russian Girl Kills 46 Nazis

MOSCOW, Sept. 23 (AP).—Young Rosa Shanina, who wears a sergeant's stripes on the tunic of her Red Army uniform is the unseen terror of East Prussia.

An official dispatch from the Sezupe River front where Red Army troops face German soil, reported the girl sergeant killed five Germans in a single day as she crouched in a sniper's hide-out.

Since she first trained her rifle on East Prussian targets, the dispatch said, Rosa has killed 15 enemy soldiers, and her to 1 for the war now is 46.

Pants' Signal

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Anthony Dentini, 43, said his estranged wife used his pants as a flag to signal another man was held without bail in Bronx magistrate's court yesterday on a charge of felonious assault. Arrested after Nicholas Manieri complained he poked a shotgun into his back and threatened to kill him, Dentini declared: "They have signals. When I'm home my wife hangs up my pants right-side-up, and when I'm out she hangs them up wrong-side-up by the cuffs."

Typhoons Crush Nazis Bid To Cut Salient

By HAROLD MAYES
Reuter War Correspondent

WITH THE 2ND TACTICAL AIR FORCE IN BELGIUM, Sept. 23 — (CP-Reuter). — Typhoons have been turned against the German bid to cut across the Allied salient in Holland and have turned it into another crushing defeat for the Germans.

An Ontario unit which I visited Thursday was still discussing an exciting action which they fought a few hours earlier.

Maj. Donald MacKenzie of Ingersoll, Ont., and Maj. Telford Steele of Chatham, Ont., recalled the events of the skirmish.

"Our Typhoons came over at 6.30 p.m. to attack one of the old forts built by the Belgians around Antwerp in 1880," MacKenzie said. "An hour later dusk fell and a fighting patrol of German infantry came wading across the flooded dykes behind a fierce mortar barrage."

Steele added the Canadian units had withdrawn for some 200 yards under the weight of the mortar fire until they could call for the help of a Canadian artillery force commanded by Maj. Bill Carr of Toronto.

Canadian guns plastered the area with shells and to this fire was added mortar of another battalion. During four hours an artillery and mortar duel was waged furiously. The Canadians eventually won the encounter, driving back the Germans.

Outside headquarters a group of men who had been in the action were describing the gallantry of their commanding officer. Wounded severely in both legs during the early stages, he had refused to be evacuated and remained in his control room throughout.

They are part of this force along the lines of the River Schelde and their job is made difficult by heavily fortified enemy positions near the city at Middleburg on Walcheren Island in the river.

Indications are that the Germans are pulling out their heavy equipment from the flooded areas east of Antwerp but leaving outposts and strong rear-guards there.

Finns Ratify Terms Of New Armistice

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP). — The Finnish Parliament unanimously passed the bill ratifying the terms of the Soviet-Finnish armistice at the final reading to-day, the Finnish radio announced in a broadcast recorded by the United States Federal Communications Commission.

In a later broadcast the Finnish radio said withdrawal of Finnish troops to the 1940 frontier line, as required by the armistice terms, would be completed to-morrow.

Allies Reach River Near Arnhem

See-Saw Fighting Continues; Picture Not Clear

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 23 (AP)—British armor, bolstered by American parachute troops, slashed through a six-mile German barrier of blood and steel to the southern bank of the Rhine branch opposite Arnhem today, and roared out with artillery support for an isolated British airborne division holding on grimly north of the river.

But 25 to 30 miles south, German armor cut the "Relief Road" from Eindhoven, to Nijmegen last night, and a swirling, see-saw battle raged along the route which the British 2nd Army had pushed.

The break-through, slicing to the Rhine south of Arnhem, was made in a six-mile drive by one of Britain's finest tank regiments supported by U.S. airborne troops fighting as infantry.

It already had linked up with another air borne force dropped as reinforcements just two days ago south of the upper arm of the Rhine.

Situation Eases

The drive vastly eased a situation which last night was described as critical.

Juncture of the British ground drive and the sky soldiers over the river would open the Ruhr road to Berlin, but it was not disclosed who now holds the strategic Arnhem bridge. Fierce German attacks beat upon the pocketed British.

One German counter-blow cut the Eindhoven - Nijmegen road near Veghel, and the outcome of a pitched battle there was not yet known.

One front line dispatch later said the road had been cleared at the

Japan Showing More Alarm

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 23 —(AP)—Tokyo radio betrayed Japan's growing alarm over implications of the first American carrier blast at Manila, filling the airways with "invasion" speculation— even reporting the Philippines puppet government had declared war on the United States and great Britain.

Last night's communique, the first since disclosure that carrier planes knocked out 205 enemy aircraft and 37 ships at Manila Sept. 20 (U. S. date) contained no word to confirm enemy reports that the attacks continued Thursday.

The only mention of the Philippines was made in to-day's southwest Pacific communique but the announcement of air blows at Japanese shipping off Mindanao covered attacks which preceded the Manila raids.

Last night's offical report emphasized anew the bitter struggle on Peleliu in the Palaus, 515 miles east of the Philippines.

For the fourth straight day, covering action through Thursday, it said U. S. marines were virtually stalled by Japanese entrenched on a mountain dubbed "bloody nose ridge."

The marines have all Peleliu's east coast under the control and hold the island's prized airfield.

Boy And Sergeant Reunited As Prisoners

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press War Correspondent

OUTSIDE BOULOGNE, Sept. 23—(CP Cable).—Egorov and Konrad are together again.

Egorov Nikolai Dmitrovitch, 14-year-old Russian, impressed into the German army as a batman, was captured by the Canadians in the assault on Boulogne and was happy about it—except that Sgt. Winnegess Konrad of Heidelburg, a soldier who had befriended him, was missing.

Konrad disappeared during the Boulogne bombing last Sunday.

Since his capture, Egorov watched each batch of prisoners to see if Konrad was among them. Yesterday he was rewarded.

Konrad came along the road, a captive. The boy batman went wild with joy. Sgt. Tom Giles of Winnipeg gave Konrad permission to break ranks and the sergeant and batman ran to each other, hugged and cried like babies.

Everything is fine, at least for the moment. Konrad and Egorov are going to move back from the forward area together and at least they will have a few more days' companionship. When last seen together, they were as happy as could be. Young Egorov was larking about, squinting at Konrad through a magnifying glass.

30,000 Gallons Of Gas Daily Used In France

By MARSHAL YARROW,
Reuter War Correspondent.

PARIS, Sept. 23 —(CP-Reuter) — A mighty fleet of huge trucks, shuttling backwards and forwards across France day and night, is the only thing that keeps the Allied Armies from running out of supplies in their swift advance.

Four times as long as the famed Burma Road, the two-way road network is a veritable Allied "highway to victory."

Approximately 25,000 soldiers directed by Lt.-Gen. John C. H. Lee commanding the general communications zone, ride this highway network day and night, speeding petrol, ammunition and food to the troops in the front lines.

The trucks use 30,000 gallons of gasoline daily and at present the freight carried amounts to 30,000,000 ton-miles or the equivalent of carrying one ton of freight around the world 700 times. Some of the return trips are 1,000 miles, although the average run is about 700 miles.

All day columns of trucks roll along the two major highways, one eastbound, the other west-bound. In the first 26 days' operation, the system delivered more than 200,000 tons of supplies to the western front. It was started August 24 after the break-through at Saint Lo made the supply problem acute.

Gen. Patton motorized his division overnight by mounting his infantry on its own supply trucks. This forced communications zone commanders to "throw the rule book out the window" and improvise. Strain became tremendous and racing convoys bucked against each other.

Drivers fell asleep at the wheel and crashed. Convoys were diverted, split up, lost and even kidnapped by a unit needing supplies and vehicles. The opening of the new highway hook-up brought order from chaos.

It is built around a pattern of circuitous one-way roads. A truck-train heading to battle dumps travels along one side with food, gasoline and ammunition. It returns on other side, usually loaded with captured enemy goods. The average driving speed is 25 miles an hour and the pace is usually maintained 20 hours daily, although some drivers have worked 36 hours without relief.

Havelock Native Dies In North

NORTH BAY, Sept. 23.—(CP).—A pioneer in the lumber industry in Northern Ontario, Frederick Baechler, 80, of Powassan, and a partner in the Trout Creek Lumber Co., died Thursday at St. Joseph'es Hospital, North Bay. He had continued active in business until taken ill a few weeks ago.

Mr. Baechler was born in Havelock, Ont., and in 1898 went to Trout Creek, where he organized a lumber Company and established saw mills. In later years he has lived in Powassan. He was a member of St. Joseph's church, Powassan, and the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are his widow, Bridget Wreath Baechler, three daughters, Marie and Mrs. K. Fox, both of Powassan, and Mrs. W. Harrington, Copper Cliff, and a son, Fred, Powassan.

F.D.R. All Set For Campaign

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP).—President Roosevelt—"The Champ" to his political assistants—had his final workout at the White House to-day before his verbal bout to-night with the Opposition in his historic bid for a fourth term.

Four of his speech consultants were on hand late last night and early to-day giving a wealth of material a going-over with blue pencil before the President himself compressed it to the 3,000 words he allows himself for a half-hour's radio talk.

He speaks at a dinner of the International Teamsters' Union (A.F.L.) from 9.30 to 10 p.m., EDT.

The topic has not been announced, but it was fairly obvious the speech would include a fresh appeal to the labor vote and perhaps a few shots at charges made by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey against his administration.

In accepting a fourth-term nomination, in July, the President said he would not campaign in the usual political sense, but reserve the right to reply to any "misrepresentations" uttered by the Opposition.

Except for a few recent news conference remarks, Mr. Roosevelt has kept his campaign under wraps.

Two Re-arrested After Second Chase

Re-arrested Friday afternoon after another chase, Lorne Gibson, 20, of St. Mary's street, said by the police to have escaped from the police station Thursday night, faced two charges in police court this morning.

Gibson pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering the C.G.E. canteen and committing theft and also to a charge of having escaped from lawful custody.

On both counts he was remanded until Thursday on bail of $1,000.

Carl Northey, 17, of 166½ Simcoe street, arrested with Gibson, also pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering the C.G.E. canteen, and was remanded until Thursday on bail of $500.

The two youths were spotted on Simcoe street Friday by Constable C. J. McGillen, and a chase followed, which terminated in the pair being rounded up and arrested by Constable Gordon Trennum in a shed back of the Silverwood's Dairy.

15 Trades To Form Allied Labor Council

Fifteen trades and other employees' associations decided Friday night to unite their interests in one jointly representative body to be known as the Peterborough and District Allied Labor Council.

Its purposese and objectives were generally outlined as aiming to foster fraternal relationships between various organized labor unions and associations in the city and district; to encourage co-ordinated effort in community affairs and to take such action as may be deemed desirable or necessary; to assist and voice the opinion of organized labor in all matters of community interest.

Officers will be elected at the first meeting in October. Meetings are to beheld on the first and third Friday evenings of the month in the month in the premises of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Operators Union.

A committee has been appointed to draft a constitution and generally to recommend further stages of organization at the next meeting.

Fairmount Church Has Honor Roll

FAIRMOUNT, Sept. 23 — (ENS) — A special service was held in Fairmount United Church when an honor roll for the boys and girls of the community who are in the armed forces was unveiled.

The service opened with the devotional exercises taken from the Rally Day printed programs in charge of Mr. R. F. McIndoo, superintendent of the Sunday School Rev. J. F. Everson gave a short address, giving honor to one of our boys, Mr. Malcolm McBain who paid the supreme sacrifice that we may be free. Mr. Everson also mentioned Mr. Earle Kemp who has recently been wounded. A solo, "I'm Coming in on a Wing" and a prayer was rendered by Mr. Duncan Seymour of the R. C. A. F. Mr. George Hooton gave a reading, "Our King and Country," and introduced the speaker. Col. J. A. Dewart of Peterborough who gave an inspiring address and then pronounced the honour roll officially unveiled. Mr. Hooten then quietly rolled back the flags showing the pictures and names of the following boys and girls. E. Downes, M. McBain, R. Fair, N. McBain, Betty Eagleson, Sgt. W. Whitnell, E. Turner, C. Seabrooke, E. Kemp, M. McKenzie, Cpl. Betty Turner.

Mrs. N. McBain then sang a solo, "Lest We Forget." A beautiful bouquet of white mums in honour of Malcolm McBain were given to his mother at the close of the service.

Lost Child Problem Is Worry To Police

LAKEFIELD, September 23 — Chief Garnet Samis of Lakefield, is having trouble with the "lost child" problem.

Friday, a little two-year-old girl, accompanied by a dog, was found strolling two miles from her home. The tot didn't know her own name, and by a coincidence, Chief Samis recognized the dog with her, and promptly returned the baby to her home.

This is the fourth call in recent days; the other three calls to find a lost child, being all about the same child.

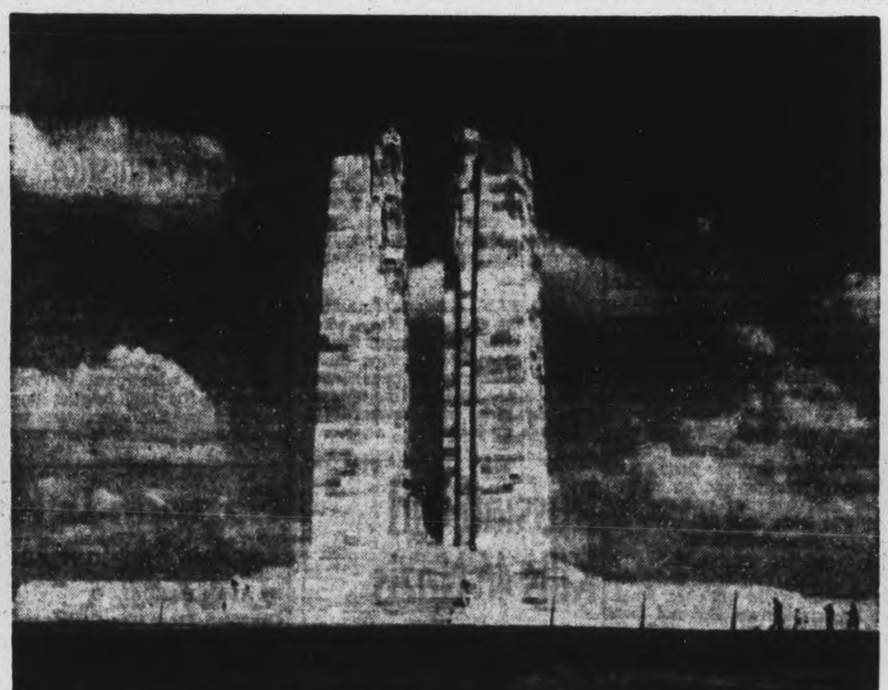
2 Jehovah Witnesses Charged In Haliburton

LINDSAY, Sept. 23 — (ENS). — Thomas Andros of Haliburton, claiming that he was an ordained minister of the Jehovah Witness religious sect, entered a plea of not guilty in Haliburton police court to failing to report for military service. Evidence revealed that the youth was supposed to have been ordained as a minister in August following his call up, and Magistrate E. A. Gee gave him a year's suspended sentence with the stipulation that he must report for military training.

Argyle Thomas of Haliburton, appearing on a charge of failing to report for medical examination as ordered by Selective Service gave evidence to prove that he was a regular ordained minister of the Jehovah Witness religion, and Magistrate Gee reserved judgment for one month.

Door Shortage

TORONTO, Sept. 23 —(CP) —A survey of Toronto retail stores yesterday revealed a shortage of storm windows and doors so acute here that no orders can be accepted until October 2. The orders cannot be filled for a month to six weeks after being placed.



MEMORIAL STILL STANDING—Photographic evidence that the Canadian War Memorial at Vimy Ridge remains untouched in spite of thousands of Allied bombing raids on French soil during the four years of occupation by the Germans and since D-Day is offered by this RCAF photograph taken September 12. The Memorial also escaped damage during the fierce fighting that raged about its site as the Germans were driven back by Allied invasion armies. The picture was taken shortly after that part of France had been recaptured from the Nazis, the photographer being among the first Canadians to visit the hallowed spot. His comment was, "It has not been damaged in the least." Some damage has since been discovered but it is so slight that it does not show in the photograph.

Silver Tray Presented To L. J. Pettit

Kiwanis Club at its Friday luncheon presented a beautifully engraved silver tray to L. J. Pettit, a former president, as it bade him a formal farewell in his approaching departure for Grimsby.

The presentation was made on behalf of the membership by W. A. Richardson, who preceded it with a gift of a bouquet of red roses to Mrs. Pettit, luncheon guest with her husband for the occasion of his "swan song" as the day's speaker.

Having retired from his position as head of the department of history at Peterborough Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, Mr. Pettit decided to seek some further interest for his post-academic years and chose a fruit farm within the town of Grimsby in the Niagara district, where last week he picked some 1,300 baskets.

"We are exceedingly sorry to see him go," said Mr. Richardson, "but we hope that this change will enable him to live longer and with less worry. Mr. Pettit joined this club in 1930, as president in 1936, one of its best years, and for the last fourteen years has been an active member."

The gift of silver, Mr. Richardson said, was presented as a tangible remembrance of an esteemed fellowship and as an appreciation of the fine service Mr. Pettit had rendered as a Kiwanian.

Luncheon Guests.

President Charles H. Saunders was luncheon chairman, and John Troke introduced as guests: Mrs. Pettit, Colonel R T E. Hicks-Lyne, H. F. Bradshaw, Fred Johnston, Herb McCannan; Arthur Cunningham of Youngstown, Ohio, Ralph B. Taylor and Earl J. Hungerford of East Cleveland, Ohio, Bert Krugel, Bill Wann of Toronto, and Master Hugh Chown, getting his first boyish glimpse of a service club in after-dinner action.

Mr. Pettit thanked the club for its kindly remembrance of Mrs. Pettit and especially of the handsome silver tray which would always be a shining reminder of his years in Peterborough and of his association with the men of Kiwanis.

"Words fail me to say what I should like to say to-day," Mr. Pettit began. "I am unable to express my appreciation of this large attendance of the members and former members, and of your gift of this lovely tray. The club has given me the highest honor in its gift. There are times, too, when I felt that I gave all I had, but my membership has given me infinitely more. There has been a wonderful fellowship in this club, which I shall prize as long as I live.

'It is difficult to leave Peterborough. One takes very deep roots here in 35 years, and they do not easily come up."

With a fruit farm of some acres and a convenient workshop, Mr. Pettit said he did not expect to be idle in his new Grimsby home.

Service Ideals.

In his parting address Mr. Pettit spoke on the idea and ideals of service, and his closing sentence seemed the summation of his message, that service is the expression of an inner compulsion to follow the Golden Rule.

"The word service is derived from the Latin servus, meaning a slave. Such words as service and servitude stem from the same root. Words like nations have histories. Some rise to the heights and some remain in the dumps. Both these words retain some element of the original "slave"; servitude keeping all the bad of slavery, and service all the good elements. All of us object to slavery, particularly to becoming slaves, because we do not like to be compelled to do things. We like to do things off our own bat, so to speak. It is the outside compulsion of servitude that irks us.

"But there is a sort of compulsion to which we do not object, a compulsion from within. It was in that sense that St Paul described himself as 'a slave or servant of Jesus Christ.' In response to the life and teaching of the Master, St. Paul found an inner compulsion which took all the sting from servitude.....

"True service is a way of life, welling up from an inner compulsion to be helpful to one's fellows without any thought of remuneration. Service is vitiated by any thought of reward. Nevertheless nothing pays such dividends as unselfish service. No one can compute the physical, mental and spiritual value to the individual who sets out to serve not himself but others."

The central phase of Mr. Pettit's address was a series of illustrations of lives which reaped unexpected and gleaming rewards from acts and aids of service.

He quoted Marshall Field, Gordon Selfridge, Daniel Webster, and others who discovered and received the increment of returns beyond their conceiving from unselfish service to others.

Obituaries

HARRY EDWARD CLEARY.

The funeral of Harry Cleary, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cleary and the late Daniel Cleary, who passed away on Tuesday afternoon at the family residence, Lot 9, Con. 10, Percy township, took place Friday to the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel in Hastings.

Solemn requiem high mass was offered by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Garvey, as celebrant; Rev. J. J. McCarthy, deacon, and Rev. John F. McCarthy, sub-deacon.

The large gathering of relatives and friends at the home and in attendanec at the services, together with many floral and spiritual tokens, bore evidence of the good-will and esteem enjoyed by deceased in the community, and much sympathy was extended to his sorrowing mother and brothers and sister in their loss. Interment was made in Mount Carmel Cemetery. Rev. J. J. Garvey conducted the graveside services, assisted by Rev. J. J. McCarthy.

Pallbearers were Joseph Collins, Leo Keogan, John Gibson, William Coveney, Alphonsus O'Shea and Arthur Lamey.

JOSEPH MINICOLA

In ill health for a long time, Joseph Minicola, 109 Stewart street, passed away at his home Friday at the age of 82. He was an employee of the Peterborough Utilities Commission at the Waterworks.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Minicola, he was born in Italy and came to Peterborough 24 years ago, having previously resided at Rosetta, Penn., for two years after leaving Italy. Mr. Minicola was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Predeceased by his wife, the former Minnie Scorro, and by a brother who died last May in Rosetta, he leaves to mourn his loss three sons, Michael, Anthony and Leonard, and a daughter, Mrs. Gordon McCelland (Mary), all of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held on Monday from the late residence, 189 Stewart street, to St. Peter's Cathedral for mass at 9 a.m. Interment in St. Peter's cemetery.

GEORGE L. GUILLET

The death occurred in State College, Pennsylvania, on Monday last, of George Leroy Guillet, M.Sc., Professor of Mechanical Engineering in State College. He was a graduate of McGill University, Montreal, and for some years was a member of the staff. Subsequently he was appointed to the engineering staff of Queen's University, Kingston. A year ago he suffered a severe heart attack as a result of the strain of summer war classes in addition to the regular college courses, and a recurrence after a remarkable recovery caused his death. Mr. Guillet was the author of several text-books on advanced mechanics which are widely used in colleges. He was 57 years of age, and spent his summers at Stoney Lake. He is survived by his widow and one daughter, Marilyn. Edwin C. Guillet of Toronto is a cousin.

Mattress Deal Swindles RCAF

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — Delivery of defective mattresses, stuffed with second-hand materials and cloth floor sweepings, to army, navy and RCAF stores, yesterday led to fines of $15,000 and a one-year jail sentence being imposed upon Frederick I. Brown (also known as Frederick Brontstein), president of the Canada Comforter Co. from which the mattresses were ordered.

Mr. Brown pleaded guilty before Magistrate Browne to three charges of unlawfully delivering to military RCAF and naval stores defective mattresses not according to specifications.

Though the fine was paid, Magistrate Browne, earlier indicated that in lieu of payment a six-year penitentiary term would be imposed.

Under cross-examination by Special Prosecutor J. J. Robinette, Constable E. McElhone of the R.C.M.P. described his investigations which led him from Toronto to New York, where he discovered that the accused had purchased 140,000 pounds of second-hand hair and used it in mattresses, contrary to the specifications of the contract.

Contracts received by Mr. Brown from the Department of Munitions and Supply during 1942 and 1943 called for 157,539 mattresses at a cost of $529,681, Constable McElhone testified.

In New York, Constable McElhone said, he also learned that Brown had purchased and shipped to Toronto 200,000 pounds of tailor clips and floor sweepings. These clippings were used in mattresses after they had become mildewed while stacked in a yard, he said.

"The mildewed material caused a bad odor," he added.

Instead of providing new felt for hospital mattresses as required by contract, the accused filled them with second-hand material, Constable McElhone said.

In sentencing the accused, Magistrate Brown commented that any old material had been blown into the mattresses.

"This man was not satisfied to make a reasonable profit, but attempted to become wealthy at the expense of our armed forces," the magistrate observed.

point where the Germans broke the supply line, and that the situation was in hand again.

An NBC broadcast from Brussels said there was no definite late news about the bridge at Arnhem, but that it was still intact last night.

The enemy command was hurling every bit of fanatical S.S. fighting power it had in the north into attempts both to break the British 2nd Army supply stream across Holland, and to hold Lt.-Gen. Dempsey's armor away from the sky troops in the Arnhem foothold.

Died by Hundreds

Germans fought and died in their tracks by the hundreds. Even now the road from Nijmegen, 10 miles north to Elst south of Arnhem was not entirely free from counter-attack.

Three American Armies were fighting heavily against Germans making a back-to-the-Rhine stand. Nazi resistance was ferocious and desperate.

U.S. 1st Army men nonetheless captured the town of Stolberg six miles beyond Aachen after a bitter house-to-house struggle and mopped up little villages nearby. They were unable to advance farther east toward the Rhine city of Cologne, 28 miles from the most advanced elements.

The American 3rd Army smashed one German counter-assault five miles south of Metz, and one of the biggest armored battles of the invasion thundered into its fifth day on the Lorraine plain between Nancy and Strasbourg, its outcome yet untold.

Seventh Army men meanwhile strengthened positions east of Epinal, midway between Nancy and Belfort, wedged closer to the highway town of Remiremont, farther south, and held its crossings of the narrow Upper Moselle. Melisy 15 miles north of Belfort guarding a pass to Germany was captured.

Along the Riviera, 7th Army units captured the resort town of Menton, at the Italian border.

These advices said ringed groups rejected surrender terms brought in by an enemy emissary. As it fought on the Anglo-Polish force heard the relief column's artillery fire landing on German positions behind them.

In front they hoped they heard firing from armored cars battling northward yard by yard from captured Nijmegen.

Yesterday 1st Canadian Army infantry had overcome three important strong points in the Boulogne coastal area, hundreds of miles from the western front, as resistance ended in the great pocketed port.

8,000 Prisoners.

A field dispatch last night said the prisoner-toll from the fall of Boulogne— including capture of garrison commander Lt.-Gen. Heim —might exceed 8,000 officers and men.

Along American-held sectors of the southern front the Germans fought hard to hold their positions in or before the Siegfried Line, and at several points drove the invaders back.

David and Israel Taught Majestic Power of God

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 24 is II Samuel 6, 7, the Golden Text being Isaiah 60:19, "Jehovah will be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy Glory.")

DAVID HAD overcome the Philistines and established himself in the "City of David," Jerusalem. He felt then that the Ark of the Lord, which had been at Gibeah for the last 70 or 80 years, should be brought to Jerusalem.

For this purpose he gathered "the chosen men of Israel," about 30,000 and took them with him to the house of Abinadab, where the ark was put upon an ox-drawn cart and the journey of four miles began. The ark was the "symbol of the covenant between Jehovah and Israel," and "the place where He chiefly chose to manifest Himself by visible tokens to His people."

Uzzah and Ahio, sons of Abinadab, drove the cart, and "David and all the house of Israel played before the Lord on all manner of instruments made of fir wood, even on harps, and on psalteries, and on timbrels, and on cornets, and on cymbals."

Uzzah Struck Dead

When they were come to Nachon's threshing floor (where that was we do not know) the ark was shaken on the road and Uzzah put his hand on it to steady it. The Lord was displeased as this act of sacrilege. No one was supposed to touch the ark itself, only the poles attached for the purpose, or until the priests had covered it completely. For this presumption the Lord struck Uzzah dead by the side of the ark. This seems to us a cruel thing, but our commentator explains that it was necessary that the people should be taught the "unapproachable majesty of the Holy God."

David was displeased at this tragedy, and also frightened, fearful probably, that he, too, might die in some such manner. "How shall the ark of the Lord come to me?" he asked, and decided not to bring it into Jerusalem, but had it carried to the house of Obededom where it stayed for three months. While it was in his house Obededom and all his household were greatly blessed.

When David had been told how Obededom and all pertaining to him were blessed, he lost his fear and had the ark brought into the city. "When they that bore the ark of the Lord had gone six paces, he sacrificed oxen and fatlings.

"And David danced before the Lord with all his might: and David was girded with a linen ephod"—a priestly robe.

"So David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of the Lord with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet."

As the ark was brought into the city, Michal, David's wife and daughter of Saul, "looked through a window and saw the king leaping and dancing before the Lord, and she despised him in her heart."

Tabernacle Set in Place

"And they brought in the ark of the Lord, and set it in his place, in the midst of the tabernacle that David had pitched for it: and David offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the Lord."

After this David blessed the people in the Lord's name, and gave to every man and woman a cake of bread, and a good piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine," then all dispersed to their homes. When he entered his own home to bless it, he was met by Michal who scolded that he had lowered himself in the eyes of his servants by dancing before the ark.

And David said unto Michal, "It was before the Lord, which chose me before thy father, and before all his house, to appoint me ruler over the people of the Lord, over Israel: therefore will I play before the Lord." It is said that Michal was punished by having no child "unto the day of her death."

Now we meet Nathan, the great prophet of the Lord during David's and Saul's reigns. David proposed to Nathan that he should build a temple in which to house the ark, but that night the word of the Lord came to Nathan and he was told to go to David and say that David was not to build the temple, but his son, who was to succeed him, would do that. The Lord promised that the children of Israel should have their own place, unmolested by enemies, and that David and his house should rule over them forever.

On hearing this David "went in and sat before the Lord, saying, 'Who am I, O Lord God? and what is my house, that thou hast brought me hitherto:' In this spiritof humility and thankfulness David worshipped the Lord who had blessed him and his people.

An Ancient Prophet's Ideal

REV. E. R. JAMES.

The Lord God hath made me like a Polished Shaft; and in His Quiver hath He hid me. Isaiah 49; 2.

The Druid priests of Great Britain taught our forefathers this precept:—— "Worship the Gods." They were Odin and Thor, gods of war. Their followers obeyed and they became like their gods great warriors, polished shafts. The best Roman soldiers did not despise these savages of the island on the edge of the world of that day.

Living more than two thousand years later do you despise this teaching as paganism? Or would you leave out the "s" and cry to your own people:—"Worship God."

We have meditated upon prayer and the reading of the Word of God, the Holy Bible. They are helps for the developing of the Word of the polished shafts for Christian warfare. Yet the most important is Public Worship. What is WORSHIP? The Hebrew word means "prostration". The Jew in public worship at certain times prostrated himself bodily to show his absolute humility and dependence upon God. As a Christian do you worship God on Sundays? Of the next ten Christians you know enquires:—" Why do you go to Church?" The answer very probably will be to hear the preacher deliver a sermon. In other words "To get good." If the preacher, the modern prophet, is an able man you attend regularly. Yet there is a subtle danger. Is it a form of spiritual selfishness or the desire to hear a good speaker?

More than twenty-five hundred years ago the prophet Ezekiel had this experience:— "They sit before thee as my people, "saith the Lord," and they hear thy words but they will not do them: for with their mouth they show much love, but their heart goeth after covetousness. Lo, thou are unto them as a very lovely song and hath a pleasant voice." Ezekiel 33; 31. Surely, you will exclaim:—— "How modern."

"Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God" is the ancient commandment. You go to church primarily to "give something to God." Your confession, your intercession, your prayers and thanksgivings. You attend Church to offer God something of yourself. Then God will say unto you:—"Open your mouth wide and shall fill it."

When the preacher stands to deliver his sermons your heart and mind has been prepared for his message. Undoubtedly many preachers pour out their heart, mind and soul in the preparation of their sermon. Yet how little good results because of their hearers go to "get good." The soil has not been prepared to

Scripture—II Samuel 6, 7

By Alfred J. Buescher

David, the king, gathered together the chosen men of Israel and they went to the house of Abinadab in Gibeah to bring the Ark of the Lord to the City of David.

As they were bringing the ark to Jerusalem, one of Abinadab's sons, Uzzah, put his hand on the ark to steady it, but the Lord was displeased and struck him dead.

David was displeased that this happened to Uzzah, and afraid of the Lord, so he decided that he would not carry the ark into the city, but carried it into the house of Obededom.

David then sacrificed oxen and fatlings, and danced before the Lord with all his might, but his wife, Michal, Saul's daughter, saw and despised him in her heart.

Saskatchewan Threatens Repudiation

The C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan has made a bad beginning by threatening to repudiate a provincial debt. In 1937-38 the banks advanced money to Saskatchewan under Dominion guarantee, to buy seed grain. It was a necessary and simple transaction: there was a drought that year, and if the Saskatchewan farmers were to produce a crop grain had to be brought from outside. Loans to farmers were made through municipalities which signed notes, and the notes were guaranteed by Saskatchewan; in turn, the Dominion acted as guarantor to Saskatchewan, and if the Dominion had to pay out on its guarantee the province undertook to hand over treasury notes for the amount. Now the government of Saskatchewan, in the words of the Finance Minister, "is threatening to throw on the Dominion Treasury a loss of $17,700,000". Mr. Ilsley continues:

"This is a threat of repudiation to which we cannot submit. He (Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan) has made a series of bargaining offers, each a little better than the last, but his final offer brings him to the position I have stated".

The matter of this debt was discussed in the Saskatchewan election campaigns. Both Mr. Patterson and Mr. Douglas had schemes for paying it back. It was suggested that a proportion of the debt be collected from the farmers who borrowed the money, and that the remainder be wiped out by giving the Dominion Government further treasury notes. But this scheme was rejected by Ottawa, because the Dominion Government already holds $75,000,000 in Saskatchewan notes, and it does not seem advisable to add to that huge sum. Both Mr. Patterson and Mr. Douglas have advanced this scheme at one time and another; but Mr. Patterson recognized the validity of the province's debt and meant to pay it, by some means or other; Mr. Douglas does not take that view. He suggested that his province collect 50 per cent. of the debt from the debtor farmers, and give notes for the rest; when that proposal was refused he announced his intention of repudiating the debt altogether.

Mr. Douglas has shown himself extremely innocent of finance before this; he seems to think that money has no real existence, and that talk of debt is mere illusion. And he has made a statement which could hardly be equalled for its combination of innocence and indiscretion. Here is a quotation from it:

"We think we can show the Dominion Government that the Saskatchewan Government is in no position to pay this seed grain indebtedness. But if the federal government insists, we will be compelled to give it treasury bills. However, we are not concerned over giving the Dominion Government more treasury bills. The federal government now holds over $75 millions in treasury bills from this province; a few more will make no difference. We believe that we shall soon have a federal government in power at Ottawa that will wipe out the treasury bills".

This, it seems, is a statement from Mr. Douglas of his belief that it is justifiable to give a worthless note for money which his province cannot pay, and also that when the C.C.F. goes to power at Ottawa we shall enter upon an era when anybody who needs money can borrow it without any obligation to pay it back. Need we point out that this is politically and economically impossible, apart from being morally indefensible?

Mr. Douglas will give his province and his party a lasting black eye if he repudiates this debt. The money has to be paid back to the banks, and if Saskatchewan does not pay it the other provinces will have to do so. When he first took office Mr. Douglas criticised Premier Drew for his narrowly provincial attitude; just how does Mr. Douglas describe his own action? If one province, under a C.C.F. government, intends to welsh on its debts and make itself burdensome to the rest of the Confederation, and if it does so on the strength of a highly problematical C.C.F. government at Ottawa in the future, it will frighten away voters by the hundred. And precisely what does Mr. Douglas imagine that politics is, anyhow? He was once a parson: would he have welshed on a church debt for a few hundred dollars as blithely as he proposes to welsh on a provincial debt for millions? Not a chance of it, and we do not believe that he really thinks that political power has placed him above the rules of honest dealing. Or can it be that he does not understand how disastrous it is for an agricultural province to become known as a "bad risk" in money affairs?

Tea And Coffee

Now we can buy as much tea and coffee as the shops will sell us, but we have not heard of any unseemly rush to take advantage of this situation. The fact is that the ration of tea and coffee was fairly generous, and after it had been effective for a few weeks most families got into the habit of making it do. The late Alexander Woollcott was reputed to drink 30 cups of coffee a day; the Canadian ration would have left him gasping. Dr. Samuel Johnson drank ten or fifteen cups of tea in an evening; the Canadian ration would probably have killed him. But few of us are guzzlers in the Woollcott-Johnson class. We drank tea and coffee moderately, and when rationing made it necessary we became even more moderate.

It was not easy to entertain friends, of course. There were people who took to serving thin soup as a substitute for the usual drinks, but this appalling habit never gained much ground; the national appetite for soup is strictly limited. But everyone understood that tea and coffee were short, and they did not expect them as often as they did in the easy days of peace, when most social evenings wound up with both.

Tea and coffee are now limited only by what we can buy; but sugar and cream are scarcer than ever. There is a solution to this problem, though some people find it an unsavoury one; it is simply to drink coffee black and tea clear. Many people acquired the habit during the First Great War, and never gave it up.

Upon What Meat?

We have not yet lost our innocent wonderment at the manner in which power corrupts the men who hold it. This corruption is particularly rapid among men who have risen in the world by posing as Champions of the Plain People. The case of Ramsay Macdonald springs at once to mind, but it is of John L. Lewis that we wish to write at this moment. At present Lewis is taking a prominent part in the campaigning in the U.S. presidential election; on the opposite side (supporting President Roosevelt) Lewis sees Sidney Hillman, the head of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. What does Lewis do? Does he cheer at the spectacle of another prominent labour man in politics? No; he describes Hillman in a public address as "a Russian pants-maker who is trying to take over the rule of the nation".

Perhaps Hillman was a pants-maker once, but what of it? Should that not add to his glory in the eyes of that great Friend of the Workers, John L. Lewis? Whether John L. ever went down a mine or not we do not know, but he has led the mine-workers since 1911. Who is he, a miner, to despise a humble pants-maker? The answer is easy: he is John L. Lewis, a man who wields more power than any living monarch, including the Emperor of Japan.

'Upon what meat doth this, our Caesar feed, that he is grown so great?' we may ask ourselves. He has fed on power. Lewis has been a dictator for so long that he now takes no trouble to conceal his scorn for another man, merely because he once worked with his hands. A great friend of the Common Man, is John L.

NOTE AND COMMENT

American troops are said to be "advancing from the Dutch appendix". Is that somewhere in the soft underbelly?

"Dewey Blames Roosevelt For Wartime Strikes" says a headline. Well, well! You amaze us!

A man of 107 in Wisconsin has made up his mind to stop farming. Well, you can't say that he failed to give it a fair trial.

In Ogden, Utah, a girl has been chosen as "Miss Pro. Football". She is probably an expert at parrying forward passes.

The Calgary Herald provides an interesting note on modern civilization when it records that a local woman said to her doctor: "I hope I'm not going to have a baby; the landlady would be furious!"

Diary Of A Scandal Lover

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Going through a bundle of Sunday papers and news magazines I find the same alarming story featured in each one of them: The Parisiennes Are Still Chic! Now this is downright ungrateful! The women of this continent have been secretly gloating for the past five years that, although they themselves were forced to wear 'austerity' garments and go uncorsetted, at least the women of Paris were worse off than they. But apparently the incorrigible Parisiennes are wearing long skirts and feathered hats, and are still the smartest women in the world. Our troops entered Paris expecting to find the women barefooted and in rags, pitifully grateful for the gift of an old overshoe, or a cast-off man's fedora. But no; they are as stylish as ever. There'll always be a Paris, apparently, and Mayor La Guardia's plan to move the fashion centre of the world to New York has gone down the drain.

MONDAY: I see an advertisement in the papers for "Pre-Arranged Funerals." If you want to, you can arrange your own funeral, and pay for it before you die. This scheme combines forethought with a special form of insurance, and I think I shall make arrangements for my own funeral this afternoon. Death has no terrors for me, but sometimes I break out in a cold sweat when I think what a preacher might say about me when I was no longer able to contradict him and check his facts. I shall write my own funeral oration, and I shall also decide what music shall lull my mourners. If strains of Maunder or Stainer were played at my defunctive orgies I should certainly rise from the dead and strangle those responsible.... If I can raise the money to cover expenses I think I shall arrange to have a sin-eater at my funeral, in the manner of my Celtic ancestors, and also a feast for the mourners, with cold meats, Stilton cheese, fruitcake, and plenty of sherry and port. I feel that nothing would make up for my absence so well as a sufficient quantity of good dry sherry.

TUESDAY: Lunched and dined today in the company of one of those extraordinary people who look upon eating as a tiresome interruption of their smoking. She smoked until her food was set before her, gobbled it, and hastily lit up again in order to get in a few drags before the next course appeared; as soon as the last bite was swallowed she reached for a cigarette, obviously glad that it was possible to drink coffee while smoking. Now I like smoking myself, but if I smoke during a meal I get a feeling as though I were eating burnt toast; I am fond of food, and I like to taste it; I cannot do so if I am full of half-consumed smoke. Nor, I must add, do I like eating in a room which is full of tobacco smoke; it gets into the food and makes it taste queer.... I am no crank about smoking, but I often think that smokers are terribly inconsiderate of other peoples' rights, and never more so than when they insist on blowing smoke over the dining table between courses; it is an insult to good food and a hindrance of other people's enjoyment of it.

WEDNESDAY: A lecturer on health was somewhat embarrassed recently when a member of his audience rose and said: "What will become of the health of Canada with the coming generation of mothers drinking and smoking as they do?" Dipping into my immense knowledge of social history, I cannot recall any generation of mothers which has not had its own deleterious indulgences. The mothers of yester-year did not smoke and drink rye, but they consumed dangerous quantities of strong tea, and sought oblivion by imbibing freely of Peruna, a nerve tonic which contained about as much alcohol as a bottle of imported Scotch. And their mothers smoked clay pipes and drank the liquor from the bottoms of silos, just to keep off germs. In spite of these things they lived to ripe ages, and were often very merry and entertaining old parties. We can overdo the health business. Remember the old song—"A little of what you fancy does you good?" A very sound philosophy, clearly expressed.

THURSDAY: To the movies tonight to see Danny Kaye in "Up In Arms." There is no doubt about it—he is a first-rate comedian, and it is only once in every decade or so that such a creature arises out of the ruck of Laurels and Hardys, Abbotts and Costellos, Olsens and Johnsons, and other hard-working, respectable, taxpaying but not especially funny funny-men. Danny Kaye has something of the quality which made Chaplin great; he is able to make us laugh with him, rather than at him. He is funny, but he never ceases to be an intelligent and attractive human being, unlike the troglodytes mentioned above, all of whom try to make us laugh by abdicating all human dignity, and sometimes all humanity. Danny Kaye has also the zany quality of the Marx Brothers; he is afflicted with no strabismus of the imagination. And he is the best pantomimist since Chaplin to take to the screen. There are plenty of good comedians who never make films because they cannot work effectively without an audience. But Danny is funny, whether canned or fresh.

FRIDAY: Much of my afternoon was taken up with religious discussion. A lady called me to complain that the mails were being used to distribute anti-Catholic propaganda; were we fighting such things abroad, she asked, only to condone them at home?... Later a gentleman dropped in to lecture me about what he called the ultramontanism of the United Church. I think that he was unduly alarmed, though certainly some Protestant churches go farther in their attempts to dictate political policies than the Church of Rome would dare to do. Consider the case of James Cannon, Jr., who died earlier this week after a career as Methodist Pope, Anti-Saloon Leaguer, and crooked stock-market operator; he wielded such political power as few of his contemporaries enjoyed. There are always a few would-be Cannons in every church.... At a conference I observe that a lady suggested that all members of the U.C. sign a total abstinence pledge, as an example to the rest of Canada. I should very much like to see that happen, and when it does, I shall sign the pledge myself, as a gesture of goodwill.

SATURDAY: Talked to a man this evening who had just returned from Britain, and who had been blown out of bed by a robot bomb during his stay in London; he was reticent about the experience, but I gathered that it had impressed him considerably. He had some cheering things to say about British diet, which is apparently not so restricted now as it was a year ago. His list of places which I once knew—theatres in particular—which are now mere holes in the ground, depressed me for a while, but I revived when he told me that humming birds ride south each autumn on the backs of wild geese, and also that certain species of birds get drunk on the nectar from flowers, and beat up their wives. I am no naturalist, but I love these bits of scandal about the feathered world. I once knew a canary which had a passion for brandy, but I have mentioned him in this Diary already. I also knew a dog who demanded a liqueur chocolate after each meal, and who contracted gout as a result. He howled piteously in his pain, but could not be persuaded to drink the Pluto water with which his kind master plied him. He finally died of enlarged spleen, and his body was so preserved in liqueurs that he did not decompose for several months afterward. He ended, not in dust, but in mould.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE ANGELS SMILE?

Sir,—If angels have a sense of humour, they must have smiled at the letter in Wednesday's "Examiner" in defence of the Pope's neutrality in the rape of Ethiopia and the Spanish Civil War!

"Justice" would have us believe that the "Holy Father" disapproved of the Italian Abyssinian campaign; and he bases this conclusion on the Vatican's failure to ring its bells and to illuminate the Papal State in celebration of the crowning of King Victor Immanuel as Emperor of Ethiopia. But we notice that he does not deny the contention of Mr. Warren that the Pope "blessed troops and sprinkled holy water on tanks going into these countries to kill and slaughter these people". Instead of the Papacy disapproving the Ethiopian conquest, all evidence points in the opposite direction. In a speech by the Pontiff made on February 23, 1936, he said, "From Rome go forth forces which go to sacred and holy conquest". As Dr. Henry M. Townsend has pointed out, Mussolini "was proclaimed as a missionary, a Christian missionary, and the Italian aggression declared to be a missionary campaign!" We wonder what the dusky tribesmen thought of the missionary effort as blinded, they gurgled, choked and died from Italy's poison gas! No retreat now or in the future can "absolve the Papacy for its grave moral responsibility for abetting Mussolini in his violation of international law in the unprovoked slaughter of the Ethiopians" (Millar). Embarking Italian troops received the Papal benediction, and, following the victory, Protestant missionaries were "let out", and the mission-properties were turned over to the Roman priests who swarmed over the hapless country.

Nevertheless, we are to believe that the Pope "disapproved!"

As for the Spanish Civil War, while it is true that the "Holy Father" did not condemn the sending of certain battalions from this country to the aid of the Loyalists, he did personally thank some 3,200 Franco soldiers who participated in one of Mussolini's parades in Rome. Said he: "My beloved sons, you have made sacrifices up to the point of heroism to defend the cause of God and religion, and you have covered yourselves with glory." And the Pontiff conferred apostolic blessing upon President Franco, hailing "the hereditary faith of Catholic Spain whose crown of saints has been enriched for its better fortunes by a new hero of Christian fortitude". The Rebel-Leader, Franco, is "a new hero of Christian fortitude". The "neutral" Vatican says so!

EVANGELICAL PROTESTANT.

CITY HALL SITE

Sir,—Noting the results of the recent balloting by your paper dealing with the site most favoured for the location of our new City Hall, I would like to add my opinion to those already expressed.

The site opposite Confederation Square is a most ideal setting for its picturesque surroundings but is it not rather remote for the location of business offices, being quite a distance from the centre of the business district?

May I ask, has the block bounded by George, King, Water and Sherbrooke streets been given any serious consideration? The lower half of this block is vacant property and, I believe, owned by the Federal Government and with the removal of the buildings bordering on King street, I believe, it would be a very suitable site. The location is only a block from our main shopping area and a building of this type would be a great improvement to this end of the business district which, no doubt, will be extended further south as the city grows. The Water street right-of-way could be closed to through traffic, which would provide ample space for the parking of cars of both city employees' and visitors to the City Hall. On this location it would be much more convenient for the paying of taxes and other accounts which are very often made while folk are making other calls in the business district. I would, therefore, like to hear some discussion on the matter of locating the new City Hall on the east side of George street, south of King street.

Thanking you for this space in your valued paper.

Footnotes to "Finlandia"

(NEW YORK TIMES)

THE haunting strains of Sibelius' "Finlandia" were heard over the Helsinki radio Tuesday night as Acting Premier Ernst von Born concluded his summary of the armistice terms Finland has had to accept from Russia. The full text, as broadcast from Moscow yesterday, does not lessen the first impression of severity. With slight modifications Finland gets the boundaries she agreed to after the Russians had invaded and defeated her in 1940. She loses Viipuri (Viborg) and the industrial areas north and west of Lake Ladoga. She surrenders her northern port of Petsamo, with its neighbouring nickel mines. She keeps Hangoe but signs a fifty-year lease for a Russian naval base on the Porkkala peninsula, running to within eight miles of Helsinki. She is to help the Russians disarm the Germans and is also to bring her own army to a peace footing within two and a half months. She is to pay, in goods, within six years, an indemnity of $300,000,000—about half the sum the Russians originally demanded. For the duration of the war she obviously passes completely under Russian control, although Moscow is careful to state that it is "also acting on behalf of the United Nations which are in a state of war with Finland."

The terms might have been easier in many respects had it not been for the folly of the late Finnish Government in prolonging the war. By so doing Finland immobilized a large number of Russian troops and made the destruction of the Nazi power more costly not only for the Russians but for the Allied forces in the west. But the armistice Moscow has imposed is strategic rather than punitive. It is, in fact, an old-fashioned military settlement, protecting the city of Leningrad, opening the route into the Baltic, cutting off a number of German divisions and bringing in some valuable materials of war. There is little suggestion in the armistice text that the Russians look beyond military necessities to any form of world organization under which small nations shall be neither threats nor pawns.

We have no right, however, to assume that this is all that is in the minds of Premier Stalin and his advisers. The Russians are, after all, at Dumbarton Oaks as well as at Helsinki. They are also hotly engaged on the Baltic and Polish fronts, taking care of Nazi troops which would otherwise confront the western Allies at the Westwall. They have left Finland her nominal independence while the war continues and have said and done nothing to indicate that they will not accept her actual independence after Germany is defeated.

The forcible annexation of Finland by Russia would have been a major tragedy not only for the Finns themselves, not even primarily for them, but for the principles of peace and freedom. We are fighting for a world in which small nations will be at liberty, not to stir up wars, not to harass or hamper their big and little neighbours, but to govern themselves in their own ways and to live in the light of their own cultures. There is in the Finnish people an honesty, an integrity, a creativeness, a love of their own homeland that breathes in every note of the "Finlandia." Such music, in a hundred dialects, can come from many nations. It is an American aspiration, and we hope a Russian aspiration, that it shall not anywhere be silenced.

A Bible Message

Surely there is a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they find it.... But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of undrestanding?.... It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver we weighed for the price thereof....

Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding?....

God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof. (Job 28: 1, 12, 15, 20, 23.)

Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding....

Happy is that man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.... Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace. She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her. (Prov. 3: 5, 13, 17, 18.)

Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men. (I Cor. 14: 20.)

WORLD POLICING

There is some point to the objection th policing alone will not make a new world. T Germans have "policed" Europe for almost fi years now, and if there is anything that the o pressed nations of Europe loathe it is the sig of a German uniform. At the same time, t world must move forward from national law international law in some workable form, only under the law—subscribed to and kept all citizens—can true freedom exist. All else licence. There's something in the rhythm of a two saw that satisfies the soul on a cool day in autumn. But that rhythm must be pr right. Too fast, and there is no time for br ing. Too slow, and the saw hesitates, han teeth, gets nowhere. And there is a touch to each stroke. You pull and you down just enough to get a bite, and you and ride back with your partner's pull. the saw is freshly sharpened and the wood to green, you press down not at all, but saw carry its own weight through the log.

Two-man sawing can be a test of frie as well as co-operation. The slightest t one handle at the proper time can free partner's stroke, or you can wear him ou ply by weighting your hand on the back thus forcing him to do the heavy cutting you ride free. Youngsters learn in no tim tricky the business can be. But there's edy for that. Put two such pranksome sters on the saw as partners while you and smoke. When they have pranked selves into a co-operative mood, take of the saw yourself. Then the sawdus flies again.—New York Times.

PARENTS NEED BUILD-UP, TOO

Children Should Be Taught Good Points of Mother and Dad to Gain Respect.

Why do parents so seldom think it worth while to sell themselves to their children Probably every father and mother in the world want their youngsters to admire and respect them and look up to them as source of all wisdom and, strong in this belief, they assume that this adulation comes by Nature, and that they do not have to make any effort to inspire it or cultivate it.

They could not possibly make a more fatal mistake, for children take their parents for granted, and at least while they are very young, they do not try to psychoanalyze them. Mom and Pop are Mom and Pop and that's all there is about it. It never occurs to the average girl or boy to think of their mothers and fathers as individual men and women, with personalities of their own, with their own separate hopes and desires and ambitions.

Not long ago a father of the he-who-pay-bills type in his family by some chance took his young son boy of 15, with him when he went to a big bankers' convention. When they returned home the boy rushed to his mother bursting with the news of a great discovery:

Boy Learns Father's Greatness.

"Why, Mother," he cried, his eyes shining with excitement, "do you know Father is a big man? Why, he has done wonderful things. At the convention everybody made a great fuss over him. They asked his opinion. And when he spoke everyone listened to what he had to say. Why didn't you ever tell me about what sort of a man Father is?"

"I never dreamed you didn't know it," replied the mother. Then she went on to tell the boy about how his father had started as a penniless lad, without even decent clothes to cover him; how he had gone hungry to buy books to educate himself; how he toiled and sacrificed to get a start in business, and with what dauntless courage he had faced all the struggles of the self-made man.

"But he is a hero,' cried the boy when she was through, and you did not need to be a prophet to know that from that day on that father would be an inspiration to his son.

Many children never see anything but the worst side of their parents. They see fathers who are grumpy and grouchy at home, and who rave over the bills, and treat Mother as they wouldn't dare to treat a servant. They see mothers who go slouchy about the house, who are whining and complaining and who are always picking a quarrel with Father. And they see nothing in them that they want to copy

For children are realists. If their fathers and mothers want them to love and admire them, they have to sell themselves to the clear-eyed youngsters, and if they want their children to look up to them, they must put themselves on a pedestal, and stay there.

Helen Smoke Pledges Vows Wearing Blush Satin Gown

An interesting event of this afternoon was the marriage at Trinity United Church of Helen Josephine, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Sheldon L. Smoke, to Ronald Mason Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Harper of Hamilton. The marriage ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Waldermar Williams, Minister of Westdale United Church, Hamilton. The Church was prettily decorated with white mums and ferns. Miss Mildred McIntyre presided at the organ and Miss Orma Lacheur was the soloist.

Prior to the entry of the wedding party Miss Lacheur sang the "Lord's Prayer". Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gracefully gowned in a floor-length dress of blush satin with fitted bodice and a deep yoke of Venetian lace, Bishop sleeves and full gathered skirt. Her finger tip veil was held by a heart-shaped head-dress of matching lace, and she carried a shower bouquet of Rapture roses, bouvardia and adiantum fern.

Miss Mary Pierce of Peterborough and Kingston was maid of honor and wore a floor-length gown of lilac taffeta and matching petal-shaped skull cap with tulle and carried an arm bouquet of Butterfly roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Georgina Harper of Hamilton, sister of the groom, and Miss June Gadd of Peterborough and were dressed alike in floor-length gowns of Nile green taffeta and matching petal shaped caps with tulle and carried colonial bouquets of Talisman roses.

The best man was Mr. George Viens of Ottawa, and the ushers were Mr. Franklin Smoke, brother of the bride, Mr. Kenneth Vickers, of Caledonia, Mr. Howard Cox and Mr. Robert Allan of Hamilton. During the signing of the register Miss Lacheur sang, "O Perfect Love".

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother received in a gown of olive green crepe with brown accessories and wore a corsage of Johanna Hill roses, and the mother of the groom received in a gown of powdered blue with black accessories and wore a corsage of Dream roses. L.A.C. Arthur Smoke, who is stationed at Calgary, Alberta, was unable to be present.

Later the happy couple left on their honeymoon which will be spent in New York. For travelling the bride wore a suit of cerise rose gabardine with a light grey Chesterfield type top coat and black accessories and had a corsage of white gardenias. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Harper will live in Hamilton.

Out of town guests were present from Toronto, Hamilton, Paris, Ancaster, Waterford, Detroit, Ottawa, Lindsay, Kitchener, Brockville, Cobourg, Oshawa and Orillia.

Father's Cable Birthday Gift

Marilyn Fry entertained a number of little friends at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Braithwaite recently, on the occasion of her fourth birthday. Games were played on the lawn, followed by a dainty lunch and birthday cake, served by Misses Betty Adams, Joan Laidlaw, Mazel Carr and Wilemenia Irwin.

A cable was received from Marilyn's father, Cfn. Ray Fry serving overseas, also a long distance phone call from Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fry of Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Those present were: Mary and Margaret Syer, Betty Lou and Bobby Armitage, Henry Davidson, Linda Braithwaite, Ronnie and Jimmy McCabe of Peterborough, Donna Rae Fry, Marilyn Fry, Gail Braithwaite, Leora Smith, April Keene, Mazel Carr, Betty Adams, Wilemenia Irwin of Peterborough. Also Mesdames O. Carley, N. Braithwaite, M. Braithwaite and K. Syer, J. Braithwaite, B. Davidson, H. Braithwaite, R. Fry.

Peterboro Man Weds In Stoco

Guests from Watertown, N.Y., Tweed, Peterborough and Kingston were present at the wedding in St. Edmund's Church, Stoco, Ontario, when Zita Courneyea, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter C. Courneyea, of Stoco, became the bride of Joseph A. Mattucci, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Mattucci, of Peterborough. Rev. Fr. Meagher officiated. Miss Clare Maloney played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register, Miss Marie Kearns, of Peterborough, sang "Ave Maria".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white sheer. Her veil of embroidered tulle was caught to her head with a halo of seed pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses and baby's breath. Miss Edith Mattucci, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, in a gown of orchid sheer, with matching hat, and carrying a bouquet of Talisman roses. Raymond Courneyea was best man.

At the reception, held at the hotel in Tweed, the bride's mother received the guests, wearing a black crepe ensemble, with matching felt hat and accessories, and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother, also receiving, was in dusty rose crepe and lace, with black felt hat, matching accessories, and a rose corsage. Later the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to New York, the bride travelling in a black tailored suit and black accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Mattucci will live in Peterborough.

Hears Miss Wagar Trinity Circle

Miss Constance Wagar was guest speaker for the September meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity Church, in the Ladies' Parlor of the church, choosing as her topic, the summer school conducted at Whitby. Members expressed their appreciation to Miss Wagar for her complete report. Guest soloist was Mrs. James Goldie, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. H. F. Doig. Mrs. H. T. Rehill presided.

The date for the fall rally was set at September 27 in Trinity Church. Since Miss Helen Bannister, the secretary, was leaving the city to take up residence in Port Dover, Mrs. N. Moncrief was appointed to take that office. The financial secretary, Miss T. Mathers, spoke briefly to the meeting, and Mrs. M. MacMorran reported 21 calls made during the month. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. Robert Armstrong who read the Scripture, and Mrs. N. Moncrief, who led in prayer.

Cavan W.I. Plans Boxes For Boys

CAVAN, Sept. 23 —(ENS) — Mrs. Mervin Smith was hostess for the September meeting of the Cavan Women's Institute Thursday evening. Members made particular mention of the work the Girls' Club had accomplished during the year, since they had donated $2 to the Institute, $5 to the Red Cross, and $5 to the British War Victim's Fund. Mrs. M. Kinsman was asked to continue as leader of the girls for another year, and a vote of thanks to the Girls' Club was approved.

Plans for boxes to be sent to boys in the services overseas were discussed, and it was decided that a large fruit cake would be made, and divided so that a piece could be placed in each box. Donations for the cake were received from the members, and each contributed sugar for the making of candy for overseas. Quilt patches were distributed at the opening of the meeting, and the group sewed as the business was carried out.

Mrs. C. Smith's group was in charge of the program. Miss Staples and Mrs. Riley of Bethany prepared and read a paper on the "Cultivation of Flax, and its Uses." Mrs. Mervin Smith gave a talk on "Women's Radio Talks" by Elizabeth Long. Following the adjourning of the meeting, refreshments were served.

300 Employees Of DeLaval Hold Social Evening

Through the kindness of G. H. Roper the facilities of the Y.M.C.A. were made available on Friday evening, September 22, for the employees of the De Laval Company Limited. Some 300 employees with their families took advantage of the hospitality and enjoyed a social evening. Much interest was shown in the various branches of the activities offered and many expressions of appreciation were heard, especially from those who had never entered the building before.

Through the courtesy of the National Film Board a splendid program of pictures was shown by the local representative Ronald C. Ward. The showing included films of the Russian campaign "Our Northern Neighbours" also "High Over the Borders" a picture of migrating bird life. The children were particularly interested in a cartoon showing Mr. A. Hitler as the big bad wolf who met a deserving end at the hands of "The Three Little Pigs," who certainly know how to use modern and ultra modern secret weapons. A Sing Song was much enjoyed and brought out the splendid voices of a choir of De Laval girls, which compared favourably with the radio feature "House of Charm," by young ladies of the office staff.

Refreshments were served at 9.45 p.m. and after expressions of thanks were presented to the Y.M.C.A. through Mr. G. H. Roper the party ended with everyone agreeing that it was one of the best gatherings sponsored by the company thus far.

Arrangements were in the hands of Messrs. G. W. Fitzgerald and G. H. Cutmore.

Goselin-Nolan Vows Solemnized

St. Peter's Cathedral was the setting recently for the marriage of Rita Anne Nolan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nolan, 380 Holloway drive, and Gerard Goselin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Goselin, 30 Ware street. Rev. F. Marrocco officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin, with embroidered silk veil caught to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carrying American Beauty roses. Miss Lucy Rochetta, as bridesmaid, wore floor-length veil, and carried pink roses. Little Adele Nolan, sister of the bride, and Marilyn Goselin, sister of the groom, were dainty flower girls, dressed in white, with white veils, and carrying nosegays of fall flowers. Tom Nolan, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the De Luxe Cafe, where the bride's mother received the guests in a rose crepe dress, with brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, also receiving, wore blue silk jersey, with white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses. Later the young couple left for a wedding trip to Toronto and other points, the bride travelling in a gold linen dress, and white accessories.

AFTER-FIVE ATTRACTION—Despite all the talk about the long-skirted dinner dress, the street-length variety is still very much in the picture. Here is one of the newest, designed in the New York manner for after-five occasions. It subscribes to table-top glamor through its tunic jacket bright with sequin embroidery and set off with a cabbage rose. The slim skirt is of black crepe. This is definitely a useful number for almost any but a real dress-up occasion. —By Alice Alden.

Popular Bride Is Entertained

Mrs. Harold Shaw, formerly Miss Iris Fitzgerald, a popular bride of this month, was much entertained by her friends prior to her marriage. The Knitting Club of which she is a member gave a shower at Chemong, when Misses Doris Hutchinson and Helen Mathais were joint hostesses for the evening. Mrs. K. Marcellus was hostess at a miscellaneous shower, and Mrs. R. Parnall, Mrs. F. Todd and Miss S. Boorman were joint hostesses at a "Round the World" dining room shower.

Office associates of the A. Wander Co., entertained her at the home of Mrs. W. Blair, where Miss Jean Kerr assisted. The Misses Mary Curry, Margaret Hooper and Grace Lundy gave a house party at the former's home at which a presentation was made. Miss Joan Melton entertained the bride-to-be and ten of her friends at luncheon at the Empress Hotel. Thirty friends of the bride's mother entertained her at the home of Mrs. L. H. Ingram and made a presentation.

Mrs. G. W. Fitzgerald and her daughter received a hundred friends at a trousseau tea. Wedding gifts and the brides's trousseau were displayed by Mrs. R. Parnall and Misses Adele Fitzgerald and Joan Melton. Little Annabelle McConkey was door attendant.

The tea table was presided over by Mrs. W. S. Hill and Mrs. L. H. Ingram, and serving were Mrs. F. Todd, Mrs. K. Marcellus and the Misses Marion Brennan and Alice Leether.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, September 24.

Sunday's horoscope is a disturbing and disruptive one, with much of sudden and unlooked for adventure or experience, although it is not wanting in the promises of eventual happiness and good fortune. It may be that a complete demolition or breaking down of certain old or unwelcome conditions or ties may be necessary to put the life and its associations upon a firmer, happier and more friendly base.

Those whose birthday it is may have to endure a sudden and disruptive visitation, with complete uprooting of old foundations and affiliations antecedent to a rebuilding of the life and its ambi-

Girls' Council Plans "Y" Rally

At the regular September meeting of the Girls' Council of the Y.W.C.A., the principal item of business was the planning of the fall rally, to be held September 27, 28 and 29, with the Junior rally on September 30. On Wednesday, all senior clubs will sponsor a banquet, open to all members and friends of the Association, which will feature special music and stunts. Tickets for attendance must be reserved by noon on Tuesday.

The Gym and Swim departments will be hostesses for the Thursday entertainments, and special demonstrations will be given. On Friday, the residence girls will be hostesses, and games and dancing will form the program evening. The next meeting of the Girls' Council was announced for October 4.

The Junior Supper Club, at their first meeting for the season, also discussed plans for the rally, and elected their officers for the year as follows: President, Mary Jane Wharry; vice-president, Joan Smith; secretary, Barbara Lawrie; treasurer, Mary Jane Collins; supper convener, Barbara Hughes; program convener, Anne Boyle. Initiation of new members was also conducted. Marley Jobitt, past president, presided.

Try New, Improved Ovaltine

If your child lacks a zest for food, it may be that his diet is short in very important food elements which, science has discovered, everyone needs for health. His growth may be stunted or impaired and he may be an easy victim to prevailing sickness.

As a "protecting" food-drink, New, Improved Ovaltine adds to a child's meals the essential food elements most likely to be deficient in his diet.

Three servings of New, Improved Ovaltine furnish a child with a significant portion of his daily requirement of Vitamins A, B_1, and D, and the minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron—also quick food-energy elements and high quality proteins—all for building sturdy bodies.

So—if your child eats poorly, is thin or under par, why not start giving him New, Improved Ovaltine regularly? Get Ovaltine at your drug or food store.

Brampton Out In Lacrosse

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 23. — Brampton Excelsiors passed out of the Senior O.L.A. picture here on Friday night in the fourth game of the Ontario semi-finals when they fell victims to St. Catharines Athletics by a 26-10 score. For the first half the taller and huskier maroons of Coach Jim Mullis held their own fairly well with the Garden City Bluejackets, but folded in the third period and were never in the hunt thereafter.

Saints went into a 7-3 lead in the opener, with the teams dividing six goals in the second. The third period took the fight out of the visitors, when they were outscored by nine goals to two to set the count at 19-8.

Mimico Mounts, who eliminated Toronto Lakeshores in the other bracket, open the Ontario finals here with Athletics on Saturday night, with the second game at Mimico on Monday. Winner meets New Westminster in Maple Leaf Gardens, starting October 7.

Brampton — Goal, Chambers; defence, Arthurs, Taylor; rover, Graham; centre, Madgett; wings, Scherzel, Farri; subs, Brunskill, Anthony, Ingram, Price, White, McLean, Carter.

St. Catharines—Goal, Whittaker; defence, F. Madsen, Wright; rover, MacDonald; centre, Thorpe; wings, Whitely, Nelson; subs, Myers, Morton, Cove, Bye, Mackle, Gatecliff, Moore.

Referees — Max Peart, Port Colborne, Claude Clarke, Hamilton

Hamilton Wins Juvenile Lacrosse

BRAMPTON, Ont., Sept. 23 — (CP) — Hamilton Juveniles defeated Mimico 13-12 in an overtime game last night to win their Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association playoff series by one goal. Each team had won by one goal in the original two games of the two-game goals-to-count series and last night's contest was a sudden-death affair on neutral grounds.

The Hamilton team now plays Owen Sound juveniles who eliminated the Celedon-Inglewood Combines earlier in the week. First game of the series will be played in Hamilton this afternoon and the second in Owen Sound Monday night.

Not Smart Enough Kennedy Claims

EARL McCREADY.

"This Davis boasts about being tough and perhaps he is but he doesn't think fast enough to beat me," Irish Jack Kennedy says of his main bout battle with Karl Krippler Davis at the Tunney wrestling show at the Brock, Tuesday. Also on the card are a number of favorite stars. Earl McCready battles John Katan in the semi-final bout and Al. Bunny Dunlop tangles with Doc. Len Hall in the preliminary.

SPORTS - Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Another sign of the changing seasons is the fact that the executive of the Peterborough Badminton Club has held its opening meeting of the season at the home of President D. A. Drynan and made plans for what is expected to be a very successful year. There was good news for the members in the intimation that as a result of the lifting of the ban on shuttlecocks there will be plenty of birds for use this season. At one time it was feared that the club might have to disband because of a lack of birds. The executive decided to open the courts for play on Saturday October 21 so that the start of the season's activities is less than a month away. The following officers were elected: President, D. A. Drynan; vice president, J. Watts; treasurer, Ed Johnston; secretary, Howie Shields; captain, R. Baker; social conveners, Mrs. B. Copping and Miss E. Brownlee. As usual the club will play its games in the market hall and the prospects are bright for an enthusiastic membership and for plenty of keen competition during the winter months.

Stoker I Bob Crowe, who was one of the stars of the 4th Battery (Plaza) softball club last season when they cleaned up the City League honors and who pitched for the Peterborough juvenile team before that is making quite a name for himself as an athlete since he enlisted with the R.C.N.V.R. In a recent field day at Shelburne, N.S., where he is stationed the Peterborough boy broke the tape in first place in the 100 yards dash, clocked in 10 seconds flat and he ran in second spot in the 220 and was a member of the winning relay team. Altogether he earned himself two pen and pencil sets and a handcome cup. In addition Stoker Crowe has been playing lots of softball, too, and doing quite nicely at it. In a recent game he came through with two homers. He was a decidedly useful member of last year's City League champs, taking his turn on the hill-top and filling nicely either in the infield or in a garden post while he was one of his team's most consistent hitters as well.

You Never Can Tell

Developments in the Oshawa Minor Baseball Association playoffs show how uncertain sport can be. In the juvenile section four teams entered the playoff. In top spot were the Coca Colas who led the loop all season, suffered only two losses and were short-handed on both occasions. The Victors finished in the second slot, the Arenas in third position and Bowmanville juveniles in fourth place. Then came the semi-finals of the playoffs and to the surprise of everybody the fourth place Bowmanville kids knocked off the second-slot Victors in two straight games. But a bigger upset was to follow. Arenas hooked up with the leaders in the other bracket and after the series was tied with two wins each the third choices wiped the field with the Cokes in the fifth game to win by the ridiculous score of 17 to 0 over a club that had dominated the league all season. And now the third and fourth place teams will proceed to battle each other for the championship while the two top clubs have folded for the season, probably still in a daze because of what has happened to them in the playoff semi-finals.

Phil Pryde's 969 three-game score was the individual highlight of the opening night of the City Five Pin League but there were other features to make the start of the big 16-club loop noteworthy. One, of course, was the showing by the two Empress teams, both of whom made a clean sweep of six points, the only teams with the exception of Outlaws to accomplish the feat. Ken Graham's Empress outfit had the team record for the night turning in a smashing 3599 total and a single game high of 1257, with Phil Pryde's 353 and 318 singles helping immensely in the team's good showing. Chris Graham's Empress team and the Outlaws also picked off six points while Cleanrites, Sunocos, Ramblers, Atlas Steel and Soldiers were four-point winners in the opening night's play. Pryde was the only player in the 900 pin group. As a matter of fact only two bowlers climbed into the 800 class. They were Roy Lewis with 840 and Jack Playford with 822. In single scores Pryde had 353 and 318, Roy Lewis 343, S. Segal 322, Jack Playford 314 and Jack Patte 302. There should be a lot of bowling marks threatened during the City League's long season. The loop contains a flock of clever bowlers and any one of them is liable to cut loose any time with a record-breaking score. Interest in the league competition is greater than ever, with the result that there should be a lot of keen battles before the schedule is reeled off.

Colts In Semi-Finals

George Campbell's Oshawa Colts were to have played the Prince of Wales team, Toronto senior B champs, in the first game of the provincial semi-finals in the Queen City this week but the game was rained out twice and now the first fixture of the round is billed for Oshawa today. Scribe Campbell figures the postponement was fortunate for as he put it: "That was a 'break' and actually the fact that the game has been postponed again today is another 'break,' although the "Colts" were prepared to go today. "Dolly" Dalton, regular second-baseman, is in bed suffering from a bad attack of the 'flu and Dean McLaughlin is away on his honeymoon. Now the "Colts" expect to have McLaughlin on hand Saturday afternoon for the first game of the series with Prince of Wales, and providing he shows steady improvement, Dalton may also be ready by Saturday afternoon to take his regular position at 2nd base. The Colts, Provincial Intermediate "A" softball champions for two years in succession, 1942 and 1943, feel that this year they would have had no trouble in again winning the Inter. "A" honors. Judging by teams we have seen so far and the results of games in Western Ontario playoffs, it's likely that such would have been the case. However, this year, the "Colts" are out after a bigger crown, the Senior "B" championship of the province and the right to challenge the "A" champions for an all-Ontario softball title. If the "Colts" can pull off a win here at home Saturday afternoon in their first game of the series, after a layoff of more than 8 weeks they'll be away to a flying start and just might be able to survive this first round and advance to the Southern finals, against Hamilton Clothiers—who are rated also as "hot stuff."

All three leaders in the American League race won Friday but as the Detroit Tigers won two games while the Brownies and Yanks were grabbing off one the net result of the proceedings was that the Bengals extended their lead in the red-hot struggle to one full game over the St. Louis club and three and a half games over New York. Detroit had two triumphs over the Boston Red Sox 7 to 4 and 8 to 6, despite the fact that they were outhit nearly two to one in the second game. Bob Muncrief won his first game in over a month as the Brownies turned back the A's 4 to 2 and Ernie Bonham pitched the Yanks to a 7 to 3 victory over Cleveland.

Canadian Birds

By G. H. RICHARDSON

In sandy areas, where vegetation is sparse grass and shrubs, small birds fly up ahead of us, uttering a tss-tssp note like a horned lark, and showing white outer tail feathers. After a short flight, they drop to the ground where their colors match their surroundings, remaining motionless.

Having noted our birds, a look through binoculars shows us birds of horned lark proportions and slender bill, walking instead of hopping. Above they are soft olive brown, the wing feathers with light edges; below, buff with streaks on the breast and sides.

American Pipit

American pipits are so called from their call notes. They are birds of the Arctic tundras, meeting from western Greenland to Sibera. In winter they go south of our borders, stopping in most of the states and on beyond into Mexico and Guatemala.

Size of Flocks Varies

At this season, pipits are in flocks which may contain anywhere from half a dozen to several hundred. While feeding, since they are scattered, the observer will likely cause only a few to fly, these dropping in amongst others farther on as they run here and there after insects. They are almost exclusively ground birds, seldom perching on wires or trees.

In open meadows and sandy wastes such as the pipits frequent, there is a common sparrow, the Savannah sparrow. This is another one which in general looks like a song sparrow and its distinctive difference is a buffier color all over and a definite yellowness about the face, this yellowness being most concentrated in the eye-ring and line over the eye. In the autumn, the suffusion of yellow on the face is stronger than in spring; the bird as a whole is yellower and the streaks less sharply defined.

It is a bird of modest colors, and still more modest song, its song being two simple trills introduced by tsips—tsip, tsip, tsip tsip tsip tsip tseeee tseeuu. The first trill is very buzzy, the second more liquid and musical. Whistling by drawing the air in through saliva produces a close imitation of the latter trill. At this time of year, however, they just say tsip.

Short-Eared Owl

The short-eared owl is a bird of open areas—fields and marshes, the sort of place you see marsh hawks, but the owls are not nearly so common. They may be seen actively engaged in hunting food during the day, although dusk is the more common time to see them feeding.

Many owls have little tufts of feathers projecting from the top of the head on either side, suggesting the appearance of ears, having, of course, no connection with those organs which are just back of the eye and hidden by feathers. In this species these tufts are so small that they are passed unnoticed even at close range.

The short-eared owl is light buffy with streaks of dark brown. In flight the white under surface of the wing with sharp black patches at the wrist are good marks. It has a very easy buoyant flight, and its outline resembles, as a friend expressed it, "a milk bottle flying backwards."

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

If you are intending to play in tonight's mixed rink tournament phone your name in well before 7.30 o'clock. It looks to us like a big crowd. The play on the greens will be short but the social part inside will be well worth waiting for. We understand the committee are preparing a good program.

Monday night's schedule, 7 p.m. Club single, 8 p.m.

The following postponed games to be played:

D. Bell	vs.	J. Fitzpatrick
F. Kerr	vs.	C. Lawrence
P. McFadden	vs.	J. McDonald
K. Sloane	vs.	V. Selkirk
L. Turner	vs.	E. Wall
T. Ryan	vs.	C. Williamson
H. Northrop	vs.	G. Sorenson
P. Moore	vs.	R. Hutchinson
S. Lowe	vs.	G. Coleman jr.
F. Dearborn	vs.	L. Loftus

It must be getting around to the time of our annual meeting. We heard one member of the Nominating Committee say last night that he would soon have to get busy.

FAREWELL — Toronto Maple Leafs are saying farewell to their manager, Burleigh Grimes, above. Purchase of the Toronto Maple Leaf Baseball Club by a new group of sportsmen and termination of Grimes' contract has just been announced.

BIG MOVIE RIGHTS—Gwethalyn Graham, Canadian novelist who has just sold the movie rights to her second novel "Earth and High Heaven" to R.K.O. for $100,000. The book was the Literary Guild's book choice for October; serial rights were sold for $7,500 and the book club rights for $42,000. She was born in Toronto. Her first novel, "Swiss Sonata," won the Governor-General's medal in 1935.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP) — When that ball field battle between the Browns' Tom Turner and Washington's Roberto Ortiz was in full swing the other night, three civilians came on to the field and tried to separate the battlers. Ellis Crary, St. Louis sub infielder, grabbed one of them and started to haul him back to the stands. Just in time he found he was giving the bum's rush to Umpire Hal Weaver.

Today's Guest Star:

The New York State Athletic Commission has sanctioned the Chalky Wright-Willie Pep featherweight title bout at New York next Friday despite protest of the District of Columbia Commission, which urged that action be taken against Wright because of his refusal to fight Jackie Wilson at Washington. The N.B.A. however ruled that Wright will be suspended in New York immediately after the Pep fight until he fulfils the engagement with Wilson. Just to make sure, Wright's New York purse will be withheld until that time.

Warren C. Giles signed a four-year renewal contract at Cincinnati yesterday as general manager of the Cincinnati Reds. Powel Crosley, president of the ball club, said Giles "has proved in the past eight seasons that he is one of baseball's foremost executives." He went to Cincinnati in 1937.

EVINRUDE
Lands Commandos on Enemy Beaches

POWER, Speed, Stamina . . . That's what it takes for wartime service and that's what Evinrude outboard motors have! Power to drive the storm boats through the pounding surfs, Speed to zig-zag through the enemy's gun fire, Stamina to stand rough treatment and tough going . . . these qualities, inherent in peacetime Evinrudes, are now making them invaluable on our battle fronts. Instant starting, easy handling, ability to operate in shallow water make them the ideal power plant for storm boats and landing barges for they eliminate the necessity of hazardous landings in the water.

Evinrude now is exclusively on war serv[ice] but, when this war is won, there will be Evinru[des] again for civilian use. Therefore, until these [...] Evinrudes are available, get the utmost in effic[iency] service and lasting satisfaction from your pre[sent] motor by sending to-day for the handy, po[cket] size, fifty-two page booklet, "Know Your [Out]board Motor." Veteran Relief Pitcher Aiding Bengals

Associated Press Sport Writer

Walter (Boom Boom) Beck, a veteran relief performer who was pitching in the American League when Hal Newhouser was a three-year-old kiddie car rider and Paul Trout was a third-grade schoolboy, was one reason Detroit was still in first place today.

With only a week and a day of the season remaining, the Tigers held a one-game edge on St. Louis because Beck had the stuff to hold back Boston in the second game of an important double-header at Detroit yesterday after coming through with a single and scoring the winning run of an 8-6 victory. Steve O'Neil's crew had won the opener, 7-4, on Dick Wakefield's grand-slam homer.

St. Louis shaded Philadelphia last night, 4-2, and would have tied for the lead if Beck hadn't put the bracelets on the Red Sox in a two-inning job.

Sig Jakucki, another of baseball's firemen, saved the Brownies by retiring the last nine men in order when Philadelphia threatened to nibble on St. Louis' two-run lead. Bobo Newsom, who trimmed the Yankees last out, allowed only five hits before bowing for a pinch hitter in the eighth but yielded a two-run triple to Don Gutteridge and single runs in the fourth and sixth.

New York kept its hopes alive by topping Cleveland, 7-3, with a 17-hit attack behind Ernie Bonham in a series opener. The Yanks trailed Detroit by 3½ games with 10 to play.

When Joe Heving relieved Al Smith in the seventh inning, the Big League's only grandpa tied an American League record by appearing in his 61st game, none complete. Clint Brown set the mark for Chicago in 1939. Ed Walsh holds the record for most games, complete or unfinished with 66 in the American in 1908. Ace Adams of the New York Giants appeared in 70 for a modern National record last year.

The newly-crowned St. Louis Cardinals were humiliated, [illegible] Boston's Nate Andrews and [illegible] took a strangle hold on fourth place by routing the Giants, 8-1, in the only National League contests.

Minneapolis — Jackie Graves, 123½, Austin, Minn. outpointed Leroy Jacson, 122, Cleveland, 6.

JOHNNY LINDELL IS OUT AT HOME IN TIGER GAME—Johnny Lindell, Yankee centre fielder, made a brave effort to make home plate in the second inning, on Crosetti's grounder to Higgins at third base at the game in Detroit, Mich. But Tiger Catcher Swift is shown putting the ball on him after effectively blocking the plate.

Orioles Even Semi-finals

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 23 (AP)—Mike Roscoe, on the mound last night for the Buffalo Bisons in their International League semi-finals with Baltimore, was on the threshhold of success until he stumbled on a ninth-inning Oriole booby-trap, which squared the semi-final, best-of-seven series at 2-all.

Roscoe had given his team a 4-3 lead with a run-scoring single in the eighth and had rubbed out the first two Baltimore batters in the last frame when the Orioles unleashed a four-run rally for a 7-4 victory.

Some of the 2,029 fans were already filing to the exits when Blas Monaco began the rally with a single. Bob Latshaw followed with a double, and both scored on Stan Benjamin's single. Howie Moss put the game in the satchel with his 29th homer of the season.

Credit for the victory went to Johnny Podgajny, second of three Baltimore hurlers. Teammates Moss and Skaff shared hitting honors. The former cracked out two singles in addition to his homer. Skaff enjoyed a perfect night with a home [illegible]d a single along with two walks.

The teams left for Baltimore today and will have an off night before locking in the fifth game of the series tomorrow. The winner of the series meets Newark in the finals.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By MARSHALL BATEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23 — (CP).—Optimistic football backers are toying with the idea of professional competition in post-war years.

Several would-be promoters in Winnipeg are said to be interested particularly with teams from the United States.

Canadian professional football appears the logical thing to cone if the schoolboy and senior games resume the steady progress after the war that characterized pre-war operations, says Herb (Winnipeg Tribune) Manning.

In Eastern Canada, FO Lew Hayman, eminent Toronto coach, also believed professional fotball is a possibility.

Hockey Manoeuvres:

As wartime conditions continue to handicap professional hockey clubs, managers are going to look the Prairie talent over more thoroughly.

Almost every junior club at the Head of the Lakes—one of the Dominion's greatest hockey centres—has a tie-up with a professional team. Lester Patrick's New York Rangers of the National League will open another hockey school in Winnipeg next week, while Eddie Shore of Buffalo Bisons of the American League is seeking ice at Regina or Calgary. Shore is reported to have a prospective big leaguer to suit every pocketbook.

Junior prospects:

Another banner junior hockey season is forecast in many western centres. A four-team league is likely at the Lakehead—Fort William Columbus Millers, sponsored by Minneapolis Millers; Port Arthur West-Ends, a Boston Bruins farm, Port Arthur Flyers, supported by St. Louis Flyers, and Fort William Hurricane Rangers.

Manitoba plans a South Division loop with Winnipeg Monarch, Winnipeg Rangers and St. James Canadians, and possibly Brandon or Portage La Prairie. South Saskatchewan has Regina Commandos, Regina Abbotts, Notre Dame Hounds, and Moose Jaw Canucks all set to go while University of Saskatchewan and Saskatoon Quakers are organizing.

Edmonton promises a pick should indoor ice be available. Canadians, Edmonton Athletic Club, Maple Leafs and the Navy are the likely starters.

Old-time versatility:

Maybe to-day's athletes are sissies. Ken Price of Moosomin, Sask., who is 76, recalls that 54 years ago a group of youths from Pense, Saskatchewan, visited Winnipeg, played cricket in the afternoon, then moved over to the tennis courts, took on the Manitobans at billiards when darkness fell, and next morning competed in a rowing regatta.

King's Counsel Tops Pacers At Delaware

DELAWARE, O., Sept. 23 — (AP). — The free-for-all pacers and trotters featured the closing of the Grand Circuit meeting here Friday.

King's Counsel, owned by the Baker Stables of St. Charles, Ill., and driven by Harry Fitzpatrick, took the pace. He lost the first heat to Adois, but took the next two.

Darnley, a son of Scotland, owned by Aaron Williams of Corning, N.Y., was driven to a straight-heat victory by Harry Whitney in the free-for-all trot. The second and final heat was a photo-finish with the Colonel's Lady.

Mauriello K.O.'s Detroit Boxer

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Tami Mauriello, New York heavyweight, knocked out Lee Oma of Detroit last night in 1.41 of the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder in Madison Square Garden. A left hook to the chin did it. Mauriello weighed 194, Oma 193.

The bout, in which Mauriello was a prohibitive favorite, drew 10,496 fans and a gate of $24,280.

Oma, who retired from the ring in 1942 after being knocked out in seven of 10 fights in 1941, was on the verge of scrambling the heavyweight situation when the end came. He was far ahead of Mauriello, second ranking civilian heavy, up to the time Tami uncorked the winning punch.

Oma took the bout on a couple of days' notice as a substitute for Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa., who bowed out because of a cold and drew a 45-day suspension from the New York Athletic Commission.

For the first three rounds the Detroiter, who held his hands straight at his sides most of the time, made a punching bag of Tami, spilling him for a one-count [illegible] by the bell in the fourth round.

It was Mauriello's fourth straight knockout victory since he dropped a decision to Baksi in the Garden last February.

Philadelphia — Billy Furrone, 145, Philadelphia, outpointed Jiggs Donahne, 151½, Philadelphia, 8.

Weather Ideal For Football

By Canadian Press.

Ideal gridiron weather was in prospect to-day for the three opening games in Ontario's two senior footleagues.

At Toronto where Toronto Navy Bulldogs meet the R. C. A. F. Hurricanes from Camp Borden in one of the two games in the New Ontario Armed Services League, the sun shone brightly and there was a chill tang of Autumn in the air.

Good weather also was indicated at London—where St. Thomas R. C. A. F. Hornets play Hagersville R. C. A. F. in another services league game—and at Hamilton— where Toronto Indians and the Dominion Champion Hamilton Wildcats open the Ontario Rugby Football Union's 62nd season.

The other two senior teams in the Province— Toronto Balmy Beach and Ottawa Trjans— are not scheduled to-day. Beaches have a pratice drill planned while the Ottawa team is playing an exhibition game wtih Verdun Grads.

$1,300 Millions Objective Of The Next Loan

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP) —Finance Minister Ilsley announced today that Canada's Seventh Victory Loan, which opens Oct. 23 with a minimum objective of $1,300,000,000, will be in two issues—a short term four-year issue bearing 1¾ per cent interest and an issue of 17 years and three months which will carry three per cent interest.

The issue bearing interest at three per cent will be offered at a price of 100 per cent maturing at 100 Feb. 1, 1962. The short-term issue will also be sold at 100 per cent and will mature at 100 Nov. 1, 1948.

Bonds will be dated Nov. 1, 1944, and first interest coupons on the three per cent issue will be for nine months. Succeeding coupons will fall due semi-annually in February and August.

Conversion Plan

Mr. Ilsley also announced details of a conversion plan for holders of certain Dominion Government Bonds that are nearing maturity.

"Holders of Dominion of Canada 4½ per cent bonds due and payable at par on Oct. 15, 1944 and of 3½ per cent bonds due Oct. 15, 1949, which have been called for payment at par on Oct. 15, 1944, may convert their holdings of these bonds into Seventh Victory Loan Bonds," Mr. Ilsley said.

Holders of these bonds should cash their Oct. 15 coupons in the usual way. These bonds will cease to bear interest from Oct. 15, 1944, and new holders are urged to exchange bonds of these two issues for the new victory bonds. Bonds of these two issues will be accepted at 100-⅛ per cent when exchanged for Seventh Victory Loan Bonds. This conversion may be arranged with Victory Loan Salesmen, Banks and Trust or Loan Companies from whom details are available.

More Than Ever Before

In a statement accompanying the announcement, Mr. Ilsley said "setting a minimum objective of $1,300,000,000 for the new loan we are asking Canadians to buy a larger amount of bonds than ever before. The increase in the country's borrowing needs has been caused by the events which are bringing us to victory—the intense activities on all battlefronts. In the Sixth Victory Loan there were 3,077,601 applications for Victory Bonds. We hope that a greatly increased number of Canadians will participate in the Seventh Victory Loan."

IN RECENT FIGHT OFF BREST—Lieut.-Cmdr. Robert P. Welland, commanding officer of the famous Canadian destroyer H.M.C.S. Assiniboine, is seen in his sea cabin studying a chart of the French coast during recent operations off Brest. The Assiniboine was the only Canadian ship among five British destroyers screening the British battleship H.M.S. Warspite in the engagement.

Council Of Church Of England Opposes Treatment Of Japanese

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE, Que., Sept. 23 — (CP) —The Social Service Council of the Church of England in Canada meeting here yesterday expressed "strenuous objection" to the treatment given loyal Canadian citizens of the Japanese race.

Most Rev. W. T. Adams, Archbishop of Kootenay, discussing the disenfranchisement of the Japanese who have been good subjects in Canada, said: "We should extend to the Japanese the true tradition of British generosity."

He did not see why if they were regarded as good citizens they should not enjoy the freedom of citizenship. The ones he had seen had always been willing workers and had never bothered their neighbors.

Archbishop Adams introduced a three-point resolution which was passed by a majority of the Assembly, that: "The Council desires to commend the Federal Government's policy of the resettlement of Japanese Canadian citizens in good standing throughout the Provinces of Canada and the complementation of that policy under difficult circumstances by the British Columbia Commission.

"The Council believes that Canadians in all provinces should regard the present and post-war absorption of the loyal members of the racial group as a Canadian responsibility, not for British Columbia alone, and calls upon all citizens to assist in creating a friendly attitude toward them where ever they may settle.

Proper Consideration

"This council expresses the hope that, after proper discrimination and with due safeguards, loyal citizens of the Japanese race, now moved from homes in British Columbia, be regarded as entitled, with all Canadians, to the ordinary right of work, wages and to assistance comparable to that given to other law abiding citizens and in particular, affirms that such people of proven loyalty to the Dominion should not be forcibly dispossessed of their property and chattels pending the decision of the courts, nor eventually prohibited from holding residential or business premises."

Canon P. S. C. Powles said that some institutions of learning had been closed to Japanese students who had attempted to enrol and a resolution was passed that "this council deprecates that evidence of such discrimination in our midst growing in number and intensity and expresses the hope that institutions of learning which share with the church great traditions of freedom, continue to open their doors to the public of all races."

Another resolution expressed the hope that "all are seeking to understand more fully and to appreciate more fairly our Jewish brethren in Canada."

The council suggested in a resolution that the Dominion government form a permanent prison commission in Canada.

Former Rabbi Coming Here

Dr. Nathan Cohen Beskin, son of a Jewish rabbi and a former rabbi in Russia will be in Peterborough for a prophetic conference beginning Sept 27 and ending Oct. 8.

He was born in Polish Russia, educated in Russia and Germany. Lenin, Trotsky and other rulers of Europe he was well acquainted with.

DR. NATHAN COHEN BESKIN

Arrangements have been made for him to speak before the service clubs and the collegiate as well as the monthly Ministerial meeting.

Dr. Nathan Cohen Beskin is an exhaustive student of the prophetic scriptures. This has made him one of the best heard men in America. Thousands listen to him give illustrated messages. Some of these are printed into the millions of copies in many languages. With his rich knowledge of the Bible lore he enriches the Old Testament history, events, rituals and laws. He will appear in the ceremonial robes of the High Priest of Israel.

The Salvation Army and Bethany Tabernacle have kindly made it possible for the use of their churches for him to speak in. The Collegiate and the Nazarene Gospel Service will be used on Sundays.

Obituary

WILLIAM McADAM.

HAVELOCK, Sept. 23 —(ENS) — Following an illness of two weeks, the death occurred in Nicholls hospital at Peterborough on Wednesday afternoon of William McAdam in his 86th year. Born in Tyendenaga, Mr. McAdam was the son of the late David McAdam and Jane Cross. He has been a resident of this district all his life, having farmed in Belmont township until he came to Havelock following the death of his wife, the former Margaret McArthur, fifteen years ago.

The funeral took place Friday, the service being held at the residence of his nephew William McAdam, conducted by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson of Havelock United Church of which the deceased was a member. He was also honorary member of Havewas made in Maple Leaf cemetery. lock L. O. L. No. 3266. Interment

Canadians Will Remember Coriano Village

By DOUG. HOW.
Canadian Press War Correspondent.

WITH THE 8th ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 23 (CP) — Now it was Coriano, another name lent to the profanity of soldiers, another village jerked from obsurity to become a word in a communique that said it was the keypoint in heavy fighting. It sat upon a dominating ridge and the ridge, running north and south, formed a natural bottleneck with the Adriatic coast, running northwest.

Men were killed and wounded because of Coriano's strategic location when Canadian and British troops came surging through the Gothic Line hellbent for the Lombardy plains and captured it last week. It had become one with the monastery hills, the Cassinos, the Sangros, the Salernos, or any of the other musical names of Italy that war had perverted into lines and bastions and battlefields.

The soldiers could look back over their year in Italy and wonder how many of their comrades had died because the Apennines thrust their rocky spine through the whole great length on this rugged peninsula. How many had died because the Moros and Sangros and Rapidos and Gariglianos flowed down to the sea from the hills, how many had died because Italy was so narrow and so rugged and you often could do nothing else but assault straight ahead across the innumerable rivers and over the innumerable hills, how many had died because the Italians built their villages upon the peaks of slope after slope and their homes and cemeteries with strong, thick walls that made them natural fortresses.

A Bad Country.

"I should say," the 8th Army's solid, trusted Lt.-Gen. Sir Oliver Leese had once declared, "that if one had a choice of countries in which to fight one would certainly pick Italy last."

The soldiers would growl their agreement. They knew with a blooded knowledge that he spoke an awful truth.

For every American who lived for weeks in an Anzio slit trench, for every Canadian who knew the hell of Ortona, for every Tommy and New Zealander and Polish soldiers and American who cursed the height that reared itself behind the shambled Cassino, the name of Italy would always ring with a haunted, deathly note.

Italy's war had been that sort of war—one where geography restricted movement.

Now a new, a final phase was at hand. The lanky peninsula was running itself out. Even here with Coriano at their side the Canadian and British troops were past the last of the Apennines. The Lombardy plains beckoned a few miles ahead.

Law Diplomas

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP) — Seventeen graduates of the school of law society of Upper Canada received diplomas as members of the bar yesterday. Included in the group were Frederick R. Duncan of Kingson, and F. J. Matthews (honors), Niagara Falls, Ont.

Killed In Action

TORONTO, Sept. 23 —(CP). — Col. William H. Price, former Ontario Attorney-General, and Mrs. Price yesterday received word that their son, Capt. John G. Price, 30, was killed in action in France on Sept. 8. A brother William Herbert Price, lives in Montreal.

WESTWALL WRECKER—Immediate commander of the American troops that breached Germany's Westwall in the Aachen area was Lieut.-Col. Frederick Gibbs (above), of Staten Island. The troops were of the U.S. First Army of Lieut.-Gen. Courney H. Hodges. The breach opened permitted the Americans to pour men and armor into the plain beyond and head for the next belt of defences, believed to be on the Rhine.

Mrs. F. McMahon Wins Draw For Quilt

CAVAN, Sept. 23 — (ENS). — The Pot-luck Quilters of the 7th and 8th Lines held a successful meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Coyte on Thursday afternoon. The draw was made for the quilt on which tickets had been sold amounting to $27.05. Miss Gloria Nelson made the draw and Mrs. Fred McMahon was the winner.

Two quilts for the Red Cross were quilted during the afternoon and plans were made to send ditty bags to the boys overseas. Mrs. A. Coyte as elected secretary-treasurer to fill the vacancy left by Miss Gladys Coyte, who is attending business college in Peterborough. The proceeds for the afternoon amounted to $3.25.

W. I. Honors Grandmothers

HAVELOCK, Sept. 23— (ENS) — The September meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute was celebrated as "Grandmother's Day" when over twenty grandmothers were present, including two great-grandmothers, the latter, Mrs. Robert Anderson and Mrs. George Smith were given the honour of choosing the selections for the community singing, their choice being "Abide With Me" and "Jesus Lover of My Soul." Mrs. Charles Jones was program convener and Mrs. Marcenna Rylott was accompanist. Mrs. Joseph Corneil sang "My Grandmother's Bible is True," playing her own accompaniment on an autoharp, and Mrs. William Anderson gave a reading entitled "Grandmothers."

A letter of thanks was read from Lieut. Nurse Leta Saunders, overseas, for chocolates sent to her by the auxiliary. Plans were made to pack Christmas boxes for soldiers from the district who are overseas. It was decided to take advantage of a course in leather glove making and November 14, 15 and 16 were the date set for same. Wednesday, September 27th was the date for an all-day guilting, a pot luck dinner to be served at noon. The members answered the roll call by exhibiting their latest photograph. Lunch was served at the close, the hostesses being Mrs. M. Rylott, Mrs. R. Wrightly and Mrs. J. Lloyd.

TREASURER'S SALE OF LANDS FOR TAXES

COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH

TO WIT:

BY VIRTUE OF A WARRANT made under the hand of the Warden and Seal of the County of Peterborough and to me directed bearing date the 8th Day of June in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Forty-four, I am commanded under the authority of the Statutes in that behalf, to levy on the land hereinafter mentioned and described for the arrears of taxes due thereon with the costs as hereinafter directed by the said Act. Therefore I give notice that unless the said arrears and costs are sooner paid I will proceed to Sell by Public Auction at the Court House in the City of Peterborough on the Third Day of October, 1944, at the hour of Ten o'clock (D.S.T.) in the Forenoon, the said Lands or so much thereof as may be necessary for the Taxes and all lawful charges incurred, in and about such Sales, and the collection of the Taxes.

A List of the Lands for Sale for Arrears of Taxes will be published in The Ontario Gazette on Saturday, July 1st, 1944. Copies of the List of Lands for Sale may be had in my Office.

ARMY EDUCATION.

Major O. B. Rexford, Ottawa, will address the Peterborough Rotary Club at Monday's luncheon on the subject, "Army Education and Plans for the Post-War Period."

THE COFFEE LINE.

Bill Couros of the Churchill Restaurant marvels at the morning demand for coffee. Up to 11 a.m. Friday he had made and sold fifteen gallons—a great deal of coffee when sold by the cup.

LONG DISTANCE BID.

A ceiling price bid of $1,741 from a New York State man named Perry for a 1941 heavy duty Dodge truck was an unusual incident at the auction sale Thursday at the premises of Wallace Shearer, Buckhorn. And this offer took the truck for delivery to New York. It is understood that Mr. Shearer is leaving on October 6 for the Yukon. Gordon Hancock was auctioneer.

FROST

Some farmers at the Market this morning reported a heavy frost last night, and said crops in the fields had all been bitten. Pumpkin and melon vines were all nipped noticeably, and many growers also reported finding ice in hen coops and stables.

TO VISIT COUNCIL

Members of the Local Council of Women have expressed a wish to attend a meeting of the city council, observe its ways routine of business and discussions. The occasion will probably be the first meeting in October. Next Monday night the council has an hour or more of committee work on its slate, a variation that would probably be uninteresting to visitors.

$500 FROM KIWANIS

A contribution of $500 to the Peterborough Memorial and Health Centre was passed by Kiwanis Club at its Friday luncheon. The amount is equivalent to ten dollars a member, or thereabouts.

VAGRANT VINE

Thomas Sexsmith, Cricket Place informs the Examiner that he has a pumpkin vine that would reach out to all parts of Ashburnham if October frosts did not clamp down on vigorous vegetation. This vine is already 35 feet long, but with only one pumpkin as its fruit of the season it would probably draw a low rating in the pie industry or at Canada Packers when the pumpkin pack is under way. And as further bid for agricultural distinction, Mr. Sexsmith planted two successive lots of beans and is getting generous helpings from the second harvest.

Dr. Herbert Young will be out of town from September 24 to October 7.

Apple Supply Is Plentiful On Farm Market

Apples of all sizes, shapes and varieties dominated the Farmers' Market this morning, with an abundance of fruit in evidence at most stalls.

Wealthies appeared to be the most in demand, and sold generally for 35 cents a six-quart basket. Peerless apples went for 30 cents for the same measure and St. Lawrence apples sold at 45 cents a basket, Gravenstein apples went at 60 cents a peck, and Alexandra held steady at 50 cents for the same quantity. Red Crabapples were also on the stalls in quantity, and went at 35 cents a six-quart measure.

Potatoes sold for 30 cents a six-quart basket, or 40 cents a peck.

Eggs started at 30 cents a dozen, and ranged to 45 cents.

Spring roosters were 35 cents a pound, hens 30 cents, and young chckens 35 cents. Tender roasted fowl sold for 50 cents a pound.

Pears, of the Bartlett type, were 75 cents a six-quart basket. Flemish Beauty were 65 cents, and Italian prune-plums were 70 cents a six-quart package.

On the vegetable front, corn was waning at 30 cents a dozen, onions vanished at two pounds for 15 cents, marrows were 10 cents, and beets were sold either at 5 cents a bunch or 40 cents a six-quart basket. Carrots were 5 cents a bunch, pumpkins started at 5 cents and ranged upwards, and red peppers were two for 5 cents.

Watermelons began selling prices at 25 cents, and as the size increased the price roamed to $1.25 each.

Cabbage was 10 cents, cauliflower was 10 cents to 30 cents, red cabbage was 15 to 20 cents, Broccoli was 10 cents, and squash remained at 20 cents each.

Tomatoes held the price popular for several weeks back, of 25 cents a six-quart measure, or 40 cents for the 11-quart size. Green tomatoes were 25 cents a basket. Gherkins were 90 cents a basket.

Elderberries became more plentiful this morning on the market, with the unstemmed berries selling for 36 cents a basket, and the stemmed berries at 25 cents a quart box.

Will Remain On Job

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 23 (AP)

EIGHT thousand civilian workers of the Spokane Air Service Command have signed a pledge to remain on the job the day Germany collapses. The workers adopted a slogan: "The war will end in Tokyo—not Berlin."

Committee Set To Arrange V-Day Plans

Plans for Peterborough's celebration of "V" Day, signifying the confidently foreseen and expected unconditional surrender of Germany to the armed forces of the Allied nations, were discussed last night at a public meeting of representative citizens in the city hall on the invitation of the Council.

Many ass[illegible] and other interests were repres[illegible] this preliminary sounding of opinion and ideas of the form and spirit of the community's rejoicing in the defeat of the enemy and escape from the bonds which Hitler and his war machine had forged for German domination of the free peoples o. the world. The consensus of the meeting and its paramount suggestion was that thanksgiving to God for the frustration of the Huns' "knavish tricks" should be foremost in the minds of the citizens when victory dawns and also placed first in any organized program of celebration.

Ian F. McRae expressed the tempering reminder that "V" Day, marking victory in Europe, might actually see the movement of Canadians to the Far East, and that the hoped for ultimate victory could not be completed until Japan also was defeated.

Mayor Hamilton was appointed chairman of the meeting and at its conclusion a committee was appointed on Alderman Dutton's motion, seconded by Albert Hope, to proceed with the nominating of officers and personnel of committees to outline plans and take charge of the details of Victory Day events in this city.

The members of that committee are: Vern Selkirk, Rev. W. A. Filer, Mrs. W. H. Morton, Ian McRae, Alderman J. E. Sullivan, Fred G. Mann and R. G. Routly.

Mut Beat Japan.

Art Bacon, Kiwanis Club representative, extending the comment of Mr. McRae, said that although Canada had been longer in the war than the United States, and naturally would desire to rejoice in the defeat of Germany, the spirit of the occasion should not be carried to the extent of creating an impression across the border "that we consider the war won" while Japan remains unconquered.

At the request of Mayor Hamilton, Alderman Dutton reviewed the council sentiment that some leadership should be given to the successful termination of the European stage of the war. It was felt that because of the cost of the war in lives and suffering two things should be kept in the forefront. One was public thanksgiving to Almighty God; another was remembrance of those who had been the agents of victory; and a third thought was that prominence should be given to the children of the city as a memory down their lives and a sharper realization of the event in which they participated.

Thanksgiving

Keith S. Wightman stressed the idea of realization of "what we have escaped" as a paramount conviction and understanding and motive in the thanksgiving and remembrance which had been mentioned. "Many of our fellow citizens are not going to feel able to jubilate at this event. Their losses are going to be too fresh and keen; but they can unite in prayers of thanksgiving."

Fred Mann said that individual church services would probably be preferable to most citizens, rather than a general public service which because of circumstances might not satisfy the reverential feelings of most people.

Alderman Bradburn remarked that planning would have to reckon with the uncertainties of weather throughout the autumn season.

Senator Iva C. Fallis said she did not represent anybody but was personally interested in the council's proposal. She was attracted to the idea of having the churches thrown open that day, with probably a mass meeting at night.

Rev. Mr. Filer suggested that the Ministerial Association could prepare a service for a general meeting of thanksgiving and remembrance if that was decided on.

Expressions of readiness to co-operate and assist in every way possible were given by others present, and it was finally arranged to proceed with preparations as left to the piloting committee.

Many Attend

Among those present were: Mrs. W. H. Morton of the Local Council of Women; Mrs. F. Merrett of the Women's Navy Auxiliary; Arthur Lewis, Kinsmen Club; Art Bacon, Kiwanis Club; I. F. McRae, Canadian Electric Company;

Drive For Centre Stands at $95,000

An estimate of $95,000 of funds collected in the Community Centre drive was given the Examiner by John L. Keyes, chairman of the Finance Committee, at mid-morning to-day. He stated that reports of the volunteer canvassers had begun to come in large numbers; and that a clear picture of amounts raised in each section of the financial drive would be available on Monday.

Word of the project that is being promoted in the city recently reached C. A. Salmonsen, formerly manager of the C. G. E. Peterborough Works and now assistant manger of the Lynn River Works of the General Electrc Co. at Lynn, Mass. Mr. Salmonsen, who himself was back of a similar project in 1938 that the coming of war forced to be shelved, had this to say in a letter addressed to former associates at the C. G. E. here.

"I was very much taken up with the Community project of a Memorial Community Centre. This seems to be a most timely propostion and one that is sure to be successful. There s no question in my mind but that the citizens of Peterborough will wholeheartedlv support the recommendations of the Citizens committee. A community facility of the kind proposed is most needed and this need is recognized by the majorty of the citzens.

It was also announced this morning that George Gimblett, president of the Canadian Legion Branch No. 52, has been appointed a member of the Finance Committee: and that Peter Wallace, 187 London street, and Ernest Dummitt, 254 King George street, have been placed on the building committee. Both are returned men whose assistance in planning a chamber of devoted to the memory of soldiers who have given their lives is expected to be of great value.

Failure To Stop Brings $40 Fine

Failure to stop at the scene of an accident cost Selbourne Woods, 18, a fine of $40 and $1.75 costs in police court this morning.

Woods had entered a plea of guilty yesterday to being involved in a hit-and-run case in which a parked car owned by William James had been damaged.

He told the court that he had fallen asleep at the wheel.

"That does not explain why you failed to stop after the accident," said Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C.

Woods was remanded until this morning for sentence and today William James, owner of the damaged car, said that nothing had been said to him about recompensing him for the injury done.

Magistrate Langley then fined the accused $40 and costs or a month in jail. The fine was paid.

Clayton Greatrix, Bloomfield, Ont., and John F. Thompson, Western avenue, pleaded guilty to drunk charges and were fined $10 and $2.50 costs.

Children Parade In Support Of Memorial Centre

Possibly 1,500 children, parading in masquerade costumes in marching columns brightly lit by the flames of torches, candles and innumerable flashlights, did their best in picturesque and lively fashion to publicize the campaign of the Memorial Community Centre, Friday night.

In view of the short notice on which plans for the event had to be laid, it was surprising to see so many children out; and by the nature of things the estimate of 1,500 marchers is only a guess, pure and simple.

It was also a pleasure and surprise to view the display of originality which the young boys and girls put into their costumes. Many were reminiscent of Hallowe'en night, with blackened faces; while some dressed to the limit in one or two cases to illustrate a point, but more often for the sheer enjoyment of it.

L. Jones was one of the young boys who illustrated a point. He came dressed as a hunchback carrying a sign that read, "For lack of sport."

Fred Hills, Bob Gamble, Bill Morehead and C. E. Blewett were judges of the boys and girls who jammed Riverside Bowl after the four separate parades arrived, with less confusion than might have been expected from the impromptu nature of the parade arrangements. In several cases where it was impossible to arrive at a decision that would have favored one child over another because their merits were so equal, supplementary prizes were given out. Each boys and girl chosen received a dollar in War Savings Stamps.

The gaily decorated bicycles of Billy Parry, 310 Braidwood, John Cameron, 661 Weller, and Clifford Wood, 23 Stewart, in that order, won the three prizes in that division. J. Fitzsimmons, with a dog-drawn wagon that was the subject of much applause and amusement, took first prize in the Best Signs class. He was followed by L. Jones, who figured prominently as the hunchback, and then by Bob Ross, 718 Charlotte street, who dressed handsomely as Johnny Canuck. Robert Woods was another winner in the same class.

In the confusion around the judging stand and what with the excitement of the children, it was not easy to get names and costumes down in writing for the record. A Miss R. McColl was first prize winner in Girls' Costumes class. She was followed by Joan Hillier and Marlene Cullen, who presented an engaging appearance as Aunt Jemimas. Dorothy Quesnel and Gloria Graham shared honors as Scotch lassies; and another winner was Miss K. Ferguson. One of the girls awarded a prize, made a big hit dolled up dripping in furs, with her hair glamorously arrayed on the top of her head.

Representing a wounded soldier and bandaged to the limit, Floyd Green, carried off top honors for boys' costumes. Second was James McTague, who was dressed as a hobo; and third was Walter Bruce, who came as an old man with a beard and pipe.

The four parades were nearly of equal size, with that coming up from the Canada Packers with the Sea Cadets and Kiwanis perhaps having a slight edge. First to arrive at the Bowl was the Air Cadets branch of the parade, which marched from the Armouries. The Group with the Sea Cadets waited at the beginning of Burnham street to let the Boy Scouts division into the Bowl ahead of them. Last of the four parades to arrive was the Girl Guides and the Lions, who walked in from Charlotte and Downie streets. Their columns presented the most orderly appearance, keeping good discipline as they came down Hunter street two abreast.

The Prince of-Wales Rangers and the Women's Voluntary Service Corps contributed their bands to aid in the fun. Singing of the verse selected for the children to try their vocal chords on was not very audible while the parades marched to the park, but once there the combined columns joined in a hearty rendition.

The service clubs and many individuals helped in marshalling the youngsters and in addition to J. A. Jebson, several young people spoke briefly at the Bowl. Andy Rutter served as master of ceremonies.

Warkworth Gift Honors Memory To Aid Victims

Unconsciously whether they would or, not, every person really builds their monument while they journey through life, for their footprints upon the sands of time should, if they have been worthwhile, leave their imprints behind them, which no elaborate pillar of marble or stone can either contradict or add very much to among the circle where they are best known.

In recent days, a great many people in this city have supported a movement, from out of which the future of many a young life is going to be considerably benefitted, as a memorial to those whose lives have given the utmost in service that any one person may give for humanity's sake, their crown of life being thus perpetuated in this manner by continuing to do untold good for perhaps many generations that are yet unborn.

Similarly, during the course of the operations of the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund, a number of people have paid a tribute to loved ones who have passed over to the eternal shore, by giving assistance to those who were in distress through the ravages made by enemy air raid attacks over Britain, and latterly through the far more proportionate devastation caused by the attacks made by robot or flying bombs.

By so doing, they honor the memory of a lost one in a far more useful manner, and in a way which would surely call for the utmost in approbation from those whose memory is thus honored and perpetuated, were they in a position ot transmit their true feelings on such matters.

To-day a very nice gift of $25.00 is acknowledged as a gift to the fund from C. O. Dudley of Warkworth, given in memory of the late J. K. Wilce, and the good it will do among those who have been recently afflicted through the ravages of the robot bombs is surely an instance of how the memory of one who once walked the paths of life hereabouts can live on to do some good for others, even after life for him on this earth has passed beyond the ken of mortal man.

Shortly before the Christmas of 1940, and not long after the fund had begun to operate, someone placed a box in Bert McLeod's Drug store to entice the odd change for the benefit of the fund, and when the amount it had thus collected was sent to the secretary of the fund, a suggestion was made that this could be duplicated in a regular way in other places of business.

This suggestion as many will know was carried into effect, and has been responsible for collecting the second largest of any one source of fund revenue under the fund's own management. To-day another collection amounting to $2.30 is recorded from this one box which has been keeping on at this one task ever since.

7th Victory Loan Objective Is Up $150,000

Organization for the Seventh Victory Loan is getting under way in Peterborough with a meeting of the executive called for next Tuesday. Gordon S. Matthews, the county chairman has announced that the Seventh Loan will be under the direction of E. W. Simpson, who in the past loans has been public relations officer. W. A. Reid will be in charge of general sales and the payroll section will be under Mr. Reid and A. L. Stedham. Major Bill Dalton, who has been with the armed forces for the past four years, will be the new public relations officer.

The objective, according to Mr. Matthews will be $4,650,000, which is about $150,000 higher than in the Sixth Loan. This is in accordance with the general increase in objectives across the Dominion. Hon. J. L. Ilsley in bringing down his 1944 budget and announcing the cancellation of the compulsory savings portion of the income tax, intimated that the loss would have to made up in increased victory loan buying.

In the Sixth Victory Loan the amount secured was $4,811,450, with every township and division going over the top. The city of Peterborough (general canvass) was asked for $1,550,000 and raised $1,576,450. Payroll savings section had an objective of $950,000 and raised $1,105,950; special names $1,400,000 and secured $1,440,000 and the rural section had an objective of $600,000 with $687,050 being secured.

In rural Peterborough North Monaghan had an objective of $40,000 and came through with $50,150; Otonabee $130,000 and got $134,000; Asphodel $38,000 and got $49,000; Norwood village $58,000 and got $62,550; Smith township $90,000 and secured $119,600; Harvey, Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos townships $45,000 and secured $47,500; Lakefield village $55,000 with $57,500; Ennismore township $12,000 with $14,000; Douro township $35,000 with $38,750; Dummer township $30,000 with $38,250; Belmont and Methuen township $25,000 with $28,000, and Havelock village $42,000 with $47,750.

For Monday, September 25.

Monday's astrological forecast is not a propitious one generally showing a sinister and sudden force that may result in disruption and treachery, and loss by way of intrigue, sordid or plotting affiliations, and betrayal, both in public and private relations A stern adherence to probity, integrity and adherence to the codes and regular tenets and practices may be of a timely assistance.

Those whose birthday it is have a year ahead calling for their utmost tact, discretion, sound judgment as well as probity and high principle, lest they be caught in a net of deception, fraud, intrigue, and other sinister snares or pitfalls. This may affect their private relations as well as business. There might be powerful social or affectional compensations with enhanced prestige and good will, in home and business. There should be eventual inheritance as well.

A child born on this day may be stronger and more successful in its domestic, social, cultural and affectional life than in its business association. In these it may be an easy dupe to trickery.

Home and School Association News

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL

F. B. Smitheram was guest speaker at the Queen Mary Home and School Association meeting on Friday night. He addressed the graduating class and friends on the subject "something to look for from a higher education". He took his audience into the field of science, telling first a story of how in ancient Damascus metal was tempered. The prince's sword was heated in a brazier of charcoal and then plunged into a slave. Later salt water was discovered to be as good. Then in the field of medicine he used this illustration: typhoid fever broke out in an ancient hamlet and many cures were tried such as bleeding the victims, scourging others, mystic rights and burning at the stake. Finally they burned the village and the well causing the trouble was filled up. Now when the disease breaks out the well would be the first thing investigated. Mr. Smitheram also mentioned the Civil War and the abolition of slavery and pointed out that machinery used in the work with cotton had much to do with the abolition of slavery too.

These illustrations showed the boys and girls that the realm of science has made remarkable strides forward and these advances were achieved by patient searching among factual evidence. The world has made remarkable scientific progress and limited social progress. He urged the boys and girls to look into the relationships of men that go to make living together in harmony and a world wide community spirit and to find in higher education an inkling of those laws so that the coming generation may live in a better world.

The president, Mrs. James Mathews introduced the very able chairman of the evening, Mr. Victor Cunningham, a new member of the Queen Mary staff.

Mr. O. M. Steer, principal of the school welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham, spoke briefly to the graduating class and presented their certificates with a personal remark and a word of encouragement for each pupil. Mr. Steer as their teacher and the graduating class were the recipients of many congratulations as there were no failures in this class.

The valedictorian, Norma Harrison thanked the teachers on behalf of the boys and girls for their help during their public school life.

Miss Elsie Chambers rendered two delightful piano solos, "Nocturne" by Chopin and "Playera", a Spanish dance. A very outstanding euphonium solo was played by Mr. Alfred Mills, accompanied by Mrs. H. V. Dobson.

During the evening community singing was enjoyed with Mrs. H. V. Dobson at the piano.

The chairman in well chosen words thanked the guest speaker and soloists and said how much he, himself enjoyed his work at Queen Mary School.

The president invited the graduating class to stay for ice cream and cake. The well attended meeting closed with the National Anthem.

Remember When—

(By The Canadian Press)

New York Yankees' Charles (Red) Ruffing stopped Washington Senators bid for the American League pennant 12 years ago today by handcuffing the Nats with three hits in 10 innings. The big redhead won his own game when he drove in the winning run with a single hit in the last of the 10th.

It looks as if the southpaw is going to be a poor prospect for the world series unless he regains his winning touch again....Stan Musial and Whitey Kurowski are both back in action with the Cards....The first game of the Industrial League final series between Quakers and Brintons will be staged at Riverside Park at 6 o'clock Monday night and should be a real battle....Brintons have just finished knocking off the strong Westclox club....The final series will be a best three-of-five affair.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

—By J. R. Scott

IF RUSSIA GOT INTO PACIFIC WAR—When announcemen was made at the Quebec conference that Stalin had been invited, although it had been stated that the war to finish off Japan would be a major topic — newsmen and assorted experts were quick to scent a tipoff since, heretofore, Stalin had been left out of any talk involving Japan, it had been assumed that Russian aid in delivering the knock-out blow at the Japs could be expected, and this would begin with use of the vital Russian bases near (1) Vladivostok and on Kamchatka (2). Meanwhile the first moves to a clean-up of the Philippines (3) have been made and the southeast coast of China (4) assumes growing importance and a drive from the sea would, most probably, have the Foochow area as a goal since good communication lines to the interior are there. Formosa (5) is the chief obstacle to be overcome in such a drive — but the Quebec agreements will doubtless include methods of meeting all problems.

Critical Shortage Of Plasma Donors Urged Not To Slacken

The directors of the Blood Donor service in Ontario have warned that there is a critical shortage of blood plasma, and although many Canadians have taken an optimistic view of the probable duration of the war in Europe, there can be no easing off in the number of blood donations.

In a letter to the Peterborough Blood Donors Clinic, Russell T. Kelly, chairman of the Ontario committee wrote: "Blood serum is needed and needed badly—it is doubtful if in the past two years our supply of serum has been as low as it is today. The demand since the invasion has been tremendous and I am advised that it will continue for sometime even should the war with Germany end tomorrow."

It has been reported that 91 per cent of the Canadian casualties recover, and this is largely credited to the blood serum.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WHAT WAS THE BID?

TO LEAD or not to lead the suit your partner bid depends on the situation in which he made his call. Just what kind of a bid was it? An opening bid shows pretty good strength, an overall of an opponent's bid may be weaker, a response to a bid by yourself can be still weaker, and an answer to your informatory double may indicate no high cards whatever. Leading the last kind of suit may be worse than futile, not to say void.

North led the A of the heart suit his partner had bid, and after that his chance to stop the contract was gone. West ruffed it, led to the spade K, ruffed the heart 3 with the spade 8 in order to guard against four hearts by South, scored the spade A and led the J to the Q.

Now the heart K and Q exhausted South of the suit, and two more hearts followed. On the four hearts, West discarded two cards from each minor, and North was unwise enough to do likewise. Thereupon the club 2 to the K put North in with the A and he was able also to cash the Q. But now he could do nothing but take one diamond trick, and had to give west the game trick with the diamond K.

If North had taken into account the fact that he coerced the heart bid out of his partner with his double, he would have led differently. A spade would have wrecked the declarer, if the defenders were prepared to follow it up with another spade when next they got in the lead.

St. Andrew's Appoints WMS Delegates

MILLBROOK, Sept. 23 —(ENS)— The regular meeting of the W.M. S. of St. Andrew's United church was held in the parsonage Wednesday with a good attendance. The theme 'Advance' was emphasized in the worship service, with Miss Ethel Hatherly reading the Scripture, and the president, Mrs. A. L. Sisco, showing that leadership, enthusiasm and consecration are necessary for success in any undertaking.

The treasurer, Miss M. E. Hetherington, reported $118 sent to presbyterial treasurer up to June 30. Mrs. Sisco and Mrs. Edmunds were appointed delegates to the fall rally and all were urged to attend. Mrs. Sisco introduced the new study book, "West of the Date Line," using a wall map, and having seven women give brief sketches of the islands in the southeast Pacific.

Mrs. Bannister reported on the school for leaders, recently held in Whitby, picturing vividly the fellowship and fun, as well as giving the main points of the lectures and worship services. Mrs. Fred Smith read a message on Christian stewardship, calling for an advance of 15 per cent in offerings to meet increased costs of the work and extra calls. Mrs. James Might prayed.

A letter from Mrs. W. E. Ball brought greetings and a clear idea of the task being carried through in connection with the farm service camp at Holland Marsh.

Group Sports Encouraged In Reserve Army

Tabloid sports, or competition among all members of an Army unit based on various phases of their training, are beginning to assume a significant and interesting place in the weekly parades of the 2nd (R) Battalion, Prince of Wales Rangers.

The program, announced by Major V. M. Eastwood, M.C., is now taking shape as the reserve regiment enters on the second week of its fall training schedule. It is a development of the type of athletic training which got its rise in the Active Army camps in the course of this war; and has proved so successful both in instructing and helping to keep interest at a high pitch among trainees, that it is now having its influence felt generally through Army groups.

It was at their summer camp at Connaught Ranges last July that the Rangers' training command first experimented with the idea of tabloid sports; and they turned out to be of such decided popularity among the men themselves that everyone supported the proposal to include them as a regular feature of the Tuesday night parades.

Now this athletic innovation is in full swing, has been put in practice at the first two sessions of the fall training season, and is also being supplemented by boxing instruction and matches between regiment personnel held Thursday evenings. This latter is a volunteer affair, which is expected to become quite a drawing card. Boxing was one of the favorite recreations of the boys at Connaught this year; and the decision to continue it during the winter stems from that fact.

Dress Up Drill

Basically, the idea behind tabloid sports is twofold in nature. In the first place, it is an effort to direct the athletic and competitive instincts of men taking training in such a way that the routine drills and instruction may acquire a new fascination by being made the object of team competition. Secondly, it endeavors to eliminate the idea of professionalism and the spectator angle from athletics generally, by aiming to raise abilities among the less athletic to a not-too-difficult average standard, rather than by concentrating on improving the athletes who are already proven men.

It works out this way at the training parades of the Prince of Wales Rangers. The men compete in sections and prizes are awarded to the winning teams. Take for instance the high jump. The bar is set at only three feet, but the jump is made in regulation Army boots and everyone — the good athlete, the mediocre and the inexperienced — proceed to clear it a that height. To some that will be hard. To others it will seem like a joke; and, forgetting the heavy boots they have on, they will go at it with a "this-is-duck's-soup" attitude and perhaps miss. Point scores are kept, and teams are docked a point for their members' mistakes.

Practical Training

There might come a time when a soldier's fate would depend on his ability to clear a three-foot height—say a hedge in France—in his Army boots and battle dress. Here are some of the other tabloid sports the Rangers are doing now. They hold competitions that illustrate and improve their technique in handling the Bren gun, competitions in loading, unloading, reporting gun clear and immediate action. They match skills in throwing grenades and trying to hit an eight-foot cricle at 25 yards; and that's not easy, so the old-timers say.

The rifle has its part, too, in this program of training events. The Rangers test against each other their agility in completing both a lying and a standing load; and when the order is given to fix bayonets, they try out their steadiness and accuracy in making thrusts to the right and left. A test of balance is the job of walking down a 12-foot plank set on edge.

Wilfred "Soldier" Jones, a professional boxer who has held many championships in military circles and was a physical instructor in France and England in the last war, is in charge of the boxing night for which candidates are now signing up. For a time he did physical-instruction work at the Training Centre when Col. Keeler was in command.

Prophet's Ideal

receive the good seed of the Word of God.

Preparation for Worship.

On Sunday morning you should enter your closet for your private devotions. Quietly, consciously you should place yourself in the Presence of the Almighty. In the place where you kneel "holy ground?" Try to realise His presence. Pray for a sense of "awareness of God." Then take this "sense of awareness into the Church. It is your spiritual offertory to create the right atmosphere. It is of more value than much gold and silver. True worship is not easy, but the ideal will grow if you desire it. It will leave its mark upon your face.

A man becomes like the god he worships. There was an idol temple in Greece. At the door a mirror. Into this the worshipper was ordered to look. At first he saw his own face. Then slowly the change came till at last he saw the face of the god he came to worship. A profound truth. The face of Moses shone but he wist not that it shone. This can be your experience if you strive to worship God in spirit and truth, "for the Father seeketh such to worship Him"

Joseph T. Tully Captures 2 Junior Titles

Both junior titles, male and female, in the county Holstein cattle competition at the Lakefield Fair, were features in the awards won by the herd of Joseph T. Tully.

Ten of the prominent breeders of "black and white" cattle showed 103 of their select stock, making a total of 154 entries. Total money awards was $476.

Dunham Foster of Bloomfield, as judge, encountered many close decisions in nearly all the classes, and the competition generally was another highly satisfactory contribution by the Holstein breeders to the fair at Lakefield.

The results were as follows:—

Toronto Author Gets $100,000

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — Fourfold success is the reward of the Canadian novelist, Gwethalyn Graham, who arived in New York this morning from Montreal to be present at festivities preceding publication on October 4 of her new book called Earth and High Heaven.

This love story, demonstrating race prejudice, is the Literary Guild's book choice for October. A condensed version in four parts appeared in Collier's this month. Serial rights were sold for $7,500, and the book club rights for $42,000.

Contract has now been signed with R.K.O. for the moving picture rights for $100,000.

Miss Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Erichsen-Brown of Toronto, first came to public notice by winning the Governor-General's Medal for her first novel, Swiss Sonata, in 1935. It was a story based on her experiences at a girls' school in Switzerland. During the intervening three years she completed three other novels, but discarded them without submitting them to a publisher. Most of her published work between books has consisted of articles in Saturday Night.

Earth and High Heaven will begin its life as a book by simultaneous publication in three countries. Jonathan Cape will publish it in London, Lippincott in New York, and Thomas Nelson & Sons in Toronto. Advance sales have already required two large printings in the United States to fill orders received two weeks before publication date.

Not since the winning of the Atlantic Monthly Prize by Mazo de la Roche in 1927 has any Canadian novelist met with such instant and emphatic international approval. Like Miss de la Roche, Miss Graham is sincere literary artist. Only 30 years of age, she is now in position of having broken through her Siegfried Line and the open plains of a writing career lie before her.

Getting Ready

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Sept. 23 — (AP). — Among co-eds who registered this week at the University of Rochester is Miss Ada M. King—age 80. Miss King, a former private school teacher, is taking an extension course in English "because I want to learn all I can in this world to get ready for the next."

BRITISH ARMY RELIEVES PARATROOPS

Allied Push Levels Gothic Line

Dominion Troops Meeting Heavy Resistance

ROME, Sept. 25 —(CP) — Heavy fighting is continuing in the Adriatic sector of the Italian front where British and Dominion troops of the British 8th Army have been meeting "very strong resistance," to-day's Allied communique said.

American troops of the Allied 5th Army continued to force ahead North of Firenzula on the Central sector of the Italian front yesterday while British and Indian Forces on their right made important gains.

Allied naval units, meanwhile, bombarded enemy targets along the French-Italian frontier and other naval forces were active in the Gulf of Genoa.

The M. A. A. F. attacked military targets in Yugoslavia, three airdromes in the Athens area and railway yards at Salonika.

At the southeastern end of the Po valley, the British 8th Army has run into heavy fighting against a line of German infantry, paratroopers and armor battling desperately to hold a line across the entrance to the broad Lombard plains to the north.

Meanwhile, exploiting their success in smashing through the heart of the Germans' vaunted Gothic Line, American troops of the Allied 5th Army have punched to within 12 miles of the Bologna-Rimini highway.

Although there have been unofficial reports that the Germans have begun evacuating some troops and supplies from the western part of Northern Italy, 8th Army headquarters declared there were no indications that the Germans had started any withdrawing movements in the Adriatic sector.

9-Day Job.

Fifth Army headquarters proclaimed that "in nine days the 5th Army has destroyed the line which it took the Germans nine months to build."

"Doughboys driving northeast from Firenzuola seized four heights —Monte la Fine, Della Croce, Monte Cucca and Porarra—this clearing an access to the Po valley, an official statement said.

These features are roughly 15 miles from Imola, which is on the Bologna-Rimini rail route.

The rate of progress 5th Army units due north of Florence are making toward Gologna, a city of 270,000 at the edge of the Lombardy

Canadians Advance Slowly Across Lombardy Plains

By DOUG. HOW—Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS ON THE ADRIATIC FRONT, Sept. 25—(CP Cable).—Canadians, with Indian and British troops on their left flank have developed their drive across the great Lombardy plains at a sluggish pace as the Germans threw in tanks and anti-tank weapons for a delaying action before the Rubicon River in a new attempt to hold 8th Army forces threatening withdrawal routes for Nazi divisions still involved in the Apennines.

From the Marecchia River bridgehead established by the British forces, Canadian infantry and armor of Maj.-Gen. Hoffmeister's division began an advance on Saturday morning that by late Sunday had penetrated 2,000 yards beyond the Rimini-Bologna railway to within half a mile of the hamlet of San Vito. On their right flank other Canadians reached the Pedrere Grande stream, five miles north of Rimini. On the left, the Indians took a small height dominating the village of Sant' Ancangelo, six miles west of Rimini, near the

R.A.F. Supplies Tito's Patriots

By NOLAND NORGAARD, Associated Press War Correspondent.

ROME, Sept. 25 —(AP) — The Allied Air Command disclosed to-day that more than 5,000 tons of guns, ammunition and other supplies had been flown by the R. A. F. during the past two years to Yugoslav Partisans and to patriots in other Central and Southern European countries.

"Tito's Army," the command's repotr said, "Owes much to the gun-supply runners of the R. A. F. who, under the enemy's nose, have taken thousands of tons of supplies by air to the Partisans, ranging from anti-tank guns and vehicles to needles and thread, from mules to paper clips.

The first secret operations were made from the Middle East in the summer of 1942.

"In the winter of 1942-43," the report added, "contact men were dropped in Greece. Some of these brave men, having run out of supplies, perished through exposure in the mountains. In the spring of 1943, there began the real buildup of gun-running—by a squadron of Halifaxes working from the western desert. The Germans, becoming aware of what was happening, sent up Stukas when the supply aircraft were about. When the recognition lights came from the ground, and parachutes floated down, bombs fell as well.

"But the R. A. F. soon evolved counter measures, and now a steady flow of arms, equipment and food goes in every night."

Allied Troops Capture Island

ROME, Sept. 25 (AP)—German forces in the Central Dalmatian Island in the Adriatic have been eliminated with the wiping out of the garrison at Solta, directly opposite the Bay of Split. An official announcement said today the garrison of two companies (about 200 men) had been concentrated in the island's towns.

A commando patrol landed Sept. 17. They were reinforced five nights later by an R.A.F. regiment unit and a battery of 25-pounders, while the Navy frustrated an enemy attempt to flee to the mainland.

Yugoslav Partisan troops have driven the Germans from Banja Luka, second largest town in Bosnia, a communique broadcast from Marshal Tito's headquarters said. The broadcast, heard in New York, said 3,000 enemy troops were killed and 4,000 captured.

Robot Blitz Is Continuing

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP) — The Germans struck at the London area and the Southern Counties with flying bombs twice during the night.

The attacks came in two short bursts— just after dark and again early this morning—and caused some casualties. Eleven persons were injured when one bomb exploded on the grounds of a Roman Catholic boys' school in the country, blowing the roofs off school buildings and smashing windows and doors.

The government remained frankly concerned over housing facilities for bombed out Londoners before winter sets in. An appeal has gone out to carpenters, bricklayers, and painters to volunteer for the job of repairing some 900,000 homes which have been damaged in the capital.

Gen. Simonds Wins Award

Made Companion Of The Order Of The Bath

OTTAWA, Set. 25 (CP)—Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, C.B.E., D.S.O., 41, Ixworth, England, and Kingston, Ont., commander of the 2nd Canadian Corps attached to the 1st Canadian Army in France, has been made a Companion of the Order of the Bath, Defence Headquarters announced today.

He was in command of the First Canadian Division during the Allied invasion of Sicily and throughout the early stages of the Italian campaign, to October, 1943.

He was subsequently appointed to command an armored division in Italy, and later assumed the command of the Second Canadian Corps and promoted to his present rank.

This most recent award follows a rapid chain of events that marks his military career. Graduate of the Royal Military College at Kingston he joined the Royal Canadian Artillery in 1925. Subsequently he attended gunnery staff course in England and he is a graduate of the staff college at Camberley, Eng. He served formerly as instructor in tactics at Royal Military College, Kingston.

Gen. Simonds was born at Ixworth, England. His father, Lt.-Col. C. B. Simonds, served with the British army in the First Great War. His grandfather served in the Indian Army.

44 Give Approval To UNRRA Plan

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 (CP)—United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation spokesmen said today that unanimous approval of the 44-nation council was expected for a Russian resolution asking that special weight and urgency in granting relief shall be given the needs of countries which have suffered most.

They said the resolution, already approved by the committee on policy, has received general support.

Some division of opinion on any system of granting priorities in the provision of relief had been forecast last week, but spokesmen said that it had not come into evidence.

1,200 Planes Smash Rail Yards

Calais Battered; Western Reich Again Under Attack

LONDON, Sept. 25 (AP)—More than 1,200 American heavy bombers with strong fighter escort attacked railway yards and other targets today at Frankfurt, Coblenz and Lugwigshafen—all in the front line of the German western defences.

Coblenz and Ludwigshafen both are nerve centres and nodal communication hubs for the Siegfried Line. Frankfurt is one of the Reich's greatest industrial centres and arsenals.

The U.S. 8th Air Force, announcing the attacks, said clouds obscured all objectives and bombing was done by special instruments.

Meanwhile, tremendous explosions echoed across the Channel from Calais, indicating heavy bombers were battering the surrounded and long passed German garrison there.

Well over 4,000 tons were thrown on the Germans last week in the French city of 68,000 which is 21 miles southeast of Dover.

The explosions resounded soon after three separate waves of R.A.F. heavy Halifax and Lancaster bombers crossed the Straits. The Germans said the Western Reich was again under attack.

British heavies loosed more than 3,900 tons of bombs on the German industrial cities of Munster and Bochum on Saturday night. British and U.S. fighter-bombers worked most of Sunday over a wide variety of ground targets in support of armies on the German frontier.

French-based U.S. Thunderbolts were called in to help break up a formation of 100 Nazi tanks blocking the Third Army in the Nancy area. Two low-level attacks scattered the tanks into woods where they were strafed and bombed.

Bottled up with their backs to the sea, Germans at the French port of Calais were bombed by a small force of R.A.F. and R.C. A.F. heavy bombers on Sunday evening despite a Channel storm which forced some planes to turn back.

Eight bombers were lost in the Calais action, mainly to flak.

American heavy bombers from Italy destroyed large numbers of huge German Junkers-52 transport planes, intended to evacuate military personnel from Greece in attacks on three airdromes yesterday near Athens.

In the last previous raid of its kind 77 of the big planes were wrecked on the ground on the same fields. The toll yesterday has not yet been announced.

Most of Sunday's operations in the west were carried out in driving rainstorms, ground radios directing the planes directed to the targets. France-based R.A.F. fighters concentrated on rail communications in Holland, destroying at least 18 locomotives and 60 freight cars.

Reinforcements In Italy Are Well-Trained Troops

HALIFAX, Sept. 25 — (CP)). — More than 460 Canadian veterans of the battle of Caen in France and the smashing of the Hitler line in Italy arrived here last night on the British hospital ship Aba. The majority of the men were soldiers, but there were a few airmen and sailors repatriated from the United Kingdom.

Cpl. Neil Fulkerson of Sarnia, Ont., was wounded in the roaring battles that eddied around Cassino.

He told of the night his battalion was pushing up the road about eight miles from Cassino.

"The Germans ambushed us," he related. "Our platoon was a little apart from the main body and somehow the Jerries overlooked us."

Real Fighters.

"We decided to counter-ambush, and long about sundown we jumped on them. They outnumbered us quite a bit, but you should have seen some of our boys fight. Don't let anyone ever tell you the average Canadian hasn't got a lot of guts. You'd see quiet guys you'd think wouldn't harm a kitten rip into those Panzer troops. We gave 'em a pretty tough fight."

Pte. G. W. James of Georgetown, Ont., told of the power of Canadian artillery in Italy.

"When the Canadians hit the Hitler line they outnumbered the Jerries in big guns by about ten to one. It was really terrific."

The men referred to the recent talk about the lack of training some of the Canadian reinforcement units had when they were sent up to the front lines.

"I don't know about France," one man said, "but in Italy the reinforcements I saw knew what it was all about. You might find a few who didn't but all in all they were good men. Men you could trust to back you up."

Air Army Still In Bad Spot But Supplies Boost Morale

American Troops Make New Crossing Into Reich

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 25 — (AP). — The new British and American wedges have thrust across the German border in a direct drive on the Siegfried anchor of Kleve, it was disclosed today. The threatened sweep into the Ruhr, Germany's northern industrial area, was gathering breadth and force.

At the same time the British 2nd Army thrust more troops across the upper branch of the Rhine near Arnhem where British airborne "Red Devils" had written a new epic in a heroic eight-day stand, and began building up the hard-won foothold on the north bank on the left of the two new wedges.

On the right of the Kleve-pointed wedges British troops with airborne reinforcements were fighting on a 13-mile front from Deurne east of Eindhoven to near Kolkel, to the north, in an area only about 16 miles from the German frontier.

To the west of the British corridor driven to Arnhem, Canadian and British advanced 10 miles on a 30-mile front to the Antwerp Canal. The Canadians seized a bridgehead over the Antwerp-Turnhout Canal, about five miles northeast of Antwerp, and hammered a menacing wedge behind Germans retreating from the Meuse-Schelde Canal toward the Antwerp-Turnhout line. British troops entered Turnhout, about 25 miles northeast of Antwerp.

Confidence bounded that the British parachutists at Arnhem would hold until even more substantial links were forged to exploit their bridgehead for a sweep into the northern Reich.

Polish reinforcements from the British 2nd Army stormed across the quarter-mile wide branch of the Rhine at Arnhem in the face of a hail of German shellfire to relieve the "Red-Devil" British Parachutist Division which for a week had fought gallantly and alone against terrific odds.

Use Small Boats

The British 2nd Army force which thrust across the river at night in assault boats and improvised rafts was small, but the arrival of the relieving forces after their bitter week-long battle 50 miles north to accomplish the link up boosted the morale of the skyborne Tommies who had been compressed at one time into a mile-square pocket and still refused to surrender.

The bridgehead won by Lt.-Gen. Crerar's Canadians was in the area of Lochtenburg, across the Antwerp-Turnhout canal running northeast from Antwerp to St. Leonard and then east to Turnhout, 25 miles from the great Schelde river port.

British troops entered Turnhout, on the Antwerp-Turnhout canal mid-way between Antwerp and Eindhoven and 16 miles south of Tilburg, a front line dispatch announced. Turnhout, a city of 29,000, was the largest Belgian city still in Ger-

Rescue 14 Miners

GUANAJUATO, Mexico, Sept. 25—(AP).—Fourteen workers trapped inside a silver mine for 10 days were rescued yesterday. Some of them said they ate part of their belts and other clothing to remain alive. They had water to drink, but nearly all of them were so weak they had to be carried out. They were trapped when a boulder blocked their exit during heavy rains September 14.

Canadians Held Toughest Job Across Normandy

TORONTO, Sept. 25.— (CP). — Premier George Drew of Ontario in a luncheon address to the Canadian Club to-day said that history will give special mention to the "initiative, stamina and sublime courage" of Canadians who were given the job of holding the vital coastal approaches to the Normandy landing beaches.

Terming the Allied landing in Normandy the greatest and most decisive military achievement of all history, the Premier said: "It will be written that the Canadian divisions along the coast were given the most critical part of the whole line, and that the success of the broad battle plan in France depended upon the manner in which the pivotal flank held and was advanced against the strongest enemy divisions."

While paying tribute to the British, Americans, French, Poles, Dutch and Belgians, he said history would acknowledge not only the Canadians' job of holding the coastal approaches but also their work in cleaning up the area from which flying bombs were being launched against London.

Premier Drew described his personal impression of his recent trip to England and the battlefields of France. He said he was forcefully impressed by the fact that the welcome given the Allies in liberated French areas seemed to be cordial even in places reduced to rubble by Allied bombing.

Of all the fighting in which Canadians have been engaged none has been heavier or of greater moment to the Allied cause than the battle for the strongly defended French Channel ports, he said. German S.S. troops there "have fought with almost unbelievable courage and fanaticism."

Hard To Believe.

"I flew over Le Havre shortly after it had been bombed for the first time," the Premier continued. "The whole area occupied by the Germans was a mass of flame. A

Chaos Develops Across Greece

CAIRO, Sept. 25.—(AP).—Chaos is spreading among the Germans in Southern Greece, Albania and Yugoslavia, and military commentators said to-day the situation probably is a miniature of what the Allies will encounter in Germany itself.

Information reaching Cairo said the Germans lack co-ordination in extricating their occupation troops in the Balkans, outflanked and in an increasingly untenable position since the about-faces of Romania and Bulgaria and the swift advances of the Russians of the frontiers of Hungary, Yugoslavia and Greece.

Some groups are surrendering wherever possible, some obviously are waiting to surrender to the Allies instead of to the Partisans, and others are continuing to fight in isolated pockets.

Experts expressed belief that similar patterns of chaos will appear in western Germany when the Wehrmacht disintegrates.

What is left of the formal German effort to evacuate Greece and Albania continues, but is limited by lack of facilities and by actions of Balkan Partisans and Guerillas. Reports show the evacuation far behind schedule.

Foreign Workers In Germany Ordered To Strike

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 25—(AP).—A spokesman for Gen. Eisenhower told the 12,000,000 foreign workers in Germany today that "the hour for action has come" and gave them instructions for activities in the last round of the battle for Germany.

The workers were exhorted to beware of the Gestapo and not to underrate its powers.

The message said:

"Note carefully the following instructions:

"The organized cells of foreign workers within the Reich will take immediate action according to the pre-arranged plan." Those not in organized cells were told "their safest course is to disappear from the towns and cities and to seek shelter and employment on the land.

"In certain areas of Germany workers of the organized cells are today being provided with means for active resistance," it added.

Nazis Kidnap Norwegians

MONTREAL, Sept. 25 — (CP). — German occupation forces in Norway appear to be making captives of the most prominent people of the Allied nations to be held as hostages, under the threat of death. Wilhel Morgentierne, Norwegian delegate to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration Council, said at a press conference today.

"The Germans seem to think they will be able to threaten us with the extinguishing of some of our finest people who are held as hostages," he continued.

"By killing such hostages they may seek to weaken leadership in the United Nations after the war."

Calling the news "very discouraging," Mr. Morgentierne said the Germans were taking hostages "on a large scale" and shipping them to Germany. One vessel carrying hostages had been torpedoed and some of the survivors had reached Sweden to tell of the horrors of their captivity.

Between 8,000 and 9,000 Norwegians are held by the Germans, most of them political prisoners.

Mr. Morgentierne said it was estimated 250,000 German troops remained in Norway, only 50,000 less than the peak number established there.

300,000 French Want To Fight On

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 25 (CP-Reuter)—Gen. Koenig, commander-in-chief of the French forces of the interior and Military Governor of Paris, said today with the liberation of France almost complete, between 200,000 and 300,000 Frenchmen wanted to continue in the war against Germany.

Southwestern France has been almost completely mopped up by the F.F.I., he said, but there were still a few pockets of resistance on the coast in the region of La Rochelle, south of the Loire Estuary and northwest of Bordeaux.

Probably more than 30,000 Germans had been captured already by the F.F.I., Koenig added.

Red Troops Cross Czech Border

Mop-Up Of Estonia Nearly Complete Reds Gain Steadily

MOSCOW, Sept. 25 —(AP)—The Red Army closed in on the Latvian capital of Riga today in the climax to a successful Baltic offensive, while front dispatches telling of a local battle on the Lithuanian frontier of East Prussia heralded a possible large-scale invasion drive on the Junker province.

A narrow land corridor still offered a chance of escape to the German garrison in Riga. Red columns approaching from the north and east made large gains.

The mop-up of Estonia was nearly complete as a large part of Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army moved southward along the Gulf of Riga.

Gen. Ivan Cherniakhovsky, the only Soviet commander as yet to reach Prussian soil, has been held in static trench warfare over a month by the prolongation of enemy resistance in the Baltic at his flank and rear.

Raid Into Prussia

His combat patrols have made continual raids into East Prussia but no permanent foothold has been won inside Germany.

With his divisions rested and a large number of Red Army Air Force squadrons concentrated in support of his sector, Cherniakhovsky is known to be ready for a powerful blow at an early moment.

(A Moscow broadcast said Russian troops crossing from Southern Poland through Lupkow Pass into Czechoslovakia had captured Humenne, 25 miles inside the republic.

(A Bucharest communique said Russian and Romanian troops crossed the Southeastern Hungarian frontier. They were believed to be less than 35 miles from Szeged, Hungary's second city.

(The double push was developing into a big pincers movement designed to knock weakening Hungary out of the war. All German and Hungarian troops strung out in Eastern Slovakia and Northern Transylvania were in danger of being trapped).

Moscow newspapers published a statement by 13 German generals and three colonels captured in Romania appealing to the Wehrmacht to revolt against Hitler and make an immediate peace.

The document was drafted by Maj.-Gen. Count Hulzen, commander of the 370th infantry division, the newspaper account said.

Tourist Parley Lasts 3 Days

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 25 —(CP) —Canada's tourist industry opened its largest wartime parley here today with a view of reaching a uniform plan of action for bringing visitors to Canada when restrictions are eased. Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, D. S. O., Minister of National War Services and chairman of the National Tourist Advisory Committee, presided at the opening session.

Leaders in the tourist industry and cabinet members are attending from every province as part of a nationwide committee charged with meeting the requirements of the Dominion's tourist traffic program.

No agenda has been announced for the three-day convention, but among the topics up for discussion are employment of discharged service personnel, publicity and advertising, information centres, tourist accommodation, and regulations for customs and immigration.

Ledo Road Now Available

Vital China Lifeline Is Two Lane

SEATTLE, Sept. 24.—(AP).—"Usability" of China's new life-line, the Ledo road, was disclosed today by the Post-Intelligencer.

The paper said the juncture of the vital overland link with existing arteries in China first was learned from a "visiting source close to the Chinese embassy." It was confirmed officially by United States army engineers in Washington, D.C.

"Future usefulness of the route as a source of 11th-hour supplies to beleaguered Chinese armies is contingent upon efforts to stave off mounting Japanese pressure on the Yunan 'feeder' roads," the paper pointed out.

Extending from the Ledo railhead in Eastern India, the road passes through the jungles of Northern Burma and joins roadways of China's Yunan province at Trunghka, Burma.

"Scores of bridges, some of concrete and steel, span innumerable rivers and streams in the hot swampland.

"Surfaced by gravel carried in the head-baskets of Indian women, the road is in part a two-lane highway, meandering in places to elevations up to 4,300 feet."

29 Jap Ships Destroyed In Manila Bay

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 25 (AP)—Carrier planes of the United States 3rd Fleet, which has forced the Japanese fleet to withdraw from the Philippines, sank 29 more ships in the Manila Bay area, damaged 20, sank or damaged 16 small craft and destroyed or damaged 200 airplanes Sept. 21, the second consecutive day of attacks there.

Total destruction of enemy planes and ships in the combined Sept. 20-21 carrier strikes were listed by United States Pacific Fleet Headquarters today as: Forty ships sunk; six small craft sunk; 11 ships probably sunk; 35 ships damaged; 11 small craft damaged; two floating drydocks damaged, 169 aircraft destroyed in combat, 188 aircraft destroyed on the ground, 45 planes damaged on the ground, and three planes damaged by ships' gunfire.

80 Out of Action

That is a total of 86 ships put out of action, 17 smaller craft and 405 planes lost to the Japanese in two days.

American losses "were 11 planes in combat, 10 pilots and five air troopmen. There was no loss or damage to any of our surface ships," a communique said.

The Sept. 20 raid was aimed at Cavite Navy Yard, Clark and Nichols airfields and the Manila harbor area.

The second strike, Sept. 21, apparently was a big surprise to the Japanese. They put fewer planes in the air to intercept hundreds of American carrier planes.

The figures indicated that the defenders on the second attack probably were only half as many as the first, with a score of 110 downed Sept. 20 against 59 the following day.

American fliers, finding so many ships in Manila harbor on the second day, said they felt as if they were hitting the jackpot.

Damage Widespread

The second day's ship total was nearly twice that of the first, when 11 vessels were sunk and 26 were damaged or probably sunk and three craft damaged.

Where the new shipping came from is causing speculation which ranges from the possible arrival of new convoys at night to a big transfer of vessels from other Philippine Islands in the possible belief that Admiral William F. Halsey could not keep his 3rd fleet in enemy waters so long.

The communique reported that carrier planes did "extensive and widespread damage to buildings, warehouses, railroad equipment, oil storage tanks, harbor installations, tankers, shop and stored supplies and equipment" presumably on the near Clark and Nichols fields.

Born In Warsaw Minister Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — For 40 years in the active ministry, Rev George W. Rose, 79, retired United Church minister, died yesterday at his home, 2141 Bloor St., W. He had been a resident of Toronto since his retirement seven years ago.

Mr. Rose was born at Warsaw, Peterborough County, and attended Norwood High School. A graduate in theology at Queen's University in 1897, he was ordained in the Presbyterian Church and served four years in a Manitoba mission field. He served rural charges in the Presbytery of Orangeville for 24 years of which he was a past chairman. After Union he was minister for some years of Leith, Annan and Johnson United Churches, Grey Presbytery.

Surviving are his widow, Elizabeth Jane Rork Rose; two daughters, Marian and Mrs. S. F. Lounds, and a son, Kenneth Rose, all of Toronto. Also four brothers, Thomas of Peterborough, David of Brandon and 85-year-old twin brothers, Arthur of Souris and Duncan of Prince Albert.

Finns To Oust Huns In 4 Weeks

HELSINKI, Sept. 25 — (AP)—Finnish troops, undertaking a task they once regarded as impossible, were reported making slow but steady progress to-day in their efforts to drive the Germans out of Northern Finland and fulfill the terms of an armistice with Russia which this country has received with mingled hope and fear.

A Finnish communique yesterday declared the Finns had occupied part of Suomussalmi in northeastern Finland and were approaching Puolanka after overcoming mines, demolitions and road blocks set up by the retreating Germans.

(A dispatch from Stockholm last night quoted a Swedish newspaper correspondent as saying the Finnish High Command was hopeful of completing the job of ousting the Germans within four weeks without any help from the Russians).

Meanwhile advance elements of the Soviet Armistice Commission already are quartered in one of Helsinki's finest hotels and the Finns are waiting to see what the armistice terms will mean in practice.

'Reality' Is Subject Of Lesson Sermon

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ Scientists throughout the world, including First Church of Christ, Scientist, Peterborough, on Sunday.

The golden text was: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning." (James 1:17). Selections from the Bible included the following from John 1:1, 3: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," included the following: "The scriptures imply that God is All-in-All. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. . . . He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual."

Duck Hunters On Job Early At Hiawatha

The dawn of "D"-duck day around the bays of Rice Lake and the mouth of the river was saluted this morning with much musketry according to Hanlan Howard's report of fusilading echoing into the quiet of Hiawatha.

The season opened south of No. 7 Highway, September 25 date, definitely marking that period of the autumn greeted by the wild duck sharpshooters. Whether any of the Peterborough corps knocked any of the birds out of the air, or slugged them in the water, will have to wait further news. Mr. Howard could verify only the fact that the sounds indicated considerable liveliness.

Some of the men went down during the week-end to fix up hides in the marshes, and get set for the first revelations of daylight. Light mists still hung over the lake shorelines, Mr. Howard told an Examiner reporter, when the first shots awakened the neighborhood. It was expected that most of the shotgun brigade would remain at least for the day, getting in some fishing until the evening flight of ducks would be expected, that is if they hadn't been driven out of their summer or recent haunts by the blasts that barked around them in the first light of this morning.

German Fronts May Blaze All At Once

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
Associated Press War Analyst

Berlin reports that the Nazis expect an early resumption of the U.S. 3rd Army's drive for the Rhine. If Hitler's high command is as smart as we think it is, it expects a whole lot more than that.

Whether through the fortuitous workings of Allied planning or through the coincidence of growing German weakness and successful Allied drives for position, Germany now is pocketed within an almost continuous series of fronts which promise to blaze into climactic action simultaneously.

While the Russians have been pressing their Baltic and Balkan campaigns, cleaning up German forces which to a considerable extent are already out of the war, they undoubtedly have been massing strength for the eastern front payoff—the cutting-off of East Prussia and a renewal of the drive toward Krakow, 35 miles ahead and 40 miles from German Silesia.

Reinforcements In

In the west the Allies have had just about enough time to solidify their gains and reorganize their supply. Many rear echelons which were in Britain until a few days ago are now in France. German forces in western Holland are reported retiring en masse through the trap north of Arnheim, capture of which will probably sginal the big push.

After the bitter nine-day fight which shattered the Gothic Line, the Allies in Italy may need a breather, but not a long one. The Nazis there appear to be almost through and the next battle probably will be one to prevent their escape through the Alps.

The battle for the Balkans continues largely as a clean-up operation. It's a sort of private war, but is consuming Nazi strength sorely needed in the east and west. That is likely to be its final role.

If renewed drives for the Rhine, East Prussia and Silesia do develop simultaneously, all the old favorite terms for describing broad military action will be out of date. It won't be a pincers movement, for you don't "pincer" with sledgehammers. The one about the "upper and nether millstones" won't do, because neither force will be static.

It will be more like the great, multiple-ton presses of Allied war industry, turning out the material which will be rolling toward Berlin from both sides.

Far to the rear, the great channel ports of Calais and Dunkerque still lay under siege and encircling troops on Lt.- Gen.Crerar's Army had not yet been given the assault order.

U. S. 1st Army men ripped a German counter-attack to pieces in the area east of Aachen and turned huge 240-mm. (nearly 10-inch) guns on targets only 18 miles from the Rhine.

Lt.-Gen. Patton's 3rd Army slashed close to Baccarat, 28 miles southeast of Nancy and only about 45 miles southwest of Strasbourg on the Rhine. The Germans announced the loss of Epinal on the Moselle, 40 miles south of Nancy and about the same distance north of the Belfort Gap.

Many Counters.

In these two sectors the German Army was throwing in counter-attack after counter-attack which left the battlefields strewn with tanks and troops.

The Americans fighting in the Reichswald, a large forest affording concealment, were parachutists attached to the British 2nd Army. There was a possibility that two crossings of the German border actually had taken place here— at Beek and at a point farther south.

Kleve is only six miles from the Dutch border at the nearest place

The crossing of the quarter-mile-wide Rhine branch at Arnhem was in the face of German shellfire which had compressed the red-bereted British parachutists at one time into a mile-square area just west of Arnhem.

From their main postion it did not seem likely that they had succeeded in holding either the road or rail bridge over the river for Gen. Dempsey's British Forces.

Dempsey had waged a week-long fight to force his way 50 miles north to accomplish the link-up. His troops traversed a German "shooting gallery" along raised roads across marshy land where every tank and truck was an elevated target for German 88-mm. guns concealed on either side of the narrow corridor.

The force which finally shoved across to the north bank in collapsible rafts was small and the parachutists were still not out of the woods. But their position was much brighter.

In 8th Day.

Already Dempsey's patrols had succeeded in ferrying over medical supplies, food and ammunition, raising the morale and fighting power of the "lost division" for its eighth day of battle.

The British 2nd Army also rushing ducks—seagoing trucks ideal for operations in flooded war zones—but it was not known whether any of these had yet succeeded in reaching the south bank.

Dempsey's column driving toward relief of the Arnhem force began providing artillery support four days ago for the parachutists who not only stood off enemy attacks but delivered many telling blows on their own account.

British troops also broadened the Nijmegen corridor, walling it off with tanks and American airborne reinforcements which fought off repeted but weakening German counter-attacks.

The Germans tried yesterday to cut this supply lane near Veghel, south of Nijmegen and north of Eindhoven, this time thrusting comparatively small tank forces from the east, near Erp, but they were beaten back again.

The base of the wedge also was broadened on both sides. The Tommies reached Deurne, 15 miles east of Eindhoven and six miles east of Helmond, and enlarged their bridgehead across the Bois De Duc Canal southeast of Eindhoven.

plain, remained obscure. Yesterday advance elements were within 15 miles of Bologna. Today the main forces were well across the Santerno River and had captured the Coroncina hill mass around Futa pass.

Canadian elements advanced steadily in the face of strong opposition to reach Pederer Grande, five miles north of fallen Rimini.

Other 8th Army troops penetrated 2,000 yards beyond the Rimini-Bologna railway north of San Giustina to within 1,500 yards of the historic Rubicon River, then ran into a stiff enemy counter-attack yesterday.

Police Block Threat To Japs

INGERSOLL, Ont., Sept. 25 —(CP)— Ingersoll police last night broke up a mob estimated at 200 to 300 men who, officers said, tried to force their way to the quarters of a number of Japanese employed by a local manufacturing firm and who are housed on the premises.

Police said the mob began to organize early in the uptown sections and converged from the north and south sides.

Chief Constable Alex Callander said he learned of the intentions of the group and called in the support of Constable John Holmes and Provincial Constable Al Lawrence.

The officers wielded their batons freely when the mob refused to obey orders to disperse and, police said, those who showed a disposition to force their way in were struck by the batons and at the same time ordered to retreat.

It was reported that among the rioters were a number of persons from nearby Woodstock and Ingersoll.

Police said many in the mob carried heavy sticks.

The mob was dispersed quickly and police said a close watch is being kept on the quarters in the event of another attempt later in the night. There were no arrests.

Police were unable to state reasons for the demonstration.

Rubicon.

Visibility was restricted by many farms, trees and vineyards.

Fully aware that the liberally-ditched field would present an obstacle to Canadian tanks, the Germans mined the roads. The tanks of one Ontario Reconnaissance Regiment slugged ahead laboriously as assault troops of the engineers blew in the sides of ditches to allow them to pass. The Canadians lost some tanks through mines and shells.

Tactically, Maj.-Gen. Hoffmeister's units are nearing the Rubicon river (also known as the Uso) on two axis. One consists of an Ontario battalion which has cleared the hamlet of Casale, about a mile from the river. The other Axis is the right hook being thrown around the Ontario troops by Western Infantry and Armor that now is pinned down outside Sanvito, just north of Casale, by heavy fire.

A heavy counter-attack against the Westerners petered out after more than an hour and the fire of an Ontario Reconnaissance Regimetn working across the fields nearby drove off at least two tanks.

He described German prisoners he had seen as "an abject, underfed and miserable looking lot" who "will want no more war for the rest of their lives."

He warned, however, that the S.S. troops will be a major problem in dealing with Germany after the war. They were the men who shot 19 young Canadians captured near Caen and for whom there should be no mercy.

"The vitality and self confidence of the French people is apparent everywhere," he continued. "A new France has been born out of the ordeal through which they (the French people) have passed. there has emerged a spirit of regeneration, and I believe they are ready to march forward...with us as comrades into the days of peace."

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. 7 Persons Die Over Week-end

By The Canadian Press.

Seven persons died as a result of accidents in eastern Canada over the week-end. Three of the deaths were in Prince Edward Island and four in Ontario. Three persons drowned, two died in traffic accidents and two in falls.

Three members of the 17th Reserve Armored Regiment—Sgt. Garfield Ramsay, Tpr. Wallace Dennis, both of O'Leary, P.E.I., and Tpr. Claude Brooks of Union Corner, P.E.I., were drowned Saturday when a Bren gun carrier in which they were riding went over a bridge at Coleman Corner, P.E.I.

At Clarkson, near Toronto, 11-year-old Shirley Davis of Toronto was killed Sunday when the automobile in which she was riding went off the highway and crashed into a hydro pole. In Sudbury, Ont., Mrs. Gordon Gould, 32, died Sunday in hospital shortly after she suffered a fractured skull falling out of a car.

Russell R. Cousins, hydro lineman of Sarnia, Ont., died Saturday in hospital from injuries received when a pole on which he was working and broke and fell on him as he was descending to the ground. In Goderich, Ont., William E Miller, 42, died Saturday in hospital of injuries received when he fell off a coal wagon last Wednesday.

Mrs. Martin Kylie Passes At Age 86

Mrs Theresa Kylie, 556 Rogers Street, one of the older residents of East City, and daughter of pioneer family, passed away early Sunday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital after a short illness. She was 86 years old.

Born in Douro the daughter of the late Edward Hanrahan and Mary Ryan, who came from Ireland and were pioneer residents of that township, Mrs. Kylie moved to Peterborough as a young girl and lived in the city for well over half a century. Educated in the Peterborough schools, she had been a member of the Church of the Immaculate Conception ever since it was built, and she was deeply interested in all that pertained to church activities. She was also a member of the Altar Society.

For many years Mrs. Kylie conducted a grocery store at the corner of Rogers and Clifton Streets; and in the community she was very widely known for her kindly nature and friendly disposition.

Predeceased by her husband, the late Martin Kylie, she leaves to mourn her loss two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Tobin at home and Mrs. Dennis Hayes of Rochester; and three sons, Emmet and Cecil of this city and Joseph of Rochester. One sister, Mrs. Matthew Sullivan of Sault Ste Marie, also survives.

The funeral will be held on Wednesday at 8:45 a.m. from the family residence, 556 Rogers Street, to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, where requiem mass will be song at 9 o'clock. Interment will take place in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Centre Canvass Reaches Total Of $93,547

The canvass of the Peterborough Memorial Community Centre stood at $93,547 as of Saturday, conclusion of the first week of the two-week drive, it was announced by the finance committee this morning. The figure raised to date is on an announced objective of $225,000 to which a city grant of $75,000 would be added to make up the total of $300,000 required to build and equip the proposed centre.

The sum of $69,400 has been subscribed by Peterborough manufacturing concerns on an objective set at $100,000. The employees canvass has reached $19,058 of its $70,0[illegible] goal, while the general canvass reports $1,025 contributed by householders who have been asked for $15,000 in all. The special names and retail merchants division of the drive has raised $5,064 for the Community Centre, and its objective is $40,000.

To the delight of all who contributed in any way to the success of the children's parade Friday evening, it was apparent the very next day that considerable interest had been stimulated by that event among the boys and girls who will benefit so largely from a community centre. They seem to realize that themselves, as was proved when quit a number of young folk made their way to the campaign offices on Water street Saturday afternoon and stepped up to make their donations to the fund. There were several subscriptions by these boys and girls from their own pockets of $1 and $2.

"Everything counts," said J. A. Jebson, foundation committee chairman, obviously pleased at this gesture on the part of the kiddies. "It really means something to get those contributions, no matter how small they are; and if many youngsters give just a little—just what they can afford—it may make all the difference in the end."

New Hospital Suggestion Well Supported

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 25 — (ENS). — An important meeting, which was largely attended, took place in the Masonic Temple. The question under discussion was, "Are you in favor of Campbellford and vicinity hospital taking the place of a memorial." This was passed unanimously, and the second question, "Are you in favor of a special committee of citizens being appointed for the purpose of raising the necessary funds by public subscription" had only eight dissenting votes.

Mayor Long, who was chairman, spoke in favor of both questions and outlined the advantages which would be attendant on the erection of a hospital as a memorial and stated that the question would be decided by a vote of the citizens, assembled. The present hospital had been carried on by Dr. E. A. Stuart, but was unequal to supply the needs of the community, because of lack of space and help, although every effort had been made.

Dr. H. B. Longmore spoke of the desirability of a hospital especially in maternity cases. He said that no doctor could have enough equipment available at all times to meet the requirements of the patients, but were these patients in a hospital many lives could be saved by the facilities provided by such an institution. He stated further that the hospitals at the present time are so crowded that it is necessary to give a months notice in order to procure accommodation. Continuing he said that every establishment in Campbellford brings in business and everyone going out takes away business so the town will profit financially by having such an institution.

Reeve Supports Plan

Reeve Rowe of Seymour heartily agreed to the proposed hospital and the warden of Northumberland and Durham. L. E. Kelly of Hastings, said that the same county grant will be made, as is made to Cobourg and others in the counties. He also stated that the county coucil would favor the erection of a hospital in the northern part of the riding.

An interesting program of entertainment was provided with musical numbers by F. M. Macks and his violin with Mrs. T. C. MacNiece at the piano and Pat Gibson, with his guitar. Mr. Macks and Mr. Gibson appeared several times and Mr. Gibson, as an outsider, spoke in favor of the hospital and expressed his willingness to help in the good cause.

Deputy Reeve Fowlds read the name of the proposed finance committee which was endorsed by the gathering. They were: J. D. Mills, A. J. Meyers, F. G. DeCarroll, F. F. Long, M. J. Callaghan, P. C. Denyes and J. A. Murray.

Several citizens addressed the meeting, all declaring in favor of the proposition as outlined.

HonorCobourgCouple On 25th Anniversary

COBOURG, Sept. 25.—(ENS).—Over 100 relatives and friends surprised Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wight of Cobourg on the occasion of the popular couple's 25th wedding anniversary recently. The guests came from Bowmanville, Cobourg, Toronto, Oshawa and other points. Mr. and Mrs. Wight have been here for nine years, the former being governor of the counties jail.

The committee in charge of the arrangements were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wight, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth E. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Bragg of Bowmanville, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ralls and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell of Cobourg. Mr. Milton Wight was convener of the committee and took the chair for the evening and congratulated the bride and groom of 25 years ago. Miss Helen Cox read a short address which recognized the cordial hospitality of the bride and groom and the many contributions which they have made to the community life of the town of Cobourg, and also their former residence, Bowmanville. Miss Helen Wight then presented them with a three-piece service and tray and Miss Helen Cox presented a silver entree dish.

Short congratulatory speeches were made by Frank Rickard of Newcastle, Miss Ada Wight of Edmonton, Dr. W. E. Wilkins and Bruce Thompson of Cobourg, R. K. Bragg and W. A. Edger of Bowmanville. The bride and groom were then escorted to the dining room, where a three-tier wedding cake with tall tapers in silver candle holders decorated the table.

Perry Brisbin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Brisbin.

Jehovah Witness Pleads Not Guilty

COBOURG, Sept. 25 —(ENS) — Claiming that he had been an ordained minister of the Jehovah's Witness sect since he was 14 years of age, Argyle Thomas of Haliburton pleaded not guilty to a charge laid by the R. C. M. P. of failing to report to the military authorities. Constable Harold Walden of Cobourg laid the charge. Magistrate W. Gee reserved judgment in the matter. The accused is 26 years of age. Thomas Andros, another Haliburton youth, was found guilty on the same charge and was escorted to the training centre at Peterborough by Constable Walden. Both cases were heard at Haliburton village.

Baby 18 Months Old Dies From Injuries

COBOURG, Sept. 25.—(ENS). — Injured last week when he was run over by a milk wagon, 18-months-old Harold Quigley, of Cobourg, died of internal injuries in Cobourg General Hospital during the week-end. The little fellow climbed out through the gate in the yard and ran out into the road where he was run over by a mik wagon which police said was driven by William McMinn of Cobourg. No inquest will be held, Chief W. J. Carey said.

Obituary

MRS. J. F. O'KEEFE.

LINDSAY, Sept. 25.— The sudden death of Mrs. J. F. O'Keefe took place at her summer home at Balsam Lake recently.

Randolph MacDonald, R.C.A.F., overseas, also one sister, Mrs. Margaret MacDonald of Lindsay, and one brother Dennis of Victoria Road. A brother Joseph predeceased her six weeks ago.

The funeral took place at St. Mary's Church, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Very Rev. Dean McAuley, thence to St. Mary's Cemetery, where Rev. Father Kay said the prayers at the grave.

The pall-bearers were: David Roche, Patrick Harrington, Dennis Coughlin, Edward Roche, Joseph Meagher, and John Walsh.

Two Haldimand Men Remanded For Theft

COBOURG, Sept. 26 —(ENS) — Roland Rowe and Donald George of Hallimand township appeared before the justice of the peace here on Saturday and were remanded until next Thursday afternoon on theft charges. George is charged that on August 26 in Hamilton township he stole an automobile wheel, tire and tube, under the value of $25, from Percy West of Hamilton township. Rowe was charged that on June 16, he stole two wheels, two tubes, jack, gear shift lever knob and two tires, over the value of $25, the property of Frank Benedict, Hamilton township.

The pair wer arrested last Thursday by Provincial Constable Alex MacLeod, of Cobourg, who seized their two cars because of the fact that some alleged stolen articles were on the cars. With their arrest Constable MacLeod recovered tires, tubes, automobile wheels, grain and other items and police state that several other charges will be read against them when they appear in court.

PLANNING TOMORROW'S TASK

Canada's future is in good hands . . . the hands of her citizens of tomorrow, her youth of today. With high moral courage and steadfast purpose, they plan to make this great country greater yet. That is their postwar aim . . . and with it they ask for themselves only the freedom to enjoy what Winston Churchill has so aptly called the rewards of enterprise, the privileges of thrift—to earn more money, to buy more things, to live a more abundant life.

That's exactly what business wants for youth, too—and for all Canadians.

Leave them free with their opportunities, their visions, their courage and their initiative—and they'll work it out that way.

They always have. For 89 years this Bank has actively participated in the successful efforts of free and enterprising people to achieve for themselves and the nation a standard of living not yet surpassed on the surface of the earth. With friendly, experienced counsel and with loans to cover difficult periods The Bank of Toronto continues to assist in attaining the common objective of all Canadians.

How Germany Meets Defeat

The Germans, having lost the war, have decided upon the manner in which they will accept defeat. Several news dispatches from the Western Front tell us of the affable way in which the invading Allied troops have been received; Germans have told them that they hate the Nazis, and look upon our troops as deliverers. Now it is quite likely that the Germans in territories occupied by the Allies will be glad to be out of the war alive, and a certain amount of genuine gratitude may spring from that feeling; but it is a poor kind of gratitude, grounded in their love for their own skins, and it has no lasting quality and no political or moral significance. And we must never forget that the Germans are very clever at organizing sympathy for themselves; they did it after the last war and they will do it again if we let them. We must be on our guard against any sudden change of heart which manifests itself in Germany.

There is a good reason to suppose that Germany, having lost this war, will prepare for another with all possible dispatch. German perseverance and German arrogance will see to that. What is more, it has been observable since the invasion of France from the west, that German officers are surrendering in great numbers, frequently leaving their troops to fight under inferior leadership. This is not because German officers are cowardly; they have the courage and toughness of professional soldiers everywhere. What, then, is the explanation?

According to Joseph Driscoll, the correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, the explanation is to be found in a document which has been distributed by the German High Command to officers of the rank of division commander, or higher. In it these men are urged to save themselves at whatever cost, because they are necessary to the reconstruction of Germany; they are ordered to retreat when they can, and surrender when they cannot. As prisoners of war, they will eventually be returned to Germany, and they are instructed to take care of themselves, "in the interests of their country". The passage in the document which describes these interests is of particular clarity and significance:

"It was the German officers' corps which most promoted Germany to be the world power in the first attempt in 1914-18. It was this same officers' corps which reconstructed Germany for the second attempt to lead the world. It has been foreseen this second attempt could fail. The present turn of the war forces us to be extremely conservative with expending our officer material.

"Our final and complete victory was so certain even a short while ago that we can prepare ourselves with fresh courage for a new later fight. In order to prepare for this unavoidable third contest for leadership of the world expertly, we need our officers. At all times we have found troops in sufficient quantities".

That is clear enough. Germany's birth-rate is three times greater than that of any other European nation, and thus plenty of cannon-fodder will be available in twenty years or even less. But good officers cannot be produced so simply as the small fry; they need a military background, military instruction, and a military caste toward which they may aspire. To provide these things German officers must keep themselves alive. It is in this spirit that Germany is preparing for her inevitable defeat.

Funny Paper Foes

We are a regular and avid reader of the comic strips, not only because they are entertaining, but also because they provide a key to what millions of people are thinking; comic strips are social documents. A trend which has been observable in the comic strips for some time seems to us to deserve comment and thought, and it is this: in the funnies our enemies are always figures of fun, though they are never funny.

The political cartoonists, from David Low down, quite often show us our foes in the spirit of comedy, but the men who draw the comic strips never do. To them a German or a Jap is always a menacing but contemptible creature, who talks a special brand of English, never heard on sea or land. Japs always say "So sorry, please" when they are about to shoot the hero, and they prefix the word 'honourable' to almost every noun: we are assured by people who know that the real Japanese do nothing of the kind. And the Germans have their special brand of monkey-talk, too. In that popular strip Agent X9 we find a German who says to his comrades in the prison camp, "Ja!! I say if it vas not for der Fuehrer, Chermany vould not be hated by der whole vorld! Und ve could be home mit der vuns ve love". This fellow, look you, is supposed to be talking in German, not in broken English.

Now it is impossible to take anyone seriously who talks like that, and it will not be safe for us to think of the Germans as a nation of Weber and Fields comedians after the war. The people who will be circulating in our country immediately after the armistice, boosting the German cause, and telling us that the Germans were really just a lot of playful children who were misled, will not talk like that; they will speak very good English.

We can despise our enemies as much as we like, but we must not forget that they are extremely clever people, and that we had to put every ounce of effort we had into a war against them. The comic strips reflect the modes of thinking of several millions of people, and the comic strip attitude toward our enemies is a little too simple. We have proved that they are not a race of Supermen; now it is time to realize that we are not Supermen ourselves.

Ourselves As Others See Us

As a country with a small population, Canada frequently suffers from the pettiness and jealousy which are inseparable from small communities. Chauvinistic and self-assertive in many respects, the average Canadian tends to depreciate the abilities of his public servants, and, to delight in de-bunking them, whether justifiably or not.

Praise from abroad helps to check this disagreeable tendency, and therefore we are delighted to print this opinion which four editors of the American publication Fortune published after a visit to Ottawa:

"No member of the United Nations has a corps of civil servants better qualified to administer the problems of peace, when it comes, than Canada. Canadian officials are less tradition-bound than their colleagues in Whitehall; they are not so deep in the melee of everyday politics as their counterparts in Washington. They know the U.S. and the United Kingdom better than the best American and British civil servants know any country except their own. Some were educated at California or Harvard, at Oxford or the London School of Economics. All are compelled—as men of affairs in a large country are not—to know and understand their neighbors. Ottawa is small; Canadian leaders meet often and easily to exchange ideas, achieving a coordination of policy that, to an American, seems little short of wonderful".

This is a handsome tribute, and with it Fortune publishes the pictures of four Canadian public servants "whose talents any government would be lucky to secure"; they are Donald Gordon, the Chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board; Norman Robertson, the Undersecretary of State for External Affairs; Dr. W. C. Clark, the Deputy Minister of Finance, and Graham Towers, the Governor of the Bank of Canada. In our opinion these gentlemen thoroughly deserve the high praise which Fortune has given them, and we hope that their great abilities and their service to our country will be more widely recognized at home.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Strong Stand Urged Against Intemperance By Anglicans" says a headline. Oh, come; we don't think that the Anglicans are worse than anyone else.

A fuzzless peach has now been evolved. Peaches without fuzz, and green as they have been sold this year, will be indistinguishable from plums.

"Fines Prove No Remedy For Belching Chimneys" says a headline. Perhaps a few instructions from Emily Post, or a pinch of sodium bicarbonate might do the trick.

We now learn that the Nazis always maintained a 'correct' attitude toward the French during their occupation of the country. That is to say, they never stole anything which they could buy with phoney money.

Farming News and Views

By
HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL

THE Annapolis Valley, Nova Scotia's world famous apple growing district, narrowly escaped disaster from the cyclone that tore through the Eastern United States, leaving wrecked homes and over thirty fatal accidents in its trail. The apple crop in the Annapolis Valley has been estimated to be worth about seven million dollars this year, which was reduced by about ten per cent as the tail of this spent hurricane swept part of the apple crop to the ground. One can well imagine the anxiety of the people who owned these orchards as the wind rose, and their profound relief when it passed without as great destruction as was feared. This is a further evidence of how much the weather has to do with the production of food. A drought may dry up the sources of plant food for grain crops, a flood may wipe out a growing crop of quite great promise, a frost may nip back early growth of crops in the spring or may catch them under a bright harvest moon and largely wipe out their value or a breeze may raise to a hurricane and turn a pomising fruit crop into a lot of windfalls. These would seem to be good reasons why so many tillers of the soil turn to mixed farming.

SPEAKING of windstorms, I drove to Strathroy the other day across the track of the windstorm which visited Middlesex County a couple of months ago. The manner in which it stripped large branches from tall elm trees showed the force it had, and in the line it followed there were new roofs on every farm building, and many of them showed patching as though they had been pretty well shaken. A garage near Strathroy with overhanging upper storey which made a roof for the gasoline pumps, was standing very serenely on the edge of the storm's passage, and indicated that it just cut a narrow swath, as this building, with its projecting top storey, offered an opportunity that the wind had only to reach out an arm to tumble it to pieces.

ONCE in a while one sees a poor field on a farm turned into first rate production because of the crop grown and the soil treatment. I was in one of Wilson Mills' orchards near Sparta in Elgin County and was getting a couple of bushels of McIntosh apples, and as we drove into the orchard, Mr. Mills said:— "We'll go over to a sand knoll here and get some of the best and most mature." On this sandy hill we got just what he was looking for. "This bit of land," he said, "was blow sand, and that is what I want here for apples, and then, of course, feed it with barnyard manure and some chemical fertilizer." This sand wanted extra manure as the fibre and humus had to be greatly increased. It was yielding one of the finest crops of apples I have seen grown anywhere, and not a scab on one. 'For size, colour and yield, it is almost impossible to exaggerate in describing this orchard.

On this sandy part, I found what I had never expected to see, a useful purpose for crab grass. It was virtually the cover crop for this orchard and there would be no doubt about it re-seeding itself, no matter what the cultivation. For a dozen years I have been trying to clear crab grass out of my lawn and know something of its persistence. In some parts of Toronto, it is the only green thing in a lawn, and makes a fair show until early August when everyone who looks, and knows, can see just what a fake lawn you have. It has a use, now that I've seen it in a sandy orchard, and it will cost nothing to seed it, which is some saving when seed prices have sky-rocketed as they have done in recent years.

THERE have been some quite dry spots in Ontario but they do not cover large areas. Some tobacco fields have had to be neglected for scarcity of labour, but after a full five years of war, this is to be expected and we have as little to complain of as any one of our Allies and much les than most of them. It is almost unbelievable that we have come through a war that has shaken the countries of the world to their very fundations, and have suffered as little at home as we have. Our only sacrifice is what we have made in the battle lines on the water and in the air.

A FEATURE of cow barns that is making great progress in England is, Milking Parlours. This, in some cases, is a building by itself or it may be a part of a cow byre partitioned off. This building or "parlour," will accommodate ten to twenty cows, depending upon the size of the herd. The cows are let in, at milking time, in groups to fill the stalls. Each cow is given a feed of meal or some concentrate but no hay or straw is taken into this parlour at any time, the idea being to avoid dust in connection with milking. The floor and stalls are flushed down with water, and the walls are kept scrupulously clean. Milking in a parlour is usually done by machine, but sometimes by hand, as some dairy farmers prefer hand milking. There is no difficulty in getting the cows in as they soon learn to expect the good bite waiting for them there, but some farmers say there is usually a little difficulty persuading the cows to leave. The milk cooler is in an adjoining room and the main object is "clean milk." In fact, in England, a great many dairy farmers think that "clean milk" is much to be preferred to "pasteurized" milk. In many cases the herds are accredited for tuberculosis. A number of dairy farmers prefer to keep their cows in large loose boxes well bedded down, and claim that eight or ten cows will keep themselves much cleaner in such a loose box than when tied up, particularly if they have plenty of bedding. Straw is so plentiful in Britain now, as a result of their increased grain crops, that getting rid of it is a difficulty, and they are very desirous of getting it tramped down by cattle and then returned to the land as muck from these stables. It is also claimed that in a fresh, clean place like a milking parlour, that udders can be wiped off and other preparations for milking made with greater convenience.

HAY was quite a short crop in England this year and some farmers say it will be measured by mouthfuls. They count on hay as their best and most dependable crop, but this year they praise ensilage, made from different crops, as being the only substitute that can save the day.

THERE is being an effort made in England to have uniform and interchangeable parts for agricultural implements but not much progress has been gained. I see lately protests being made about plough shares. They use larger tractor ploughs over the ocean than we do here, and a five furrow gang is a common implement. Tractor operators in England are careful about the adjustments and set of their ploughs and because of this they are able to pull one or two more bottoms in their ploughs than we are able to do here. The complaint, however, is that many of these large ploughs are made with shares that are bolted on and quite frequently with two bolts to a share. The ploughmen there want sock shares, easily changed and firm and tight for their work. They claim bolts work loose and so the plough does not work well. This interested me as I have not seen a sock share since would not use anything else and always remarked on the way these shares fitted, going on "snug" as he said. They know more about ploughing, and also about implements, in the Old Land, than we do in this country, and they have made it their business to get every ounce of power out of their tractors by setting their ploughs and other implements to cut down the draught to a minimum, and so have increased the work of every gallon of petrol during their war effort. We have learned much about many phases of farming during this war.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION

Sir,—I wish to express my appreciation of and thanks for the delightful music recital by Agnes Logan Green which I heard over CHEX. We are fortunate to have such leadership as "The Examiner" gives in music and literature. I enjoy the excellent book reviews and editorial articles although I don't always agree with them and best of all I like the diary which appears in the Saturday issue.

I remain, yours sincerely,

MARY ALLAN.

POPE NEEDS NO DEFENCE

Sir,—To my way of thinking the three controversial letters in your paper show lack of thought and information.

We were told in Italy by a padre of our faith that the Holy Father blessed the troops going to Ethiopia because that country was one in which the inhabitants were barbarians and not open to receive the true faith.

Now to be told that the Holy Father blessed the troops for their own spiritual security on an errand of wholesale murder certainly is, to say the least discomforting. After listening to our Protestant buddies "evangelizing the Wops" after hearing the explanation and hearing one of my own faith mutter, "That fellow died in the faith" after shooting up a Wop, neither explanation of the Holy Father's blessing suits me. I suggest therefore, that we leave to the Holy Father, his reasons which were, doubtless worthy. To attempt to defend is to belittle. He sits in the office of highest spiritual eminence in the world. The next thing we shall be doing is defending Omniscience. We make ourselves ridiculous.

TRUTH.

Come, Come, Come Mr. Woodside

(By G. V. F. in the WINNIPEG FREE PRESS)

BROWSING through Saturday Night over the week-end, I came on a sentence or two in an article by Mr. Willson Woodside which made me realize that one of the great inside stories of the war could now be told. I am going to tell it now, regardless of censorship, for Mr. Woodside has written either too much or too little. For the sake of the historians of the future it should now be faithfully told, by itself, and not, as Mr. Woodside tells it, only partially and as part of another and later story. Mr. Woodside was writing with his usual vigour about the Quebec conference and its significance. Here is what Mr. Woodside wrote:

"All indications from London as well as from Washington.... are that the timetable for finishing the Pacific war has been moved far ahead since I had an opportunity of talking with Mr. Churchill about it at Number 10 Downing Street last March."

I don't know much about the Pacific war timetable, to be sure, but I do know something about that talk Mr. Woodside had with Mr. Churchill at Downing Street, for I was there too. I bear Mr. Woodside no grudge for not mentioning my name. I mention the fact only because it establishes my credibility as a witness. But I am hampered slightly by the knowledge that we were all very strictly warned not to mention what we heard that day at Downing Street. It was secret. But perhaps a corner of the veil can now be lifted just a little.

I was one of a party of eight journalists who went to England last February. We were a most harmonious group. But on one point we differed. One section, led by Mr. R. J. Rankin of the Halifax Herald, thought it might establish our reputations in England if we became the first party of visiting journalists not to see Mr. Churchill. I was a member of this group. We thought Mr. Churchill in 1944 had other things to do of a more important kind than to gossip with a gang of visiting newspapermen.

The other section led by Mr. Woodside, however, wanted to see Mr. Churchill. In vain we argued that it would waste Mr. Churchill's time, for of course at that time we did not know that Mr. Woodside wanted to raise the question of that Pacific war timetable. Had we known that, our attitude might have differed. Anyway, Mr. Woodside's group won. We visited Mr. Churchill. One fine, cold afternoon we were ushered into the precincts of No. 10.

Now it is a well-known fact, familiar to every listener to Mr. Churchill's broadcasts, that the British prime minister is a tremendous fellow for rising to what he considers a great occasion. No man alive rises higher or better. On the other hand, it is equally true that when the occasion is not, in his view, great, Mr. Churchill does not rise. He does not rise at all. And it is a sad but undeniable fact that the arrival of Mr. Woodside, our colleagues and myself at Downing Street did not shake Mr. Churchill to his foundations. In fact, he did not shake at all. There he was in his siren suit and smoking the inevitable cigar. He was courteous. He was polite. But if ever in my life I saw a man who was anxious as quickly as possible to get rid of his guests and get on with the business of waging sensible war, it was the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill that day.

Down we all sat around the historic table, and Mr. Churchill looked at us, and we looked at Mr. Churchill, and then the prime minister said.... but I can't tell you just what he said, because I am not allowed to. Then one of us asked a question and Mr. Churchill said he had covered that point in his most recent speech to the House of Commons. Then, if I remember rightly, Mr. Woodside asked what turns out to have been the $64 question. If it had anything to do with the Pacific war, I have forgotten. But if Mr. Woodside got any information about the projected timetable I certainly did not hear it in spite of Mr. Churchill's noted clarity of thought and speech. Then I asked a question and got brushed off, and finally a colleague asked a question and was told that Mr. Churchill believed the British Empire had a great future.

Then Mr. Churchill arose, and we arose, and in less time than it takes to tell it, we were all in the street again, Mr. Rankin with a faint expression of triumph on his lips, for Mr. Rankin had been right: we would have been wiser to have sought elsewhere for proof of our reputations as eminent journalists.

And that, ladies and gentlemen, is the full story as history should know it. The event took place in February, Mr. Woodside says it was in March. It may be that Mr. Churchill sent for Mr. Woodside later and had a fireside chat alone with him about the timetable of the Pacific war. I do not know. But somehow or other I doubt it.

TOO MUCH LAND

This year a splendid wheat crop is being harvested in the west, and the danger impending is that with brighter prospects ahead some of the farmers will use the resulting capital for the purpose of buying more land instead of freeing the farms they have from the burden of mortgage indebtedness. Some people cannot, or will not, learn from experience; so, instead of introducing on their farms a well-tested rotation of crops, and some assured method of destroying weeds, they go "mining" the soil, widening the weed production area, and incurring the risk of financial bankruptcy leading eventually to the loss of their farms.—Chatham News.

A Bible Message

Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid: for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation. Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. And in that day shall ye say, Praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

Sing unto the Lord; for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth. Cry out and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee. (Isa. 12: 2-6.)

We then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain. (For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.) (II Cor. 6: 1, 2.)

PEACE-TIME ARMY

Ottawa is said to be considering the establi[shment] of a peace-time army of 100,000 men w[ith] minimum camp training of a month each y[ear]. For a country so vulnerable, we have always b[een] pitifully weak in a military sense whenever pe[ace] has prevailed. Perhaps hereafter we will be b[et]ter prepared on land, at sea, and in the ai[r].— Brockville Recorder and Times.

OUR PETS

Italian prisoners of war employed farming [in] Lincolnshire have struck work because they w[ere] given sandwiches instead of a hot meal at m[id]day. The British soldiers who guard them [get] the same sandwiches. Nothing is any longer [in]credible. But it is at least time we taught Itali[ans] that we do not keep them as pets.—London S[un]day Express.

AMATEUR DIPLOMATS

Do not let us spend too much time lookin[g at] foreign politics. There is too great a tend[ency] in this country just at the moment to cast ro[ving] eyes around the world. Just because the P[rime] Minister makes a useful and informative re[view] of foreign affairs there is no compelling re[ason] for every man jack in the land to conduct [him]self like an ambassador or a first counsellor. [The] destinies of dynasties and the future of reg[imes] here, there, and everywhere are being se[ttled] out of hand wherever a few people get toge[ther]. A little bit of that goes a long way at the pr[esent] time, when the much more urgent questi[on is] how we can most effectively bring our fig[hting] power to bear in overwhelming the German[s and] the Japs. It is quite enough to concentra[te on] those two evil tyrannies.—London Daily Ex[press].

What Are 'High Wages'

Henry Ford has just released a statemen[t say]ing:

"I have been thinking about raising wag[es for] some time and I am going to do it as soon [as the] Government will permit me. As long as I [can] want to pay the highest wages in the auto[mobile] business. If the men in our plants will [give a] full day's work for a full day's pay, ther[e is no] reason why we can't always do it."

This is creditable to Mr. Ford's heart, [but we] wonder how creditable it is to his head. [...] what are called "high wages" cannot be m[easur]ed by what a worker finds in his pay en[velope]; they must be measured by what he has [to take] out of his pay envelope to buy the thi[ngs he] needs. If, for example, every plant in th[e Unit]ed States increased the wages of its work[ers and] that increase meant, as inevitably it would, that increased production costs meant [corre]spondingly higher prices, in what respect [would] workers be better off? Real wages, the [excess] of income over outgo, would be the sam[e].

The truth is that the welfare of work[ers, the] share which they receive of the total [national] income, has very little relation to wag[es]. What must govern or determine their [welfare] is the state of the national production—[the ques]tion of whether the factories, plants, fie[lds and] mines of a country are busy producing, a[nd] their production being distributed and [consum]ed. Paper wage schedules mean nothin[g]. What counts is production, with a plent[iful sup]ply of life's necesities at prices in bala[nce with] wages.—Ottawa Journal.

Throat Slashed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP).—The nude body of a woman with r throat slashed, identified by police as Mrs. Margaret Fitzwater, 53, was found floating early Sunday in the lagoon fronting the Pentagon building in nearby Virginia, home of the War Department. Gardner Homes, 66, who lives on a Potomac river houseboat, reported he heard a scream about midnight but did not investigate until morning.

Duck Hunting Helped Fenelon Falls Rear Gunner

LINDSAY, Sept. 25 — Flt. Sgt. Hugh Robinson of Fenelon Falls, Snowy Owl Squadron rear gunner, has bagged two German fighters in his 27 trips over enemy territory.

Hugh figured that hunting partridge, pheasants, duck and an occasional fox was good preparation for knocking down bigger game.

The first "kill" was on the way back from Belgium, where Robinson and his crew had helped blast railway yards in the before D-Day offensive. It was an ME-109 and it came in firing from the starboard quarter, slightly up. The first burst from Hugh's gun set the Jerry on fire, the tracers going right into the nose of the plane. "I knew I had him," recalled Robinson, "but I gave him another just to make sure." The entire crew watched the ME-109 explode on the ground.

The second score was on the way to Stuttgart. This time it was a JU-88 coming in from dead astern. The German fired and started to followed the Canadian bomber through a corkscrew and three of Robinson's guns stopped after a few rounds. He got the fighter with one serviceable gun, firing 43 rounds into the motors. The JU-88 dived earthward and when it was 1,000 feet off the deck was seen to burst into flames and explode.

Auction Prices Fair

DOWNEYVILLE, Sept. 25 — (ENS). — A large crowd attended the auction sale at the farm of John O. O'Neill at the Cheese Factory Corner. Fair prices were paid especially for horses, which sold cheaply, a good team at $40 and $50 each. Cows sold at $75, pullets 65c each, and young cattle $45. Mr. Jackson of Port Perry was the auctioneer. Mr. O'Neill is giving up farming and intends moving away in the spring.

Ontario Pine Trees Said Superior

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — Ontario white pine is superior to California and British Columbia pines for storm window sashes, Reg. A. Rastall, sales manager of William Milne & Sons, a North Bay lumber firm, said here last night.

Mr. Rastall objected to the statement of some dealers that Ontario pine cannot be used for window sashes because "it is too knotty," printed in The Globe and Mail on Saturday, in a story that the lifting of United States controls on California pine might result in a greater supply of storm windows, which are at present scarce.

"You can buy California and British Columbia pine at a price, delivered Toronto, just about half the $122 per 1,000 feet we get for Ontario white pine here," said Mr. Rastall in proof of the fact that Ontario pine was superior.

California and British Columbia pine "is not worth a darn" for the making of storm window sashes, he claimed, because it was only usable where there was no dampness. But in the form of window sashes, where it would be attacked by rain and snow, it could not stand the elements, while Ontario pine, on the other hand, was able to withstand the damp weather.

One difficulty was, however, that Ontario was never able to produce enough white pine to meet all demands, and this was especially true in wartime. Thus, California and British Columbia pine was used frequently as a substitute in making window sashes.

Apsley Parishoners Honor Rev. Freeston

APSLEY, Sept. 25 — (ENS) — Members of St. George's Anglican Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McColl to say farewell to Rev. F. Freeston and Mrs. Freeston, rector of St. George's Church for the past two years. During his ministry here, both he and Mrs. Freeston had worked diligently for the welfare of the church and they were both members of the Red Cross Hospital Board.

During the evening they were given a beautiful rose-colored wool blanket. The address was read by Miss Ruby McColl and Mrs. James Downing presented the gift. Rev. Mr. Freeston thanked his parishioners. The women served a dainty lunch.

Toronto Baers Oust Fort Erie Team

By The Canadian Press

Final games were played in several districts in Ontario baseball during the weekend, while in other tilts teams reached their final series.

At Fort Erie the local team was eliminated 7-2 from the Ontario Baseball Association Intermediate "A" semi-final playoffs, losing to Toronto Baers. The latter had won the first game 16-4. Baers made it good with a four-run seventh inning.

The Sault St. Veronica's won the Northern Ontario Intermediate "A" softball championship at Sault St. Marie by downing North Bay 9-0, winning their best-of-three series in straight games. The winners now wait until a Southern Ontario titleholder is declared.

Sarnia wont he Juvenile O.B.A. semi-final series at Woodstock by defeating Woodstock 5-0. The Sarnians meet Toronto Trinity Kiwanis for the provincial crown.

Blank Petrolia

St. Catharines Lincolns, 1943 O.B.A. Junior "B" winners, blanked Petrolia Hard Oils at the Garden City 32-0 in the opening game of a home and home final series. Pitcher Garner racked up 16 strikeouts.

Subbing for Bob Rothmell who was ill, twelve-year-old Glen Johnson Saturday pitched Guelph into the finals for the Ontario Bantam "B" title with an 11-1 victory over London in the third game of the semi-final round. Each team had won previously. Guelph now meets Hamilton.

In the first game of the Midget O.B.A. finals, Hamilton trounced London on its home grounds 14-4 in the first game of the finals.

Behind the pitching of Herb Lake Fort Erie coasted to a 12-2 victory over Sarnia to take the first game of a best-of-three final series for the amateur softball championship of southern and western Ontario.

At Grimsby the locals won 12-7 over Batawa in the Ontario Amateur Softball Assoiation Intermediate "C" finals to even the series at one victory each. The third and deciding game will be at Oshawa Wednesday.

An East-West schoolboy football series in mid-October may result from negotiations which Winnipeg sportsmen now are carrying on with St. Michael's College of Toronto. It was reported last night from Winnipeg that Frank Hannibal, a past president of the rugby football club there, was the principal in the move to have the 'teen-agers' series played in Winnipeg Oct. 14 and 16.

Two private schools have signified willingness to take part in the series, but one of them, St. Paul's College, has requested that the Toronto team field players 19 years of age or under on September 1 this year, and that they be members of high school classes.

Mimico will be the venue tonight of the second game between that town's mountaineers and St. Catharines Athletics in the best-of-five series for the Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association championship. Mountaineers are one down to Athletics by virtue of the 11-3 win scored by St. Catharines Saturday in a game marked by heavy checking in the last quarter.

Hamilton's juvenile lacrosse team defeated Owen Sound 8-5 at Hamilton Saturday in the first game of a home and home series for the Ontario championship. The return game will be played at Orangeville Monday night.

The United States men's champion, Frankie Parker, and Pauline Betz, women's titleholder, stroked out hard-won victories at Los Angeles Sunday in the finals of the Pacific southwest tennis tournament. Parker defeated Bill Talbert, Indianapolis, 6-4, 6-8, 8-6, while Miss Betz won from Margaret Oszorne, San Francisco, 6-4, 6-3.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25 —(AP) — The baseball season is almost over but baseball men can put in a busy winter trying to guess when the war will end. It will have a lot to do with their planning .... Late in August a bulletin from Minor League headquarters cautioned the inactive clubs against too-hasty resumption because of a doubtful player supply and war manpower regulations that might make it hard to get even those players who aren't in service .... SPORTS—Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Westclox will have to do it the hard way. Nosed out here Saturday 3 to 2 by the Stratford Kroehlers Manager Ab Delahaye's Peterborough girls are now facing the task of having to win twice in the Classic City this Saturday to take the Ontario intermediate championship. That is a tough program but the Big Bens can carry it out if they flash back to the form they showed in beating the York Brass team. In that series, especially in the 3 to 0 victory at Sunnyside the Westclockers played with all the confidence and poise in the world. Saturday they were nervous, a bit unsteady all the way and never looked like the same club that had won the admiration of Toronto fans by their convincing display in the Queen City. Greta Harmer, Stratford pitcher, had them popping up most of the route and was ahead of them all the way until the final frame when they finally managed to put three hits together and momentarily threatened to pull the game out of the fire. Isobel Bullock has pitched steadier games this season but at that she allowed only one earned run and with any hitting behind her would probably have come through with a win. Only in the ninth innings did the Westclox attack show any signs of power and one more blow then would have meant the ball game.

* * * * * *

A lot of folk profess to believe that "breaks" have nothing to do with winning a ball game; they usually add that a good ball club makes its own "breaks" and there may be something in that argument. However little things can affect the result of a game. Ruby Huras who plays centre field for Kroehlers and bats in the cleanup position was an absentee Saturday because of a case of infantile paralysis in the house in which she boards, the inmates being quarantined. So the Kroehler management had to decide whom to put in Number 4 position in the batting order for Saturday's game. They finally moved Eileen Hutchison up into the cleanup spot with the result that she walked out to the plate in the first innings with two teammates in scoring position and slammed a double to left field that sent in two runs and won the argument right there. True she got her hit off a bad ball and it was her only blow in five trips to the plate but that one timely wallop justified her selection.

* * * * * *

About Umpiring

The desirability of having neutral umpires, especially in final series must be obvious to any one after Saturday's game. The work of Umpire Page of Stratford behind the bat was not the kind of umpiring that teams should have in a battle for an Ontario championship. Page who has been officiating in all the Stratford games for the past two seasons and has frequently been in trouble showed by his calling of balls and strikes here last season that he was incompetent and Saturday he was more erratic than ever. Don't get us wrong We are not claiming that Page's bad decisions beat Westclox. But we do say that his off-color work made the Big Bens beat themselves. He was a mental hazard and the Westclox girls let it get them down. They worried more about his umpiring than they did the progress of the ball game and it affected both their pitching and their hitting. Stratford, too, had their complaints about the umpiring. They did not like the decisions of Umpire Herb Payne on several plays on the bases. The whole situation clearly shows the need of a change. There will always be trouble so long as home officials work in final rounds. Instead of a battle between two ball clubs it is liable to wind up in a war between rival umpires.

* * * * * *

Bad as was Page's work Saturday there was no excuse for threatening him with mob violence after the game. A community's reputation as a sporting centre always suffers badly when officials, no mater how off color they may have been, are in danger of being assaulted by a mob. Fortunately police protection was at hand and prompt action prevented Page from suffering at the hands of the angry fans. He was not so fortunate last season in St. Catharines when a mob manhandled him at the close of a game in which his decisions had aroused the ire of the crowd. In justice to the Stratford umpire it should be pointed out that on one play Saturday about which some of the fans were complaining he was absolutely right. That was in the sixth innings when Stratford's Kay Johnston rolled one to Marg Hawthorne who tossed her out at first. Umpire Page called the batter safe because Beryl Dobbin's mitt had come into contact with the Stratford girl's bat and she was therefore entitled to first base by reason of the catcher's interference. Most of the fans missed the play and they could not understand the decision.

* * * * * *

Another Technicality

"We've heard of some outrageous grounds for protesting a game, but the payoff seems to have been reached in that Guelph complaint against pitcher Eddie Elasser of Ft. Erie for wearing khaki, rather than dark colored trousers. In view of the fact that the up-river hurler hogtied the royal city squad in the third and deciding contest of the O.A.S.A. semi-finals, while sporting the brown wearing apparel, the protest appears very cheap and seems like the one opportunity the western Ontario nine has of getting past the Bailey representatives. If the rule book states that nothing but dark trousers are to be used, the Guelph objections should have been made before the contest started, and failure to do so, reveals their desire to use committee room, rather than playing, tactics to reach the final round. How any team that has been decisively trounced can have the face to protest when the grounds are so thin, seems beyond the comprehension of decent sportsmen, and if those handling the question do other than toss the protest into the waste paper basket, they are not rendering their game a worthwhile service." The rule against light-colored trousers worn by pitchers was to prevent twirlers from using a white back ground, making it difficult for batters to see against the whiteness of the trousers a new ball coming in toward the plate.

* * * * * *

The American League race, rapidly drawing to a close saw no change over the week-end. Neither Detroit Tigers nor the St. Louis Browns would yield any ground over the week-end and the Tigers are still a full game in front. The Bengals cleaned up on the Boston Red Sox Sunday, their fourth win in a row over Joe Cronin's club while the Brownies had to come from behind and score three runs in the ninth frame to nose out the Philadelphia A's 3 to 2. Hal Newhouser won his 27th victory of the season in beating the Red Sox yesterday. The Yanks, out of the race, were set back by the Cleveland Indians with the veteran Mel Harder holding them to four hits as the once-mighty New Yorkers went down 4 to 1. In the National League the chief feature was the fact that Mort Cooper of the Cards had to travel 16 innings to win his 22nd victory of the year at the expense of the Phillies. Cooper allowed 19 hits in the long game but only three runs and the champs won 4 to 3. They also took the second game 1 to 0 with Ted Wilks pitching the shutout.

Wildcats Swamp Toronto 35-0 In Rugby

By The Canadian Press

Veteran players were in the spotlight in the three opening games Saturday in Ontario's sixth wartime football season although several younger players came up with performances which stamped them as coming stars of the gridiron.

Triple-threat Joe Krol led the Hamilton Wildcats in a triumphant 35-0 rout of Toronto Indians at Hamilton in the only game in the Ontario Rugby Football Union; Leading Seaman Annis Stukus, embarking on his 10th season of senior football, was the kingpin of a Toronto Navy team which sailed to a 22-6 victory over Camp Borden R.C.A.F. Hurricanes in an Ontario Armed Services League game at Toronto; Cpl. Joe Richman and Moon Mullins were the top scorers as Hagersville R.C.A.F. Bombers squeezed out an 8-7 win over St. Thomas R.C.A.F. Hornets in the other Services League game at London, Ont.

Krol, probably the best back in the East last season, was passing, booting and running as well as ever. His play and that of 14 other veteran members of last year's Dominion champion Wildcats smothered the youthful but scrappy Indians all the way. The Windsor native who broke into senior football with the University of Western Ontario tallied 12 points on two touchdowns and two converts.

Seipi New Star.

Four other Hamilton veterans figured in the scoring parade. Paul Miocinovich, hard-plunging back, had six points while Tom Hickey and Quarterback Mel Lawson each had five. Aging outside wing Jimmy Simpson had one. A new Hamilton star was Joe Seipi 65-pound outside wing up from High School ranks, who had a touchdown and a convert for six points.

Jim Cumming was the standout perfomer for Indians and he had able assistance from Jack Harris, formerly of the University of Saskatchewan, and Len Cassidy but their best wasn't good enough to halt the Marauding Wildcats.

Stukas, leading scorer in the O. R. F. U. last season, got away to a flying start in the new Service League scoring 12 points at Toronto as Navy marked up an easy victory. The Hurricanes, led by veterans Sgm. Fred Kijek and Sgt. Doug Pyzer, tallied six points in the opening stages of the game but after that they faded in the face of a hard-hitting Navy line and fleet running by youthful sailor blackfielders.

OS. Byron Karrys, OS. Jim O'Brien and LS. Tom Waldon were the three most brilliant Navy youngsters. Karrys and O'Brien each scored a touchdown, the latter dashing 36 yards around the end for his score. Waldon caught faultlessly, started extension runs ably and proved an able pass receiver.

Mullins Fumbles

Richman got the lion's share of the points for Hagersville at London with a fourth-quarter touchdown which overcame a St. Thomas lead. But FO. Pete Wright, graduate of London High School circles, got the clinching point in the dying minutes of the game. Mullins, who had scored all seven St. Thomas points, fumbled a snap and Wright booted the loose ball over the line for a single.

It was close football all the way. Cpl. Walter Gibb put Hagersville one point up in the first quarter when his attempted placement went for a single. Mullins got four points for St. Thomas in the third quarter with a single and a placement. Richman's converted fourth-quarter touchdown gave Bombers the lead but Mullins tied it up with another placement only to make the game-losing fumble a few minutes later.

Perfect weather prevailed for all three games. Nine thousand fans saw the Toronto contest, nearly 5,000 were on hand at Hamilton and about 2,000 attended at London.

The other two O.R.F.U. teams—Toronto Balmy Beach and Ottawa Trojans—were not scheduled but Trojans took adantage of the open date to play an exhibition game with Verdun of the Quebec Rugby Football Union chalking up an easy 36-6 win before 2,500 fans at Ottawa. Veterans Ted Edwards, Bert Haigh and Arnie McWatters were the leading Ottawa scorers.

Westclox Girls Lose First Game To Stratford 3-2

Inability to hit the offerings of Greta Harmer, ace Stratford pitcher, cost Westclox the first game of the P.W.S.U. finals at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon, when Kroehlers nosed them out 3 runs to 2. The loss means that to win the title the Big Bens will have to beat the Western Ontario girls twice in Stratford this Saturday when the second, and if necessary, the third game will be played.

Kroehlers got the jump on the Peterborough girls in the first inning of Saturday's game by scoring two runs on three hits and an error, and although they only scored one unearned marker after that, that was all they needed to grab off the decision. Greta Harmer's steady pitching had the Westclox attack under control throughout. The Kroehler pitcher only struck out two batters, but she didn't walk anybody and she kept Westclox's eight hits so well distributed that they only succeeded in getting more than one in a frame in the final innings when they managed to get their second marker and had the tying and winning runs on the bases when the Stratford twirler shot down the rally by getting the last batter on an easy fly.

Isobel Bullock was on the hilltop for the Big Bens and while she was not as steady as usual and had to pitch herself out of several jams, the Westclox box artist was hard to hit when blows meant runs. After a shaky start in which the invaders scored twice in the opening frame, she allowed Kroehlers only one unearned run for the rest of the game, and the visitors had 13 left on bases. Errors helped in the manufacture of two Stratford runs. Incidentally one of the two Westclox counters was also the result of a wild throw.

Erratic Umpiring

The game was marred by erratic umpiring. The work of Umpire Page of Stratford, behind the bat, caused constant complaints, and after it was over the official had to leave the park under police protection. On the other hand Kroehlers protested vigorously about several decisions on the bases by Umpire Herb. Payne of Peterborough.

In spite of the small score and effective pitching in the pinches, Stratford had runners on the bases in every innings but two and Westclox only failed to get on the paths in three of the nine frames. It was that kind of a battle.

On top of her good pitching Greta Harmer shared with Helen Doubrough, Kroehler firstsacker, the honor of leading the hitters, each of them coming through with three blows. However, the half dozen safeties hadn't as much to do with the victory as the one hit made by Eileen Hutchison, visiting shortstop. That was a double in the first inning, driving in two runs, and as it turned out the ball game was riding on that smash to left field. Barbara Rome had two hits for Westclox. Both teams did some nice fielding but there were no spectacular defensive gems.

Kroehlers Get Jump

Kroehlers practically won the ball game in the first innings. Gladys Heinbuch walked to start with but Beryl Dobbin snuffed her out at second when she tried to steal. Evelyn Easson, however, singled over second. Greta Harmer rolled to Verna Patterson and when the ball got away from the Big Bens' second base player, Evelyn Easson ran around to third and the batter went to second on the throw to the difficult corner. Eileen Hutchison came through with a double to left scoring Evelyn Easson and Greta Har-

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

If there are no more week-end mixed tournaments for this season, the one held last Saturday night will go down as being one of the best.

Not that the crowd was any bigger, not that the bowling was any better or that the prizes were any different, but the whole set-up was one of good fellowship and good sportsmanship.

The boys and girls seemed to sense that this might by the last of the season and they came out prepared to do their share and help put over this social evening.

After the two seven-end games were played the bowlers gathered in the club room. Robt. Hendry was master of ceremonies. He had prepared a varied program that went over big. Mrs. W. Greenslade presided at the piano in her usual capable manner. Those taking part in the program included Mrs. A. Aitkenhead, John Withers, C. Nicholson, Fred Dearborn and G. Nimmons.

The success of these Saturday night tournaments go to Geo. Soulby and W. Ashby. They have worked hard, long and regularly and our club is very fortunate in having two such men as George and Bill.

The winners of the lucky draws were Mrs. O. Williamson and Mr. J. Winchester.

The winning rinks were skipped by R. J. Martin, P. Moore and W. Ashby.

Orioles Backed Against Wall In Semi-Finals

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25.—(AP).—The International League pennant-winning Baltimore Orioles, their backs to the wall, will depend upon Stan West to preserve their play-off chances when they face Buffalo Bisons here to-night.

West, who defeated the Bisons at Buffalo Thursday night, was Manager Tommy Thomas' choice for mound duty in the game which the Orioles must win if they are to stay in the running for the right to meet Newark in the finals.

Playing the fifth game of the Governor's Cup play-off series before a record local crowd of 32,713 at the Municipal Stadium yesterday, the pennant winners took a two-run lead in the first two innings but went down 4-2, giving the Bisons a 3-2 edge in the best-of-seven-game series.

Joe Orrell, who defeated Baltimore 9-4 in the first game of the series a week ago yesterday, is expected to be on the mound for the Bisons.

Charles (Red) Embree was charged with yesterday's loss, losing the game because of wildness and the fact that Walter Wilson held the Baltimoreans to seven scattered hits and set them down in the final seven innings.

Embree allowed two runs by wild pitching, one in the fourth inning and again in the fifth. Both teams played errorless ball.

In the second frame Bison shortstop Bubber Floyd pulled the old hidden-ball trick to halt a Baltimore scoring threat. Felix Mackiewicz singled and went to second on a wild pitch scoring when Lou Khan doubled to centre. Hiding the sphere, Floyd tagged Kahn out a moment later.

In the other opening league series, Newark eliminated Toronto in four stranght.

Phil Farley Wins

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que., Sept. 25 — (CP). — Phil Farley of Scarborough today won the Seigniory Club's 13th annual 36-hole invitation gold tournament with a 146 gross, adding a 74 to his first round 72.

The Toronto player led a large field, finishing 10 strokes better than A. Dussault of Royal Quebec, tournament runner-up with 79-77 for 156.

E. Rivard of Montreal Rosemere, who grossed 160 (76-84), was low net winner with 146.

ON THEIR PITCHING ARMS REST DETROIT'S CHANCES — Detroit's mound aces, Hal Newhouser, Dizzy Trout and Stubby Overmire, Left to Right, above, will carry the Tigers' pennant hopes into the last week of the season as the Motor City club seeks the American League pennant. Newhouser won his 27th game Sunday to keep the Tigers on top of the American League by one full game over the St. Louis Browns.

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 —(SP) — The Dominon of Canada Rifle Association in step with other organizations hit a body blow by the war, has been making post-war plans, too, since the annual shoot at nearby Connaught Ranges was suspended in 1940 for the duration.

Yes, those snipers and sharpshooters who have been proving they're pretty handy with rifles in the heat of battle, will be able to prove — and no "line-shooting" will be necessary —just how good they are when the Germans are beaten.

The D. C. R. A. hasn't been idle these war years. Connaught Ranges, rated about the best and most picturesque in the world, is the site nowadays of a military camp. But if the war finished before spring the camp will disappear and shooting meets will be resumed.

Col. R. J. Birthwhistle, Association secretary, has a program already drawn up and tucked in a pigeonhole for use at a moment's notice.

The war has engendered a keen interest in competitive rifle shooting. For instance, last winter more than 85,000 soldiers and would-be soldiers participated in the association's small bore meets. More than 1,000 teams took part, 459 from reserve units and 553 from the Army Cadet Corps.

Before the war 500 riflemen at the association's annual competition was considered something to boast about. Without going off the deep end, Col. Birthwhistle figures that future shoots will draw more than 1,000.

That's only for the finals when the Dominon's best strive for a place on the 12-man Bisley team. Thousands more are expected to participate at Provincial meets.

Connaught Ranges, too might become the scene of big Inter-Empire meets. Plans for such a development are in the blue-print stage, but officials feel that within a year after the war the ranges may become a second Bisley.

And while we're on the subject. Did you ever know that Desmond T. Burke of Ottawa, now a medical officer overseas and considered Canada's most outstanding shot, learned the hard way. He used to lie for hours in his back yard, unloaded rifle to shoulder, opening and closing the bolt.

Shell splinters: the prices board, beset by rationing and price control worries, has taken time out to warn nimrods that Sept. 30 is the last day on which permits for small arms ammunition can be obtained. Permits will be good until Dec. 31 but they won't help big game hunters in the Ottawa Valley where the deer and moose season opened today. There isn't a centre-fire shell for miles .... Ottawa Trojans' stock soared in the O.R.F.U. when Curley Moynahan was lured back to the game—but not for long. Curley tripped over a curb while entering his home and suffered a broken ankle.... New York Rangers' Frank Boucher, who spent the summer on a farm at Mountain, Ont., will leave any day now for Winnipeg where his team will train .... Frank says it was a little dry this year for the crops.

Mark Christman, Browns—Doubled with two out in ninth to score two runners and followed with winning run on error to give Browns 3-2 victory over Athletics.

Pinky Higgins, Tigers— Hit homer and two singles to drive in five runs as Tigers beat Red Sox for fourtn straight time 9-5 for Hal Newhouser's 27th triumph.

Mel Harder, Indians— Held Yankees to four hits as Indians practically eliminated Yanks from American League race with 4-1 triumph.

Whitey Kurowski and Ted Wilks, Cardinals—Kurowski's homer in 16th won opener for Cards over Phillies 4-3; Wilks spun five-hit shutout in nightcap, besting Charlie Schanz in hurling duel.

Tigers Cling To Lead On Last Lap

By JOE REICHLER,
Associated Press Sport Writer.

It is no longer a question of who will stop Detroit Tigers but how can they lose.

Winners of nine of their last 10 starts, 22 of their last 27 games, and not having dropped a team series since July 28, when they lost three straight to Boston, the Tigers clung to their one-game edge in the American League yesterday over St. Louis Browns by beating the Red Sox 9-5 for the fourth straight time.

The Browns, however, refused to concede the flag to the Tigers. Trailing Philadelphia Athletics 2-0 in the last of the ninth inning, they rallied for three runs to pull the game out of the fire.

But the schedule for the remaining week of play is all in the Tigers' favor. Each team has seven games to play, but the Tigers' opponents will be the Athletics and Washington Senators, the tail-enders. The Browns, on the other hand, must meet the Red Sox and New York Yankees.

Newhouser Again.

Once again it was Harold Newhouser who pitched the Tigers to a victory, his 27th of the season. Only one other pitcher in Tiger history since 1900 has won more, George Mullin, 29 in 1909. Aiding Newhouser yesterday was Pinky Higgins, who batted in five runs with a homer and two singles.

The Yankees were all but mathematically eliminated from the race when they absorbed a 4-1 licking from Mel Harder and Cleveland Indians. The defeat dropped the New Yorkers 4½ games behind the pace, with eight games remaining.

Chicago White Sox extended their winning streak to six straight by sweeping a twin-bill from the Senators 9-3 and 2-0.

St. Louis champion Cardinals became first National League team to win more than 100 games for three successive years when they won both games from Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3 in 16 innings and 1-0 in nine frames. It was Cards' 100th and 101st victories.

The other games in the National League resulted in even splits for Pittsburgh Pirates and Giants, the Bucs winning the second in 10 innings 3-2 after Bill Voiselle had beaten 5-4 in the opener; Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers also divided, the Cubs winning the second 4-3 on Bill Nicholson's 33rd homer, after Curt Davies became the first Dodger pitcher to win 10 games as Brooklyn won the opener 10-3; Cincinnati took two close games from Boston 2-1 and 1-0.

Manager Mel Ott of the Giants suspended first baseman Phil Wintraub for the balance of the season for lack of hustle and "improper attitude" in the game of Sept. 23. Before the game, Ott had to summon Weintraub from the clubhouse, where he had retired after being hit on the arm in batting practice. In six official times at bat, Weintraub failed to get a hit, looking at a third strike with the bases loaded.

Mimico Loses To St. Kitts

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 25 — Mimico Mountaineers dropped the opener of the senior O.L.A. finals here on Saturday night to St. Catharines Athletics by an 11-3 score after staging 30 minutes of the tightest lacrosse seen here this year for the first half of the game.

It looked like a two-man game in the early part as Rhys Thompson, pro puckster, netted Mounts' brace for a 2-0 lead in the first period, and Frank Madsen duplicated for A's to make the score 2-2 at halftime.

Saints bagged two goals in his absence and lifted the score to 7-3 for the period end. The bottom dropped out of Mimico's hopes in the fourth when Athletics whipped four in a row past Mortimer, making it nine successive goals without a reply.

Second game is in Mimico on Monday, third here Wednesday, and fourth in Mimico on Friday in the best-of-five Provincial title series.

Mimico Mountaineers—Goal, Mortimer; defense, McLean, Sandford; rover, B. McDonald; centre, J. McDonald wings, Hayes, Masters; subs, Doyle, Dixon, Stegall, Pridehard, Thompson, Rock.

St. Catharines Athletics — Goal Whitaker; defense, F. Madsen, Wright; rover, Nelson; centre, Thorpe; wings, Whitely, Macdonald; subs, C. Madsen, Myers, Mackie, Gatecliff, Cove, Bye, Morton.

Referees—Max Peart, Port Colborne; Morris Murphy, Mimico.

Reporter Forced Down In Belgium Learns Ferrying Supplies Tough

Charles Bruce, London superintendent of The Canadian Press, went on a routine operational flight over enemy territory Wednesday to get the story of the job being done by the men who ferry supplies to Allied airborne troops. The plane in which he flew with a Canadian pilot, navigator and bomb-aimer was hit by flak and crash-landed in Belgium. There was much anxiety for more than 36 hours when Bruce's plane was reported overdue. This is his story:

By CHARLES BRUCE
Canadian Press War Correspondent

BRUSSELS, Sept. 25—(CP Cable)—Our pilot, Doug Robertson, took the big plane straight and low over the dropping zone through a literal hell of flak. The bomb-aimer, Norman Roseblade, let go the canisters, "bang-on." Robbie pulled her nose up and to port, heading out of the area. In a moment the navigator Lem Prowse would be calling on a course for home.

Then the flak slammed into us.

It smacked "P for Peter' with the shock of a giant fist. For a split second the aircraft seemed steady on her course. Then she went into a screaming nosedive.

Robbie was standing back on his heels trying to pull her out of it as I shot out of the second pilot's seat, where I had been sported to get a better view of operations.

In some manner Roseblade got in there to help Robbie at the dual controls and in some way I was in the bomb-aimer's compartment staring down at Dutch field and houses through an open parachute escape hatch.

I didn't know whether I was expected to jump or not. Someone handed me a 'chute and I hooked it to my harness but Lem shook his head to say "no."

Nursed Ship Along.

We were too low for safe jumping at that moment.

Robbie had tugged her back on an even keel and he and Rosey were cursing, cajoling and muscling the ship along on some kind of temporary course. The imperturbable Lem Prowse was trying to find out where we were and plot a course out of enemy territory. Little Flt. Sgt. Ronnie Alderson of Manchester, the engineer, was trying out an aerial version of "mend and make do" on the damaged plane.

Sgt. George Hopkin, down in the tail gunner's turret, spake calmly into the intercomm when spoken to and Flt. Sgt. George Thompson of London, wireless operator, was at his table with blood running down his back and hunks of flak in his shoulder and hip.

Over the intercomm I heard Robbie tell Hopkin, "Come forward to the bomb-aimer's compartment."

Our trimming controls had been shot away and Robbie was trying to trim the ship. It was nice to have company.

It was an hour or so later in the gathering dusk that Robbie and Rosey brought her down to a beautiful belly-landing on a Belgian airfield.

For me the job started with a query from the Air Ministry asking whether The Canadian Press would be interested in sending a man on a trip with the fliers who are dropping supplies to the airborne troops behind the enemy lines in Holland.

Looked Routine.

It looked routine. I said yes, because I thought there would be a story in a job that is getting about one paragraph daily in the rationed London newspapers and was curious to see how the task was done and under what conditions. I know now.

At an R.A.F. airfield I asked to go with a Canadian crew and was placed with Robertson, who comes from Vancouver; Roseblade, a Toronto boy, and Prowse, who comes from Bengough, Sask.

The rest of the crew were Old Country men and two airborne men who came along on a special job, Drivers Edward Garnett and William Dungey.

There was nothing unroutine about the flight until we got in sight of the dropping zone. There the flak was coming up in proverbial "bags" and from the puffs and flashes lower down it appeared that sharp fighting was in progress on the ground.

The big plane went down to dropping level and the haze of dark smoke below us, already punctured with flak flashes, was stippled with the multi-colored parachutes of the supply canisters.

I was getting ready to breathe a sigh of relief that we were out of it when the burst tore into "P-for-Peter."

Lovely Landing

Then the scramble back began. Twice the escape hatch was opened. Flt. Lt. Robertson asked who wanted to go and who wanted to stay with the ship.

One by one Flt. Lt. Roseblade, a veteran of coastal command, FO. Prowse and all down the line elected to stay. Robertson and Roseblade were flying the ship with their knees jammed against the control wheels to keep her nose down. Flak had smashed the port tailplane and punched holes of various sizes in the fuselage.

No one will ever know what it did to the plane's bottom because that is pressed hard into the earth of that field outside Gent (Ghent).

It was a lovely belly-landing. Lying in the crash position as we scraped along I felt no more discomfort than if I was standing on a harrow being dragged across rocky ground.

We scrambled through the hatch, dropped to the ground, ran a few yards in case the aircraft caught fire, and then got down and kissed the earth.

There was a good deal of rough reverence in that gesture.

Free Enterprise
IS IN THEIR BLOOD
SINCE the beginning of Canada's history, independent trappers, operating on their own initiative and responsibility, have been the basis of Canada's great fur industry.
Rejecting an ordered way of living, trappers have adventured far beyond the boundaries of civilization in their quest for furs. Some have made fortunes. Some have not. But each has lived the life he wished to live . . . has treasured his right to fulfil a personal ambition. This is free enterprise in action.
This Bank, in its lifetime of over a century, has been a support of Canada's fur industry . . . has been attuned to the independence and the self-reliance of the men who built it.

"A NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SERVICE" means . . .
A trained PERSONNEL imbued with the SPIRIT of service—supported by the FACILITIES and the ORGANIZATION to deliver electrical goods—WHERE required—WHEN required.

CLIMAXING the romantic story of Canada's wartime shipbuilding achievements are the "baby flat-tops"—freighters converted into airplane carriers—with broad decks from which angry fighters zoom to guard the precious convoys. The range, manoeuvrability and striking power added to the naval air arm by the "baby flat-tops" has meant the death knell of many U-Boats. And they are in the vanguard of the allied advance on Tokio.
In a Western Canadian shipyard, the conversion of these "baby flat-tops" was achieved in record time—a feat made possible by the magnificent contribution of many industries.
Northern Electric played its part—together with the loyal wholehearted work of electrical engineers, electrical contractors and electricians. As a manufacturer we produced many of the electrical components—and as a national electrical service, we were able to save precious hours through our ability to locate and supply essential "bits and pieces".

ON COMMANDO COURSE.

Sgt. Jack Blewett, 717 Elcome Crescent, has gone to Three Rivers, Que., for commando training. Graduated from the London air station two weeks ago as a navigator, he enlisted in the R.C.A.F. Sept. 29, 1943. The airman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Blewett. He was formerly employed at Geneico.

CHURCH PARADE.

The Peterborough Sea Cadets held a church parade Sunday morning to Mark Street United Church, with the regular Sea Cadet Band in attendance. At 11 o'clock, Protestant members marched to Mark Street church, while the Roman Catholic boys went to St. Peter's Cathedral. Stan. Longhurst, Commanding Officer, was in charge.

BRANTFORD'S METHOD.

Brantford's Christmas presents for its men in the armed forces are being paid out of the funds of its Federated Services for which a refinancing campaign is now in progress for $33,000. The amount required for the Christmas prices is $6,000. Other participants in Brantford Services monies are Y. M. C. A.; Children's Aid Society; Victorian Order of Nurses; Salvation Army; Y. M. C. A. and the Social Service League.

WHY DO THEY DO IT

Regulars who eat most of their meals at restaurants are happy over the fact that many of the gay young things who frequent cafes on Sunday nights do not patronize the restaurants during meal time. On Sunday night in one restaurant, a middle-aged man left his half-eaten dinner on the table and walked out — He had noticed one girl combing her hair at the table, another was cleaning her finger nails — and a third, who provided the climax was biting her nails.

WOOD DELIVERIES.

From their experience last fall and winter many citizens are telephoning these days to the welfare office hoping to place orders for hardwood, especially for immediate delivery. The municipal department so far has been leaving the demand to the retail trade, but it is understood that if the deliveries are slow or other complaints are heard some of the more urgent orders may be accepted. The fuel committee has not yet reached this decision, but recent reports seemed to be indicating a pressure of need throughout the city that might cause revision of the present policy.

THEIR WORRIES GROW

There's a new note of sadness and worry in local Chinese homes with news that the Japs have taken Wuchow and are fighting in Kweilin. No mail has been received by some of the Chinese in Peterborough for three months, a condition brought about by new Nipponese thrusts across Kiangsi and Kwantung provinces, which is home to most of the local Orientals. Kwantung with Canton as its provincial capital holds a key highway which the Japs need for a through route to French-Indo China. Hum Hoy at the Paris says that for the first time since the war began, the Japs and Chinese are fighting within a mile and a half of the spot where his family is located.

PETERBOROUGH GIFT.

During the visit of the C.W.A.C. Pipe and Military Bands this summer, Peterborough noticed while the brass drummer for the pipe band boasted of a fine leopard skin, no such garment was worn by the military band. Thanks to the efforts of Mayor Hamilton and members of the city council, a leopard skin, from the City of Peterborough, was presented to the military band during a recent visit to London, Ont. Maj.-Gen. D. J. MacDonald, C.B.E., D.S.O., M.C., former officer commanding M.D. No. 1, presented the skin to CSM Nadie Svarich, the bandmaster. A picture of the presentation appeared in "News" from M.D. 3.

STORE ROBBED.

The store of J. Wilson, Sherbrooke street and Penrose avenue, was entered through the night and a quantity of cigarettes stolen.

SEVERELY WOUNDED.

Rfmn. Walter Robert Brodie Murphy of Pontypool has been severely wounded fighting with a Central Ontario regiment. His wife Mrs. Pauline Murphy, lives at R.R. No. 3, Pontypool.

ARRIVES IN FRANCE

Mrs. Emma Clementi, Stewart street, has received word that her nephew, Pte. Fred Gifford of Clifton Springs, N.Y., is safely in France, serving with the United States Army.

SERVING IN ENGLAND

AB. Fred Kiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kiff, 585 Division street, is now serving in England according to word received by his family. Formerly employed in the Western Clock company, he has been serving on H.M.C.S. Snowberry.

ALMOST FINISHED.

Work on the levelling of the embankment before Nicholls Oval is almost completed. Previously a high ledge difficult to scale, bulldozers and other equipment have levelled it off, until now it is a gradual ascent.

TWO FIRES SUNDAY.

The awning of Darling's Ladies' Wear Store, 384 George street, was damaged by fire Sunday at 6.23 p.m. when a lighted cigarette tossed up on it burned two holes. An hour and a half later, at 7.56 p.m., firemen were called to 64 Hunter street west, home of Albert Venetto, where a chimney fire was subdued. These were the only alarms received by the Department over the week-end.

MEET IN BELGIUM

Two Peterborough soldiers, both former employees of the Western Clock Co., met recently in Belgium. They are Pte. Bob Grisdale, who wrote home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Grisdale, 152 Dufferin street, mentioning the reunion, and Frank O'Leary, Mark street. Pte. Grisdale, 28, and a former member of the Prince of Wales Rangers, went overseas in December, 1943. He wrote his family that he was safe and in fine spirits.

Detroit Driver Given Remand

Alleged driver of the car which crashed on the Warsaw Road on the evening of Labor Day, fattaly injuring Mrs. Felix Courneya, Olive avenue, Eugene Schlenkert, 33, Detroit, Mich., was arraigned before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning on a charge of reckless driving.

Schlenkert has been in St. Joseph's Hospital since the accident, as the result of injuries received.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., asked this morning that the case should be tried as an indictable offence. "A death resulted from the accident," he told the court.

W. F. Huycke, K.C., who said that he was appearing for J. F. Strickland, who had been retained by the defence, asked for a remand and the case was accordingly enlarged until to-morrow. Schlenkert did not elect or plead.

Provincial Constable Price Morris, who investigated the accident, laid the charge.

Second Charge Laid.

Another reckless driving charge arising out of an accident that occurred more than six months ago, was read in police court to-day when Ambrose B. Lee, 37, was charged with reckless driving on the Keene Road in Otonabee on March 18.

Lee, alleged driver of a Sunshine Dairy truck that upset on a curve, pleaded not guilty to the charge and the case was adjourned by consent until October 10. T. J. Carley, K.C., appeared for the accused.

Lee was in hospital for a long time following the crash and a passenger in the truck, Harold Babbs, is still under medical care. The charge was laaid by Provincial Officer L. A. McClure.

Machine Gun Wounds Pte. W. J. Trick

Wounded September 6 by machine gun fire in the left shoulder, after volunteering to lead a patrol in the Boulogne area of France, Pte. William J. Trick, whose wife lives at 344 Aylmer street, is now in a hospital in England, and according to letters dated from Sept. 15, is rapidly regaining health.

One of three brothers serving overseas, Pte. Trick's wounds were received while a patrol he was leading had advanced about two hundred yards ahead of a main force, and a machine gun nest opened up at the young soldier, crawling along on his hands and knees.

"They fired three bursts at me," Pte. Trick writes, "but only one shot out of 18 bullets registered, and is was really a stroke of luck."

"It was in the Boulogne area," the letter continues, "and the first patrol of nine men who went out was practically wiped out. Seven more men were chosen for a second patol, and I volunteered. That's where the trouble started. Apparently the bullet went into my left shoulder, at the top, and came out through my back. I am suffering to no great extent, and I don't think any bones have been broken, or else I really would be in pain," he wrote.

Although reported wounded September 6, and further word stating him as seriously ill September 7, Mrs. Trick has received several letters since that time, and all stress the fact he is not seriously hurt. He was moved back to England from France September 13, and has since been able to write letters sitting up. Previously, he was unable to sit up by himself for more than a few moments at a time.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Trick, of Millbrook, the 22-year-old soldier worked there in a bakery before enlisting in November 1942. He went overseas in May, 1943, and joined the invasion forces smashing into Normandy during the first few hours of D-Day.

His wife, formerly Edythe V. Drain, is a member of the Examiner Mailing Department.

1944 Year Book Is Off Press

Embracing perhaps the two most important years in the Dominion's history, the 1943-44 Canada Year Book is now available, and may be purchased from the King's Printer, Ottawa, at $2. a copy.

The official statistical annual of the country, the Canada Year Book contains a thoroughly up-to-date account of natural resources, history, finance, education, transportation, instiutions . . . in brief, a comprehensive study of the social and economic conditions of the Dominion, within the limits of a single volume.

The newest edition reflects in almost every chapter the extent to which war production and war controls have played their part in maintaining output and supporting the price structure from growing pressures from every side. The influence of war on the pulp and paper industry, fisheries, manufacturing, and the wartime control of transportation are all discussed in the various chapters of the Year Book.

Public finance comes in for a detailed and extended treatment, and two new chapters deal with Post-War Construction and the Rehabilitation of Ex-Service Personel.

Some of the more important features of the new Canada Year Book are those which do not relate specifically to the war, including physiography, constitution and government, population, and fur resources and fur production.

Although wartime economy expresses itself in the smaller number of inserts and charts of this edition, the 1943-44 Canada Year Book covers a period crowded with events of great significance, and those wishing copies are reminded the supply is limited, and applications should be made at once.

A limited number of copies, paperbound, have been set aside for ministers of religion, students, and teachers, who may obtain these copies at $1.

Police Start Drive On City Bicyclists

A police drive against dangerous cycling practices was indicated in police court this morning when a number of riders were fined for not having proper lights on their wheels after dark.

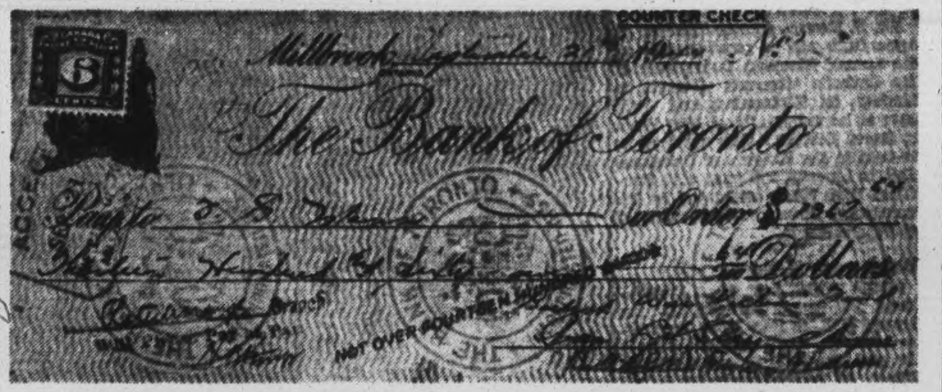
Fines of $2 and $1 costs were imposed on Bernard Pearson, Clifford Jewell and Ernest Donnelly, who entered written pleas of guilty.

Clinton Reid, who entered a plea of guilty to an offence against the parking regulations, was also fined $2 and $1 costs.

Lindsay Boy Better

LINDSAY, Sept. 25 — R. A. Wainman, King street, has received word that his son, Cpl. Orville C. Wainman, is recovering following severe wounds received in France. Cpl. Wainman and a number of comrades were out to clean up a nest of Jerries when he received his wounds. Cpl. Wainman is a member of the Highland Light Infantry.

Before enlisting Cpl Wainman was a member of Zeller's staff in Peterborough. He was a singer on local dance programs.



RECORD-BREAKING DONATION—The sight of a cheque for $1,367.64 worth of good cheer for victims of robot bombs in Britain, the largest ever to be received by the Peterborough and District War Victims' Fund, should be of interest to the large number of supporters of the fund. Signed by Ivan L. H. Gray and H. A. Kerr of Millbrook, it represents 75 per cent. of the net proceeds of the Donnybrook Fair and Carnival held by the people of Millbrook, Cavan township, and surrounding district on September 13, the balance of the proceeds going towards supplying parcels for the men and women of those districts who are on active service. (The Roy Studio Photo.)

Millbrook-Cavan Gift Of $1,367 Shatters All Fund Records

Everyone holding or taking a pride in achievement of any type, likes to see all former records broken, and when this happens to be in the field of doing good, it becomes immeasurably so from every standpoint.

The Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund has now been in operation for the better part of four years, and hitherto the highest single of any single contribution that happened to come in to support the worthy cause it endeavours to support amounted to $1,000 of which two of that amount have been recorded to date.

It has remained for the people of Millbrook, Cavan township and the surrounding district by a magnificetn effort they staged on Wednesday, September 13, to top all these previous records, and set a new high for one single endeavour which has made it possible for this colunm today to record a gift of $1367.64 on their behalf, and it should be recalled that a similar effort for the same purpose some two years ago brought nearly $700 to the fund for the same purpose.

As one may surmise, there was some very excellent leadership called into play here, the three main leaders being Ivan L. H. Gray, Reeve Bigelow and Marvin Kinsman, which was much equalled by a hard working committee composed of members of the Millbrook War Service Committee in the persons of Lt.-Col. Bounsell, L. H. Gray, M. Kinsman, P. Stinson, H. A. Kerr, H. Bigelow, P. Hamilton, J. Barringer, G. Harrington, J. Anderson, A. Ford, J. McPherson, L. Rowling, L. Fallis, C. Sutton, M. Ball, D. Sheppard, P. I. Bentley T. H. Collins, L. Sutton, Reg. Fallis, S. S. Staples, L. McNeill, M. M. McDowell, and Mrs. D. Olan, who were assisted by Gerald Anderson, S. Magill, J. Whittington, O. Pue, R. Bothwell, H. Cathcart, A. Payne, P. Pitt, Belsh R. Wood, A. Coulter, L. Sutton, M. McCullough, R. Lough, R. Sutton, G. Hooten, G. Shields, H. Tulley, H. Blakely, C. B. Hudson and Stewart McGill in the role of canvassers.

A real Donnybrook Fair atmosphere was created through an auction sale held in the afternoon for almost every conceivable article of a movable nature, conducted by Jas. Roddy of Bailieboro, Jack Reid of Clarke, and Gordon Hancock of local renown, which alone realized the splendid sum of $937.00, nearly $50.00 of which came because an organ of quite a lengthy vintage was refused acceptance by the same number of people who parted with $1.00 rather than cart it away.

The other attractions consisted of bingo games, various carnival games and wheels of fortune supplied by Hurrell Dodds of this city, a Street Dance for which Sheldon's orchestra provided the music, two draws for a Kenwood blanket donated by Pendries Dry Goods Store of Millbrook, and a Victrola given by Ivan Gray, with four Albums of records donated by Miss Eastcott which produced $80.00 and $30.00 respectively, and last but not least, a refreshment booth operated by the members of the Women's Institute which alone was responsible for bringing in another $160.00.

The draw for the prizes took place on the stand erected in the middle of the main street in Millbrook at about the zero hour of midnight, and resulted in the blanket being won by Mrs. Austin Sutton of R. R. 3, Millbrook, and the victrola and records by Mrs. M. Adams of Cavan.

Somewhere in the neighborhood of $300.00 was given in cash donations, showing just how widespread was the support given by the people of this district which included parts of Manvers and South Monaghan Townships and Bailieboro, in addition to all the various articles donated for the auction sale which provided the largest single source of revenue for the effort as a whole.

No event of this nature is really complete without music, and this was most satisfactorily supplied by the band of the 2nd Midland Regt. of Campbellford, conducted by E. C. Dolman of Peterborough, their offerings being widely acclaimed, and doing much to assist the festive spirit during the afternoon and early evening.

31st Donated Cabled To-day.

This splendid contribution has now made it possible to cable another donation to the Lord Mayor of London to-day, the sum of £300 being sent this time in order to bring the total now cabled over up to the splendid figure of £18,000.

The cable notifying the Lord Mayor if its despatch, also made mention of the fact that the people of the Millbrook district had a large share in its being made possible. There is a nice balance on hand which will go towards completing what is hoped will be the finest of any single one to go forward from this city and district, being particularly designed to help the hundreds of thousand of children evacuees who through the recent robot bomb attacks on Britain, will be unable to be in their own homes at that time, further announcement of which will be made as time proceeds.

25 Cents Yearly On Every $1,000 Cost Of Centre To Taxpayers

The municipality's proposed contribution of $75,000 to the funds for the Memorial and Health Centre would be equivalent to one-quarter of a mill in the tax rate if debentures were issued for 15 years paying 3½ per cent. interest.

This estimate is also based on the last assetment of $25,000,000.

The computation was obtained from City Treasurer Shaver at the request of The Examiner, relayed from citizens who have been wondering what effect the proposed grant would have on their taxes.

The citizens who are carrying the work of the campaign for the Memorial Centre have been suggesting a grant from the city of an indefinite amount in the range between $50,000 and $75,000.

Estimate Figures

The estimate obtained from Mr. Shaver is based only on the larger contribution. If the amount were to be $50,000, the annual increase in the tax rate would be two-thirds of one-quarter of a mill.

Supposing your tax rate is 30 mills, a grant of $75,000 to the Memorial Centre would make that tax rate read 30.25 mills.

To provide the Memorial Centre for the city your annual contribution through your taxes would be twenty-five cents on every $1,000 of your assessment.

If your assessment was $4,000, your yearly payment to the Memorial Centre would be one dollar, and it would continue for the duration of the debt, in this illustration, fifteen years. Your total amount would be $15 spread over that period

If your assessment is $8,000 you would contribute eight times twenty-five cents or $2 a year.

If you are assessed for $50,000, and at that figure you are a top-ranking property owner and taxpayer, your annual contribution to the Memorial Centre through your taxes would be $12.50 a year.

Pay 25 Cents Year

But, that is the exceptional instance. It should be remembered that you pay 25 cents a year on every $1,000 of your assessment.

If your assessment is $6,000, you will pay into the Memorial Centre six twenty-five-cent pieces (6 times 2 bits, as the lads say) each year—or $1.50.

If you are in the $6,000 assessment brackets you can readily estimate what the Memorial Centre will cost you, and make your own decision as to whether your contribution at 25 cents per $1,000 of assessment, annually, represents your valuation of what the Memorial Centre means to Peterborough, especially as an appreciation of the services and sacrifices of the many hundreds of Peterborough men and women who have brought about the certain defeat of Germany, to quote Mr. Churchill.

Road Conference Held In Maritimes

C. Alex Sollitt, of Peterborough, a past president of the Ontario Motor League, is one of the delegates attending the Canadian Good Roads Association conference which opens on Tuesday in Kentville, Nova Scotia. Ministers of Highways, their deputy miniters, road engineers and department officials from every province in Canada are to be present.

Canadian road administrators are nearly ready to handle the largest road building program in their history, and with technical reports prepared from each of the nine provincial engineers for presentation, the finishing touches will be put to plans and blueprints ready for the large scale post-war highway program which is almost certain to rank among the big public works projects that will form part of rehabilitation.

Hon. W. A. Fallow, Minister of Public Works for Alberta and president of the Canadian Good Roads Association, under whose auspices have been held 17 previous inter-provincial conferences in the past 22 years, will preside over the two-day gathering of the Dominion's leading highway authorities.

Three Soldiers Win Decorations

Three men from Peterborough and district have been decorated recently, according to a Department of National Defence announcement today. Sgt. John Harker Hill, formerly of 107 Aylmer street, was awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal, and the Military Medal was won by CSM George E. Ponsford, Millbrook, and Sgt. J. W. Loshaw, of Frankford.

Sgt. Hill, D.C.M., whose wife formerly was employed at the Darling's Ladies' Wear store here, has been overseas since October 1941. Born in Belleville, the 30-year-old soldier has lived in Peterborough only a few years, before enlisting in March 1940. He was employed as a laborer while in the city.

CSM Ponsford, M.M., enlisted in the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment in October 1939, and resided at Millbrook before going overseas in December of the same year. His mother, Mrs. Mabel Williams, lives at 40 Sedlescombe Road, London, England. It is believed CSM Ponsford lived in Millbrook only a short time, as a check on the village revealed that none of the other residents knew him, and military authorities have never heard the name.

Sgt. John W. Loshaw, M.M., son of Mrs. Martha Loshaw, Frankford, enlisted in the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment in August, 1941. Born at Bedford Mills, Ontario, the 23-year-old soldier went overseas in December, 1941. Prior to his enlistment, he was employed as a railway sectionman in Frankford.

Capt. J. N. Stephenson Missing Overseas

Serving with the North Nova Scotia Highlanders in France, Captain John Norman Stephenson, son of the late Mrs. J. L. Thompson, 627 Walkerfield avenue, has been reported missing in action September 13, according to information reaching his relatives in this city. No other details were given in the telegram.

Capt. Stephenson joined the active forces in 1941, when he enlisted with the Highland Light Infantry of Galt. For a time, he served as Cipher Officer at Ottawa, and was later transferred to Esquimalt as Cipher Officer.

In 1942, the 29-year-old soldier transferred to the Scotch Fusiliers of Kitchener, and when that unit was disbanded, he went to Debert, N.S., as a training officer. He went overseas in May, 1944, and subsequently to France.

The young soldier's father was killed at Passchendale in 1917, while serving with a British Columbia regiment.

C.G.E. Engineer Has Narrow Bomb Escapes

J. L. McKeever, general engineer of the C.G.E., who returned recently from a business trip to London at the height of the buzz-bomb attacks, related in the Peterborough Works News that the average Londoner seemed quite indifferent to the bombs droning overhead and immediately after a hit, rescue work was carried out with cool efficiency.

He came back after three weeks in the British Isles, travelling by plane. After breakfast one morning in Scotland, Mr. McKeever embarked at 10 a.m. on a T.C.A. Lancaster and flew non-stop to Dorval, Que. in 14 hours in time for supper.

"One thing that impressed me greatly was seeing two ambulance drivers, both of whom were gray haired women over the age of sixty but this was symbolic of all Londoners," Mr. McKeever said.

In Series of Raids.

The C.G.E. official experienced some tense moments himself during a series of buzz-bomb raids in his first three days in the capital. A robot's motor stopped overhead as he walked down Piccadilly his first night in London, crashing 15 seconds lataer about a mile away; and the next morning a bomb landed 150 yards from the hotel where he was staying.

In bed reading the newspaper, Mr. McKeever said he felt a tremendous explosion and the hotel seemed to rock. "The lock was blown off the door of my room as the door flew open and the door jamb was split from top to bottom," he said. "I went out to the corridor and found every door on the other side of the corridor lying on the floor. Glass was all over the place and the air was thick with plaster dust.

"The bomb had landed in an apartment block of the hotel which had been taken over by the government for offices, and it was fortunate the explosion occurred on Sunday or many more people might have been killed. As it was, ten persons were reported to have lost their lives in the blast."

Noise and monotony are the worst features of air travel under wartime conditions, Mr. McKeever said of his flights across the Atlantic and back, but he predicted that Canadians flying overseas on their holidays after the war would ride in properly sound-proof, insulated planes and would enjoy the crossing the same as they enjoy a car ride.

PROMOTED — Col. B. B. S. Campbell, E.D., 54, of Ottawa, who has been appointed Assistant Deputy Minister of National Defence Headquarters. An engineer in civil life, Colonel Campbell has been stationed at National Defence Headquarters since 1939. (Canadian Army Photo)

Plowing Match On October 13

The county plowing match will be held on Wednesday, October 18, on the farms of Matchett Brothers and George Chambers, half a mile north of Stewart Hall, in Otonabee.

Plowing begins at 10 a.m.; stubble classes should be finished by 3.30 and the sod classes by 4 p.m. The directors have listed eleven classes, one for tillers, four for tractors and six for horse-drawn plows.

Four prizes are provided in each of the horse-drawn classes, $12, $9, $6 and $3; and there are five prizes for tractors, $15, $13, $10, $8 and $5. Contestants wanting teams should apply to Alex Huston, Otonabee, phone 8014, not later than October 14.

No endorsers needed—No credit questions asked friends or relatives—Here's a quick, simple way to borrow $20 to $500

IF YOU NEED some additional cash, here's a loan service that you should know about. Household Finance offers employed men and women an opportunity to borrow $100, $200 or as much as $500 quickly and simply. To apply for the amount you need just tell us about your problem and choose a convenient payment schedule. No endorsers or guarantors are ever required. Household Finance loans are made largely on character and earning ability.

Choose your own payments

Notice that you may repay your loan in monthly instalments which can be made with only a small part of your current earnings. Twelve monthly instalments of $9.46 each—a total of $113.52—will repay a $100 loan in full. The cost of this loan is $13.52. If repaid in six monthly instalments a $100 loan costs only $7.10. You are welcome to repay on the schedule that's best for you—and to repay ahead of schedule at any time to reduce the cost. Payments shown repay principal and charges. Our rate of charge (see below) includes all costs. You pay nothing more—no hidden charges, no extras of any kind.

Money for most any purpose

Don't hesitate to bring your problem to Household whatever it may be. Household makes loans to pay old debts, taxes, doctor bills, insurance, to lay in coal, help relatives—for most any purpose. Phone, write or visit Household Finance today.

Millbrook Girl Is Married In St. Andrew's

MILLBROOK, Sept. 25.— (ENS.) —St. Andrew's United church, Millbrook, made beautiful with a profusion of autumn flowers, was the setting for a very pretty wedding on Saturday, when Velma Irene Thornton, second daughter of Mr. Edward Thornton and the late Mrs. Thornton, became the bride of Lavergne Richard Gibson, son of Mr. Lambert Gibson and Mrs. Gibson, Millbrook, R.R. 2.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length dress of white taffeta, with full skirt and bodice trimmed with dainty frills of taffeta. She wore a finger-tip veil of silk net, with Queen Anne head-dress and necklace of pearls, and carried a cascade of American Beauty roses. She was attended by her sisters. Miss Betty Thornton, bridesmaid, wore a floor-length gown in yellow faconne crepe over taffeta, with sweetheart neckline, and matching Queen Anne hat, with necklace of pearls and ring bouquet of bronge baby mums, edged with blue tulle. Mrs. Earnest Burnham, Peterborough, matron of honor, looked lovely in a similar costume in blue faconne crepe, her bouquet edged with frill of brown tulle. Mr. Eric Fallis, Millbrook, was best man, and Mr. Gordon Might, Millbrook and Mr. Morris Taylor, Toronto, were ushers. Rev. A. L. Sisco conducted the ceremony. Mr. Homer Ouelette Millbrook, was at the organ.

A reception followed at the home of the bride, with Miss Augusta Thornton, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Lambert Gibson, mother of the groom, receiving the guests. Miss Thornton wore a gown of mulberry crepe and lace, with corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Gibson a two-piece gown of black crepe with gold embroidery, and corsage of pink roses. The tea table, spread with a white linen cloth, with pink and white streamers festooned from a wedding bell overhead, and centred by a three-storey wedding cake, flanked by pink candles in crystal holders, was presided over by Mrs. Fred Wilson, Port Hope, and Mrs. Charles Cooper, Orono. Those assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Morris Taylor, Toronto, Miss Irene Ferguson, Peterborough, Miss Audrey Wilson, Port Hope, Miss Jean Burnham, Mrs. Walter Challice and Miss Beatrice Fallis, Millbrook.

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes, the happy couple started off on an extended motor trip. Her going-away costume was a turquoise blue wool suit with black chesterfield collar and black accessories. On their return they will reside on the Gibson homestead, west of Carmel.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding, besides those mentioned previously, were Mr. and Mrs. E. Bryson; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cooper, Kendal; Mr. Roy Bryson and daughter, Mrs. Allan Clink, Hamilton; Mrs. Lloyd Bryson, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stevens, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. S. Pammett, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. F. Wilson, Plainville; Mr. and Mrs. N. Beatty, Mr. and Mrs. C. Beatty and Mr. and Mrs. W. Beatty, of Garden Hill.

Quick Cooked Shredded Cabbage (see note).
Blueberry Crunch. Coffee.

Note: Don't make mediocre scrambled eggs; it's so easy to make them right. Have 3 tablespoons butter in pan for 5 eggs beaten with 5 tablespoons of water or milk, and 1 teaspoon salt; as soon as butter begins to turn gold, pour in eggs, having fire high and stir as soon as egg sets on bottom of pan, pushing cooked portions to side of pan. Serve immediately when all is set but soft. Shred your cabbage fine, put in pan with 2 tablespoons boiling water and two table spoons butter, cover, put over high heat, cook about 4 minutes, turning it over once. Water will all evaporate and leave delicious buttery juice over cabbage.

FRIDAY.
Broiled Salmon. Scalloped Potatoes.
Yellow Beans. Hot Applesauce.
Cookies. Coffee.

SATURDAY.
Chili Con Carne. Toast. Cole Slaw.
Lemon Pie.

Mission Band Begins Fall Work

The first fall meeting of the Nettie McKenzie mission band of Knox church was held in the junior room, wtih twenty members present. During the pre-session period, Rev. H. J. Mahoney acted as pianist and helped the members to learn new songs, after which they played a singing game. In the absence of the superintendent, Miss I. Barrer, because of illness in her home, Mrs. R. Hanscom introduced "Tommy Two Wheels", the new study book for mission bands for 1944-45. "Tommy Two Wheels" is a full length story of two evacuated English children making their wartime home with relatives in Santa Barbara, California. "Friendship" is the theme of study for the year. The first chapter was read, after which suggestions for a project by the members were asked for. It was suggested to follow the story with the making of a mural.

"Children of the Bible" was the theme of the worship service led by the president Miss Joyce Hanes. The scripture was read by Mary Excell and Rev. H. J. Mahoney led in prayer. The offering was received by Jimmie Exell and Sylvia Ferguson, and dedicated with a prayer hymn.

Friends Honor David Guiry

DOWNEYVILLE, Sept. 25—(ENS). —A pleasant time was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Guiry when a large crowd of friends and neighbors gathered to say farewell to their son David, who just graduated and received his wings at the school in Winnipeg, and who is home on a few days' leave.

An address was read by Edward Perdue and a presentation of a money belt and a sum of money was made to the young soldier.

Speeches were delivered by Peter Perdue, Joseph Guiry and Reeve Paul McGuire. A dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Guiry and her assistants, and a pleasant time was spent playing cards and dancing.

People were present from Omemee, Ennismore, Lindsay and Verulam.

Golf Club Names Closing Date

Tuesday, September 26, has been chosen as the closing day for the Ladies' Section of the Peterborough Golf and Country Club. Golf will commence at 10 a.m. and luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Following luncheon a short golf competition will be held and members who desire to play bridge will find games easy to arrange. Afternoon tea will be served later following the annual meeting, and prizes will be presented to tournament winners for the past season.

An invitation is extended to all members, whether they are active players or not, to turn out and enjoy these closing activities. All women who plan attending should phone Mrs. J. W. Devall at the club.

New Secretary Plans YWCA Activities

"The girls of today are the women of tomorrow, and it is our duty to give them the training and balance they will need to fulfill their obligations to the world and to themselves, since we will have to depend largely on them to rebuild the world, after this war", says Miss Mary Gall, newly-appointed Girls' Work Secretary of the Peterborough Y.W.C.A. Miss Gall, a lively little lady, whose energy and high spirits bely her pretty white hair, has been asked to take over the position of Work Secretary, left vacant by Miss Roberta Kiefer, who recently fractured her ankle.

As General Secretary of the Hamilton, Ohio, Y.W.C.A., Miss Gall, who has had 25 years' experience in the Y.W., learned the subjects in which girls were most interested, and how to create and enliven that interest into a real thirst for knewledge. She feels that it is the duty of the Y.W.C.A. to help girls to find the best in life, and be willing to give of themselves for the benefit of the whole, and therefore is guiding her club and recreational program on this idea.

Since the clubs themselves draw up their programs, Miss Gall's duty is to prepare a program which she thinks will meet with their approval, along the lines they have especially asked for. "This year", she says, "the girls have expressed a desire to study literature and music, and these subjects will be featured, along with several others, including groups in poise and expression. If girls can learn to work and play together, they will have gained something that is of invaluable help in later life, and they will always be pulling together for the betterment of themselves and the world."

Although she has lived in the United States during most of her service with the Hamilton, Ohio, and Buffalo, N.Y., Y.W.C.A.'s, Miss Gall's home was in Keene, and she returned to spend most of her holidays there, so that she never lost contact with her Canadian friends. She has travelled widely, and in 1937, took a trip through Sweden, Finland, Russia, Poland and Germany, as well as England and France, studying her favorite topic, government. Coming from the United States, she is filled with new ideas and plans for the "Y" program this year, which promises to be something really "super" along entertainment as well as educational lines.

Mrs. E. Norman Goes To Borden

Mrs. E. Norman, who for the past year has been hostess in charge of entertainment at the Servicemen's Recreation Centre, has been transferred to Camp Borden. She has been relieving at Camp Borden for the past month, and has now been put in charge of entertainment for the C. W. A. C.'s. It is with regret that her friends have heard of the permanent change.

Mrs. Norman will be missed by the canteeen hostesses and boys from the camp and by other friends throughout the city, for her pleasant manner and warm-hearted assistance, and her excellent musicianship, through which she has made many contacts in the city. She takes with her the best wishes of her countless friends, both in the camp, and throughout Peterborough.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

It is not always the unusual meal that is the mot deserving of praise. The cook who prides herself on the skill with which she plans and prepares food for the family, has no doubt learned the secret of using left-overs successfully. To prepare a meal with fresh food material is not too difficult but, to serve a meal that is attractive and fitting, without fresh material, is an art. The recipes below will give you a few ideas of serving left-overs.

Beef Loaf

1 lb. hamburg steak (or cold left-over roast beef may be used, about 2½ cups), ½ cup minced pork, 1 cup rolled oats, 1 onion, pepper and salt, 1 egg, ½ cup water, seasonings.

Mix meat, rolled oats, onion, egg, well together, then add water and mix thoroughly. Grease an oblong pan, loaf shape and on the bottom of pan place two slices of side bacon. On this place the other ingredients and pack in pan and, on top, place two strips of bacon. Bake in a slow oven about one hour. Serve either hot or cold.

Beef Loaf No. 2

1 lb. minced steak, 1 can tomato soup, ½ package macaroni boiled in salt water, ½ cup grated cheese, 1 onion, 1 cup chopped celery, salt and pepper. Mix all together and bake one hour.

Apple Cake

Turn fancy yeast dough on bread board. Divide dough in half. Roll to one half inch thick. Place in two well-greased shallow pans, shaping dough to pans. Brush with butter and sprinkle with sugar. Cut apples in eighths and press into dough, sharp edge downward until dough is well covered. Sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Let rise one half hour. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Peaches, prunes or other fruits may be substituted for the apples.

Fancy Yeast Dough

4½ cups sifted flour, 1½ cups scalded milk (cool to lukewarm), 1 tablespoon salt, ½ cup sugar, 2 cakes compressed yeast, ½ cup butter, 3 eggs. Crumble yeast into a bowl, add milk and stir until yeast is dissolved. Add sugar, beaten eggs, salt, and flour. Mix well, then add melted butter and mix thoroughly. Turn out on floured board and knead to smooth dough. Put into greased bowl. Let stand until double in bulk. Knead down and allow to rise about 45 minutes. Use for the apple cake above.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, September 26.

Judging by the lunar and mutual aspects of leading planets, this is to be a day of sharp conflicts, contradictions and complications. There is every promise of excellent accomplishments, in whatever direction they may be focused. But it will take extraordinary good management, shrewdness and sound judgment in order to reach cherished goals. It may take courage and fortitude to break away from certain old ties and obligations, while tossing overboard many outgrown or frustrating conditions. This may not be done with reckless acts, tempest and turbulence.

Those whose birthday it is may have a wonderful year of promise and achievement ahead of them, with definite advancement, expansion and pleasant progress in all goals and objectives, in finance, business, popularity, and in social, domestic and affectional relations. But it may be imperative that several impeding outgrown and trying ties, obligations or responsibilities be tossed away, although with kindliness, consideration, and a wise evaluation of existing circumstances and their control. Once a decision is made there should be rapid progress.

A child born on this day may be excellently endowed for an efficient, productive and outstanding career, with pleasure and prosperity, although such may be complicated by obstacles, dangers and early frustrations.

CWL Planning Autumn Bazaar

MARMORA, Sept. 25 — (ENS). — The September meeting of the Catholic Women's League was held in Sacred Heart School. The president, Mrs. E. D. O'Connor, presided.

The meeting opened with prayer led by Rev. H. J. Farrell and the president welcomed the members back after the holiday months. She extended thanks to Mrs. J. Clairmont for the use of her grounds for the two bingos held during the summer. She announced that Miss Verna Black was the winner of the scholarship, being the pupil obtaining the highest marks in the entrance examinations in the parish. Miss Black was presented with $5. the presentation being made by Rev. Father Farrell.

Correspondence was read from Diocesan conveners, and also letters of thanks from members for gifts of fruit, during illness. The president appealed to the members to make donations to fill ditty bags to assist the war workers, and also for new and made-over garments to be put on display in Toronto. A letter was read from Robert Williams of Peterborough, who had engraved the honor roll. The coming bazaar was discussed and group conveners asked to canvass the members for articles for the fancy goods table.

Father Farrell asked the members for their cooperation in the coming bazaar and he also spoke of the Forty Hours Devotion which commenced on Sunday. He then led in prayers for Corporal Leo O'Connor, who was killed in action in Italy on August 27th and one minutes silence was observed in his memory. The president thanked Miss Mary Hughes and Mrs. Rose Johnston for their work in putting together a number of quilts, and Miss Hughes asked the aid of the members in quilting them.

Father Farrell sang "Danny Boy" and the "Rose of Tralee" with Mrs. James Black at the piano. A few games of bingo were enjoyed and a delicious lunch was served by the women in charge.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. Has Pot Luck Supper

HAVELOCK, Sept. 25.—(ENS).—The A.Y.P.A. of St. John's Anglican church commenced the season's work with a "pot luck" supper and social evening at the home of Miss Beryl Rice and the society took this opportunity of bidding farewell to their rector, Rev. R. E. Lemon, prior to his departure to take charge of the Brighton parish.

As a token of their esteem and appreciation for the eight years he had been associated with them he was presented with a table lamp, the address being read by Miss Evelyn Melville and gift presented by the hostess, Miss Rice. After the presentation the evening was spent in playing crokinole, the prize winner being Miss Gladys Grayling.

DOROTHY DIX . . . .

GIRL 16 NEEDS MOTHER'S AID

Adolescent May Have Dates in Moderation; Learns How to Size Up, Handle Men.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—Will you please answer these questions for me? (1) Don't you think a girl of 16 is old enough to date regularly and to take care of herself? My parents do not want me to go out with so many different boys, but I am certainly a long way from being engaged, and who wants to go with the same boy all the time?

(2) Is it all right for a girl to go with a boy who is younger than she is? (3) How can a girl attract boys when she is not exactly pretty, but just good-looking? (4) What about kissing? When should a girl kiss a boy? If she should not kiss him on the first date, when? (5) Should a girl tell a boy she has fallen in love with him?

Adolescent Learns About Men

ANSWER—(1) Well, daughter, a girl of 16 is old enough to begin having dates, but not too many and the datee should not stay too late. It is part of her education to learn how to handle men and how to size them up. If she doesn't acquire this technique along with her other schooling, she never gets it. But at 16 no girl knows how to take care of herself. She needs Mama to protect her and to teach her the ropes and see that she gets in with the right crowd and doesn't do the wrong things.

Your parents are wrong in objecting to your going out with so many different boys. That is your salvation for there is safety in numbers and if you play around with a lot of different boys, you are not going to imagine yourself in love with any one of them. Besides, it gives you a chance to look them all over and see which one you really like best.

(2) It is all right for a girl to go with a boy who is younger than she is, but there isn't much profit in it. Girls develop faster than boys, and he will still be a small boy when you are ready to marry. A boy friend three or four years older than you are is your best bet.

(3) If you are a little shy on looks, compensate for the lack of them by developing other attractions. The beautiful can be dumb and get away with it, but the plain-lookers have to have a line. If you are always entertaining and amusing if you are a good dancer and play a crackerjack game of bridge; if you fit in anywhere and help make any party a success, and particularly if you make every boy who takes you out feel that he is giving you the time of your life, you can turn all the living picture girls to the wall.

(4) Kissing is a common and a highly unsanitary diversion, so indulge in it as little as possible. Make your kisses few and far between and hard to get if you want a boy to value them.

(5) Never tell a boy that you love him. Keep him guessing. Nothing scares a boy off so quickly as to find out that a girl is chasing him.

DEAR MISS DIX—Last week my fiancee gave me a sound spanking because I drank too much, and told me he was going to repeat this hair-brushing every time I did it. Don't you think he is taking too much liberty in spanking me? My parents think he is right and said I needed a paddling to bring me to my senses, but, even if I did, I don't think he is the right one to do it. Should I stop seeing him?

GLADYS.

Girl Must Control Drinking

ANSWER—A gentleman is supposed never to lift his hand against a woman save in kindness, no matter how much she needs it, so spanking is a new technique in love-making for which we have as yet no rules. However, I think the young man will be well advised if he refuses to marry you until you cure yourself of the drink habit. No man could have anything more terrible happen to him than to have a drunken wife.

DEAR MISS DIX — Five weeks ago I found the picture of three girls in my husband's billfold. I demanded an explanation which he refuse to give. What should I have done about it?

MAY E.

ANSWER — Laughed it off and asked him who were his pin-up girls. As long as there were three of them there was nothing to worry about.

The Wrong Brush-Off

WINDSOR, Sept. 25 — (CP) — Memory of a lost opportunity in 1931 makes members of the Senior Mary Grant Society rueful when they think of it today. The society was so busy that year they turned down an address by "some Englishman on a speaking tour." The Englishman was billed as: "Mr. Winston Churchill of London, England." "

Awarded $10,000

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 25 — (CP) —Mrs. Ida Rose Reid of Toronto last night was awarded $10,000 and costs in her damage suit against Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hedger of London, for the death of her husband in a collision between a motorcycle and an automobile last March 31.

"IT'S LIKE MAGIC—
THE WAY SUNLIGHT BRIGHTENS CLOTHES THAT LOOKED HALF-WASHED!"
NOW I KNOW THAT I NEED SUNLIGHT'S EXTRA-SOAPINESS FOR THOSE EXTRA DIRTY SPOTS
GET BRIGHTER WASHES —SAFELY!
IT'S wonderful to use Sunlight after you've been struggling to get extra-dirty spots really clean. What a difference! Just the touch of this amazing soap instantly leaves a film of soap where it comes in contact with the dirt . . . and as you wash, Sunlight whips up into the richest, deepest-cleansing lather you ever saw. Clothes come brighter all over! No one can say your clothes look "half-washed"! Sunlight's marvelous for dishes, too. And so easy on your hands.

Villeneuve Lauds English People

By ROSS MUNRO

LONDON, Sept. 25 (CP)—Speaking to Canadian sailors, soldiers and airmen attending a service in Westminster Cathedral Sunday, Cardinal Villeneuve, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Quebec, said: "Your heroic courage has been a pledge of final victory; your loyalty has been a credit to our country; your fidelity to duty has been the bulwark of our freedom."

"Every day we become more proud of your constant and courage in the face of obstacles and struggles, the cardinal said. "You have shown yourselves worthy of the past history of Canada, our brave young nation."

Twelve hundred Canadian service men and women, led by an RCAF band, paraded to the Cathedral for the service, at which Cardinal Villeneuve preached. At the conclusion of the service, the congregation sang "O Canada."

Tribute to Britons

The cardinal paid tribute to England's endurance, saying: "nothing has filled my heart with more profound sympathy for the people of this country and, might I add, with greater admiration for their spirit than what I have seen, especially here in London, of the ruins caused by months and months of continuous bombardment.

"One has to see with one's own eyes to believe and to measure the dreadful effects of the war and also to appreciate the moral fortitude and incomparable endurance which the English people have displayed in fighting for their lives, for their country's freedom, and I do not hesitate to say in fighting alongside other nations to save civilization as well as a Christian world order, for such reasons do I raise my voice and say: 'Hail to England for her perseverance in combat soon to be crowned, we pray, with victory.' . . .

Reconstruction Responsibility

"Let us keep in mind that victory over our enemies will be useless unless the world be reconstructed on a more just and equitable social order in which human rights will be more completely, and in every nation, respected, wealth more fairly distributed, an intellectual, moral and religious education more thorough and widespread."

Cardinal Villeneuve devoted a major portion of his sermon to Canadian fighting men, whom he soon will see at the front, both in France and Italy.

"Truly a glorious page in our history will recall the devotion, courage and heroism aroused in our people by this present war. You have taken your place side by side with your fellow-citizens of every class and creed in a ready and generous response. That spirit of sacrifice and devotion finds its highest expression in those who courageously have entered active service on land, on sea and in the air. We owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to you who are bravely rendering such admirable service to their country and to humanity in general."

In French, he named the French-speaking regiments from Quebec, and mentioned their battlefield deeds.

THE GEORDIES

LONDON — (CP). — The Royal Northumberland Fusiliers, known as the Geordies, are fighting in Normandy as a machinegun unit and took part in the thrust on Caen.

"IT WON'T GO OFF, MADEMOISELLE!"—From the look on the pretty face of this Breton folk dancer, it would appear that the cigarette is about to go off at any moment. Cpl. Jack Peacock, a member of the R.A.F. regiment, assures her, however, that it is not a trick cigarette. The scene was made when villagers in Brittany put on a folk dance for the members of the R.A.F. regiment on patrol duty there.

United Church Has Rally Day

HAVELOCK, Sept. 25—(ENS).—Rally day service was observed in Havelock United Church at 11 a.m. on Sunday, with the Sunday School participating in the regular church service and following the program prepared by the Board of Christian Education, the theme being "A Christian is Different." The responsive readings were led by the superintendent, B. Smith, and the stories were read by John Anderson and Laura Menzies respectively. Special music for the occasion was sung by the junior choir under the leadership of W. M. Platt, accompanied by Mrs. Platt at the piano. The numbers were: Anthem "Lift Your Voices," duet "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" by Dora Ketchen and Ruth Wilkinson, trio "The Friendship of Jesus" by Helen Anderson, Jacqueline Puffer, and Stella Wilkinson. The latter two numbers were again sung in the afternoon at the rally day service held in the United Church at Trent River.

40 Hours Devotions Begin In Marmora

MARMORA, Sept. 25 — (ENS). — The Forty Hours Devotions opened at Sacred Heart Church at 9.30 on Sunday with High Mass, celebrated by Rev. H. J. Farrell, followed by a procession with the Blessed Sacrament. Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament was held throughout the day and the closing devotions were held at 7.30 in the evening with the Rosary, a sermon delivered by Rev. Father R. J. Coyle, P. P. Read, and Benediction.

Assisting in the Sanctuary were Very Rev. D. A. Cullimane, V.F., P. P. Tweed, Rev. J. V. Meagher, P. P. Stoco, Rev. Father O'Neill, Trenton and Rev. J. L. Lamarche, Tweet.

Britain Has Oil

LONDON, Sept. 25—(CP)— Britain has struck oil in Britain, it was disclosed officially last night, confirming a previous report carried by the BBC. More than 200 wells are now pumping out 26,000,000 gallons of high-grade oil each year. Location of the wells was not disclosed.

FREEDOM RINGS FOR JIMMY HINES — Outside the gates of Sing Sing prison, Ossining, N.Y., James Hines, former New York political boss, Right, is greeted by his son, James, Jr., on his emergency into the world of free men after serving a term of three years and 11 months inside the grim, gray walls. Hines was convicted of involvement in the numbers racket. One of the conditions of his parole is that he cannot return to politics.

Beefsteak and Kidney Pie

This famous standby is a wonderful dish for Fall appetites

Another popular way of using the less expensive cuts of beef, Beefsteak and Kidney Pie is delicious, nutritious and easy to prepare.

Cut 2 lbs. of round steak and one beef kidney into 1½ inch cubes. Dredge in well seasoned flour and brown in hot lard. Simmer in a heavy saucepan for about two hours. Add 8 tiny onions peeled and sliced, 4 or 5 carrots scraped and sliced and 6 potatoes peeled and quartered. Cook 15 minutes more. Blend lard left from browning meat, with flour left from dredging and work into smooth gravy with stock. Now line sides of a deep dish with Silverleaf pie paste—see panel—place a support for top crust in centre and turn in filling. Moisten top edge of paste with cold water and adjust rolled out sheet of paste slotted for escape of steam. Bake in hot (375 degree) oven until crust is golden brown . . . about half an hour.

Martha Logan

SILVERLEAF PIE PASTE

3 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. salt
⅞ cup chilled Silverleaf Lard
very cold water

Measure and sift into a bowl flour, baking powder, and salt. Cut half Silverleaf Lard in finely, remainder more coarsely. With a fork work in just enough cold water to make a paste that just clings together and cleans easily from the bowl. Chill before rolling out.

IN MEMORIAM

McARTHUR—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert H. McArthur, who passed away Sept. 23, 1943.

O silent thought, a secret tear,
Keeps his memory ever dear,
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

GRAHAM — In memory of John Albert Graham of Peterborough, who passed away Sept. 25, 1939.

Time speeds on, five years have passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast,
Within our home where all seemed bright,
And took from me a shining light.
—Deeply mourned by his wife.

RAYBOULD—In loving memory of Mother, Mrs. J. Raybould, who passed away one year ago, September 25th, 1943.

God has called our mother
Away from a world of strife,
To shine among the angels
In a fairer, brighter life.
Safe in the arms of Jesus.
Safe from all grief and sin,
Forever and forever,
Where all is pure within.
Our hearts are full of sorrow,
And tears have dimmed our eyes,
But we shall meet her again,
In the home beyond the skies.
—Lovingly remembered by her husband, daughters—Doris and Marjorie and son-in-law, Bill.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. J. Buller, Simcoe street, wishes to thank the attending doctors, and the nurses and sisters of St. Joseph's Hospital, for their kindness and attention given to her during her recent illness.

Mrs. Williams, John St., wishes to extend her sincere thanks to friends and neighbours, the Rev. Mr. Newton, the West End Group of St. Paul's Church and the Old Country Club Y.W.C.A. for kindness shown during her recent sad bereavement.

Resort Owner Dies At Burleigh

A resident of Burleigh Falls for 22 years, during which time he started the Burleigh Falls Fishing Club, later known as Forest Hill Lodge, Arthur Ernest Wagner died Sunday at his home. He was in his 56th year.

Born in Detroit, the son of Fredricka Salter and the late Henry Wagner, Mr. Wagner is extremely well-known in the Burleigh Falls district, where his lodge has been a favored holiday place for more than 10 years. Although Forest Hill Lodge actually grew from the Fishing Club, it has expanded and changed from the time it was started. The Fishing Club, originally made up by Detroit friends of Mr. Wagner, was thought by many to be a private club, and with the thought of attracting more outsiders, the name was changed to the more informal Forest Hill Lodge. It is located on Lovesick Lake.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, formerly Bernice Spencely, of Burleigh Falls; his mother, Fredricka Wagner, and four children; Mrs. Marie Swaty, of Cleveland; Albert, Henry and Joan, 3, all of whom are at home.

His remains are resting at the Tedford Funeral Home, Lakefield. The funeral will be held Tuesday, with interment in Lakefield Cemetery.

Vivien Is Angry

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP).—Miss Vivien Kellems, Westport, Conn., industrialist, held a press conference Saturday to announce that she had sent a letter to Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives outlining charges which she asks an opportunity to prove against Representative John M. Coffee (Dem.-Wash.) for the purpose of having him impeached.

Postage Rate Cut To War Prisoners

Five cents postage is all that is required now on air-letter forms addressed to prisoners of war, the Post Office has announced, the rate having been cut in half from its former level of 10 cents.

Postmaster Charles Lacheur also stated this morning that civilian postal service has been opened to the departments of Calvados and Manche in France. Extension of the service to Paris, expected shortly, will be announced as soon as official word has been received, he added.

Those who have Christmas packages to send to members of the U.S. Armed Forces overseas are reminded that the mailing period has already opened, and that the final date on which such parcels may be guaranteed delivery in time is Oct.

Stratford Visitor Is Fined $15

A Stratford visitor to the Stratford-Westclox ball game on Saturday did not have as much luck as the visiting team.

The Classic City citizen, John Andrews, was the driver of an automobile that became involved in a minor accident on the Hunter Street bridge after the game. Investigating the incident Constable W. Clarke discovered a case of beer and several loose bottles in Andrews' car and the visitor was held on a charge of having liquor in a place other than a residence.

He entered a writen plea of guilty and this morning in police court was fined $15 and $2.50 by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., who also ordered the confiscation of the liquor found in the Stratford car.

A frequent visitor, Thomas C[illegible] pleaded guilty to a begging charge and was sentenced to seven days in jail.

"You should be in the House of Refuge," said Magistrate Langley, and the accused remarked that the hospital was the place for him.

K. Saunders who pleaded guilty to a charge of creating a disturbance on George street was fined [illegible] $1.75 costs and Harold Dunk, similarly charged, paid $2 and $1.75. Dunk at first pleaded not guilty but afterward changed his plea to guilty and was fined the lesser amount when police stated that he had not been the aggressor in the fight.

THREAT TO HITLER'S WEST WALL—One of the first pictures to be released of the new British mortar tank known as the Avre (armored vehicle Royal Engineers) is shown on the move up to the front in France. One of its striking features is a special mortar mounted in the turret called the "pe which hurls a charge known as the "flying dustbin" much more powerful than any other of its size.

Grimsby Beats Batawa Team

GRIMSBY. Sept. 25.— (CP). — Grimsby took the long end of a 12-7 count from Batawa here Saturday night in O.A.S.A. Intermediate "C" finals to even the series at a win each. Third and deciding game will be played Wednesday at Oshawa.

Feature of the game was a leaping one-handed catch by Grimsby centrefielder Lane. Running into the squn, he misjudged the ball, then made good with a left-handed stab.

Balmy Beach Team Gets Dean Griffing

REGINA, Sept. 25 —(CP)—Dean Griffing, for seven years a member of Regina Rough Riders football team, announced today he is leaving Regina to join Toronto Balmy Beach in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Griffing, lineman, back and coach of Rough Riders since he came to Canada from Kansas University in 1936, said he has accepted a position with a large eastern Canada tailoring concern and expects to work with Beaches as player or coach or both.

He led Rough Riders to the Western Canada championship in 1936.

Schoolboy Series Probable Oct. 14

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (CP)— Whether a two-game East-West schoolboy football series will be played in Winnipeg Oct. 14 and 16, depends on Winnipeg officials, Rev. H. V. Mallon, athletic director of St. Michael's College here said today.

During the week-end Frank Hannibal, past president of the Winnipeg Rugby Rootball Club and Lorne (Baldy) Northcott re-opened negotiations with Father Mallon. They said St. Paul's and St. John's Colleges, both private schools, are willing to participate in the series.

Father Mallon said the Winnipeg men are to make a definite statement by Wednesday, Sept. 27.

Rally Day Service Held At Roseneath

ROSENEATH, Sept. 25—(ENS).— A rally day service was observed in the United Sunday School on Sunday morning. Superintendent Andrew Brown conducted the service, assisted by pastor, teachers and pupils.

Rev. R. C. White conducted a service of dedication, teachers led the prayer service. Aureen Brown told a story entitled "Are you a Christian?" and George Calder told a story of "The Second Mile." Miss Irene Brown, organist, and Mrs. I. Skuce were in charge of the music. There were ninety-eight present.

Metz On Way Out

TORONTO, Sept. 25 — (CP). — Coach Clarence (Hap) Day said here today that Nick Metz, former Toronto Maple Leaf hockey player who has been in the army, will rejoin the squad this year. The Saskatchewan puck star is slated for a discharge very soon, Day reported.

Renault Arrested

PARIS, Sept. 25.— (AP).— The Agence Francaise de Presse, official news agency, said Saturday night that Louis Renault, motor magnate, and one of France's leading industrialists, had been jailed in the Fresnes prison. The agency reported that accountants of the Renault firm said Renault factories from 1940 to 1943 made and sold $120,000,000 worth of war materials for the German army.

Westclox Girls

mer. Helen Doubrough also singled to left but Eileen Heinbuch flied to Aggie Anderson in centre and Kay Johnston fouled to Beryl Dobbin.

That was all the scoring until the fourth when the Big Bens, after wasting a hit in each of the first three innings finally broke into the score column. Marg. Hawthorne started with a line single to left and went to second on a passed ball. Isobel Bullock was out when she ran into her own bunt and Beryl Dobbin popped to short. Barbara Rome rolled to Kay Johnston and was safe on a wide throw to first, Marg. Hawthorne scoring on the error. Jean Castle was out on a nice play, Helen Doubrough to Evelyn Easson to retire the side.

Kroehlers got what afterward proved to be the winning run with two out in the seventh. After Marg. Hawthorne had tossed out Evelyn Easson and Greta Harmer had rolled to second, Eileen Hutchison was safe when Marg. Hawthorne fumbled her trickling roller. Helen Doubrough and Eileen Heinbuch both singled past third to fill the bases and Kay Johnston drew a walk, forcing in Eileen Hutchison. M. Heinbuch batted for M. Stapleton and struck out with the bases filled.

Threaten In Ninth

Westclox, who had only got one runner on the sacks after the fourth inning, rallied in the ninth and nearly pulled the game out of the fire. Marg. Hawthorne rolled to the pitcher but Isobel Bullock blazed a single to centre and stole second. Beryl Dobbin also singled, Isobel Bullock going to third. Beryl Dobbin stole second and the tying runs were in position with only one out. Barbara Rome fouled to Kay Johnston but Jean Castle scratched a single off Helen Doubrough's glove and Isobel Bullock scored. Jean Castle stole second and with the tying and winning runs on the bases Verna Patterson flied to Evelyn Easson for the third out.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

CHANCE OF COMPARISON IN RUBBER bridge, you may guess about what other people would have done with the same hand, but you cannot be sure. Duplicate enables you to get an exact comparison, on two distinctly different kinds of propositions—bidding and play. You may wonder if anybody would have got into the same contract you did, or if anybody would reach a certain other contract. You also may wonder if anybody who got into a certain contract would make it or if someone would find the defense to set it. Duplicate gives you real human answers to these questions.

There are three styles of bidding. One South considered his hand weak enough for an original 3-Spades shutout effort, the others deeming it strong enough for a pass followed by later bidding. Only one proved costly—where South decided to leave in the 3-No Trump contract instead of taking out to a spade game. He thought his side queens made that a good pass.

In the spade play, only three tricks were lost, regardless of the lead chosen, as the spades got eliminated and the clubs set up early enough to discard one of the red suit losers on the clubs, so that only one trick was lost in the red suits and one each in the two black ones.

At No Trumps the heart 3 was led. West held up his K, and the dummy was blocked, the contract getting slaughtered.

Gigantic Task Faces Allies On Rhine Front

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

WITH THE U.S. 3rd ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 25 — (A P) — More and more it is becoming clear that the Allies have a gigantic task ahead of them if they are to finish the war this year.

The mad flight of the Germans and the sweeping gains of the Allies of the last summer have halted at the German border. There is no hiding the fact that for the last two or three weeks the gains have been small and won at high cost.

German soldiers know the war is lost but they have been convinced by Hitler that they will be wiped out anyway and that they might as well go down fighting in the hope of making the Allies willing to compromise.

The spectacular airborne landing in Holland will speed the Allied advance in the west but the full fruits of this are not yet apparent and such a huge operation is not possible on every front.

The German ability to wage war has been dreadfully crippled by heavy casualties on this and the eastern front coupled with air blows, but falling back into Germany has given them advantages of easy supply, of fighting in friendly country nd the psychological spur of fighting for their homes.

These same factors enabled the Russians to hold the Germans in 1941 and 1942 and military men feel it would be stupid to rate the Germans any less courageous than any other race.

Hitler Obeyed

Despite the split between the Nazis and the German military caste, Hitler is being obeyed. German soldiers are fighting and dying rather than give up an inch.

The Allies have their own problems which need time to lick. It took about 50 days to build up the knock-out military punch in Normandy. Since then the Allies have not had time to draw a deep breath.

If Hitler was killed and the Nazis thrown from power the position might change overnight but if Hitler stays in power it is an even money bet among the men doing the fighting that there never will be an armistice such as ended the last war.

Many of these men and officers feel the German will fight until exhausted and until the army's ability to make war is broken, then the armies will break up and surrender piecemeal and the Nazis will engage in guerilla warfare. In this case the Allies may have to fight all the way to Berlin before the war could be considered over.

Co-op Auction

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 —(CP) —The first large co-operative auction sale of feeder cattle — 2,000 Herefords and Shorthorns—ever held in Central Canada will be held at Little Current, Manitoulin Island, Ont., Sept. 27, the Agriculture Department said yesterday.

INVADERS ARE INVADED BY ALLIED TROOPS—These German civilians no doubt are finding that the shoe pinches a bit, as they stand outside their house to watch the G.I.'s pass by. They were among the first to see Allied forces cross the border into their country from France.

Death Penalty For Those Aiding Germans

LONDON, Sept. 25 — (CP) — A strict policy in dealing with Occupied Germany, including the death penalty for any German aidleading Allied troops, was decreed leading Allied troops, was decreed to-day by Gen. Eisenhower.

As a first step, a ban was placed on the Nazi political and military organizations. All were ordered dissolved while "German laws involving discrimination on grounds of race, religion or political opinion are abrogated," said the edict, issued by Allied Supreme Headquarters.

Meanwhile the British press expressed dissatisfaction with the progress made by the Allied War Crimes Commission in preparing cases against Hitler and other topranking Nazis. A hitch was said to have developed over how they would be tried—whether they should be brought before a military court or dealt with on a political basis.

On Criminal List

The London News Chronicle and Daily Mail, declaring the names of Hitler, Goebbels, Goering and Himmler have not yet been placed on the list of 350 criminals already drafted, said the reason may be that the Allies have not decided how they would be tried.

Eisenhower's statement, which amplified a broadcast to the German people Sept. 18, ordered Nazi party administrative officers to remain at their posts until all funds, records, equipment and property are surrendered.

At the same time it outlined steps for the installation of orderly processes by the Allied military government.

These were listed as the main objectives of the A.M.G. in Germany: To promote the safety and health of the occupying troops, to eliminate Nazism, to maintain public order, to establish suitable civil government in a form sufficient to support military operations, to apprehend war criminals, and to control transfers of certain property in Germany.

Fire Destroys Internment Camp

SHERBROOKE, Que., Sept. 25 — (CP)—Men's headquarters and administration buildings of the new Hington Internment Camp, a German war prisoner camp two miles north of this eastern township town, were destroyed by fire early Saturday, but no escapes were reported.

Col. H. D. Hadley, commanding the camp, announced that a military court of inquiry will meet later today "to ascertain the causes of the fire," which was believed to have originated in the boiler room.

Details of the blaze are being withheld by military authorities pending further investigations, but no one was reported killed or injured.

Army firemen, with the help of the Sherbrooke fire brigade, fought the fire more than two hours before bringing the flames under control.

New North America Institute To Probe Arctic Circles

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 25 —(CP) —The Arctic Institute of North America, with a 12-man board of governors, plans a comprehensive program to unlock the secrets of the Arctic Circle, so long neglected."

The board is carefully balanced between executives of big business and world famous scientists. Six members represent Canada and six the United States. They plan to tackle the job in a big way when the war is over.

While the governments of the interested countries will be asked to co-operate, particularly in the matter of proper mapping of the land of the Eskimo, the bulk of the financing will come from private sources, foundations and other funds built up for scientific research.

The Institute will have the cooperation of universities and there is no doubt there will be keen competition to join research parties in the Arctic and sub-Arctic when the Institute's program begins to function.

Holds Many Secrets.

The grim, silent Arctic holds many secrets and never before has there been such a universal desire to delve into them.

For example, the magnetic pole is somewhere in the vicinity of Boothia peninsula, but scientists know that it shift about. How far does it shift, how fast and why?

In an outline of suggested activities decided on at a meeting in Montreal on September 8, the institute proposes to make a history "of marine submergence and emergence of North American Arctic lands. Enormous areas have been recently and perhaps repeatedly submerged. The results of this study are important for geophysics, plant and animal ecology and anthropology.

Then there are the Northern Lights and their effect on radio and other communications. There will be expeditions to study them and their related phenomena.

A study of the glaciers of Alaska, Arctic Canada, Ellesmere Island will be made with special emphasis on the ice cap over a large part of Greenland.

Those interesting people, the Eskimos, will be studied. Did they really come over from Asia and when? Then again, why does the Eskimo never have cancer? There has been some study given to that already.

There is a wide field for study of the animal life of the Arctic. Its principal crop is white fox pelts and white foxes reach their peak of abundance approximately every five years. Science will be asked to explain this cycle.

Air travel will give the institute great help. Constant touch with field parties will be simple by radio. In fact it is going to be much easier to pry open the secrets of the Arctic now than a generation ago, when comparative puny efforts were accompanied with so great hazards and so much hardships.

Things you can't add on your fingers

IT'S hard, almost impossible, to figure out on your fingers the many benefits of life insurance.

The street car you ride on—the electricity that perks your coffee—the home you live in—the school your children attend—the hospital where your baby was born—these are available to you partly because of life insurance investments in Canada's mills, factories, power plants and public works. The money you put into insurance is always circulating to make more jobs for more people. It's hard to add up all its benefits because they are felt in every corner of the land.

Some say that life insurance money would be better employed as "venture" capital rather than invested in long term bonds and mortgages. Well, life insurance companies must regard the investments which they make from year to year as trust funds, and policyholders would not want it otherwise. Deliberate safeguards have been set up to protect these investments and government laws very properly prohibit the use of life insurance funds for speculative purposes.

The truth is that life insurance assets are safely invested in such a wide variety of local and national undertakings that the average man has no conception of how much the development of the country depends on life insurance funds.

It is good citizenship to own LIFE INSURANCE

Reds Squeeze Germans Along Coast

German Armies In Estonia Shrinking Fast

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press War Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (AP)—Russia's powerful northern armies hammered the final small pocket of German resistance in Estonia today and began organizing an assault on two key islands guarding the Baltic Sea approaches to Riga, the besieged capital of Latvia.

The islands—Ristna and Osel—dominate the entrances to the Gulf of Riga, to the southeast, and the Gulf of Finland, to the northeast. Lying some six miles off Estonia's west coast, they could be by-passed indefinitely by the Russians, but as long as enemy garrisons remain there they will have a certain nuisance value.

On the west coast of the Estonian mainland, Marshal Leonid A. Govorov's Leningrad Army has captured all important ports except Virtsu. A communique last night announced the fall of Haapsalu, Estonia's third port, 63 miles southwest of Tallinn. The Soviet forces also hold Parnu, on the southwest coast.

(There were several indications that the Soviet Baltic fleet was joining in the battle to reduce the Estonian islands. An official announcement two days ago said Soviet naval forces had captured the seaport of Paldiski, midway between Tallinn and Haapsalu.

(Helsinki dispatches last night reported heavy gunfire from the Finnish Gulf and belief was expressed in that capital that the Red fleet had moved in strength into the Baltic Sea. The gunfire lasted for hours.)

The battle of Warsaw, now in its 56th day, brought no fresh news from Russian official sources, but Polish forces just back from the Vistula front line declared the Germans were being shoved back steadily.

German - Hungarian reinforcements appeared to have parried temporarily the Red Army's invasion thrust to southeastern Hungary. No Russian advance has been mentioned there in the past 48 hours.

TOPEKA, Kans., Sept. 26—(AP).—A recent visitor to this city was quite perturbed, she wrote police, because her laundry had been lost here. She explained that she was the fat lady with a carnival which played in Topeka, and said "When other people lose their clothes they can buy more, but I can't. I am nine feet around the middle and weigh close to 600 pounds." Police recovered the laundry and mailed it.

Britain's Plan For Reich To Be Heard

LONDON, Sept. 26 (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill, cheered from all quarters of the House of Commons as he took his seat, omitted statements on major war questions today in preparation for a full-dress statement Thursday.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden arose in the Prime Minister's behalf to set that date for the start of a two-day debate which may well bring disclosure of Britain's attitude on what to do with Germany after the war.

In answer to the first questions directed to him, Mr. Churchill confined himself to the Dumbarton Oaks conference, saying no commitments had been reached there as yet on post-war plans.

This conference, among representatives of Britain, the United States, Russia and China, he said, was seeking agreement "upon a set of proposals for the establishment of an organization to maintain peace and security and further social and economic co-operation among peace-loving nations." He added:

"If, as we greatly hope, we succeed in framing such joint proposals they would be communicated to the other governments of the United Nations concerned as a basis for discussion at a joint conference of all United Nations."

British 8th Crosses The Rubicon

Canadians Take Bordonchia North Of Rimini

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent

ROME, Sept. 26.—(AP).— The British 8th Army has hammered across the historic Rubicon and the Allied commander in the Mediterranean expressed hope to-day the crossing "will lead, as with a famous commander in the past, to a decisive victory" for Allied forces in Italy.

Crossing of the little stream which Julius Caesar made famous when he invaded Italy from Gaul (France) in 49 B.C., came after German counter-attacks slowed advances of both the 8th and the Allied 5th armies. The Rubicon flows into the Adriatic just north of Rimini.

To-day's communique said "Dominion"—probably Canadian—troops of the 8th Army captured coastal Bordonchia, six miles north of Rimini, in a night tank and infantry attack. The Rubicon was crossed further inland and several bridgeheads were won.

South of Bologna, the 5th Army was driving along several valleys running in a north-easterly direction after breaking the Gothic line.

Field Marshal Kesselring has flung reinforcements of seasoned troops into the sector 20 miles south of Bologna in an effort to set up a new holding line, a front dispatch said.

Gen. Wilson, Allied Mediterranean commander, congratulated Gen. Alexander, ground commander in Italy, on destruction of the Gothic Line and expressed the hope the Rubicon crossing would lead to destruction of the German army in Italy.

"The skill and speed with which the 8th Army was regrouped," he said, "once more completely surprised Field Marshal Albert Kesselring."

Gen. Wilson commended the determined attack of the 5th Army through the mountains which "breached the Gothic Line at its strongest place."

Northeast of Fiernzuola, Americans smashed three counter-attacks near Monte La Fine and were reported fighting in the streets of Moraduccio, 22 miles southwest of the Po valley road centre of Imola.

On the American right flank, British and Indian troops captured the road junction towns of Palazzuolo, 8½ miles east of Firenzuola, and Marradi, 12 miles east. Many prisoners were taken.

Don't Try It

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 26—(AP).—Dr. David Tepley can tell you a good way not to try to drive wasps out of the attic. The doctor rigged up the end of a fishing pole with rags, anointed it with an inflammable liquid and went after a nest of the stingers under his eaves. The insects made a strafing attack and Dr. Tepley had to leave hurriedly, dropping his home-made flame thrower. The eaves caught fire. Damage: $1,000 and three stung firemen. Today, Mrs. Tepley reported, the wasps are thicker than ever.

Italian Mothers To Receive Limited Aid

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 —(CP)—A declaration by Rudolf Bicanic, Yugoslavian delegate, that Italy was still at war with his country and had imposed untold brutalities on his people, accompanied his approval today of limited aid to needy Italian women and children, proposed in a resolution before the final business meeting of the council of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

The council will meet again this afternoon to close its second session since the organization in Atlantic City last November. But all the reports of the committees, prepared in a week of work here, were accepted this morning with little debate.

Mr. Bicanic said he hoped that the relief to be given the mothers and children of Italy would be appreciated by the people of Italy and strengthen the anti-Fascist party there. Yugoslavia was not opposed to the limited assistance assured Italy under the resolution and for the war-stricken categories which had been indicated.

Children, Mothers Only

Herbert H. Lehman, Unrra director-general, said in a brief statement that the task in Italy was definitely a limited one, with the main purpose to give supplemental aid to mothers and children. There was no responsibility given the administration to feed or clothe the Italian population in general.

The Journal of Proceedings made public to-day revealed that in private meetings of the Committee on Policy which passed the resolution for Italian aid, the Ethiopian delegate, Mr Medken, also refused to accept any declaration that Italy had become an ally.

Nazis Claim Air Troops Surrendered

Canadians Gaining Steadily In Calais Port

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 26 — (AP). — Silence cloaked the ninth day of one of the most dramatic battles of the invasion— the north bank stand of isolated British "Red Devils" who fought to keep a foothold across the Netherlands Rhine.

General Eisenhower's Headquarters, imposing a security dim-out of news from middle Holland, called the situation fluid. The British press declared it critical. And the German International Information Bureau, a propaganda agency, said the British paratroops had been wiped out.

Nothing was disclosed at Supreme Headquarters to indicate whether this was true or false.

Allied air commanders, in an attempt to stop the flow of enemy troops and material to the Moselle and Dutch fronts, flung 1,100 heavy bombers against two vital German freight yards. With almost 3,500 tons of bombs those heavy bombers blasted the yards at Osnabruck and Hamm and unspecified military targets at Bremen.

The latest information at Supreme Headquarters on the Arnhem troops was more than 24 hours old. This was that the British troops were holding on, supplied by night across the quarter-mile-wide Rhine.

Reports Confusing.

There was no attempt to minimize the hazard of their position— nor any indication that they were not at least in strength to hold out yet a while longer.

Even the Germans gave divided accounts of what had happened.

Almost an hour after first German report that the last of the troops had laid down their arms, the Berlin commentator Ludwig Sertorius indicated they were still fighting. He said Lt.-Gen. Dempsey's column from the south had thus far failed to reach "the remnants of the British First Airborne Division in the area of Arnhem."

In a swift advance north-east of Eindhoven the Tommies drove through Deurne and Helmond and on 15 miles north to Aploo and Mill

Aerial Pattern Against Huns Grows In Fury

LONDON, Sept. 26.—(AP).— Armadas of 1,700 British and American heavy bombers operating in support of land troops, attacked Osnabruck, Hamm and Bremen in Germany and the besieged port of Calais to-day.

Forces of 1,000 heavy bombers attacked the German cities. The R.A.F. sent 600 Lancasters and Halifaxes against the French channel port which Canadian ground forces are attacking.

Allied planes again supported hard-pressed airborne troops in the Arnhem area with rocket and machine-gun attacks on German troop concentrations, gun emplacements and other targets along the Eindhoven-Nijmegen corridor.

Unescorted Liberators from Italian fields attacked Greek harbors for the second straight day yesterday, bombing Salamis, Skaramanga and Piraeus. Following all-day attacks on troop masses and communications in Northern Italy, medium bombers struck during the

British Papers Welcome Plan

LONDON, Sept. 26—CP-Reuter)— The British press today gave prominence to details of the government social security plan announced last night, and in editorial comment welcomed the scheme as the greatest advance towards "freedom from want" yet made in any country.

The Times called the White Paper "an epoch-making document," and said the government are now convinced that the British nation can afford the cost of the scheme and that the people are prepared to pay the price, both in contributions and in productive work.

"Taken as a whole, the government's plan is the Beveridge scheme revised to give more weight to the needs of the aged at the expense of those of the young," said the Times.

The Manchester Guardian described it as a great victory for Sir William Beveridge.

The London Daily Herald while welcoming the plan, observed critically: "22 months have passed since Sir William Beverage presented his findings—and even now the government's plans are only in the White Paper stage."

Churchill Says War Criminals Will Not Escape

LONDON, Sept. 26 — (CP-Reuter). — Prime Minister Churchill, in a statement to the House of Commons to-day, declared that the British Government was resolved to do its utmost to prevent Nazi criminals from findisg refuge in the neutral territories.

He had been questioned about the statement — attributed to Sir Cecil Hurst, chairman of the United Nations War Crime Commission—that if Hitler managed to escape to a neutral country the Allies could do nothing in the matter.

Mr. Churchill said:

"I understand that the remarks attributed to Sir Cecil Hurst in the newspapers do not represent accurately what he said.

"It is one of those cases of taking out detached sentences from their context and not having a proper regard to all the necessary and limiting phrases and words which are proper to a public statement.

"His Majesty's Government are resolved to do their utmost to prevent any Nazi criminals finding refuge in neutral territories from consequences of their crimes."

Sir William Davidson, Conservative, said that in a subsequent explanation, Hurst had declared that the existing extraditional machinery was inappropriate to the circumstances, and that some new arrangements might be insisted upon to ensure surrender.

Sir William suggested that it was essential for Britain, the United States and Russia to take immediate steps to warn the neutrals that they will not be permitted to shelter Hitler and the other war criminals from receiving their punishment.

Mr. Churchill replied:

"Odd as it may seem, the point has not entirely escaped the government's notice that a number of neutrals have already made satisfactory statements upon the subject, but it is not our intention to allow the escape of these men to be effected without exerting almost every effort which the civilized powers can contemplate."

8,288 Japanese Die On Peleliu

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 26—(AP).—Marines by-passed strong Japanese hill positions on Peleliu and advanced to within a mile of the island's northern tip yesterday as the enemy death toll for the Palau campaign rose to 8,288.

Silence cloaked movements of the U.S. 3rd Fleet from which carrier planes smashed objectives in the Philippines last week. American confirmation was still lacking of Japanese-reported attacks on Manila and the Central Philippines, Friday and Saturday (U.S. time).

Southwest Pacific bombers continued to patrol the Southern Philippines, and one of them contributed one of the war's most unusual feats. A lone Catalina flying boat destroyed a seaplane tender and two destroyer escorts in Davao Gulf with four bombs in a single bombing run.

Other southwest planes sank a 10,000-ton Japanese tanker and damaged a 3,000-ton freighter in Dutch Celebes.

Australia Warned Japan Won't Crack

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP).—Australian troops, cautioned by their commander in chief against any hope that Japan will crack soon after Germany's fall, were told to-day that New Guinea and the Solomons alone some 90,000 by-passed enemy troops still must be eliminated.

Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, Deputy Allied Commander in the Southwest Pacific, made the assertion in a broadcast speech, a tsummary of which was released here by the Australian Army Information Service.

All the powers concerned, Gen. Blamey added, "agree that the Japanese conquests must be wrested from them.

Murder Wave Sweeps Italy

BERN, Switzerland, Sept. 26—(AP)—A wave of killings was reported sweeping German-occupied Northern Italy today where the newspaper Regime Fascista exhorted Blackshirts to avenge the execution in Rome of Pietro Caruso.

The Fascist press reported eight killed in Turin, nine shot in Bologna, seven executed on charge of subversive activity in Reggio Emelia and 10 Partisan prisoners shot at Gravelano—a total of 44.

Conditions in Bologna, one of Italy's largest cities and almost on the frontline since Allied armies smashed the Gothic Line, were reported frightful. Hundreds were said to have been put to death there this month. The latest bombings were reported to have broken down utility services. Hospitals were crowded with wounded and sick. Medicines were lacking. Traffic was reported paralyzed and the streets were said to be scenes of frequent blood-letting in clashes between Fascists and Partisans.

Two-ton Parachute Mines Worried War Chiefs In 1940

By FRED BACKHOUSE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 — (CP). — So intensive were the attacks by two-ton mines showered upon Britain by parachute from German aircraft during the winter of 1940-41 that at one time the missiles almost blocked Britain's vital supply ports. And knowledge of their deadly effectiveness was inadvertently given to the enemy by Britons themselves following one of the earliest attacks.

Although for nearly four years millions of Britons knew of the parachute mines and thousands had been killed by them, the British government did not relax until last night its tight censorship rules forbidding cabling of stories of the parachute mines' destructiveness or even of the weapon's existence.

In May, 1940, a crippled Heinkel bomber was shot down on to the little east coast town of Clacton, taking the first British civilian lives as it exploded. Among the wreckage of 100 or more houses was found a long, dark-green canister, an unexploded parachute mine.

Correspondents covering the story had all mention of the mine censored from their cables, but through the censorship to the press of the world went long descriptions of the trail of havoc left through the town as hundreds of dwellings were either destroyed or badly damaged.

The Germans learned that the parachute mine, originally meant for dropping into harbor waters, was a first class terror weapon for use against the civilian population.

Following the Clacton incident the Germans for months dropped their para-mines spasmodically on British ports and sometimes inland. As an anti-shipping weapon the mines were meant to sink to a certain level below water and could then be blown up in a number of ways — by a magnetic device, by the pressure of water above, or by the vibration of the motors of a passing ship.

Havoc was created in major British ports from Liverpool in the northwest around the coats to Hull in the northeast. The admiralty, alive to the menace, organized flying squads to volunteer mine-disposal officers.

Of the original 300-odd volunteers for this duty, less than 24 are alive today.

Little was known of the parachute mine's explosive devices until the secrets were discovered by a team of British scientists who worked night and day at a secret headquarters near London.

Almost as fast as the scientists found some way to "kill" the mine's six or more fuses the Germans inserted new and more cunning devices — some of them designed to kill tampering bomb-disposal men.

The full story of the naval men's heroism cannot yet be told.

The menace of the parachute mine finally was beaten by the brains of British scientists who invented defusing gadgets and by the courage of hundreds of unsung officers of the Royal Navy.

Jap Columns Near Kweilin

CHUNGKING, Sept. 26 (AP) — Chinese troops are engaging two Japanese columns apparently attempting to envelop Kweilin in flanking movements, the High Command announced today as bitter fighting was reported all along the Chinese battle front.

The Japanese are moving toward the Kwangsi Province city from positions east of the Hunan-Kwangsi railroad. One column, which took Kwanyang, 50 miles east, northeast of Kweilin, pushed southward for an undisclosed distance, the High Command said.

Meanwhile, the invaders recaptured Taohsien, 90 miles northeast of Kweilin, and struck on southwestward. Their drive engulfed Yungming, in a 25-mile advance, and was continuing.

Sixty miles southwest of Wuchow, Japanese forces struck northward from Jungyun in a drive apparently headed for the strategically important centre of Tanchuk, 47 miles west of Wuchow. Chinese troops operating behind enemy lines occupied a number of strongpoints south of Jungyung, the High Command said.

The Chinese communique said Japanese forces driving southward along the railroad directly toward Kweilin were still halted about 40 miles from their objective, apparently awaiting reinforcements and restoration of supply lines.

In the East China zone American bombers and fighter - bombers smashed enemy bivouac areas, supply grounds, river shipping and rolling stock along the Peiping-Hankow railway and Japanese - occupied towns in the area.

Increase Production Of Civilian Goods

LONDON, Sept. 26 (CP)—Richard Stokes, Labor, today in the House of Commons, questioned Hugh Dalton, president of the Board of Trade, on whether he had done anything to match the United States decision "to switch over 40 per cent of total production to peace purposes" after Germany collapsed and whether his department would follow "the great enterprise being shown by Americans in sending travellers overseas now."

Mr. Dalton replied that he was seeking every opportunity to increase the production of civilian goods both for home and for export as the claims of war production allowed.

He retorted to Mr. Stokes' second question: "You have personally applied for facilities to travel abroad and they have been granted by my department."

King Receives Quebec Cardinal

LONDON, Sept. 26—(CP Cable).—Cardinal Villeneuve, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Quebec, was received in audience by the King today on the eve of the cardinal's departure for Italy where he will report to the Pope and visit Canadian Army and Air Force units.

Air Commodore J. A. E. Charest, director of Roman Catholic chaplain services in the R.C.A.F., who accompanied the cardinal to the palace but was not present at the audience, said Cardinal Villeneuve was "overjoyed at the honor" and was "very pleased" with the lengthy audience.

Air Commodore Charest will accompany Cardinal Villeneuve to Italy.

His Majesty later received Prime Minister Churchill at lunch and heard a full account of the Churchill-Roosevelt Quebec conference.

To Release Capt. Ramsay

Pro-Fascist Soldier Held Since 1940

LONDON, Sept. 26. — (CP).— Home Secretary Morrison announced to-day that Capt. Archibald Ramsay, a Member of Parliament who has been detained under defence regulations since 1940, would be released unconditionally.

Last June in the United States Senate, Senator Henrick Shipstead (Rep., Minn.) read a London dispatch to the Chicago Tribune which quoted John McGovern, Independent Labor Member of the House of Commons as saying Ramsay was imprisoned along with Tyler Kent, American embassy code clerk to prevent disclosure of a reported prewar understanding between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill, at that time First Lord of the Admiralty. That understanding was described as a pledge that if Britain entered the European war the United States would aid her.

Kent was convicted in London in October, 1940, of violating the Official Secrets Act, and was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment.

Ramsay has been confined since May, 1940, when the British government began a roundup of persons suspected of pro-Fascist activities. The order for his release followed that of Sir Oswald Mosley, who was the leader of the British Fascists.

Hydro Spends 60 Million

Dim-Out Saved 250,000 Horse-Power

TORONTO, Sept. 25 (CP)—Dr. T. H. Hogg, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, said last night the vari-colored lighting system at Niagara Falls would be turned on again Oct. 1 or as soon as possible after that date.

He said there would be a few mechnical difficulties in meeting added requirements of newly-lighted business signs but since the lifting of dimout regulations announced last night at Ottawa by Munitions Minister Howe does not come into effect until Sunday it would help slow down the pace at which extra electricity was demanded.

Minister of Highways George Doucett said he could not say immediately whether curtailed lighting on the Queen Elizabeth Highway from Toronto to Hamilton and Niagara Falls would be turned on in full immediately.

Dr. Hogg said the dimout "resulted in a maximum saving of 250,000 horsepower during the peak load periods" and had made possible the production of much extra war material.

Since the outbreak of war the Hydro had spent $40,000,000 in providing additional generating transformer and transmission facilities mainly for war industry, he said.

Eight Million Workers Would Hit Huns

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
(Substituting for Dewitt Mackenzie)
Associated Press War Analyst

Gen. Eisenhower's call for action by organized cells among Hitler's enslaved labor indicates his confidence that Allied armies will soon be in Germany in force, and gives the first official intimation that the Allies expect any real help from inside.

By every report, Germany has kept a tight hand on her imported labor. These men and women from all over Europe have been confined only to a slightly less degree than prisoners of war. They have had little opportunity to learn the country, or even to meet privately.

Out of the 8,000,000 to 12,000,000, of course, there are a great number, even though a small percentage, who have nursed the fires of vengeance, sabotaged the German war effort, and organized for V-Hour. They are closely watched, and may be able to do little until Allied armies are so near that industry would be disrupted anyway, but in the aggregate the effect may be considerable.

Serfdom Almost Over.

At any rate they may be embodied by the knowledge that their serfdom is almost over. Eisenhower's call, and to-day's dimout on news from the Holland front, add to the growing feeling of several days that the big push is about on. That, too, is the meaning of repeated German counter-attacks along the Westwall, whose only purpose can be an attempt to unbalance the forces we have poised for a major effort.

A report from Paris that Allied forces have captured Kleve is unconfirmed, but that it is now invested would seem probable. That we would throw in everything needed to clear up the situation around Arnhem has been obvious for several days. The dimout could be due to a crisis in that sector, where the Germans have held on unexpectedly. But the Germans undoubtedly know our every move at this pinpoint. It is more likely that Eisenhower wishes to cover, as far as possible, his preparations for breaking into Germany in force.

Counsel Seeks Bail For Detroit Driver

When Eugene Schlenkert, Detroit, Mich., was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of reckless driving arising out of the fatal accident on the Warsaw Road on Labor Day when Mrs. Felix Courneya lost her life. W. F. Huycke, K.C. acting for J. F. Strickland, K.C., defence counsel, said that the defence would consent to bailment for trial. "That can't be done without calling some evidence" Magistrate Langley pointed out.

The accused was remanded until Friday on bail of $3,000 for the preliminary inquiry. He has elected trial by a higher court.

A charge against Harry Finnie of having charged too high a taxi fare for driving a passenger from the C.P.R. station in Zone 1 to a North Monaghan farm in Zone 2 was adjourned by consent until October 5 after W. F. Huycke, K.C. stated that a material witness had not been notified of the hearing.

Obituary

MARY THERESA PRIMEAU

Mary Theresa Primeau, 18, the daughter of Joseph Primeau and the former Ellen Irene Clancy, 709 Elcome Crescent, died Tuesday in London after an illness of six months.

She was born and educated in Peterborough, attended St. Peter's School and was a member of St. Peter's Cathedral, and of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin. Miss Primeau had been employed at the Western Clock Co.

Left to mourn her loss, beside her parents, are four brothers: L.S. James Primeau, R.C.N.V.R., now home from overseas; W.O. John Primeau, R.C.A.F., overseas; and Harry and Billy, at home.

The funeral will be held on Friday from the late residence to St. Peter's Cathedral for mass at 9 a.m. Interment will be made in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Pte. Don Caban Reaches Canada

In a hospital overseas for almost six months, suffering from leg and hip wounds received while serving with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment in Italy, Pte. Donald M. Caban, 543 Park street, has arrived in Canada, and is now in Toronto, where it is thought the young soldier may remain for some time to take further medical treatment.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Caban, Pte. Caban will meet his mother in Toronto sometime today, as Mrs. Caban left Peterborough Monday night. He is one of two brothers serving overseas, a third having been killed in Sicily.

On the same hospital ship was Pte. Lloyd L. Brenton, whose wife lives at Warkworth. Wounded in action in France July 25, he too has been in hospital overseas. His injuries were described at that time as a compound fracture of the right knee, and a wound in the left foot. Formerly a farm worker, he had been serving with the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry.

Gnr. M. E. Brisbin, son of Mrs. Mabel Brisbin, of Plainville, and Pte. G. H. Iles, whose wife lives in Haliburton, have also been reported to have arrived in Canada.

$1,000 Goal Is Set For Bible Society

Men and women canvassers for the Bible Society met at the Y.M.C.A. Monday night to hear Rev. F. B. Allnutt and to see a series of motion pictures of the work of the missionaries in Belgian Congo. The story of the transformation of the natives in an amazingly short time through the efforts of Dr. Chapman and his wife serving under the direction Presbyterian Board of Missions was impressive.

Mr. Allnutt said that Peterborough was one of the best organized districts in Canada and congratulated the workers who have carried on from year to year. Last year $950 was raised in Peterborough for this important work and Mr. Allnutt asked that 1,000 be set as a goal for this year. Last year was the banner year for the British and Foreign Bible Society of which the Upper Canada Bible Society is a part. More than two million dollars was contributed, the highest amount since 1804 when the organization was founded.

The Bible is now printed in 1,066 languages throughout the world and special plans are being made to supply the needs of the people of Europe after the war. The local canvass will be conducted during the coming three weeks.

Spr. Samuel Bolton Seriously Wounded

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bolton of Deer Bay were notified on Saturday that their son, Sapper Samuel Bolton, was seriously wounded on September 11. His injuries were described as a shell wound in the lower part of the back.

Sapper Bolton and his brother Donald enlisted together in the same regiment in Peterborough in September 1942 going overseas in March 1943. They both landed in Italy in November. The parents received a letter from Samuel dated September 10 the day before he was wounded, acknowledging a parcel from home, which had been greatly appreciated.

Killed In Woods

KITCHENER, Sept. 26 — (CP). — Gordon B. Hallman, 55, Wilmot Township Reeve and operator of a sawmill near New Dundee, was killed yesterday on the farm of Jack Tye at nearby Haysville when crushed beneath a tree he was helping to cut.

Dismiss Charge Against Driver

Declaring that with some hesitancy he was giving the accused the benefit of the doubt Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning dismissed a charge of drunken driving against Mrs. Mary McGee, Downie street, arising out of an accident on Rubidge street on the evening of August 22.

Mrs. McGee was defended by T. J. Carley, K.C., and the prosecution was conducted by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C.

The accused had been charged following a collision between the car she had been driving and a parked automobile owned by R. B. Harle and standing in front of the latter's Rubidge street residence. Mrs. Helen Crough, Ennismore, owner of the car driven by Mrs. McGee was injured in the crash.

Three police officers, Constables John Morrow and Ernest Beatty who saw Mrs. McGee at the scene of the accident and Acting Sergt. John Naples who was in the police station when she was brought in, testified that the woman was intoxicated.

Two other Crown witnesses, Mrs. R. B. Harle, wife of the owner of the parked car and Mrs. Mary Reynolds who lives across the street from the scene of the accident were called. Both said that after the crash Mrs. McGee got out of the driver's seat of the automobile and went around to the other side, motioning as if she wanted some person in the front seat to move over.

Appeared Upset

"She was very much upset as is natural after an accident," Mrs. Harle said.

"I don't suppose you are accustomed to seeing people who are under the influence of liquor," said Crown Attorney McElderry and the witness replied that she was not.

"Whether there was anything wrong with Mrs. McGee or not I don't know," said the witness. "I wouldn't be able to say."

Mrs. Reynolds who said that the car driven by Mrs. McGee did not change its speed before it collided with the parked car said that she did not notice anything unusual about the stout woman she said she had seen get out from the driver's seat after the collision.

Mrs. McGee was the only defence witness. She said that she had accompanied Mrs. Crough and a male companion whose name she was not sure of down town that afternoon and that she had had five glasses of beer, one in the Grand beverage room and four in the Hotel Champlain between 4 o'clock and the time of the accident shortly after 7 o'clock. She had taken over the driving after the party had left the hotel and explained the accident by saying that she was looking across the street at the home of some friends of hers when the crash occurred.

Mrs. McGee said that the beer she had drunk had not affected her driving or in any other way.

Magistrate Langley pointing out that the civilian witnesses called had not indicated signs of drunkenness on the part of the accused said that he was going to give her the benefit of the doubt.

Nazis Claim

forging a second supply line parallel to the first and reaching from Eindhoven almost to Nijmegen.

This provided a buffer against German attacks from the east against the main supply road, but it was still subject to hard German pressure from the west.

Headquarters said Allied troops, presumably those of the 1st Canadian Army, reached Arendonck and gained another bridgehead over the Antwerp-Turnhout Canal at Ryckerborsel, about 15 miles northeast of Antwerp.

Satisfactory progress has been made by 1st Canadian Army troops at Calais. They have gained control of high ground overlooking the town and reached the coast west of Calais.

Ten miles to the southeast, British and American forces fought through the forest approaches to Kleve, northern bastion of the Siegfried Line, in a double-headed invasion of the Reich from Holland.

(A wholly unconfirmed French broadcast said Kleve, eight miles inside Germany, had fallen.)

The Berlin radio also asserted that U.S. troops far to the south had launched a big push in the Epinal-Remiremont sector of France, apparently in prelude to an offensive against Belfort, 30 miles to the southeast. Belfort's fortresses guard the mountain gap into southwestern Germany.

Stall For Winter

As for Holland, the enemy asserted fierce German blows were intended to win time and delay the "final assault on Germany until winter, when defence conditions would be most favorable."

At last reports parts of three or four Nazi divisions were hammering at the pocketed "Red Devil" airborne soldiers fighting west of Arnheim—holding an Allied foot in the door to the German Ruhr, rich in war factories.

Amphibious trucks and assault boats of the British 2nd Army were ferrying a thin trickle of reinforcements and supplies across the Upper Rhine to the airborne men, said the last announcements before Gen. Eisenhower imposed the news dimout.

This security step was designed to keep the Germans from obtaining useful information from Allied sources in the touch-and-go battle described officially as fluid. The British press termed it a crisis.

Line Restored

Accounts of troop dispositions were restricted and speculation on future developments was banned as British forces restored their thin, thrice-cut lifeline north to the Neder Rhine west of Arnhem from Eindhoven and stabbed ahead seven miles through

Peanuts Drop

GUELPH, Sept. 26 (CP).—More than 1,000 tons of peanuts, stored in the old Goldie mill, crashed through five stories to the basement, ripping floors and partitions away. Men working in the building scampered to safety. Joseph Wolfond stated that it will be necessary to rebuild the whole structure, and the mishap will involve a cost of thousands of dollars.

Deurne and Helmond in a supporting thrust to the northeast.

A front dispatch said 2nd Army units had taken Opioo, 10 miles from the border of Germany.

It was the first time since the invasion started June 6 that a security silence had been applied in such a situation.

The greatest intensity of the battle was being diverted to opening and holding open an adequate supply corridor through Nijmegen to the south bank of the Neder Rhine. The Germans were opposing that effort with S.S. Panzer troops and more airplanes than they have risked for a week.

The Germans broke the supply corridor midway between Eindhoven and Nijmegen last night for the third time, keeping a five-mile stretch of the road cut for five hours before the British forces hurled them out.

A Thin Line

The lifeline was even thinner to the north between Nijmegen and Arnhem, and it was learned the Germans had held the mid-way town of Elst on this main road for several days. Second Army supply columns were moving over parallel secondary roads to the west, with even these sometimes under fire.

Two attempts to relieve this situation could be disclosed as developing. One was the thrust through Deurne and Helmond, seven miles southeast of Veghel where the Germans have mounted some of their strongest attacks. The second was a patrol thrust across the Waal or Lower Rhine 18 miles west of Nijmegen at Ochtem, and about 15 miles from Utrecht. The patrol reported Germans digging in both along the Meuse and Waal.

A solid seal-off wall was being built up to the south.

The column to the north — U.S. Paratroopers of the British 2nd Army—had seized the Dutch frontier village of Beek, 10 miles south of Arnhem, and pushed east into Germany.

Four or five miles to the south, British infantry and armor entered the German forest of the Reichswald, from Holland.

The Paris radio said that British 2nd Army troops have reached the immediate approaches to Doorn in their northward thrust to seal off western Holland.

There was little news last night of 1st Canadian Army elements fighting in their bridgehead across the Antwerp-Turnhout canal eight miles northeast of Antwerp, where they are pressing hard against Germans trapped by the British salient across the Netherlands.

Gain in Calais

Canadian infantry and tanks last night were reported battering into defences around Calais, one of two major Channel ports left in German hands, and by nightfall one force was within two miles of the city's southwestern outskirts.

The assault followed a 1,000-ton R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. attack on Calais yesterday. The German garrison at Calais is believed to total about 7,500.

Dunkerque, 25 miles east along the French coast, also is under 1st Canadian Army siege, but has not yet been assaulted. Some 10,000 to 14,000 of the enemy are believed pocketed there.

3 Aldermen Named To Work On Centre

For the drafting of an agreement between the city council and the proposed commission which will operate the Memorial and Health Centre, the council appointed Monday night Aldermen Bradburn, Glover and Swanston.

The other members of the committee which thereby comes into effect are nominees of the Memorial Centre's general committee. They are: J. A. Jebson, George A. Macdonald, Hugh Waddell, C. B. Neal and W. S. Cowell.

Alderman Bradburn said that in the present progress of the Memorial Centre committee the question had been reached pertaining to the terms and authority under which the proposed commission would carry on. A special act of the Legislature would have to be obtained for the setting up of the Commission and determining its authority and scope and relation to the council.

The new special committee will report its recommendations to the council.

night in Milan, Verona, Genoa and south of Bologna, starting many fires. The Balkan air force ripped up roads and rails in Yugoslavia, Albania and Northern Greece. Eight planes were lost in the south.

For hours yesterday in the mist and low clouds, Spitfires and Typhoons provided air cover for troops beleaguered at Arnhem, fighting off more than 200 German craft which at various times attempted to strafe the British "Red Devils."

Twenty-four German planes were destroyed while six Allied craft were lost.

For the first time German airmen engaged the rocket-firing Typhoons. More than 25 Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulfs dived on five Typhoons, but after two of the Nazi craft were destroyed, the others fled.

Legion Angry At Rejection Of Rodeo Plan

Refusal of permission for a rodeo show at Riverside Park was unwarranted, the Canadian Legion wrote the council Monday night through its secretary, G. G. Torrance, and the council is countering with a letter requesting that the next time the Legion has an opportunity to bring in some attraction (from which they would get a cut of the gate) they should at least afford the council more than a few days before a decision would be too late.

Alderman Glover said his objection to the rodeo show across the river was based on worries as an Exhibition director the year a western rodeo was its feature attraction.

The Board breathed easier when that week ended without some of the spectators being trampled upon or gored, and also happy in the realization that they had escaped an action for damages by phantom people injured by rampaging cattle.

"All I wanted," said Alderman Glover, "was to make sure every precaution was taken to prevent any accident and also to guarantee the city against any claims for damages. Outside of that I was not opposed to them using the park."

"Well, it's too late now," remarked Alderman Curtis, recalling that the date of the show was to have been September 12.

To Fix Damage

Mr. Torrance wrote: "We had guaranteed to repair any damage which might be caused by this performance, and we also understood there would be no more damage to the park than would have been caused by a rugby game."

After that rap on the wrist, the council decided to reply that the council would appreciate ample time accompanying letter of Legion entertainment in the future.

"And the next time the Legion wants something we would further appreciate it if they would interview the council instead of making and explaining their request by letter."

"They came to us only a week before September 12," Alderman Bradburn said.

Alderman Sands said members of the Legion remembered that the council had frowned on a carnival show, so they looked around and were planning to bring in the rodeo. And that was rejected and presumably the Legion did not understand the attitude of the council.

Misunderstanding

Council's opinion was generally that a misunderstanding had arisen in this case and could have been avoided if there had been more vocal approach by the Legion.

"If the assessors are going to get any more ideas about raising assessments, I'd suggest that they stay at home."

That blunt and salty comment by Alderman Bradburn last night was inspired by a letter from Max R. Sloan, chairman of District No. 5 of the Association of Assessing Officers, comprising the counties — Victoria, Haliburton, Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough, Hastings, suggesting that members of the council would be welcomed to the zone meeting in Belleville, October 17.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26 — (CP).— In broad, active trade, rye futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday scored the sharpest advance of any grain since the outbreak of war, jumping as much as 10 cents a bushel at the opening.

Top prices were not held, however, but substantial gains remained at the close, ranging from 7⅛ to 8½ cents.

Action of the United States War Food Administration in advancing its buying price lveel, was the incentive for the advance here, following sharp increases at Chicago.

Export sales of Canadian wheat stepped up, with sales totalling 700,000 bushels for the day.

Woman's Pleas For Assistance Goes Unheeded By Council

"I am willing to put on a pair of overalls and help rather than see another two feet of our property fall into the creek," Mrs. Gladys Groombridge promised in a letter to the council Monday night, pleading for some action to check the gradual attrition of the east bank of the creek near the corner of Bethune and Murray streets.

The Jackson Park creek boils along under the railway bridge between Stewart and Bethune streets (at the high Stewart street bank) and curves toward the south toward Brock and Aylmer streets past some property that has been entirely occupied with new houses in recent years.

Leslie Groombridge owns one of those houses, the farthest toward Bethune street, and apparently suffers most from erosion of its bank by freshets of the creek.

"To facilitate the situation," Mrs. Groombridge wrote, "we have bought two loads of cement blocks similar to those the city placed on the other side of the creek. We will even buy the cement if you fix the wall this fall."

No End To Job

Said Mayor Hamilton: "If we started with that stretch of wall, where would we end? We might expect requests from owners along a mile or more for the same treatment."

City Engineer Parsons remarked to the council that the Groombridge brookside is fairly close to the one of the short reaches of the creek where considerable dynamiting has to be done almost every spring.

And to a lady in distress over the gradual retreat of the bank into the lawn at her home, Mayor Hamilton merely said: "To do the whole job, we can't think of it."

Not one of the members raised a finger or made any further enquiry upon such far ranging horizons as might be contemplated in the word possibilities, and manifestly the brave offer to don the overalls is not going to be accepted.

pression had yet fought for nearly two months to contribute all in their power to the expulsion of the Germans from the capital of Poland."

He asserted the British government was "too far away from the scene" to take responsibility for ordering an uprising in Poland, but said it had contributed supplies and endeavored to promote co-operation between Poland and the Soviet authorities.

He added the Soviet armies were heavily engaged in other fighting at the time "but when operational plans permitted they sent supplies to the Polish forces and provided air cover and support."

Prime Minister Churchill, returning from the Quebec conference, arrived in London today and was greeted at Euston Station by several Cabinet Ministers.

The Prime Minister, looking fit, stepped from the train with Mrs. Churchill and received kisses from their daughters, Mary, who wore her A.T.S. uniform, and Mrs. Duncan Sandys.

Crowds assembled at the station cheered as the Prime Minister's party drove to 10 Downing Street.

Among the official party greeting the Prime Minister were Deputy Prime Minister Attlee and Home Secretary Morrison.

In Buoyant Spirits.

Mr. Churchill, wearing his favorite Trinity House uniform and yachting cap, was in buoyant spirits.

His weather-tanned face wreathed in smiles, Mr. Churchill shook hands warmly with Lord Woolton and said: "I must congratulate you on your White Paper." He referred to the Government social security plan announced in this morning's newspapers.

The gathering at the station was almost an informal outdoor Cabinet meeting. Foreign Secretary Eden, who also attended the Quebec conference but returned earlier, and Sir John Anderson, Chancellor of the Exchequer, were among the Ministers present.

The problem of what to do with Germany after the war was brought sharply to the fore this week by disclosure of a difference of opinion within President Roosevelt's Cabinet.

While Mr. Churchill was out of the country Government officials cautiously sidestepped getting involved in the dispute between United States Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, who wants to convert Germany into an agricultural nation, and War Secretary Stimson and State Secretary Hull who object to complete de-industrialization.

The British press, too, while giving prominent display to the stories on the American dispute, for the most part has avoided comment.

However, the Manchester Guardian asserted "There is general hope that Mr. Churchill will go beyond the military narrative of these last stirring months and will redefine the European policy of the Allies and, in particular, of our own country."

Jobs For All After War Ilsley Says

TORONTO, Sept. 26 —(CP)—The fact that the climax of the present war is near is no reason that Canada should immediately reach the climax of her war-finance activities, Finance Minister Ilsley said here last night.

Addressing the Fourth Victory Forum sponsored by the Canadian Association of Personnel Publication Editors Mr. Ilsley sounded the keynote of the Seventh Victory Loan campaign which opens Oct. 23 with a minimum objective of $1,300,000,000. He said "a combination of continued war expenditures and increased private expenditure hold promise of jobs for all who want them in the period after the collapse of Germany."

The end of the war against Nazi-ism will be accompanied by inevitable cut-backs in production, releases from armed services and general employment changes, but there did not seem to be cause for alarm.

Other speakers at the forum were R. J. Dunlevy, public relations advisor of the National War Finance Committee and William Rattray, president of the C.A.P.P.E.

Some Shortages

Despite his optimism about the prospects for post-war employment, Mr. Ilsley warned Canadians that they should not look for a general easing of controls immediately after the war. Some scarcities are bound to continue, especially of foods and various goods for consumers.

"We cannot expect the reduction in war expenditures and war production will be such as to leave room for all consumer demands to be met ... We must continue to keep spending in check by Victory Bonds, fairly highly taxation, price control and where necessary, rationing," he said.

"We cannot stop the huge war machine and turn it in a new direction overnight. There are great costs involved in stopping it or even slowing it down.

"Continued war expenditures and further Victory Loans will be rendered necessary by our participation, to which we are committed, in the Japanese war."

48th Highlander Dies In Italy

HAVELOCK, Sept. 26— (ENS)— Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dafoe of Belmont Township were officially notified on Monday that their son, Pte. William R Dafoe, with the 48th Highlanders in Italy, had died of wounds on September 16.

During the first week of this month Mr. and Mrs. Dafoe were notified that he was slightly wounded and in hospital. A letter from him written on September 11 stating that his wounds were all healed has led them to think that he had recovered from his first wounds and had been back in the firing line.

Pte. Dafoe enlisted in January, 1943, going overseas last December. Prior to enlisting he was employed in the C.P.R. freight sheds at Toronto.

Cpl. Raymond Ray Killed In France

BONARLAW, Sept. 26 — (ENS) — Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ray of Springbrook have been notified that their son, Cpl. Raymond Ray who has been serving with the S. D. and G. Highlanders, was killed in France September 5. He has been overseas since 1941 and was 21 years of age.

Surviving besides his parents, are five brothers, Leonard with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Italy; Stanley, H. and P. E. Regiment, Italy; Carmen of Toronto; Kenneth of Stirling; Jewel of Springbrook; and two sisters, Mrs. Mark Williamson of Brampton; and Mrs. Harper Bateman of Springbrook.

Ban On Electric Power Lifted Starting October 1

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP). — Restrictions which have kept street lights dimmed, shop windows and advertising signs blacked out and some newsprint mills on curtailed production for more than two years will be removed on October 1 in all provinces except British Columbia, Munitions Minister Howe announced last night.

Mr. Howe said the power supply situation now is sufficiently good to allow removal of the restrictions everyhere except in British Columbia here "an unprecedented drought combined with a most difficult oil situation makes it absolutely essential that all restrictions now imposed locally be obeyed."

The restrictions to be removed were those aimed at conserving the power. Those imposed by defence authorities for security reasons will not be affected.

Hit Industries.

Removal of the restrictions will be particularly felt in Ontario and Quebec where a power-conserving policy enforced September 20, 1942, forced newsprint mills to reduce their hours of operation in order to provide more continuous power to war plants. Street lighting was curtailed in the two provinces, highway lighting was prohibited, and use of power for rural extensions prohibited. Few similar restrictions were enforced in other provinces.

Although official comment could not be obtained immediately, some officials of newsprint companies said the removal of the restrictions would not bring about any increase in their output.

Newsprint officials in the Ottawa district said they now had plenty of power but are short of woodpulp. They believed this situation as fairly general in most parts of Ontario and Quebec, except possibly in the Saguenay River district.

Mr. Howe said that any restrictions which had been imposed on any other industry would also be lifted.

Diminished storages had been restored to a point which made removal of the restrictions possible.

Training Centre Goes To Borden

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP). — The Infantry Basic Training Centre at Cornwall is to be moved to Camp Borden, and reorganized from a four-company centre to a two-company centre, Defence Headquarters announced last night. The change takes effect September 30. Army officials said they did not know at present whether the Cornwall Centre, used only for basic training, would be closed altogether of whether it would be used for other military purposes.

Personnel who become surplus as a result of the transfer and reorganization and who are eligible for overseas service will be released to the overseas reinforcement stream. Staff for the reorganized centre will be selected from the present staff.

A short time ago it was reported in unofficial circles that the Centre was to be removed from Cornwall, but that the site might be used as a training centre for the Canadian Army Technical Corps, which trains pre-service age personnel in various trades until they are old enough to enlist.

Co-operation of Labour, Industry Is Required

PORT HOPE, Sept. 26 — (ENS). — Labour and industry co-operating in the post war world would ensure Canada a place in export trade declared the Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario Minister of Labour in addressing the meeting last night of Port Hope Board of Trade. He was introduced by the Hon. Dr. R. P. Vivian, Minister of Health for Ontario. Chairman of the evening was Mayor Charles Stevenson.

In : opening remarks he pointed out that he had marvelled at the wealth in mines and forest products of northern Ontario. There was a great future in store for the province and he said that he had faith in the people who had developed it. Speaking on export trade he said that the countries which Canada had helped during the war would trade with Canada after the war but on a competitive basis. It would be most unfortunate if Canada failed to get her share of this export trade; but it would depend on labour, the quality of its work and its willingness to turn it out. Labour was like a pendulum which had swung low during the depression years but which now was on the upswing. He warned however that it must not be permitted to swing too high or increased production costs might destroy the balance necessary to compete with other countries. It would take the best that labour and industry had to keep things on an even keel with justice being extended to both labour and management.

No Return to Old Days

Industry was not desirous of returning to the conditions which formerly characterised labour, but wanted labour to have a fair share of the returns. The speaker said that he disagreed with the belief of some who thought that labour had been badly treated and to support his opinion he pointed to the Workmen's Compensation Act. The Accident Prevention Act and The Minimum Wage Act.

Rehabilitation was the subject of careful study Mr. Daley said in connection with the regional labour board. He said that it had adjusted 20,000 cases and was helping to maintain price levels. The labour relations board was made up equally of industrial and labour union representatives he pointed out. The 48-hour week was working out satisfactorily with many factories finding out that it could work on a smaller period than 48 hours. The result would be more work for more men during a shorter period of time. In come cases the department allowed overtime.

He touched on the youth training plan and drew attention to the fact that it would provide opportunities for many to learn trades and he pointed out that there was a scarcity of mechanics in the country.

Ontario led the rest of the provinces in labour legislation and it was question how far legislation could go Mr. Daley said. It should not go so far as to reward shiftlessness, he stated.

Quebec Man Complains About Speed Rulings

COBOURG, Sept. 26 (ENS) — They don't do anything to us for that in Quebec," complained John Peck of Montreal when he appeared in police court Monday on a charge of exceeding the speed limit in contravention of the Defence of Canada Regulations. Peck was picked up Monday in Hamilton township by Provincial Constable Douglas Wilson of Colborne. Constable Wilson said that he was on patrol and that Peck passed him at a high rate of speed. Constable Wilson speeded up and stopped him.

"We always go fifty in Quebec," stated Peck. Magistrate R. B. Baxter reminded him that the Defence of Canada Regulations affected all the provinces.

When the magistrate imposed a fine of $15 and costs, Peck showed more surprise but the magistrate informed him that the fine was quite standard as to amount.

Thomas V. Neill Plans To Give Up Grocery

GORE'S LANDING, Sept. 26. — (ENS).—After 24 years running the corner grocery store and post office, Thomas V. Neill is retiring from business on October 1. He will retain the post office.

Mr. Neill formerly farmed and bought the store from the late F. W. Pratt. A year later, he was installed as postmaster. He is also closing out the gas service station in front of his store and in the spring plans to tear down part of the building, only leaving sufficient space or the post office.

Gore's Landing News

Both St. George's church and the United church were closed on Sunday. Harvest Thanksgiving services were held in St. Paul's, Perrytown, and anniversary services were held in Plainville United church, with Rev. Mr. and Mrs. T. D. McGaw closed their cottage, "Kittiwake" and returned to Toronto this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thackeray motored to Roseneath on Sunday. They have moved into the cottage on Capt. Wilbert Harris's grounds. Roy Thackeray, who was wounded during the invasion of Normandy, is still in England receiving treatment for leg wounds.

Mrs. Harry Hastings has returned home from a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mayo of Hastings.

Miss Marion Harris returned home on Monday after completing her training in the hospital in Lindsay.

Kinsmen Plan Party To Entertain Friends

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 26 (ENS) —The regular meeting of the Kinsmen's Club was held at the Villa Trent, with President Forrest Dennis presiding.

It was decided Ray Wild will assist R. Anderson in the milk bottle collection for the "Milk for Britain Fund." Keith Bound will supply a 45-gallon milk can to receive the donations at the Campbellford Fair. Ron Hazell and Art Bates will be in charge of the work in connection with the Salvation Army Drive, which is sponsored by the Kinsmen's Club, and the general headquarters will be in the Red Cross Booth.

Mr. Coughlin of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, will be the guest speaker on October 25. Ladies night was discussed and Wink Callaghan suggested that the Kinsmen entertain their friends at the Masonic Temple with a dinner and dance. On motion of President Forrest Dennis seconded by Jack Fink, $10 was donated to the Legion Cigarette Fund.

The president stated definitely that the Kinsmen stand unanimously behind the "New Municipal Hospital" as a memorial and will support it.

The meeting closed with a hearty singsong with Aru Bates at the piano.

Insanity In Ontario

For many years the incidence of insanity in Canada has been alarmingly high, and the 76th Annual Report of the Hospitals Division of the Department of Health of Ontario, which has come to hand, shows that insanity has increased shockingly in this province during the past six years. Consider these figures: there were 14,056 people in hospitals for the insane in 1938, and in 1943 the figure had risen to 14,826; for every 100,000 of our population 387.6 are mentally ill or mentally defective. Anyone who is interested in this matter—and it should be of interest to everybody concerned about public health or social service—should get a copy of the Report and study it; it tells a great many important facts about life in this province and in the Dominion.

What are the chief causes of insanity? Many people, most moralists among them, would be inclined to say syphilis and alcoholism. But when we examine the statistics we find that syphilis accounts for only 522 of our 14,826 insane, and alcoholism for only 73 of them. What, then, are the chief causes? At the head of the list we find dementia praecox accounting for 6,786 cases, and manic-depressive psychoses for 1,092. These two causes account for more than half our insanity.

What are these diseases? He who could answer that question completely we would doubtless be a psycharitrist and not an editor, but rough-and-ready answers may be given a small space: the manic-depressive psychosis shows itself in sudden and unreasonable alternations between extreme exaltation and extreme depression; as this alternation is often seen in people of mercurial temperament who are far from insane it must be borne in mind that the true manic-depressive carries his change of mood to violent extremes, and cannot be talked out of it, as the merely 'temperamental' person can. As for dementia praecox it is most easily described as a flight from reality into a world of fantasy; the flight is so complete that the sufferer becomes indifferent to the outside world, and is so wrapped in his dreams that he may have to be forcibly fed in order to keep him alive.

What causes these mental ailments which are so common in Ontario? The cause seems to be a lack of ability to cope with the problems which life brings; the sufferer meets an obstacle in his path which seems to him to be insuperable and he becomes unbalanced, like the manic-depressive, or he retreats into a world of his own, like the dementia praecox. The problems which provoke these tragic failures often seem trifling, or non-existent, to people of more rugged spirit. Failure to solve problems of sexual adjustment is thought to be at the root of many of them, and failure to meet an adult and real world in an adult and realistic manner may account for others. There is reason to believe that the seeds of these ailments are sown long before the diseases themselves attract attention. The man or woman who becomes unfit for ordinary life probably was put on his disastrous course during childhood or adolescence.

Is there anything that we can do about it? We might consider the countries which have conspicuously better records than our own in these mental ailments, and try to find out why it is so. Mental hygiene in Canada, in the broad sense, is far from satisfactory. Ideas are extant among great masses of our population which are unfavourable to the development of sturdy intellect and character. Fear, erroneous conceptions of morality, mistaken ideas about sex, repressions, bigotries and old wives' tales of all kinds—these exist to a degree which the well-educated section of the populace fails to realize. Ignorance seems to have a close association with insanity; it is noticeable in the Report that the big figures for admission to hospitals come under the heading 'Common School Education'; illiterates and people of high school and university standard do not appear to become insane so easily; this conclusion must be modified, of course, by the knowledge that people of common school education are more numerous than the other groups, but we may still think that 'some education but not enough' is a factor in preparing the ground for mental illness.

The large number of insane in Ontario and in this Dominion, and the fact that the number is increasing every year, constitute a national problem which we have neglected too long. What are we going to do about it? Are we going to appoint a commission of competent men to look into the problem and make a report on it, or are we going to go on ignoring it until our standing in this respect among the civilized nations of the world is even worse than it is now? Since the war began we have done a great deal of talking and writing about our 'way of life'. It appears that our Canadian way of life brings about a remarkably large incidence of insanity. One of our postwar plans certainly ought to be an investigation into the cause of this disgrace, and an alteration of our way of life which will mitigate it.

Connie Smythe's Complaints

Major Connie Smythe has made a statement that the Canadian reinforcements which have been going into Europe since the invasion are seriously undertrained. Major Smythe, who was well-known before the war as a sportsman, was wounded in Normandy and is now in a Toronto hospital. The Department of National Defence issued a denial of Major Smythe's charges, but further inquiries are being made, and doubtless the truth or falsity of those charges will be established shortly. Meanwhile Major Smythe's statement is being used as ammunition with which to pelt the Dominion Government; many people seem to believe that if the men who are now retained for home service were sent to service abroad, ample trained reinforcements would be available.

This is faulty logic; not the number of men available, but the quality of their training, is the matter under discussion. The Department of Defence published figures some time ago which showed that Canada had ample reinforcements abroad to keep our forces up to strength until next year. As for the quality of the training, it must be pointed out that the officer commanding Canadian troops in France is Lieutenant-General Crerar, who was in charge of training Canadian troops until 1942, and who has been succeeded by men who have carried on that training according to his methods. If there is anything wrong with the training of the Canadian reinforcements the fault must lie with the General Staff, rather than with the civilian officials of the Department of National Defence. It must be pointed out here, by the way, that the complaint of most Canadian soldiers abroad has been that they had far too much training both in Britain and in Canada, and were in danger of growing stale. Whether the training was of the most useful kind is, of course, another matter.

We do not think that Major Smythe would have spoken so vigorously as he did if he had not believed that he was in the right. But it is quite possible that he is mistaken. It is significant that Premier Drew, who has just returned from Britain, has been very cautious in ratifying Smythe's charges. Premier Drew was a soldier himself, and a more experienced soldier than Major Smythe; perhaps he knows more about training and reinforcement than Smythe does, and knows that some of our men are not undertrained, but merely green in battle.

Meanwhile attempts are being made to stir up such a row as followed Dieppe and Hong Kong interpreting Smythe's charges in a political light; the question, however, is not political, but military in its causes and effects.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Only one person in 300,000 is struck by lightning. But life has other risks; we read of a man who choked to death on a toast-crumb while having breakfast in bed.

Not long ago Count Carlo Sforza demanded that Italy's colonies be returned to her, and now Benedetto Croce wants a revision of Eisenhower's armistice terms. This is what comes of our pussy-footing habit of speaking of 'the liberation' of Italy, when in point of fact we have beaten the Italians on their own ground and are now beating the Germans there as well.

The Male Kiss Of Autumn

(By BRUCE HUTCHISON)

CANADIANS must know the autumn better and feel its touch more keenly than any other people. Like our spring, which is less a season than an explosion, the Canadian autumn bursts upon us not as a mere lapse in summer, not as a period of death and decay only, but as a time of vast and feverish preparation.

Like Nature, man prepares for the great change of winter. He first gets in his crop, and no man who lacks a crop can know the mellow comfort of autumn. Though your crop, like mine, consists of fifteen sacks of potatoes, a hundred pounds of onions, seven squashes, fifteen boxes of apples, minor quantities of carrots and a few swollen heads of cabbage, still you can feel the oldest satisfaction of our species.

Your crop is in against the winter. As you store it away, as you cunningly braid your onions upon their suspended strings, as you wheelbarrow the quashes from the garden, like a parent wheeling a baby, to avoid the danger of shock, as you pick the apples from the tree, fondling each to prevent bruises, as the last potato is safely lifted from the earth, you know how your grandfather felt when the log barn and underground root cellar were full. You know how your remote ancestor felt when he had laid aside some dinosaur bones and a few herbs in the darkness of his autumn cave.

The true farmers are laying in the last of their crop now, from the tiny fishing farms of Nova Scotia to the apple valley of the Okanagan and the lush delta of the Fraser River. The countryman is heaping up his woodpile. Every small boy is examining his skates in the basement. People are wondering where they stored their skis during the summer. In the mountains the railway men are looking to the snowsheds, and on the prairies to the snow fences. The motorist wonders if it is time for anti-freeze.

BUT these human preparations do not compare with the labours of Nature at this season. Keats represents autumn in his ode as a soft female figure, lolling on a granary floor, her hair soft-lifted by the winnowing wind, drowsed with the fume of poppies and tipsy with the season's hard cider. That may be the English autumn. It is not the autumn of Canada, whose rough male kiss can be felt in these frosty dawns, whose strong muscles even now are slowly fashioning the structure of our winter.

There is no relief for Nature's labours here as in Keats' England. In every growing thing the Canadian autumn must put forth now its supreme effort. Seed pods must be formed and ripened on great maples trees and oaks and in the lowliest weeds that hug the ground. Beyond the measurement of man and greater than all his combined power of machinery is the energy which nature uses now to unload the leaves of tree and shrub, which do not fall but are thrust off, each one separately, by the thin wall of tissue now being built like a dyke at the bottom of the leaf stem.

With equal labour, Nature begins her autumn chemistry, that complicated clash of molecules and atoms which paints the leaves in autumn colour, which splashes crimson from the Maritimes to the Lakes and yellow across the poplars of the prairies and British Columbia. This is no mere fading, a painless process of death. It is accomplished only with a burst of energy which leaves autumn exhausted at the doorstep of winter.

IT is only a small part of the season's job. All the wood of Canada, the unimaginable myriad of tree trunks and brush stalks must be ripened, each cell drained of moisture, the sap drawn off by a process which no man has yet explained, the wood guarded against the bursting frost of winter. In the earth the largest half of all vegetable life, of all life upon this planet, the root systems, must be battered down before the great cold comes.

And even now in the mountains autumn begins the work of winter with the chemistry of frost, with the first hardening of the moisture at night. Around minute trickles from the rocks a white rime is forming. Then the ice, cell by cell, begins to advance from the edge of the upland brook and presently, in huge white pillars, in towering walls of ice, in frozen gargoyles clinging to the lip of the torrent. Nature builds the silent Gothic architecture of winter, after autumn's bright frescoes and the flowery rococo of the lost summer.

Bedtime

Twelve hours ago, troops had fought through this narrow green avenue of jungle. The trees looked dishevelled and pale, as if they had been dragged into the ordeal.

Shell cases of spent rounds were like brass buttons in the mud.

Over to the left, behind some splintered logs, was the body of a dead Japanese. His right hand was still clenched, as if he had knocked and knocked on the earth. He was not a gentle sight. Most likely a grenade got him.

Two or three paces away an Aussie was digging. He was one of a burial party, and this particular Jap was his particular pigeon.

The Aussie worked steadily in the soft ground. When he paused and straightened up to roll a cigaret, you saw what kind of a bloke he was.

In his middle twenties, tall and lean, with a tough face and a scar on the right of his chin, he looked like thousands of his mates. He was the sort of man who used to go to the football on Saturday and take his girl for a steamer trip on Sunday. Sometimes, toward closing time, you'd see him swaying on the corner.

Rough? I wouldn't know.

When the Jap's grave was dug, the Aussie had another look at him. Not anything you'd like to carry.

So the Aussie went away and came back with a piece of half-inch rope. He tied one end of it round the Jap's left ankle. He slung the rope over his shoulder.

In softest voice he spoke.

"Come to bed, Nip," he said.

So if you're thinking of human things, don't make any mistake about that soldier you see swaying on the corner.—Melbourne Herald.

POST-WAR SCHOOLS

It is difficult to overestimate the importance of the good schools and good teaching. They have a fundamental influence on the character of the population. They will be a very large factor in shaping the kind of province Saskatchewan will be 25 or 50 years hence. On that score improvement of the school system has a high priority in all post-war projects.—Regina Leader-Post.

HUMPTY DUMPTY'S LAST STAND

Monty

(WASHINGTON POST)

THE following editorial from the Washington Post, influential morning daily of the United States capital, under the simple head 'Monty', expresses the feelings of millions of Americans for the great British general, conqueror of Africa and, as the Post designates him, the holder of the shield in France:

"The elevation of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery to the rank of Field Marshal is as much a solatium as a recognition of his services. A misunderstandnng seems to have developed over the command in France. As the Americans understood the arrangement, General Montgomery was to be in supreme command of all the ground forces, American as well as British and Canadian, till such time as the American contingent became numerically superior. That time has long since been passed. Accordingly our Lieut.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley has been given equal status with Montgomery, and the latter has been left in command only of the British and Canadians. The arrangement, of course, should have been publicized on D-Day. That it was not then explained has given the impression in Britain that their idolized "Monty" has been demoted. Evidently the British government has given a baton to Montgomery in great part to offset this impression.

At the same time the signal honour that has come to the commander of the Twenty-first Army Group in France will be regarded as a recognition of his military services. He will go down in history as the hero of El Alamein. That battle was the turning point in the war and, the battle won, the rest was pursuit across the desert, for General Rommel had no supplies left with which to fight. The campaign was a triumph of collaboration among the air, sea and land arms. If General Montgomery gets all the credit, there were many unsung heroes, not least the quartermaster general who supplied the Eighth Army in its glorious trek to the Mareth Line, where the "desert rats" won further renown.

In France, Montgomery has not been as conspicuous as he was in North Africa. But it shouldn't be forgotten that he held the shield while General Bradley conquered the Norman hinterland. A great menace confronted him for, if the Germans had emptied the Pas de Calais or robot area, and flung the garrison into the battle of Caen, the whole invasion would have been imperilled. The Germans, however, were afraid to move out of the Pas de Calais area. They were themselves, in other words, the victims of the Maginot Line complex, the possession of which by the French had previously yielded France to them. That was Montgomery's (and our) good fortune—something upon which we had not reckoned.

Montgomery's stature in the eyes of the British people has not been diminished by the more spectacular role played by our American generals. He is their military hero — with a standing superior to Allenby's in the last war and more analogous to Nelson's. He has the colour enabling him to fit the part. Intrinsically, however, he is entitled to a place among the great captains because of his genius for instilling confidence and courage in the men under him. Montgomery is a leader in the truest sense of the word. Discipline among his soldiers is so inherent that he can dispense with the discipline of external trappings upon which many generals rely.

Little Hitler Lewis

(NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE)

MR. JOHN L. LEWIS has squelched the opposition to him in the United Mine Workers of America by the simple expedient of ruling his only opponent for president of the union off the ballot. Thus he is assured of another four-year term in the job he has held since 1920 and of the continuance of his authority to appoint the officers of twenty-one of the union's thirty-one districts comprising a substantial majority of the union's 600,000 members.

Ray Edmundson, his opponent and his former appointee as head of the Illinois district, was leader of an autonomy movement to permit the districts and their locals to choose their own officers. Just before the present convention of the mine workers opened in Cincinnati a caucus of his followers was broken up by Lewis henchmen in the midst of violence. Subsequently the credentials committee of the convention refused to seat Edmundson as a delegate. And now Lewis has said that since Edmundson was not a delegate, neither could he be a candidate, and that's that!

The method of the purge suits perfectly the language of Lewis's attack on his opponent before acting. He called Edmundson a "mincing, lackadaisical, lace-panty gigolo" and went on: "Roosevelt, Browder and Hillman (whom he referred to, incidentally, as a "Russian pants maker") hired a man to come here and dethrone the old man right on his own ground.... I ask you: while that's going on what in the hell am I supposed to be doing? Don't Browder, Hillman and Roosevelt know that for twenty-five years I've met every champ in American industry and politics and haven't lost yet?"

The resemblance to Der Fuehrer in word and deed strikes us as remarkable, and quite as much in character was the response of his intimidated audience. When asked if any delegate of the 2,500 present wished to appeal the Lewis ruling, not one raised a hand. It would be pleasant in these columns to welcome Mr. Lewis into the fold of the President's opposition. But we are constrained to suggest that this little Hitler confine himself to his own province. Outside of the mine workers' union few Americans take kindly to totalitarian dictators whatever their temporary political allegience.

Wealth and Want

In many parts of London you will find, almost side by side, the mansion and the slum. A short walk will take you from a pleasant and elegant quarter to streets of dilapidated and overcrowded houses: from prosperity to poverty. The same is true of many other British cities, and this blatant contrast has helped to stir the public conscience against bad housing, poor wages and social inequality. It is realized today that no city can be called a fine city, however gay may be its principal shopping streets, however well kept its "select" residential areas, while a vast section of its population is hidden away in dark hovels and airless tenements. — London Daily Herald.

Let's Think Straight About Russia

One of the things press correspondents discussed most in connection with last week's Quebec conference was the blunt Stalin reply announcing that he would not be attending.

Was it a slap? Was the reason given convincing? And so on.

A distinguished correspondent who has just returned from four years in Russia tells The Financial Post that the Stalin reply should simply be taken at face value; that in wording and tone it is almost standard with Stalin: that in Russian the form and nature of the reply raises none of the question which it does in translation.

This correspondent doubts very much indeed if Russia will take any part in our war with Japan. All indications he sees as pointing to a Russian decision to remain strictly neutral in that sphere. One supporting fact he cited was that the wives and families of well-to-do Japanese are flocking into Russia with the idea of being safe when the blitz on Japan begins.

It is imensely desirable that we get used to the idea now that Russia may not be with us in the Jap war. The critical issue of the lifetime of all now living will be maintenance of peace and bettering understanding between the two giants, United States and U.S.S.R. We shall all be imperilled if stormy elements raise a great hullabaloo if Russia does not join us in this other world sanitation job and if sinister implications are read into such a decision.

Constant watchfulness of our own interests, we must have. But realistic appraisal of the interests and point of view of others we must also have.

If we are to have peace and beneficial intercourse in this conflicting world, we must be adult and realistic.—Financial Post.

Editorial Influence

A brilliant editorial writer before he became a columnist, Walter Lippman believes that American newspaper editorial pages are gaining in influence.

We quote from an interview he has just given Editor and Publisher:

"A good editorial writer definitely still influences his readers even though they do not follow him all the way.

As a matter of fact, even though, to take the last election as a case in point, most daily newspapers in the country supported Wendell Willkie as opposed to President Roosevelt's third term, newspaper criticism during that campaign exerted a profound effect upon the New Deal."—Detroit Free Press.

A Bible Message

Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money; come ye, buy, and eat; yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price. Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness....

For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts. (Isa. 55: 1, 2, 8, 9.)

The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side. And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore....

Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field: but while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way. But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares? He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou that we go and gather them up?

But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn. (Matt. 13: 1, 2, 24-30.)

DREAM RECIPE

One of the household hints tells how to make something, that obviously would taste well, with sugar and whipping cream. As sugar is hard to get and whipping cream off the list altogether, only possible substitute is the imagination.—Port Arthur News-Chronicle.

ATHLETICS OVERDONE

The much-touted "strenuous life" has its merits but it can be carried to an extreme. Too many of our great athletes pay the cost just at a time in life when they should be at their best, mentally and physically.

Gus Sonnenberg, famed Detroit football star who turned to professional wrestling, was considered the healthiest and most powerful man of his time. Today he is dead at 44, the cause being given as anemia. His strenuous life had sapped nature's natural resistance.—Detroit Free Press.

DEFLATED SOLDIER

The well-paid U.S. soldier, who has found himself a rich man in most of the foreign cities he has visited, had a rude shock last week. He discovered that in both Paris and Brussels he was little better than a pauper.

In both cities, prices had skyrocketed so far under Nazi-managed inflation that the franc was worth something like 1-10 to 1-5 cent; and G.I. Joe (by agreement of the U.S. with its Allies) draws his cash in francs at the rate of two cents a franc.

Partly to save him from financial embarrassment, the U.S. Army denied G.I. Joe any leaves in Paris.—Time Magazine.

CARTEL CONTROL

No sweeping formula for abolition of cartels is going to serve our purpose. Nor is it at all likely that any such policy would commend itself to our chief allies. For our own protection, and theirs, we should, however, lose no time reaching some basic agreements in regard to the general principles that should guide us in dealing with international cartels. In the case of private cartels, we must, above all else, make sure that their aims and activities are strictly non-political. Otherwise, they must be recognized and treated as agencies of the government under whose protection they operate. — Washington Post.

5,000 Bats Spend Winter In Cave

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — (CP). — Where do bats go in the wintertime?

A cave overlooking Cavern Lake, 30 miles north-east of Port Arthur, houses an estimated 5,000 of these mouse - like winged quadrupeds every winter, say C. E. Garton, a Port Arthur school teacher, and Dr. A. E. Allin of Fort William, who visited the cavern together.

The first chamber of the cave, used by local fishermen as a natural refrigerator, provided quarters for only a few hardy bats willing to brave the chill of icicles hanging from the vaulted roof. In a second warmer chamber of the cave, the roof was crowded with the dormant creatures. Few of them wakened at the intruders' approach.

Nine species of bats are found in Ontario. They are harmless and useful mammals which consume large numbers of flies and mosquitoes.

Like a ghost of the forest, an albino deer has roamed the remote, northern areas of Algonquin Park for several years and Park rangers report the handsome buck with massive antlers has been seen on several ocasions this year by Nazi war prisoners cutting wood in the area.

Although albinos are reputed to be solitary and shunned by their fellows, this specimen has always been seen in the company of other deer of a normal hue.

Veteran rangers say of all animals of the bush, the moose is the most inquisitive. The sight of a man carrying a canoe on his head has so aroused the animal's curiosity that woodsmen several times have been followed by moose while carrying their craft over portage trails. One ranger was knocked down when the inquisitive animal reared to investigate the canoe which he smashed with his forefeet.

Rarely seen in Southern Ontario, Ghost Moths were frequently observed in Algonquin Park this summer by students of the Summer Nature School there.

Of a buff or yellowish color, these moths are of a strange, primitive type with both front and hind legs virtually the same, pointed shape. With a wing expanse of more than three inches, the insects fly swiftly and erratically, swinging from side to side like a pendulum, presenting a weird, ghostly appearance.

White cabbage butterflies which flit about the country side of North America by millions, are descended from stowaway specimens which reached Quebec in a steamship in 1860. In less than 20 years the butterfly spread over the length and breadth of Canada and the United States.

After his visit to Italy, Cardinal Villeneuve will go to France, probably returning first to Britain.

Four Face Charges In Stove Murder

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Sept. 26—(CP).— Four men charged with the "hot-stove" torture of Mrs. Viola Jamieson, 49, of Flanders, Ont., will face charges of murder before Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow at the Fall Assizes opening here Tuesday afternoon.

The men—George Shrypnqk, 38, and his brother, Anthony, 23, and Eino Tillonen, 19, all of Port Arthur, and William Schmidt, 29, of Fort Frances—were committed for trial at Kenora, Aug. 14.

Mrs. Jamieson died in hospital here July 2 of burns alleged to have been inflicted when three men held flaming newspapers against her limbs and finally placed her on a hot stove in an attempt June 10 to make her disclose the hiding place of her money.

She was then locked in a root house with her two young sons. After the Jamieson home was ransacked, one of the boys freed himself and summoned help.

Three of the men were arrested in Northwestern Ontario July 19 and Schmidt was taken into custody by Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Morris, Man., Aug. 9. The Ontario government had offered $1,000 reward for the arrest of those responsible for Mrs. Jamieson's death.

Mistakes in Life

Some mistakes men make in handling their personal affairs are often tragic since life cannot be lived over again. Here are situations which need never occur—

—A widow left with a crushing financial burden

—Sons and daughters forced to quit school to help support their mother

—A father totally disabled with no income

—Old people without money

There's a sure way to head off such happenings—buy sufficient life insurance.

The cost? It's surprisingly small. Even if funds are limited, you need not go without the protection you should have. For instance, $10,000 insurance which includes a total disability benefit of $50 a month, costs only $113.30 a year—15 Year Earning Power Term plan, age 30, with the privilege of changing within ten years to a permanent plan.

The Meeting Ground for Mutual Understanding

ONCE more Canada has welcomed the leaders of two great nations to a familiar meeting-place high above the historic St. Lawrence. John Bull and Uncle Sam have got together again with their partner Johnnie Canuck.

Successful as comrades-in-arms, it is essential that the British Commonwealth and the United States continue to work closely together as partners in peace. On this co-operation depends to a large extent the future security of the world.

In linking the two great partners—England and the United States—Canada has a vital role. Of all nations, we are best situated to assure continual co-operation between them. Close neighbour of America . . . and a key member of the British Commonwealth . . . we are the mutual friend . . . the link that joins. To further the deepest understanding between both partners is the duty and the privilege of every Canadian.

In our hearts is the same concept of freedom!

FAR back in the 17th Century Calvert, a famous English statesman and Secretary of State to King James I, was one of the earliest pioneers in joining together, for the good of mankind, the Old World and the New.

In 1622 Calvert founded a colony in Newfoundland and, later, a colony in Maryland. Thus, over 300 years ago, Calvert forged a link between Britain and America which has strengthened throughout the years.

The mutual understanding existing between the British Commonwealth and the United States today . . . fostered three centuries ago by Calvert . . . is exemplified by the Quebec Conferences. Meeting place of two great nations, Canada proudly shares the partnership . . . strengthens that spirit of co-operation essential to Victory and Peace.

Quakers Win First Of Playoff Series

Firing the opening gun of the Industrial League finals, Quaker Oats, behind four-hit pitching by Horton, polished off the Brinton team 8 to 1, totalled in seven fast innings of play at Riverside Park Monday evening. A two-out-of-three, Brintons are faced with the task of winning two straight games from the Quakers in order to cop the laurels.

Quakers' hurler, Horton, had the game in control from the first frame on, and the only run turned in by the Brinton crew was Kingdon's hefty homer into centre field in the third frame. After that, only one hit was made off Horton, that being a long double by Craig in the seventh.

Quakers proved to be strong at the bat. The scoring started when Weaver singled to drive in Fisher. Then in the third, 2 Quaker runs crossed on three hits and two errors, with Gunn and Horton doing the scoring.

Fisher's timely smack into centre field, when coupled with an error by Jones, scored Sullivan and Roote in the fourth inning, to total the Quaker count at 5 up to then. Twirler Horton's circuit clout into centre in the sixth brought home Roote and himself, and a whizzer into left by Weaver scored Fisher, to total the Quaker count.

One of the highlights of the game was the neat double-play pulled off by Quakers in the second. For Brintons, Weese was on first, and Craig had rolled one to second base, manned by Sullivan. Shortstop Roote put Weese out at second, and shot the ball to first to oust Craig.

Phillips handled the mound work for Brintons, and although he pitched steady ball for the most part, he was nicked for 10 hits. Walking two, he fanned six.

The teams:

Quaker—Sullivan 2b, Roote ss, Gunn c, Horton p, Fisher lf, Ash 1b, Weaver 3b, Willshaw cf, Tice rf.

Brinton—Corbett 3b, Rose lf, Jones cf, Byers c, Weese ss, Craig 1b, Kingdon rf, Dorrell 2b, Phillips p.

SPORTS-Day by Day

Peterborough fans still have a number of outstanding softball attractions in front of them. One of these will be a sudden death battle at Riverside Park tomorrow, Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the junior O.A.S.A. semi-finals between the Toronto Carlton Park team and the Belleville juniors. This battle was made necessary because the two rivals found themselves deadlocked at the end of the first two games. Belleville won the opener in Toronto after a keen contest but the Carlton Park outfit, Toronto junior champions, invaded Belleville Saturday and evened up the series by beating the Bay of Quinte kids 5 to 3 in a snappy game. Both teams feature good pitching. Joe Chinaluk, the Toronto ace, who will undoubtedly get the call here tomorrow held Belleville to three hits in Saturday's game and struck out 16. Boyle, the Belleville tosser is also rated tops and the two should stage quite a duel at Riverside Park. Belleville has played good ball in cleaning up the Eastern Ontario honors while of course Carlton Park had to overcome strong opposition in grabbing off the Toronto championship. The two should stage a real exhibition of fast junior ball, with the price of victory being an entry into the final round for the Ontario title.

Saturday and Sunday there will be more baseball for the local Military Training Centre team will meet an Ottawa Army team in a best-of-three games this week-end for the championship of No. 3 district. Two weeks ago the local Soldiers disposed of the fast Barriefield Radar team, by taking two games out of three and this last week-end the Peterborough khaki team climbed another step closer to the district championship by knocking off a strong Kingston Engineers' team in a successful invasion of Kingston. Kingston Soldiers won the opening game Saturday but the Military Training Centre team came back strong on Sunday to grab off both ends of a double-header to win the series and earn the right to meet Ottawa Soldiers here this week-end. The Peterborough team, always a favorite outfit in the local City League has been playing fine ball in this military competition and they will have a host of fans out to support them in their coming clash with Ottawa. The team from the Capitol have the reputation of being strong in every department but the Military Training Centre outfit is confident that it can repeat its showing against the two Kingston clubs it has already put into the discard.

Likes The Plan

Peterborough's Memorial Centre drive is attracting a lot of attention throughout the country and is responsible already for considerably publicity. Among the latest sport commentators to give the scheme his approval is George H. Campbell of the Oshawa Times-Gazette who talks about the local effort as follows: "Down in Peterborough, at the present time, they are staging a drive for the sum of $300,000 and that's a lot of money, in any man's town. It's a commendable and ambitious program which the Liftlock City business and sports men has undertaken—but one that is sure to pay dividends in citizenship and entertainment in the years to come, besides being the most effective curb known for "juvenile delinquency" or as we prefer to call it, "juvenile boredom." The Quaker Oats company has donated the necessary land and on both sides of the bridge, where the "Riverside Park" is now located, Peterborough will have their "Memorial Health Centre." Besides including a huge stadium, with modern seating, dressing room accommodations, etc., a baseball diamond and a softball diamond (separate) and a "pitch" large enough for both soccer and rugby, there will be an auditorium, with artificial ice, to be an arena in the winter a locale for boxing, wrestling and other sporting organizations in the non-winter months. And there will also be a huge swimming pool, heated and lighted."

* * * * * *

"Yes, it's going to be a great thing and the men behind it in Peterborough are to be warmly congratulated," continues the Oshawa sports writer. "The 'City of Peterborough' has put $100,000; they expect to get another $100,000 from the various industries and large business firms and the third $100,000 is being raised by public subscription, with a house-to-house canvass being made right now. They'll put it over too! Make no mistake about that—for they are wide-awake down in the Liftlock City, have a keen sense of civic responsibility and they are workers. Here in Oshawa, we have an excellent Arena and the Kinsmen Club is now planning a big heated swimming pool. Now if the "City Fathers" would just realize the need of a civic stadium, where Oshawa athletes could perform in a proper "closed park," with dressing rooms, etc., then—AND NOT UNTIL THEN—will the "City Fathers" of this city really have done something permanent for the youth and future citizens of Oshawa."

Stratford's Comment

Chick Appel has the following comment in his Stratford Sport Column on the Kroehler win here Saturday: "According to "Andy," Kroehler girls were full value for their victoy, and but for her own failure to field bunts quickly enough Greta Harmer would have had a five-hitter, all of them fairly well scattered. Besides hurling another of her splendid mound jobs, Greta Harmer also helped her own cause along by collecting three hits, to share honors with her teammate, Helen Doubrough, who emerged from a brief slump to pound the pill for three bingles, besides playing a bang-up game at first. Mary Stapleton took over centre field chores for Kroehler girls, owing to the absence of Ruby Huras, and was supplanted by Marie Heinbuch, who went into bat for her and struck out with the bases loaded. That's not like Marie, because one thing she can do rather effectively is give the old apple a ride. Umpire Jack Page reports having had a rather hectic time of it behind the bat, and needed police protection after it was all over. The Stratford club didn't care much for some of the decisions the home umpire made on the bases."

* * * * * *

The American League race is all tied up. Tall Russ Cristopher of the Philadelphia Athletics walked out to the hill top at Detroit yesterday and proceeded to weave a magic spell around the bats of the high-riding Tigers with the result that the Bengals were held to four hits and the A's took the game 2 to 1. That cut the gap between the Tigers and St. Louis to half a game and Nels Potter of the Brownies personally took care of that margin in the night game when he held the Boston Red Sox to two hits and St. Louis won the argument 3 to 0. Now Detroit and the Browns are on even terms with six games to go and anything can happen. New York, too, kept themselves mathematically in the race by grabbing both ends of a double-header from Chicago. In the National loop Harry Brecheen of the Cards won his third game in the last few days as the Cards triumphed over Brooklyn 2 to 1.

Training Centre Wins Semi-Finals

By CPL. GEORGE SHANKLIN

Playing in weather that at times was too cold for good football, and fighting from behind almost all the way, the Peterborough Training Centre ball team defeated Barriefield R.C.O.C. team in Kingston, in the best of three semi-final series for the district championship of M.D. No. 3, on Saturday and Sunday of last week. After losing a heartbreaking first game on Saturday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1, the local team fought back and won two games on Sunday afternoon by the scres of 7 to 5 and 9 to 8.

Earl Revoir, in an "iron-man" role went the route, pitching three of his best games of the season, in the two days. Winning this series qualifies the local team to enter the finals for the district championship, and it is expected that the Canadian Postal Corps team from Ottawa will be in town this week-end for the final series.

Firs Game

The opening game was strictly a pitching duel between Revoir and Holowchuk, with only thirty-three Barriefield batters facing Revoir and thirty-five of his teammates coming to the plate. Holowchuk had the local team well handcuffed at the plate with fourteen strikeouts while issuing four passes. Revoir sent seven of the Ordnance players back to the bench and issued only two passes. Each team counted one run in the third inning. Anderson, after having received a walk, scored for the local team, coming all the way from first on a long hit into centre field by Mortimer. The Barriefield team put a walk, sacrifice, and an error together to score an unearned run in their half of this inning. The score remained the same until the last half of the ninth, when Barriefield put across another unearned run to end the game. Durocher, first man up, singled, was sacrificed to second, went to third on a passed ball and scored when a high pitch took an unlucky tip off Kavanagh's glove and went over the screen.

Second Game

The first afternoon game on Sunday, which Peterborough won by the score of 7 to 5, was somewhat different from the first game of the series. Revoir's pitching still had the Barriefield boys well in check but his teammates had more luck with Simon's deliveries, and the 10 errors, which were evenly split between the two teams, proved more costly to the Ordnance Club. This game featured longer drives by both teams, with Herrick of the locals and Jubenville, classy short-stop of the Barriefield team, connecting for a circuit clout apiece.

Barriefield	120 000 200—5	4	5
Peterboro	041 000 02x—7	7	5

Third Game

This game, played after a fifteen minute rest, proved to be the most hectic of the three, the locals ending with a "Merriwell" finish in the ninth, to win 9 to 8. Barriefield opened with a run in the first on a single by Storin, and a double by Jubenville; added two more in the third on another double by Jubenville and a homer by Ruthowski, before the locals got started. Then in the last half of the third the Peterboro boys put singles by Anderson and Herrick, a triple by Junkin, a double by Morgan together with a misplay to score four runs and go ahead.

Barriefield however tied the score in the fourth. In this inning, Junkin and Anderson combined to make one of the most sensational plays of the series. A hard line drive by Storin, just over Junkin's head, caromed off the tips of his fingers as he leaped for it. Anderson, racing to cover the play also, was caught in mid-stride as the ball was deflected back in the direction from which he was coming. Twisting over backwards, he managed to get one hand on the ball just as he crashed heavily to the ground. This was the third out and he was helped off the field, badly shaken up. In the last of the fourth, Mortimer was benched for arguing with the umpire at the plate, and was replaced by Beattie who took over catching duties and Kavanagh was moved to right field.

Barriefield scored again in the fifth to go one run up, on Jubenville's third straight double, followed by a double by Holowchuk. In this inning, Revoir, dragging down a hard smash through the box, dislocated a finger on his pitching hand, but was able to continue after it was pulled back in place. In the seventh, Peterborough tied the game again. Beatty, first up, bunted and was safe on Durocher's error, advanced on Herrick's sacrifice and scored on a hard double by Junkin. Barriefield went ahead again in the first of the ninth. Storin, first up, was safe on an error to Junkin and scored on a hard single by Jubenville, his fourth hit of the game. Durocher sacrificed him to second and Ruthowski flied to Anderson. Holowchuk hit a long double to centre and Jubenville, trying to score, was tagged out by Beattie on a perfect throw from Herrick. The umpire, however, admitting his view of the play had been blocked, called the runner safe. After a long and heated argument, play resumed and Simon singled to scored Holowchuk. Senecal then struck out to retire the side.

Going into the last of the ninth, three runs down, fighting mad and with the top of their batting order up, the Peterborough boys cut loose with hitting power that they haven't shown all season. Anderson, first up, and still so badly shaken from the fourth inning that he could hardly swing a bat, slashed a line drive about six feet in the air, past Jubenville and into deep left centre field for the best home run of the series. Beattie beat out a perfect bunt, advanced on a hard single through short by Herrick, and scored on a long double to centre by Proyck. After Junkin went down on strikes, Morgan drove in Herrick and Procyk with the tieing and winning runs, with a hard double through short into left to end the game.

Jubenville, easily the classiest player on the two teams for the whole series looked the most dumfounded person in the park, with these three drives going through his position so fast that he didn't have time to "move a muscle" on any one of them.

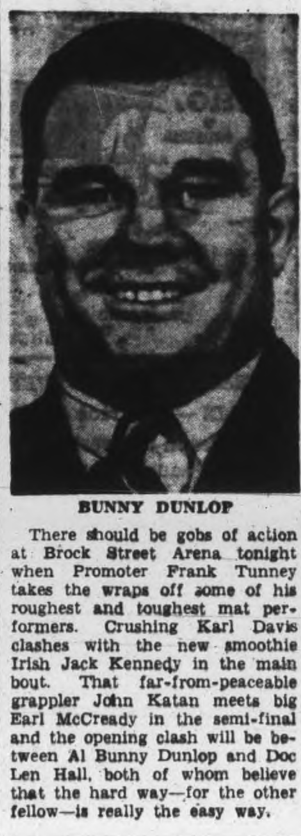
Storms Threaten On Mat Front



BUNNY DUNLOP

There should be gobs of action at Brock Street Arena tonight when Promoter Frank Tunney takes the wraps off some of his roughest and toughest mat performers. Crushing Karl Davis clashes with the new smoothie Irish Jack Kennedy in the main bout. That far-from-peaceable grappler John Katan meets big Earl McCready in the semi-final and the opening clash will be between Al Bunny Dunlop and Doc Len Hall, both of whom believe that the hard way—for the other fellow—is really the easy way.

Mimico Beats St. Catharines

TORONTO, Sept. 26.— (CP). — George Masters led the Mimico Mountaineers to a 13-9 triumph over St. Catharines Athletics at Mimico last night to even the best-of-seven Ontario Lacrosse Association final series at one victory each. The teams play at St. Catharines Wednesday night and at Mimico Thursday night.

Masters tallied seven goals for the Mountaineers and other standout performers before the crowd of 1,200 fans included Alvin Doyle, Blain MacDonald, Vern Steggal and Al McLean. Roy Mortimer played sensationally in goal.

Doug Cove, Norm MacDonald and Roy Morton spearheaded the St. Catharines attack with two goals apiece and Frank Madsen and Bill Whittaker also played well.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Pres Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Sept. 26 — (CP).— Right about now, we figure it's high time hockey fans across the country got a formal introduction to Miss Dorothy Pinard. She's a lady well known to National Hockey League governors and to the Montreal sports writers, but her name is rarely mentioned elsewhere.

Which seems a bit strange because Miss Pinard has been secretary of the N.H.L. for four years, the only woman ever to hold such an august post in the hockey world. Looking at it another way, she is the only N.H.L. secretary to work with the only two presidents the N.H.L. has ever had—the late Frank Calder and Mervyn (Red) Dutton.

Baz (Montreal Star) O'Meara suggests that probably Miss Pinard could get double the salary in any other job. We don't know what her salary is, but we are inclined to string along with the O'Meara verdict.

Miss Pinard was born and brought up in Toronto, but Montreal doesn't really hold that against her. She has followed the N.H.L. "since I was in school and even before"—which probably wasn't so very long ago at that. There's precious little she doesn't know about league and player records, and even less that she doesn't know about the inside workings of the world's top hockey loop.

Not that Miss Pinard gives out much of her confidential information about the league. She'll oblige at any time concering past figures and performances, but when it comes to divulging league secrets she's one of the best talk-a-blue-streak-without - saying - anything persons we know.

It seems only right that the fans should know about Miss Pinard because as Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson puts it, she's really running the league right now. President Dutton is away in the West, probably won't be back until after the season is in full swing. General Manager Lester Patrick is busy in New York, putting his Ranger roster in shape. Miss Pinard takes care of N.H.L. Headquarters here and does most of the work connected with league affairs.

Just as an example, there was that little matter of the schedule this year. The governors met and set the schedule, decided that it should be released September 19, and then left town. It was Miss Pinard who put it in shape and then cajoled the printer into working all night so it would be ready in time for The Canadian Press to mail it to each newspaper before the deadline.

With all the trouble the N.H.L. seems to have getting a permanent president, it wouldn't be surprising if one of the governors started a "Dorothy for President" campaign one of these days.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

We overheard this suggestion yesterday. How would it be if the "Saturday Night" mixed tournament could be held on Saturday afternoon? Remember, this is not official, only a suggestion.

We understand from the Friday night chairman, that it will be men's rinks this coming Friday.

There is nothing official in this piece of news—it seems the ladies are hunting around for a date on which to hold their annual meeting. Some suggest one date and some another date; if it is any help to the ladies we can tell them that last year their banquet was held on Wednesday, October 13th.

We do not know how many delegates will be here tomorrow for the annual meeting of District No. 14 of The Provincial Lawn Bowling Association, but Chairman R. F. Downey would like to see a good representation of local bowlers out in the afternoon.

Just a tip to all of our bowlers; if you are left in any of the competitions be sure and be out to play when they are called—Time is getting short.

FLAT AND DRY

Australia is the flattest and driest of the continents.

Central School Upsets QueenAlexandra

Central School won over Queen Alexandra, 1-0 at Riverside Park in the senior section of the Public School Soccer League.

The kick-off was taken by the Queen Alexandra team but soon lost possession of the ball. Central quickly hemmed in the Queen Alexandra boys but were unsucessful around the goal. A clever thrust on the Central goal by Simmonds was equally unsuccessful. Gary Chambers picked up the loose ball near the Queen Alexandra goal area and scored what proved to be the only goal of the game. Central continued to attack but were ineffective around the goal.

Both teams seemed tired in the second half and play was considerably slower. Central concentrated on defensive tactics. However Queen Alexandra players broke through time and time again without success. In the dying moments of the game Dolan of Central missed the open goal.

Central—C. Sargent, goal; J. Hutchinson and D. Brooks, full backs; T. Hum, W. Noble and H. Wilson, halves; G. Chambers, W. Dolan, I. Whitnall, D. Searle and E. Patterson, forwards; R. Robinson, S. Wigg, K. Delahaye, W. Cummings, subs.

Queen Alexandra—Courneya, goal; Nolan and Anderson, full backs; Clark, G. Woods, halves; Nichols, Gaskell, Dracup, Johnston, Simmonds, forwards; Montgomery, Morris, subs.

Referee—Stan McLeod.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

—By J. R. Scott

King George School Defeated By King Edward

King Edward made no mistake in their first win of the season in the Public School Soccer League, when they gained a 5-1 decision over King George on King Edward Park, on Monday afternoon. R. Wyatt scored a beautiful goal from the corner kick for King George. Anderson got two, Lawson, Beggs and Chambers for King Edward.

First Half.

There was no advantage in the spin of the coin. Right from the kick-off, King Edward concentrated on a frontal attack that was backed up by the half-backs and wehe rewarded after five minutes' play when Anderson, at inside right, registered the opening counter. On the next visit the Southenders gained a successful corner kick that travelled right through the King George defence to the waiting foot of Anderson. King George battled hard thereafter in an endeavor to reduce the count, but they were surprised by the first-time shot by Lawson as he broke fast outside the goal area to beat the goalie at close range. King George wing men replied with nice combination to find the opposing full backs tackling hard to keep them outside the goal area. King Edward 3, King George 0.

Second Half.

On resuming, King George boys forced the play against the Southenders to compel them to go on the defensive and a succession of flag kicks prevailed and from a beautiful corner kick taken by Wyatt, at outside left, he sent the ball sailing in below the cross-bar for their only counter. Encouraged by their success, they rattled hard shots on goal and tactics were very keen throughout. King Edward halves, Riches, Byers and Self kept tackling fast to offset the balance of the attack of East City boys. Byers broke up their attacks quickly to send Beggs away on the left who made no mistake with his parting shot. Two minutes to go, Chambers evaded the opposition nicely to send in a lightning drive that made it King Edward 5, King George 1.

King George—J. Shearer goal; J. Deckrel and J. Davies full-backs; A. Beavis, R. Gandy and Ken Monson halves; N. Thompson, W. Ferguson, Georges Romes, A. Northcott and R. Wyatt forwards.

King Edward—J. Grant goal; D. Breadman and D. Downer full-backs; A. Riches, J. Byers and R. Self halves; A. Chambers, D. Anderson, K. Lawson, D. Buchan and R. Beggs forwards.

Referee—Stroyan Leith.

Central 1, Queen Alexandra 0.

The other scheduled game between Central and Queen Alexandra was played at Riverside Park, resulted in the Central team gaining the decision by the count of one to nil after a hard and fast game with Stan MacLeod refereeing.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the Ontario Hockey Association has announced that the O.H.A. sub-committee has decided to operate four series during the 1944-45 season; Senior A, Intermediate A, Junior A and Junior B.

The announcement said the organization of the Senior A series will be left until the annual O.H.A. meeting scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 18. The Junior A series will be organized at a sub-committee meeting in Toronto Oct. 1. All 10 clubs which had teams in this series have been invited to send delegates to the meeting.

Entries for the Intermediate A and Junior B series will be accepted by Mr. Hewitt and the sub-committee will arrange the groupings.

Leading Seaman Annis Stukus of Toronto Navy and Joe Krol of Hamilton Wildcats show signs of continuing this season the friendly rivalry for scoring leadership which marked their performances in the Ontario Rugby Football Union last year. Stukus, playing with Navy in the Services League, already has amassed 12 points. Krol, runner-up to Stukus a year ago, also has 12 points. Following Stukus in the Services League is Moon Mullins of St. Thomas R.C.A.F. Hornets, who has seven points.

A harbinger of the hockey season is word from Port Arthur that St. Louis Fliers of the A.H.L. have begun a three-weeks' training period, which about 40 players are expected to attend.

Tie Possible As Teams Near Finish

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

President Will Harridge had the American League constitution out for an airing to-day, studying the rules relating to a pennant race tie as St. Louis Browns again settled down in first place, deadlocked with Detroit Tigers.

The rule book said a one-game playoff would determine the winner and the site of the tilt should be determined by the toss of a coin. Both Steve O'Neill and Luke Sewell were reported polishing two-headed coins.

Chances were against the Brownies sticking up there as a four-game series with the persistent New York Yankees follows two more games with Boston. Detroit has Washington coming in when the Tigers get rid of Connie Mack's troublesome A's after two more tilts. Each team had six games to play.

Nelson Potter put the Brownies back in a tie by stopping Boston, 3-0, with two hits, singles in the third inning. Chet Laabs and Rookie Boris (Babe) Martin from Toledo, who would not be eligible for the world series, if and when, were the hitting stars of the timely triumph.

Detroit Loses.

Connie Mack continued to take a hand in the race from a seventh-place position. The A's, who belted the Yanks out of the lead 10 days ago, toppled Detroit, 2-1, yesterday on the four-hit chucking of lanky Russ Christopher.

The Yankees stuck in there, three games back, trimming Chicago 3-1 in 12 innings and 5-4 in regulation distance behind rookies Mel Queen and Walt Dubiel. Cleveland's "Specs" Klieman blanked Washington, 6-0, in the other American League contest.

St. Louis Cardinals scored three unearned runs to mark up win No. 102 by a 3-1 edge over Brooklyn. Buddy Kerr's lead-off homer in the ninth enabled New York Giants to top Cincinnati, 3-2.

Pittsburg clung to a big lead for an easy 13-8 victory over Boston in a "suspended" game from Aug. 1 but lost the regular tilt in 13 frames, 5-4. Chicago downed the Phils twice in a twi-night double, 7-6 in 10 innings and 4-1.

Shepperton Trains For Title Event

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — Fred Schelke's Canadian-bred star Shepperton is training well at Dufferin Park for his engagement in the Canadian Championship race to be run Wednesday, October 11, at the Long Branch Jockey Club meeting, over the half-mile track.

The big chestnut, rested up since Hamilton on the Schelke farm at Gormley, has been working over Dufferin for over two weeks, and during most of the early morning breezes around the sharp corners Bobby Watson, his regular pilot, has been up. The horse looks himself again and the squire of Gormley says he will be a starter in the Canadian Championship.

Shepperton, like Willie Morrissey's Bnuty Lawless, has twice won the Canadian Championship, and his owner is anxious to see the son of Sun Craig and Chatwater become the first horse to be a triple winner of the Championship. If Shepperton wins the race this year become a triple winner, provided Fred Orpen says, it is not a walk-over, Schelke will get $5,100 plus 40 per cent of the nomination and starting fees. The Long Branch Jockey Club adds an extra winner's share of added money amounting to $1,700 for a repeating winner, meaning that Fred Orpen will have to dish up the sum of $3,400 in added money from the Jockey Club if Shepperton is successful.

Nominations for the Championship close Wednesday, October 4. Other feature races to be run during the 14 days of racing over Dufferin are the Orpen Cup and Saucer, richest Canadian-bred race for two-year-olds, which, in the event of there being only nine starters, will be worth $9,480; the Canadian Championship; the Dowry for fillies and mares, $2,000 added; the Diamond Ring Stakes for two-year-olds, $2,000 added; and the $3,000 added Bunty Lawless Handicap.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press

Russ Christopher, Athletics — Stopped Detroit's surge with neat four-hitter for 2-1 victory.

Johnny Lindell and Hershel Martin, Yankees—Lindell tripled home winning run in 12th for 3-1 opening edge over Chicago; Martin batted in all Yankees' run with two homers in 5-4 nightcap sweep.

Nelson Potter, Browns—Held Boston to two singles in pitching St. Louis back into tie for lead on 3-0 shutout.

Ed Klieman, Indians— Blanked Washington with four singles for 6-0 triumph.

Buddy Kerr, Giants — Topped Cincinnati with lead off homer in ninth inning for 3-2 edge.

Augie Bergamo, Cardinals—Singled home two big runs in ninth as St. Louis racked up 102nd victory at Brooklyn's expense, 3-1.

Stew Hofferth, Braves—Broke up game with single in 13th to score Phil Masi with winning run of 5-4 margin over Pittsburg.

Roy Hughes and Charlie Brewster, Cubs — Hughes singled home Dewey Williams for 7-6 edge in 10th inning of first game; Brewster broke 1-1 tie with single to help take second, 4-1.

Orioles Tie Up Series At 3-All

BALTIMORE, Sept. 26.—(AP). — Buffalo Bisons, fourth-place team in the regular International League season, face the pennant-winning Baltimore Orioles here to-night in the last game of their series for the right to meet Newark in the finals for the Governor's Cup.

Baltimore tied up the series at 3-3 last night, taking a 9-3 decision before 12,189 persons as Sam West tossed a four-hit game while his mates were collecting 11 off Joe Orrell and Emery Bresko.

Andy Seminick was the only Bison who could do anything against West, punching out two home runs.

STARRING WITH NAVY BULLDOGS— Here are three Navy men who played with Navy Bulldogs of H.M.C.S. York in the grid season opener against R.C.A.F. Hurricanes at the Varsity Stadium Saturday. Jim O'Brien (Left), speed boy, comes to senior football for the first time. Tommy Waldon (Centre) was last year's quarterback with the Bulldogs, and Jim Hooper (Right) starred with Regina Roughriders. Navy won the opener by a score, 22-6.

Detroit Has Splendid Pitching Staff

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—The World Series between St. Louis Cardinals and either Detroit Tigers or St. Louis Browns should be one of the best-pitched since the days of Christy Mathewson, Chief Bender and Jack Coombs four decades ago.

The Tigers, should they win the American League flag, will present Hurricane Harold Newhouser and Paul (Dizzy) Trout, two of the best pitchers in baseball. The Browns have an exceptionally strong hurling corps in Jack Kramer, Bob Muncrief, Nelson Potter and Denny Galehouse while the Cardinals boast of Mort Cooper, Max Lanier, Ted Wilks and Harry Brecheen.

Newhouser and Trout, between them, have registered 53 of the Tigers' 84 victories to date. The left-handed Newhouser's record is 27 wins and nine defeats, including five shutouts and 23 complete games, while Trout boasts a 26-12 record, including six shutouts and 31 complete games. Newhouser also is the leading strikeout hurler in the Majors with 171.

Mort Cooper Good

The Cardinals' No. 1 chucker and probable first-game choice is Cooper, winner of 22 games this season, topping the 20-victory mark for the third successive year. He leads all pitchers with seven shutouts. In Wilks, the Cards boast the freshman pitching sensation of the Majors. Wilks has a 17-3 record for a mark of .850, the best percentage ever achieved by a Cardinal tosser. In Lanier and Brecheen they have two of the finest left-handers in the National loop.

If the Browns win, their pitching staff, although not on a par with that of the Cards' on paper, should give a good account of itself.

Kramer, usually a cool-weather pitcher, has won four of his last five starts for a creditable record. He leads the Brownie hurlers with 17 complete games. Muncrief (13-8), ranked as the Browns' ace until side-lined by a sore elbow, has shown marked improvement of late. He could well be the "dark horse" of the series.

Potter, the club's biggest winner, has won 18 and lost seven, while Galehouse, a tardy starter this season, closed fast for an 8-9 mark, after losing his first four starts.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.— (AP).— Bill Crowley, veteran football official who will advise J. Basil Maguire in organizing the New York club of the trans-America (Chic Meehan) League, argues that so many good football players are developed in the colleges that one pro league can't use nearly all of them....We never have heard a pro coach complaining about the over-supply. We never thought 17-year-old freshmen could play college ball, either, but they're doing all right these Saturday afternoons.... Leading hitter in the minors during the past baseball season was old Ripper Collins, Albany manager, with a .396 average....The American Hockey League won't follow the National by barring players who are subject to military call or who have war jobs. They haven't any Canadiens to worry about.

Observation Post.

The Notre Dame publicity dept. reports sadly that the team's first three left halfbacks average less than 165 pounds—George Terlep and Steve Nemeth 166 each, Nunzio Marino 165——. Where the Irish have the advantage over some clubs is in having three left halfbacks, regardless of weight.

Twelve Churches Approve Hospital Change

Peterborough's twelve Protestant churches who name representatives to the Board of Nicholls Hospital have all endorsed the proposed change in the setup of the hospital. As the Nicholls Hospital Trust was unable to provide adequate hospital facilities and a large sum of money will be required to provide the necessary buildings and equipment the congregation were asked to approve of the Nicholls Hospital Trust co-operating with the City Council in setting up a new corporation to build and operate a hospital adequate to the needs of this city and district. They were also asked to approve of the transfer of the present hospital and equipment to the new corporation and further to approve the investment of the endowment fund which is in the neighborhood of $240,000 in the new building.

FOUR BROTHERS FOLLOW THE SEA—Four sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pilling, 237 King George street, have felt the urge to follow the sea and are serving in the R.C.N.V.R. and the Merchant Marine. Ordinary Seaman Eric Pilling (Outside Left) enlisted in May this year and is still stationed at Kingston. He was employed in the tool room at Genelco. Petty Officer Dexter Pilling (Left) enlisted in 1940 and is at present on a minesweeper. He was formerly employed at John Hill, wholesalers. A third brother, Supply Assistant Arthur Pilling (Right) joined the Navy in February of this year. He too worked at Genelco and is now stationed at Sydney. The youngest brother, 16 years old, is Mess Boy J. A. Pilling (Outside Right). He joined the Norwegian Merchant Marine recently and is now in Egypt. Prior to becoming a sailor, he worked at the C.G.E.

Fire Damages Brockville Creamery

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 26 — (CP). — Fire of undetermined origin last night caused an estimated building loss of $45,000, partially covered by insurance in the plant of the Brockville Creamery and Storage Company here.

The three-storey structure of brick and concrete also housed the facilities of the Brockville Central of the Eastern Ontario Poultry Pools. Officials to-day were unable to estimate the loss to patrons on the large stocks of poultry, butter, cheese, apples and milk products stored in the refrigerators of the building.

Soldiers Overseas Grateful For Smokes

NORWOOD, Sept. 26 — (ENS) — The Women's Institute held a quilting and business meeting at the home of Mrs. G. Oitment recently. Plans were made for the short course to be held in the Town Hall on September 28 and 29. A leader was also chosen to attend the leaders' training school in Peterborough, the project to be taken is Cotton Accessories for the Club Girl's Bedroom.

Letters were received recently from the following boys overseas for cigarettes they had received: Bdr. C. R. Sampson, Cpl A. I. Lumsden, Gnr. J. R. Salisbury, Pte. A. W. Lee, Eric Innes, Cpl. E. D. HOW TO RELIEVE
PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from McDermid & Jury or any I.D.A. or other drug store and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-roid and are not entirely pleased with the results your druggist will gladly return your money —(Advt.)

Wins Bar To D.C.M. With Royal 22nd

OTTAWA, Sept. 26 — (CP) — A peacetime Montreal tailor—Louis Rene Drapeau, 24-year-old company sergeant-major with the famous Royal 22nd Regiment — has joined that exclusive band of Canadian Army men with a Bar to the Distinguished Conduct Medal.

Defence Headquarters announced his decoration to-day in listing 87 gallantry awards for Canadian Army men in action in Italy. No citations were given.

The list includes award of the Distinguished Service Order to three lieutenant-colonels, three majors, and a lieutenant; the Military Cross to a major, 10 captains—including a padre—and nine lieutenants; four Distinguished Conduct Medals to two company sergeant-majors, two sergeants, and 55 Military Medals to other ranks.

Mrs. L. Parker of Los Angeles, California, has returned to her home after spending the summer with relatives in Cavan Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Baynham of Stratford were in town for the week-end, the guests of Mrs. Baynham's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown, Tupper Street.

Mrs. H. Hall of Essex was home for two weeks with her mother and sister, Mrs. A. A. Smith and Miss Muriel Smith.

Cpls. B. J. McDowell and Shirley Mollard, of Medicine Hat, now stationed at Hagersville, spent the week-end at the former's home here.

Miss Bessie Armstrong returned to her home in Inglewood, Calif., after spending the summer with relatives in Millbrook and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cruikshanks of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Ormie Cruikshanks and daughter Joan, and Mrs. Wilcox of Peterborough were Sunday guests of Mrs. H. J. Armstrong.

J. E. Stewart, eldest son of Mrs. M. J. Stewart, has returned to Dorin, Ont., where he has been employed for the past 23 years, after visiting friends in Millbrook and Peterborough.

Miss Beatrice Fallis returned home last week from a visit in Toronto and Detroit.

A. A. Needler is visiting for two weeks with nieces in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric McKinstry and Miss Jean Hammond of Peterborough, were week-end guests of Mrs. McKinstry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McDowell.

Mrs. I. Hatherly, who broke her leg, is in Nichols Hospital, Peterborough, for the second time in less than a year for treatment of the same injury. She had recovered from her former accident, and this time she did not fall, but apparently twisted the leg, which was still stiff.

JAMBOREE.

Here we are again, ready for action and the first thing that scouts must be prepared for is the much delayed Jamboree. It will be held Saturday, September 30 at the Scout Grounds.

The following program is planned:

Cubs.

1. Knot relay, four Cub knots. Four to team.
2. Leap frog and hopping. Eight to team.
3. Obstacle race. Two to team.
4. Book balancing. Four boys.
5. Caterpillar race. Eight boys.
6. Skin the snake. Egiht boys.

Scouts.

1. Three cornered tug-of war. Five scouts.
2. Skin the Snake. Eight scouts.
3. Pillow fight. One scout.
4. Message relay. Six scouts.
5. Obstacle race. Two scouts.
6. Tub tilting. One scout.
7. Tent pitching. Six scouts.
8. Fire lighting. One scout.

The Beal Trophy race will be run before supper and every scout who has a complete uniform is eligible to compete.

Following the supper, games of soft ball will be arranged and then a camp fire program for which the committee are asking some of the troops to put on skits.

Apple Day Ahead.

The annual apple day is not far off. We are hoping to run it on the same day as most other Scout groups throughout the Dominion, October 14. If any of the scouters have suggestions to bring forward that will help to improve previous apple days, they are asked to contact the commissioner right away. Also any suggestions as to change of districts and the downtown area should be made at once.

Annual Registration.

It does not seem long ago that we were talking about this event, but the months have slipped away and once again we have got to prepare for it. Remember that Oct. 31 is the dead line, so get started. One group is ready and waiting now.

News.

In a letter received from overseas this week the following was read: "I get the scout news from the paper, mother sends it to me." How many mothers are sending the scout news to former scouts overse as and if ther are one or two former members of your troop looking for news about the boys back home? Why not do your part by sending in the news every week.

ST. LUKE'S

The Pack:—Billy Davis led the Grand Howl at the council rock. Bones were collected and Akela gave the Cubs a sound inspection on Fur and Claw. Instruction about the Cub knots went on in preparation for the coming Jamboree competitions.

The Cubs were asked to find out how many fathers could bring cars to help with the transportation to the Jamboree. The Pack will meet at one o'clock sharp on Saturday, September 30, at St. Luke's church. Each Cub is also requested to bring in his registration fee as soon as possible. This fee is for the promotion of Scouting throughout Canada and the betterment of leadership by special training.

ST. JOHN'S

Cubs and Scouts. The whole of St. John's group is going through a process of reorganization. During the past two weeks, five cubs have journeyed to the troop through the going up ceremony. They were: George Hall, Lorne Bolton, Donald Sollitt, Billy Cummings and Don Ferguson. At the present time there are about 25 boys in the pack and 14 in the troop. With the coming of the Jamboree and other events it is felt that concentration will be made in bringing these boys up to a fair standard in Scouting before too many further recruits are accepted. In the Pack David Bacon passed Cleanliness.

LOCAL ASSOCIATION

A meeting of the Peterborough Boy Scouts Association was held the other evening. Reports were received of work done out on the grounds and also the Jamboree. It was decided to invite Lindsay, Millbrook, Hastings and other outside groups to take part in the events at the Jamboree.

Discussion about Apple Day brought forward Aims and Objective. It was unanimous that the objective should be to top the 1,000 mark, and the aims for the improvement of the hut at the Scout grounds, sinking of pump to eliminate carrying of water, and building of the fireplace.

It was felt that the Local Association should do its part in supporting the Local Memorial Community Centre for although it is hardly possible that every boy should want to be a Scout, it is definite that every Scout is a boy who will have the opportunity of securing benefit from the proposed plans. Till next week. Good Scouting.

Duck Hunter Killed At Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 26—(CP)—First fatal accident of Ontario's duck hunting season took place on Monday only a few minutes after the season got underway, when James Tellier, 23, of Dearbrook, Tecumseh Road, Rochester township, was instantly killed when a charge of birdshot from his brother's shotgun accidentally struck him in the back. Tellier and his brother Charles were on Lake St. Clair and were about 200 yards offshore in a 14-foot rowboat when the accident took place.

James was standing in the front of the boat and his brother Charles in the rear loading his shotgun. As he injected a shell into the chamber of the gun and snapped down the breech the hammer of the gun snapped down, firing the shell.

Dr. E. J. Dupuis, coroner of Belle River, was called. After his examination of the body and the investigation of the accident by Constable H. J. Tinson of the Belle River detachment of the Ontario Provincial, the body was released to the Janiesse Brothers' Funeral Home in Windsor.

The Goodyear Dealer is YOUR TIRE ADVISER!

● If every motorist knew all there was to know about a tire, he wouldn't need the expert services of a Goodyear Dealer. He'd just buy a tire . . . that's all! But, it's well to remember that even the best tires and tubes . . . Goodyears . . . give still greater mileage and finer performance when properly fitted to the rims and regularly maintained and serviced.

If you are eligible to buy the new Goodyear synthetic rubber tires and tubes, here's a fact worth knowing. Every Goodyear Dealer KNOWS HOW to apply them, and how to maintain and service them right from the minute your car starts to roll on them.

In the past few years Goodyear Dealers have given yeoman service to Canadian motorists. During the rubber famine, tires have been kept in service by the application of new methods, new skills and sheer hard work. The Goodyear Dealer always has been the right man to know . . . the guardian of tire miles.

The amazing tire performance enjoyed by Goodyear owners during this period has but proved what Goodyear has long maintained. That, with proper care, a new tire can be confidently expected to yield outstanding mileages.

As a tire expert, your neighbourhood Goodyear Dealer can pass on to you benefits accrued through the nation-wide experience of Goodyear . . . benefits that mean longer life and better performance from your tires.

This is a Goodyear Synthetic Rubber Tire! Goodyear dealers have it . . . for eligible drivers only. It is the result of Goodyear's forty years' experience in tire-building plus Goodyear's specialized knowledge of synthetic rubber . . . gained through unceasing research and testing.

HOME AGAIN — After serving overseas in theatres of heavy action, and being wounded, two boys from Peterborough and district have arrived in Canada. They are Pte. Donald M. Caban (Left), son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Caban, 543 Park street, who is now in Toronto, and who was wounded in Italy. Pte. Lloyd L. Brenton, Warkworth (Right), has been serving in France with an infantry unit.

YOM KIPPUR.

Jews throughout the world begin this evening the observance of Yom Kippur, the holiest day of the Hebraic religious year. It continues until Wednesday night. The traditional Kol Nidre will be chanted in all synagogues this evening, marking the beginning of the festival.

JOIN C. S. UNION.

Saskatchewan Services Association, representing 1,864 civil servants throughout the province, has been admitted as an affiliate into the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, A. E. Hemming, associate secretary of the Congress, announced Monday.

LIKE EXCITEMENT

Peterborough citizens certainly like excitement. At least that portion of them who were near the Hunter street bridge Monday afternoon wasted no time in high-tailing it for the fire. In the few minutes following the sirens, the bridge looked like the proving ground for the seven-day bike races.

SEND MAIL TO PARIS

Paris has now been included in the liberated area of France to which mail can be delivered, the Post Office announced today. The limited civilian postal service available is restricted, however, to non-illustrated postcards containing messages of a purely personal or family nature. Besides Paris, the following departments of France are now open to civilian mail: Eure, Seine Inferieure, Orne, Ille Et Vilaine, Cote Du Nord, Mayenne, Sarthe, Eure Et Loire, Seine, Seine Et Oise, Seine Et Marne, Calvados and Manche.

NOT YET.

Although some talk about town would have one believe that because of the relaxation of electricity regulations, bread would again come to the housewife sliced. According to the bread companies though, there is no possibility that bread will be sliced in the near future. Some pointed out electricity was the least cause for the stoppage of sliced bread, adding that labor shortage was and is a major reason. Most bakeries reported their slicing machines had been dismantled long ago, and would take some time to set up again.

BLOOD DONORS.

Sixty-eight donations were made at the Blood Donors Clinic Monday by Peterborough residents and contributors from outside. Twenty-seven employees represented the C. G. E.-Genelco, and Nashua Paper Co., Canadian Sealright and Dominion Woollens were included on the list. Out-of-town donors came from Keene, Westwood and Young's Point. Arthur Morris from the latter place made his 16th donation; an 11th donation was given by Roy D. Taylor; and a 10th was made by Percy Moore.

BUSY TIME.

With the coming of the electric lights on Main street once more, Peterborough's electricians say they are having a busy time getting around to make necessary repairs, and put the signs in pre-war shape again. The help situation, as elsewhere, is being felt just as acutely in the electrical business, and this will have an effect on how soon the signs blaze again. Another difficulty, according to the electricians, is that before the war, the signs were lit on a flat-rate basis, but now, a meter rate has been installed, and this calls for additional work.

NEW POST.

PO. Harold Mason having completed his course at Trenton spent the week-end at his home, 515 Cross Street, and left on Monday for Hagersville, where he has been posted as a flying instructor.

UNEMPLOYMENT PAYMENTS.

Unemployment insurance benefits were paid 4,746 persons in August, compared with 4,753 in July and 1,104 in August 1943, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics announced Monday.

LIONS GIVE $200

A contribution of $200 was made to the Peterborough Memorial Community Centre Fund, at a meeting of the Lions' directors Monday evening. This sum was given despite the fact they spent more than $2,000 on the Lions' Wading Pool and playground facilities, which proved so valuable during the summer.

SOLDIER GETS COMMISSION

Second Lieut. Robert Tivy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Tivy, 751 Water street, graduated from an infantry training course at Brockville recently. He has been in the Army over two years, formerly holding the rank of sergeant. A younger brother, Pte. Bury Tivy, who is also in the army, is stationed in this country.

RIGHT HAND WOUNDED

After being wounded earlier in the war by a bullet in his left hand, Cpl. Martin J. Gahagan is now reported to have been wounded by a bullet in the right hand, according to word reaching his family today. The son of Mrs. G. Gahagan, 494 Sherbrooke street, he is serving with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders in France.

GOING TO HOSPITAL

Recently arrived from action in Italy, where he served with the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment, Cpl. Pat Gahagan, son of Mrs. G. Gahagan, 494 Sherbrooke street, is now on his way to Christie Street Hospital in Toronto, according to word reaching his family today. In the brief telegram, dated at Kingston, Cpl. Gahagan stated he was feeling fine.

TENANTS COMPLAIN.

Tenants of some apartments and duplexes in Peterborough have voiced the opinion that some landlords are taking advantage of wartime restrictions on fuel, to chisel the occupants out of warm rooms during these chilly autumn days. One woman is known to have spent all one day in bed. Tenants are wondering if this fuel saving business could not be eased a bit and colds avoided.

A GEYSER

Something must have been wrong with that fire hydrant at the east end of the Hunter street bridge, used Monday afternoon for the Sunshine Dairy blaze. All during the fire, a tall geyser of water shot upwards from it, doing the work of a lawn sprinkler for several yards around. It also sprinkled some day-dreaming pedestrians, who were seen to walk right into the spray!

DONATED SERVICES.

Thanks to the public-spirited co-operation of Campbell's Dairy and Weston Bread Company, the patrons of Sunshine Dairy were served their milk as usual this morning. While much of the Sunshine equipment was damaged or destroyed in Monday's fire, the other companies took stock of the situation, and consequently the donated equipment saw the routes all covered.

IT WAS A DUD!

In a letter to Bruce Sargent, 513 Weller street, Sgt. Bill Wallace, who lived here before enlisting, now with the S. D. and G. Highlanders in France, tells of spending a night in a trench when a shell landed squarely between him and a companion. "Luckily, it was a dud", the young soldier writes. "I was too scared to even run." Before enlisting, Sgt. Wallace was employed at Rehill's Fuel and Building Supplies Company.

Brinton Carpet Makes 75th Donation

When any individual or group does one particular thing for many times, there is registered a certain conviction that their act no matter what form it may take, has the essence of something that is essential behind it, and when this act happens to be in the realm of doing good for other people in the same field of endeavour on each and every occasion, this reason is all the more accentuated.

To do an act of kindness for the one particular sphere of goodness to other people on no less than seventy-five different occasions, may perhaps almost establish a record for any one single endeavour for any one of the many efforts acting as an assist to the war, and this now goes to the credit of the employees of the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co. Ltd., who have made that number of contributions to the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund, operating solely for the purpose of assisting those afflicted and made homeless through air raid attacks over Britain, and latterly by the robot or flying bombs which still continue to take their toll of life and property.

Give a Total of $1,025.

To-day this 75th donation in an amount of $25.00 is credited to their name, making the very fine total of $1,025.00 that has been given by this group since the fun first commenced to operate in early December in 1940. During that period the number of those participating in this weekly collection on pay days has decreased almost 50 per cent, yet they still keep up the work work, which the fund secretary has had evidence is being keenly followed by some of their former employees now on active service, who have taken a certain amount of pride therein.

Some fellows with a flair for humour love to put another fellow on the spot, and that is just what happened in the case of a donation of $2.00 included in today's receipts, for it was handed to the writer with an explanation as to how it was raised, the telling of which would surely make a very interesting story that might also induce others to be thoughtful for other people in the midst of their own pleasure.

But when from sheer modesty which might well be considered quite misplaced, a request is made that no name or circumstances be mentioned, and the only leeway given was to make up a story all one's own about, there seems nothing to do but just put it in under "No name please", and let it go at that, which would obviate having any qualm of conscience about fooling the troops later on.

Personals List in Making

Another list of personal donations is now in the making, there already being three of such on hand for that purpose, this in itself being an invitation to all and sundry to join this particular group who just love to do good things that other people in need may benefit, even if it means a bit of personal sacrifice, which really adds something to the giving that no moth nor rust can corrupt.

Previously acknowledged	$81,726.27

Hon. J. L. Ilsley To Visit City

Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance is scheduled to open the Seventh Victory Loan in Peterborough. Mr. Ilsley will address the payroll and general sales banquet on October 19 it was announced today.

The dinner will be held in the Genelco Cafeteria and all Victory Loan workers are expected to be in attendance. E. W. Simpson, unit organizer, W. A. Reid, who is in charge of sales and Major Bill Dalton, public relations officer, arrived in Peterborough on Monday to commence organizing for the loan.

HOME ON LEAVE—Coder Ray Parnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Parnell, 176 Rubidge street, is home on furlough. He has been serving on a frigate, which is credited with sinking a submarine. Prior to enlisting, he worked in the chemical lab at the C.G.E.

DIES OF WOUNDS—Pte. William R. Dafoe, a member of the 48th Highlands, died of wounds September 16, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dafoe of Belmont township.

$13,013 Added To Fund For Memorial

An increase of $13,013 was tabulated today in the Memorial Community Centre drive, nearly all of it in the canvass of plant employees.

Figures showing returns as of Monday night indicate a jump of $11,750 in that particular division of the canvass over the $19,058 reported yesterday. The manufacturers canvass advanced $750, the special names and retail merchants $433, and the general canvass was limited to an increase of $80.

Volunteer canvassers, it was said, have in many cases been held up in making their rounds by the unavailability of some of their co-workers, who have been out of town on business, but the house-to-house-drive is now gathering speed. Members of the Y's Men's Club are active in the canvassing, along with all the other service clubs in the city.

This was the picture of the Memorial Community Centre campaign as of today:

Manufacturers ..	$100,000	$ 70,150

Cpl. Bill Nelson Wounded In Italy

War has taken its toll from the family of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, 735 Water street, who sent five sons to war and have had four of them become casualties. Word was received to-day that their fourth son, Cpl. Milton (Bill) Nelson was wounded September 16 in Italy.

Cpl. Nelson, who is with the Royal Canadian Artillery, has been overseas more than three years, and is 22 years old. Prior to enlisting he was employed at the Dependable Cleaners, Hunter street.

Other brothers in the forces are Pte. Dalton Nelson, invalided home from Italy and now in the Kingston hospital; Pte. Leonard Nelson, in hospital at Camp Borden; Pte. Keith Nelson in Italy, who was wounded but is now able to work around the hospital; and Cpl. Leslie Nelson with the R.C.A.F. in England.

Fire Destroys Stables In Dairy Blaze

Fire of unknown origin razed the stable and wagon shed of the Sunshine Dairy, on the corner of Driscoll Terrace and Hunter street Monday afternoon, in a spectacular blaze attracting a large crowd. Today, Fire Chief George Gimblett said the fire "was of a suspicious nature", and told the Examiner the Ontario Fire Marshal had been notified, and asked to investigate not only the Sunshine Dairy fire, but the whole series of East City recent fires.

Damage to the sheds and stables of the Sunshine Dairy was unofficially estimated at more than $3,000. Four horses, housed in the lower part of a brick building, were safely brought out of the flames.

Two tons of hay had recently been put into the top section of the stables, and when this caught fire, dense clouds of yellowish smoke poured out, and made fire fighting difficult. Firemen under Chief Gimblett responded to several calls, and had the flames under control in 10 minutes, although smouldering hay and sporadic outbursts of fire kept the firemen at the scene for some time.

In order to extinguish the blaze in the top of the stables, firemen smashed in the door, and put up a ladder. Burning milk wagons, each valued close to $200, were dragged from the shed by firemen, and for the most part, were totally destroyed. Some had the rubber tires burnt completely away, with the spokes and hub only remaining. When firemen arrived, not only the shed and stable were engulfed in flames, but the wooden fence along Driscoll Terrace also was being burned. Firemen said that when they were crossing the Hunter street bridge, a huge puff of black smoke, followed by a mass of flames, was seen.

F. Burnham, 5 Cricket Place, told the Examiner that he had been in an upstairs room, when happening to glance from the window, he saw the buildings burning fiercely. Dashing down the stairs to turn in an alarm, he could hear fire engines already on their way.

Mrs. George Chamberlain, who lives on Driscoll Terrace, almost opposite the scene of the fire, said she had first been attracted by the excitement when her dog began to bark incessantly. Going outside to discover the trouble, she then noticed the flames. "It started in no time, and was a mass of flames before long", she said.

Other spectators who had been the first on the scene, verified the fact the flames spread rapidly, and said the entire structure damaged, was enveloped quickly.

About 1,000 new milk bottles, stored in the dry shed, were wrecked. Firemen used two water lines on the fire. One amusing aspect according to Chief Gimblett, was when a woman phoned the fire department and calmly asked: "Do you know the Sunshine Dairy is on fire?"

"Well, it is", the unknown woman went on, "and I think you'd better send a man over to see about it."

Bystanders Drenched

The large crowd of sight-seers who gathered got an unexpected ducking, when firemen attempting to extinguish the fence, put a hose on it, drenching those on the street near the fence.

According to the fire department, the last person to be in the places where the blaze is thought to have started, left the building at 3 o'clock.

"A fire like that just doesn't start in five minutes", Chief Gimblett told the Examiner this morning. "With all the people going along Hunter street, and the fact that the entire thing was burning when we arrived, tends toward something out of the ordinary", he said.

Pointing out the fire at Weston Bread, and other places, were in similar circumstances, he said the Fire Marshal had been called, and an investigation would be held.

Dense smoke, sometimes clouding yellowish, then black-gray, could be seen in many parts of the city. Hay in the mow, set up most of the smoke, and firemen were busy battling the blaze inside the stables. Although the sheds were the most difficult, the main section of this fire was under control, before fire fighters attacked the stable. When the door to the haw mow, above the stable, was smashed in, a huge sheet of flame spat out, and it was only the determined firemen, pouring hundreds of gallons of water into the building, that halted the fire there.

Hundreds of factory workers, going home for supper, paused to view the fire, Traffic Officer McGillen, who was one of the first to send in an alarm, was busy keeping inquisitive children from danger spots.

Council Unworried By Irate Man's Threat Quite Willing To Face "Exposure" Story

William O. Harvey, 4 Lansdowne street, threatened the council Monday night with dire penalty if they persisted in leaving him without sewer and water services.

In his minatory correspondence he warned Mayor Hamilton and his associates that if some digging and laying of mains was not soon forthcoming he, William O. Harvey, was going to write a letter to the Examiner and expose everything.

"For goodness sakes," said Alderman Glover to City Clerk Outram, "hand the letter over to the Examiner reporter right now."

That the council might be fully informed and aware of their approaching fate of being exposed in the glaring light of publicity, Mr. Harvey sent a copy of his letter-to-be-published with the connotation that it should be read and digested. And neither happened.

Can't Be Done

It may be said of Mr. Harvey, without disfavor and merely as a plain statement of fact, that the council regards him more or less as a pain in the municipal neck.

Mayor Hamilton and his associates sympathize with Mr. Harvey in his out of the way location, at the east end of Lansdowne street, south of the Little Lake Cemetery. He has appealed to them on many occasions and both the council and the Utilities Commission have enquired into the possibility of helping him. The council's attitude has not been unfriendly to Mr. Harvey. They were told by City Engineer Parsons that if the sewer was laid to the Harvey place a section of it would be only three or four feet from the surface, exposed to frost penetration, and generally an extension that should not be recommended.

Dr. J. Middleton Wins Award In Horticulture

Presentation of the 1944 award of the meritorious service diploma of the Ontario Horticultural Association to Dr. J. A. Middleton will be a feature of the Peterborough Horticultural Society's meeting October 6 in the auditorium of Murray Street Baptist church.

A past president of the Society, Dr. Middleton has been an active promoter of horticultural improvement and beautification in Peterborough for many years. The award is made annually, and it is worth noting that Dr. Middleton is a second member of the Nicholls Park Board to receive this honor. His trustee associate in that respect is Alderman R. M. Glover, who received the diploma a few years ago.

The first diploma was presented to Harry Beal, and the annual awards since then have been, successively to: Mr. Glover, Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Downie street, Wm. H. Young, Chamberlain street, Dr. A. J. Madill, S. T. Harris and this year Dr. Middleton.

The society's meeting, as announced by W. C. Wilks, secretary, "will take the form of presentation ceremonies of awards and prizes won in the competitions sponsored by the society this year." L. W. Copp of the staff of the Normal school, will be the speaker. A token of esteem will be presented to Dr. A. J. Madill as a remembrance in connection with his marriage in July.

The G. K. Fraser, M.P., trophy will be presented to School Section No. 11, Smith township, whose teacher and children won first prize in the County Rural Schools competition. The program will include incidental entertainment by H. G. Lewis, ventriloquist and caricaturist.

There is no admission charge for the meeting, but a silver collection will be gratefully received for the British War Victims' Fund. Mrs. G. K. Fraser, president of the society, will preside.

FOURTH BROTHER WOUNDED—Cpt. Milton (Bill) Nelson, who was serving with the R.C.A. in Italy, has been wounded, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, 735 Water street, have been notified. He is the fourth in the family to have become a casualty.

Stores Prepare To Light Up On October 1

Peterborough stores, business firms, and theatres are in the process of getting ready to "light up," when the electrical regulations are formally retracted October 1, according to an Examiner survey today. Munitions Minister C. D. Howe's lifting of the dim-out rules have been received with a great deal of pleasure in this city, and along Main street, conversation this morning was in keeping with the theme of a gayer, brighter Peterborough, come October 1.

Ross Dobbin, manager of the Peterborough Utilities, said today that while his office has received no official word, in the form of letters or circulars he presumed Peterborough lights will go on anyway, as a result of the announcement from Ottawa.

For more than two years, beginning September 20, 1940, streets of the city have been clothed in a necessary darkness, with only a favored few lights blinking about town. Theatres, stores and business firms were all affected by the regulations, and show-case lighting went off, at that time, presumably for the duration. But now that Mr. Howe has announced the lifting of these rules, Peterborough and all Canada, excepting British Columbia and parts of the Eastern Coast, where dim-outs were inaugurated due to defence precautions, the lights will go on again.

"We're just waiting for the good word," said L. F. Steinaker, assistant manager of Zeller's Store. "We have been replacing all the lights in the windows, and are starting to get the inside lighting along the walls in shape."

The Centre theatre, which has more than 300 lamps in the marquee, expects to be prepared to blaze the lights October 1, according to Manager S. Goldstone. "While we are experiencing a shortage of labor, we think the lights will be ready," he said. Mr. Goldstone said the theatre had anticipated having the repairing done by regular sign companies, but that with the labor shortage, many of the fixtures are being done by th theatre staff. There is also some Neon work to be done, he added.

The Canadian Department Store is all ready to help brighten Peterborough's main street at night, according to J. H. Jamison, manager. "Last Saturday we started to get ready," he said, "and both interior and exterior lighting will be prepared for lighting when the time comes." Mr. Jamison pointed out that show-cases within the store had also been blacked-out when the regulations came into effect, but now they will sparkle again.

The majority of stores, and other businesses, indicated they are ready for the time when "the lights go on again." Many expressed personal opinions about the matter, such as "It'll be heaven to see the bright lights again."

As far as the Utilities is concerned, Mr. Dobbin said, it would mean an increase in revenue. Some bills, he pointed out, will be twice as high as when there was no outside lighting.

"At any rate," he said, "Peterborough at night will be much more decorative now, and bright lights will make for a cheerier atmosphere."

One reason for the preparedness by stores for the lifting of the dim-out, is that they were advised last week the new order might come through.

Bishop H. Ragg Deanery Speaker

Bishop H. Richard Ragg, of the Calgary Diocese, will be the preacher at a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary Deanery service, a women's missionary organization, in St. John's church Thursday morning at 10.30 o'clock. At 1.30 in the afternoon Bishop Ragg will address the clergy of the Peterborough Rural Deanery.

Bishop Ragg has an interesting background, beginning at St. John's College, Cambridge, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1911, followed by the Master of Arts degree in 1915.

From 1925 until 1932, he was the rector of All Saints' church in Winnipeg, and also the Chaplain of the provincial jail.

In 1933, he became the rector of the Church of the Redeemer, and Dean of Calgary, and in 1943, he was consecrated Bishop of the Diocese of Calgary.

LOAN SPEAKER—Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance, who is scheduled to open the Seventh Victory Loan in Peterborough when he addresses a rally of the workers on October 19.

Suggest Delay In City Hall Building Plan

Would it be advisable to suspend construction of the city hall until the peak of postwar employment had passed?

That question was asked of the council Monday night by Alderman Bradburn who said that, from all accounts, building was going to be extremely active in Peterborough and elsewhere after the war. "Apparently the postwar projects that are being mentioned will take up a great deal of labor, and it might be advisable to withhold the city hall until some slack appeared."

Alderman Bradburn said he was inclined to put the sewage disposal project at the top of the list, and to that Alderman Glover commented that the kind of labor it would require would be largely different from the men needed on the city hall.

"I would be more content if we could get some houses built," Alderman Glover said. "I think there is a great need and that many people are planning to build for themselves."

"I agree with that," Alderman Bradburn said, "but I was thinking chiefly of works the city is planning."

The council spent an hour in committee Monday night in further thought and discussion of appropriation of space under the roof of the city hall, with special questioning of the proposal to include a concert or theatre auditorium in the building.

Mayor Hamilton said he estimated that an auditorium, as indicated in tentative plans, would cut too deeply into the available funds—and disproportionately. Discussion centred on that point, and it was decided to ask W. R. L. Blackwell for his opinion and also approximate amounts relating to costs.

Centre Hostesses Honor Mrs. E. Norman

An enjoyable afternoon was spent Sunday in the Servicemen's Recreation Centre, in honor of Mrs. E. Norman, who has been transferred to Camp Borden, where she will be in charge of recreation for the C.W.A.C.'s. About 75 hostesses were present during the afternoon, to enjoy a cup of tea and a pleasant chat with Mrs. Norman. The girls presented Mrs. Norman with a gift. in token of their esteem, and as a small remembrance for the many pleasant hours spent working with her.

The tea table was lovely with a lace cloth and a centrepiece of zinnias and flags. Mrs. A. Mason and Mrs. G. Stevens were in charge of refreshments, assisted by Mrs. F. White, Mrs. O. Brown, Mrs. I. Sharp and Miss Mary Stevenson. Mrs. Norman takes with her the best wishes of all the hostesses and her many friends in the city.

Ottawa Airman Wed In Bethany

BETHANY, Sept. 26 — (ENS). — Yelverton United Church, was the setting for a pretty wedding Saturday, when Audrey Stimson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stimson of Yelverton was united in marriage to Walter Wright of Ottawa, eldest son of Mr. Garnet Wright of Blackstock. Rev. Mr. Henderson, pastor of the Bethany circuit, officiated. Mr. Lloyd Heaslip was at the organ.

The bride was attired in a white lace-over-satin, floor-length wedding gown, with long white nets, her wedding veil was embroidered with seven spray leaves, and a white rose hair wreath finished the ensemble. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses and wore pale blue sandals with gold strapping, a souvenir gift sent from India by her fiancee while on duty as wireless operator there.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Stimson, attired in a floor-length gown, of gold lace made on princess lines, with shoulder-length veil of white and carried an arm bouquet of gold and pink roses. Little Marine Stimson cousin of the bride, also attended her, bearing a silver basket of white rose buds.

Ushers were Donald Stimson, and Will Forbes, the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Lloyd Wright of Blackstock.

During the signing of the register, Mr. Dalton Dorrell of Blackstock, sang "I Love You Truly."

The church altar was banked with baskets of lovely autumn flowers of gladioli, astors and dahlias, while the guest pews were marked with white dahlias.

The grooms' gift to the bride was a string of matched pearls, to the bridesmaid a gold brooch, and to the flower girl a silver bracelet, to the men attendants, bill folds.

Later a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Refreshments were served on the spacious lawn by friends of the bride to around fifty guests. The bride's mother received, wearing a dress of dusty rose with black accessories. The young couple will live in Ottawa.

THE TEA HOUR GOSSIP . . . .

When foods are preserved with salt, water or vinegar, the process is called pickling. Sweet pickles, sour pickles and spiced pickles, either sweet or sour, are secured by varying the spice and seasoning. Both fruits and vegetables may be pickled whole, or in halves, quarters or slices. Cucumbers, tomatoes, onions, beets. carrots cauliflower and cabbage are the vegetables most often preserved by pickling.

Ripe Cucumber Sweet Pickles

6 large ripe cucumbers, ⅛ pound stick cinnamon, 1 ounce whole cloves, 3 pounds sugar, 1½ pints vinegar.

Pare the cucumbers, quarter, and take out the seeds. Then cut the quarters into medium-sized pieces. Scald in salted water (using 2 tablespoons salt to one quart of water), then drain and simmer in clear water until they are tender but firm. Drain well. Tie the spices in a bag and boil them with the vinegar and sugar for five minutes. Pour this mixture over the cucumbers, cover the jar and set away. The next day pour off the syrup, boil for 10 minutes and pour over the cucumbers again. The flavor is improved by repeating this process several times. Place the pickles in clean hot jars and seal.

Spanish Tomatoes

24 green tomatoes, sliced, 1 large onion, 2 green peppers, ¼ cup salt, 1 tablespoon pepper corns, one tablespoon mustard seed, one cup brown sugar, 2 quarts vinegar.

Alternate layers of sliced tomatoes, with layers of sliced onion and green peppers, in a large crock and sprinkle each layer with salt. Let stand 24 hours, then drain. Put the vegetables in a preserving kettle, add the spices and sugar, and cover with the vinegar. Cook gently for 45 minutes. Pack in hot jars and seal.

Pepper Haste

1 large cabbage, 6 onions, 9 green peppers, ½ cup salt, ½ cup white mustard seed, 2 lbs. white sugar, vinegar. Chop cabbage, onions, peppers, rather fine, stir in salt and let stand over night. In the morning drain well and to the mixture add spices, sugar and cover with vinegar. Set on stove until sugar is melted, do not boil. Seal well and keep in a cool place.

Cold Tomato Catsup

1 peck ripe tomatoes, 1 pint vinegar, salt, cloves, pepper, all-spice. Wash the tomatoes and force them through a wire sieve, then strain through a jelly-bag. The liquid is not used in the catsup. Thin the pulp with the vinegar. Season with salt and pepper, allspice, and cloves. Bottle in sterilized containers and seal. This catsup retains the taste of fresh tomatoes and is an excellent flavoring for soups and sauces.

Sorority Favors Health Centre

The lovely summer home of Mrs. G. S. Cameron was the setting for Beta Sigma Phi Sorority when they met last evening. After the opening ritual a hearty welcome was extended by the president, Mrs. A. S. MacRae, to the International Honorary member, Senator Iva C. Fallis, and to the Social Sponsor, Mrs. G. S. Cameron.

Miss Janet Kearns was called on to speak on the cultural and recreational advantages to be obtained through the Peterborough Memorial and Community Centre.

Mrs. Donald Duncan outlined with a short piece of poetry the "Traditions of Beta Sigma Phi". Mrs. J. M. King then read the "Calendar for the Year" as outlined in the Pledge Manual. Miss Grace Lundy's talk on "Introductions" and Miss Betty McDonald's on "Invitations" were very ably presented to an extremely interested audience. The president thanked Mrs. Cameron on behalf of the members.

After contests provided by the hostess were completed, refreshments were served by the social convener, Mrs. Wilfred Preston, assisted by Misses Connie Nicholson, Iris Whalon, Betty McDonald and Moira Whalon.

Asthma Mucus Loosened First Day

150 Present at WMS Rally Held In St. Andrew's Church

More than one hundred and fifty strong, the Mission Circle members of Peterborough Presbyterial gathered at St. Andrew's United church Monday night for their annual fall rally. Mrs. F. W. Bannister, Presbyterial Mission Circle secretary, presided and welcomed the guests, among whom was Mrs. J. R. Harris, Dominion Board secretary of Mission Circles and Miss Mary Nishikawara of the staff of the Church of All Nations, Toronto.

Pretty bouquets of autumn flowers and green tapers decorated the long banquet tables. Members of St. Andrew's Circle catered and were gracious hostesses. Following the supper, Miss Loretta McDougall led in a period of community singing, accompanied at the piano by Miss Phyllis Kidd.

Dr. E. W. Young welcomed the rally to his church and expressed his appreciation of the fine work done by this organization.

Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, president of Peterborough Presbyterial, introduced Mrs. J. R. Harris and paid warm tribute to her work as a W.M.S. leader.

The program opened with an inspiring worship service on the theme, "The way of love is the way of service," which was conducted by the following members of the 'Jean Wagar' Mission Circle of St. James church: Mrs. Jack Huggins, Misses Jean Hammond, Lottie Leggett, Helen Moncrief, Gladys Langton and Mrs. C. Davis. Miss Eleanor Shirley of St. Andrew's, acted as pianist.

The business included the roll call of Circles to which each reponded with the description of their best meeting or venture. Mrs. W. H. Morton as presbyterial candidate secretary, presented the needs of her department and urged upon the women the need for missionary workers and the great opportunities for service.

The presbyterial literature secretary, Mrs. E. N. Davis, had a display of literature on view and gave a brief review of some of the books on sale. The reading course is being stressed for all Circles this year and Miss Constance Wagar, Conference Branch Ciricle secretary, outlined the purpose and scope of the course.

Discussion Groups.

Miss Mary Nishikawara delighted the women with her group of piano selections, and following this three discussion groups were held. The first, for presidents, vice-presidents, secretaries and treasurers was led by Miss Jessie Martin and dealt with problems of organization. The second group for department secretaries, Christian Stewardship, Temperance, Community Friendship, Supply and Press was conducted by Mrs. H. Rehill. Under the direction of Miss Wagar, a third group was held on the study book, 'West of the Date Line' and how to use it.

When the delegates re-assembled, a secretary from each group reported its findings.

Japanese Problems.

Miss Mary Nishikawara, a Canadian born Japanese girl, outlined the problems of the evacuated Japanese families. She voiced her personal appreciation for the spirit of fellowship evidenced by the members and workers of the United church and spoke of her fine associations at the United church training school, of which she was a graduate.

Sounding a clear note of challenge and inspiration to every Circle member, Mrs. J. R. Harris brought a message of high calibre. She spoke of the scope of the W.M.S. organization across Canada and of the privilege of membership in such a society. The problems of to-day are a challenge to every young Canadian woman, she declared and went on to suggest ways in which each might share in meeting these problems and those of the post-war period. In closing she urged personal consecration as the basis for all service for Jesus, in whose army all may enlist.

Banner Award.

The awarding of the banner for the efficiency contest is always made at the rally and Miss Margaret Harris announced the percentages won by the two highest Circles, 'Jean Wagar' of St. James 97 p.c. and Knox Circle 96 p.c. Mrs. J. R. Harris presented the banner to the winning Circle and spoke in commendation of the efficiency contest as a means of raising the standards of each group. The banner was received by Mrs. E. J. Wagar, advisory president of the winning Circle.

Mrs. Harold Lancaster of George St. Circle moved a vote of thanks to the guest speakers and the hostess Circle.

This Weeks Wartime Recipe

Contributed By Mary Moore Readers

Dear Mary Moore: My method of stuffing and baking onions is popular with my family, and uses up my odds and ends of meat in a nice way. I serve them when I am low on meat and have extra vegetables on hand. Nice combonation of stuffed onions, fried egg plant or Eggplant au Gratin, corn on the cob or creamed corn and mashed potatoes or if creamed corn is not used put a parsley cream sauce over boiled potatoes.

Stuffed Onions. (Mrs. Gulliver).

Eight Spanish onions, 1 cup dry crumbs, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 cup white sauce, 1 cup finely chopped cooked meat, 2 tablespoons butter, shake of pepper, 1 egg or 2 beaten yolks. Boil peeled onions whole until fairly tender. When cool cut centre from root end leaving the shell of the onion. Chop half of the onion removed from centre, mix it with above ingredients and stuff into onion shell, having it heaped up. Bake in moderate oven until brown. These may be sprinkled with cheese before baking. A. G.

Nuts could be used to replace the meat and this would make a delicious main item on a vegetable plate.

Army Expects Great Demand From Soldiers For Education

That if the same percentage of Canadians in the three armed services decide to take advantage of demobilization educational plans as is estimated will be the case in the United States, Canada will have to take care of the after-the-war education of 90,000 former service men, Major O. B. Rexford, of the army educational directorate told Rotarians Monday in an address before the local service club on "Army Education and Plans for the Post-War Period."

Major Rexford said that the latest survey in the United States placed the number of ex-service men who wished to take advantage of educational opportunities when the war was over at 900,000, which if the trend here was similar would mean 90,000 Canadians from the army, navy and air force, to be taken care of from an educational standpoint in the after-war period.

Introduced by Rotarian D. T. Diplock, Major Rexford declared that army education was a new phase, and the present setup in Canada was not yet quite two years old.

Education was in the army, he said, definitely for the purpose of using every facility to produce better fighting men by assisting them to be as efficient as possible. "It's main purpose" said the speaker, "is the job it can do to aid the work effort."

Army education also offered an opportunity for spare-time study that would be valuable to service personnel on their return to civil life.

The Need Is There

The need was there, Major Rexford pointed out. This war has necessarily to be built on a higher level of schooling than the last world conflict. There was also the necessity of education to teach the soldier what he was fighting for and what the war as all about. The American army, he said, had discovered that many of the men who died in Tunisia hadn't the faintest idea about why they were there. The United States authorities, he remarked, had moved with their customary vigor to deal with that situation and eliminate it.

Veterans Act.

The veterans of the last war had been quick to realize the need for educational opportunities in the services' setup and through the Canadian Legion, its national council on education and its Canadian Legion educational services had been able to accomplish a great deal. "They did a number of valuable things that are growing in importance" Major Rexford stated, mentioning the establishment of courses for service men, the preparation of the necessary text books and the securing of co-operation from the educational authorities across Canada. The Legion had also set up libraries where works of reference were obtainable.

Speaking of the need of education Major Rexford said that the war had brought out the fact that there were numerous young Canadians who could not read or write. These did not come from one province but were more or less representative of the whole Dominion, and the record of no schooling, as discovered during the war was not a cheerful one for Canadians generally. It was a problem that would have to be grappled with.

Army education, the speaker said, had recognized the condition and taken steps to deal with the lack of schooling among service men by establishing basic educational centres where soldiers were educated and at the same time given basic military training. Plans were also successfully carried out for upgrading candidates for non-commissioned officer posts and possible officer material. The army educational scheme also sought to educate soldiers in Canada's army on the Canadian way of life, following along British lines in that respect.

There was a tremendous job ahead, Major Rexford stressed, in post-war education problems and in making use of the demobilization period to put to the best possible use the time elapsing between the cessation of hostilities and the date of discharge. In this connection the speaker said that the support and encouragement of service clubs would be of invaluable assistance.

Rotarian R. F. Downey expressed the thanks of the Rotary Club to Major Rexford for his informative address.

People Refrain From Sending Addresses Of Local Forces

Although the names and addresses of some 375 Peterborough men and women serving in the Active Army either at home or abroad have been received by the Active Army Auxiliary for the mailing of Christmas boxes, the response to the appeal for names has been slow, according to Auxiliary officials. Last year, 1,000 names were received, and owing to the number of new enlistments and other variables, the Auxiliary expects the names and addresses of at least 1,500 this year.

Mrs. James Turnbull, who lists and checks the names received, stated to-day that 200 additional names are expected soon from a check made on the schools in Peterborough, conducted by Mrs. D. T. Diplock.

Both public and separate schools have been asked to give the names of active army soldiers and C.W.A.C.'s, although it is thought many of the names given may be repetitions of names already received.

No Charity.

Auxiliary officials told the Examiner to-day that possibly people are refraining from submitting names because of a dislike of "charity." However, those who are refraining because of this reason are reminded that the money put into Christmas boxes is that received from many money-gathering events, including tag day, the sports day, and other events. It is, in effect, the money almost everyone has given at one time or another, for the express purpose of giving "Christmas cheer for the boys in the service."

All names of Peterborough men and women serving in the Active Army either at home or abroad, are urgently requested by the Auxiliary.

In order to get the mailing lists ready as soon as possible, an October 1 deadline has been fixed, and if names are submitted before that time, no soldier will go without a special gift, from all the "folks back home."

In Canada, Too.

DOWRY FOR GIRLS GOOD NOW

Money Question Brings Friction In Homes; Wife With Own Funds Gains Respect.

THE question of whether girls should be given dowries when they marry is being much discussed at present. There are many who oppose it on the sentimental ground that it will tend to dim love's young dream by introducing the financial factor into it, instead of leaving it in the realm of pure romance. But I think that nothing would do more to keep the home fires burning than for the bride to bring along with her a ton of coal and an armful of kindling when she sets up her new home.

In proof whereof is the uncontested fact that in the countries in which the dot system prevails there are far fewer divorces than with us who marry on the love-is-enough theory. This seems to indicate that when those domestic contingencies arise in a household that call for cash instead of sentiment, it does not make the wife less alluring to her husband if she can reach down in her little black bag and get the wherewithal to settle with the bill-collector. On the contrary she appears as a guardian angel who makes him bless his luck in having had the sense to marry a girl with a little money of her own.

No one will deny that the financial question causes more friction in the home than any other one thing. Many men never get over the shock they get when they find out the price of matrimony, nor do they ever cease to begrudge paying it. Many a bride becomes an unpaid servant on her wedding day, and millions of wives have to descend to the acts of the courtesan or commit petty larceny to even get a new hat out of their husband.

Girl With Money Enjoys Respect

Half of the bitter, disgruntled, peevish wives you know are made that way by never having any money of their own. They resent the humiliation of having to go to their husbands, like a beggar, for every cent and of being regarded as mendicants. I once asked a man why he worked so hard after he was old and tired, and he replied: "I want to leave my daughters enough money to insure that their husbands will treat them politely." Undeniably he had something there, for no one treats the financially independent as they do the penniless.

In all good truth, there is nothing more unjust both to the girl and the boy she marries than for parents to put all the money they can rake and scrape on the daughter's back in order to help her catch a husband, but who send her to him empty-handed. It is nothing but simple honesty for the fathers and mothers who rear a girl with silk stocking habits and tastes to settle enough money on her to buy her own, instead of running her poor young husband in debt for them.

It may be said that the dowry system would give rich girls the priority over poor ones in getting husbands, but such need not be the case. For every girl with a good job can lay up enough money to make her desirable from a financial, as well as a personal point of view, if she has matrimony on her mind.

So I am strong for dowries for girls. They will do more than any other one thing to lubricate the domestic machinery and keep it running smoothly.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, September 27

A MOST flourishing, productive and progressive state of affairs is indicated by a long chain of planetary configurations. These may stimulate to a marshalling of all the forces, faculties, influences and resources in a determined effort to do something of outstanding significance, where position, prestige and unusual or peculiar talents and abilities have value. These might be of worth in a political, diplomatic, or corporate post of influence. However such a career may be beset by subtle dangers, lures and snares, connivance and trickery. These may menace both pleasure and personal life, credit and business affairs, in all of which handle papers and funds with precaution.

Those whose birthday it is may be in line for an exceptionally interesting, intriguing and progressive year, with many adventures and experiences of extraordinary significance. These may lure into strange pastures, where unusual forces and faculties or talents and subtle factors may reach happy denouements, in both private, professional or business standing. Under such strange stimuli there may be opportunities with political, diplomatic or fraternal groups or large corporations, where the favoritism and influence of those in power are of value. Success in objectives may depend upon a clever, discriminating, shrewd concentrating of resources, with intrigue and probably intuition playing a part. Pitfalls and deception, with caution against careless words and writings or contracts are indicated.

A child born on this day should possess exceptional talents, with practical as well as idealistic insight into unusual ambitions and aspirations.

Home and School

PRINCE OF WALES

A large attendance of parents and pupils watched 66 young students receive their graduation diplomas, at the regular meeting of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association, Monday evening. Mrs. G. Hutchinson, in the absence of Mr. G. S. Mattice, assisted Principal P. D. Windrem in presenting the diplomas. Ethel Fine and Wilfred Woodcock were valedictorians.

G. Wilson Craw, chairman of the Board of Education, was guest speaker, directing his remarks principally to the graduates. He spoke of the importance of choosing the right vocation when entering collegiate, and urged the students not to rush into any certain field, stressing the fact that they were planning and laying the foundation for their future, and that their choice of training should meet their particular needs and capabilities. Mr. Craw also mentioned Child Guidance Clinics, and the excellent work they had accomplished.

Highlight of the program presented by the students, were two selections, "Waltzing Matilda" and "For God and King and Right," sung by a choir made up of members of the graduating classes. Readings were given by Betty Mason who read "The Queen," and Eleanor Carleton, who read "Courting Under Difficulties." Stewart Brown and Dick Burrows sang a duet, "O What a Beautiful Morning!" accompanied by Tommy Griffin and Marilyn Patterson played a piano solo, "The Marine Hymn." Mr. Windrem and Mr. R. Rutherford, vice-principal, presented swimming certificates to several boys at the school, who had taken lessons at the Y.M.C.A.

Mrs. Hutchinson, who presided, expressed the Association's thanks to Mr. Craw for his address, and to those taking part in the program. Pie and ice-cream were served to the graduating class, with Mrs. A. Halliday and Mrs. G. White in charge.

Those receiving graduation diplomas are: Thomas Ashby, Shirley Barringer, Richard Burrows, Eleanor Carleton, Catherine Craig, Shirley Davis, Carol DeLaPlante, W. Doughty, D. Dyer, Billy Ferguson, Ethel Fine, Betty Fountain, Maralyn Galbraith, Doreen Gilders, Jean Graham, Thomas Griffin, Doris Halliday, M. Hodgson, Gladys Lewis, Isabel Moffat, J. Moore, L. Nicholls, Shirley Orde, Barbara Outram, W. Rowbotham, B. Ruttle, Kenneth Stacey, R. Watkins, E. Williams, F. Wright.

CFN DOUG TAYLOR

A member of a detachment that did the impossible, CFN Doug Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Taylor, 223 Westcott street, has been praised by Maj. G. A. Wiggan, officer commanding an RCEME unit, in a letter received by his wife, now in Prince Albert, Sask.

"Recently CFN Doug Taylor was part of a special detachment from 2nd Tank Troops Workshop which was engaged on a very difficult and arduous assignment.

"A certain planned attack of the Canadian Army was contingent upon the completion of this job in seven days, when the most optimistic staff estimate was that 10 days would be required. By working from dawn to dark under the most trying circumstances, the job was completed by this detachment in 4½ days. The use of these vehicles made possible the breakthrough on August 8.

Remarkable Job

"I thought you would be pleased and happy to know that the General Officer commanding caused this detachment to be thanked and congratulated on behalf of the Canadian Army for their remarkable achievement."

A former C.G.E. employee, CFN Taylor enlisted with the S. D. and G. Highlanders as a member of the pipe band in July 1940 and went overseas in August 1941. On arrival there, he was assigned to a number of mechanical courses in various plants in England. He was later transferred to the newly formed branch of the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers and has been serving in France with that unit since D-Day.

His wife, formerly Eileen Winslow, whose home is at 318 Burnham street, is temporarily living in Prince Albert.

Wins Captaincy

After two years overseas, several months of which have been spent at the front with the Princess Pats in Italy, Tom Allen, former teacher at the Prince of Wales School, has been promoted to the rank of Captain. He has also been transferred to the historical section, and an applicant for this job is required to have had university training and some teaching experience.

Leaving the men with whom he has fought and shared difficult experiences, has been something of a wrench for Capt. Allen and in a letter a few days ago to his parents he spoke of a Marmora boy in his unit who died in action.

"There have been a few casualties since I left the unit and the most grievous one for me is a corporal of mine from Marmora, Leo O'Connor. He was the only casualty in my platoon.

Cpl. O'Connor was a mild, modest, quiet chap, but the men had great faith in him and his judgment. He had been quite badly wounded May 23 and did not get back up to the regiment until after I left. So he wasn't up long. I will have to get his address and write his parents."

At Resort

Prior to beginning his new duties, Capt. Allen spent a leave at Amalfi, a Mediterranean town below Naples. He wrote that it was justly celebrated as a tourist resort and had a marvellous coast, high and rocky, with terraces for vines, oranges and fig trees.

"Every handful of earth is cultivated and from the window of my room I can see the foliage and still green fruit of two orange trees. Framing the scene, below and beyond, and extending straight down to the water's edge 200 feet below are narrow terraces with all sorts of flowers, many of them in bright bloom. The vines are absolutely loaded with grapes which overhang the path and a mile or two, front left is the hazy mountainous coast of the Bay of Salerno.

"This town, like others here, is built on rocks. Most of the roofs are flat to catch the rainfall and most of the buildings stone painted white or white stucco to reflect the sun and keep the interior cooler. This afternoon, I drove in an Army lorry to Positano about 15 kilometres nearer Naples. The road is hair raising to some people and must be taken slowly though the surface is good asphalt. There are twists and bends all along the coast and some places there is anywhere from 90 to 130-foot drop.

"I like this coast more than the French and Italian Riveria. It is less flashy, less built upon by luxurious villas and is more natural."

Advance by Yards

Although Capt. Allen has told his family little of the heavy fighting in which his regiment has been engaged during the winter, he enclosed a story written by a correspondent which he said gave a true picture of life at the front.

The correspondent told of a trip up to one company's headquarters where Headquarters was housed in the ruins of what had been a pleasant villa and the road up was a narrow path strewn on both sides with Nazi mines. A young officer busy censoring mail was kept on the job all night as reports poured in from various platoons which made contact with the enemy or heard them moving around. On receiving this information, the officers behind directed the artillery fire.

The stretcher bearers moved back and forwards at all hours rescuing the wounded and enemy patrols passed and repassed many times during the night. The correspondent dropped into a trench with members of the Princess Pats, where though only 250 yards from H.Q. the men felt completely isolated. The war they were fighting was a matter of sheer physical endurance and yard by yard advances bitterly fought for.

Capt. Allen, who at the time he enlisted was on the staff at Upper Canada College, Montreal, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, 215 Reid street.

Warm Reception

Hugs, kisses and apples and tomatoes were used impartially in welcoming Canadian troops, writes Pte. S. R. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Price, R.R. 7 Peterborough, who is in France with the S. D. and G. Highlanders.

"My the people are pleased to see us in this part of France and they sure hate the Germans. We took some prisoners over to the prisoner of war cage the other morning and we had to hang on to our guns tightly or the people would grab them out of our hands to shoot the Jerries. They hugged us, kissed us, and cheered us, besides passing us apples.

"To give you an idea how fast the Germans are retreating, I began this letter yesterday, September 4. Today I am 40 miles from where I started it. The letters from home are not coming through very well these days.

Threw Tomatoes

"One place we came through today, quite a number of Boy Scouts and people had bushels of tomatoes on the side of the street. As we passed by they handed us some of them and some tried to throw them in the cab. They were hitting me all over, but it was worth it, as they were lovely big red ones. I saved a couple to eat with my supper along with some black French bread, which is very good.

"Last night the boys in the truck next to me made a cup of tea and gave it to me along with a fried egg before going to bed. It was quite a treat, although eggs seem to be plentiful here. There are hundreds of acres of apple trees, just loaded with apples not yet ripe. The Germans have been moving out so fast lately that there is little damage being done. The people were out in the villages and towns to welcome us and it seemed just like the time we left Peterborough. The streets were lined with people."

Narrow Escape

Luck plays a large part with men who are in action, and a letter from Pte. James McNeil, son of A. McNeil, Norwood, adds emphasis to this idea. The young soldier was recently reported slightly wounded and a letter explained what happened.

During one of the enemy artillery barrages, he was sleeping with his head under a window when an 88 shell hit the wall within a few feet of his head. It blew a hole in the wall about the size of a door. He was covered with concrete bricks from head to foot and the force of the blast drove some of them through the wall beyond.

A concrete block about 1½ feet long and 2 to 3 inches thick, hit him on the head just above the left ear. He suffered a bump and a cut about three inches long, not deep enough to require stitches.

A luxury club for men of the ranks of all Allied nations — the pet idea of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower — will be opened October 1 in the internationally - famous Grand Hotel in Paris.

Directing officers say the club will be the first of its kind in the world, a place where all Allied personnel will be able to mingle and enjoy furloughs on a scale comparable with that of the wealthiest set.

The men will sleep between clean white sheets in soft beds. There will be a barber shop, a shoe-shining parlor and soft drinks, ice cream, sodas and sundaes. Name bands will play in the Grand Hotel's marbled halls.

As soon as possible, other similar clubs will be opened elsewhere in the European theatre of operations, including spots especially for women.

Shell Shock Soldier Reported Improving

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rose 593 Homewood avenue, have received word that their son, Cpl. Thomas Rose is improving after having been admitted to hospital in France, in August, suffering from shell shock.

Cpl. Rose was in England over three years with the S. D. and G. Highlanders, transferring to the RCAMC shortly before the invasion. In a letter which his people received today, he praised the work of the nursing sisters and doctors, and said they were doing a wonderful job. The young soldier does not expect to be sent back to the front.

An English girl in the WAAF's became the bride of Cpl. Rose, when they were both privates. They were both promoted to corporal within a week of each other in the spring. Cpl. Rose has a brother, William, who was wounded in Italy in June, and his father went overseas with the 59th battalion in the last war.

DON'T STRESS HONORS

YOU ARE practically bargaining your birthright for a mess of pottage when you make a strained effort to score an honor holding at the expense of decreasing your chances to make a game or slam. Even if you hold No Trump honors, all four aces, it may be put down as unsound to open with No Trumps if you have a five-card major suit or two biddable suits with either a major. In fact, possession of two biddable suits of any kind, or any five-card suit will usually make No Trump an unwise starting call.

West: ♠ K 7 ♥ 6 5 ♦ J 8 5 3 ♣ 10 6 5 3 2
East: ♠ J 9 ♥ K J 4 ♦ K 10 7 6 2 ♣ 9 8 4
South: ♠ A Q 8 3 2 ♥ A Q 10 7 ♦ A 9 ♣ A Q

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 NT	Pass	3 NT

With his powerful holding, South debated between starting with 1-Spade and 2-Spades. He decided he did not like the forcing game-guarantee 2-Spades, which would probably result in 2-No Trumps from North, 3-Hearts from himself and then 3-No Trumps by North, which would cause South's big hand to go down as dummy, the lead coming through its tenaces.

All at once, it hit him that he had a very sound hand for 2-No Trumps, and that this also would enable him to score the 150 for holding four aces, besides making him the declarer instead of his partner if North raised to 3-No Trumps.

Thinking quite well of himself, he was pleased, when West picked the diamond 3, to see the Q in dummy. He put on that card, hoping West held the K, but East did and covered. Considering that a hold-up would be futile, South took this with the A, scored the club A, led the Q to the K and then staked his entire venture on the spade finesse. When West won with the K, four diamond tricks set him.

If South had started with either one or two in spades, he could have got into 6-Spades, making it despite any lead because a diamond could be discarded on clubs before trying the adverse spade finesse.

Tomorrow's Problem

North: ♠ J 7 ♥ J 5 ♦ K 8 3 2 ♣ 10 7 6 4 3
West: ♠ Q 8 2 ♥ 9 7 6 ♦ 10 6 4 ♣ A K 8 2
East: ♠ 6 4 ♥ 8 4 3 2 ♦ A J 9 7 5 ♣ Q 9
South: ♠ A K 10 9 5 3 ♥ A K Q 10 ♦ Q ♣ J 5

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

Why should it be easy for East and West to put up the correct defense against South's 4-Spades on this ideal, if the contract is reached by correct bidding?

Minister Leaving Charge Honored At Harvest Thanksgiving Service

HAVELOCK, Sept. 26—(ENS)—The annual Harvest Thanksgiving service, commemorating the 55th anniversary of St. John's Anglican church, Havelock, was held Sunday evening and was coupled with the farewell sermon of the rector, Rev. R. E. Lemon, who leaves in the near future to take over the combined parishes of Brighton and Colborne with out-stations at Wooler, Lakeport and Presqu'ile Point. Rev. Lemon came to the parish of Belmont in July, 1936, from the mission of Coboconk.

Rev. Lemon took as his text, "And let us not be weary in well doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not." The subject chosen for meditation was a harvest hymn by Dean Alford, "Come Ye Thankful People Come." After a brief review of the writer's life and background, attention was drawn to the main teaching of the hymn, namely: God is creator and ruler of all the universe. He supplies all needs both spiritual and temporal," Rev. Mr. Lemon said.

"We all depend upon Him utterly and it is futile for either men or nations to think they can get along without God. It is our duty to give thanks in His name for all His many mercies. As the seed progresses day by day until the time of harvest so it is the Christian's duty day by day so to live and work that at the time of the heavenly harvest they may be as the wheat gathered into life eternal.'

Eight Years' Pas'srate.

Rev. Lemon made a brief reference to his departure from the parish of Belmont and spoke of eight happy years in thir midst. He thanked the people for their loyalty and devotion throughout his ministry.

A special Thanksgiving anthem entitled "He Crowneth the Year," was sung by the choir with Mrs. G. H. Wright on Norwood playing the organ accompaniment. The lessons were read by David Lemon, son of the rector.

Presentation.

At the close of the service the congregation met in the Sunday school room of the church for a social period, when refreshments were served and the presentation of a purze of money made to Rev. and Mrs. Lemon, the address being read by H. W. Roche in the absence of Frank McKay, the people's warden, while the presentation was made by the rector's warden, Luke A. Thompson.

St. John's church was built in 1889 through the efforts of the late Rev. John Gibson, rector of Norwood and Westwood, who later became its first encumbent. Several improvements have been added to the building since it was dedicated, the most important being the erection of a new wing in 1929 on the north side. Although the church auditorium was partially destroyed by fire in 1937 it has been fully restored.

Death Toll Of Jews Heavy Across Europe

TORONTO, Sept. 26 — (CP) — Donald B. Burwitz of New York, recently returned from Europe and Africa as field representative of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, said here last night of the 7,000,000 Jews in Europe before the war approximately 15 per cent remain.

Addressing a meeting of the Canadian Jewish Congress, he said a scant 10 per cent of the 4,000,000 Jews originally in Poland are believed living.

Red Partisans Revenge Civilian Deaths On Nazis

Written For The Canadian Press By V. KOZHEVNIKOV

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—(CP).—The battles being fought to-day by Russian troops are court, trial and execution for Germans who took such sordid toll of the Soviet people.

Take the case of 18-year-old Ivan Gromak for example. On Aug. 28, 1943, when the 3rd Russian assault battalion was fighting for possession of Hill 244 near Potapova village in the Smolensk region. Gromak killed 16 Germans and documents found on one of them revealed the German participated in the murder of Zoya Kosmodemyanskaya in the Petrishchev village near Moscow in 1941.

Zoya was an 18 year old Patriot whom the Germans hanged.

And to-day black and swollen corpses of Germans lie on the western borders of the Soviet Union as retribution overtakes the Nazi legions.

Yet another murderer who participated in the hanging of Zoya was discovered more recently when the Germans were caught in what the military people termed the "Vitebsk Sack." This Prussian hangman was caught in the cottage of woodman Ptshuko. He had killed the woodsman's wife and was eating a mess of leavened dough when three Partisans found him and hanged him on the spot.

New honors have come to the men behind the front who backed the Soviet fighters—the industrial workers and their executives. Vyacheslav Malyshev, people's commissar for the tank industry, received the high title of Hero of Socialist Labor in recognition of his services in organizing the production of tanks and self-propelled guns and for launching the production of new types of fighting mahines.

When the battle of Moscow was going on and the tank industry was being evacuated to the east, Malyshev organized tank production in the capital. Fighting machines turned out at Moscow factories went straight into action from the assembly line.

Mayor To Answer For Gambling

MATTAWA, Ont., Sept. 26—(CP)—Three leading Mattawa citizens are scheduled to appear in police court here Wednesday on gambling charges preferred by Provincial Constable S. Berard of Mattawa.

The three, Mayor Art Valois, Chief Constable F. C. MacDonald and Ernest Dore, are alleged to have been responsible for the operation of a crown and anchor game at a money-raising event in this town.

The crown and anchor game was one of two, the other being bingo, which had been arranged in an effort to obtain the nucleus of a fund for the ultimate creation of a war memorial in Mattawa.

Copper is needed for telephone cable.

But it is also required for shells, planes, communications equipment and other war supplies. This is true of many another telephone material, too.

There's just no alternative. Until victory, war needs come first. With reserves of telephone equipment at low ebb and almost impossible to replace, they must be rigidly conserved.

To all those applicants who are still waiting for telephone service, we can only say that we fully appreciate their problem. On our part we are making maximum use of existing equipment to serve as many people as possible.

We shall keep on doing the best we can with the telephone equipment obtainable.

AIRTROOP FORCE RETREATS

Canadian Soldiers Reach Australia To Fight Japanese

Canadian Navy Expected Soon To Swing Into Pacific
R.C.A.F. Units Will Also Enter Theatre

MELBOURNE, Sept. 27—(CP Cable).—The first contingent of Canadian troops to land in Australia, a party of nine officers and 63 other ranks, arrived here today. Hon. T. C. Davis, Canadian High Commissioner, welcomed the troops and hinted they were the vanguard of a Canadian Pacific army. The present small force of Canadians consists of instructional and maintenance experts who will be concerned with the use by the Australian army of Canadian-made equipment.

It was apparent that shortly there would be only one theatre of war—the Pacific, Mr. Davis said. "I do not know what form our contribution will take, but we have a great navy and quite likely it shortly will see action in the Pacific," he said.

"We have the fourth largest air force among the Allied Nations and I expect that this fury too will be turned against the Japs.

"I do not know what the precise role of the army will be but you have the distinction of being the first force of Canadian soldiers to set foot on Australian soil. You will find yourselves very much at home here and learn to love this country and admire its people as I have done."

When the advance guard left Canada there was speculation they would prepare a program for possible active participation by military formations. Confidential reports from these officers have already been received by the Canadian Government, but whether or not the reports had anything to do with the dispatch of the new contingent — all general servicemen—was not known.

In sending special troops ahead the Canadian Army is following a practice it instituted as a preliminary to participation in the Mediterranean campaign when a handful of soldiers was sent to North Africa to observe British and American forces at work. They were followed by larger contingents until the Canadian forces were built up to a division and finally a corps.

May Be Dispersed.

It was not known whether the new contingent would serve as self-contained units attached to Indian and Australian armies or whether they would be dispersed among the various formations. The latter suggestion was considered most likely.

Canada's full part in the Southwest Pacific War is understood to have been blue-printed at the Churchill-Roosevelt conference at Quebec. No announcement has been made yet, but it is understood that Canada's Defence Ministers—Defence Minister Ralston, Air Minister Power, and Naval Minister Macdonald—made definite offers on the size of forces they could send to the Pacific when Germany is beaten.

When that time comes, it is believed Canada will put into the Pacific theatre, a corps, composed, perhaps, of two or three divisions.

The R.C.A.F. and Canadian Navy also have taken steps leading to active participation in the Pacific. An air mission, led by Air Vice-Marshal L. F. Stevenson, is in South-east Asia, presumably studying the possibility of switching Canadian air power to that area. Canadian naval doctors have started to study tropical diseases and ship air conditioning.

Day of Battle Sticky Affair In Gothic Line

WITH THE CANADIAN CORPS ON THE ADRIATIC, Sept. 27. — (CP).—A day of battle in a Gothic Line campaign can mean a hot, sticky time.

Through almost five miles of roadway, a squadron of the Royal Canadian Dragoons carved its way in a thrust which spurred the momentum of Gen. Chris Vokes' 1st Canadian infantry division to the right of Monteluro.

A scout troop under Lieut. Ross Waddell, London, Ont., laid a line of fire down the main road.

Plenty happened to the troops who, under Lieut. Waddell and Lieut. Bill F. Dengis, Kitchener, Ont., took the main road, and others who worked along the high ground to the right.

During the next five miles the lads were sniped at from a cemetery and shelled by self-propelled guns in Gradara. They routed three Panther tanks, had a hot encounter with three 88mm. gun emplacements and shot up a bridge demolition party.

When snipers opened up from the cemetery, a company of the Royal 22nd Regiment mopped them up while the armored and scouts cars pushed ahead.

Waddell and his troop were almost at Cattolica when he heard a voice coming in over his wireless telling about three enemy 88mm. gun emplacements on his right and behind him. "The voice" belonged to Lieut. Ted Roxburgh of Edmonton.

Roxurgh saw five Germans, obviousy members of the gun's crews, running from a house toward the emplacements. He opened fire with his machine gun and killed four.

Superforts Back Without Loss

WASHINGTON, Sept 27 — (AP) —The "large force" of B-29 Super-Fortresses which struck targets in Manchuria and occupied China yesterday returned to Chinese bases without loss of a single plane, the War Department reported to-day.

In addition to the previously-reported blow against industrial installations in Anshan in Manchuria and against the dock areas at Dairen, the 20th Bomber Command said the aerial giants also hit military targets at Loyang and Haifeng in occupied China.

Results of the Manchuria blows "were not conclusively known since the bombing was accomplished chiefly through a heavy cloud cover," a communique said, adding, however, that crews returning from Loyang and Kaifeng reported "good" results.

Enemy aircraft fire was weak and fighter opposition light, the bulletin said.

Japanese broadcasts had claimed 3 planes had been downed.

The Berlin radio said today that Superfortresses had been launched against the Bonin Island of Iwo Jima Monday. A Transocean Agency dispatch, datelined Tokyo, asserted eight of 30 Superfortresses which attacked Iwo Jima had been damaged by Japanese defences. There was no American announcement that B-29s had been used in such an operation.

Polish Aid Delayed Britishers Ask Why

LONDON, Sept. 27.—(AP).—Persistent questions in the House of Commons as to why Russia had not furnished earlier aid to the Polish Patriot uprising inside Warsaw to-day caused Foreign Secretary Eden to call a temporary halt to a foreign affairs debate in order to "give consideration to my reply."

Later, he told House members who to-morrow will hear Prime Minister Churchill's full-scale war review, that "there is no matter which causes more concern to His Majesty's government than these relations between our Polish and Russian Allies."

Tanks On Serious Mission
Glowing Cigarette Butt Used As Guide

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Sept. 27.— (CP Cable.)—With the only guide a cigaret held by Sgt. Jim Munro of Cobalt, a Canadian tank troops negotiated a treacherous trail to climb to the crest of the 2,800-foot Colle di Casaglia on the 5th Army front.

The tanks were part of a small group from a Canadian armored formation, operating independent of the Canadian force on the Adriatic, that has shared in the advance of a British division on the right flank of the 5th Army Gothic Line break-through.

By Sept. 29 Shermans of an Ontario regiment (perhaps the Ontario Regiment, Oshawa, Ont.) were over the crest of the Apennines and proceeding down grade toward Raenza, about 30 miles southeast of Bologna.

A troop under Lieut. Steve Wotton, Oshawa, began the push with Munro leading the way on foot and guiding the tanks with his cigaret. Without mishap he led them through the rain-lashed darkness and the cloud layer overhanging the mountains. Before daylight they had climbed to the crest of Colle di Casaglia.

GREEKS MOP UP IN RIMINI, ITALY—Greek troops are shown in mopping-up operations in Rimini, Italy, after the British Eighth Army took the town. Hundreds of Germans were captured in the operation. Now the British along the eastern flank of the Italian front are driving deeper into German positions beyond liberated Rimini, which was once the Adriatic anchor of the German defences.

Allied Troops Hit Albania To Speed Balkan Victory

ROME, Sept. 27—(AP).—Allied sea and air-borne troops have landed in Albania and on islands off Yugoslavia, the Allied command announced today, in operations to block German detachments fleeing from the Balkans toward the Reich. "Land forces of the Adriatic" already were operating on a wide front in the Adriatic area of Albania, a Balkan air force communique said.

No indication was given of the size of the units involved. Evidently the purpose was to provide still another facet to the many-sided squeeze on Germans in south-eastern Europe.

The Allied naval command said that Royal Navy landing craft, supported by destroyers and light coastal vessels, had been operating since September 15 among the southern Dalmatian Islands off Yugoslavia, carrying Allied troops and Partisans who were striking at German withdrawal routes.

The Allied command's announcement said land operations thus far included destruction of the German garrison at Himara, in Albania. The operation made use of the Albanian coastal road so precarious for the Germans that "the enemy was forced to send supplies to other garrisons by small sea-going craft," the announcement said.

Generally, in the past, Adriatic land force operations have been of a commando type, involving relatively small numbers of troops.

The Germans have been reported massing along the Greek frontiers of Yugoslavia and Albania, preparatory to a trek back toward Germany. Those who have crossed the borders have been attacked by the Partisans.

Allied naval coastal units operating in the Aegean Sea drove a small enemy ship ashore on the island of Melos. In that region Allied naval forces have been waging a determined campaign to break up enemy efforts to evacuate their garrisons from the Aegean islands.

Heavy Bombing In Third Day

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP)—More than 1,100 American heavy bombers attacked railway yards and industrial plants at Kassel, Ludwigshafen, Cologne and Mainz, all in Western Germany.

The big U.S. bombers struck out in the third straight day of heavy attacks on German communications and war plants behind the western front.

A strong force of British Lancasters and Halifaxes set fires at the inland German port of Karlsruhe and at Frankfurt last night in attacks costing two bombers.

UNRRA Goes Into Action Duties Clearly Outlined

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 — (CP). — The world's greatest joint humanitarian project, launched by 44 nations and associated nations — the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration — set out today armed with fresh authority and clarified aims as a result of the 10-day council meeting concluded here.

Its director-general, Herbert M. Lehman, told the closing plenary session late yesterday that the administration now was down out of the skies and its responsibilities for aiding the needy people of war ravaged land clearly defined.

He expressed the hope that the administration would never be placed in the position of seeking aid from any of the member governments.

The second council meeting of U.N.R.R.A. closed with many speeches in praise of L. B. Pearson, Canadian Minister to Washington who was elected council chairman.

Praise also was given his alternate members on the council, Brooke Claxton, member of parliament for the Montreal riding of St. Lawrence-St. George and parliamentary assistant to Prime Minister King.

Representatives of many nations, prominent and obscure, spoke at the closing session but Russia was silent as it has been during most of the meeting.

The first meeting of the council was held in Atlantic City last November, immediately after the representatives of the 44 nations had affixed their signatures to the U.N.R.R.A. declaration at Washington.

This was the second meeting — the constitution calls for two each year — and it is expected that the next meeting will be held abroad. Mr. Lehman, in his closing speech, said he hoped it would be in one of the liberated countries.

Must Not Fail

Mr. Pearson said U.N.R.R.A. offered a great example of co-operation to the world, and warned that if it failed there could be little hope for world organization for peace.

Richard K. Law, head of the United Kingdom delegation, observed that stress here had been laid upon European relief, but he said that was because the need there was more urgent.

He expressed the hope that no one would lose sight of the fact that U.N.R.R.A. has the same responsibility to the war ravaged peoples of the Far East, and would discharge that responsibility.

Tsingfu Tsiang, Chinese delegate, said his country realized, and all others should that those countries which were described as "contributing countries", were not giving of their surplus but were taxing themselves heavily, and going short in order to share with more unfortunate people.

28 Families Live In Tents

HULL, Que., Sept. 26 (CP) — Some of the 28 families living in tents along the road between here and Wrightville, Que., may be given temporary shelter in the De Salaberry Armories, headquarters of the 2nd Battalion of the Hull Regiment, Mayor Raymond Brunet last night told the city council.

Mayor Brunet, who called the council meeting to discuss the housing situation, said he had learned from "semi-official" circles that National Defence Headquarters would grant the city permission to use the Armories to house the families, who have been evicted from their homes.

Council chamber yesterday was turned into temporary accommodation for two families, composed of four adults and 19 children.

The most pathetic case I saw was that of Mrs. Horace Viau, who found herself on the street with her four children two days after receiving official notification that her husband had been seriously wounded while serving with the Canadian Army in France," Mayor Brunet said. "She was crying freely when she came to my office to beg for some help, so we made arrangements to move her into N. 3 Fire Station."

8th Extends New Gains Across River

German Losses Mount Daily Beyond Gothic Line

ROME, Sept. 27.—(CP).— The British 8th Army has extended its bridgeheads across the Rubicon, one-time boundary between Rome and her ancient empire, running through the southeastern edge of the Po Valley, and elements have fought their way into the outskirts of Bellaria, nearly eight miles northwest of Rimini on the Ravenna Road.

Meantime a strong German counter-attack in which, an official report said, the enemy "expanded liberally his personnel," drove American forces of the Allied 5th Army from part of the Monte la Fine Hill Mass, 20 miles south of Bologna.

Reports last night said Canadian infantry and tanks of the 8th Army had driven forward six miles beyond Rimini along the Adriatic coast to take Bordonchio, next large coastal town north of the fallen Gothic Line anchor.

They broke through the main body of the German 1st Parachute Division after extremely heavy barrage in which the enemy was believed to have suffered serious casualties.

More Cross River.

On their left, British and Indian units of the 8th crossed the Rubicon at several points southwest of San Arcangelo, taking many prisoners and seizing Palazzuola, eight miles east of Firenzuola, and Marradi, four miles farther east.

British units occupied San Benedetto, 23 miles south of Imola.

Northwest of Firenzuola, the Americans cracked enemy resistance and seized Monte Beni, 22 airline miles due south of Bologna. They also won the south slopes of nearby Monte Freddi. Caselliaccia, 2½ miles southwest of Monte Freddi, was taken.

Northeast of Firenzuola the 5th Army captured Monte Acuto and Monte Pratolungo, connected by a trunk highway which passes through the mountains to Imola in the Po Valley 15 miles away.

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY, France, Sept. 27 (CP Cable) — Canadian infantry hammered closer toward the outskirts of Calais and across its inundated western approaches today as the little channel port still smouldered from the second straight day of heavy R.A.F. bombing and prepared for more.

The Canadians have already overrun the most heavily-fortified perimeter defences to the west and southwest of Calais, taking more than 1,000 prisoners.

The Germans still hold tough fortifications near the coast within a mile of the town, but elsewhere have been withdrawing behind flooded flats and a canal line.

On the 1st Canadian Army front south of Antwerp, British forces hold the town of Turnhout and have strengthened their bridgehead across the Antwerp-Turnhout canal in the area of St. Leonard.

Canadian troops in the Antwerp area have been sweeping up and down the south bank of the 25-mile waterway which joins the Escaut canal near the eastern outskirts of Antwerp after giving up a bridgehead against which the Germans counter-attacked in strength.

(Another front dispatch said today Canadian forces were across the canal "in considerable strength.")

The Nazis still have forces north of Antwerp, particularly around the factory area of Merxem across the Escaut which opens into the Antwerp dock area. This dock area now is in Canadian hands.

Except for strongpoints around the area of Les Baraques and Fort Lapin near the coast west of the entrance to the port of Calais, the Germans have been driven out of nearly all their major positions guarding the town from the west and south-west.

Judge Admits Fire Statement

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 27 (CP)—A statement police said was given to them by Douglas Alfred Dunsmoor and saying he started a fire in the Moose Hall last May 23 was admitted in evidence by Mr. Justice J. A. Hope today at Dunsmoor's trial on a charge of murder. He is charged in the death of Mrs. Dorothy Martin, 33, one of the 10 persons who lost their lives as a result of the fire.

"I went into the meeting hall and through the door that leads to a cloakroom at the rear of the hall," the statement said in part. "In this cloakroom I saw a piece of burlap covering something. I had no idea what was underneath. I bent down and struck a match and put it to the burlap and it started to flame. I walked out of the door into the small hall. I think I closed the door behind me and I walked out of the building."

The statement said Dunsmoor walked around the block and back to the building.

"When I walked back I heard screams and realized what I had done. A man in an auto said there was a fire in the hall which I already knew."

When he reached the hall, police and fire departments were already there and he started to help with the injured people on the lawn.

"After I saw the condition of the people, I realized what a terrible thing I had done," said the statement telling how he went for a drink of water at a nearby apartment and how "I got sick at the smell of burning clothes, or whatever the smell was." He remembered nothing further until he recovered consciousness at the hospital from where his father took him home the next day.

The statement by the 26-year-old former employee of the Royal Oak Dairy whose employees were having a dance party in the hall the night of the fire was the subject of keen debate between opposing counsel.

Allies Yield Key Position Beyond Rhine River Paratroop Losses Heavy

Bad Weather, Scarcity Of Supplies Blamed For Withdrawal
Wounded Left Behind In Small Pocket

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 27 — (AP). — Britain's lost division—all that remained of it after nine days' lone battle for a cross-Rhine foothold at Arnhem—was withdrawn Monday night to the south bank of the river. How few or how many of the battered and bloody British first air-borne division got out was not disclosed. Its wounded had to be left behind to become prisoners. Its living had written a new epic of heroism in the records of British arms.

The loss of the tenuous north bank foothold that might have opened a way for a flanking sweep around the north end of the Siegfried Line was one of the first times since the invasion that the Allies have had to yield a key position.

It was yielded this time not through any lack of battle tenacity nor sacrifice of the hard-fighting British first air-borne, but because the "Red Devils" were forced to hold out alone—without reinforcements or more than a trickle of supplies—longer than an air-borne division is equipped to fight.

Field Marshal Montgomery's land drive north through Eindhoven was delayed too long in winning the Nijmegen Bridge to reach Arnhem while the paratroops still held the bridge there.

Counter-attacks into which the Germans hurled some of their toughest S.S. divisions pushed the paratroops back into the woods west of the town.

The miserable weather prevented the normal strengthening of the pocket by airborne reinforcements and heavier arms. One Polish reinforcement drop was attempted—but the Polish troops landed on the wrong side of the Rhine.

Much about the withdrawal, which had been cloaked under a 48-hour censorship ban on news at the request of Field Marshal Montgomery, remained to be explained.

The British public waited anxiously—for word of how many were killed, how many wounded and left behind, how many got back to the strength of their lines south of the river.

Division Is 9,000.

The normal strength of a British paratroop division is 9,000 men. The Germans, in declaring the division annihilated, claimed 6,400 were captured and 1,500 killed.

There was no immediate explanation why, when the withdrawal was made Monday night, a news ban on the grounds of security was necessary until to-night. Presumably it was to allow time for a last few survivors to get clear.

South of this bitter battlefield the wedge into Holland had been broadened deeply by the British 2nd Army.

British forces struck eastward through mediocre resistance to Boxmeer, 13 miles south-east of Nijmegen and 13 miles south-west of Kleve. They were along the Maas for five miles from Boxmeer south to Groningen, and three miles from the Geman border.

This thrust was south of the double - pointed British-American push into Germany which had carried within eight miles or less of Kleve, northern anchor of the Siegfried Line.

Some 30 miles farther south along the Maas, Belgian troops reached the west bank of the river on a 10-mile front between Wessem and Dilsen within sight of Germany. The Allies were closing up toward the Mass from the Boxmeer to Wessen areas for a solid front.

Russian Armies Liberate All Of Estonia

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press War Correspondent

MOSCOW, Sept. 27 (AP) — The Russian Northern Armies turned virtually their full weight today upon the German garrisons in Latvia, aiming their strength at Riga, its capital, in a three-directional drive that overran more than 300 communities in one day.

For all practical purposes neighboring Estonia to the north already was liberated.

A communique last night said Red Army troops captured 200 places yesterday in clearing up Estonia's west coast. Few Germans now remain on Estonian soil except those on the Fortress Islands off-shore.

On the southern end of the eastern front the Russians appeared to be concentrating new pressure on Hungary. Although nothing was said officially concerning Hungary there seemer reason to believe the combined Russian and Romanian armies are battering at its borders and may already have crossed.

Hungary Weakens

(The Paris radio quoted Istanbul diplomatic circles as saying it was believed "only a question of hours" before Hungary, weakening under the increasing pressure, appeals to the Allies through Turkey for an armistice.)

But it was at Riga the Germans had been placed in the most obvious peril. The Nazis were fighting desperate rear-guard actions around the port and Red Armies closed in from three directions—some six miles away on the south, 37 on the east, and 45 on the northeast.

The Germans still hold a narrow corridor from Riga along the Baltic coast to East Prussia, but it was under constant Russian air attack.

Greeks Resent Aid To Italians

LONDON, Sept. 27.— (CP). —A Greek government spokesman said to-day his people would resent the newly-announced UNRRA plan for increased aid to Italy while Greece, the victim of Italian aggression, still was suffering deeply.

He asserted that Greeks feel their country had suffered most of all among the European Allies and had the right to claim the greatest aid from the United Nations.

Relief of not more than $50,000,000 to Italy was approved in a resolution adopted by the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in Montreal Tuesday.

French Demand Free News
Approve Interchange Of World News

PARIS, Sept. 27 (AP) — Pierre Teitgen, Minister of Information in the De Gaulle administration, has expressed full agreement with the United States Congressional resolution advocating free world interchange of news, declaring such unhindered diffusion of news "is a condition of democracy's good functioning."

"The French government thinks that free dissemination of information throughout the whole world necessitates not only freedom of News Agencies but also for both National and Foreign Agencies free access to means of communication without differential rates," he told the Associated Press.

The statement, which implied French participation in any international agreement, was issued by Teitgen after conversation with Frank J. Starzel, assistant general manager of the Associated Press.

Teitgen indicated the De Gaulle regime intends to recreate the French press free of its frankly acknowledged baneful pre-war influences.

The two questionable features were maintenance of the National News Agency Havas, tied directly with the government, and the extraneous financial influence wielded over a number of large newspapers.

Canuck Fliers Blast 10 Nazi Aircraft

AN ADVANCED R.C.A.F. AIRFIELD IN BELGIUM, Sept. 27.—(CP Cable.)—R.C.A.F. fighter pilots, meeting their first opposition in many weeks, destroyed 10 German aircraft over the Arnhem-Nijmelen battle area in Holland Monday and according to field reports from Reuter News Agency added another eight yesterday.

The Germans put more than 100 fighters and fighter-bombers into the air Monday in a vain attempt to knock out the important Rhine bridges in the British 2nd Army's salient. With local superiority in numbers they showed willingness to fight.

But the Canadian airmen, eager for action after a long period of uneventful patrols, tore into the enemy formations and outfought them.

The victories were scored by wings flying from Belgian airfields. Six aircraft were shot down by pilots under command of Group Capt. W. R. MacBrien of Ottawa, while squadrons of the wing commanded by Wing Cmdr. Dal Russel, D.S.O., D.F.C. and Bar, of Westmount, Que., destroyed four and damaged two more.

Among the airmen of Russell's squadron, Flt. Lt. G. W. Johnson, D.F.C., of Hamilton, Ont., knocked down two ME109's and damaged another. Flt. Lt. Russ Bouskill of Toronto destroyed an FW190 and damaged an ME109 and Flt. Lt. Don Laubman destroyed an ME109. The victories were Johnson's eighth, Bouskill's fourth and Lauman's sixth.

Preliminary R.C.A.F. reports gave the City of Oshawa squadron credit for two of yesterday's victories and for a third plane which was damaged.

Flt. Lt. John McGill of Waterdown, Ont., near Hamilton, also shot down a FW190 in the Arnhem area.

Navy Auxiliary Widens Field

At a special meeting of the Navy Auxiliary, Tuesday evening in the Y.W.C.A., it was announced that the date for overseas boxes for packing had been set for October 10, in St. John's Church, and members were asked to volunteer their services on that day. A large part of the buying has already been completed, and Mrs. R. Pilling, knitting convener, said that she thought that there was enough knitted goods to fill the boxes. The date for the packing of boxes for Navy boys in Canada will be announced later.

After considerable discussion, members decided not to limit the field of the Auxiliary's activities to any set section, and that a box would be sent to every boy or girl in the Navy or merchant marine, whose name was sent in. A request was again voiced that names be sent in as soon as possible, since boxes cannot be sent out to everyone unless the names are submitted. A total of 900 boxes has been purchased, 100 in excess of the 800 originally suggested, leaving the extra boxes to cover any emergency or unexpected increase in the lists of names. Mrs. F. Merrett presided.

Canadians Face Germans Across Canal

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ANTWERP, Sept. 27 — (CP Cable) —Canadian forces holding Antwerp and the Germans across the Albert Canal in Merxem, the manufacturing section of this second largest city in Belgium, are virtually looking down each other's gun barrels.

In Antwerp the Canadians are holding the town and guarding the locks there — locks vital to maintaining Antwerp as a port which eventually can be used as a supply centre for building new Allied advances.

But first the Germans must be driven back across the Schelde estuary and away from the north bank of the Schelde River between here and the sea.

Across a canal here the Germans control the plant which produces electric power for Antwerp. There has been no move yet on the Germans' part to deprive Antwerp of electricity. It is estimated that 20,000 civilians in Merxem, a northern section of the city, are menaced by the opposing forces.

Troops from Ontario hold the city proper, while to the north-east the Canadian front stretches along the line of the Antwerp-Turnhout Canal which is patrolled constantly as troops from Eastern Canada, Western Canada, and the French-speaking units feel out the enemy's strength.

Nazis Report

One front dispatch today declared troops had driven across the Antwerp-Turnhout Canal "in considerable strength," while it also said they were "sweeping up and down the south bank" of the 25-mile water barrier which links with the Escaut Canal near Antwerp.

Canadians previously had been forced to give up a bridgehead across the canal when the Germans counter-attacked fiercely.

Nearing Calais

First Canadian Army infantry, far to the rear of the main Allied front, was hammering closer to the outskirts of Calais today, after overrunning most of its heavily-fortified perimeter defences on the west and southwest.

They have taken more than 1,000 prisoners, as the Germans withdraw behind flooded flats and a canal line. The enemy still holds some well-set defences near the town.

In westward pushes, British units shoved out 10 miles to the town of Oss, 16 miles southwest of Nijmegen.

Farther south, a British formation drove west from Eindhoven and linked with the right flank of the 1st Canadian Army near Arendonck, forming a solid assault line through Turnhout to Antwerp.

American air freighters carried reinforcements and supplies into Holland yesterday. Berlin reported fresh British airborne landings yesterday southeast of Nijmegen and near Veghel.

The German air force hit harder at Allied roads and columns, but Allied fighters downed 44 planes over middle Holland and western Germany in air fights yesterday.

News Blackout

The news blackout on Arnhem imposed by Field Marshal Montgomery's headquarters also covered the whole salient north of Nijmegen and south of Arnhem.

The German high command said Allied attacks north and east of Nijmegen were beaten back, and that heavy toll had been taken of 2nd Army attempts to relieve the Arnhem pocket. The enemy bulletin said the last resistance in the Arnhem area was broken yesterday after 10 days of bitter fighting against "hurriedly concentrated forces of all Wehrmacht services" under generals commanding tanks, troops and airplanes.

This announcement, unconfirmed by Allied sources, also listed heavy booty and said 1,000 Allied cargo gliders were destroyed or seized.

Heavy action still marked the long American front from Aachen to Belfort. Infantry forged slowly ahead southeast of Nancy and east of Epinal, where the Germans said a new American offensive was underway.

A battle of heavy guns continued around Metz, strongest fortress of western France.

Allied planes beat at one of the three main forts guarding Metz today, and fliers estimated 25 per cent of the stronghold and its subsidiary fortifications was destroyed.

Infantry attacking after the air blow, however, ran into heavy mortar and machine-gun fire.

Counter-Attack Beaten

The U.S. 3rd Army beat down another counter-attack near Marshal, 21 miles east of Nancy, and fought doggedly into enemy positions based on First Great War pill-boxes in the Baccarat area southeast of Nancy.

The 7th Army on the sector to the south gained from two to five miles on a front east of Epinal, where the Vosges foothills funnel into the Belfort Gap to Germany.

North of Epinal, 7th Army men hit deeply across the Upper Moselle, and took four towns, including Chatel Sur Moselle, along an arc five miles northeast to eight miles east of Epinal. Heavy battle raged in sodden fields along the Moselle midway between Remiremont and Belfort.

Grievdeldange, a mile from Germany, was taken in an advance 10 miles east of the city of Luxembourg.

Grace Church Observes 46th Anniversary

APSLEY, Sept. 27 — (ENS). — Commemorating the opening forty-six years ago of Grace United Church in Apsley, a large number of the congregation and visitors from the district were present on Sunday to join in the anniversary services.

Opened for the first time in September, 1898, forty-six years later finds the church made more lovely by the addition of new gates and walk, which were dedicated by the Rev. G. C. Robb, assisted by Rev. A. H. McConnachie. They were dedicated to the glory of God and to the memory of those who have labored to build the church, leaving it as a place where future generations may worship.

In the warm September sunlight, a hymn was sung by the congregation, while they marched into the church, led by those who worked to complete the building, and followed by the choir and ministers.

Isaiah 45, 22, was the text of the sermon delivered by the guest speaker, Rev. Mr. McConnachie of Peterborough. Later he spoke to the boys and girls, and told them a fable with a moral.

A large choir, under the leadership of Mrs. John Reynolds, and assisted by Mrs. W. C. Church, Stanley Northey, and members of the junior choir of Eden Church, sang several selections. A program of favorite hymns was sung, and solos were presented by Mrs. W. Hepburn, and Miss Gladys Langton of Peterborough. A trio, made up of Mrs Church, Mrs. Northey, and Miss Langton, also sang.

Six members of the Eden Church junior choir sang "When Jesus came into my Heart," and duets were heard by Mrs. Church, Mrs. Northey, Maureen Woodbeck, Grace Pomeroy (with guitar accompaniment by Maureen Woodbeck), and another trio was Betty Davis, Grace Pomeroy, and Doreen Bullied.

Rev. Mr. Robb, in thanking the congregation for their valued efforts for the church, read the names of workers, which invariably included at least one name from every family in the neighborhood.

"It has been through the efforts of the Young Peoples Society and the Sunday School Department that the church interior has been redecorated," he said, adding that beside refurnishing, new congoleum had been laid on the platform and aisles, and the church had been complemented with potted plants and cut flowers.

A special guest at the service was Mrs. John Snelgrove, one of the original workers in building the church, who came from Swan River, Manitoba, to be present.

At the evening service music was again a highlight, and solos were sung by Miss Longton, Mrs. Hepburn, and Bobbie Tamblin, a boy soloist from Peterborough.

Among outside guests attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John Northey, Mr. and Mrs. S. Northey and family, Mrs. T. Williams and Marie, Misses Isobel and Emma Reid, Mrs. Bruce Reid, Gordon Reid, Irma Lean, Mr. and Mrs. W. Church, Mrs. H. Bronson, all of Mount Julian; Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hinlay, Mr. and Mrs McFadden, Mrs. W. Lean, Mr. and Mrs. N. Wilson, Mrs. W. Tucker, Mrs. H. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. James Tucker and Myrtle, Mr. and Mrs. John Tucker, all of Apsley.

Personals

Misses Doreen Hales and Irene Tucker, attending Collegiate in Peterborough, spent the week-end at their home here.

Mrs. W. Lean is spending this week in Ashworth and Sprucedale, judging the Home Departments of the fairs being held there.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, September 28

A SUDDEN precipitation of an event, dramatic and breath-taking, may exert a far-reaching influence on the life, its fortunes and destiny. It may be an uprooting occurence, demanding swift, and well-considered action, with decisions based on conventional rules and codes, even though the performance may be unique, novel and with employment of fresh methods and techniques out of the beaten routines. There may be public issues involved, in which initiative and bold strokes may be demanded in order to secure support from influential sources. There may be chances, gambles or extravagances but eventually spectacular achievement and proportionate rewards. Be wise in home or friendly ties.

Those whose birthday it is are likely to find themselves in a year of the sudden, revolutionary and unpredictable, with much commotion, change, uprootings or departures from conventional and orthodox ways and means. However, any radical measures must be revised and tempered to win public or community support and approbation, lest the more conservative element withhold co-operation. Bold strokes and determined efforts, may break down private resistance and prevent estrangements. In the end good luck and success may descend "from the blue." Be kind and tactful in domestic situations. Shun excesses.

A child born on this day should have exceptional talents, skills and originality, its genius eventually breaking down opposition if it preserves and holds to its optimistic attitude.

Doctor Guilty Of Neglect

WINDSOR, Sept. 27 — (CP). — A coroner's jury inquiring into the death of 11-year-old Lawrence Mayea from hydrophobia Sept. 2 found that Senator Gustave Lacasse, medical officer of health for Sandwich East, neglected to take proper steps to locate the rabid dog which bit the boy or to inform the proper authorities.

The jury said further that Dr. Lacasse showed "a certain amount of neglect" by "not administering preventive treatment for rabies when the unknown dog could not be found within 14 days after occurrence of the bite."

Jerry Mayea, the boy's father, and several other witnesses testified that they did not know the boy died of rabies until they read it in a newspaper 16 days after his death.

Under questioning by Crown Attorney E. C. Awrey, Dr. Lacasse said he did nothing during the first week after treating the boy's wound to locate the dog.

Asked if he reported the case, the physician said: "to myself, as health officer."

The doctor said he did not give Pasteur treatments to the boy because it had never been his policy during 30 years of practising medicine to give Pasteur treatments except where it had been definitely shown that the bite was that of a rabid dog.

Dr. C. George, who took up the case after Dr. Lacasse dismissed it, said he did not know the boy had been bitten by a dog until he examined the child the week he died and Dr. G. H. Collacutt, federal veterinary in charge of Essex County, said he heard nothing about the case "until I heard rumors on the street."

"Then," commented Crown Attorney Awrey, "you were just like the Crown Attorney in that regard."

Dr. J. Breault, who also attended the boy, said when he decided the case was one of rabies he reported it to the city medical health officer.

Dr. James M. Young, coroner, conducted the inquest and when the jury returned its verdict, after 45 minute deliberation, he said: "I think, gentlemen, you've covered it very well."

OBITUARIES

JOSEPH MINICOLA

In the passing of the late Joseph Minicola, 189 Stewart street, Peterborough lost a splendid citizen.

For years he was a faithful employee of the Peterborough Utilities Commission, waterworks department. He was a pious member of St. Peter's Cathedral where high mass was chanted for the repose of his soul by Rev. F. A. Morrocco, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

The profusion of flowers and the large number of spiritual offerings bore testimony of the high esteem and respect in which he was held by all his acquaintances.

Interment took place in St. Peter's Cemetery; the service being conducted by Rev. Father Morrocco.

Casket-bearers were Messrs. John Cupoli, Joseph Giannino, Anthony Pepe, Alfred Pepe, Nicholas Vicchiarella and Chris. McGrath.

THOMAS CONNOLLY

An employee of the Quaker Oats Company for the past twenty years, Thomas Connolly, native of Galway, Ireland, died at his home, 381 Queen Street on Tuesday afternoon after an illness of six months, aged 44 years.

Born in Galway, Ireland, where his mother Mrs. Ann Connolly still lives, Mr. Connolly came to Peterborough in 1924 and had lived here ever since.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mildred Conway, two children, Ruth 9 and Ronald 8, one sister, Mrs. B. Rex, Ireland, two brothers, Martin in Ireland and Bartley in the Marines overseas.

The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 10 o'clock from his late residence 381 Queen Street to St. Peter's Cathedral where Requiem High Mass will be sung. Interment will be in St. Peter's Cemetery.

Mr. Connolly was a member of St. Peter's congregation and of the Holy Name and Altar Societies.

Farmers Must Be Sold On Tourist Trade

WINDSOR, Sept. 27.—(CP). — What the provinces have accomplished heretofore and what they propose to achieve in the future development of the tourist industry in Canada provides a post-war challenge to the entire Dominion, according to reports submitted by provincial delegates at the convention of the National Tourist Advisory committee here.

Theme of the reports presented by the provincial delegates was that Canadians should be educated on Canada, and Canadian farmers should be specifically told of the importance of the tourist industry and of the benefits they could derive from its post-war development.

"We should revamp the publicity system of our tourist accommodation," declared D. R. Oliver, delegate for Ontario. "It's all very good for United States tourists to read about the lovely beaches, the ideal fishing spots and magnificent summer playgrounds. We should be prepared to back up our publicity by actually showing them that we have those facilities."

He said that the purchase of fishing licenses by United States' tourists alone brought $404,000 to Ontario in 1941—the largest amount ever derived from that source of revenue in the history of the province.

Marking of historical sites throughout Ontario and the establishment of courses in hotel management and tourist camp outfitting, also were advocated by Mr. Oliver. "We should try to establish a better understanding between the northern and southern sections of the province," he said.

Karlsruhe is on the Rhine 100 miles beyond Metz, for which Americans are fighting. Frankfurt is about the same distance from Luxembourg, and both cities are supply centres for the embattled German armies.

Drop 6,000 Tons

It was estimated that 6,000 tons of explosives plummeted on six German centres during the last 24 hours.

Many heavy bombers and swarms of lesser planes crossed the Channel on this third successive day of concentrated aerial attack.

The Germans had been using Karlsruhe as a supply and reinforcement centre for the southern end of the western front. A reconnaissance pilot saw smoke 8,000 feet above the city.

Frankfurt, a Prussian industrial city of 547,000, is a meeting point of a net of railroads and the home of several large chemical plants. Specific night targets there were not named.

More than 4,000 Allied planes were in action over the Continent yesterday, counting fighters and fighter-bombers. Ten American and four British bombers were lost.

Karlsruhe apparently bore the brunt of last night's assaults, the Air Ministry reporting the city was hit by "a strong force" of Lancasters which left large fires from which smoke rose to a great height.

Two planes were lost in the overnight raids and one German plane was shot down off the British southeast coast.

First reports from British coastal observers indicated that the daylight raids today were being carried out in great strength.

Later the Associated Press listening post reported German radio programs interrupted with the announcement that enemy aircraft were over western and southwestern Germany.

Italy-based R.A.F. bombers attacked a 1,500-foot railroad viaduct near Borovnica, Yugoslavia, 40 miles northeast of Trieste, in the Balkan bridge-wrecking campaign.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27 — (CP). — Rye futures showed a sharp reversal yesterday, declining 5 to 5⅜ cents a bushel on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

Prices, which advanced as much as 10 cents a bushel on Monday, declined from the opening day following the trend at Chicago, where lower values prevailed.

Trading in oats futures was quiet, with prices unchanged to fractionally lower.

Little activity was reported in the export market, sales being confined to 200,000 bushels of oats to United States buyers.

ON THE GERMAN FRONTIER, Sept. 27—(CP Cable)—The Siegfried Line in the region east of Eupen is an imposing array of pill boxes, concrete tank obstacles and deep anti-tank pits. It stretches as far as the eye can see and on both sides of the line there are the bivouacs of American soldiers who have taken over from the supermen.

Through a dark pine forest we drove for two miles along the line. The road to Germany was muddy and treacherous and Lieut. Dave Campbell of Hamilton, Ont., could not prevent the jeep from skidding into a big tree as we slowly rounded a corner.

Anything can happen up here. During a halt before reaching Eupen, a town of German-speaking Belgians near the frontier, we met an English woman from Sheffield and her Belgian husband. At her home she brewed a pot of black-market tea and then played the piano as her husband played sentimental songs on the violin.

Near Dolhain, where the German frontier ran before 1918, we began to hear German spoken in the streets. Belgian flags flew in Dolhain but there were only two or three in Eupen, and a member of the resistance movement said 80 per cent of the population of Eupen were Nazi sympathizers.

Belgium merges into Germany inconspicuously and even after entering the formidable fortifications of the Siegfried Line you would hardly know you were in a different country. The only clues are signs in German above the shops and the absence of Belgian flags. There are few people in the streets and the odd ones you see are surly.

Travel Bureau To Expand Tourist Program

WINDSOR, Sept. 27 (CP) — An enlarged and more adequate Canadian Government Travel Bureau with a skilled editorial division, staffed by writers who know Canada's attractions for the tourist, was suggested here yesterday by D. Leo Dolan, present chief of the Bureau. He was speaking to delegates attending the three-day National Tourist Advisory Committee conference.

Mr. Dolan said he had a plan which would expand present services to bring Canadian attractions and a knowledge of Canada before an increasing number of prospective visitors. "The Dominion must face this duty or lose out in the highly-competitive bidding for the tourist dollar," he said.

Stating that large sums had already been spent by every State in the United States, Mexico and South American countries on tourist attractions, he said "all are out after more tourist dollars and Canada must keep its sights high."

Boost Finances

Following discussion the committee suggested that a minimum of $750,000 be sought from the Federal government for Tourist promotion. Previously the figure was set at $500,000.

Mr. Dolan said that in normal pre-war years the nation netted several times the figure set from tourist revenues.

Earlier Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, Minister of National War Services told the meeting he was "prepared to go along with you. You give good proposals from this gathering and I'll do my utmost to see they are implemented."

Provincial Cabinet Ministers from the nine provinces also promised co-operation.

A sub-committee was appointed to prepare a resolution setting forth ways in which it is hoped to provide employment for returned servicemen in the Tourist industry.

Gentiles Only Sign Dubbed Illegal

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — The defendant having consented to the court order, Chief Justice Rose, in the first prosecution under the new Ontario Discrimination Act, yesterday issued an injunction restraining Stewart Beamish, operator of a Wilcox Lake summer resort lodge, from displaying a sign "Gentiles Only" on his premises.

The notice for an injunction was brought by J. B. Salsberg, M.P.P., represented by Joseph Newman.

Though the original motion asked the court to impose penalties upon Mr. Beamish, Mr. Newman withdrew the request for a fine and asked the Chief Justice not to impose a penalty. C. P. Hope, representing the Attorney-General, also consented to the request that no fine be imposed.

Defining the aim of the legislation under which the motion was launched, Mr. Newman commented that it concerned itself with the "dignity of the individual—it inferentially affirms the right to be different."

"The Fascist countries with which the democracies are now engaged in such a deadly struggle have followed the very opposite course," Mr. Newman observed. "Their legislation, in relation to their minorities, is, in fact, a negation of the dignity of a person. Their minorities are degraded in their legislation."

Mr. Newman added, in withdrawing the request for a fine and costs, that Mr. Beamish had expressed his intention to abstain from further displaying the offensive sign.

The Chief Justice issued the injunction without costs to either side.

Potato Club's Work Examined At Fair

COBOURG, Sept. 27 — (ENS) — Brighton Fair featured a boys' potato club among the many attractions. The club was organized last spring by Africultural Representative Ralph C. Banbury. Each boy purchased a bag of certified Katahdin seed potatoes and the County Crop Improvement Association donated sufficient dust to protect the growing plants. During the summer the fields were visited and scored and meetings were conducted to study the subject.

In the final score those completing the project stood as follows:

Grant Kerr, Harold Morgan, Robert Post, Harold Van Slyke, W. Carr, Hubert Herrington, Max Morgan and Ronald Bulman. The best field while growing was that of Ronald Bulman; Robert Post had the best potatoes on exhibit; Harold Van Slyke was high man in the judging competition and Harold Morgan was high man in the examination. The boys in most cases had good returns from their crop and will have a good seed supply with which to carry on next year.

BEWARE THE MOOSE — Another of Canada's famed heavy bomber squadrons has received its official crest, signed by His Majesty the King. The Moose Squadron, one of the R.C.A.F.'s earliest bomber units, was named after the late Wing Commander John "Moose" Fulton, D.S.O., D.F.C., A.F.C., of Kamloops, B.C., and perpetuates his name. Its crest depicts a Canadian moose charging an opponent, and carries the moto "MOOSA ASWAYITA," which in the Cree language means "Beware the Moose"

Rev. G. S. Lloyd New Moderator

CORNWALL, Sept. 27.—(CP). — Rev. G. S. Lloyd, rector of the St. John's Presbyterian church here, last night was elected moderator of the Montreal and Ottawa Synod of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Mr. Lloyd, formerly of Midland, Ont., succeeds Rev. Henry Cousens of Brockville, Ont., who preached the sermon at the opening of the two-day Synod meeting. Election of the new moderator was unanimous.

Addressing the 100-odd clergymen and laymen at the meeting, Mr. Cousens said the lack of young men entering the ministry and the general lack of interest by members of the congregations in churches was to be lamented.

"We as ministers must consider our calling and pray for an unclothing of the Holy Spirit and that the church no longer be a sleeping, easy-going concern, but something to inspire," he said.

The Christian "D-Day" had dawned the day Christ was born, but "all we have succeeded in doing in the past 2,000 years is to establish the beach head."

"It has cost blood, sweat, toil and tears. Surely our experience of the past few years has revealed that the day of sacrifice for the cause of Christ has not yet ended."

He wondered if church leaders saw their duties in their true light.

"Can it be possible that the apparent impotence of the church in the fact of massed forces of evil is due to our concentration upon the financial machinery of our congregation?" he asked. "If such is the case, then we are off the beam."

A Step Forward

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (CP).—Judge H. W. Motto of the family court said last night he believes the report of the Toronto Assistant Masters' Association on the problems of preventing and correcting juvenile delinquency may help to bring together the four agencies most interested in child welfare—the home, school, church and social organizations. The report was released Monday night.

Schools Collect 8,000 Bags Of Milkweed

COBOURG, Sept. 27 — (ENS) — Northumberland County children have responded well to the request for collection of milkweed pods and every school fence has a long line of sacks filled with the material. It is hanging in the sunshine so that it will dry without mould. The material is used in the making of life belts and other equipment which hequires a filler that is light and will float.

Eight thousand bags were delivered to the office of Agricultural Representative R. C. Banbury at Brighton, which has acted as distribution centre for the Agricultural Supplies Board at Ottawa. The public school inspectors A. A. Martin and W. H. Carlton have cooperated in the work. Further supplies have been ordered but at this time the 8,000 bags are being filled and any school with a surplus is asked to contact its neighbors who may need further supplies.

While only 20 cents a bag is the price promised the girls and boys for collecting, if all these bags are filled it would total a value of $1,500 and would make thousands of life preservers for airmen and sailors. Mr. Banbury points out that a side line is the fact that a nuisance weed may be controlled by preventing millions of seeds from reproducing.

Gangster Dies

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 27—(AP).—Phil Kennamer, 28, Tulsa's "society gang" slayer of Thanksgiving Day, 1934, has been killed in action as a paratrooper with the U.S. Army in France, his father was notified yesterday. Kennamer was paroled April 21, 1943, for the shooting of John F. Gorrell, socially-prominent Tulsa youth. He was serving 25 years for manslaughter when paroled.

Model Houses Feature Exhibit At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 27 — (ENS). — The Campbellford Fair got off to a good start with favorable weather and a splendid showing of exhibits. In the Domestic Science Dept. cakes, pies, buns, cookies and fruit, made under wartime conditions and the severe shortage of sugar, showed how problems could be faced and solved. In the handicrafts shown by pupils of the public schools were jardiniere stands, bird cages, stools, book-ends, and shoe and tie racks.

The high school pupils had a large exhibit of blouses, dresses, jumpers, knitting, ropework and woodwork, consisting of ladders, lamp stands, and stools. Some excellent metal work was also shown. The different societies exhibited war work, and comforts for the home.

Of outstanding interest in the large and varied art exhibit, were numerous examples of "houses that Campbellford needs", done by the boys and girls of the high school. These showed care and utility in the planning.

These were larger exhibits of poultry, cattle, sheep and horses and the judges time was fully occupied making their decisions.

The special events for Wednesday include: The potato race on horseback, the best dressed lady, the ladies' nail driving contest, the boys and girls singing, the old time fiddlers, the step dancers, the oldest man on the grounds, the boy or girl with the most attractive dog, the baby show and contest sponsored by the toy companies of Campbellford.

Have a Coca-Cola = Let's work refreshed

... or a helping hand on the farm

Have a "Coke", says a farm companion, and it means Let's work refreshed. In country home or city dwelling, frosty bottles of "Coke" belong in the icebox. Across Canada, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—a symbol of kindly hospitality.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called "Coke".

Into One Pocket — Sure! but OUT of the other

Each of us is both consumer and producer.

As a producer each of us would like to get MORE money for our goods or services.

As a consumer each of us wants the costs of living kept down.

But we can't have it both ways.

As long as goods are scarce and money plentiful, prices have to be controlled or they'd jump sky high.

If prices are to be kept down, then costs of production including salaries, wages and raw materials must also be controlled.

One Person Can Start It!

When any one of us:—

- offers to pay more than legal prices;
- asks higher returns for his services;
- asks higher prices for his goods.

He helps start a chain that forces every one else to do the same—and nobody is better off.

THIS IS ONE OF A SERIES ISSUED BY THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA TO EMPHASIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF PREVENTING FURTHER RISE IN THE COST OF LIVING NOW, AND DEFLATION LATER.

The Economic Straitjacket

Speaking on Monday night to a group of journalists, the Hon. J. L. Ilsley said, "we certainly do not propose to live in an economic straitjacket all our lives, which would prevent us from doing the work we all want to do". This statement is particularly cheering from the man who, as Minister of Finance, has had most to do in fashioning the economic straitjacket which Canadian business wears at present. We put on the straitjacket because it was necessary, and we will wear it cheerfully until the need for it has passed; Mr. Ilsley has said that he will take the greatest pleasure in getting us out of it when that moment comes.

In this respect the Finance Minister differs strongly from the financial advisors of the leftist political groups in Canada. Their idea is to keep the economic straitjacket on, and to tighten it. They do not express their wishes in quite that way, of course; they call their scheme 'planned economy', and they are clever at showing, on paper, how advantageous it would be to the whole nation. But a planned economy cannot work without a considerable degree of coercion, and control of many things which do not come within the economic sphere.

The periods in the history of mankind which have been most distinguished for freedom have been periods of free economy. Planning fosters monopoly—a type of monopoly far more powerful and hard to break than any which exists under capitalism—and a state of monopoly does not permit of competition. Planning, in the end, results in dictatorship, because everything which is contrary to the plan must be suppressed. Planning means that government officials decide what is good for the rest of the nation, and that government officials choose the groups which are to benefit by the plans. For it is not realistic to pretend that a planned economy is equally good for every citizen of the state; that is an impossible dream.

The alternative to 'planned economy' is not economic chaos and dog-eat-dog competition. The alternative has been summed up admirably by Friedrich A. Hayek, an Austrian economist who is now Professor of Economics at London University: "It is the price of democracy that the possibilities of conscious control are restricted to the fields where true agreement exists, and that in some fields things must be left to chance. It is only because the control of the means of production is divided among many people acting independently that nobody has complete power over us. The ultimate sanction of a planned society is the hangman".

The same authority condenses a large part of his political belief in this sentence: "The democratic statesman who sets out to plan economic life will soon be confronted with the alternative of either assuming dictatorial powers or abandoning his plans". That is to say, returning to Mr. Ilsley's figure of speech, that the political leader who wants to keep an economic straitjacket on his people must be prepared to shoot anyone who tries to take it off.

The Ku Klux Klan In Canada

An article in the current issue of Harper's Magazine recalls the activity and power of the Ku Klux Klan in the United States after the First Great War, and particularly the scandal which led to the downfall of David C. Stephenson, the Grand Dragon of that order in Indiana, and to the eventual collapse of the Klan everywhere.

The Klan was an astounding organization which was active after the American Civil War, but which died out by 1872, only to be revived in 1915; by 1924 it had a membership of six million. Founded originally to keep negroes in what Southern social philosophers considered "their place"—that is to say, very close to slavery—in its revived form it turned its attention also to Catholics, Jews and anyone whom the Klan considered "immoral". The Klan appealed to a particularly low type of mentality, and its members were men who lacked personal courage; but when they were clothed from head to foot in white, and thus unrecognizable, they were doughty fellows indeed. Then they were Knights of the Invisible Empire, organized in gangs known as Klaverns, ruled over by an Imperial Wizard, and with officials grotesquely labelled, Genii, Grand Dragons, Hydras, Great Titans, Furies, Giants, King Kleagles, Exalted Cyclops and Terrors; they held solemn Konklaves, and when they rode abroad they called their procession a Klavalcade.

We recall that the Klan spread to Canada, and formed Klaverns in one or two places. We recall in particular a Klavalcade which was held in an university city not far from Peterborough; the Klan had shown its power there by burning a fiery cross on the lawn of an unprotected Catholic widow, and had indulged in a few similar mysterious and Fascist shenanigans. But the Klavalcade was its downfall. Through the streets rode the Knights of the Invisible Empire, mounted on milk- and ice-wagon horses, or marching on foot, and—as they thought—heavily disguised in bed sheets and pillow cases. But many of them were easily recognizable by their gait, and ribald onlookers kept calling them by name, and urging them to take off their robes. That broke up the Klan; when their disguise was penetrated they lost all their zeal for terrorism. There must be a moral in this somewhere, but we shall allow our readers to discover it for themselves.

Fickle Winston Churchill

Fifteen years ago Winston Churchill visited the city of Vancouver, and he told the press that the view from Grouse Mountain was the most wonderful view in the world. He made a sketch of the view and took it home with him. This, to the citizens of Vancouver, seemed just as it should be, and they felt that they had Mr. Churchill, so to speak, 'in the bag'. But earlier this month the deceiver announced that the outlook from the Citadel at Quebec was "the most beautiful in the world". Vancouver is deeply wounded in its findings, and the Province of that city is ready to do battle. It admits, however, that "a good deal depends on the atmosphere, the circumstances, the mood of the observer". What the Province is trying to put across, obviously, is that when Mr. Churchill was at Quebec he was swept away by the success of the conference, and fell into the error of admiring an inferior view; when Reason regains her throne, it seems to say, he will recall Vancouver Harbour and regret his rash words.

We do not like to shatter a beautiful dream, but we know that Mr. Churchill is a scenic flirt, and that he has admired views all over the Empire, and has even sunk so low as to approve of prospects unconnected with the British Crown. Great man though he is, Churchill has a strong strain of the artist in him, and those fellows can never be depended upon to hold to one opinion forever. Fifteen years ago he won Vancouver's trusting, girlish heart, and now he has thrown it aside, like a squeezed orange, to take up with the hussy, Quebec. And who knows how many views he has admired in the interval? It was not so with Stanley Baldwin: when he admired a view he kept right on admiring it, even after bombs had messed it up.

A Night At The Opera

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

IT isn't often that first-rate opera comes to Canada, and when it is as near as Toronto I should be remiss in my duties if I did not pay it a visit and report to my parishioners upon it. According to Mr. Hector Charlesworth, who should know, there has been no opera of the finest quality in this province since the late King George V and Queen Mary were the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall; consequently, the visit of several of the stars of the Metropolitan in a repertoire of five great operas was an artistic event of the highest importance. If it had been possible, I should have attended every performance, but as going to the opera is an expensive business — particularly when it means a train journey—I saw only "The Barber of Seville," and thought myself very lucky to be there.

PEOPLE who care little about opera will doubtless want to know whether the performance was worth the price of the seat, the trainfare and the inconvenience? Of course it was. Hockey-lovers travel all over the province to pursue their hobby; opera-fans have the same enthusiasm. They never miss a performance unless unconquerable illness or grinding poverty keep them at home. Second only to the legitimate theatre, opera is the most exciting of all entertainments. Opera performed by the finest singers of our day is not to be missed on any account. And what an opera! "The Barber of Seville" is, quite justifiably, one of the most popular works in the operatic repertoire; most operas have their dull passages, but "The Barber" has none; most operas are lacking in humour, but "The Barber" is full of it. Except for a leggy chorus it has all the charms of musical comedy wedded to music of a very high order.

IT is a pity that opera in Toronto should be performed at Massey Hall when a good theatre is available. Massey Hall is a fine concert-hall; indeed, the late Paderewski thought it the best hall, acoustically, on this continent; but when it is converted into an opera house one end of it is hung with verdigris-green curtains of venerable age, which give any performance a somewhat makeshift and shabby air, and the lighting of the stage is of a very elementary kind. For the performance of "The Barber" some ancient and ill-painted scenery was used which seemed to have been borrowed from a Little Theatre in reduced circumstances. But it was easy to forgive these matters, for the orchestra was first-rate and the singers were superb. It is impossible for anyone who loves the theatre to see opera without wishing to lay violent hands on both scenery and costumes: but the music is the main thing, and the music of this performance was not open to criticism—not by me, at any rate.

ROSSINI was a curious and capricious workman. He called his opera "The Barber of Seville," and apparently he meant the Barber to be the leading character; but after a wonderful first appearance the Barber becomes almost a minor character. Francesco Valentino, who sang the part last week did his best to overcome this neglect by acting furiously when his colleagues were singing, but although he attracted a good deal of attention as a scene-stealer he did so at the expense of the ensemble. Dr. Bartolo, too, begins better than he ends in "The Barber"; Salvatore Baccaloni built up his part with a wealth of comic acting of a breadth not often seen in opera; in many ways he is reminiscent of the late Roy Byford, whose magnificent Falstaff was seen several times in this country. Don Basilio, a role which is not prominent in the plot of the opera, is of the greatest importance in performance, and Ezio Pinza got every ounce out of it. All things considered, Pinza was the best actor in the performance; he had a repose which even Baccaloni lacked, and he seemed to be able to impress himself upon the audience without trespassing on rights of his companions in the company. It is a curious circumstance that great operatic basses are often also fine actors; great tenors who can act are a rarity, and Canada gave the operatic stage one of the best in Edward Johnson, now the manager of the Metropolitan.

BUT criticisms which may be offered are trifling in comparison with the fact that the France-Film company brought a group of the finest singers in the world of opera to Toronto and presented five operas to packed audiences. The public for opera exists in Ontario, and it is a pity that it so seldom gets what it wants. The trouble, of course, is economic; opera is exceedingly expensive to produce, and can only pay its way when every seat is filled at every performance, and when high prices are charged for every seat. In Europe every great city has its subsidized opera, but in Canada we are not ready for that yet, and will not be ready for it for many years to come. Our governments, both federal and provincial, have millions to spend on everything but art; art is expected to pay its way to the last penny. The remarkable thing is that it managed to do so, and that a very limited season of the best in opera has paid its way in Toronto. Let us hope that the visit will become a yearly fixture.

The Joke in the Dictionary

In English dictionaries the word "Spoonerism," so-called from the name of the Rev. W. A. Spooner, is defined more or less like this: "An accidental transportation of sounds, usually the initial sounds of two or more words"; as a 'blushing crow" for a "crushing blow." The Rev. Dr. William Archibald Spooner, 1844-1930, was a priest of the Church of England, Warden of New College, Oxford, author of "The Histories of Tacitus," "Bishop Butler, His Life and Writings" and "Memoir of William of Wykeham." In an article on his centennial, the Literary Supplement of The Times of London calls him "this wise and practical academic, this most able, venerable and lovable man."

One of the nicest things about him was his relish of the jokes made about his alleged metathesis of initial consonants. According to Julian Huxley, Dr. Spooner sometimes made little slips of the tongue, but they were never of the kind ascribed to him. According to an old pupil, he shifted initials but once. The undergraduates and, it is said, one of the Fellows were never tired of inventing Spoonerisms. At least two collections were published. Thus he reproached a lazy undergraduate for having "tasted a whole worm." Standing at a window he told Mrs. Spooner that there was "a roaring pain." He referred to undergraduates Bevan and Headlam as "my young friends, Heaven and Bedlam."

Spoonerisms are to be found in Joyce's "Finnegans Wake." Children and grown-ups fall into them unconsciously at times. But to make a really good Spoonerism calls for wit.

SWORDS OF DAMOCLES

The Imprisoned King

(NEW YORK TIMES)

CHARLES, Count of Flanders, younger brother of King Leopold III of Belgium, before the war a major in the air service, has come back from active service in the underground forces to take the office of Regent. The Government-in-Exile, a strictly constitutional body, has thus complied with a constitutional provision. Four years in office, it can now report to the representative of the King and go out of or be continued in office as Parliament wishes. M. Pierlot's Government has more than once declared its determination to restore democratic institutions and the monarchy as the symbol of harmony.

The Nazis have tried in vain to induce Leopold to accept some sort of collaboration. Soon after the Allies landed in Normandy he was taken from Laeken Castle to an unknown destination in Germany. Wherever he is, it seems clear that he will be followed by the loyalty of his people. His fortune was hard at first. After his surrender of the Belgian Army on May 28, 1940, he was accused furiously. Reynaud, perhaps to divert attention from his own weakness, led the chorus. Even Prime Minister Pierlot denounced the capitulation as "illegal and unconstitutional."

The truth came out in the libel suit brought by Admiral of the Fleet Sir Roger Keyes, British liaison officer in Belgium, against the Daily Mirror in 1941. The fighting on the Belgian front had been incessant for four days. By May 27 the Belgians were running out of food and ammunition. At least eight German divisions, including armored units, and a multitude of dive-bombers were attacking the Belgians. At 5 p.m. the King told the British and French that at midnight he would ask an armistice to save further destruction of his forces. London and Paris got the message. He had yielded to necessity. Admiral Keyes praised his conduct warmly. Lieut. Col. Robert Brown, our military attache in Belgium, said that capitulation was the King's "only solution." Those who said the contrary had seen neither the battle nor German aviation. Colonel Brown saw both. General Lord Gort, commander of the British troops in Belgium, wrote that the obstinate resistance of the Belgian Army enabled his men to retreat to Dunkerque.

Such was the judgment of expert witnesses speaking from first-hand knowledge. Time has vindicated the King. Walloon and Fleming alike honour him for his constancy and his failure to yield to the presure of his Nazi captors.

Better Reading In Bed

(NEW YORK TIMES)

READING in bed has long been one of mankind's best pleasures, and it seems remarkable that so little progress has been made in improving it. The theory of our architects and home furnishers seems to have been that bed and book and possibly an ill-conceived lamp were enough, a notion that is ridiculous.

A man no sooner gets into bed than he begins to think of a number of things he would like to have, and no way to get them except by jumping out of bed and plunging about the house in search of them. A little master-planing in advance would have made this man wholly happy instead of only moderately so, a difference, alas! that exists in many lives, with very little done about it.

In starting a movement to improve the condition of those who read in bed it is essential, first of all, to analyze the fundamentals. One of these is undoubtedly the bed itself. It seems obvious that the designers of beds have, for the most part, been exceedingly unimaginative fellows; they have been in a rut for years, obsessed by time-worn ideas that a bed should be decorative, but that its main function was routine comfort for the sleeper.

There is no evidence that bed-men ever heard of their customers reading in bed. Their lack of initiative is appalling. If drug stores had been equally lethargic they would still be selling drugs and medicines. Anybody can make a bed for sleeping; what we need is a bed designed for reading.

The well-equipped bed of the future will have a headboard that assumes a literate sleeper. A built-in reading light will be of variable brilliance, adjustable to different type conditions and different sets of eyes. This headboard will have the comfort-qualities of a chair, and it will provide arm-rests and a support for the book, as if by magic, by the pressing of an electric button. Does this seem too fantastic? Not if we can wake up the bed-makers.

The surroundings will be premeditated with equal care. The average bedside table is utterly inadequate. It is not large enough; it is cluttered up by that absurdity of uselessness, the boudoir lamp. This table needs to be replaced by some substantial, thoughtfully planned piece of furniture that will be useful instead of ornamental. It will have to be adequate for food and drink, cigarettes, pipe or cigars, and an oversize ash tray. Its height should be only slightly greater than the top of the mattress. There is nothing more irritating than to have to reach up awkwardly to the level of a too-high table.

Some built-in book shelves should be on the other side of the bed, within easy reach, because it cannot be assumed that anyone will know with certainty, before he gets into bed, exactly what type of book he will be wanting to read, or whether he will continue with the same kind until he decides to call it a day.

His mood may change several times, and if a shelf or two of books and one of magazines is at hand he need not be inconvenienced. When one considers how popular is reading in bed, is it not odd how seldom the bedroom is chosen as a place for keeping a portion of the household's books?

For the person who can be reasonably temperate about it, reading in bed is a pleasure beneficial to health. There is no relaxation more complete, perhaps, except sleep itself.

It is assumed that no effort will be made to "improve" the mind by the reading done in bed. There should be no purpose other than pleasure, surely, and other incidental effects may be accepted gratefully as by-products.

Some people complain that they cannot read detective stories (one of the most enjoyable bedtime choices) because they are overstimulating and prevent sleep afterward. The remedy for this is simple. Decide in advance exactly what hour you will attempt to go to sleep, and fifteen minutes before that time lay down your detective story and pick up any book of poetry. No matter what your opinion of poetry, it will make you forget murder within fifteen minutes and soothe you into something like slumber. And it is, besides, a rather good way to spend fifteen minutes a day.

Unconsidered Trifles

This misprint from a Sydney newspaper interview with the tenor, Richard Tauber, is amusing: "A singer's throat becomes hot; he goes into cold air; and, before he knows what has happened, he has caught a chill and cannot sin for a fortnight".

A club of eccentric young men had for one of their rules that on Tuesday evening any man who asked in the clubroom a question which he was unable to answer himself should pay a fine of ten shillings. One evening Tomkinson asked: "Why doesn't a ground squirrel leave any dirt around the top of his hole when he digs it?"

After some deliberation he was called upon to answer his own question.

"That's easy", he said. "The squirrel starts at the bottom and digs up".

"All very nice", suggested a member, "but how does it get to the bottom?"

"That's your question", answered Tomkinson.

A Bible Message

Woe to the rebellious children, saith the Lord, that take council, but not of me; and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin: that walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth; to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt!

Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.... For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose. (Isa. 30: 1-3, 7.)

In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God. Trust in him at all times; ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.

Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity. (Ps. 62: 7-9.)

Contemporaries

WE COULD PERISH

Even now science is making progress in atomic disintegration, which, in the hands of future madmen like Hitler or Tojo could just about mean the end of everything. It must be no catch-phrase to declare that this present struggle really must be "the war to end all wars." World peace we must have if we are to endure. "But,," says the defeatist, "there will always be wars; you can't change human nature." There is only one answer. We have arrived at the stage when human nature must change or man will perish.—Halifax Herald.

TO THE POINT

The young reporter had been told over and over again that his stories were too long-winded and that he must cut to bare essentials. So his next story came out this way:—

"J. Smith looked up the shaft at the Palace Hotel this morning to see if the lift was on its way down. It was. Aged forty-five."

Letter To The Editor

THE FARMER'S WORD

Sir,—You certainly administer quite a verbal whipping to the present government in Saskatchewan in your editorial today: "Saskatchewan Threatens Repudiation." I am not in possession of your facts but, generally speaking, all men of goodwill (and the same kind of intentions) are likely to agree that outright "repudiation" is disastrous alike to an individual as to a province—and surely, with Hitlerism as a horrible example of dishonouring the pledged word, the principle applies to a nation, too?

When I was living out on the prairies I recall—as doubtless you will—the fact that the wheat farmers' pool organizations in 1929-30 paid out to their growers around $23,000,000 more cash than their grain finally brought in the world market. As I remember it, the prairie governments made settlement with the lending banks and took the farmers' notes for the amount of the debt, amortized over a period of years. These payments (interest and principal) have been met unfailingly, in full, and at the due dates! Not much notice has been taken of this transaction; but, against the grim background of the depression decade, I consider this an achievement of a high order—apart entirely from its indication of what the farmer thinks of his pledged word.

To say the least, this elasticity on the one side of those provincial ledgers, contrasting with the precise terms of the contract on the other side, is a curious blend!

FAIR PLAY

Mother Russia

Experts on population statistics and population trends in western European countries view with unmistakable envy the population trend in the Soviet Union. Comparisons between birth-rates in Russia and in most of the other European countries provide a striking contrast.

In France, Belgium and Czechoslovakia fertility (about 1930) was from 5 to 10 per cent below the level required for the permanent maintenance of a stationary population. In England and Wales, Norway, Switzerland and Latvia it was 10 to 20 per cent below the replacement level.... In the U.S.S.R. the net reproduction rate was over 1.60, that is, one that if maintained would result in an increase of more than 60 per cent per generation.—The Economist.

Million Nazis Bag Since D-Day

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Sept. 27—(AP)—German casualties on the western front—in killed, wounded and captured or troops hopelessly cut off—were estimated tonight at close to 1,000,000 since D-Day.

These included at least 100,000 killed, well over 200,000 badly wounded, more than 500,000 captured, and the rest sealed off in the Channel Islands, the last holdout ports and various pockets along the coast of the Bay of Biscay.

The million casualties are well over twice the German force now believed to be lined up along the west wall for the homeland stand.

Hospital With 20 Beds Promised Bancroft

TORONTO, Sept. 27 — Outpost hospitals will be built at Wiarton, Huntsville and Bancroft as part of the Ontario Red Cross Outpost Hospital expansion program, it was announced last night by Chairman C. Q. Ellis. The new hospitals, which will bring to 30 the number of such institutions operated by the Ontario Division, will be paid for by special Division funds, legacies, local campaigns, and the Ontario Department of Health, he said. The Division contribution will be $70,000.

At Huntsville, a 26-bed hospital will be built at a cost of $65,000. At Bancroft, a new 20-bed hospital will replace the present seven-bed building. This will provide further hospital facilities for North Hastings and Haliburton counties, at a cost of $50,000. Wiarton hospital will be a 20-bed one, to cost $50,000.

Plans call for residential-type buildings all on one level, instead of the box-like multi-storied hospital structure common in urban centres. In case of fire, patients can be moved into another wing or out of doors without the use of elevators, Mr. Ellis said.

The extension program will also provide for a new wing, an operating room, a conference room and 14 additional beds at Bracebridge outpost hospital.

Too Much Idling

MADRID, Sept. 27—(AP). —German factory workers will be allowed only 15 minutes for their midday meal, the Nazi press disclosed today, in line with a campaign to step up war production. Hitler's newspaper, the Voelkischer Beobachter, said there had been 'too much idling" in restaurants and lunchrooms in factory districts.

Toronto Stores To Close V Day

TORONTO, Sept. 27—(CP). — Arrangements for stores closing on V-Day were agreed on here Tuesday by representatives of trade groups, Business Men's Associations, Retail Merchants' Association and Canadian Retail Federation.

If the end-of-war in Europe announcement comes during a business day, all stores will close as soon as possible; if it occurs later, stores will close the following day.

Chief of Police D. C. Draper warned that merchants take proper steps to protect their merchandise from persons who might take advantage of the confusion.

The conference agreed on simple, patriotic window displays.

LONE SURVIVOR OF REGIMENT—When the U.S. Air Force bombed Cassino in Italy, only three men of 100 men of the 2nd Company, 3rd Nazi Paratroop Regiment of General Heidrick's famous First German Paratroop Division, survived. Since then one was killed by Canadian shell fire, another died of wounds, and this Nazi, Senior Private Ernst Markert, 18, surrendered to the Canadians only after his last round of ammunition had been fired. He had seen his entire company wiped out, retreated more than 250 miles, surrendered on the Gothic Line and still believes in Hitler and Germany will win the war. He is a member of the Hitler Youth Movement and wears the Iron Cross of the Second Order for service at Cassino.

The Last of the Season
The garden still has abundance of green tomatoes, peppers, onions and cabbage. Here's a pickle that will use them all up and give you a delectable relish:
End of the Season Relish
18 green tomatoes, medium
3 onions, medium
1 peppper, sweet
1 red pepper, sweet
½ red pepper hot
½ cup water
1 cup cider vinegar
3 cups brown sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
2½ teaspoons curry powder
2½ teaspoons celery seed
Put the tomatoes, onions and peppers through the coarse knife of the chopper. Put in a large preserving kettle; add 1 cup water, simmer gently for 15 minutes. Drain well, pressing out all the liquid. Add the vinegar, brown sugar, salt and spices. Bring to a boil; simmer gently for 5 minutes; pour into sterile jars and seal. Yield approximately 9 pints.

Marty Marion Dominates Infield Crop

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 27—(AP). — Marty Marion, generally regarded as baseball's finest shortstop, dominates the infielders in the World Series this year.

The presence of Marion give St. Louis Cardinal infield a decided edge over both Detroit and St. Louis Browns' inner works.

In addition to Marion, first baseman Ray Sanders, second sacker Emil Verban and hot corner guardian Whitey Kurowski round out an infield that ranks over the Tigers' inner cordon of Rudy York, Eddie Mayo, Joe Hoover and Pinky Higgins, and the Browns' infield of George McQuinn, Don Gutteridge, Vernon (Junior) Stephens and Mark Christman.

It is difficult to exaggerate Marion's fielding wizardry or his importance to the National League champions. The slim six-foot-two sensation ranks with the greatest fielding shortstops of all time.

In addition, Marion has a distinct advantage over Stephens and Hoover in that the series is no novelty to him, having participated in the last two. Against the Yanks last fall he led the hitters with a mark of .357, including a home run. In the field he made but one error in 22 chances.

Enjoying his most successful season this year since joining the Cards in 1940, Marion owns a .270 batting average. With 62 runs batted in "Mr. Shortstop" has made but 19 errors in 703 chances, including 89 double plays, for a .973 fielding percentage, tops among all shortstops.

Stephens is more in Marion's class. A good fielder, with a .954 mark for 721 chances with 33 errors, Stephens' forte is his hitting. Junior has flirted with the .300 mark all year, presently hitting .299, and has driven in 103 runs, aided by 19 homers, to lead his league. Stephens may be the first shortstop ever to lead the American League in the R.B.I. column.

Rudy York of the Tigers gets the nod among the first basemen. A slugger of the old school, the big Indian is a constant home run threat with 17 to his credit and has batted in 95 runs. Rudy is fielding at a .982 gait, including 106 assists and 17 errors.

In the junior O.A.S.A. semi-final battle at Riverside Park at 5 o'clock this evening between Belleville Columbian Circles, winners of the Eastern Ontario championship and Toronto Carlton Park, the Queen City junior title-holders, Peterborough fans will have an opportunity of seeing two of the best young pitchers in Ontario softball perform. Both Boyle who tosses them in for Belleville and Joe Chinkaluk who does the bulk of the gunning for Carlton Park have a lot on the ball and their pitching has featured the series so far. Chinkaluk's work was responsible for beating Belleville in the Quinte City Saturday and sewing up the round for he retired no fewer than 15 by the strikeout route and held the Eastern Ontario team to three hits. Boyle was almost equally effective in the first game at Toronto, won by Belleville. The two will tangle here this evening and the result should be one of the smartest pitching duels of the season. Junior O.A.S.A. ball is something new for Peterborough fans and there will probably be a good attendance to see the Belleville and Toronto youngsters battle for the right to enter the Ontario finals.

From all accounts Peterborough Soldiers played their best ball of the entire season in their week-end series with Kingston R.C.O.C. when the team from the local Military Training Centre came from behind after losing the first game 2 to 1 and grabbed off the round by winning a Sunday double-header. The Peterborough team would have to play good ball to pull off that feat for the Kingston R.C.O.C. outfit sparked by Red Jubenville of Oshawa fame has a formidable squad. Earl Revoir, Military Training Centre pitcher won all kinds of laurels as an iron man by pitching all three games and coming down in front twice after being nosed out in his initial start against the Kingston gang. Military Training Centre played well behind that stout-hearted pitching and as a result the team has now battled its way into the final series for the championship of No. 3 Military District. That will be staged here on Saturday and Sunday with the first game at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon and the second and if necessary the third at the Training Camp on Sunday. Ottawa Canadian Postal Corps team will supply the opposition and from all accounts the outfit from the nation's capital are a strong club. The popular Peterborough Soldiers will have to play back to their best form to head them off but they are confident they can do so. The series will attract a big crowd.

It Must Go Over

The drive for Peterborough's Memorial Health Centre which winds up this week must be carried through to a triumphal finish or this city can reconcile itself to years of hockey-less winters and probably to a curtailment in summer sports as well. This is the golden opportunity to do something about a situation that has caused general complaint from years; that is the absence of adequate facilities for hockey and adequate accommodation for hockey fans. If this chance is missed it is safe to say there will be no other such chance in years. The thing will simply fold up and this community will remain off the hockey map and to a considerable degree off the sporting scene generally for repairs to Riverside Park, another feature of the present scheme, are urgently needed. The stands are falling apart and will soon have to be torn down in the interest of public safety. If the Memorial Health Centre plan fails now the whole ambitious and far-reaching program will be permanently scrapped and the outlook for sport in Peterborough will be gloomy in the extreme. This community, challenged by such a glorious opportunity, simply cannot afford to miss. The consequences of failure are too disastrous to contemplate. The plan deserves general and generous support and it should have the backing of every man and woman in the city and district who appreciates what such a centre can mean in health, entertainment and recreation.

The world series will open next week but St. Louis fans don't know yet whether they will have a chance to see all the annual classic or just a part of it. The reason of course is that the American League race is still in a knot. The Detroit Tigers were in front half a game for a few hours yesterday when Dizzy Trout garnered his 27th victory as the Bengals shut out the Athletics 6 to 0 but the battling Brownies, refusing to fold came back in a night game and blanked the Boston Red Sox 1 to 0 so that the two leaders start today's operations on even terms. Meanwhile the New York Yanks also retained a slight mathematical chance by downing the Chicago White Sox 9 to 5. The National League just playing out the string was featured by a couple of picnic ball games between the Cubs and the Phillies with Chicago taking one game 15 to 0 and the Philadelphia club grabbing off the other 10 to 1. That may be magnificent but it is certainly not consistency.

A Sensational Game

Twenty years ago today the Peterborough Lakeviews took part in the longest and one of the most sensational battles in the history of junior baseball in Ontario. At Willowvale Park, Toronto, they tussled with the fast McCormicks in a struggle that lasted three and a half hours and wound up in a 3-3 tie that was called for darkness as the street lights came on at the end of the 17th inning. Not a run had been scored since the fifth frame. The Lakeviews were in front twice, scoring a run in the first of the second inning, only to have the Toronto youngsters tie it up with a counter in their half and again taking the lead in the first of the fifth by pushing two runs over, again to have their margin wiped out in the McCormick end of the session. Then for 12 exciting innings the teams battled without being able to break the deadlock with a single run and the epic argument had finally to be called at the end of the 17th when it had become too dark to continue play further. Hundreds of Toronto fans waited out the long game and thrilled at the performance given by the two teams and especially at the work of the rival pitchers.

* * * * * *

The pitching was something to rave at, too. It was a battle of southpaws with Frankie Whitehouse on the hilltop for the Peterborough youngsters and "Irish" Rasson doing the tossing for McCormicks. And what that pair of clever left-handers didn't do to the batters. Whitehouse blazed the third strike past no fewer than 25 of the Toronto team and Rasson was nearly as effective, striking out 23 Lakeviews. Whitehouse yielded 11 well scattered hits in the 17 innings and did not give a hit or a walk after the 12th. Rasson allowed nine hits but he walked four men as against three Whitehouse passes and also hit four Lakeviews with pitched balls. In addition to his grand pitching Whitehouse led his team at the plate with three hits off the rival southpaw. The Lakeview team that day lined up as follows: Cameron ss, LeBarr 1b, Whitlow cf, Whitehouse p, Ash lf, Marchen 2b, Halliday c, Cheu rf, McIntyre rf, Griffin rf, Johnston 3b. Swing of McCormicks was the most successful hitter for the Toronto team, breaking through Whitehouse's delivery for three blows.

Wrestler Hurt In Joust At Brock Arena

An accident to Irish Jack Kennedy after the flashy grappler from Georgia had split two falls with the tough Karl Krippler Davis, brought the main bout on the Tunney wrestling card at the Brock St. Arena Tuesday night to a sudden end, just as the two rivals were turning on the heat with a vengeance.

Kennedy had spilled the Texan twice with vicious flying tackles and went to launch a third one when his toe caught in the ropes and he fell heavily, twisting his left knee beneath him. He pulled a cartilege in his knee and was unable to continue the bout whereupon Referee Maxwell gave a "no decision" ruling.

Davis claimed the match on the ground that Kennedy was not able to finish but Maxwell failed to change his ruling and it was "no contest."

The smooth-working Kennedy and the hard-hitting Texan had staged quite a battle. Davis, past master in underground tactics started in early to give Kennedy the works, using the tape on his hand to attack the Georgia grappler's eyes, throwing in the odd kick or punch along with a series of headlocks and in general doing his best to take Kennedy apart. However he found the fast moving Irish Jack a real opponent who showed early in the bout that he had no intention of being on the catching end all night. Several times he staged a punching attack on Davis that had the Texan scurrying for shelter. There were few dull moments

Cricket Club Quite Active

The local cricket season closed with the match against the R. A. F. at Picton.

Cricket was carried on with very great difficulty and the executive were determined to keep alive the old game which has been played here for some 85 years and not let it pass out of the sport picture as other games have done here, temporarily only, it is hoped and expected.

A restricted schedule of matches was played, only six games in all of which 3 were won and 3 were lost. Wins were over Grove School (twice) and Peterborough Rangers, lost to T. C. S. Port Hope and Picton R. A. F. (twice). It was a low scoring season and the batting averages are small. Twenty-two players turned out during the season and B. Roberts had far the best figures, scoring 89 runs, average 22.25. Next were F. Smith 38 runs average 9.50 and A. Pagett 55 runs average 9.16. G. Colbran played two double figure innings of 16 and 14 and four players scored over, Capt. Ketchum 25, J. Wild 23, F. Dyer 18 and W. Dyer 16. F. Dyer and G. Colbran did virtually all the bowling, the former taking 25 wickets, average 6.36 and the latter 22, average 8.18. Capt. Ketchum took 2 for 26, J. Wild 1 for 37 and T. Williams 1 for 13.

An event of the season was the retirement of R. N. Stuart from the treasurership of the Peterborough Club, a post he had held for eighteen years. He was succeeded by Charles E. Coleman.

Dizzy Trout, Tigers—Won No. 27 by shutting out Philadelphia with six singles and added double to Tigers' 13-blow total in 6-0 triumph.

Sig Jakucki, Browns — Blanked Boston with five hits, 1-0, as St. Louis again went into tie for lead.

Johnny Lindell, Yankees — Helped keep slender Yank hopes alive with bases-loaded single and contributed spectacular diving catch to save 9-5 edge over Chicago.

Joe Heying, Indians — Set new record for American League in making 62nd relief appearance although Cleveland lost to Washington, 8-3.

Ray Sanders, Cardinals — Hit double and triple in same inning as St. Louis scored six times to gain 8-7 edge over Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 — (AP). — That war bond tour by Sweden's Gunder Haegg, Arne Andersson and Haakan Lidman is quite a puzzle to the track experts . . . American runners have been out of training since the Nationals last June and during the football season would merely be jogging around cross country courses . . . the speedy Swedes want to be home by Christmas — a month before the indoor season opens — but Haegg, at least, seems to be figuring on racing on the boards . . . and the A.A.U., which normally would make arrangements for such a tour, seems to know little except that the cities where meets might be held have shown no great interest.

Efficient Official

They tell this one on King Clancy, the old hockey star who calls 'em now in the National League, and nobody has questioned the yarn yet . . . seems King was refereeing a game last season and volunteered a little aid to the official scorer: "goal by Smith from Jones and Brown." . . . The scorer protested: "why, Clancy, Jones wasn't even on the ice." . . . "Well, he should have been," the King persisted, "and if he had been there he would have been in on the play."

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

When the bowlers come off the greens tonight, they will have completed the men's schedule for the 1944 season. All that now remains to be played is just a few games.

It was a long season, and an interesting one. Play began on Thursday, June 1 and the schedule has been going ever since.

Three of the four groups were real close and one night's play often changed the entire standing. We hope to be able to give the complete and final standing in tomorrow's column.

Just a little advance notice. The annual meeting of the Bowling Club Co. is set for Monday, October 16.

Friday night, the last Friday nights bowling of the season, will be men's rinks.

And then on Saturday afternoon the committee intends to hold "the Saturday night" mixed tournament. We know this sounds rather silly but to put it into plain English, there will be no bowling Saturday night, the mixed tournament will be held on Saturday afternoon.

We will have the time and the fee, etc., etc., in a day or two.

Whitely Pitches No-Hit Game

OSHAWA, Sept. 27 — Preem Whitely pitched a no-hit, no-run, 2-0 shutout over Prince of Wales, I.O.O.F., here last night as Oshawa G.M. Colts took their third and sudden-death game of the Senior "B" O.A.S.A. semi-final series from their Toronto representatives.

Whitely's brilliant pitching was the deciding factor in the game as he bested Normie Bagnell, Toronto's young sensational dropball artist, in a hard-fought contest.

A walk to Curran to open the sixth inning, followed by Hall's fumble on a hard-hit drive by Haddelton, with one out, was the closest Prince of Wales came to scoring. Then they went out in 1, 2, 3 order in every other frame but the fifth, when Stillie drew a walk with two out.

Whitely scored the run that won the game when he opened the second with a single, advanced on a wild pitch and scored when Edwards dropped Magee's long drive. Magee was tagged out at the plate trying to score. In the sixth, with two out, Magee advanced on a couple of wild throws and scored on Dalton's single for Oshawa's other run.

Hall and Whitely, with two hits apiece, were the big men in the Oshawa attack, which constituted a total of eight hits.

Soccer Elevens Scoreless In Smart Tilt

The postponed game between Prince of Wales and Queen Mary in the Public School Soccer League was played on Tuesday afternoon, on King Edward Park, when they failed to register after battling 70 minutes in ideal soccer weather. Both elevens played smart tactics throughout and the T. Kay and H. Bradley were brilliant in goal.

First Half

Exchanges in the early stages were brisk and the forwards travelled from end to end at a rapid pace. Time and again, Storey and Kidd got inside the goal area to test the goalie at close range. They would kick the ball with their toe, instead of their instep which would keep the ball on the ground, otherwise skying. Queen Mary enacted the same performance at the other end with T. Kay saving a smart effort slated for the inside of the upright. Just before the interval, A. Miller robbed Westenders of a nice opportunity to send McMullen away down the field to beat three men in a row and finishing with a lightning drive. Quickly Bradley grasped the ball to save his charge. Half time—No scoring.

Second Half

On resuming, both elevens enacted a nice display of combination to bring out the excellent qualities of the defensive play by the halves and full backs. The forwards kept up a steady pressure on the attack that was accompanied by superb half-back work thereby making interesting events around the goal territory. Kay and Bradley responded with clever display in goal. Five minutes to go, Prince of Wales opened up a determined effort to get the winning counter, while Queen Mary did likewise until the final whistle. Full time—No scoring.

Queen Mary: H. Bradley, goal; R. Butcher and D. Gray, full backs; R. Barnsley, K. Gordon and S. Murphy, halves; H. Grafstein, J. Nichols, P. Russel, R. Robinson, L. Payne, forwards.

Prince of Wales: T. Kay, goal; G. Hughes and A. Miller, full backs; F. McMullen, J. Moncrief and B. Grainger, halves; G. Kimberley, B. Lazenby, R. Kidd, R. Killingbeck and J. Storey, forwards. Subs: F. Crowther, G. Mongraw, B. Berwick.

Referee: Stroyan Leith.

Plans for a big reception to New Westminster's famous Salmonbellies are under way in Winnipeg, which the Salmonbellies will visit October 3 en route to Ontario. Mayor Garnett Coulter of Winnipeg heads the associated sporting organizations which will welcome the Pacific coast lacrosse champions.

Fritzie Zivic hit the comeback trail at Galveston, Tex., last night when he scored a technical knockout over Artie Dorrell of Tyler, Tex. Zivic at 152 outweighed his opponent by the slight margin of two pounds.

The life of a free lance golfer has proved attractive to Henry Cotton, twice winner of the British open championship, who is leaving the Hertfordshire Club where he has been professional for seven years.

Nancy Riach, 17, of Motherwell, Scotland, has clipped 4 1-5 seconds from the British record she established over 220 yards in London last Aug. 12 by completing the distance in 34 1-5 seconds to become Britain's fastest woman swimmer.

The coach and body team of Brantford bowed out of the O.A.S.A. Intermediate "A" race last night at Brantford, defeated by the Hamilton Farrars 4-3. The game was a replay of a protested game. The winners will meet Oshawa or Toronto for the Southern Ontario title with Sudbury in the north country offing.

Has Sore Arm.

Lefthander Frank (Stubby) Overmire, No. 3 man on the Detroit Tigers' top-heavy pitching staff, disclosed after warming up yesterday that a sore arm will prevent his going against Philadelphia Athletics today.

Overmire, who has won 11 and lost 11, originally was slated to pitch the Tigers' last game of the season against the A's.

Manager O'Neill said he would call on Lefthander Hal Newhouser, winner of 27 games and beaten only nine times, to face Louis (Bobo) Newsom of the Macks.

Alfred P. Parker's By Jimminy strengthened his claim to the three-year-old turf title by whipping William Ziegler's Bounding Home in a two-horse race for the $20,000 added purse of the 52nd Lawrence Realization at Belmont Park yesterday.

Ridden by Georgia (Iceman) Woolf of Cardston, Alta., the son of Pharamond II took the track at the start of the mile and five-eights journey and never relinquished the lead. At the finish he was four lengths in front of Bounding Home, ridden by Ted Atkinson of Toronto. Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Free Lance, the only other overnight entry, was scratched.

Abe J. Greene, president of the National Boxing Association, announced yesterday indefinite suspension in all N.B.A. states of Chalky Wright and his manager, Eddie Walker of New York, on the ground that they failed to make good an agreement with the District of Columbia Boxing Commission for a bout with Jackie Wilson of Pittsburgh.

EDMONTON, Sept. 27 — (CP)— Chances that Edmonton will regain the position in international women's basketball circles established by her Grads are very slim, says J. Percy Page, silver-thatched coach of that great team.

"Squads good enough to compete successfuly in international play are not built over night," he said. "Years and years of training are necessary and I can't see any person at present having or taking the time to supervise it."

Page, whose Grads won 502 of 522 official games during a 25-year career which ended in 1940, is also pessimistic about the game's future here. "When the Grads started to play the game was a novelty and naturally was popular. However, it is a novelty no more, and I doubt whether the same interest would be taken in it."

The famous cage mentor says he is finished with basketball as far as coaching is concerned. His duties as a school principal and provincial legislator occupy most of his time. "I'll leave that part of the game to younger men"

Diamond boom:

One of the most successful senior baseball seasons in Edmonton's history has just been completed.

Sixty-ieght games in a four-team circuit drew an average of 1,500 spectators. Some Sunday contests drew as many as 9,000 fans to the stands.

League champions were United States Army Yanks, a club boasting several former U.S. diamond professionals. Two Edmonton civilian clubs and another U.S. Army nine were also members of the league.

Baseball men are making plans to keep the sport at the peak of its prosperity. Promotion of minor league competition will be launched next year with the senior circuit providing equipment and coaching.

Post-war punts:

M. Q. (Moe) Liebermen, Edmonton barrister and staunch backer of Edmonton Eskimoes when they toiled in the Western Conference, is confident the city will have its place in the post-war football sun.

He says if the Western Conference is revived it is almost certain Edmonton will have a representative.

Lieberman points out that the juniors have not only kept the game alive in the city during the war, but also have educated the populace in its fundamentals

Browns Certain They Can Clinch Berth

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

Sig Jakucki could be the key to the American League pennant race today for the footloose former soldier boy who was a June sparkler, but an August washout for the Browns, had earned a most important victory that sent St. Louis back into a first-place tie with Detroit.

With five games to go for the co-leaders and New York Yankees who have been hustling along with their fingers crossed three games back, Luke Sewell had his pitching staff straightened out with five trusted starters. Detroit again had to fall back solely on Hal Newhouser who goes today and Paul Trout, who probably will go tomorrow and so on. Stubby Overmire's sore arm had complicated Steve O'Neill's problems.

Jakucki's feat, sensational enough on its own merits for it was a brilliant five-hit 1-0 victory over Boston, gained added stature, for the rookie had not started in 16 days add hadn't won since August 21. Three earlier victories over Boston prompted Sewell to call on him last night and he brought home the bacon.

4 Tough Ones.

After the Browns finish with Boston today the schedule calls for four "toughies" with the Yanks, while Detroit entertains last-place Washington. Despite this, St. Louis has started selling world series tickets on the strength of their super-duper pitching down the stretch.

Trout has his 27th win and the Tiger pair are within one of tying the modern record of 55 set by Jim Bagby, Sr., and Stan Coveleskie of Cleveland in 1920. "Modern" means since the advent of the lively ball.

The Tigers avenged their 2-1 defeat at the hands of Philadelphia Monday by a 6-0 triumph yesterday with the help of homers by Dick Wakefield and Rudy York.

New York still has hopes, though remote and vanishing fact, after topping Chicago 9-5.

"Grandpa Joe" Heving set a new American League record for relief men by appearing in his 62nd game, but Cleveland lost to Washington, 8-3.

St. Louis Cardinals banged out 14 hits to beat Brooklyn, 8-7; Cincinnati took two from New York, 8-5 and 6-4; Pittsburgh drubbed Boston, 6-2, and Chicago shut out the Phillies 15-0, in the opener, but bowed, 10-1, in the second of a twi-night double.

Orioles-Bears In League Finals

BALTIMORE, Sept. 27 — (AP). — Baltimore Orioles, International League pennant-winners, were pitted against Newark Bears tonight in the first of a four-of-seven final play-off series for the right to enter the Little World Series against the American Association champion.

Manager Tommy Thomas was expected to start Baltimore pitcher Sam Lowry while Ken Holcombe was named to take over mound duties for the Bears, idle since they took four straight from Toronto. The teams were scheduled to play here again tomorrow night, moving to Newark Friday.

Louisville has won three straight from St. Paul and lost none in the American Association finals.

Baltimore took the seventh and last game in semi-finals last night, defeating Buffalo Bisons 9-4 with a display of home run power before a crowd of 22,138.

Coming from behind as they have been doing all season, the Orioles snipped a 3-3 tie in the fifth inning with home runs by Stan Benjamin, Felix Mackiewicz and Sherm Lollar.

BANANAS FIGHT DISEASE

LONDON — (CP). — As bananas form a useful addition to the diet of children suffering from cofeliac disease, arrangements are being made by the Minister of Food to import enough bananas in dried form to provide all needful supplies for this purpose.

New Authority Given U.N.R.R.A.

MONTREAL, Sept. 27—(CP)—Two open, plenary sittings of the United Nations' Relief and Rehabilitation Administration Council Tuesday will clothe the organization with fresh authority to launch out on its $2,000,000,000 task of restoring the needy, and returning the homeless people left in the wake of liberating Allied armies.

Working through a maze of detail which brought problems at every moment, committees yesterday concluded their work and all that remains is for the council itself to approve their recommendations.

Since the council Tuesday studied and tentatively approved all committee reports, to-day's activities are expected to be little more than formality.

Speech-making is expected to occupy open meetings this morning and afternoon of the 44 delegates and their advisors. It is expected L. B. Pearson, Canadian minister to Washington who has been presiding officer will get most credit for the smooth success of this second council meeting.

There were some differences of opinion and many confusing occasions during discussions on fine points of procedure in dealing with prosecuted races, displaced persons and peoples of former enemy countries.

The calm, parliamentary leadership given by Mr. Pearson, one delegate said to-day, had done much to maintain harmony and good feeling which saw great progress made

City Council Lauds Parkhill Youth Fund Project

To the residents of the Park Hill area of Wartime Housing Limited, and particularly to the members of its Youth Fund Committee, the council Monday extended a hearty compliment upon the success of their community organization.

Incidentally, the Examiner recently published a review of the work that has been done and the things accomplished around and out of the Park Hill Youth Fund.

Alderman Sands proposed the tribute to the residents of that area, and obviously his knowledge of their development of a community spirit that has found numerous outlets in action was based on contacts and observation preceding the newspaper account.

The genesis of the Park Hill Youth Fund was cited by Alderman Sands as an extension of the information which has already been published, and is transpired as another illustration of a fairly common and sound adult experience to the effect that the interest and enthusiasm of boys are readily enlisted on the constructive side, almost on the side of the angels, if responsibility with some intelligent guidance is directed to them.

It seems that in the beginning of that wartime housing tenancy small boys of the new neighborhood were much like others in the juvenile camp opposite to things constructive. The old Dixon house had been renovated for uses of the community, then only dimly perceived, "and 254 windows had been broken," Alderman Sands related. Windows are a universal target for boys with stones; and have been for a long time.

But, the comment of the repair man, with his count of 254 windows replaced, set some of the elders of the community to thinking, and out of the uneasy feeling that something should be done about it, a familiar phrase too often falling on sterile or unheeding sensibilities, the Park Hill Youth Fund came into being. The general purpose of the committee of heads of families was to make some attempt to keep the boys out of mischief.

One of the first results was a camp for juniors a year ago. Thirty of them were given an outing. Then there was a father and son dinner at the C.G.E. staff house. That connection seems to suggest, possibly, some interest from authority at the big works. If so it still remains off the record, and has yet to be mentioned. Actually, as Alderman Sands unfolded the story, that social event led to the founding of the Youth Fund Committe.

Worthwhile Job

"Those men have really done something worth while," Alderman Sands said. "They have gathered together equipment for a large camp, tents, stoves, furnishings and all the rest, and this summer they had ninety-four boys at a vacation camp for ten days The cost of this equipment was all paid out of their Youth Fund. They have Scouts and Cubs up there, and these lads had a grand time. The men went further. They equipped a playground for the smaller children, and Mrs. C. S. Thompson, the community counsellor, arranged for several of the women of the area to take charge of the playgrounds every day the children are there.

What I like so much about this Youth Fund is that its promoters did it all themselves. They never came near the council; never asked us for a cent. They raised the Fund themselves. They did ask us to level off part of the Dalgliesh field that is used for game. The started two baseball teams, but the boys couldn't get any competition around the city.

These are all working people, and they have been providing for the children of their neighborhood from five years of age up to sixteen. I think that if the rest of the city could generate the same community spirit Peterborough would probably not have any juvenile problem that is spoken of today as delinquency. Personally, I would like to see the council go on record by letter expressing our appreciation to the Park Hill Youth Fund committee for the splendid job they had done.

Alderman Dutton moved the resolution commenting that he had read the Examiner story with a great deal of interest, and welcomed the opportunity of proposing the compliment which Alderman Sands had suggested. "I think those men and women have placed the whole city under an obligation because sometimes we say that things can't be done; but that community has gone ahead and done them. I think they have shown a fine spirit."

Mayor Hamilton in putting the motion remarked that he felt certain the Park Hill people did not undertake their community project with any thought of winning recognition. It was something that occurred to them and appealed to them, and they made a success of it. "Just the same I feel that it is nice to recognize an achievement like that."

Anniversary Services Held At Fraserville

FRASERVILLE, Sept. 27—(ENS)—The Fraserville United church anniversary services were held on Sunday at 11 and 7.30 in the evening.

Rev. H. J. Mahoney delivered an inspiring sermon at the morning service to a large congregation. The children's choir sang an anthem and a trio entitled "The Lord Is My Shepherd" was sung by Misses Greta Moncrief, Margaret Waterman and Lorraine Pue. Mrs. Ray Findlay presided at the piano.

Rev. Mr. Sisco of Millbrook, took charge of the evening service and delivered an interesting sermon. The male quartette of Millbrook sang two selections and Miss Hetherington presided at the piano.

Trustworthy

The word "TRUST" is sometimes associated with the idea of "combines" or "monopolies", and there are people who think that the business of a Trust Company has to do with controlling, in some mysterious way, great so-called "trusts" for the benefit of powerful vested interests.

Such a notion is as harmful as it is absurd but doubtless, in the course of time, this myth will be completely dispelled as the real nature of Trust Company services and their true value to people in all walks of life come to be more widely understood and appreciated.

Safeguarding family security is our primary function, acting in trust for others.

SKIES ARE GRAY

September has been stingy of sunshine, and at best its light becomes weak and waning from the peaks of heat that seem so recent.

AUXILIARY ASSISTED

On the night of the recent Memorial Health Centre parade, a squad of the local Auxiliary police under Sergt. Frank Shaw, assisted the police department and the cooperation of the detachment which included Constable James Young, Harold LeGrow, George Sage, Eugene Hurtubise, D. Hurtubise, Clair Heard and Joe LeVasseur is much appreciated by the city police.

RUMOR SPIKED

Despite rumors on the street which have found favor with a certain number of persons, no shares have been, are being or will be sold in the New Memorial Centre. This announcement was made in no uncertain terms Tuesday by two of the men who are chiefly responsible for initiating the propect and developing the drive for funds which now is in progress. Reiterating a statement which has apparently not penetrated in some quarters, they asserted with definite finality that the centre will be run by an independent commission of citizens from every walk of life and that he who gives $10 will have an equal voice in the Centre's operation with the company that gives $10,000.

AT PORT HOPE

G. A. Macdonald and F. J. Overend of the Chamber of Commerce were guests at the annual dinner meeting of the Port Hope Board of Trade Monday evening.

CATCHES PICKEREL

Using live minnows, and fishing near the lower locks Tuesday evening, Fred House, 474 Aylmer street, came up with a 7-pound pickerel, and a smaller one weighing 3 pounds.

CATCHES BIG LUNGE

While trolling with a copper line for pickerel at Stoney Lake, Saturday, Harry J. Huff, supervisor of Excelsior Life, 539 George street, unexpectedly hooked an 18-pound muskie. He was using a pikie minnow.

WOUNDED

Recently announced as a winner of the Distinguished Conduct Medal, Sgt. John Harker Hill, formerly of 107 Aylmer street, has now been reported wounded in action in Italy, according to word received by his wife, now living in Belleville. The young soldier was wounded September 6, according to the telegram, while serving with the Hastings and Prince Edward regiment. He was first reported to have remained on duty, but a letter to-day declared this incorrect. He was formerly at the Quaker Oats.

$1,000 Gifts Are Received For Memorial Centre

Canadian Department Stores and the Peterborough Hotel Association have contributed each the sum of $1,000 to the Memorial Community Centre, campaign offices of the drive made public today.

The substantial contribution of the large department store was good news to the Finance Committee of the drive; and the donation on behalf of eight of the city's hotels was additional glad tidings in the progress of the drive Tuesday.

These and other contributions received Tuesday made a decided improvement in the standing of the retail and special names section of the canvass, which showed an increase of $4,932.85 over the previous day. Altogether $115,821.10 has now been collected with the campaign scheduled to close on Saturday. Offices of the drive are optimistic that donations will speed up in the remaining days, as is true of the Victory Loan drives.

The donation of the Peterborough Hotel Association, made through its president, Lorne Emerson, and its secretary, Lawrence McCarthy, included the following hotels: Windsor, Queen's, King George, American, Montreal House, Grand, Champlain and Empress. The contribution does not include contributions which are being made by the hotels individually.

Donations from two more service clubs in the city were forthcoming in the morning's report. The Lions Club has authorized a donation of $200, even though they have spent considerable money this year on the development of the wading pool at Riverside Park. B'Nai B'Rith, the Jewish Lodge in Peterborough, has donated the sum of $100.

Women Support It

A surprising feature of the campaign has been the way in which the girls in the plants have given of their earnings in support of the Centre; and it was said that they were doing better than the average hoped for from industrial workers. In one city plant 127 girls have given over $920, a figure that outdid the performance of the men; and the girls in the bag factory of the Quaker Oats have supported the drive 100 per cent.

Figures were compiled today revealing the progress of the drive in various of the city's industries. Seventy-five per cent. complete, the Quaker Oats Co. has reported donations of $3,740.25 from 419 of its employees, an average of $9 apiece. The Examiner, whose canvass is not complete, has received $274 from 27 employees.

C. G. E.-Genelco, where 2,381 employees have subscribed to the Community Centre, reports $17,164 collected. Canada Packers $1,197 among 137 workers, the Outboard Marine $2,037.50 from 150, Westclox employees have given $3,538.50 in their canvass which has reached 478 persons; Nashua Paper has collected $536 from 68 men and women, Canadian Sealright $340 from 33 and Peterborough Lumber Co. $300 from 21.

Divisions of the canvass took the following shape as of Wednesday morning:

Manufacturers	$100,000	$71,350.00
Employees	70,000	32,687.75
Special Names and Retail ...	40,000	10,429.85
General Canvass	15,000	1,348.50

KILLED IN FRANCE — Pte. Patrick H. McMurray of the S.D. and G. Highlanders, was wounded September 17 and died the same day, his mother, Mrs. Helen McMurray, Euclid avenue, has been notified.

Pat McMurray Dies Of Wounds

Back in the lines only a few weeks after he was wounded at Caen, Pte. Patrick McMurray was wounded and died September 17, according to word received this morning by his mother, Mrs. Helen McMurray, Euclid avenue.

A letter from the young soldier arrived Tuesday telling his family that he was having a wonderful time and that the Germans were retreating so fast that they couldn't keep up with them.

Pte. McMurray is one of three brothers in the forces. He enlisted with the Glengarrians early in 1940 and went overseas with them in July 1941. Prior to enlisting he was employed at Brooks Grill, now the Ritz Grill.

Surviving besides his mother are three brothers, John with the Signal Corps in Italy and Fred with the R.C.O.C. at Kingston. Another brother, Gnr. Joe McMurray, has been discharged from the Army after being invalided home from England. Mrs. John Driscoll, Munro avenue is a sister.

Isolation Unit Proposed In New Hospital

The addition of an isolation unit to the Civic hospital was approved by the Hospital Committee of the City Council Tuesday night. Meeting under the chairmanship of Alderman Adam Sands the committee received from the staff of Nicholls Hospital its review of the report of Supervision and Equipment committee.

Plans are now far enough advanced for the proposed Civic hospital where they can be submitted to an architect for drawing.

The new hospital will have a capacity of 265 beds and it will be financed through debentures issued by the City Council. No drive or canvass is being planned to raise funds but it will be a levy against all the ratepayers in the city. A bylaw will be submitted at the December election and a majority vote is required for it to carry.

The staff recommended that the 265 beds be broken down into the following groups 44 obstetrical, 148 medical and surgical, 18 paediatrics, 40 for chronically ill patients and 15 for communicable diseases to be isolated in a separate unit.

Include Isolation Unit

At first the plan had been for a 250-bed hospital but with no isolation section. In the discussion of the costs of the Queen Mary Hospital to the ratepayers of Peterborough it was felt that a great saving could be made annually by connecting an isolation section with the new hospital so 15 additional beds were added.

In the past eight years the deficits at the Queen Mary Hospital have totalled $29,703, ranging from $1,802.11 in 1937 to $6,577.80 in 1943. The deficit until the end of August this year totalled $4,095.35.

Some of the recommendations which will go forth to the architect are: to provide isolation accommodation for maternity patients in a separate unit in so far as nursing service is concerned and a psychiatric unit of six to eight single rooms.

The public wards will contain not more than six beds and the architect is asked in designing the public wards to provide the greatest flexibility of segregation within the bounds of reasonable cost. Children's wards will contain no more than four beds and will have glass partitions between the various rooms and between the rooms and the corridor.

May Be Charge

It is also recommended that the architect design the private and semi-private rooms of such a size that they may quite easily be changed from one type to the other.

It was suggested that an emergency operating room be placed near the ambulance entrance and that plaster cast facilities be available both for the emergency department and in the operating room. It was also recommended that the X-ray facilities should be convenient to this room. The idea of this emergency room was to have available a place where accident cases which would not be required to enter the hospital could be treated and where a badly injured person could be given immediately aid.

The hospital will have a space set aside for Laboratory facilities for the Provincial Department of Health now in the city hall and also to be included will be autopsy room space and space for a pathology museum. No provision will be made for outpatients clinics except in so far as it might be felt advisable to provide for such existing clinics as the venereal disease clinic, the mental hygiene clinic and the chest clinic.

Treatment Rooms

Each nursing unit or ward will be adjacent a sound-proofed treatment room which might be used for minor surgical procedures. It was pointed out that to do such work at present in the public wards or the semi-private wards a curtain had to be placed around the bed and while the dressing was being done or other work it was disturbing to the other patients in the ward. Under the new set up this room will be quite near and the patient can be removed to this room. It was also suggested that the children's wards have one sound-proof room for treatments.

The question of the hospital facilities being planned at the staff house by the Federal Department of Health come up for discussion and it was suggested that if it is the department's intention to hospitalize Peterborough and district soldiers here, it might be better to have a wing connected with the new hospital. 2. The intention of the Department will be sought by a committee which was asked to interview the minister as soon as possible. The committee is composed of Ald. R. M. Glover, Ald. Adam Sands, Mayor James Hamilton and the hospital superintendent John Hornal.

As authorized by the council three additional members were added to the committee in the persons of Dr. Robert Young, William Grady and J. D. Fitzpatrick. A representative of the Canadian Legion was placed on the Public Relations committee.

A brief is being prepared to be submitted to the County Council at its meeting early in October when the County's part in the proposed new hospital will come up for discussion.

Present at the meeting were Ald. Max Awanston, Ald. William Ovens, Ald. James Dutton, Mayor Hamilton, Ald. Adam Sands, Drs. G. S. Cameron, and J. M. McCulloch, Mrs. V. Morphet, Ford Turner, Charles Lacheur, G. Wilson Craw, John Hornall and E. Bruce Fowler.

FIRE-CURED

Tobacco cured in an atmosphere of wood smoke similar to that used for smoking meats and fish is known as fire-cured tobacco.

KILLED IN FRANCE—Pte. Douglas Lyttle, brother of Mrs. Kenneth Mann, 272 McDonnel street, died of wounds received while fighting with the Essex Scottish Regiment in France.

Honey Crop Is Down 25 Percent

Hot and dry weather, which shrivelled up clover blossoms and damaged other plants is held responsible for a 25 per cent decrease in the Peterborough honey crop this year, Allen T. Brown, apiarist, 154 Benson avenue said today.

In Toronto, T. H. Shield, of the Ontario Honey Producers Co-operative Ltd., said the province's crop this year will probably not exceed 12 million pounds, as compared with 1943's 19,212,000 pounds. This 40 per cent drop in Ontario's production is also blamed on the weather.

"The honey crop is always at the mercy of the weather," Mr. Brown said. "In eastern Ontario, it can be safely said that the crop is next door to complete failure, which would bring the provincial average down. The only reasonably good crop in Ontario that I have heard of this year, is in the Owen Sound district, which up until a few years ago, when production seemed to drop, has always produced a good supply."

The Peterborough supply of dark honey, gathered chiefly from golden-rod, and buckwheat, is at least 50 per cent below last year's level, he said, while the white honey, gleaned from clover and basswood, is down about 25 per cent. Mr. Brown added that there is generally no surplus of honey, amber in color, which is produced earlier in the year from apple blossoms particularly.

1938 Good Year

Reminiscing as to the honey crops of recent years in Ontario, Mr. Brown said 1938 was undoubtedly the best year. A poor honey crop was gathered in 1940, but from that year until 1941, the crop had been considerably improved, each bringing in an average yearly crop. This year, however, a decided decline has been observed, and all authorities agree the weather has had the final word!

Dislike Rationing

Rationing of honey, he said, has been the sore spot with the honey dealers, and this has been the chief bone of contention in honey circles for some time now. It was pointed out that while the "D" coupons in the ration book will purchase several products, it may also be used for sugar. Recently, people have been urged from one side or another, he said, to use the "D" coupons to get extra sugar. This interferes indirectly with the sales of honey, as that product can only be purchased with the "D" tickets.

Contract For Building Let By CGE Company

The general contract for the construction of a fractional motors building at Canadian General Electric Company has been let to Anglin Nortcross Ontario Limited.

This building will be located on the north side of the property, in the Wolfe-Park streets area, and will be parallel to and connected with the present armature department.

WinonaRostocky Awarded Scholarship

Reflecting brilliant and thorough work throughout the three years of high school while attending Peterborough Collegiate, Winona Rostocky, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Rostocky, 554 Aylmer street, has been awarded a Dominion - Provincial Students, Aid Scholarship for general proficiency with a value of $400, in a university two-year course, according to information reaching her parents today. Miss Rostocky enrolled in the University of Toronto Tuesday, where she will embark on a course in medicine.

The Rostocky family came to Peterborough three years ago from Western Canada. They had lived in Sudbury for several years, and at a public school there, Winona was awared a medal for general proficiency when in Grade Eight.

When the young scholarship winner begins her study of medicine in University, it will be the result of a lifelong ambition to be a doctor. Two uncles, one in Windsor and another in Toronto, are doctors now, and when Winona was a little girl out west, she had been impressed by a woman doctor, and decided then medicine was to be her career.

The Dominion-Provincial Students' Aid Scholarship and Bursaries Scholarships are a fund set up by collaboration of the Dominion and Provincial governments, to help deserving students further their formal education, if the circumstances indicates the student will be unable to carry on without assistance. The money available for this work during the 1944-45 period will be $160,000, of which amount the provincial government contributes $100,000. The scholarships are awarded for University, Normal School and Grade 13, on the basis of population and enrolment throughout the various counties and districts in Ontario.

Pupils may obtain application forms from the school principal for the awards, and they will be paid in two equal instalments, in October and January. If the student winning a course is a resident of the university town or city, the scholarship is valued at $200, with a $400 award being made if the student is non-resident. Students must enroll in the University or Normal School before any payments are made.

In Peterborough-Haliburton area, there is one university scholarship awarded, one for Normal School, and two for Grade 13.

Few people are aware of these scholarships, although their value to a student without sufficient financial resources to continue a formal education cannot be underestimated.

Safety Drive Begins In Week

Peterborough will renew its attention to public an industrial safety next week.

The city wide second annual Safety Week recalls the results of its inception last year. A definite reduction of 25 per cent in accidents throughout the community was reported and recorded, continuing for a period while the freshness of the impressions of the need of safety precautions was still in the public mind.

During Safety Week last year twelve accidents were listed. Two of them were traffic mishaps, a pedestrian struck by a car and a cyclist victim of another automobile. A child two and a half years old was drowned, and in local industry nine accidents marred the week's expectations of avoidance of accidents. However, only one of them was serious enough to cause loss of time.

Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario's Minister of Labor, has promised the Safety Week committee to come to Peterborough for the opening events of Monday. Churches are being requested to announce the purposes and period of Safety Week, and general daily program will include safety meetings at all the industrial plants, radio broadcasts to the schools, and other details that will be announced later.

INJURED FLIER BACK—Flying Officer Donald Hill, who was badly injured while stationed in India, has been invalided back to Canada, and phoned his parents from Ottawa Tuesday night. Formerly employed at the Canada Packers, he has been overseas more than 1½ years and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hill, 472 Monaghan road.

Cpl. Gordon T. Bocock Dangerously Wounded

Cpl. Gordon Thomas Bocock, who has been in three major battles since he landed in Italy in January, has been dangerously wounded with shell fragments in the chest, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bocock, 216 King George street.

Formerly employed at the Martin-Hewitt Company, Cpl. Bocock has been fighting in Italy with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment and he has been attacking the Gothic Line in the Adriatic sector. He was formerly with the Prince of Wales Rangers (R), and his father is a veteran of the last war.

Police Boost Centre With Song Verses

Two members of the Peterborough Police Department, Andre Dalton and Bud Clark, are producing a little celebration in song of two of the foremost aims of the proposed Memorial Community Centre. The verses were written by Bud Clark and are sung in popular style by Andre Dalton playing accompaniment on his guitar. He may be heard several times a day over CHEX.

The song writers, whose deep and sincere interest in the building of a community centre in the city is evident not only in that they took the trouble to compose the piece but in the very gist of the words which go straight to the heart of the ideas that have been stressed by everyone who recognizes the importance of the project, express their feeling most pungently perhaps where they say, "The best monument people could give for the soldiers who died so that children might live."

Here are the verses of the complete song, which because it puts, in small compass, so clearly, major functions of the kind of recreation place that is wanted for the city, might well be called the theme song of the Memorial Community Centre:

"Here's a bonnie fine project we'd like to see through,
A health-building centre for all of our youth;
So let's get behind it and give with a will;
When the canvasser calls dig deep in the till.

"Yes, give with a will, give with a will,
Search through your pocket and dig in the till,
And we'll have the best monument people could give
For the soldiers who died so that children might live.

"Then, instead of a cold granite-pile in some square,
When our boys start returning we'll welcome them there;
And they'll know that their buddies who died far away
Will be always remembered by children at play."

Dishes That Bounce—Dream Comes True Future Happiness of Households Assured

The novelty of tossing plates around in the Churchill is wearing off, for all hands, staff and customers. The show is over. For a week or more Nick Douros would bang a plate on the fabricated counter and you would jump back from the expected splinters, but nothing happened. Or in mid-morning before the noon rush, may be some one would drop a plate with a loud clatter, but no one ran for the broom, nor did anybody say 'there goes the day's profits.'

Plastic!

You have been hearing intimations and promises of stored up wonders that are just waiting for after the war to burst into flower all over the place, kitchen, car, flying, bathroom and so on.

The plastic plate is one of them, and it has arrived as a forerunner ahead of the rush. And indestructible! Of course if you take a hammer to it or jump on it, the plastic plate will go the way of all things brittle; but for the ordinary domestic hazards the plastic plate is going to do its bit for "two to live as 'cheap' as one."

So, after the careless magic at the Churchill, and no bits of crockery to be swept on to the dustpan, here is plastic knocking at your door, heralding a new material reaching out into old fields so long pre-empted by the ware of Staffordshire if not of China.

Don't Worry

The plate, light cream color, will hardly cause immediate worry in the shops of Spode and the studios of Crown Derby; but innovations have a restless way of experimenting with new forms, designs and all the rest of it.

May be Mr. Gadd isn't yet making plates down on Wolfe street, but who can tell when they might be turning out in Peterborough plastic tableware in shades and art designs that may eventually cut deeply into the established trade of the ceramics industry. Grant, that it seems unlikely. Imagine tossing the best Crown Derby up to the ceiling or heaving a platter by Spode at the head of the spouse, without check or rein of breaking. The world seems to be getting tougher for some husbands.

SERVING IN FRANCE—Pte. James L. Dunstan, whose wife and two children live at 6 Gladstone avenue, is now serving in France. Formerly employed at Genelco, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Dunstan, of 27 St. James street.

Park St. Girls Help Others For Christmas

Christmas is the happiest and brightest season of the year for children, and all people with any human feeling at all gain considerable pleasure themselves in seeing that as far as lies in their power the children are made as happy at that time as circumstances will permit.

In looking forward to this very happy recurring period in their young lives, experience has shown that the children themselves also love to see others happy at that time of the year as well, this being more than amptly shown by the large numbers of school children who have worked to raise money in order that the children in Britain, whose Christmas festivities for the past five years have been considerably dimmed by the great shadow cast by a cruel war, may catch and have a share in the wonderful spirit of goodwill which the celebration of the anniversary of the birth of the Babe of Bethlehem always brings to mankind at that time.

First of This Season

Last Saturday five girls in the persons of Dorothy and Betty Godfrey, Betty Boutt, Marlene Flint and Graces Bowes held a bazaar in front of the parental home of the first two named at 128 Park street, selling a variety of canned goods, home-made cooking and candy, from which they raised the nice sum of $13.00, for the express purpose of assisting in giving something for Christmas to the children in Britain, who through the toll that air raid attacks by the enemy, and latterly the robot or flying bombs, have taken, will not be able to celebrate this great event in their own homes.

This group and particularly the first two named have had previous experience in holding an event of this nature, for the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund has benefitted on a number of occasions in a similar manner through their efforts, but one hardly expected to see them business-like enough to have even a cash register to deposit their takings, such as occurred in this instance when the secretary of the fund visited their stand on Saturday afternoon.

These girls are continuing to help in a further manner by selling tickets for a small draw for two prizes, which will be held next Saturday, in addition to which the two young brothers of Grace Bowes are also holding another bazaar to assist the same worthy cause on the same day.

Mosquito Club Helps

This is something very wholesome in boys grouping themselves for a good purpose, and while no other information is available as to their methods, it is a nice thing to be able to report that Doug. Graham, Bob Bowen, Darrell Ackford, Don Pammett, Ken Stacey and Teddy Cranfield, styling themselves the Mosquito Club, raised and turned in the sum of $1.05, to give a hand with this self-same Christmas gift fund to the children of Britain.

A little insight was thrown into just how the younger folk in Britain have fared in recent years by Lieut.-Col. R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, who told the writer of how a youngster had overheard elders talking of bananas and had then asked what they were, proving of course that they had never been seen by the questioner, and in pre-war years they were usually to be procured as easily in England as in this land.

Previously acknowledged	$81,753.27
Proceeds of bazaar held by Dorothy and Betty Godfrey, Betty Boutt, Marlene Flint and Grace Bowes	13.00
Doug. Graham, Bob Bowen, Darrell Ackford, Don Pammett, Ken Stacey and Teddy Cranfield, Mosquito Club	1.05
Total to date	$81,767.32

High Traffic Fines In City Court

Failing to obey traffic lights proved an expensive omission for several motorists who were charged with the offence this morning and who entered written pleas of guilty. Fines of $3 and $2.50 costs were imposed on Thomas Nolan and J. Connolly.

A liquor charge against Thornton Brick, adjourned a number of times, was enlarged again this morning when it was intimated that the accused was joining the army at Kingston on Friday. It was intimated that if this should prove to be the case, the charge would be withdrawn.

AT CALGARY—Flying Officer J. W. Marchen, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Marchen, 106 Stewart street, is a trade test officer stationed at No. 4 Training Command in Calgary. He was recently home on a furlough.

Apple Crops Reported Good

"Picking of an excellent apple crop is in progress in Northumberland" says the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Canning factories in Hastings are still busy on corn and tomatoes. More than half the silos in Victoria are filled, and fall wheat is making good growth in Ontario county. That mention of sprouting wheat is one of the last straws indicating that autumn is far advanced.
